SCROFULA

Bad air, poor food, insufficient clothing, dark, damp or crowded apartments are frequent causes of scrofula. Perhaps this explains why the ailment is so common in the poorer sections of large cities. It is but a step from scrofula to consumption and herein lies the great danger. It is just as well to avoid the step.

Scott's Emulsion contains the very things that nature requires in curing scrofula. The pure Norwegian cod liver oil helps to build up the whole body and enables one to acquire new, healthy, solid flesh: The hypophosphites of lime and soda act as a tonic, replacing the waste and giving strength and new structure where it is most needed.

There is nothing that will do more good in the case of scrofula than Scott's Emulsion.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto * * The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $200,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

THE NEW YORK CONVENTION.

Several Addresses and Papers of Great Interest to the Public—The Initiative and Referendum.

New York, Feb. 28.—The last day's session of the municipal ownership convention began yesterday with an address on "How should public service corporations be controlled?" by Dr. C. T. Lewis. A paper on the subject of "Regulation and taxation of public service corporations," by A. R. Foote of Chicago, was read. R. V. Ingersoll then discussed "Labor clauses in franchise grants."

"The referendum and initiative in relation to municipal ownership," was discussed, a paper on the subject being read by Geo. H. Shibley, chairman of the National Federation for Majority rule.

Elitweed Pomeroy, President of the National Direct Legislation League, declared that the referendum and initiative is coming in our legislative affairs whether we favor it or not.

"Taxation of Franchise Values," was the subject of an address by Prof. Edwin R. A. Seligman, former President of the American Economic Association, who said among other things that the whole system of taxation in this country was in a state of chaos.

Wheeler H. Peckham said: "Tax the Metropolitan Railroad as you will, is there any question but that the man who rides in the car pays the tax? No matter what way you put it the fares of the passengers pay the tax.

"When the stock of the Metropolitan is quoted above par, it is a disgrace to the State of New York, for they have stolen it in some way, either from a high rate of fares or in some other way. A tax should be paid either to the general public or to the passengers in the reduction of fares."

HAPPINESS IN THE FAMILY.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mother and Daughter.

Mr. S. Barnum Tells how her Backache Disappeared and her Daughter Found Health.

Madoc, Ont., March 2nd.—(Special)—The hold those standard Canadian remedies, Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining in this community, grow stronger day by day. "Tried and not found wanting," is the verdict awarded to them in dozens of cases where those numerous ailments arising from diseased Kidneys have banished the health and threatened the lives of people till Dodd's Kidney Pills have come to their relief.

And as one who has benefited from Dodd's Kidney Pills recommends them to another and he or she in turn finds relief and health, it is not to be wondered at that whole families unite in singing their praises. This is what the Barnums are doing. Mrs. S. Barnum says:

"I had been troubled with Backache, one of the first symptoms of the painful and dangerous Kidney Diseases. I had been told that Dodd's Kidney Pills were a sure cure and I resolved to try them. I procured half a dozen boxes and commenced taking them. The backache disappeared and has not come back. It is a most satisfactory cure.

"My daughter, Annie, too, was run down and out of sorts, and subject to pains. Dodd's Kidney Pills had done me so much good I resolved to try them in her case. The result is her pain is gone and she is in good health again."

Roman Cremation.

During the time of the old Roman empire the dead bodies of all except suicides were burned.

Foods.

Butter is nutritious and generally healthy. Condiments—pepper, ginger, etc.—are best during the summer. They are products of hot climates, which shows them to be most appropriate for the hot season. On the other hand, fat beef, bacon and such foods should be most freely used during the cold weather.

THE RUSSIAN BEAR.

Policy Seems to Be Much on the Lines of Napoleon's Forgery of Peter the Great's Will.

The passage through the Dardanelles of two unarmed Russian torpedo-boat destroyers is an incident apparently insignificant in itself, but, viewed in the light of Great Britain's traditional distrust of Russia, and under the magnifying glass of irresponsible alarmists, it appears to be almost a menace to the existence of the Empire. His Majesty's representative at Constantinople has protested to the Porte, who is the guardian of the Black Sea, and though no answer has been returned, any possible explanation has been already anticipated and discounted. The action of the Russians was an open violation of the Treaty of Paris. England assumes her attitude of virtuous indignation, and Russia quietly pursues her policy.

Salisbury's Famous Slang.

When England and France undertook to uphold the tottering Turkish Empire, and threw themselves upon Russia in the Crimean War, the former country, as Lord Salisbury has since said, "put its money on the wrong horse." However, the "wrong horse" was first under the wire. When the war was about at an end, Lord Lyndhurst vigorously declared that "there could be no place without first destroying Russia's Black Sea fleet, and laying prostrate the fortifications which protected it." Therefore the great docks and defences of Sebastopol, designed in 1830 by an English engineer, were demolished, and the Treaty of Paris which concluded the conflict expressly provided that the fortress should not be rebuilt and that the Black Sea should be free from the warships of every power. The key to the Black Sea is the Dardanelles, swinging ostentatiously at the Sultan's guide. Russia's eye has ever been upon it.

First Violation of Treaty.

Prince Gortchakoff, whose ambition it was to be the Bismarck of Russia, saw his opportunity in 1870 when France and Germany were at war. He issued a curt notification of the Czar's intention to abrogate that clause of the Treaty of Paris which forbade the rebuilding of Sebastopol. France was in no position to object; England could not but file a formal protest. Thus Sebastopol is stronger than ever before.

An Alleged Breach of Faith.

By the treaty of Berlin in 1878, which made peace between Russia and Turkey after their second conflict, all the powers were rewarded for their kindly forbearance. It was then that Britain got Cyprus, while the Black Sea was made formally what it already was geographically, a Russian lake. No restrictions were removed, however, from the passage of the Dardanelles. These straits were to remain inviolate. The Czar's land frontier was extended to embrace Kars, a port of Batoum. It was stipulated that Batoum should remain unfortified, but Russia soon found occasion to disregard that provision. This violation formed the text for other charges of bad faith; but it is said now that there was a secret understanding among the powers at the time of the treaty that Batoum might be protected.

Russia Not Conquered.

In 1870 one clause of the Treaty of Paris was abrogated; in 1902 another. On both occasions Russia has been accused of faithlessness. If she could be frank with her accusers she would say that an individual or a nation is not morally bound by any promise which may be extorted by armed forces. The vital point to be remembered is that Russia was not a conquered nation at the end of the Crimean War. She accepted a humiliating peace, it is true, but since then she has come to know her strength. She wanted to rebuild Sebastopol as a fortress. She did so, because she was strong enough. She wanted her two unarmed torpedo-boat destroyers to enter the Black sea. They have entered. Her designs on Constantinople are indisputable.

In England dead weight of public opinion is hostile to Russia. A speaker who attempted to prove that India is safe enough from the Bear's paw, even should Afghanistan be swallowed up, would be laughed at. Even a move in Manchuria is considered a menace to the Punjaub.

The Famous Forged Will.

When Napoleon prepared to invade Russia he caused a will of Peter the Great to be forged by M. Lesur. This fabrication was designed to thoroughly terrify Europe as to Russia's intentions, and to win international sympathy for the Corsican's great venture. The document is serving its purpose generations after the shameful nature of its authorship was laid bare. The passage which many Englishmen regard as an article of their creed to-day reads as follows:— "Bear in mind that the commerce of India is the commerce of the world. He who controls it is the dictator of Europe. No occasion should be lost, therefore, to provoke war with Persia, to hasten her decay, and advance to the Persian Gulf."

Though it has been proved that Peter the Great never used any such words, how can it be demonstrated that they do not embody his dreams or the dreams of Russian statesmen in the twentieth century)

Until this can be done, the average Briton prefers to keep his eye on Russia, bearing in mind, at the same time, Nelson's dictum, "Close with a Frenchaman, and outmanœuvre a Russian."

Sea Birds Act as Fog Signals.

The cries of sea birds, especially sea gulls, are very valuable as fog signals. The birds cluster together on the cliffs and coast, and their cries warn boatmen that they are near land. Some years ago in the Isle of Man there was a fine for shooting such birds.

GILBERT PARKER.

James Walker Smith Writes Entertainingly About Canadian Novelist.

In his literary letter to the New York Era from London, James Walker Smith writes entertainingly about Gilbert Parker. Since Mr. Gilbert Parker came to London there has been a tendency in the literary world to rally him for the seriousness with which he takes himself. When he writes critically it is with a labored pen, and when he makes a speech, that speech is usually heavy with purpose. There may be some basis for the attitude of the outside public towards him, and that he is not genuinely popular is a statement of considerable truth. The man, however, is, I think, a force to be reckoned with, and within the last two or three years his reputation as a thinker has been increasingly acknowledged. With others, I appreciate him most when he is serious, and a recent lecture which he delivered on the "Art of Fiction" before the Sesame Club ought to show to outsiders that it is sometimes a very good thing for novel writers earnestly to espouse their art. It is not possible here to give more than a mere excerpt or two from Mr. Parker's address. In dealing with the subject of the test of a novel the speaker said: "There is only one test for a novel—that it be first and before all a well-constructed story; that it deal sincerely with human life and character; that it be eloquent of feeling; that it have insight and revelation; that it preserve idiosyncrasy, but, before all, that it be wholesome. To produce such a book," he added, "a sane, tolerant, impartial temperament and a wide knowledge are necessary. When a man has real character—a real power and genius—his book is himself."

Mr. Parker, in this address, also pointed out the necessity in every book of a dominant note, which, in the very first chapter of the book should be struck, and should recur throughout the book like the motif in an opera. The conclusion of his address was a distinctly pretty piece of oratory. "In the thing really great," he said, "there is no eccentricity, nothing morbid. It is all normal, but the normal form and power are infused with life, composed of genius—the supreme and perfect sanity. One must be in earnest. A man must hold his art seriously—himself as nothing—the vehicle, the machine, the loom through which pass the strands of emotion or experiences of passion, of human comedy and tragedy woven into a web of life which man seeing shall say: "Behold, this is the garment of truth; this is the mantle of beauty!"

If some of the principles enunciated by Mr. Parker were to be observed by the younger writers of the day, and if they were to take themselves at times as earnestly as he, there would be fewer books published, more reputations worthily earned, and more books of a lasting character to be treasured. Publishers may not care to have such comments written, but it expresses a growing feeling amongst those who love the best in literature to say that the number of books issued yearly could be cut down at least one-half, and that a lot of dross would then have to be shaken out before those novels, written in due honor of the art of fiction, could be selected.

"Exactly Suited To My Case"

Says Mr. Baker, and He Voices the Opinion of Hosts of Kidney Sufferers Regarding

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It frequently happens that people who are cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have previously experimented with other medicines without obtaining the desired results, and consequently a great many make use of this expression, "exactly suited to my case."

The action of this great medicine is so wonderfully prompt and direct, and the effects so marked that people naturally feel that it is particularly suited to their case. Time has proven the merits of this preparation, and consequently it has attained an enormous sale.

Mr. John Baker, Deseronto, Ont., states: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and can truthfully say that they are perfect in their work. I was subject to pain in my sides and back. At times I had to lay off work, and feared that I would never get rid of the ailment which was causing my sufferings. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended to me, and I found them to be exactly suited to my case. Since using them I have never had a return of my old troubles."

Mr. Jas. H. Harvey, baker, 641 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"I was troubled very much with constipation and pains in the back. At times the pains were sharp like a stab with a knife and caused me great suffering.

"I heard of many being cured by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and decided to try them. I am pleased to say that they soon helped me, and I used them right along until cured. I never have pains in my back now and only occasionally take a pill in order to keep my bowels regular."

I was so badly troubled with indigestion that whatever I ate caused me so much torture that eating became a dread to me. I tried numerous physicians, but their medicines seemed to make me worse. I thought I would try B.B.B., so got a bottle, and after taking a few doses felt a lot better. GOLD AND MARBLE.

Some Remarkable Caves in New South Wales, Australia—Exploration Is Now Systematic.

About seventeen miles from Goulburn, the metropolis of the southern portion of New South Wales, is the somewhat picturesque township of Bungonia, pleasantly situated on the bank of a wide creek, which, with three others—the Yeaqua, Spring Pond, and Terrara—within a short distance of each other, assist in making the district one of an exceptionally fertile character. Many parts of the district are auiferous, and some day will be found richly productive. The Marulan country, in which Bungonia is situated, has long been regarded as one of the future centres of the gold mining industry in the state. In some places the limestone formations are of considerable extent, and in the masses of limestone rock, at some points yielding marble equal to any imported from Italy, that obtained from the vicinity of Marulan township being unsurpassed in beauty and quality are several groups of caves, of which only a portion have been explored.

Systematic Exploration.

Practically, the work of exploration was not systematically commenced until within the last few years, owing to the dangerous character of the undertaking, visitors being content with entering the mouth of what may be regarded as the principal cave system, peering into the murky darkness beyond. The entrance chamber, the roof of which is about 80 feet above the ground, is known as the belfry, from its conical shape. From here a shaft, some 150 feet in depth, is descended by means of a windless and rope, the water-worn and polished appearance of the sides of the shaft bearing evidence to the chasm having been periodically at no distant date the scene of an immense subterranean waterfall. Proceeding along one of two passages a couple of large chambers are traversed, after which, passing a distance of 200 feet, two more chambers, filled with beautiful stalactites, are entered. Beyond here the cave opens out into what may be termed an immense natural tunnel at least 300 feet in length, and, in places, 100 feet in height, and 50 feet in width.

The side walls are vertical, and the roof semi-circular, the whole, on account of the smooth and true surfaces everywhere presented, bearing the appearance of having been chiseled out by man. At this point the led out by man. At this point the work of exploration has ceased for the present. The second passage, running from the bottom of the shaft, although not very extensive, contains some interesting stalagmitic basin-like growths, which have formed in a series of terraces on the lower portions of the walls and floor, and, as would appear to be very frequently the case, each row of basins is filled with pure water, which, dripping into the next series, and so on till it reaches the lower depths, presents a pretty sight.

Another Great Cave.

Another cave formation in the same neighborhood has also been partially explored. It is entered through an opening in the face of the rock, about 200 feet above the base, the entrance, from twenty to forty feet in height, and averaging ten feet in width, extending a distance of nearly 1,000 feet. From the same landing a rough, craggy chasm and water extend easterly nearly 1,200 feet, the roof being at a height of from thirty feet to one hundred feet. Here are to be seen myriads of stalactites, of all shapes, several being over ten feet in length. For a distance of 900 feet there are a series of drops of from four to five feet each, until a descent of sixty feet necessitates the use of a rope. Another watercourse joins here. Stalactites are still observable on all sides. The height of this portion varies from forty to one hundred feet, and the width to forty feet. Descending another drop of twenty feet, and traveling in a northerly direction 600 feet, with a continual downward slope, the most spacious and beautiful chamber of the series is seen. The height is not less than 180 feet, with a width of sixty feet. The arched roof of the cave is of smooth blue limestone, with veins of white marble running through in every direction. There are numerous very remarkable bunches of stalactites, and a large fossil, resembling a porcupine, is visible at a distance of 150 feet.

Beautiful Water Basins.

A beautiful stream of water passes through the cave, forming on the floor basins of all shapes and sizes. Between two and three thousand feet farther on small caves are reached, giving evidence of great bodies of water having passed through. About three miles from the Bungonia caves and six miles from Marulan, are the Terrara caves. The mouth of the cave or entrance is a well-shaped opening, large enough to admit of two persons entering together. From here the passage descends at a steep incline to the first cave, of comparatively small size, from which a further descent leads to a lofty chamber, made up of immense jagged rocks wedged together above and below, and containing a few specimens of a discolored drapery-like stalactite formation. From this chamber an ascent of eight feet is made over a growth of stalagmite, resembling a canopy, when a passage, bearing north about thirty feet in height by three feet in width, is entered. The walls of this passage are buttress-shaped, crystallized, and covered with a pretty coral-like formation.

Didn't Lose His Head.

A man hopelessly lost in the bush in South Australia, after wandering about for four days, came upon the telegraph line between Adelaide and Port Darwin. He hadn't strength to go farther, but he managed to climb a pole and cut the wire. Then he made himself as comfortable as possible and waited. The telegraph repairers were sent along the line, and they came to the wanderer in time to save his life.

WHY ?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

Mrs. P. Bertrand, Breche A Manon, Que., writes:—I think it nothing but right for me to let you know what DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS have done for me. For five months I was badly troubled with a sore back, and such severe pains in my kidneys that I could scarcely walk at times. I got a box of DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, and before I had them half taken I was greatly relieved, and with another box I was completely cured. I cannot help but give them all the praise I can, and will never fail to recommend them to all kidney sufferers.

PERISHABLE GOWNS.

Beautiful Designs and Trimmings of Gold Lace.

Velour mousseline is one of the most beautiful fabrics of the year, and chiffon peking, with its satin stripe, which can be had in almost any color, is a feature of fashion we do well to remember.

A wonderful dress recently designed for a French house was in sky blue mirror velvet with a diaphanous front and back trimmed with a series of chevrons, which appear also on the bodice and short sleeves.

An empire evening gown demands a perfect carriage and the art of wearing one's clothes. Indeed in nine cases out of ten it is a failure. A recent example to the contrary, however, was of pale blue crepe de chine made with an empiecement on the hips calculated to show off a good figure at its best, and down the front there was a broad band of lace beautifully embroidered in chenille and gold and caught up here and there with tiny tassels. This treatment was repeated at the hem over cloth of gold.

The pretty gown here shown is of ecru crepe de chine.

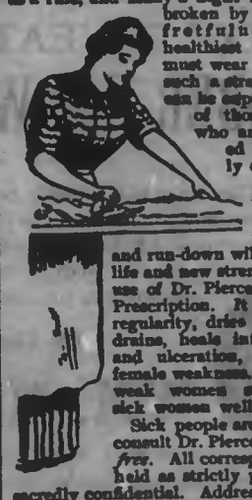
JUDIC CHOLLET.

An Underwater Expert.

Captain Reginald H. S. Bacon, D. S. O., who has just been appointed to the newly-created post of "Inspector Captain of Submarine Boats," is, according to The Chronicle, one of the greatest experts in all methods of underwater warfare in the royal navy. For many months he was in command of the torpedo gunboat Hazard, which was stationed at Barrow to act as "mothership" to the five tiny diving torpedo boats built by Messrs. Vickers, Sons & Maxim. It was Captain Bacon's business to make a trip under water in each of these "submarine assassins" (as an old writer calls them), and we rejoice to learn that he is none the worse for his experiences of "potted air." Captain Bacon has now vacated the command of the Hazard on being appointed to the second-class cruiser Latona, which is stationed at Portsmouth to look after submarines Nos. "2" and "3," which have arrived at the southern port. Nos. "1," "4" and "5" will be delivered over to the Admiralty in a few days' time, and the Hazard will convoy them to Portsmouth. It is a pity no names have been found for these newest engines of naval warfare.

The 8 Hour Day

Which the working man has fought for and succeeded in obtaining is something the wife has no share in. Her day begins before his and ends long after it, as a rule, and many a night her rest is broken by the baby's fretfulness. The healthiest woman must wear out under such a strain. What can be expected then of those women who are weakened by womanly diseases?



Women who are weak, worn-out and run-down will find new life and new strength in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I suffered with female weakness about eight years—tried several doctors but derived no benefit until I began using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. John Green, of Danville, Boyle Co., Ky. "This medicine was recommended to me by other patients. I have taken six bottles and I feel like another person."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription," is only seeking to make the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss. Refuse all substitutes.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

BEAUTIFYING THE HOME.

Some Things That Good Taste Demands In Furnishing a Room.

If you would have the semblance of good taste in furnishing a room, eliminate the following: Papered ceilings, pale, characterless colors; the insipid pinks and blues, violets and greens, that the calciminers are addicted to; Nottingham lace curtains, drapes, tidies, meaningless bows of ribbon tied on various objects, frilled or flounced lamp shades, plush sets, stationary rockers, folding beds, mantel lambrequins, and cuts might add burned wood articles, popular as they have been.

While art in any form and in any place has its mission to perform, yet its greatest service is rendered in the home. Costly furniture and statuary, museums and beautiful parks appeal to us when we visit them, but their influence is as nothing compared with the surroundings of our everyday life. The beautifying of the home is therefore a necessity; it is more, it is a duty. No longer are we content with plain walls, bare floors and ugly furniture. We demand that our places of abode shall not only be comfortable in their appointments, but that they shall be attractive in all that the term implies.

Taste is inborn in some people and is acquired by others. Some never possess it. You cannot expect to find an inartistic person living in an artistic home, or vice versa, for one's home should and usually does reflect the tastes of its owner.

The presence of pictures, of artistic but not necessarily expensive furniture, of tasteful decorations on the walls, of flowers on the mantel or table, in the living rooms of the house, have a cheering effect upon the tired eye and the tired brain. The dearest place on earth should be the home; therefore anything that enhances its beauty and thus adds to its attractiveness should be secured.

Rare rugs, statuary and paintings from the hand of a master, bronzes from French studios, carpets from the most artistic looms, may not be within the means of all who would have them had they the wealth with which to buy them, but in these days, when our youths are taught art from the cradle up and when machinery and mechanical devices are made to supplement hand labor in the production of artistic things for the home, it is possible for all who so choose to make the home beautiful at a moderate cost, and it is their duty to themselves and to their families to do so.—Brooklyn Citizen.

Lifebuoy Soap—disinfectant—is strongly recommended by the medical profession as a safeguard against infectious diseases.

How to Wash Stockings.

Wash stockings in a tub by themselves, and do not soak them with other clothes. No soda ever should be used, and the water should be only moderately warm for both washing and rinsing. After rinsing, which should be done in water containing a few teaspoonfuls of household ammonia, dry them out of doors in sun and air to prevent running, and press on the wrong side with a warm iron when dry. Silk stockings require several rinsings, and after pressing (not wringing) the water out of them and pulling them in shape they should be shaken out well and rolled in a cloth to dry.

Old Lace.

Old lace may be cleaned effectually by fastening the pieces on a linen covered smooth board and wetting with a clean sponge dipped in warm water. The lace must not be rubbed under any circumstances. After the first wetting dab thoroughly with warm water in which fine soap has been dissolved in the proportion of half an ounce to a quart of water. When thoroughly clean, rinse by dabbling with clear water. Dry as well as possible with the sponge and leave the operation to be completed by time.

Aromatic Spirits of Ammonia.

Aromatic spirits of ammonia is a household article indispensable in families where there are persons with weak hearts or with tendencies to faint, because it facilitates the heart's action more speedily than brandy or whisky and with less danger to some patients. In cases of heart failure or fainting a teaspoonful in a half glass of water can be given.

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, March 2. — The tip was circulated very freely in Wall street on Saturday that the Aldrich Bill would not be passed before Congress adjourns. The natural result was a sharply declining market until liquidation had spent its force. It may be that certain interests very close to some of the senators started this rumor in order to cover shorts and pick up cheap long stock. Private advices from a high source are that the Bill is more than likely to become a law within four days. The banks are wisely using every effort to make the monetary situation look very bad for moral effect on Washington. I do not think you made any mistake in buying stocks on the drive Saturday for as I said before the lowest prices were due Saturday morning. Still it was taking a chance—in fact gambling on the passage of the Bill. Now, in case said Bill should pass by Monday, I am informed buying will be good on any occasions, even though you have to pay a point above present level, and holding for a ten point advance. Keene, who has been playing the short side for some time, covered a good deal of stock Saturday. Incidentally I understand that Keene has extended the time for his discretionary blind pool in Southern.

RIDGLEY.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 2. — Aldrich Bill expected to become law. Time money ruled hardening. All dangers of gold exports disappeared for the present. 42 roads for 3rd week Feb. show gross increase 6.66 p.c. 24 roads for Jan. net inc. 5.36 p.c. Local demand for bonds continues slack but foreign inquiry improving. Stocks plentiful in loan crowd. Indications are losses of banks to subtreasury will be as heavy this week as last. Herald's correspondents are sure of passing of Aldrich Bill.

DOW, JONES & CO.

Liverpool opening— wheat 1-8 lower; corn unchanged.

Cotton.—Liverpool opening, very irregular spot down 16 points; mids 5.23; sales 8,000; receipts 3,000; amn. 2,400; futures opened weak, 1 to 1 1-2 lower and 12.30 easier, 3 points off to 1 up from opening. Decline attributed to Egyptians and local bull pool realizing profits. Break is a great surprise and will make necessary for the bulls to continue support. 2 p.m. futures have recovered 2 to 3 points of their loss.

M. & M.

It is generally recognized that immediate future course of the market depends entirely upon news from Washington regarding prospects of passage of Aldrich Bill. In view of the existing monetary conditions, passage of the Bill is now absolutely necessary to sustain bullish sentiment and prevent what appears to be inevitable liquidation and readjustment of loans by banks generally to strengthen their reserves. This morning's news of prospects of Bill passing before adjustment of Congress is much mixed if it should come up in the Senate. The market is in a position to advance quite sharply, but think it would prove only temporary.

New York, March 2. — March interest and disbursement estimated 70,000,000 and are largest on record. Comparing with 53,000,000 last year, 43,000,00 previous year, foreign exchange quiet and steady demand sterling 487.80 with our bank reserves so low and money tight there is of course no possibility of gold exports. Market dull and professional since opening. Traders waiting news of Aldrich Bill. London moderate buyer on balance and been some pool support and bull operations in some of specialties, notably in copper stocks, but there has been sufficient scattered selling to offset this.

M. & M.

Washington just wires things look bad in Senate just now, looks as though Democrats would talk the Bill out.

J. G. MARSHALL.

Later. — President Roosevelt has called an extra session of Senate for March 5th.

Grain. — Seas good common house buying wheat and corn with offerings in both grains only moderate. Smaller world's shipment of wheat the main influence in wheat. Corn cables were firm. Sentiment locally generally bullish on the whole list but there is no outside speculative buying and locals look leadership. World's visible, wheat 3,182,000 against 9,162,000 last year. Americans 2,656,000 against 3,234,000 a year ago. Corn, total 3,272,000 against 3,252000. On passage wheat increased 1,052,000, corn 312,000. Car lots wheat 26, corn 267, oats 220.

Consols and other gilt edged investments steady. Reduction in minimum rate of discount Bank of England is expected Thursday. Copper shares are buoyant and influential buying in them is noted. 3rd week February G. T. R. system 52,000 inc. 3,000, Twin City 89,000 inc. 8,500. Labour trouble in Wabash been settled by Company granting advance in wages of 5 p.c.

"KIRKFIELD BELLE."

The Name of Mrs. Wm. McKenzie's new Yacht.

Fenelon Falls Gazette:—Mrs. William McKenzie has now building at the Polson Iron Works, Toronto, a magnificent composite private yacht, the principal dimensions of which are length 70 feet, breadth 10 feet. It will be propelled by a triple expansion engine of 110 horse power; the boiler is of the Yarrow type, to stand a working pressure of 250 pounds, and the guaranteed speed is 14 miles per hour. It is understood that the cost of the yacht will be in the neighbourhood of $12,000. She is to run on the upper Trent waters, and, if she has not already been "christened," we suggest "Kirkfield Belle" as an appropriate name.

SHADOW RIVER.

By E. Pauline Johnson.

"A stream of tender gladness,
Of filmy sun, and opal tinted skies;
Of warm midsummer air that lightly flies
In mystic rings,
Where swiftly swings
The music of a thousand wings
That almost tone to sadness.

"Midway 'twixt earth and heaven,
A bubble in the pearly air, I seem
To float upon the sapphire floor, a dream
Of clouds of snow,
Above, below,
Drift with my drifting, dim and slow,
The twilight drifts to even'.

"The little fern-leaf, bending
Upon the brink, its green reflection greets,
And kisses soft the shadow that it meets
With touch so fine,
The border line
The keenest vision can't define;
So perfect is the blending.

"The far fir trees that cover
The brownish hills with needles green and old;
Reptictured are
Beneath me far,
Where not a ripple moves to mar
Shades underneath, or over.

"Mine is the undertone;
The beauty, strength and power of the land
Will never stir or bend at my command;
But all the shade
Is marred or made
If I but dip my pale blade;
And it is mine alone.

"Oh! pathless world of seeming!
Oh! pathless life of mine, whose deep ideal
Is more my own than ever was the real;
For others Fame
And Love's red flame,
And yellow gold; I only claim
The shadows and the dreaming."

Sketch of Miss Johnson.

No complete collection of Miss Johnson's poems is in existence, I regret to say. The above example of her work is quoted from a small volume published in 1894, entitled "The White Wampum." Since that date, however, many of her best poems have been produced, and, it is to be hoped, will be gathered together in book form in the near future. For no living Canadian poet has anything like the interest for us that Miss Johnson has. This is largely on account of her race. She is the daughter of the late G. H. M. Johnson, head chief of the Mohawk Indians, who married an English lady, a Miss Howells, a relative of William Dean Howells, the novelist. Pauline was born on the Six Nation Indian Reserve in the County of Brant, and was educated at the Brantford Model School. Her first verse was published in "Gems of Poetry," a New York periodical, and for many years she has been a contributor to the best periodicals in Canada and the United States.

The predominant qualities of her poetry, as we have it in "The White Wampum," are those which have long been recognized as distinguishing her race: eloquence, graceful imagery, picturesque language and dramatic passion. The Iroquois were an intellectual, as well as an imaginative, people, and established a confederacy that for years held the balance of power on this continent. This daughter of theirs, it is evident, has inherited race instincts and traditions that one time found expression in such deeds as that of Ojistoh, or such choice as Dawendine's. Now they inspire a pen. Here and there the "wilderness girl" crops out. In such lines as "Penseroso," for example—the third stanza of which reads:—

"Let me but feel athwart my cheek the lash
Of whipping wind, but hear the torrent dash
Adown the mountain steep, 'twere more my choice
Than touch of human hand, than human voice."

Miss Johnson's attitude towards Nature in this volume appears to be a stock-taking of effects, though an appreciative stock-taking; still, occasionally, as in the last stanza of "Shadow River," her contemplation of nature becomes a revealing agency, an opening into the transcendent world, or what we choose to think so, though the idea may be to the real world no more than the shadows were to the fir trees, and brownish hills, and "the little fern-leaf bending."

In 1891 Miss Johnson began a species of entertainment, the unique feature of which was the recitation of her poems on Indian life in costume and character. She has been most successful, having appeared in England, the United States and all over Canada. Her home is in Brantford.—Pharos, in The Globe.

A SERMON TO YOUNG PEOPLE.

Preached at St. Luke's by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt.

TRUE FREEDOM VS. FALSE.

As Seen From Two Different Standpoints—The Fruits of a Christian Life.

Preaching at St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, last night to young people, the Rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt,

Many a man is undoubtedly held back from the service of God by fear—the fear of persecution, in some form or other, from his irreligious associates. It is equally certain that many a young man just starting in life, is restrained from confessing Christ from another fear—the fear of forfeiting, by such confession, his manliness and his freedom.

With regard to the first of these, manliness, I will only just stop to say that the word is one which is is greatly misunderstood and misapplied, and of all people in the world, the Christian needs to have every manly quality in a very marked degree; and I pass on at once to the second point, the question of freedom.

Now, I am well aware, my brethren, that one of the commonest boasts of the openly irreligious and evil-living man is this same boast of freedom. "Look at me," he says, "and see how utterly independent I am; your religious man may not do this, he may not do that; he is afraid. But I—I do as I like. I acknowledge no master but my own will, and what is the consequence? Knowing what enjoyment means I take very good care to enjoy life. Would I exchange places with the pious, psalm-singing, church-going ones? No; I hate such cant—and, besides, give me my freedom!"

Yes, this is the sort of language sometimes indulged in by the scoffer, and you know if one can manage by sneers, (for lack of arguments) to make one's opponent look ridiculous, such a feat is quite conclusive with a vast number of people. And so it often happens that the young fellow with very crude notions about manliness and freedom, who fails, too, to see quite as much cant (of a sort) in this kind of language, as is ever indulged in by religious people, is a good deal impressed. "There's something in that," he says, and he certainly does seem to detect something "poor" about religion—an absence of dash and independence, and thus he is held back from the service of God, and its "perfect freedom."

TWO STANDPOINTS.

Well, my brethren, the worlding and the child of God look at things from two different standpoints. In the mouth of the one freedom means something very different to what it does in the mouth of the other. But let that pass. I now say that the Christian is quite ready to meet his opponent on his own ground, and to try conclusions with him. You know my brethren, the enemies of God sometimes say, "You religious people use very lofty and beautiful language. But there you are all up in the clouds. That is all sentiment, and you are utterly unpractical."

And so I say, the Christian is quite ready, if this be the case, to come down and meet the scoffer on his own ground, and to say to him, "Let our systems, yours and mine, stand or fall on their merits. Let us pronounce judgment by the light of results alone. You have chosen your service and I have chosen mine. All these years I have been living in the fear and service of God, and my only regret to-day is that I have not served him better. I know what He has done for me, and what His service has made me. Now what have you to show?

Now, it seems to me that St. Paul, in the words of our text, is arguing very much in this way. His language, besides being that of the Apostle and the preacher, is just as much that of the man of the world—the practical business man, looking at things from the business point of view. "We will allow," he argues, "that as servants of sin you were free." You were certainly free from righteousness. You followed your own wills and did as you pleased. Very well. But what was such freedom worth? How much better are you for it? What have you got to show as the result of such independence?

These people, my brethren, had been living in the false freedom of sin. They were now living in the service of God. St. Paul bids them reckon up gains and losses. "What fruit had you in those things whereof ye are now ashamed?"

My dear friends, I want you to notice that last word, it is very suggestive,—"Those things whereof ye are now ashamed." This, then was one of the fruits of that old life of sin—shame.

Dear people, have you ever thought much about that word Shame? Well, is shame a pleasant or unpleasant sensation? Do we gladly welcome shame, or would we rather never know it? "I felt quite ashamed," you hear someone say, or "he ought to be ashamed of himself." What of? What are those things of which people ought to be ashamed, even if they are not?

Mark you, never of doing what is right, never of what God commands or approves, of course I am not now speaking of that false shame of doing what is right, which a man despises himself for feeling. No, shame only comes when a man is in the path of sin. It was only when sin came into the world that shame and fear were born.

Well, then, my brethren, on this point alone, the service of sin, which the sinner calls freedom, stands condemned. Shame is a hateful thing, and it is one of the fruits of sin. "What fruit had ye?" Shame, for one. But not the only one. There are other fruits equally bitter, equally hateful—remorse, disgust, dissatisfaction. In these things again, sin enjoys a monopoly which we do not envy it. I fearlessly ask you, whether you ever find these things, remorse and the like, coming upon people as the result of serving God and doing right? Is it ever the servant of God, who is heard to say, as the foul taste of the effects of sinful indulgence comes to put him out of spirits and out of temper, that he "has been making a fool of himself," and that he is "disgusted with himself" for doing so?

No, my brethren, these are the experiences of those who boast of their freedom, and of whom St. Paul demands,—"What fruit had ye in those things?" And in connection with their experience, one is reminded one of Ariosto's legends, in which he tells us of "a tree, many branched and covered with delicate fruits, but whoso shook that tree to win the fruit, found out too late that not fruit but stones of crushing weight came down upon his head. The sensualities, which fools call pleasure, are such a tree. They who seek its fruits become its victims."

What fruit had ye? Ah! too often the fruits of remorse and bitter unavailing regrets. "If I had my life to live over again, I should live it very differently." You have often heard that said. But, mark you again, never from the lips of one who has been a constant servant of God. Is not this very significant? What fruit? Just take the drunkard's life and see,—health gone, prospects ruined, money squandered, self-respect and the respect of others, lost. Or take the life of reckless, blind self-indulgence.

But the strongest thing of all, my brethren, is that the very persons who howl against all religion, and who would howl it down, who do it all the harm they can, yet bear testimony—and often unconscious testimony—to its great worth and show their own strong faith in it. Some years ago, a young infidel was travelling in America with his uncle, a banker, and they were not a little anxious for their safety, when they were forced to stop for a night in a rough way-side cabin. There were two rooms in the house, and when they retired for the night they agreed that the young man should sit with his pistols and watch until midnight, and then awaken his uncle, who should watch until morning. Presently they peeped through the crack and saw their host, a rough-looking old man in his bearskin suit, reach up and take down a Bible, and after reading it a while, he knelt down and began to pray. And then the young infidel began to pull off his coat and get ready for bed. "I thought you were going to sit up and watch," said the other? But the young man knew there was no need of sitting up, pistol in hand, to watch all night long in a cabin that was hallowed by the Word of God, and consecrated by the voice of prayer. "Would a pack of cards," says the one who relates this story, "a wine bottle, or a copy of the Age of Reason, have thus quieted the young infidel's fears?"

Well, then, my brethren, I think the servant of God may say to the scoffers, seeing that the religion of my mother is the that makes the world a better, and a safer, and a happier world to live in, that your system of boasted freedom (which may indeed mean freedom of a sort for you, but for others only the disastrous consequences of your unrestrained liberty) would never inspire confidence such as Christianity undoubtedly does, I may fairly say that my religion stands, while your system falls.

My brethren, God's people do not pretend to enjoy any false freedom, but they know what perfect freedom is. They do not expect freedom from pain, sorrow, toil, death, but they know the freedom from the sting of all these. Not very long ago, one of the officers in the South African war, when riding full speed across the land after the evening, saw one of his men laid on the ground with his side torn open by a shell, and fast sinking. Reining up his horse, he said, "My lad, you must not think me unkind, to leave you alone in your agony, but you know I must ride on. Duty commands me." "I shall never forget," said the officer, "the answer I got, 'Sir,' said he, 'I am not, alone; I have with me a Friend that sticketh closer than a brother.'"

Oh, my brethren, my younger brethren, especially, let no man deceive you with vain words. Be not led away with any cant about manliness or freedom. You will find out when too late how fatally you have been mislead. Declare boldly for the Lord Jesus Christ. Avoid sin as a serpent; it looks and promises well, it bites afterwards. It is dreadful in memory, dreadful even on earth, but in that awful period when the fever of life is over, and you are waiting in silence for the judgment, with nothing to disturb your thoughts, who can say how dreadful may be the memory of sins done in the body? Lay to heart the Saviour's own most merciful words, "Be not afraid of them that kill the body and after that they have no more they can do. But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear. Fear Him which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell. Yes, I say unto you, fear Him."

MAKING A MAN.

Hurry the baby all fast as you can,
Hurry him, worry him, make him a man.
Off with his baby clothes, get him in pants,
Feed him on brain foods, and make him advance.
Hustle him, soon as he's able to walk,
Into a grammar school; cram him with talk,
Fill his poor head full of figures and facts,
Keep on a-jumping them in till it cracks.
Once boys grew up at a rational rate;
Now we develop a man while you wait;
Rush him through college, compel him to grab
Of every known subject a dip and a dab;
Get him in business and after the cash,
All by the time he can grow a mustache.
Let him forget he was ever a boy,
Make gold his god, and its jingle his joy;
Keep him a-hustling and clear out of breath
Until he wins—nervous prostration and death.

APPOINTMENTS MADE

Secretary in the High Commissioner's Office in London.

NEW GOVERNOR OF YUKON.

Mr. Griffith, Formerly of Manitoba, Succeeds Mr. Colmer, C.M.G., in Lord Strathcona's Office as Secretary—Mr. F. T. Congdon Appointed Governor of the Yukon—Excellent Appointments.

Ottawa, March 3.—Mr. W. L. Griffith, formerly of Manitoba, has been appointed Secretary in the office of the High Commissioner, London, in succession to Mr. Colmer, C.M.G., resigned. The appointment is likely to prove a most advantageous one to Canada, inasmuch as Mr. Griffith is a clever and progressive Canadian, who is thoroughly familiar with the affairs of the Dominion and well adapted for the duties of his new office. He is a man of good personal magnetism, qualities which are indispensable in dealing with the officials of the Colonial Office and the other great English departments. Mr. Griffith should make an able assistant to Lord Strathcona. He has of recent years been acting as Canadian agent for Wales, and was prominently identified with the movement of Welshmen from Patagonia to the Canadian Northwest. He has a great many friends in Canada.

Governor of the Yukon.

Another appointment which was made by the Cabinet yesterday was that of Mr. F. T. Congdon to be Commissioner or Governor of the Yukon. Mr. Congdon won distinction as Crown Prosecutor of the Yukon, and although he succeeds Hon. J. H. Ross, a very popular and very able man, his friends predict that his administration will be a brilliant success. Certainly he has the qualities which are generally found in the sagacious administrator, viz., sound judgment, keen foresight, unfailing tact, and an urbanity which nothing can ruffle.

Longford, Ont. March 3. — The meeting in the Town Hall last night in Mr. Grant's interest was one of the most successful held during the campaign. Mr. McBain moved, seconded by Dr. Burnham, that the children at the Children's Shelter, who were often kept for a month, be allowed to attend the South Ward School, provided that there is sufficient room. —Carried.

Mr. McBain went on further to say that he wished to tender his resignation as a member of the Property Committee. As every member on the Board has also to be a member of some sub-committee Mr. Burnham moved that Mr. McBain take Mr. Stevenson's place on the Finance Committee, and that Mr. Stevenson take Mr. McBain's place on the Property Committee. A SALE OF SHORTHORNS.

Mr. F. W. Hodson Gives Some Information on the Matter.

Two Provincial Auction Sales Not Sufficient to Take all Entries.

Mr. F. W. Hodson, of Ottawa, writes as follows:—

Dear Sir,—Please find enclosed an announcement of the Combination Sale of Shorthorn Cattle to be held at the Exhibition Grounds, Ottawa, on the 11th of March next. At the recent Eastern Ontario Winter Fair Bull Sale, 24 shorthorn bulls, mostly from nine to fifteen months old, were sold at auction at an average price of $111.00 per head. The bidding was very brisk, and a large number of farmers who had depended on procuring bulls at this sale were disappointed, as there were not enough animals offered to meet the demand. At the urgent request of these gentlemen, members of the Live Stock Associations consented to hold another large sale in Ottawa, at which ten bulls and thirty five cows and heifers will be offered. These animals will be good, strong, useful, well-bred specimens. The females will be principally cows and heifers in calf, or with calf at foot; the males will vary in age from ten to fifteen months.

It is evident that the two Provincial auction sales at Guelph and Ottawa are not sufficient to take all the entries of cattle offered, particularly by the breeders of Central Ontario. As an illustration of this fact it may be said that a number of breeders of pure bred cattle in Durham, Northumberland and adjacent counties, last year formed the Central Ontario Pure Bred Stock Association, and started a series of auction sales. Their first sale was fairly satisfactory, and they are now arranging for the second which is to take place at Campbellcroft on the 18th of March, next. I regret that I have no announcements of this sale for distribution, but prospective buyers can obtain full particulars from the Secretary, Mr. W. B. Campbell, Campbellcroft, Ont. There are many other counties and districts which would find it beneficial to inaugurate sales of this kind, and this is just what the Dominion Department of Agriculture is anxious to see brought about. We trust that buyers will appreciate the public spirited and honourable way the Central Ontario Association has laboured to establish a sale, and we bespeak for them hearty support. Farmers in general should encourage these sales because they furnish a convenient purchasing point, where a buyer may see a large number of animals together and have a much better opportunity of comparing them than he would have if he visited individual stables, and he will not find it necessary to spend the price of a bull in travelling from point to point in search of something to suit him.

Yours truly,
F. W. HODSON,
Live Stock Commissioner.

RELATIVES ARE ANXIOUS.

J. P. Linline Drew Deposit From Ridgetown Bank and Disappeared.

Thamesville, March 3.—John P. Linline, a young farmer living in the Township of Oxford, drew a large sum of money out of the bank in Ridgetown on Tuesday last, intending to take the same to Thamesville. He has not been seen since. As he is a steady young man, his mysterious disappearance is causing his relatives great anxiety.

Chiverton Is Insane.

Rat Portage, March 3.—S. V. Halstead of Wabigoon, speaking of the recent poisoned candies case says that he thinks Chiverton, who is under arrest, is mentally unbalanced. The story that Chiverton got the last consignment through the mails is not borne out by the evidence now in the possession of the police, for, though there were stamps on the package, they were not cancelled.

Lord Lansdowne Replies For the Government Re. Venezuela.

London, March 2.—Venezuela was brought up in the House of Lords today on a motion of Baron Tweedmouth (Liberal), asking for further papers on the subject. Baron Tweedmouth remarked that there was little cause for congratulation on the outcome of the affair, and the co-operation with Germany, which he classed as an alliance with a power whose claims, methods, policy and ulterior objects in that part of the world were different from those of Great Britain.

Foreign Secretary Lansdowne, in replying, defended the co-operation with Germany, and said His Majesty's government had excellent reasons for knowing how the United States was likely to regard the action taken. Thruout that negotiations Lord Lansdowne added, not one word had been written by the United States government which was unthoughtful or unfriendly.

Lord Rosebery, who followed, described the Venezuelan blue book as being "massive, meagre and reticent," and said the money received by the allies represented the proportion of the benefits accruing to them. He did not believe the United States would be satisfied with Great Britain's delay in approaching that country. His Lordship took a gloomy view of British foreign relations.

After further discussion, Baron Tweedmouth's motion was withdrawn and the House adjourned.

Not Suitable For British Navy.

London, March 3.—In answer to a question in the House of Commons yesterday, Premier Balfour said Great Britain had refused to purchase the Chilian and Argentine warships under construction in Europe. These vessels were not suitable for the British navy.

HEALTH OF HIS HOLINESS.

Leo XIII. Will Be Able to Attend Today's Ceremony.

Rome, March 3.—(Toronto Globe Special.)—Rome is in a state of strained expectancy, and the wildest rumors are being circulated. It is said that the ceremonies to-morrow marking the 25th anniversary of the Pope's coronation cannot possibly take place, as the Pontiff is in the last stages of exhaustion. I am in a position to state, however, that, although he has a cold, he will not only appear, but will take part in the ceremony. Yesterday he was 93, consequently he has had innumerable messages of congratulation. When he received the gift of a new sedia gestatoria he said, smilingly, "It is likely that it will carry my successor oftener than myself. I hope, for the bearer's sake, that he will be as light as I am."

Hopeless and Almost Dying Mrs. Lampman is Saved By Paine's Celery Compound

The Only Spring Medicine That Can Positively Guarantee Health and New Life to Weak, Diseased and Brokendown Men and Women.

Another marked and positive victory for Paine's Celery Compound! Another marvellous example of life saving!

Mrs. M. E. Lampman, a lady well known in Woodstock, Ont., reduced by disease to a mere skeleton, is made well and strong by nature's health restorer after many failures of physicians. This victory, and the scores of wonderful cures wrought from week to week by Paine's Celery Compound, create a confidence in the great spring medicine that is enduring and far reaching. At this season Paine's Celery Compound rescues and permanently cures young and old who are weakened and broken down by disease; it never fails; its virtues are all-powerful even at the eleventh hour. Mrs. Lampman writes us as follows:

"No living mortal can imagine the sufferings I endured for months, all brought on by Grippe. I became nervous and so prostrated that I could not sleep. Life became a burden and I was reduced to a mere skeleton. I heard of Paine's Celery Compound and commenced to use it. I got instant relief. I continued the use of the compound and can now sleep well all night, and feel rested when morning comes. My appetite is good, I am gaining in flesh and feel like a new person. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for your great medicine, and the wonderful cure it has wrought."

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto * * The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all the death claims of the year.

CURES SICK HEADACHE. TWO CRAGETTES. BRANTFORD, ONT.

I Will Cure You of Rheumatism

Else No Money is Wanted.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer.

I am a specialist in Rheumatism and have treated more cases than any other physician, I think. For sixteen years I made 2,000 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gives me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again; but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever. I have done it fully 100,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost is only $5.50. If it fails I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism, must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met. And in all my experience—in all my 2,000 tests—I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me, and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you anyway. If it fails, it is free.

Address, Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

PRIVATE LEGISLATION.

Fenelon Falls Is Progressive—Buying Furniture Company's Stock and Taking Over Electric Light Plant.

Toronto, March 3. — The applications for private legislation at the approaching session of the Ontario House, of which notice has been given, now number eighty-seven. A number of new applications are published this week.

Incorporation is sought for the Sudbury, Copper Cliff and Creighton Electric Railway Company, which proposes to extend its lines from the township of Snyder in Algoma, to the township of McKim in Nipissing, taking in the towns named.

The Colonial Portland Cement Company, of Wiarton, is asking for the right to build a railway from its factory at Keppel to its marl deposits in Grey county.

Fenelon Falls will submit a bonus bill to authorize it to purchase $15,000 worth of stock in the Sanford Furniture & Woodenware Company, and to fix the property assessment at $5,000 for a period of twenty years. The town also proposes to acquire the plant of the Fenelon Falls Electric Light Company.

Collingwood will ask permission to raise debentures to pay for the site of the Cramp Ontario Steel Company.

The city of Ottawa's bill includes provisions to enable the city to spend $50,000 for the extension of water mains, and $20,000 for the improvement of drains, and to raise $20,000 by mortgage on Lansdowne Park for the construction of a contagious diseases hospital.

STANDARDS IN ENGINEERING.

Will Result in Saving of Millions of Pounds Annually.

London, March 3.—The report of the Engineering Standardization Committee has been completed. The committee commenced work in June, 1901, and its recommendations in regard to the standardization of various iron and steel sections approximate very closely those adopted in the United States and Germany. It is estimated that the standardization will result in saving millions of pounds sterling annually to the British manufacturer and user. The British Government has promised the co-operation of all the heads of departments and it is determined to enforce the use of standards, so that in an emergency it may be able to get its requirements from British firms.

MR. MARTIN'S PLAN.

Will Defeat Prior Government and Appeal on Party Lines.

Vancouver, B.C., March 3.—Joseph Martin, once again holds with his personal following the balance of power in the local Legislature, and in a letter to The Daily World shows that he has dictated the terms upon which the variously constituted opposition will unite 20 in the House of 38 to defeat the Government at the assembly of the Legislature April 2. Mr. Martin declares that the combination was accepted on the unqualified assurance that there would be no attempt to carry on the Government by any coalition after the Government's defeat, but an immediate appeal would be made to the country under the redistribution act of last session and upon party lines.

DEAD MAY BE SIX.

As Result of an Explosion—Thirty Others Injured.

Easton, Pa., March 2.—Six men are thought to be dead and about thirty injured, several of them seriously, from the effects of an explosion at the Edison cement plant at New Village, N. J., seven miles from here on the line of the Delaware, Lackwanna & Western Railroad. A large part of the plant was burned. Six men are missing, and it is feared their bodies are in the ruins. Their names have not been learned.

FREE TO EVERYONE.

Read and Learn How You May Procure It.

The question of why one man succeeds and another fails, is a problem that has puzzled philosophers for centuries. One man attains riches and position, while his neighbour who started with seemingly the same, and better opportunities, exists in poverty and obscurity. No man can win success who is suffering from an irritating and nerve-racking disease, and the man who has the qualities of success within him, would be quick to recognize this fact and seize the best remedy to eradicate the trouble.

A person afflicted with a serious case of hemorrhoids or piles is handicapped in the race for power and advancement. It is impossible to concentrate the mental energies when this dreadful trouble is sapping the vital forces. To show how easily this success destroying trouble can be overcome, we publish the following letter from a prominent Indiana man:

"When I received the former letter and booklet, on 'Piles, their nature, cause and cure,' I was in a critical condition. Ulcers to the number of seven had formed on the inside of the rectum culminating in a large tumour on the outside resembling fistula. I suffered the most excruciating pain, and could get no rest day nor night. After reading the booklet I went to my druggist, but he happened to be out of Pyramid Pile Cure just then. However, I obtained a part of a box from my brother-in-law and began their use. Five Pyramids completely cured me. I procured a box later but have had no occasion to use them. I have been waiting to see that the cure was permanent before writing you of its success. I believe Pyramid Pile Cure to be the greatest and best pile cure on the market, and ask you to please accept of my grateful thanks for this invaluable remedy. I take great pleasure in recommending its use to any sufferer along this line. You may use my name if you wish for reference to any one afflicted with this disease." J. O. Littell, Arthur, Ind.

You can obtain a free sample of this wonderful remedy, also the booklet described above, by writing your name and address plainly on a postal card and mailing it to the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Beam Fell on Louis A. Parnell Near St. Catharines.

St. Catharines, March 3.—A fatal accident occurred yesterday afternoon at the Parnell homestead farm, Grantham Township, where Louis A. Parnell, eldest son of Sydney Parnell, was instantly killed, and George, a younger brother, narrowly escaped a similar fate. They were engaged taking down a barn, when an extra bent gave way, causing the building to collapse without warning, burying beneath it the two sons. The younger escaped with slight injury, but the elder was crushed to death by heavy timbers. Deceased was 35 years old, and leaves a widow and one child. He recently returned from Manitoba, where he had purchased a farm and came here to move his family.

A FARM WAGE SCALE

Increases Asked by Workers on the Guelph Model Farm.

WANT A CONSIDERABLE RAISE

See Premier Ross and Hon. John Dryden and Ask That Their Wages Be Raised to Correspond to the Scale in the Locality — The Government's Reply to the Deputation.

Toronto, March 3.—The wages and hours of labor of the farm help at the Agricultural College, Guelph, who recently organized a union among themselves, formed the subject of an interview yesterday between Mr. O. R. Wallace, correspondent of The Labor Gazette, and Mr. A. H. McIlwraith, representing the union, and Premier Ross and Hon. John Dryden. The deputation asked in a general way that the wages on the farm be increased to correspond with the rates paid in the Guelph locality for similar employment. To this the Government's reply is that the wages there should correspond with the average wages throughout the Province, as recommended by the College Advisory Board, composed of farmers from different parts of Ontario. The men represented that the farm laborers' wages on the farm were but $30 without board, reduced from $33 last fall, while on adjoining farms it was $25 with board and washing; last fall laborers working on college buildings were paid as high as 17½ cents an hour.

In addition to these general statements the deputation made several specific requests. The stokers, they stated, now work twelve hours daily for six days of the week, and on alternate Sundays eighteen and eleven hours. For this they get $34 per month. They ask for 17½ cents per hour. The cattlemen work twelve hours daily for seven days of the week, and in addition they have sometimes to stay up at night with sick animals. They claim to possess scientific or expert knowledge, and are called upon to demonstrate before the students. They are paid $34 a month, and ask for $45. The teamsters and laborers get $30 a month for 60 hours a week, and ask for $1.50 a day. The day laborers get $1.30 a day for ten hours, and request an increase to 15 cents an hour.

The requests will be considered.

STRIKERS CONTRADICTED.

C.P.R. Men Say in Reply That Their Hand Was Forced.

Vancouver, B. C., March 3.—There has been a distinct change in the attitude of the C.P.R. officials yesterday in connection with the strike of the brotherhood clerks and kindred interests. General Superintendent Marpole issued a statement categorically denying portions of the strikers' statement, urging that Forrest had been merely suspended pending investigation of his official course.

The men contend that the reverse conditions are the fact, and that their hands were forced by the company.

Want More Money.

Ottawa, March 3.—The hand compositors in the Government printing bureau will ask for $1.50 increase a week. They get $13.50 now.

350 Italians on Strike.

Sydney, N. S., March 3.—Three hundred and fifty Italians employed by the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, went on strike yesterday morning, claiming that they were not being treated fair. Strikers armed with picks and shovels paraded the streets, and things looked serious for a time, but police managed to finally disperse the mob.

Wabash May Have a Strike.

St. Thomas, March 3.—It is just possible that the trainmen of the Wabash will go out on strike Wednesday. The men demand 12 per cent. advance for the passenger employes and 15 per cent. for freight.

Building Trades Strike.

St. Catharines, March 3.—Two hundred and thirty-one men engaged in the building trades here are out on strike for an eight hour day and a week of forty-eight hours. The employers demand nine hours' work a day, but will grant a Saturday half holiday, making a week of fifty hours.

3,000 Go Out on Strike.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 3.—Two strikes for higher wages, involving 3,000 hands, were inaugurated here yesterday in the garment workers industry and that of the carriage painters.

To Settle the Strike.

Victoria, B.C., March 3.—A commission of the British Columbia miners left yesterday for Fernie to help settle the strike at the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company's mines.

Nurses Strike in New York.

New York, March 3.—Failing in their efforts to have their new superintendent removed the expert trained nurses of the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary yesterday left the institution in a body. The strike of the nurses places the institution in a helpless state for a time, and it was necessary to ask assistance from other hospitals in order to attend to the fifty-seven patients who were in the wards.

CAPTAIN TIES UP STEAMER.

He Demanded Union Wages and There Is No Ferry.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., March 3.—The steamer Armstrong of the Canadian Car Transfer Company, operating between Ogdensburg and Prescott, has been tied up owing to the demand of Captain Samuel V. Anderson, for seventeen years its master, for union wages. Other captains summoned to command the steamer have refused to do so. The company refuses to yield to the union.

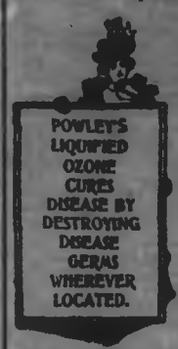
Dyspepsia For Ten Years

Constantly Hungry, William Le Mesurier, of Montreal, Dare Not Eat, and Existence Became Truly Miserable.

Then He Heard of Powley's Liquified Ozone—The Disease Germs Were Soon Destroyed and After Taking Four Bottles He Was Completely Cured.



Gentlemen, — I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for 10 years. Sharp cutting pains and constant hunger made my existence truly miserable, while flatulency augmented the trouble. Despite all efforts to overcome this distressing condition it continued until August last, when I heard of Powley's Liquified Ozone. I have used four bottles of the Ozone and can now eat anything.

I would strongly recommend it to every sufferer, as I understand it applies alike to all germ disease.

(Signed) WILLIAM LE MESURIER,
126 Metcalfe St., Montreal.

WM. LE MESURIER.

It Does Not Matter How Chronic Your Case of Dyspepsia May Have Become Ozone Will Certainly Cure You.

The action of Powley's Liquified Ozone in cases of Dyspepsia is peculiar. With some there is almost immediate relief and the patient commences to get well at once. With others the first few doses cause nausea and the patient seems to get worse. This is merely an indication that Ozone is doing its work, but that the case is a severe one, and that there is greater difficulty in destroying the disease germs. Later the symptoms of distress become less pronounced and at fewer intervals until they cease altogether, when there is rapid improvement and the patient is soon entirely cured. There is one thing certain, however, and that is that it does not matter what the first effects of Ozone may be, if persisted in there is no case of dyspepsia that it will not cure, and when we say cure we mean cured for all time to come. This has been proven so often and so thoroughly that it has become an absolute certainty.

The following are extracts from a few of the many letters received, testifying as to the curative qualities of Ozone:

W. J. ADAMS,

428 Wellesley street, Toronto, says: "I had dyspepsia for years. Good physicians and advertised cures did me no good. I was advised to try Ozone. Three bottles cured me and now my digestion is perfect. I feel that it was a God-send in my case."

MRS. JOSEPH ROY,

286 St. Dominique st., Montreal, says: "For six years I was troubled with indigestion, heartburn and neuralgia and used many medicines without obtaining any relief. Two months ago I commenced taking Ozone and after taking four bottles I am happy to say I am cured. I have an excellent appetite and can eat anything I wish."

E. J. DOYLE,

58 Percy street, Ottawa, says: "For ten years I suffered from stomach trouble and after trying all sorts of treatments was thoroughly discouraged. It was, therefore, with considerable doubt that I was induced to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. In a short time I was better and soon gained 24 pounds in weight. I am working every day and feel well and hearty, with not a trace of dyspepsia left. My wife and daughter were also much benefitted by Ozone and I am sure it saved the latter's life."

MISS JESSIE THOMPSON,

River street, Toronto, says: "For four years I suffered from ulcerated stomach with frequent hemmorhages. I was treated by the best physicians besides taking many different remedies, but continued to get worse. I was advised to try Powley's Liquified Ozone and did so, carefully following directions. In a short time there was a remarkable improvement in my condition. The hemmorhages ceased, my strength returned and I was much improved in every way."

In buying be sure to get Powley's Liquified Ozone. It is sold only by reliable dealers—never by peddlers. Price, 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle.

ORIENTAL ORDER OF HUMILITY

Conferred on Tribesmen Last Night.

The Election and Installation of Officers New Member Initiated—Moon Feast.

The tribesmen of the Cysious Sanctorium, No. 24, of the Oriental Order of Humility, assembled last night, it night, it being the second night of the third moon, Xerxes period, 2,387, to their war strength of about 40 members, in the Oddfellows Hall, it being the night for the installation of officers. Col. Miller was seated on the throne.

The ceremonies were opened by the installation of a new member, who received Oriental Light and was taught the sublime lesson of Humility and was duly registered on the books of the Supreme Orient.

The officers were then elected as follows:—

J. Fanning ... Grand Senior Hyastytic
H. Morgan ...Vice Grand Hyastytic
F. Perry ... ...Venerable Friar
E. Wand ... ... Grand Monitor
J. T. C. Lang ... ...Registrarallissimo
J. A. Tully ... ...Banberallissimo
J. Emerson ... ...Grand Chief Guide
J. Brownlee ... ...Grand Herald
J.W. Miller...Grand High Executioner

After the election and installation of officers had taken place, the great moon feast was held, but unlike their brethren in darkest Africa, the tribesmen did not hold their feast dance, the reason given being that unfortunately "Raw Missionary" was not on the Bill of Fare, which was in every other respects most elaborate, in fact so elaborate that the space available is insufficient for it. During the proceedings considerable fines were inflicted upon some of the tribesmen for disobediance or the contradiction of their superior officers.

The Oriental Degree is one conferrable on any member of the Peterborough, Otonabee, or any of the lodges of the Oddfellows' Order in this district.

After some harranguing the tribesmen broke up, to meet next on the first night of the 4th moon.

The Men's Meeting.

The Y.M.C.A. Hall was well filled Sunday afternoon, when the conduct of the meeting was along different lines than usual. Instead of an address, a local layman, Mr. George Lee, led a service of praise and testimony in which many participated who have entered the Christian life as a result of the recent special meetings that have been held. The meeting was undoubtedly one of the best and most powerful ever held in the hall, and many were impressed with the unanswerable argument of a consistent Christian life. The theme was the "Greatest Hero," who was shown to be the man who was bold to live and witness for Christ.

T. A. S. BOYS VICTORIOUS.

They Defeated the Fenelon Team Last Night.

The Score was 8 to 3—They are now one Game Ahead of Norwood.

The T.A.S. hockey team of Peterborough for the second time this season defeated the Fenelon Falls aggregation, champions of the Trent Valley League, and have now a lead of one game over Norwood for the championship.

The match last night was played in the Brock street rink and the score when time was up stood T.A.S. 8; Fenelon Falls 3. There was a very good attendance of spectators and the ice was in fair condition. From the outset it was apparents to every person that the T.A.S. were out to win, although the quality of hockey played in the first half was considerably below par. The play was loose and very little combination was in evidence. In this half T.A.S. succeeded in scoring three times to the visitors' twice. A disagreeable feature of the first half was a monotonous wait of 15 minutes or more, caused by an accident to a player's skate. This was uncalled for as a player on the opposing team should have been dropped to even up matters.

In the second half the local team got down to real business and scored goal after goal to the delight of their friends. There were some very pretty pieces of combination play. It was not until this half that George realised what he was on the ice for and he was aggressive to the finish. Capt. Lynch, of the cold water bunch, undoubtedly stood more physical abuse and complained the least of any man that has played on the local ice this winter. However, he didn't take the time to complain but continued to shoot with telling effect upon the goal nets of his opponents.

WERE STRENGTHENED.

The visitors were certainly strengthened since their game in Norwood. They had tehir old goal keeper, Alvin Gould, who is now attending Pharmacy, and besides him they had Boycee, Patterson and one or two others which they have been holding in reserve. However they are not up to last year's mark, and are down and out.

Only one player was ruled off during the game. The referee was Dr. Walters, of Lindsay. The teams were as follows:

T. A. S.—Goal, McCoy; point, Meagher; cover point, Crowley; forwards, Parnell, Lynch, George and McGrath.

Fenelon Falls—Goal, Gould; point, Aldus; cover point, Patterson; forwards, Beateau, Boyce, Ingram and Dayman.

Umpires — Jones, Fenelon Falls; Hurtubise, Peterborough.

Timekeepers—Tom Turcott, T.A.S., and Mr. McCallum, Fenelon Falls.

NOTES.

Fred McGrath has not yet entirely recovered from the effects of his accident in the Norwood-T. A. S. match. He goes into the game with all his old time vigour, however, and is always onto the puck.

The Fenelon Falls team had two married men on its strength.

The T.A.S. bunch handsomely entertained the Fenelon team at Potvin's, at the conclusion of the game. President McCallum of the Fenelon Club in reply to the toast to his Club, frankly stated that they wanted to see Norwood win the championship. The result of the Fenelon-Norwood game this week is a fore gone conclusion.

OBITUARY.

The Late Joseph DuMontet.

The death occurred early this morning at his late residence, No. 136 Perry street, of Mr. Joseph DuMontet, in the 53rd year of his age. The deceased only took ill on Sunday, so that his death came as a great surprise to his friends. The late Mr. Dumontet was a native of La Prairrie, Montreal, and came to Peterborough about 38 years ago. He followed the occupation of blacksmith and was much respected. He leaves a wife and 10 children to mourn his demise.

The funeral will take place at 9 o'clock on Thursday morning to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery for interment.

A., formerly of Cambridge, England, assistant principal of the Canadian Correspondence College, Toronto, is at the Oriental Hotel, and will be glad to receive inquiries regarding the new branch of his institution which he has just opened here. Mr. George Powell has been appointed local representative and in this connection the Canadian Correspondence School is fortunate in securing the services of so competent a man. The Agricultural Branch of the school is a very important feature and private tuition can be had by mail, the students being given individual attention. This is the only chartered institution of the kind under Canadian laws, and many of Toronto's best known men are connected with it, so that its future in Peterborough should be exceedingly bright.

DEATH FROM A FALL.

Old Resident of Ashburnham Passes Away.

The death of Mary Jane, wife of the late William Speer, of Ashburnham, took place this morning; due to a fall which she received a week ago.

Deceased was born in Donegal, Ireland, on the 18th of November, 1833, and when 15 years of age came with her parents to this country and settled in the township of Asphodel. In the year 1855 she was married to the late Wm. Speer, of South Dummer, and resided there till the spring of 1900, when they came to Ashburnham to spend the remainder of their days, but death came soon after and claimed the husband. She at an early age joined the Methodist church, of which she remained a faithful member.

The surviving children are Mrs. Wm. Thistlethwaite, of Norwood; Mrs. Stephen Gaskins, of Munroe avenue, Ashburnham; Mrs. John Spence, of Toronto; John and Mary at home.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock, from her late residence, Munroe avenue, Ashburnham, to the Little Lake cemetery.

To the Shareholders of The Canadian Cordage and Manufacturing Company, Limited.

The Directors have much pleasure in presenting their report to the shareholders accompanied by a statement of the assets and liabilities as of February 7th, 1903, which has been certified to by the Auditor.

The Directors beg to report that the Company have received subscriptions for $400,000 of stock down to the 14th day of February, A.D., 1903, and which stock has been duly allotted to the several respective subscribers therefor and the Company has received on account of subscriptions for stock the sum of $342,632.26.

The Company received a bonus of $4,500.00 from the Town of Peterborough with which to purchase a sight containing two and a quarter acres between Lake street and Perry street and between Aylmer street and Bethune street in Peterborough and have further obtained a by-law from the Town of Peterborough fixing the Company's assessment at $4,500 for all purposes thereby granting to the Company exemption from taxation upon their buildings and machinery for municipal and public school purposes.

All the buildings erected are new solid brick buildings and consist of the main factory which is divided by fire-proof walls, in these departments and consist of the preparation room 128 ft. x 73 ft. to which is attached a brick motor house 12 ft. x 16 ft. in which is placed on a concrete foundation a 75 horse power motor; a spinning room 180 ft. x 90 ft. to which is attached a brick motor house 12 ft. x 12 ft. in which is placed on a concrete foundation 2 200 horse power motor and a rope room and a balling room 130 ft x 60 ft. to which is attached a brick motor house 12 ft. x 16 ft. in which is placed on a concrete foundation a 100 horse power electric motor; a machine shop 60 ft. x 45 ft. containing tools for Company to do its own repairing, is attached to the Southern end of the main factory in which is placed a 10 horse power electric motor; the boiler house and heating room is 32 ft. x 30 ft. in which is installed a 120 horse power boiler, manufactured by the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co., for heating purposes only and a 30 horse power electric motor which is used to force the heat through the several buildings in conduit pipes by means of a Sturtevant fan.

A steel oil tank has been erected in a brick house 16 ft. x 16 ft. and has a capacity of 14,000 gals. of oil; the brick warehouse is 50 ft. x 264 ft.; the tar house is 100 ft. x 40 ft.

All the buildings are one story high, the main building being 16 ft. at the walls rising to 40 ft. at the top with a great lantern roof that extends the whole length of the building. The roofs of the buildings are of galvanized iron.

The electric motors were purchased from and installed by the Canadian General Electric Company, Peterborough.

The office is a separate building, 30 ft. x 48 ft. and two storeys high.

The factory is built on the most modern lines of slow burning construction. There are fire-proof walls between each department connected by automatic fire-proof doors. The electric motors are installed outside of the main walls and are surrounded by fire-proof material. The boiler for heating purposes is entirely isolated in a separate building. An automatic sprinkler system has also been installed for fire protection. In consequence of the excellent equipment for fire protection the Company is enabled to secure a rate of insurance premium of 40 cents per annum on each hundred dollars of insurance from the regular insurance companies of Canada. The ordinary current insurance rate on cordage factories is $4 per annum for each $100 of insurance, and on cordage warehouses $1.50 per annum for each $100 of insurance. The Company on the 14th day of February, 1903, had $350,000.00 of insurance in force with the strongest financial insurance companies doing business in Canada.

The Company's factory is of the most complete, modern, and up-to-date cordage factories on the continent. The machines are all new and manufactured expressly for this Company by Messrs. Fairbairn, Lawson, Combe, Barbour Co., Limited., Belfast, Ireland; the Hoover & Gamble Co., of Miamisburg, Ohio, John Loyd of New York and the Lockport Manufacturing Co., of Boston.

The factory has a capacity of ten tons of binder twine per day, eight tons of rope per day and two and a half tons of lath yarn per day. By combining the business of manufacturing binder twine, rope and cordage the greatest efficiency, flexibility and economy is obtained in the operations of the factory and the output of the factory in any one line can be substantially increased by lessening the output of some other line.

The Company has entered into a contract with the Otonabee Power Company for five hundred electric horse power at $16 per horse power per annum to be used on their premises for power, lighting and heating purposes. This is an exceedingly low rate for motive power when it is considered that it costs at least $25 per horse power per annum to generate steam power. The Company own their own railway siding adjoining their warehouse, and have railway connections with both the G. T. R. and the C. P. R.

It is satisfactory to note that the profits of the Company down to February 7th, 1903, were $12,258.06 of which $11,225.44 was appropriated to pay a dividend of 5 p.c. and $1,062.62 was carried forward to the profit and loss account.

By order of the Board,

ADAM HALL,
President.

Dated this 14th day of February, '03.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Adam Hall, the president, spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman and shareholders of the Canadian Cordage and Manufacturing Company, Limited,—It gives me a great deal of pleasure to move the adoption of the directors' report to the shareholders. This is a pleasant duty when we are able to announce to the shareholders that we have declared a dividend of five per cent. to be paid out of the profits of the company on the capital stock paid up on the 7th day of February, 1903, which dividend will be paid on the first day of May, in accordance with the terms of the resolution of the directors.

To make such a satisfactory showing has called forth a great deal of effort. It was necessary to spend a great deal of time in securing subscriptions for stock before the directors were justified in proceeding with the erection of the buildings and the establishment and equipment of the plant. The erection of the buildings, the manufacturing of the machinery, and the installation of the machinery, which was quite extensive, and must be very accurately placed in position, and the installation of the electric motors, the automatic sprinkler system for fire protection, and the heating system, all took considerable time before the company was in a position to commence to earn money. It took a great deal of time to get the new machinery running well and thoroughly polished, and to get the employees of the factory taught to run the machines so that an excellent quality of twine might be turned out, which would induce customers in future years to ask for this company's twine.

Considering all these difficulties, and many others, it must be gratifying to the shareholders to know, that the earnings of the company were such as to justify the directors in declaring a dividend of five per cent. We ask the shareholders to accept this dividend as an earnest of still greater returns, which may be expected in the future.

We consider that we have good grounds, based on sound business principles in believing that the stock holders in this company have a permanent, substantial and profitable investment in their stock in this company.

FOR CHEAP POWER

The company have a contract for cheap power, whereby they get 440 electrical horse power for the purpose of driving the machinery in their factory, at the rate of $10 per horse power per annum. Steam power usually costs about $35 per horse power per annum. The company therefore save $25 per horse power per annum, or in round numbers $11,000 per annum on the item of motive power alone.

The company have also a contract entitling them to be supplied with 30 additional electrical horse power for lighting their entire factory, warehouses, boiler house, tar house, offices and other buildings. In this item the company makes a saving of at least $500 per year in lighting their premises, over current prices.

The company have put in the Sturtevant Hot Air Heating System. The heat is forced through the building in large pipes by a fan eight feet in diameter. The fan is run by a 30 horse power electric motor. This additional horse power is also furnished at $10 per horse power per annum. It is the most up-to-date, economical and efficient system of heating a large building that is known. The company estimate that it will cost $500 per year less to heat their premises by this system than if heated by steam, besides the cost of installment and of keeping the same in repair is at least 50 per cent. less than any other system which can be installed.

The company have obtained a bonus of $4,500 from the town of Peterborough with which they purchased, a site containing two and one-quarter acres between Lake and Perry streets, and between Aylmer and Bethune streets, in Peterborough.

The company also obtained a bylaw from the Town Council of the Town of Peterborough, which has been ratified by the ratepayers of Peterborough by a large majority and subsequently ratified and approved by the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, fixing the Company's assessment at $4,500 for all purposes and granting to the Company upon their buildings and machinery for municipal and public school purposes. On this item the Company estimate they will effect a saving of at least $1,700 per year in taxes.

The Company have put in their factory the latest and most improved automatic sprinkler system that can be obtained for fire protection. In case of fire the heat from the fire melts the caps on the small sprinklers, which are distributed eight feet apart throughout the entire buildings, and the water automatically rushes out without any action on the part of any one. Each department of the factory is separated by fire proof walls and connected by fire proof doors which automatically close by the heat in case of fire. Fire extinguishers are placed in different parts of the buildings and three street hydrants are on the streets adjoining the factory. The boiler for heating purposes is completely isolated. The electric motors are isolated in small motor houses adjoining the factory. The entire buildings are completely isolated by the streets on all sides and are laid out with a view of getting cheapest insurance rate. They have not a large 500 horse power engine to increase their risk from fire. The Company estimate that the system which they have adopted for fire protection will save the Company about $3,500.00 per year in insurance premiums on buildings, machinery and stock over that of the best equipped cordage factory in Canada of like capacity.

The Company is in a position to get cheap freight rates into and out of Peterborough, on their raw material and finished products on account of the fact that their works are close to namely, the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific Railways, and they have a railway siding immediately adjoining their warehouses, connecting with both railway lines.

The Company further possess the local advantage of being the only binder twine factory in a very large grain growing district of the Province of Ontario, thereby giving it a special advantage over its competitors in such district.

This Company now already has in the neighbourhood of 4,000 shareholders in different parts of Canada who are interested in its success, who will use its twine and rope and and lath yarn, and recommend it to others, thereby making for the Company a most valuable good will and tending to do away with expensive agents and travellers.

The wisdom of having the stock widely distributed among parties who use twine, rope and cordage is amply shown from the immense number of offers to handle the output of our factory that are constantcoming in to the Company from different parts of Canada. The Company is constantly receiving offers of orders for not only tons but for car loads of their output from Manitoba and the North-west, where so much twine is now used and where the demand is yearly increasing.

Each shareholder, therefore, should make it a point on every occasion to have hardware merchants, lumbermen and farmers ask for and insist on getting twine, rope and lath yarn, etc., manufactured by this company.

The location and arrangement of the buildings are most complete throughout, being laid out on a principle to save the least possible handling of the goods in the process of manufacture and in receiving the raw material and shipping their finished products. Their raw material comes in by the car load, is landed in the warehouse, thence it is taken to the preparation room, thence to the spinning room adjoining and from thence to the balling room and the rope room, and from thence the finished product will be taken by carriers into the particular part of the storehouse where it should go. These carriers will be operated and it is estimated that the services of four men will be dispensed with, thereby making a saving of $1,800 a year in wages. In these several respects the company claims it will save many hundreds of dollars per year in handling and cartage in the operation of their factory.

The report of the directors shows that the factory is equipped with the most modern and most improved machinery that is manufactured in the world.

The company have employed as foremen for the different departments men who have a thorough knowledge of the business and have gained their experience in some of the largest and best equipped cordage factories in the United States, which have the reputation of turning out and making first class twine, rope, etc.

There is an unlimited market in Canada for binder twine, rope and cordage, and the demand is increasing year by year, owing to the increased numbers of self-binders, etc., that are being used. For instance, according to the report of the Department of Trade and Commerce for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1902, page 179, it appears that during the following years, the following quantities of twine for harvest binders, etc., was imported into this country:

In 1896,	3,023,894 lbs.
In 1897,	3,394,455 lbs.
In 1898,	8,678,823 lbs.
In 1899,	10,629,286 lbs.
In 1900,	8,017,668 lbs.
In 1901,	9,674,268 lbs.
In 1902,	14,927,302 lbs.

The demand for cordage of all kinds is increasing year by year in Canada on account of the large pulp mills which are being erected in the provinces of Quebec, Ontario and other parts of Canada, and the immense lumbering and mining operations, which are increasing year by year in Ontario, and British Columbia, and other parts of Canada. The large cattle ranches and farms of the Northwest, and the carried on on the Great Lakes and inland waters, demand a constantly increasing quantity of cordage of all kinds. In addition to the Canadian markets we are in a position to compete on equal terms and on common ground with the American manufacturers in the United States on that class of twine that enters their ports free of duty. The consumption of binder twine in the United States is estimated at 150,000,000 pounds a year; of this it is admitted that about 50 per cent could be admitted free of duty. The South American Republics, the West Indies, and other foreign countries open up a wide field for twine, rope and cordage of all kinds, on a fair margin of profit.

To operate this company successfully, it is important that the company should be in a position to carry its raw material and finished product independently of, and unhampered by, the banks, and save the interest for the shareholders. To carry 3000 tons of twine at an average cost of ten cents a pound, requires not less than $300,000. It also requires about $100,000 to carry a stock of rope. That is a large amount to carry for months on a small capital.

To successfully compete with other large manufacturers it is necessary to carry twine accounts in various parts of the country until the first day of October of each year, the same as the large American manufacturers.

To do this requires money. To get the necessary money the directors require to sell some more stock. Any extra capital which is received will enable the company to do a larger volume of business. To get the largest profits out of the factory, it is necessary to run the factory to its full capacity every week in the year. It is not expedient, nor is it in the interests of the shareholders, to do this by borrowing too much from the bank on too narrow a margin between the amount borrowed and the value of the raw material, finished product and accounts outstanding on the usual periods of credit given by other factories. It does not do to sail too close to the wind, and thereby assume too much risk. The directors feel that it is safer and better to sell more stock, so that a larger volume of business may be done at more profit, and on a more sound and substantial financial basis. I therefore have very much pleasure in moving the adoption of the report, and of the accompanying statement, and that the same be printed for distribution amongst the shareholders of the company.

Mr. R. R. Mowbray, County Councillor and ex-Warden of Ontario County, spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman, — It affords me great pleasure to second the resolution for the adoption of the report, and of the accompanying statement, and to congratulate the shareholders upon having one of the best equipped and most modern cordage factories in Canada. When we take into consideration the difficulties which always attend the starting of a new industry, I think the shareholders are to be congratulated upon the excellent results of the operation of this company, and for the very bright prospects for its future.

There is no reason why this company should not be a good, sound, substantial and profitable investment, when we consider its many advantages referred to by the president, such as a free site, exemption from taxation on the buildings and machinery, cheap electric motive power, for power, lighting and heating purposes, an exceedingly low rate of insurance; many shareholders living in different parts of Canada using its product and recommending it to others; the most modern machinery and most up-to-date labour saving devices and conveniences, expert foremen in each department and an unlimited market for the product of the factory.

I therefore have much pleasure in seconding the resolution.

The bylaw of the directors to increase the capital stock of the company to $800,000, was sanctioned unanimously by the shareholders.

OLD AFRICAN GOLD MINES.

Evidence of Extensive Operations Carried on Many Years Ago.

Rhodesia, or British Zambesia, ranks among the chief gold-bearing countries of the world. The ancients mined and carried away enormous quantities of the precious metal, but under the scientific mining systems of the present day their operations will be greatly surpassed. In the recently published work on the "Ancient Ruins of Rhodesia," the authors, Messrs. Hall and Neal, endeavor to discover who the ancients were and whither the gold went.

King Solomon's Mines.

Perhaps Rhodesia was the ancient land of Ophir, the land of the mysterious "King Solomon's mines," but the theory is strongly combated by some investigators. The ancient gold workings are the basis of modern workings. For every ten square miles of Rhodesia there was one ancient mine, that is, there are 75,000 old holes, which means that a stupendous wealth was dug out of the earth before the days of Cecil Rhodes. Much of this wealth must have gone to the north and east; it was probably wrought into the crown of the Queen of Sheba and filled the coffers of Solomon.

A Giant Smelters.

The ancient smelting furnaces are still easy to recognize. They are sunk into the floor. The furnace blowpipes are made of the finest granite-powder cement, and the nozzles of the blowpipes are covered with splashes of gold. The linings of the holes are covered with specks of gold. When the first lining became worn by the heat, a fresh lining of cement of an excellent quality, which has outlasted time, was smeared around on top of the old lining. One can take an old lining, split off the layers with a knife and find gold splashes in abundance.

How Ancients Wasted Gold.

Apparently the ancients wasted gold lavishly. Gold has been found in large quantities in the form of pellets as large as buckshot in the vicinity of the furnaces, and also thrown away on the debris heaps outside of the old buildings.

The tools of the ancient workers which have so far been discovered include a small soapstone hammer and burnishing stones of water-worn rock, to which gold still adheres. There are evidences that the ancients carried on an extensive industry in the manufacture of gold ornaments and utensils. Thirty-five thousand dollars' worth of gold ornaments have been taken in the last five years from the ruins of Matabeleland alone.

HAPPINESS IN THE FAMILY.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mother and Daughter.

Mr. S. Barnum Tells how her Backache Disappeared and her Daughter Found Health.

Madoc, Ont., March 2nd.—(Special)—The hold those standard Canadian remedies, Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining in this community, grow stronger day by day. "Tried and not found wanting," is the verdict awarded to them in dozens of cases where those numerous ailments arising from diseased Kidneys have banished the health and threatened the lives of people till Dodd's Kidney Pills have come to their relief.

And as one who has benefited from Dodd's Kidney Pills recommends them to another and he or she in turn finds relief and health, it is not to be wondered at that whole families unite in singing their praises. This is what the Barnums are doing. Mrs. S. Barnum says:

"I had been troubled with Backache, one of the first symptoms of the painful and dangerous Kidney Diseases. I had been told that Dodd's Kidney Pills were a sure cure and I resolved to try them. I procured half a dozen boxes and commenced taking them. The backache disappeared and has not come back. It is a most satisfactory cure.

"My daughter, Annie ,too, was run down and out of sorts, and subject to pains. Dodd's Kidney Pills had done me so much good I resolved to try them in her case. The result is her pain is gone and she is in good health again."

MAN WHO PICKED WEEDS.

How Prof. John Macoun Gathered Subjects for Investigation Throughout Western Ontario Last Year.

Last summer a man with a knapsack on his back walked over a large part of Western Ontario, arousing a great deal of curiosity and inspiring some fear by his peculiar conduct. He passed through the counties fronting on Lakes Erie, St. Clair, Huron, and the Georgian Bay. When seen he was generally carrying a bundle of weeds in his hands, and to these he appeared to attach some value. Farmers driving along the road would see him pause, peer into a pasture field, eagerly scale the fence, pull a thistle, put it in his knapsack, and return to the highway. Those driving past would whip up their horses, and keep looking back at him until they passed over the next hill. Perhaps, on getting their last glimpse of him, he might be entering a swamp or gathering mullein leaves. No doubt stories are told all along his line of travel of this strange man, occupying himself in pursuits seemingly quite idle and nonsensical.

Prof. John Macoun.

This man was Prof. John Macoun. He was carrying on investigations into the flora of Western Ontario in connection with the regular work of the Geological Survey of Canada, and the annual summary report of the department has been published. Prof. Macoun was on the way from May 6th until September 7th, and the economic aspect of his work was to look into the fruit-producing capabilities of the country through which he passed. Nothing better indicates the climatic conditions of a region than its wild plant life, and Prof. Macoun, after gathering 1,400 specimens between Niagara and Owen Sound, says he found nothing to indicate a lack of warmth, and everything proved the assertion that the whole district was suitable for the cultivation of fruit, ranging from small fruits to cherries, plums, apples, pears, peaches, and grapes. He not only found these fruits growing, but found ample endorsing by their own unguided efforts the claim of this whole region to be regarded as a fruit country.

What Weeds Teach.

The country bordering on Lake St. Clair, Lake Huron, and part of the Georgian Bay will, he thinks, play a large part in the production of apples for export. On this point he says:

"The soil in most places is of the right kind, being largely mixed with lime, and the climate being cooler than that on Lake Erie, the fruit will be later in ripening, and hence will keep better. . . . . Between Goderich and Southampton the forest everywhere proved the estimate I had formed of it on the lower part of Lake Huron held good. The same terms may be applied to the lower part of the Bruce peninsula, and the country between Southampton and Owen Sound. Indeed, the whole district, extending almost to Collingwood, may be included in the future apple-growing area of Western Ontario."

Violets of the Ottawa.

It was shown last fall that the country about Owen Sound and Meaford could produce a large apple crop, for when supplies failed elsewhere the orchards of that district came to the rescue. Persons severely practical in their work and sympathies may smile to learn that Prof. Macoun's assistant "spent some time during May in a further study of the violets of the region about Ottawa, several new species being added to those already known," but botanists must carry on such inquiries so that the whole line of knowledge will advance.

Jokes on Lovers.

The opinion has been expressed that one reason why there are so many old bachelors in Ontario is because of the derision that a man meets with when it is known that he is about to marry and the ordeal of going away in a shower of rice, perhaps with a "shivaree" as a welcome home. In the cities it is not so bad, for people can get married and few know it. In country places practical jokers are always getting in their fine work on young fellows who go courting. The following is from The Uxbridge Journal, and illustrates the point:

"The boys in this country dearly love a joke, especially if it happens to be on some young fellow from a distance who invades their neighborhood on a courting expedition. This was the case recently in the Pine Grove neighborhood, where a young man from town had the wheels of his buggy changed and his lines crossed. But a young man from the country (Glen Major district) fared worse in town on fair night, his horse and rig having been appropriated in toto. It was returned to the hotel shed before morning, but the young man and his girl were under the necessity of hunting up sleeping quarters with friends in town at a late hour. These practical jokes sometimes result unpleasantly for all parties concerned, and it would be well if the funny people would find some less annoying way of exhibiting their humor."

The Medicine Bottle.

A trained nurse vouched for this simple way of dropping medicine without a dropper: Tip the bottle up till the cork has been moistened. Reverse it again and let the fluid go down. Take the cork out, and in so doing run the cork along the rim of the bottle. Drop from the side you have moistened with the cork. In taking or administering medicine always pour from the side opposite the label. This will keep the label looking clean and fresh. The glass can be washed off from time to time, but a drop will spoil your label beyond remedy.—Good Housekeeping.

Japan Coaling.

Good as is the coaling record of H. M. S. Terrible, it is quite eclipsed by the performance of the Empress of China. She took on board 1,210 tons of bunker coal in the remarkably quick time of three and one-half hours, the quickest on record in Nagasaki and, we believe, the quickest on record for the world.

THE ATTIC ROOM.

How to Arrange Clothes Hooks on a Slanting Ceiling.

An attic room with a slanting ceiling, which generally is considered to be the poorest place in the whole house for hanging clothes, may easily be made one of the best with just a little effort on the part of the handy man. Let him get some strips of smooth wood—pine will do—and nail them to the sloping ceiling, taking care, of course, to place them where they will come against some of the timbers under the plaster,

AN ATTIC CLOTHES RACK.

so that the nails shall take a firm grip. Into the strips of wood hooks should be screwed six or eight inches apart, and upon the hooks wire garment supporters may be hung. This plan, so clearly illustrated by the drawing, will admit of disposing of a great deal of clothing in small space, yet each article may be taken down in a twinkling without disturbing any of the others. If thought advisable, a curtain may be hung in such a way as to protect all the clothing from dust.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Monster Seaweeds.

Macricystis, a seaweed of the south Pacific, it is said, often grows to be 20 to 30 inches in diameter and 1,500 to 2,000 feet in length. In no case do any of these have roots in the proper sense, their nourishment being absorbed from the water by all parts alike.

"Exactly Suited To My Case"

Says Mr. Baker, and He Voices the Opinion of Hosts of Kidney Sufferers Regarding

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It frequently happens that people who are cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have previously experimented with other medicines without obtaining the desired results, and consequently a great many make use of this expression, "exactly suited to my case."

The action of this great medicine is so wonderfully prompt and direct, and the effects so marked that people naturally feel that it is particularly suited to their case. Time has proven the merits of this preparation, and consequently it has attained an enormous sale.

Mr. John Baker, Deseronto, Ont., states: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and can truthfully say that they are perfect in their work. I was subject to pain in my sides and back. At times I had to lay off work, and feared that I would never get rid of the ailment which was causing my sufferings. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended to me, and I found them to be exactly suited to my case. Since using them I have never had a return of my old troubles."

Mr. Jas. H. Harvey, baker, 641 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"I was troubled very much with constipation and pains in the back. At times the pains were sharp like a stab with a knife and caused me great suffering.

"I heard of many being cured by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and decided to try them. I am pleased to say that they soon helped me, and I used them right along until cured. I never have pains in my back now and only occasionally take a pill in order to keep my bowels regular."

AFTER the STORM

By William Haven Ross

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

The hurricane had died out, and the only trace of the storm upon the waters was the heavy swell which tossed the ship's longboat.

The sun shone with tropical fervor upon the three occupants of the little craft. Not a sail was within the perspective, and no long wreath upon the horizon gave sign of the presence of a steamship.

At the bottom of the boat, his head resting upon the lap of a young woman, a man lay. His face was white and drawn, and the glitter of his eyes told of extreme physical weakness. The other man sat upon the stern thwart and watched sea and sky with anxious gaze. The woman's face had the apathy of prolonged suffering.

"Water! Water!" murmured the man at the bottom of the boat.

"Have patience, Tom," said the woman in a mechanical voice. "We are in the track of ships and must be rescued soon."

"No," said Tom faintly; "you will be saved—you and Dick—but not I."

Dick glanced at him in pity, but remained silent. The woman pushed back the matted hair from Tom's eyes with feeble fingers, but made no reply. The look of death was on the face pillowed upon her knee.

Three days had passed since Tom and Kate, passengers, and Dick, master mariner, had abandoned the sinking bark West Wind, bound from Rio to New York. Of the fate of their shipmates they had no knowledge. They had gone without food and without drink, and the weight of sheer exhaustion had begun to deaden their senses.

Finally Tom spoke again. He looked Dick in the face searchingly and said:

"Will you forgive me, Richard? I could die happier if you would. Kate will never forgive me, but you might."

"Forgive you!" exclaimed Dick wonderingly. "Why, what have you done?"

"You always loved Kate," said Tom.

"Yes," replied Dick very slowly and after a pause; "I always loved her."

"And she always loved you," said Tom.

Dick half started from the thwart, but checked himself.

The woman turned her face away.

"I came between you," said Tom. "I did you both a wrong. But, oh, how I have suffered! You can't realise, Dick—you will never realise—the agony of mock possession, the anguish of having a wife who in her heart loathes your slightest caress. She never loved me, Dick, and I have been kind and good to her always. But what are kindness and goodness to a woman when she does not love you? Nothing, Dick, worse than nothing!"

"I don't understand you at all," said Dick. "I know that you're out of your head. Speak to him, Kate; it may quiet him."

But Kate neither spoke nor turned her head.

"No; you will understand," said Tom, with more emphasis. "I'm going to tell you something. If I were not dying, perhaps you would kill me for it, but I would not care. I do not want to live unless I can have Kate."

"Have Kate!" repeated Dick. "Why, man, she's your wife!"

"No, no!" cried Tom weakly. "She never was my wife! It was only an empty ceremony that shackled her to me. She was always yours, Dick, and yours only. Soon she will be yours forever."

"Speak to him, Kate. He's raving," said Dick hoarsely, but she sat as if stone, watching the sky line.

"You see," said Tom, "she will not lie even to soothe, and she is right, for lies are useless. I knew she loved you, and I lied to keep you apart. You thought it was friendship and kindness that made you master of my West Wind, but that was the first syllable of my lie. I wanted to put half the world between you two, so I made you captain of my best bark and chartered her for China. Then the lie grew and grew. It was I who had published in New York and copied in the home newspapers the lying notice that you married a woman in New York the day before you sailed. After Kate had read the lie she thought the world was at an end for her, so she married me. Now you know it all except what I have suffered. You can never realize that."

There now was a deep flush upon Kate's cheek, and Dick was bending forward, speechless and glowering.

"You won't forgive me, then?" asked Tom pleadingly. "She will soon be yours, and—and—and I've left her everything."

"Blast you and your money!" cried Dick, now upon his unsteady feet, with a threatening gesture.

But Kate, who still sat with averted gaze, put her arm across Tom's face as if to protect him, and Dick sank back sullenly upon the thwart and turned his head away too. Thus they remained for many minutes. But when Dick again turned his eyes to the horizon he could scarcely restrain an exclamation.

Far away upon the edge of the waters was a sail.

It then was but a tiny blur, but the prescient eye of the sailor saw at a glance that the vessel was southbound and sailing toward them. If the wind held in the same direction, the ship would be apt to make a long reach before going about and must surely pass so near that they would be sighted.

Dick looked at Tom and then at Kate, while a battle raged in his soul. The excitement which had sustained the sick man during the morning had passed, and Dick could see plainly enough that the reaction was tugging hard upon the frail strand of life. Yet he understood that he had at command as potent a stimulant as was ever compounded by a pharmacist.

It was hope!

In an hour or two the approaching vessel would be within hailing distance. Another hour or two meant life or death to Tom. If he knew that rescue, food, drink and comfortable quarters were but a few dwindling miles away, existence would grow sweeter to the wealthy shipowner and importer, and the innate love of life might buoy him through the crisis.

"Shall I speak?" he asked of himself.

If Tom died—but he tried to put that out of his mind. How he loved and had longed for the woman he faced! A flickering spark was all that kept them apart. Should he fan it into a blaze or let it go out forever?

At last Tom again opened his eyes, and, looking him in the face with a pitiful, pleading expression, he feebly put forth his hand.

"Forgive me," he whispered in a voice of utter weakness. Kate bent over and kissed him—kissed him as a mother might her child.

Dick drew a long breath, and a tremor shook him like an ague spasm.

"A sail!" he cried hoarsely and rose unsteadily. For a moment he swayed with the rocking of the boat, pointing straight ahead, and then he sank upon his knees and took Tom's hand in his own.

"Tom," he said, "rouse up, man, and listen to me. There's a ship coming. She's not five miles away. Think of it, man—something to drink and plenty to eat. Don't weaken now after all you've been through. Let the past be bygones. Live it out and be happy."

"A ship in sight!" gasped Tom. "Oh, let me see her!"

It taxed Dick's failing strength to the utmost, but he lifted him to his knees and held him thus while he looked longingly at the distant sail. For a brief space the luster of hope rekindled the fire of failing vision, but it was only for a moment. A film beclouded his eye again, and he sank back to the bottom of the boat with a gasp.

"Too late," he murmured, "too late for me!"

When Dick looked up, he met Kate's gaze. It was a calm, steady look she gave him and the first since Tom began his story. Dick felt meaner and guiltier than he had ever felt before. He had to do something to distract her eyes.

"The sail!" he said, pointing over the waters. "Why don't you look?"

"I saw it," said she, "two hours ago."

"And you were waiting for me to tell Tom of it?"

"Yes," replied Kate, "and how I should have despised you if you had not."

The ship's crew answered Dick's faint hail with shouts of encouragement, and the vessel luffed up into the wind with flapping sails. A boat skippered by the mate was lowered and towed the castaways alongside the ship's quarter.

"How are they?" asked the captain as he leaned over the rail and looked down upon the recumbent figures in the boat, for Dick had collapsed.

"One man is gone, I think, sir," said the mate after holding his hand over Tom's heart.

"Yes," said Kate; "my husband is dead."

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. Ignorance

Blows out the gas and furnishes the newspapers with a jest and an obituary notice. "Didn't know it was loaded" may be an honest plea, but it never brought a victim back to life. Those who let a cough run on, in ignorance of the danger, find no escape from the consequences when the cough develops into lung trouble.

The best time to kill a snake is in the egg. The best time to cure a cough is when it starts. Ordinarily, a few doses of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure a cough at the beginning. But even when the cough is deep-seated, the lungs bleed and the body is wasted by emaciation, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will in ninety-eight cases out of every hundred effect a perfect and permanent cure.

"My husband had been coughing for years and people frankly told me that he would go into consumption," writes Mrs. John Shireman, of No. 265 15th Place, Chicago, Ill. "He had such terrible coughing spells we not only grew much alarmed but looked for the bursting of a blood vessel or a hemorrhage at most any time. After three days' coughing he was too weak to cross the room. The doctor did him no good. I stated the case to a druggist, who handed me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. My husbands recovery was remarkable. In three days after he began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery he was up and around, and in two more days he went to work. Two bottles cured him."

Mirrors and Picture Glass.

The best way to clean mirrors or any glass, such as that in picture frames, is to wash them lightly with a sponge and clean water, then with another sponge rub them over with spirits of wine. After this dab them lightly with some whiting tied up in a muslin bag and finish with an old silk handkerchief. This sounds troublesome, but in reality is very quickly done and does not entail half the labor in polishing that chamois leather and water do, besides keeping the glass bright for a much longer time.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

The juice of a lemon squeezed into a sponge will cleanse and sweeten it.

White paint when dirty should be washed in milk. Colored paints may also be treated in the same way.

Kerosene will brighten brass better than most of the pastes and powders specially recommended for the purpose.

Roaches have a great objection to unslacked lime, and a few pieces of this placed in their haunts will generally keep them away.

In studying to obtain the effect of space in small rooms it is a good plan to cover the walls of two rooms to match. This gives a greater feeling of space.

A woman who knows—at least she ought to, as she demonstrated the fact—says that a generous handful of salt thrown on a gasoline stove in flames will extinguish the fire.

To remove marking ink from linen paint the mark with a solution of potassium applied with a camel's hair brush. As soon as the ink disappears the linen should be well rinsed in cold water.

Household Economy.

The highest priced food is not always the best from a nutritive standpoint, for a quart of oysters at 50 cents contains little more nutriment than a quart of milk at 5 cents.

To be well served serve yourself—that is, visit the markets in person and learn where the best goods can be obtained for the least money.

Certain supplies which are essential to every household, such as sugar, flour, ice, fuel, and so on, fluctuate slightly from month to month, but the little gastronomic surprises which lend variety to our bill of fare and make our food appetising are variable in price and often obtainable only by the buyer who goes in person.

It is well to have one grocer in whom one has full confidence from whom to purchase most things. Yet, after all, one pays for the privilege, for a trip down Grocer street will often reveal a considerable difference even in the price of so called "constants."

The Smart Girl.

To the city or country girl who wishes to acquire the trademarks of the really smart girl the best advice to offer is this:

"Study yourself and watch every well bred woman you meet."

The really smart girl is chic, but never loud in her dressing. She is well groomed, but always natural; she keeps in touch with the prevailing modes, but is never a slave to fashion, and by little tricks of carriage and bearing, distinctive mannerisms which are never eccentric and the careful selection of accessories for her costume shall you know her.

She is the girl who studies herself first and the fashion plates afterward. She selects frocks that suit her, but never forces herself into gowns that are unbecoming solely because some thoughtless modiste assures her that such and such styles are "good" for this season.—Washington Star.

My kidneys became affected and I feared Bright's Disease. Married life was unsatisfactory and my home unhappy. I tried everything—all failed till I took treatment from Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. Their New Method built me up mentally, physically and sexually. I feel and act like a man in every respect. They treated me six years ago. They are honest, skilful and responsible financially, so why patronize Quacks and Fakirs when you can be cured by reliable doctors."—W. A. Baines.

The Pioneer of All Malt-Wheat Foods.

Malt Breakfast Food is the great pioneer of all Malt-Wheat Foods. In Malt Breakfast Food the diastase of Malt was first used to increase the digestibility, flavour and food value of wheat. No process since brought out has equalled that employed in the manufacture of delicious and popular Breakfast Food. It is good to eat; it pleases young and old; it furnishes the greatest amount of nourishment; it is the most economical of cereal foods; it is agreeing more completely every day the name its friends give it: "The altogether satisfactory breakfast food." Physicians say it far surpasses all other grain foods. All grocers sell it.

FIFTY-SEVENTH REGIMENT.

"Fiat Lux" Writes Again Upon its Management.

Contends That the Examiner is not Justified in Certain Statements —The Men's Pay.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In Tuesday's Review there appears an article under the heading of "The Regimental Funds" which purports to be a reply from one of the officers, to my letter in your issue of Monday last. The article, after vouchsafing the information that my letter caused considerable comment among the officers who take exception to the arguments of the writer, as not being exactly correct, goes on to say that the accounts and regimental books are always open to inspection by any member of the regiment, and that the funds have always been managed by the officers and the men—"understand this." I have not disputed this, Mr. Editor, but on the contrary, I assert that the men, on whom the battalion has to depend for its existence, and who join the regiment every Spring, imbued with the martial spirit and filled with that enthusiasm of which the Anglo Saxon race has always been characteristic, somewhat get to "understand this," and after the usual amount of time and trouble has been wasted in teaching them the rudimentary instruction so absolutely necessary to a partial understanding of what war requires, become so disgusted with the way in which the affairs of the regiment are managed that they are conspicuous by their absence at the commencement of the drill season the following year, when a number of men must be recruited to fill their places, thereby keeping the regiment, to a large extent, composed of recruits.

While it is true that non-commissioned officers and men sign a document waiving all claim to their drill pay, it is also true that, in general, recruits are not aware of this until they have put in most of their drills, and you can imagine their amazement and disgust when they are given to "understand" that they are depending entirely on the generosity of the officers as to whether they are to receive even a "trip," the cost of which has of course, to be taken from the "Regimental Fund," which might be required for other purposes.

The officer who has deigned to reply to my communication, although claiming to be handicapped in not being able to reply to letters in the press, on the ground that to do so is not military etiquette and is a breach of discipline, states that the men of the band have to be paid seventy-five cents for every drill. Will he inform us why the bandsmen should receive their pay any more than the other members of the regiment? I do not say that the members of the band should not receive their pay. What I do object to is that every member of the regiment, who attends the required number of drills, is not given the pay that he earns and which the Government intends he should get.

The officer is made to say that as far as his experience went all other regiments of any standing, except the Toronto regiments, have done just what the 57th has been doing with regard to a paid instructor, and that it was not true that an instructor could be had without any expense to the regiment. This statement is absolutely erroneous. Permit me to mention two of the very best regiments in Canada, the 8th and 9th Battalions of Quebec, that, to my personal knowledge, employ no paid instructor. The officers and non-commissioned officers of these battalions are competent to impart to their men all the instruction that is necessary, and every man receives his pay at the termination of the annual drill. I am prepared to give the names of other regiments, which would hazard nothing by a comparison with the 57th, that receive the services of an instructor from the Infantry School at St. Johns, Que., without any cost to the men who compose them, and is this not as it should be? Why should the men be called upon to pay for what it is the duty of the Government to pay, if such an expenditure is at all necessary, which I hold is not the case, as it is incumbent upon the officers of all corps to be capable of instructing their men in their drill.

However, this discussion with regard to how the men's pay should be spent is entirely foreign to the subject. My contention is that it should not be spent at all, or, at least, the men should have some say in the expenditure of it. I gave a few items of expenditure in my previous communication merely to show that the money which should go to pay the men was appropriated by the officers and diverted from the purpose for which it was intended, and surely no sane person will attempt to refute or deny the truth of this.

I would respectfully ask the Editor of the Examiner to state how he can justify his assertion to the effect that there were made statements in my last communication that in the light of subsequent inquiry appear to be founded on anything but facts. I made no statement or assertion which is not absolutely true and capable of proof, and I reiterate every statement previously made, the truth of which every member of the 57th regiment is well aware. Permit me again to say that the only motive which actuated me in bringing this matter to the attention of the public was to endeavour to have the present state of affairs remedied and thereby have the regiment rendered more efficient.

Very truly yours,
"FIAT LUX."

Peterborough, March 2nd, 1903.

Unless the writer of the above letter is prepared to allow his name to be published, no further letters on the same subject will appear in this paper. The 57th Regiment may not, in the opinion of many, be just as it might be, but we think that if the motive of "Fiat Lux" in bringing the matter up, is to endeavour to have the present state of affairs remedied, he should be willing to sign his name to the letters in question.—Ed.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are prepared from the prescription of Dr. Zina Pitcher (formerly Professor of Materia Medica and Genito-Urinary Diseases, Michigan College of Medicine, Detroit, Mich., U.S.A.), which he used with wonderful success for over twelve years in private practice in the Western Hospital, Detroit.

They contain specific ingredients not found in any other kidney remedy, and it is not surprising, therefore, that they make cures in very many cases where other remedies had proved altogether ineffectual.

We would caution you in purchasing the Tablets to see that the accompanying cut, printed in green ink, and Dr. Pitcher's portrait and signature, are printed on the package. Refuse substitutes and imitations, as these are sure to disappoint.

The price of the Tablets is 50c. a box, or three boxes for $1.25, at all druggists, or sent by mail by addressing the Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

To Mr. David Manley, of Bethune Street.

At the Canadian General Electric Works on Saturday evening Mr. Manley, of Bethune street, was seriously scalded while handling a utensil containing some boiling compound and in some manner the dangerous fluid came into contact with the face and hands of the operator with disastrous results. However, Dr. Young, on being called in attended to the man's injuries, and from all appearances the scalds are progressing favourably.

LATE THOMAS CAMPBELL.

A Prominent Resident of Warsaw Passes Away.

The Village of Warsaw loses, by the death of Mr. Thomas Campbell, on the 20th of February, one of its most respected and useful citizens. Mr. Campbell was born in Ireland nearly 63 years ago, of people high in the affairs of church (Anglican) and state. He came to Canada in early life and, after living for a time in Peterborough, and in Norwood, settled in Warsaw about 40 years ago.

Besides relatives in the Old Country there are left to mourn his loss, his widow and four children—one son and three daughters, who have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement. The very large funeral procession which accompanied the remains to the village cemetery, testified to the high respect in which he was held by the community in which he had lived for so many years. Mr. Campbell was a Liberal in politics. Soon after coming to Peterborough he identified himself with the Baptist church, of which he continued a consistent and active member until the day of his death, being at that time Superintendent of the Sunday School and Secretary of the church.

Shot With Intent to Kill.

Ottawa, March 3.—Two men, named Noll and Clairoux, were arrested last night, charged with shooting at Gilbert LaRocque of Clarestown with intent to kill. There seems to have been some grievance, and the prisoners are alleged to have entered LaRocque's yard at midnight and made a racket, designed to attract his attention. The ruse was successful, for LaRocque went to the window and looked out to ascertain the cause. As he did so a bullet whizzed within an inch of his head and lodged in the window sill. He recognized the men and their arrest followed.

As an investment at present prices they discount all other stocks. An increase of 25 to 50 per cent. in their values by fall can be assured.

Our reasons for selling at these close prices under present conditions are:—

First—The use of the money in our business between now and next winter.

Second—An extra heavy Stock of Furs on hand for this time of year.

Third—The between season condition of this month—a little early for spring and a little late for winter selling, must therefore create demand by bargain prices.

Fourth—Must keep our workmen in manufacturing department going, consequently have to sell the Goods.

CORONATION ANNIVERSARY.

Composed Spectacles—Seven Miles Brilliant With Light—Scenes in St. Peter's —A Magnificent Procession and a Burst of Welcome—Aged Pontiff Bore the Trying Ordeal Extremely Well.

Rome, March 4.—The 25th anniversary of the coronation of Pope Leo was celebrated yesterday with all the grandeur and impressiveness associated with the high ceremonials of the Catholic Church, and amid a display of enthusiasm and emotion on the part of the vast assemblage gathered within the walls of St. Peter's, such as vie with the greatest of previous demonstrations of affection for the aged Pontiff.

Last night all the sacred edifices in Rome, monasteries, convents, seminaries, and also many private houses are illuminated in commemoration of the event, the Trastever quarter and the Leoni City, especally presenting a blaze of light, while the general effect was heightened by the burning of Bengal fires throughout the city.

Pope Leo, who supported admirably the fatigue and excitement of yesterday's ceremony, after having retired, rose again from his couch and going to the window of his bedroom gazed for a while upon the scene of the illumination. The view from the Vatican, embracing a stretch of seven miles brilliant with light, was a marvelous one, and His Holiness exclaimed as he withdrew from the window, "this will indeed be a pleasant thing to dream of."

The ceremony in St. Peter's Cathedral lasted two hours and a quarter, and although it was noticeable that Pope Leo felt the effects of his recent cold, all were surprised to see how well he seemed. His voice was strong, his gestures vigorous, and the frantic cheering which greeted his arrival and departure gave him visible pleasure and brought a faint tinge of color to his face. After the tiring ceremony of the morning, Dr. Lapponi carefully examined the condition of the Pope, and although he found him none the worse for the fatigue he had undergone, yet he ordered him to rest during the whole afternoon. But last night, after the doctor's last visit, His Holiness insisted upon getting up to view the illumination.

After an hour of very fatiguing waiting, a majestic procession began to appear. It was composed of the great dignitaries of the church, the forty-five cardinals present, gorgeous in their red robes, and making a most imposing group. At 11 o'clock precisely, the bell of St. Peters rang out a signal, which was followed by the clanging of the bells of about 500 churches in Rome, as they sounded the announcement that the Pontiff was on his way to the basilica. The life of the Ancient City seemed to pause for a moment, hats were raised, and sign of the cross was made. Shortly afterwards, inside St. Peters, silver trumpets blared out their message, and the Pontiff appeared. The people held their breath for a moment. Then all the pent-up enthusiasm burst forth in a tremendous roar of welcome.

From his elevation on the new sedia gestatoria, carried by twelve men in costumes of red brocade, the Pope appeared to be a white spirit, this impression being added to by the Pontiff's white robes and white mitre, delicate features, face as white as alabaster, and his thin hand moving slowly in benediction. It almost seemed as if all human attributes had been expelled from that slender, venerable form.

As the sweet-toned, well-trained voices of the sistine choir sang Tu Es Petrus, thousands of voices shouted: "Long Live Pope Leo!"

When the Pope arrived at the throne, the ceremony proceeded rapidly. Leaving the sedia gestatoria, the Pontiff knelt in prayer, and then rose without assistance, donned the falda and the new triple crown, and the celebration of mass began. At the moment of the elevation of the host a profound silence fell on the assemblage, the guards presented arms, the people knelt, where it was possible for them to do so, and from the cupola came the clear, thin sounds of silver trumpets.

The Pope then administered the Papal Benediction and retired to a room for restoratives, prepared every time he goes to St. Peter's.

Then, addressing Dr. Lapponi, his private physician, the Pontiff said:

"You see, that after all your warnings, the ceremony did me good. What touching loyalty!"

THE "SOO" JUDGMENT

A. Miscampbell, Conservative, Unseated by the Court.

UNSAVED BY SAVING CLAUSE.

"Illegal Practices Committed by Majority" —The Liquor Act Almost a Dead Letter —Morreault's Agency and Courage Acts—Quebec Lawyer Was Paid For and by the Respondent —Judgment.

Toronto, March 4—A. Miscampbell, Conservative member of the Legislature of Sault Ste. Marie, who was elected by 198 majority, has been unseated by the election court for bribery by an agent. As a result, the standing of the parties in the House is now: Government 88, Opposition 44, with the vacancies in Sault Ste. Marie and North Renfrew to be filled. The election court has not yet given judgment on the petition against Dr. Routledge, Liberal, East Middlesex, and the Court of Appeal has still to deliver judgment in the South Oxford case on the petition against Donald Sutherland, Opposition, and in the Lennox case on the petition against T. G. Carscallen, Opposition.

Mr. Miscampbell was elected in the last provincial elections by a majority of 198, and the opposite party immediately filed a petition based on 90 or more specific charges of corrupt practices, about 80 of which were not proven or considered trifling.

Agency was alleged and proven in 12 instances, in which Morreault, a lawyer from Montreal, was the principal performer. Morreault received for his "services" the sum of $325, which item did not appear in the election accounts of the Conservative candidate. This money appears to have added its quota to the "gaiety of natives" in general and that of the French-speaking portion of Sault Ste. Marie in particular.

The bribery of one Clouthier was not sufficiently proven and was, consequently, dismissed.

That Roy was bribed was shown beyond a doubt, and in reference to this case His Lordship said: "Upon the evidence, which I accept on charges Nos. 22 and 25, I feel that it would be most unsafe to regard the payment (by Morreault to Roy) as other than a payment made in pursuance of a corrupt promise. It is quite probable that Morreault did not appreciate the full effect of what he was doing. I think that is very likely the case. I am not, however, to be considered as acting upon a formula or applying one to the evidence, when I say that it is easy to see that if a promise and payment, made under such circumstances as are here proved, are not to be regarded as corrupt, a very plain door is opened for the commission of practices, to escape from the consequences of which the parties would have merely to say that they did not intend to do them corruptly."

Charge No. 34, which alleged payment by Morreault to Daigle of living expenses while working for him, was proven.

The old question of livery rigs also came up for discussion, and Judge Osler strongly urged the passing of a law containing provisions similar to those contained in the Imperial Act, prohibiting the "letting, lending or employing by any person of public conveyances," or of any carriage or horse kept for public hire.

"In the result the election ought, in my opinion, to be set aside. The case is not one in which the saving clause, Section 172 of the Election Act, can be properly acted on.

The acts of bribery proved, and the illegal practices connected with the employment of Morreault, ought, I think, to override any majority."

The manner in which the Liquor License Act was enforced in Sault Ste. Marie was severely censured by His Lordship.

In view of the number of charges proven and disproven, no costs were allowed either party.

Morreault, Roy, Delargey and Daigle are to be reported for their connection with the matter.

No Danger.

Prof. W. Hodgson Ellis, Official Analyst to the Dominion Government, has proved by analysis that "Sunlight Soap is a pure and well-"made soap, and has a thorough "cleansing power, without danger to "the clothing or skin."

Clothing is worn more in the wash than in use where common soaps are used, and the hands are liable to eczema. Try Sunlight Soap—Octagon Bar—next wash day, and you will see Prof. Ellis is right. No one should know better than he. 222

Many women and doctors do not recognize the real symptoms of deranegement of the female organs until too late.

"I had terrible pains along my spinal cord for two years and suffered dreadfully. I was given different medicines, wore plasters; none of these things helped me. Reading of the cures that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had brought about, I somehow felt that it was what I needed and bought a bottle to take. How glad I am that I did so; two bottles brought me immense relief, and after using three bottles more I felt new life and blood surging through my veins. It seemed as though there had been a regular house cleaning through my system, that all the sickness and poison had been taken out and new life given me instead. I have advised dozens of my friends to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Good health is indispensable to complete happiness, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has secured this to me." —MRS. LAURA L. BEEMER, Crown Point, Indiana, Secretary Ladies Relief Corps. — $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Every sick woman who does not understand her ailment should write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION

Success of Sugar Industry Depends Upon Supply of Beets.

Capitalists Cannot be Expected to Invest Funds in it Without Sufficient Acreage.

The Business Men's Association of Marine City, Mich., set an example of enterprise in its method of assisting the beet sugar factory in that town in its efforts to secure acreage for the coming campaign, which the business men in other localities, where factories have been established, would do well to emulate.

Every business man knows that the success of a beet sugar factory depends upon the acquisition of an adequate beet supply. And no one, with any knowledge of the subject, can possibly be blind to the great benefits enjoyed by every community in which a beet sugar factory is being successfully operated.

Realizing these undeniable benefits, the association above referred to has called quite a number of meeting in various sections adjacent to the Marine Sugar Company's beet sugar factory. The thoughtful speeches made by practical citizens at these meetings and the discussions which followed the speeches have been productive of increased interest in the question of raising sugar beets, that will undoubtedly result in educating the people in general, as well as the farmers, to the full comprehension of the necessity of co-operating with the factory management in every possible way that tends to ensure success.

The larger the acreage obtained by a beet sugar factory, the greater will be the amount paid out for beats to the growers, and the more money will be brought into the community by the sale of the sugar produced. Never before has the population in and around Marine City realised these facts as forcibly as to-day, and the credit for this awakening is due to the Business Men's Association.

Capitalists cannot be expected to invest their funds in beet sugar enterprises unless they are encouraged to do so by the intelligent support of the people, who will undoubtedly receive the greatest benefit from an investment of such a nature.

All business men, farmers, mechanics and labourers should units in the effort to secure for the beet sugar factory in their town a sufficient acreage of beets to make the operation of the factory profitable and successful in every way.

The development of the beet sugar industry in general can be hastened, and the benefits of each community in particular can be augmented by the combined efforts of all concerned.— Beet Sugar Gazette, Feb. 20th, 1903.

AN INTERNATIONAL MATCH

How the Irishmen Defeated the Englishmen.

A Great Game in the Old Country—Mr. Belcher Sends a Paper Home.

The Examiner has to thank Mr. S. H. Belcher for a copy of the Irish Independent, of Dublin, containing a three column write-up of the grand International Match between England and Ireland for the championship of the two countries. The game resulted in a victory for the Irishmen. The report is a most excellent one, being very descriptive. The following is an extract from it:

Half an hour before the starting time everybody who could boast of any football enthusiasm was on the ground, and previously all the roads leading to the sporting venue were congested with cars and vehicles of all sorts, going or returning from the scene. It was a happy harvest day for the jarvies, who made the most of their opportunities. Country visitors were brought into the city, from north and south by special and ordinary trains, and were picked up for the final stage of transit with a willingness which was worthy of the city that beats the world in its vehicular accommodation. At last the vigil of the early comers was coming to a close, and at ten past three busy signs of the coming struggle were visible. Spectators in the reserved area had encroached within the rails, and numbers of improvised seats had to be provided for last arrivals. For a great many who had to be content with a back row it was a ceaseless effort to see through other more advantageously placed neighbours. Good humour, however, was as plentiful as the spectators themselves, and a better conducted crowd at an "international" it would be hard to find. The absence of a familiar vegetable in common evidence last year was commented on, and it did not seem as if the want of it loosened the cordiality with which both the competing teams were regarded by the company present. Punctual to time the English team led the way onto the field to the strains of "Hearts of Oak" from the band, their reception being a very enthusiastic one, as their progress to the field had also been from the Metropole Hotel, where they stayed overnight. The Irishmen, who had assembled at the Central, also came in for their share of demonstration as they came on the field, the band playing "St. Patrick's Day." All preliminaries, including the essential one of photographing having been gone through, Ireland won the toss and England kicked off towards the railway goal, with the wind slightly against them. Interest was at once at fever heat, as the Irishmen invaded, but soon the scene changed, and there was an anxious 20 minutes, during which the ball remained most of the time in Irish territory. However, just as the close of the first twenty-five minutes, Corley kicked a magnificent goal, which was followed in a minute afterwards by a try gained by M. Ryan. So matters remained when half-time sounded, and there was time to discuss the play while those chiefly concerned took opportunity to recover their breath. It now looked a good thing for an Irish victory, but there were some pessimists who said that England would do great things in the second half with the wind, such as it was, in their favour. The Irishmen with six points in their favour to nothing against them re-started the ball after the interval. With enthusiasm in their general attack, the ball was soon pressed into their opponents' ground, and showing plenty of nerve, they were met in a similar spirit by the English team. Time and again one of the Irish forwards would get away with the ball, but play was so close that he had scarcely time to know he had it until he was collared and reduced to a horizontal position. The wind now favoured the Englishmen, but attack and reply were so determined and close that the ball was scarcely ever allowed to rise. So the struggle went on determinedly for ten minutes. There was no flagging, as is sometimes the case as the end of a big contest approaches. Both sides played for all they were worth, and both showed unmistakable grit. Fifteen minutes from the finish Ireland were again put on the defensive, but their combination was excellent, and Fulton, when occasion called for, was always reliable. Entering the last ten minutes Ireland again invaded, and the struggle lay within the English quarter way. Play continued with sustained energy, and nearing the end England got the last chance, but were unable to make anything of it. The ball was in their ground within the last few minutes of play, and any possibilities of their scoring were wasted by delays caused by accidents. The whistle sounded with the ball in Irish territory, and the verdict was accepted very much as a matter of course, neither side having scored in the last half. The Irish team had the best of the game all through, and while the score hardly represents the relative merits of the teams, yet the winning score was built up by splendid combination and a vigour and staying power on he part of the Irish fifteen which the Englishmen were only able to resist furtively. They had, however, done their best, and Ireland had lessened the odds against her in the record of International victories.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of Bertha Laurie, Who Died February the 19th 1903.

Within the pearly gates of Heaven's bright mansions,
Where matchless glory burst upon her sight,
Our dear one's gone to dwell for aye with Jesus,
To praise Him day and night.

Away from all earth and turmoil, God has called her,
To feast upon the pleasures long foretold;
To taste the glories that await the blessed,
And walk the streets of gold.

Forever faithful to the call of duty,
She lived a life unselfish to the end,
Beloved by all, she will not be forgotten,
By those who called her friend.

How fast the years have flown while she was with us,
We watched her growing like some beauteous flower,
Too pure for earth she grew, and then the Master
Claimed her for Eden's bowers.

Our home is lonely, and such bitter yearning
Comes over us when looking o'er the past,
Life seems to stretch out dark and drear before us,
Clouds o'er our path are cast.

Oh, may the memory of the face that's vanished,
Still help to cheer us on our homeward way;
And may we trust in Christ our blessed Saviour
To lead us day by day.

And beyond the chrystal river, Bertha's waiting
To welcome us to that bright home above,
In Heaven above we all shall be united,
By Jesus and His love.

Then let us listen to the voice now speaking,
'Tis Jesus and he bids us not despair
He says, "I love you still with love unchanging
I all your grief doth share."

And when the mists, and clouds, that mar our vision
Shall all have passed beyond the stage of time,
Then we shall see as we are seen—in glory
And sing the song sublime.

M. C. H.

Otonabee, March 13th, 1903.

LIFE'S LITTLE ILLS

Are the Ones Which Cause the Greatest Amount of Suffering.

It is every day ills that distress most—those which seize you suddenly and make you irritable, impatient and fault-finding. The root of these troubles lies in the blood and nerves, and you cannot get rid of them until the blood has been made rich and pure, and the nerves strengthened and soothed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this, and will do it more speedily and with more lasting results than any other medicine. In proof of this Mrs. James Patterson, Chilliwack, B.C., says: "My daughter was in poor health, and her system badly run down. She was pale, suffered from severe headaches, and very nervous. We decided to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using six boxes, she is a strong, healthy girl. I gladly recommend the pills in similar cases."

These pills cure all blood and nerve troubles, such as anaemia, neuralgia, indigestion, heart trouble, rheumatism, St. Vitus' dance, partial paralysis, kidney troubles and the weaknesses which afflict women. Be sure you get the genuine pills with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," printed on the wrapper around the box. If in doubt, send direct to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be mailed, post paid, at 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS.

Big Sealing Steamer to Be Got to Rescue the Minto.

Ottawa, March 3.—Very serious news was received at the Department of Marine and Fisheries to-day respecting the situation of the two ice-bound steamers in the Strait of Northumberland, between Prince Edward Island and the Nova Scotia coast. A telegram from the departmental agent at Charlottetown, P.E.I., to Lieut.-Col. Gourdeau, the Deputy Minister, announced that the Minto, which had been trying to effect the release of the ice-imprisoned steamer Stanley, had herself become disabled, and, with every blade of her propeller broken, was drifting helplessly seaward off the coast of Antigonish, N.S. The situation is so serious that the department will probably have to wire to St. John's, Nfld., to secure the services of one of the big sealing steamers to rescue the Minto. This succor may be difficult to obtain, too, as the Newfoundland sealing fleet leaves for the spring operations on March 10.

ANOTHER C. P. R. STRIKE.

Audit Office Hands Gave a Great Surprise to the Management on Tuesday Morning—Other Strike News.

Montreal, March 4.—The Canadian Pacific Railway has got another strike on its hands. Four hundred men in the audit office in Montreal went out on strike yesterday morning. The move was a great surprise to the management, as it was not thought these men were organized, although their unanimity of acting leads to the belief that there must be some organization among them. The question of wages is of course the cause of the strike.

Striker Fined at Whitby.

Whitby, March 4.—Frank Smith, an 18-year-old striking employe of the McLaughlin Carriage Co., Oshawa, was tried here yesterday before Judge McCrimmon. The charge against the prisoner was of intimidating in his attempts to induce two of the non-strikers to quit work. The prisoner was found guilty. It being his first offence and his youth influenced the judge, and he imposed a fine of $20 and costs.

A Small-Sized Riot.

Oshawa, March 4.—The attempt of the McLaughlins to import four men to their shops Monday from Belleville resulted in a small-sized riot. The chief of police, with special constables, dispersed the mob, but the strikers secured two of the importations. The other two went to the factory in charge of two of the company's foremen. As a result of the trouble, information has been laid against seven of the ringleaders, who will appear to-day before Police Magistrate Murton.

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto * * The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $300,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $12,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

ANAEMIA Poverty of the Blood

An ailment that threatens the very life of many thousands of women, both young and old. They become pale, weak and languid and gradually, but certainly

Flesh and Tissue Wastes Away

When you cut a finger or get a scratch or tear on the skin, is the wound slow to heal? Are your gums, lips and eyelids pale, as though the blood had gone out of them? Then your blood is thin and watery. It is lacking in red corpuscles—the life giving, tissue building element of the blood. You cannot endure much exertion without feeling weak and tired out. Your appetite is deficient and digestion impaired; your breathing is short and quick and you become nervous and irritable. Irregularities and weaknesses of the reproductive organs also frequently result from poorness of blood or anæmia.

MISS CAREY

There is one way, and one only, in which anæmia can be cured, and that is by increasing the number of red corpuscles in the blood, or in other words, by instilling into the blood the vital energy which is required to build new cells, construct new tissues, and repair the waste of living. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food accomplishes this result as no other preparation, ancient or modern, was ever known to do. It is not claimed that this food cure will do any other thing than create new red corpuscles in the blood, but in doing this it is a positive, thorough and lasting cure for the most difficult diseases that have ever come to the attention of the physicians.

After all, it is the blood that carries life to the organs, repairs the waste and supplies the motive power for the machinery of the body, and when the blood gets pale, weak and watery, external assistance must be sought. The most potent restoratives of nature are happily combined in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so as to make it the greatest blood and nerve revitalizer that the world has ever known. You cannot possibly be disappointed in this great modern treatment. Gradually and thoroughly it replenishes the shrivelled arteries and restores vigor, energy and health to weak, worn and sick bodies.

Miss Lizzie B. Carey, 15 Foster Street, Chatham, Ont., states:—"I was all run down in health, my blood seemed to be thin and watery, and at times I scarcely had strength enough to get around. Since using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food my condition is altogether changed and my health very much improved. Though I was formerly quite pale I find the color is returning to my face. I am strong and healthy and in fact feel better than I have for years."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

By noting your increase in weight while using this great treatment you can prove for a certainty that new firm flesh and tissue is being added. No restorative was ever put to a more severe test. 50c. a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

UP IN NORTH ONTARIO

Mr. G. D. Grant, Liberal, and Hon. G. E. Foster, Conservative.

THE MEETING AT BEAVERTON.

Hon. Mr. Paterson, Minister of Customs, and Conservative Leader Borden Speak—The Prosperity of Canada and the Tariff Question—Mr. Grant, the Liberal Candidate, Makes an Excellent Argument.

Beaverton, March 4.—The nominations for the bye-election in North Ontario were held here yesterday before an exceedingly large but orderly and good-natured gathering of the electors. Owing to his illness, Hon. Geo. E. Foster, the Conservative candidate, was not present, but he was represented by Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition. Hon. Wm. Paterson, Minister of Customs, spoke on behalf of Mr. George D Grant, the Liberal candidate, but the feature of the nomination was Mr. Grant's remarkably able, bright and well-delivered address. Dr. Gillespie and Mr. Hoyle, the Local member for the riding, also spoke in Mr. Foster's interest.

Mr. Foster's Illness.

Dr. Gillespie, in opening the meeting, explained Mr. Foster's absence from the meeting. Mr. Foster, he said, was on a bed of sickness, unable to leave his bed, and he had sent his greetings to the Conservatives and his other friends in the riding. He also contradicted the reports circulated through the riding that Mr. Foster had been foisted on the Conservatives of the constituency. Mr. Foster was the unanimous choice of the Conservative convention, and the Conservatives would not permit any outside influence to foist a candidate on them.

Hon. William Paterson.

Hon. Wm. Paterson opened his address with a reference to the sad death of Mr. McLeod. The election of a representative was a business question, and in it there was room for honest differences of opinion. There had been a Liberal Government for six years and a Conservative Government for eighteen years before that. If the Liberals had a record like that of the Conservatives he could not enumerate all their faults in forty-five minutes. It was said that Mr. Borden required more help to watch the Liberals; but the Liberals did not need watching; they watched themselves. Trained in Opposition for eighteen years, they had learned to know when the other fellows went wrong, and so now could avoid doing wrong themselves. He pointed to the inconsistency of the Conservatives' position in regard to the Liberal tariff.

Charge of Extravagance.

In reference to the charge that the Liberals are spending more money than the amount which under Conservative rule they said was excessive, Mr. Paterson pointed out that what the Liberals objected to was that the Conservatives were spending more than their income. To-day the Liberals had millions and millions of a surplus, while the Conservatives had had deficits. Circumstances had wholly changed. They could measure the change by the trade of the country. There was not a Canadian present who did not feel his breast swelling with pride as he compared Canada to-day with Canada of six years ago. (Applause.) They had a country they might be proud of. No other nation could show a record of progress like that of Canada in the past few years. During the eighteen years of Conservative rule the foreign trade of Canada increased $66,000,000. If in the six years of Liberal rule our trade had increased the same amount it would have been something for the Administration to feel proud of. It had increased three times that much, $184,000,000 in the six years. The question then arose, was trade a good thing?

Restriction of Trade.

The Conservatives' view was to restrict trade. They said "Canada for the Canadians: restrict the trade of Canada within the bounds of Canada." "I want the trade of Canada for Canadians," Mr. Paterson continued, "but I want the trade of other nations for Canadians as well as that of Canada alone. Is it a bad thing to have trade? Who ever objects to trade? Do any of your merchants ever advertise to say, 'I want to confine my trade within the family circle; I am going to buy and sell only to my uncles and aunts and nieces?' No, they do not confine it to Beaverton, but they post their bills on the fences and on the barns in neighboring townships, and they advertise in the papers to circulate everywhere the inducements they have to offer. Why? because they want more trade. Why more trade? Because the more you trade the richer you become, and you and I are trading every day. What for? Not for the fun of the thing, but for the benefit of each one of us. The policy of restriction of trade cannot be a good thing, and if I understand these gentlemen, they propose to restrict trade."

The Conservatives admitted that Canada was enjoying good times. Mr. Paterson, to emphasize the progress that Canada has made, compared her foreign trade with that of the United States when the population of the republic was 28,000,000. With that population the American foreign trade was $320,000,000. Last year with a population of 5,500,000, Canada had a foreign trade of $420,000,000. Mr. Paterson dealt with the question of the national debt, and showed that the Liberals have reduced the average rate of customs duties by 12½ per cent.

Dr. Gillespie had suggested that there were dissensions in the Liberal Government, and in emphatically denying this Mr. Paterson recalled the history of the bolt of 1896.

The Conservative Leader.

Mr. Borden said he always admired Mr. Paterson for being so cock sure that he is right, because whatever doubt he may have on the fiscal policy of the government he is always sure that he ought to be in power. The speaker adverted to the death of the late Angus McLeod and had a good word for his friend, Mr. Foster, than whom there was no man more competent to discuss public questions. He had no word of depreciation for Mr. Grant, but North Ontario owed it to herself and the country to send Mr. Foster to parliament. There could be no danger to the Liberal party in the election of Mr. Foster, for the government had a majority of 45 or 50, and it was in the interests of the country that there should be a strong and vigorous opposition. The government is sometimes saved from the more sordid elements of the government by the watchfulness of a strong opposition. Mr. Foster is a strong and vigorous debater, an experienced financier, and his election would be a benefit to the country at large.

The Conservative leader expressed a desire to know whether the prosperity enjoyed by the country was in any way the result of the Liberal party coming into power in 1896. John Charlton, in 1900, had expressed the opinion that the government was fortunate in assuming power on the eve of an era of general prosperity.

In conclusion Mr. Borden appealed to the Liberals to assist in sending to Ottawa Mr. Foster, a man against whom the finger of suspicion could not be pointed.

The Liberal Candidate.

Mr. Grant, who was received with very hearty cheers, opened his address by referring to Mr. Foster's illness, which he deeply regretted. Campaigning in North Ontario, which was bounded by Lake Scugog on the south and fringed upon the Arctic seas on the north, had proved too much for Mr. Foster. He regretted his absence all the more, as it was not so much honor to defeat a sick man. They of North Ontario were very pleased to extend for the first time a welcome to the hon. gentleman from Nova Scotia, who was there to assist his late colleague from New Brunswick to capture the riding of North Ontario. They would entertain these gentlemen with their usual hospitality, and on the 10th of March they would very politely give them return tickets back to the sounding sea. Mr. Grant made a somewhat feeling reference to the gerrymander of the constituency.

Mr. Grant spoke of Mr. Borden's reference to "adequate protection" as "the nicest piece of fancy skating around a hole in the ice I ever saw," and proceeded to combat Mr. Foster's advocacy of a return to high protective duties. In speaking of the prosperity of the country, he referred to a pamphlet issued by a western American railway company, called, "Saved from the clutches of the King," an appeal to the prejudices of the Americans to try and check the exodus into the Canadian west. In answer to Mr. Borden's argument, he said that proportionately Canada's increase in trade far outranked that of any other country on the earth. He strongly opposed Government grants to railroads, except for purely colonization purposes, and then the Government should become owners of the road to the extent of the aid given.

Mr. W. H. Hoyle, M.P.P., in the course of a twenty-five minute speech, said that a good example of adequate protection was the duty of 25 or 27½ per cent. on biscuits.

The meeting broke up with cheers for everybody concerned.

Lieut. Hale Chosen.

Pembroke, March 4.—Lieut. Lorne Hale, a wealthy young lumberman of Pembroke, was the unanimous choice of a convention of North Renfrew Liberals held here yesterday. The hall was crowded. Speeches were delivered by the candidate, Mr. Hale, George P. Graham, M.P.P., of Brockville, and others.

WITHIN SIXTY DAYS.

Ratifications of the Alaskan Boundary Treaty Exchanged in Washington.

Washington, March 4.—Secretary Hay and Sir Michael Herbert yesterday exchanged ratifications of the Alaskan boundary treaty. The preparation of the cases of the two sides will proceed with all speed, as, under the treaty, they must be submitted to the arbitrators within sixty days.

The treaty provided that these ratifications might be exchanged, either here or in London, but it was decided to complete the treaty in Washington to save time. It will require the greatest effort on the part of the United States Government to have its case ready within the appointed time. The Washington Government has come into possession in recent years of a vast amount of data touching this controversy, which, to be of use, must be thoroughly studied. Secretary Hay has placed this work on the shoulders of ex-Secretary John W. Foster, assisted by Mr. Lansing. Owing to the magnitude of the task it is doubtful, however, if they can be ready within the specified time.

Now that the ratifications have been exchanged, it is understood the personnel of the American commissioners will be formally announced. It is known unofficially that they will be Secretary Root, Senator Lodge and Senator Turner.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Big Deputation, Irrespective of Party, Go From Port Hope to Ottawa For the Outlet.

Port Hope, March 4.—When the Dominion Parliament goes into session this spring the Hon. A. G. Blair will be waited upon by one of the strongest deputations that ever went to Ottawa from this riding. They are going to try and convince him that Port Hope is the proper and most natural outlet of the Trent Valley Canal. Politics is an unconsidered matter in this affair.

The present plans are for an outlet at Trenton, but Port Hope's claims must be seriously considered before the final arrangements are made.

By the Trenton route, which follows the Trent River nearly all the way from Rice Lake there would be a great deal of cutting, mostly through rock, which would require blasting and take several months longer than the Port Hope route, which is [illegible] all clay cutting. The route by Trenton is 58½ miles from the mouth of the Otonabee, while the Port Hope route is only 19½ miles. There is a natural valley from Port Hope to Rice Lake, which is only a distance of 10 miles, and there is only one height of land that would require much cutting.

Mr. Rogers, the Government engineer, made a survey of the two routes, and estimated that the Port Hope route would be cheaper by $1,287,302, but both the town committee and Mr. Blair thought that he had not given justice, and now an independent surveyor is to go over the both routes and report.

Twenty-three years ago the Port Hope Times, then in its first year as a daily, advocated this route, and Sir Charles Tupper, then Minister of Railways and Canals, delayed the inauguration of the Trent Valley Canal for a year to look into the arguments pro and con. The late Col. Williams, M.P., was not, however strong enough, even backed by The Times' unanswerable arguments now again revived, to overcome the influence of the then seven members of Parliament whose constituencies would be served by the Trenton route.

THE FEAR OF HUMBUG

Prevents Many People From Trying a Good Medicine.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure, that most people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made of a preparation so reliable, and so universally used, as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines, for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine; no secret is made of their ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aseptic pepsin, the digestive acids, Golden Seal, Bismuth, Hydrastis and Nux. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles, because they act entirely on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison, as it creates gas, acidity, headaches, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh, and appetite and many other troubles, which are often called by some other name.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

DUSTY WON FROM JACKSON.

Last Night at the Brock Street Rink.

Genno Gave an Exhibition of Barrel Jumping—Good Attendance.

Considerable excitement prevailed in local sporting circles last night, for not only was it the occasion for the match between the Review and the Examiner, but it was also the date fixed for the skating match between Oliver Dusty and Walter Jackson and several other items of interest to lovers of good skating.

In the first heat of the race between Dusty and Jackson, the latter started ahead, closely followed by Dusty, who apparently was the favourite with the majority of the spectators. When half way around the seventh lap Dusty darted in front of his opponent and continued to increase the distance apart, until he had skated a course of 1689 yards in three minutes and 15 seconds, coming in half a lap ahead of Jackson.

In the second heat Dusty took the lead, until at the end of 3 minutes and 17 seconds he had skated over the same course and came in three-quarters of a lap ahead of his rival.

The second matched race was between Norman Dusty, H. O'Leary and C. Waller, who went in merely to make up the race and dropped out in the seventh round. In the first heat of this race O'Leary took the lead, Dusty closing pursuing him; but in the third lap Dusty and O'Leary changed places, and kept in that order until the twelfth lap, when Dusty fell just as O'Leary was passing him, and the latter skated the course in 3 minutes and 36 seconds.

In the second heat Waller took the lead, but O'Leary skated into the first place during the fourth lap. At the fifth lap Waller fell out, and at the eighth O'Leary was half a lap ahead of his opponent, and at the finish Dusty was defeated by fully three-quarters of a lap, the time being 3 minutes and 45 seconds.

The judges for the races were Messrs. M. Tooley, W. Breene, and E. Hartley, while Sam Ray officiated as starter.

After the matched racing had been concluded, Mr. W. E. Genno, of Copper Cliff gave a wonderful exhibition of barrel jumping on skates. Mr. Genno, with marvellous facility, performed the following feats:—Eight barrels forward, 4 barrels backward, 5 barrels on one foot forward, 3 barrels backward on one foot, 8 barrels hurdle jumping on one foot, and also over two chairs three barrels, two boxes and three boys. Mr. Genno gave a similar exhibition some weeks ago, and many who saw him before came the second time to view what really was a most marvellous exhibition.

The notices advertised the band to be present but the latter did not put in an appearance, to the disappointment of many.

CHILDREN HANDED OVER

To the Care of the Children's Aid Society.

A Startling Case in Township of Anstruther That has Been Investigated.

At the County Police Court yesterday afternoon, the Children's Aid Society brought up two boys before Judge Edmison. The boys, who came from Anstruther, were charged with theft, but Mr. Cochrane, the agent of the Children's Aid Society, said he had visited the home of the two lads, and was fully satisfied no care had been taken in their welfare. The boys, who for two weeks have been kept at the Children's Shelter admitted the theft, but in answer to a question put by the County Police Magistrate, said that they would prefer to remain at the Children's Shelter rather than go home. The children were then formally handed over to the Children's Aid Society.

Mr. Houlding, the step father of the two lads, made the startling statement his boys were the best looked after children in the township of Anstruther. It transpires there is another boy in the family of about ten years of age, who suffers from epilepsy. The Court wondered how this child can be properly looked after in a dwelling, if it can be so termed, where the children have no bedstead, and are made to sleep on a heap of dirty, filthy clothes, where any respectable man would not send his dog. It was thought that surely a child suffering from epilepsy in a township like Anstruther, where no attendance can be had, is being slowly murdered. Another instance of the ignorance and carelessness of the parents is shown in driving all night in an open vehicle with a baby of eight months old in its mother's arms. It was scarcely any wonder the children were glad to get away from two such parents.

BANKERS ELECTED TO OFFICE.

Mr. Hughes-Charles, President Board of Trade.

R. M. HAMILTON, VICE-PRES.

Mr. Peter Campbell Will Look After Finances.

Mr. D. W. Dumble, the Retiring President, Gave a Splendid Address—Beet Sugar Question Again.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Board of Trade was held in the Town Council Chamber last night. Officers were elected for the ensuing year, but the feature of the meeting was, perhaps, the eloquent and inspiring address of the retiring president, Mr. D. W. Dumble.

The following members were in attendance: Messrs. D. W. Dumble, President, T. Q. Quartermaine, secretary, E. J. Toker, R. M. Hamilton, J. H. Burnham, D. Hughes-Charkles, T. A. S. Hay, Dr. Jeffs, Peter Campbell, A. H. Stratton, T. E. Bradburn, W. H. Meldrum and G. K. Martin.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

A letter was read from Mr. L. K. Jones, of the Department of Railways and Canals, acknowledging the receipt of a memorial re the early completion of the Trent Valley Canal.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The president of the Board Mr. D. W. Dumble, addressed the Board, as follows:

The year just closed has been for the entire country and for our town a year of great prosperity. An abundant harvest, large production of dairy products, large hog production and ready sale for all that the farmer raises, have ensured unexampled prosperity.

Peterborough has had one of her best years. There has been employment at good wages for all classes of labour, and the new industries have increased the demand to such an extent that there has been a large influx of people, thus adding largely to the population, and, as an immediate result, rents have so increased as to ensure reasonable returns to the landlords, who heretofore got but scanty returns from their houses.

More house property has changed hands in the last twelve months than for many previous years, one broker alone having sold ninety houses. These have been bought by people, who find it advantageous to own their own houses rather than to pay rent.

The ownership of homes by the people has many advantages. It makes them industrious and saving — it makes better citizens and cultivates loyalty to the town, and fixes people to the country, which is good for the people and good for the country.

The citizens are to be congratulated on the establishment here of the magnificent Cereal Works, which, though only in part complete, and in partial operation, have 450 employees on their pay roll.

Their market for coarse grain has been a great benefit to the farmers, who during this winter have up to date, marketed with them 300,000 bushels of oats.

The work now being prosecuted by the Cereal Company on the river, will result in the construction of the finest dam in the Dominion, and will secure for the company between 5,000 and 6,000 available horse power.

We understand it is the purpose of the company to make large extensions to their buildings during the coming summer, and on the completion of their dam they will put the entire factory in operation, thus more than doubling their employees and output.

The Canadian General Electric Co. find their already extensive shops too small, and plans are already perfected for the immediate construction of new shops, which will double their capacity and double their working force.

The contemplated Beet Sugar Factory is sure to come in good time. Peterborough has all the conditions to make such an industry a success, so far as soil, rail and water facilities are concerned, but there are some problems in connection with such an enterprise which are not yet fully determined, and as there are four factories now in operation, a delay of a year to enable them to settle these problems will enable Peterborough to encourage the enterprise without the risk of experimenting.

We also congratulate the town on the completion of the Cordage Works, now in successful operation, and employing 120 hands, and which promises in the near future much extensive employment of labour.

ABOUT 3,500 AT WORK.

All our manufacturing establishments are working up to their full capacity, employing in all about 2,500 hands.

It is hoped that the Burleigh Power will soon be developed and brought to town, this and the various powers at Peterborough and between Peterborough and Lakefield combined will give about 20,000 horse power which which will be available for use in Peterborough. Their full use means great growth of industries and of population.

The Trent Canal, when opened, will afford a great through route for the Western grain and for return cargoes from the East, besides an important and cheap trade route for domestic trade.

The Board regrets that Port Hope re-opens the agitation for the construction of the canal from Rice Lake to Lake Ontario, via Port Hope. The Engineer Baird, who made the original surveys and others have all reported in favour of the Trenton route for the reason that the lockage is the same, the outlet, Trenton, is 50 miles nearer Montreal than Port Hope, is much nearer Oswego, from whence coal is shipped, than Port Hope, and, most of all, is on protested waters and not on the open lake which is impracticable for barges. So far as Peterborough is concerned it is a matter of indifference whether the canal goes by Port Hope or Trenton, but the people of Peterborough cannot ignore their judgment which wholly condemns the Port Hope route as impracticable. Port Hope agitation can only result in excuses for delay on the part of the Government, and hence is not graciously considered here. The time is come when municipal problems affecting Peterborough cannot be properly dealt with unless there is amalgamation with Ashburnham. Systems of water supply, lighting, fire protection, drainage and street railways must take in both sides of the Otonabee. A river is no natural barrier to justify separation. Union, which is admitted as inevitable, must come sooner or later—and, if so, the sooner the better, as all financial problems can be now the easier solved. If there is union and a city, let it be Peterborough. It is an honourable name with a good record, without a stain, and no good cause can be assigned for dropping it. St. Petersburgh was named after that boor, Peter the Great, but there were other and better Peters, and for our patron and we can take our choice. Then let it be,

PETERBOROUGH, FOREVER.

It is a matter of congratulation that the Dickson Company are building a new mill. It will enable our builders to get lumber at home and it will continue to furnish firewood at reasonable rates, and will give employment to labour. That some annoyances will result from the booming of logs on the lake is inevitable, but navigation will not be interfered with, and to look for industrial development without some inconveniences is unreasonable. Factories and Aesthetic conditions are not concomitant, if we strive for the one we must suffer the impairment of the other.

The development of trade in Petmay be exemplified by the following figures:—

Customs receipts — 1897-8, $74,016; 1898-9 $87,082; 1899-1900, $122,496; 1901-2, $147,393; 1902, half year, $93,-980.

Post Office receipts—1872, $5,983; 1882, $11,230; 1892, $15,393; 1902 (reduced postage) $21,427.

These figures speak for themselves, and show a great increase of trade which it is hoped will be continuous.

The manufacturing extensions now in sight mean increased population. A serious problem confronts us — Where are the houses for the new comers? Every house in town is full. The land agents between them have not half a dozen houses for rent. People must have comfortable homes, yet labour and materials are so dear that decent houses cannot be built to rent at such rates as the people can pay. If artisans would buy vacant lots and build modest houses, putting much of their own labour in them, many could thus secure homes who could not pay outright.

Terraces are the cheapest structures but they should be built warm so as to save plumbing from freezing, rows of outside middies are neither decent nor healthy. This problem deserves careful consideration.

In conclusion I cannot refrain from referring to the new feeling of patriotic citizenship which warms the breast of all Canadians, more than ever before we realize that as Canadians we are citizens of no mean Empire, and as we see our land developing as a God Blessed Country and home for millions, we realize that right at home in Canada we have all conditions to employ our best energies to build up a virile race. Let us then in virtue equal our manhood, let us fear God and honour the King.

Respectfully submitted,

D. W. DUMBLE,
President.

The report of the president was received with applause.

Mr. E. J. Toker asked if the Board was supposed to endorse the address of the president. If that was the case he might say that there were some matters in it with which he could not agree.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum moved the adoption of the President's report.

Mr. Toker said that he did not want to go on record as being entirely in accord with several paragraphs of the report. For instance, he thought it a pity that the Little Lake should be used as a log pond. It may not really hinder navigation, but we should hardly express our approval of the new mill scheme at that point. Perhaps we could not help it, but he thought that a sawmill should be established at some point where it would not be such an eyesore.

He also differed with the President in regard to the matter of defering action on the Sugar Beet question for a period of 2 years. Are we to wait until all the small villages in the country had experimented on the matter? He understood that a committee of the Council was now considering the matter and it would not be well to have an adverse opinion expressed by the Board regarding the question just now.

Mr. Dumble explained that it was inevitable that there must be some inconvenience on the lake. He did not say, however, that there was nothing to prevent the Dominion Government from making any sawmill company keep within its rights. As to the sugar beet question he did not want the town to grant $50,000 to a concern which the best experts in the country admit its success is in doubt. He was expressing his own opinion in the matter.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn claimed that the beet sugar industry is not in its experimental state, as Mr. Dumble would, the speaker alleged, have them believe. He contended that there would be nothing at all gained by waiting a year, and went on to show how that by asking a farmer to handle only a few acres of beets he will have no difficulty in making a success of the matter. He declared that the labour question would not enter into the matter at all.

Mr. Dumble thought that if the company would go ahead and erect their factory, and then come to the farmers, the latter would enter into the culture of the beets with a greater degree of earnestness.

Mr. Bradburn interrupted the President to ask if he had seen the contracts the farmers were asked to sign? He declared that Mr. Dumble had made a statement which he could not prove.

Mr. Dumble said that he was drawing his conclusions from what he had read and seen. He had not seen the contracts.

The report was neither adopted nor rejected.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

The report of the Treasurer, Mr. Robert Fair, was read showing the total receipts to have been $413.34, total expenditures $134.66, thus leaving a balance to the good of $278.68. This report was adopted as read.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—D. Hughes-Charles.
Vice-President—R. M. Hamilton.
Treasurer—Peter Campbell.
Secretary—T. Q. Quartermaine.

It looked as though it was going to be a 'Bankers' Association, when the first three offices went to bankers.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn desired to see the pace kept up, and moved that Mr. John Crane be secretary. His motion was seconded by Mr. A. H. Stratton.

Mr. J. H. Burnham contended that it would be an act of injustice to Mr. Quartermaine to turn him down, when he had done nothing to merit such action. He had therefore much pleasure in nominating Mr. Quartermaine for the office of secretary.

Mr. Quartermaine was re-elected.

Mr. Hughes-Charles' nomination was moved by Mr. J. H. Burnham, who said that he understood that Mr. Dumble, who had so ably filled the office of president, desired to retire from the position. Mr. Burnham made a glowing tribute to the services of Mr. Dumble, and predicted for Mr. Hughes-Charles a successful regime.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, the new President, thanked the members very heartily for the honour they had done him, and assured the Board he would do all in his power for the success of the town.

Mr. Toker moved his resolution regarding the Canadian Preference league, which was seconded by Mr. Meldrum and carried.

A RESOLUTION.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn said he had a letter from the Secretary of the Beet Sugar Association of Ontario, asking him to bring before the Board a resolution which asked the Government to assist in encouraging the manufacture of beet sugar. It was as follows:—

"Whereas, about two-thirds of the sugar consumption of the world is now said to be the product of the sugar beet and the Beet Sugar Industry has attained to a national prominence in nearly all the leading States of Europe and more recently in the United States.

"And, whereas, this position has been attained in the first instance through various measures of Government encouragement towards an industry recognized so important to the industrial welfare of the nations.

"And, whereas, the agricultural and manufacturing conditions which go to make for the success of the Industry, exist over large sections of Canada.

"And, whereas, the farmers of Canada would be especially benefitted through the development of this agricultural industry, and the millions of dollars now yearly paid foreign countries for sugar would be circulated among the agricultural, labouring and other deserving classes of our own people.

"And, whereas, we believe that a speedy development of the Industry would follow some Government recognition and assistance to the Industry.

"Now, therefore, this Board of Trade of Peterborough respectfully recommends that the Dominion Government should promptly grant such fair measure of encouragement to establishment of the Beet Sugar Industry as the importance of the undertaking demands."

The resolution was adopted upon motion of Mr. T.A.S. Hay, seconded by Mr. Peter Campbell.

This resolution opened up for discussion the sugar beet matter, which was taken part in by Messrs. D. W. Dumble, T. E. Bradburn, Peter Campbell, W. H. Meldrum and others.

Mr. Dumble argued that it was wise to go slow, whilst Mr. Garvin quoted figures to show that it was necessary to proceed at once with the factory in Peterborough.

Messrs. J. H. Burnham, T. E. Bradburn and D. W. Dumble were appointed a committee to strike the Standing Committees.

Mr. Toker moved a hearty vote of thanks to the retiring President, Mr. Dumble, which was seconded by Mr. W. H. Meldrum. Mr. Dumble was warmly praised for his work in connection with the Board. He made a suitable reply in which he said he deeply felt the honour conferred upon him. He hoped that the Board would be of service in spreading intelligence amongst the people of the town, and he regretted that certain busines men in town took so little interest in an institution that worked for their very interests.

The Board then adjourned.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons have received the following letter from one of their customers:

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sirs, — Just a word of credit to say to you for the awning you made for us. The material is first class, the lettering is perfect, the flags are exceedingly beautiful, the crown and maple leaves are works of art, and the finest things we ever saw. In fact it is faultless, and we are justly proud of it. It gives our store front a tone and finish second to none in town, and we believe is one of the best, most lasting and most attractive advertisements we could possibly have.

Wishing you every success for big business this coming season, we are,

Yours, very sincerely,

Consumption's Small Beginning

No matter how strong you imagine yourself to be, if you are not breathing plenty of good air every day, if you are over-working, keeping late hours, or in any way using up your energies faster than they are repaired, you are making it easier for consumption to come into your lungs. This is the small beginning.

Let your own good sense and your doctor prescribe your habits and the necessary medicine. For nourishment nothing will do you more good than Scott's Emulsion. It contains elements which you cannot get from ordinary food and is rich in the best materials for making good blood.

Scott's Emulsion is a wonderful food; it furnishes a great deal of nourishment though you take so little of it. That little enables the body to overcome wasting and to build up the run-down and worn-out tissues. Moreover Scott's Emulsion is a great flesh-builder, and when the consumptive can gain flesh he is getting the upper hand.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

WHY ?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

DRESS SUGGESTIONS.

Never wear shoes lighter than the color at the bottom of the dress.

Brush silk garments with a piece of black velvet. It removes the dust perfectly and does not injure the fabric.

To dry clean gloves lay them flat, rub in a mixture of finely powdered fuller's earth and alum. Brush it off and sprinkle them with dry bran and whiting. Dust well.

Save all pieces of velvet unless they are hopelessly soiled. Brush them thoroughly and roll them round a cylinder and put them away. They are sure to come in handy at some time or other.

In sewing on buttons if the knot is placed on the right side of the cloth directly under the button the thread will be less liable to break and become loosened and the button will remain on longer.

Perfumed flannel is one of the most convenient forms of the sachet. A piece the size desired is cut off when needed, sewed into any part of the wardrobe, and it retains its scent as long as the ordinary sachet.

Choosing a Hat.

Great care should be given to the choosing of a hat, as it occupies the place of honor in the whole toilet. It is conspicuous, has a character to keep up and therefore should be the most beautiful and expensive part of our attire. Headgear ought to act as the framework of the face. It should conceal a bad outline and display a fine one. It should by its color enhance the complexion and prove a becoming background to the hue of the hair. A woman's role is to attract and when she has attracted to enchain. The instinct of sex prompts her to prefer a style that gives height, piquancy and, most of all, conspicuousness. Then a hat should either correspond with one's costume or make an effective contrast to it. A safe general rule decrees that a white or pale colored gown demands a dark hat, but that a black or sober tinted frock requires a bright hued, brilliant headpiece.

The Little Girl's Hair.

For a little girl's hair use a very soft brush, and brush both scalp and hair thoroughly and carefully at least twice a day, massaging it with tepid water several times during the week to make the scalp glow. If the hair does not curl naturally, try doing it up on soft rolls of cloth. I would not use a curling fluid. This will make it stay longer in curl, but it is not good for the child's hair. If, on extra occasions, when she is going to a party or to have one of her own you want her hair to remain in curl for a length of time, instead of moistening with clear water before doing it up, use one-third alcohol to two-thirds water. Use a hair tonic once a week, rubbing it well into the scalp. One ounce of sweet oil, four ounces bay rum and a dram tincture cantharides is the best tonic.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.
Take Laxative Brome-Quinine Tablets. This signature B.W. Grove on every box. 25 cents.

Violets All the Year.

Break a half ounce of orris root into small pieces and put them into a bottle with two ounces of alcohol. A few drops of this on the handkerchief give the odor of fresh violets. The mixture should always be tightly corked and allowed to stand a week before using.

A pretty hairpin receiver can be made by crocheting a center of wool and surrounding it with a puff of silk, suspending the whole by a ribbon.

To prevent the odor of boiling ham or cabbage throw a few bits of charcoal into the pot in which they are cooking.

Those who do not go out of the house often breathe over and over again the lifeless air with which the rooms are filled.

Nickel plating should be kept quite dry and polished. For this purpose use a chamois leather.

A TURKISH REPULSE

Battle With the Macedonians and Bulgarians.

SEVERE LOSS TO THE TURKS.

The Battle Took Place Near Monastir, and After the Fighting Thirty-Two Dead and Many Wounded Men Were Picked Up—Turks' Opponents Were Composed of Irregular Bodies.

London, March. 3. — The Geneva correspondent of The Daily Chronicle telegraphs that news has been received there of an engagement between Turkish troops and bodies of Macedonians and Bulgarians near Monastir. The Turks suffered a repulse. After the fighting thirty-two dead and many wounded men were found.

HAPPINESS IN THE FAMILY.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mother and Daughter.

Mr. S. Barnum Tells how her Backache Disappeared and her Daughter Found Health.

Madoc, Ont., March 2nd.—(Special)—The hold those standard Canadian remedies, Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining in this community, grow stronger day by day. "Tried and not found wanting," is the verdict awarded to them in dozens of cases where those numerous ailments arising from diseased Kidneys have banished the health and threatened the lives of people till Dodd's Kidney Pills have come to their relief.

And as one who has benefited from Dodd's Kidney Pills recommends them to another and he or she in turn finds relief and health, it is not to be wondered at that whole families unite in singing their praises. This is what the Barnums are doing. Mrs. S. Barnum says:

"I had been troubled with Backache, one of the first symptoms of the painful and dangerous Kidney Diseases. I had been told that Dodd's Kidney Pills were a sure cure and I resolved to try them. I procured half a dozen boxes and commenced taking them. The backache disappeared and has not come back. It is a most satisfactory cure.

"My daughter, Annie ,too, was run down and out of sorts, and subject to pains. Dodd's Kidney Pills had done me so much good I resolved to try them in her case. The result is her pain is gone and she is in good health again."

Teach Children to Be Cheerful.

Children should be encouraged to cultivate cheerfulness in order that their minds and bodies develop in healthfulness and beauty. A child brought up amid cheerless dispositions will be prone to imitate them, while the child cultivated in an atmosphere of home sunshine will naturally reflect many happy, lovable qualities. Teach the child by your own example rather than precept the charm that lies in happy smiles and the sweetness that rests in kind words if you want him to grow up with beautiful characteristic traits. Beautiful examples of cheerfulness are about the rarest things in life, although they are the most necessary for human welfare. People are so wrapped up in themselves they forget to cultivate the lovely qualities of unselfishness which bear the fragrant blossoms of happiness. What we want is more self worthiness and less self sendidness.

Company Manners.

Company manners belong to the vulgar. "We can act as we please among ourselves," says a child, "but when company comes we must be very nice or we will catch it when they are gone!" The superficiality of company manners makes them easily detected. Unconsciously they will prove themselves a mask trying to cover a lack of real refinement. When each member of the household is expected to say "Please" in asking something and a gracious "Thank you!" for little favors, when they do not forget to say a kindly "Good night!" and a pleasant "Good morning!" they will have no difficulty in acquiring gentle manners that will stamp them as truly well bred. Where good home training is lacking there will be found those traces of discord which make the character inharmonious and insufficiently built.

Egyptian Papyrus.

The first paper, made from the papyrus plant by the Egyptians, was not what we understand by the term paper. It was made of the inner bark of the plant and prepared and polished by a peculiar process. It was not until the ninth or tenth century that the use of paper, probably so called, was introduced into Europe.

THE CATTLE QUARANTINE.

Canada Will Still Guard Against Foot and Mouth Disease.

Ottawa, March 3.—Dr. Rutherford, chief of the veterinary branch of the Canadian Agricultural Department, has returned from a visit to the Eastern States. He found that the foot and mouth disease has practically been stamped out in that region, but the question is will it reappear in the spring? Till that time has passed without any reappearance of the disorder the quarantine regulations now in force will likely be maintained.

THE ETHICS OF LAW.

Lawyers the Most Abused and Most Trusted of Men.

The third of the public lecture course of McMaster University, Toronto, on "The Ethics of Law" proved most entertaining and instructive, many of those present coming away with a very different opinion of some phases of the profession of law and its practice to that which they had before the lecture. Mr. D. E. Thomson, K.C., described lawyers as at once the best abused and the most generally trusted members of the community. He analyzed the business of the ordinary law firm, of which not more than 2 per cent. is criminal, and of the balance not more than 10 per cent. ever comes to trial in the courts, while in four-fifths of the cases which do reach the courts there are no appeals entered. The nature of his business and experience made the lawyer conservative in regard to changes in the law, and, commenting upon what is sometimes termed the slavish adherence to precedent in the law. Mr. Thomson insisted nothing could be more revolutionary and dangerous than departure from this practice. In this connection he laid down three cardinal principles for guidance:—(1) That law is better than justice; (2) that it is more necessary the law should be certain than that it should be right, and (3) that equity administered according to the Judge's personal idea of right and wrong would result in a cross between lottery and despotism. Mr. Thompson illustrated the numerous points he made by amusing anecdotes and entertaining reminiscences, which made the subject of "law" anything but dull.

On Dufferin Terrace.

On warm evenings one sees crowds of people in holiday attire wending their way to Dufferin Terrace, Quebec City, and every electric car has a sign in front announcing in bold type, "Concert sur la Terrasse ce soir," which means that on the terrace the famous military band from the barracks will play, and that one must go early to avoid the rush and get a good seat.

A Parisian touch is given to the scene by the rows of tables outside the chateau on the terrace, where parties of friends, gayly chattering French, sipping from a demi-tasse, listening to the music and watching the promenaders, reach the zenith of their enjoyment, for all the world like their first cousins who enjoy the same pleasures in the cafes of the Quartir Latin or along the grand boulevards of the French capital.

Sober, sedate English people, jaunty, convivial Americans, French girls wearing all the colors of the rainbow, an occasional leathery-skinned Indian, and "Tommy Atkins," in his gay scarlet coat, saucy cap and lightly twirling a stick (making eyes at every pretty girl he meets), constitute the throng of which one speaks when saying that "all Quebec is out on the terrace to hear the music this evening."

It's a cosmopolitan crowd, and a merry one, too; all are good-humored, and the music (to which, it must be confessed, distance lends enchantment) evidently meets with their approval, as an occasional exclamation of "Magnifique!" "Charmant!" or "C'est belle musique, la, n'est ce pas?" is heard in passing.

Sofa Pillows.

In the multitude of sofa pillows one is sometimes at a loss to know what material to fill them with. As the useful is of much more importance than the ornamental we speak of those made for common use, the covers often made from checked gingham cross stitched with linen or cotton thread. Where one has not feathers with which to fill the tick a very good substitute is found in excelsior or old newspapers cut in inch pieces with a pair of sharp scissors or even the inner husks of corn cut up as above. These fillings are cool and healthful for hot weather. If one likes a wooday smell, add a few pine, hemlock or spruce needles to the filling. For elaborate show pillows made of rich and costly material nothing is more suitable than down taken from waterfowls.

Substitute For Powder Box.

If you are not fortunate enough to own a silver powder box, a very good substitute will be found by carrying out the following suggestion: Cut a circle of chamois having a diameter of nine or ten inches. Take a white silk or fine linen handkerchief a trifle larger than the chamois and lay the two together, the centers coinciding. Join them by two rows of fine running stitches, one at the top of the chamois and the other half an inch below it. After making two openings run a ribbon between the rows of stitching and draw it up, thus forming a bag. Fill this with toilet powder and with the addition of a puff the bag is complete.

Nature's Justice in Small Things.

Every animal is said to have its own kind of flea, sometimes several different kinds. Many thousand specimens of these fleas have been gathered in the unique museum of Charles Rothschild, kept by Dr. Jordan at Tring Park, the giant of this strange collection being a mole flea a fifth of an inch long.

TRAGEDY OF GRAND PRE.

A Visit to the Scene of Longfellow's Poem —The Abstract as Opposed to the Concrete Acadians.

A visitor to the homes of the great men and women who have been, done and suffered in their several spheres generally finds that the supervening inhabitants know nothing of the earlier occupants, and are comfortably innocent of the fact that the ground about them is historic. But the heroine of the Acadian expulsion has not been consigned to local oblivion. Everyone in and about the neighborhood can point to the well from which she lifted water, to the willow trees beneath which she milked the favorite heifer, to the place where Basil's forge stood; to the site of the church, of the home of Father Felician, and of everything woven into the poem. The chief of a threshing-machine staff showed me her footprints near the well. I tried my boots in them, writes S. T. Wood in The Globe. Evangeline must have been a very large woman.

Feats of the Expulsion.

Grand Pre has never really recovered from the effects of the expulsion. It consists of a small station, which the operator looks up between trains. The Flying Bluenose ignores it, but it is honored by calls from three expresses each way, daily except Sunday. It has, or is, a hotel from which a man drives down to meet the trains, and there are several houses which may be included in it, as it is not incorporated, and the bounds are consequently elastic. Wolfville, three miles along the line, has appropriated Evangeline and all the traditions of Grand Pre, and the inquiring visitor is advised, if he wants to go to Grand Pre, to go to Wolfville. There is a town there with hotels, an academy, a manual training school and a young ladies seminary. There are liverymen there who drive you to Grand Pre, to Blomidon Head, the mouth of the Gaspereau, Minas Basin, the dykes and all the points of interest. This advice was so persistent and universal that I got off at Grand Pre.

Evangeline's Well.

The station agent smiled and pointed to a red pump in an adjacent field when asked about Evangeline's well. The pump looks sadly modern and utilitarian. But for the benefit of those who prefer truth in such matters, it is known that the well was dug, for convenience, by reopening a caved-in well that had served the Acadian village of Grand Pre. The willows, too, are there, eight massive trunks, gnarled, twisted and almost falling apart with age, though the tops are still vigorous. They mark the margin where the long arm from the Basin of Minas once spread over the brown polished mud flats at high tide. But the basin does not reach within two miles of them now, for the dykes built by the Acadians and maintained by the present owners have reclaimed and still preserve a broad expanse of about 2,500 acres, through which the winding grooves of the tidal streams are aimlessly threaded, their sloping sides, once of sea-washed mud, now covered with a modern crop of oats and hay. The stile at the fence surrounding the denuded village site is worn with the feet of pilgrims, and the pump has been saved from demolition only by an inconvenient barricade. The willow at the end of the row, the very tree under which Evangeline sat, is scarcely more than half the size of the others, its stunted deterioration being due to the constant breaking off of twigs and small branches by visiting tourists. Such is human reverence for an imaginary fragment of our common humanity, into whose breast the genius of a poet has breathed the breath of life.

Explained and Justified.

Longfellow has made it incumbent on us to explain and justify the expulsion of the Acadians. If it had been only Acadians in the abstract who had been expelled the affair would have been forgotten long ago. Nobody has any sympathy with the Acadians in the abstract, because nobody has ever met them or associated with them in that form. Expelling the Acadians would scarcely awaken a passing comment, but expelling two Acadians is a serious matter and must be justified. Longfellow has shown us two Acadians, real, living people like ourselves, people who were not abstractions, people with life, hope, affection, love and constancy.

How It Is Done.

It is only as we regard our fellow-mortals as abstractions that we can kill, scatter, injure or speak evil of them. So long as we regard them as human beings like ourselves, only not quite so good, with affections and sympathies, with feelings, with friends and relatives, with hopes and aspirations, with joys and sorrows, we cannot do any of these things. The soldier kills the enemy because the enemy is an abstraction. But he will share the contents of his water-bottle with the same enemy wounded on the field, because that enemy has ceased to be an abstraction and has become a man. The man to whom workingmen are an abstraction, can lock them out, starve them into submission, break up their homes or hire Pinkertons to shoot them down. He can do all these things to the workingman, but could not do any of them to this workingman or that workingman who might be to him a human being, with all the feelings and sentiments that move our common humanity.

A Hopeful View.

We could expel the Acadians again, the abstract Acadians, but we would take abundant care that an exception was made in the case of Evangeline and Gabriel. For of that crowd of sensitive, pulsating life hurried to the ships these two stand out as the only human beings. The expulsion of the Acadians has been justified by Mr. Parkman, and many a tender and troubled conscience will bless him for the soothing peace he has brought. The expulsion was all right. It was just the thing. But that refers only to Acadians in the abstract. So long as our language is spoken Evangeline and Gabriel will be like the ghost of Banquo at the feast.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

TEARFUL OR CHEERFUL?

Whether a woman is tearful or cheerful depends not on what she has materially, but what she is physically. Many an indulgent husband is driven almost to despair by the tearful outburst of a wife who has "everything she wants." He wants to know what's the matter. But the wife can't tell. She only knows that she is depressed and despondent.

Such a condition is usually related to some form of womanly disease. The mental depression has its corresponding womanly weakness.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription changes tearful women to cheerful women by curing the diseases which cause physical weakness and depression of spirits. It establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

Mrs. Alice Adams, of Laboratory, Washington Co., Pa., says: "With many thanks I write to let you know how I am. I can say by God's help and your help I am well. I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two of his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I can do all my work. I can't praise your medicine too highly. I will recommend your medicines as long as I live. If any one doubts this give them my address."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Keep the bowels healthy by the timely use of Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

ICE SPORTS BEGIN.

Hockey, Skating and Ice Yachting in High Favor Just Now.

Ice sportsmen are now in the full flush of the winter's fun. Everywhere in the rinks and on the lakes and rivers hockey matches and skating races are events of daily and nightly occurrence.

Two men now hold the bulk of American amateur championship skating honors. They are Peter Sinnirud, the "Terrible Swede" of the Verona Skating club of Montclair, N.J., and N. Wood of the same organization. Both these men, of course, have their special distances at which they particularly excel, but neither is so pronouncedly superior to the other in his field that he can lay just claim to national supremacy.

Sinnirud holds the half, five and ten mile titles, while Wood holds the titles for the quarter and one mile events. Sinnirud is soon to turn "pro.," having entered the professional championships to be held in Montreal Feb. 7.

Picking Up Pins.

The most sensible and practical people in the world will often take particular pains to skim off a patch of bubbles that has risen to the top of their tea because some one in jest has said it is a "sure sign of money."

It always requires a distinct effort for me to pass a pin that I see lying on the sidewalk, because of that absurdly bad rhyme, which of course I consider nonsense:

See a pin and pick it up,
All the day you'll have good luck.

Sometimes these omens do not go well together and even contradict each other. For instance; one will tell you that the only lucky way to find a pin is with the head toward you, and just as you have the habit of going around looking for pins with their heads toward you another man will say: "It is very unlucky to pick up a pin with the head toward you. The only right way it to have the point toward you, for then the luck will be 'sharp.'"

English Medals for Indians.

During the American war of independence it was considered politic for England to be on terms of friendship with the North American Indians. Large and handsome medals were therefore struck for presentation to the chiefs or great men of the tribes who had rendered good service to George III. On the obverse side this medal shows a bust of the King in armor and with laurel wreath. The reverse side represents an American Indian and a white man sitting together under a tree, the Indian in the act of presenting his pipe to his companion in token of peace and friendship.

In the background are Indian wigwams, and above is the legend, "Happy While United." The loop for suspension is significant, being an eagle's wing and the calumet of peace placed crosswise.—Chambers' Journal.

REVERENCE.

Quality Sadly Lacking in To-day's Youth —When It Goes Out Greed, Selfishness and Inhumanity Come In.

Reverence is a quality sadly lacking in the youth of to-day. There is prevailing an exaggerated idea of the "I'm as good as anybody, b'gosh" sentiment. So you are "as good as anybody," son, if you make yourself so. But, being as good as anybody, you will not need to thrust that information on any one. Nor will you need to despise others. If you are really worthy of respect, you will not have to make an effort to exact respect. And it is a mistake to imagine that treating others with lack of respect elevates yourself. Respect will be paid to real worth by those whose opinions are worth the while. If your goodness does not meet appreciation by people of worthy character, there is something the matter with your goodness. It would be well to make a personal inquiry and locate the trouble.

The habit of treating sacred subjects with levity is a bad one. It kills reverence in our hearts and thus lowers our standards of goodness. We need to nourish high ideals of right, of goodness, of holiness, or our own characters are degraded. When reverence goes out, greed, selfishness and inhumanity come in. Besides the wrong done to our own natures when we fail to reverence things held sacred, we do a grievious wrong to others. It is evil enough to lower our own standard of right, but when we cloud the sense of purity, of sacredness, in others it is doubly wrong. If we fail in ourselves to keep some ideal holy for our aspirations, let us not drag the ideal of others in the dust under our feet.

Uses of Turpentine.

Turpentine, either in resinous form or in spirits, has a household value. A child suffering with the croup or any throat or lung difficulty will be quickly relieved by inhaling the vapor and having the chest rubbed until the skin is red and then being wrapped about with flannel moistened with fiery spirits. Afterward sweet oil will save the skin from irritation. In the case of burns and scalds turpentine has no equal. It is the best dressing for patent leather; it will remove paint from artists' clothes and workmen's garments; it will drive away moths if a few drops are put into closets and chests; it will persuade mice to find other quarters if a little is poured into the mouse holes; one tablespoonful added to the water in which linens are boiled will make the goods wonderfully white; a few drops will prevent starch from sticking; mixed with beeswax it makes the best floor polish, and mixed with sweet oil it is unrivaled as a polish for fine furniture; the latter mixture should be two parts of sweet oil to one part of turpentine. Some physicians recommend spirits of turpentine, applied externally, for lumbago and rheumatism. It is also prescribed for neuralgia of the face.—Woman's Home Companion.

Dinners in the Old Days.

Dinner was a substantial affair in the reign of the maiden queen, who was by no means indifferent to the pleasures of the table. The first course on great occasions, says a contemporary, would probably be wheaten flummery, stewed broth, spinach broth, gruel or hotenpotch. The second consisted of fish, among which we may note lampreys, stockfish and sturgeon, with side dishes of porpoise. The third course comprised quaking puddings, bag puddings, black puddings, white puddings and narrow puddings. Then came veal, beef, capons, humble pie, mutton, marrow pasties, Scotch collops, wild fowl and game. In the fifth course all kinds of sweets, creams in all their varieties, custards, cheese, cakes, jellies, warden pies, junkets, syllabubs, and so on, to be followed perhaps by white cheese and tansy cake; for the drinks, ale and beer, wine, sack and numerous varieties of mead or methegiln, some of which were concocted out of as many as five and twenty herbs and were redolent of sweet country perfume.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 4. — The rally in closing half hour yesterday was mainly the result of covering of shorts and fresh support. It was helped by report from Washington of an attempt to induce the President to call an extra session of the House to meet with the Senate and pass Aldrich Bill, but it turns out that this report was circulated to influence the agreement on the Naval Bill and force its passage. The Aldrich Bill is dead and there is nothing to show this morning that there is any intention to call extra session of House. There was also rumor that Secretary of Treasury would buy 200,000,000 Govt. bonds, but this is without foundation. Coming on an oversold market the rally was natural. There is still a good short interest and speculative position of market has been improved by past week's liquidation but until there is an improvement in position of banks and local money situation, we expect only narrow trader's market and do not think rallies will go far or prove more than temporary.

M. & M.

New York, March 4. — Better demand for call money it is 4 p.c. Banks lost to sub-treas. since Friday $4,471,000. This suggests another bad bank statement Saturday and there will have to be a big decrease in loans to offset it.

Butler Bros. buying M.O.P. Foreign exchange off another 1-8 to 87 1-8 for demand sterling. This is due to higher money rates here. London has bought 10 to 15 thousand shares on balance.

M. & M.

New York, March 4. — The stock market is recovering somewhat. Shorts have covered freely yesterday and today and liquidation has been pretty thorough. The outlook for the money market is the "buybear," added to which there is a growing feeling of distrust on account of volume of bonds and new securities which have been or are going to be brought out. We have had a good break and ought to have some little rally, but do not think anything like a real rise in stocks is probable at the moment.

M. & M.

Union Pacific Jan. gross Dec. $41,945, net Dec. 482,980. Some figures out rights on steel per stock in new conversion scheme to be worth something like 2 p.c. Dow Jones & Co. say that figuring five hundred shares steel pfd at cost of 97 which is equivalent to $48,500 less $30,000 bonds obtained in the conversion and sold at about the prevailing curb price of 94 which is equivalent to $15,500 would leave a balance on the cost of 20 0 shares equal to $20,700 or an exchange rites proceed of about 38 1-2 for the preferred stock. On this example of figuring they say they value of rights as expressed in this way will be equal [illegible] p.c.

Scores do not always indicate which team plays the best hockey."

FIRST CLASS HONOURS

Scored by a Lady Musician at the Convent.

Mr. W. R. Fairclough, F. R. C. O., of Toronto College of Music, spent the afternoon of the 16th Feb., at Notre Dame Convent, where a clever young pianist, Miss Mable Harrison, of Keene, was presented to him as candidate for senior three-year piano course. To the great satisfaction of everyone, the young lady acquitted herself of her heavy task excellently, a proof of which was received in the report from the college, which stated that the competitor had "passed with 1st class honours." It is assured that all will join in with the Examiner in wishing Miss Harrison, who continues at the Convent for her post graduate, the heartiest of congratulations in her magnificent success.

FROM KEENE.

An Exciting Game of Hockey in the Village.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The Buffers and Duffers met on the ice last Thursday evening before a roaring crowd of boys and men. And the fair portion of the audience was no small quantity.

All through the early portion of the season Captain Fife had kept his weather eye on the senior players, watching every trick and knock and calling together his stalwarts and describing to them luckily and demonstratively on a checker board how each act was accomplished. So well and faithfully did this great trained work; and so eagerly did his aid-de-camps Gall, Spears and Newton drink in each advice that he felt the prize firmly in the grasp of his dainty chubby fist. In fact he felt so elated over his prospective victory that he took unto himself three good holidays, calling at Rosenneath, Harwood, Roache's Point and other places of interest.

On the other hand Captain Kennaley quite cool, discrete and practical picked out his men with the greatest care; and having them selected he bounds them in the most solemn bond, to be faithful to him and to themselves until the great end. They were restrained from work, —it is said Wolfred did break this compact and actually worked three and a quarter hours during the season—from walking on slippery places, from risking their neck on skates, in fact from all manner of performances that might incapacitate them through an accident from participating in the great game.

The Captain reports favourably on the fidelity of his men to their pledges.

When the gong sounded the hands of the clock on the Town Hall appeared to stand still, so intense was the pressure of excitement. Gall secured the puck and passed it quickly to his own goal keeper, then when point Newton saw it in such a strait so near destruction, he stood mute and trembling while lightning forward Spears swooped on it like an eagle on a chicken, missed it, and went tearing through the curling stones himself. Now went that awful rush of struggling humanity after that minature puck. Up and down the rink, but it was as evasive as a week-old partridge and seldom was it touched. Finally Fife got it cornered up and determined to defend it against all comers; but his ambition was greater than his performance warranted for it slipped between his feet and went sailing up to the end of the rink. Here Wolferd fell on it and determined to hold it down; Walsh volunteered to help him, when Newton fell over the twain, Kennaley over the three, Spears over the quartette, etc., etc., until none remained standing except the goal keepers. Here the unfortunate happened. Captain Fife lost his wind. He asked for time until he could find it, but as the item could not be read in the T. S. A. this was not allowed.

A dispute arose as to whether the Duffers or the Buffers scored, much time was lost and the case is not settled yet, because Umpire Perry and got Tom were both at the same goal.

However, after a hasty consultation of the Captains it was decided that the wear and tear of the puck was too great that the game be declared a draw, and be replayed on the river next summer.

A POPULAR PASTOR.

Rev. D. O. Crossley Invited to Remain in Bowmanville.

At a recent meeting of the Official Board of the Bowmanville Methodist church, a resolution was unanimously passed by a standing vote, expressing very great satisfaction with the services of Rev. D. O. Crossley, the present pastor, and requesting him to remain as pastor of the church for another year.

While pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church of town, Rev. Mr. Crossley was held in high estimation by the members of the congregation and also by those with whom he came in contact, and it will be a source of pleasure to everyone to know that a former ministerial worker of this town is just as popular now in Bowmanville as he was previously in his sojourn here.

WILL BE HIGHER NEXT YEAR

And this is the month of all the year they reach their lowest prices.

As an investment at present prices they discount all other stocks. An increase of 25 to 50 per cent. in their values by fall can be assured.

Our reasons for selling at these close prices under present conditions are:—

First—The use of the money in our business between now and next winter.

Second—An extra heavy Stock of Furs on hand for this time of year.

Third—The between season condition of this month—a little early for spring and a little late for winter selling, must therefore create demand by bargain prices.

Fourth—Must keep our workmen in manufacturing department going, consequently have to sell the Goods.

Alaskan Question Now Before the Imperial Cabinet.

JOINT HIGH COMMISSION.

Reported Attempt to Renew the Sessions —Washington Despatch Says Senator Fairbanks and Sir Wilfrid Laurier Are Still Corresponding—Canada's Firm Answer and Position Is Now Recalled.

London, March 5.—No names have yet been submitted for the Alaskan tribunal. It seems probable that the delay is owing to the English Cabinet's consideration of the desirability of suggesting a change in the American commissioners, although this would be a delicate matter. The Canadian Government has communicated its opinion unfavorable to the American appointees. The strong Canadian views are appreciated here.

Joint High Commission to Meet.

Washington, March 5.—The action of Congress in striking out in conference an item appropriating $50,000 to defray the expenses of the High Joint Commission will not be allowed to prevent the reassembling of the Commission next summer. It is possible to reassemble the Commission and pay their expenses out of the contingent fund of the State Department. Senator Fairbanks and Sir Wilfrid Laurier are in correspondence with a view of arranging a date for the reassembling of the Commission.

Canada's Answer Recalled.

Ottawa, March 5. — An unofficial theory suggests a potent motive for the postponement of the resumption of the sittings of the Joint High Commission until Canada is "good and ready." It is based upon a close personal scrutiny of the temper of the United States commissioners at the breaking off of the negotiations at Washington in February, 1899. When their attitude was indicated, Canada's refusal to go ahead was not at all mealy mouthed. It was in effect "Come to terms on Alaska or wait for the other favors you really want."

CONGRESS CLOSED.

Retiring Speaker of U.S. House Treated Without Courtesy.

Washington, March 5.—The fifty-seventh congress expired at noon yesterday by limitation. There has not been in many years such a demonstration in the house as occurred yesterday owing to the fact that Speaker Henderson was retiring not only as presiding officer, but from the house as a member. Bitter partisan feeling that has sprung up in the House of Representatives during the past week reached a pitch which prevented the Speaker receiving the unanimous approval of the House when the usual resolution of thanks and courtesy was offered.

The number of bills introduced during the fifty-seventh congress aggregated 17,560, of which 3,918 were reported and more than 2,000 passed. The house calendar is clearer at the close of this congress than it has ever been before, only 78 bills remaining undisposed of.

The Strenuous President.

Washington, March 5. — President Roosevelt had a chance yesterday to express his opinion of Senator Carmack of Tennessee, and did it forcibly.

W. S. Morgan, ex-Secretary of State for Tennessee, wants to be appointed a member of the Isthmian Canal Commission, and the Tennessee delegation is favorable to the appointment.

The President listened to the Tennesseeans, and said he would take their nomination under consideration.

"I am always glad," he said, "to do anything I can for you. Any recommendations I shall always be glad to receive and carefully consider.

"But," he added, after a bit of pause, "there is one member of your delegation that I would see in hell before I would do anything for him."

He explained that he referred to Senator Carmack.

THE POPE'S HEALTH.

His Physicians Have Ordered Several Days' Rest.

STILL SUFFERS FROM A COLD.

Alarmist Rumors Not Borne Out by the Facts—Rest May Mitigate the Seriousness of Old Cold, But It Is Felt That Owing to Pontiff's Great Age His Condition Is Not Without Danger.

Rome, March 5.—The alarmists were again to the fore last evening, and declare the Pope to be really ill. They point to the official note in last night's Osservatore Romani, the Vatican organ, stating that on the advice of his doctor, the Pope had decided to take several days' absolute rest.

The truth is that the Pope never succeeded in getting rid of the cold, which caused a slight cough and hoarseness. Dr. Lapponi, on visiting His Holiness, yesterday, found that he was somewhat better, but frankly told him that he must either consent to cure his cold, or he would run the risk of something serious. The Pontiff thereupon gave way, and promised to suspend his audiences.

The condition of the Pope, taking into consideration his advanced age, is not without danger, and is causing considerable anxiety. So much so, it is asserted, that some Cardinals who have come to Rome from a distance have postponed their departure.

REVOLUTION BEGUN.

Frequency of Stiff Encounters Between Turks and Macedonians Foster This Idea—Inhabitants With Insurgents.

Constantinople, March 5.—Increasing numbers of Bulgarian revolutionary bands are operating in Macedonia, and the frequency of stiff encounters between them and Turkish forces is regarded here as indicating that a general rising already has begun. The inhabitants appear not only to be sheltering these bands, but to be informing them of the movements of the troops.

El Menebhi Reappears.

Tangier, Morocco, March 5.—Notwithstanding the contradictory rumors circulated here, the Governor of Tangier has received a letter from Fez announcing that the column of the Sultan's troops commanded by Minister of War El Menebhi has completely routed the Senajy tribe, the most fanatical of the pretender's adherents.

Where Faces Freeze.

Dawson City, March 5.—Two men, traveling with dog teams, on the trail to Fortymile, were caught in a gale of wind and both their faces were frozen. They reached the Sixteenmile Roadhouse in bad condition, their eyes being swollen and their faces being almost unrecognizable.

PORT HOPE OR TRENTON?

The Matter Becoming a Live Issue.

A Strong Deputation to go Down From Former Place—Trenton's Side of it.

When the Dominion Parliament goes into session this spring the Hon. A. G. Blair will be waited upon by one of the strongest deputations that ever went to Ottawa from this riding, says a despatch from Port Hope.

They are going to try and convince him that Port Hope is the proper and most natural outlet of the Trent Valley Canal. Politics is an unconsidered matter in this affair, as anyone who knows the gentlemen, who compose the committee, will know that they are the leading men of both parties.

The people of Trenton are on the alert, however, and a despatch from that town says:—

The people of Trenton have not changed their views respecting the great benefits that would be derived from the completion of the Trent Valley Canal, not only from a Trenton standpoint, but also as an important national undertaking, notwithstanding the fact that many of the Trenton folk have grown from infancy into grey haired citizens since the project was first considered as being of paramount importance and was treated seriously. It is a conceded fact that the two great problems of the day are those of transportation and power, and the increasing importance of these two enormous propositions has done much to keep the Trent Valley Canal a live question. Trentonians have always endorsed the view expressed by the late Sir John Thompson when he voiced the opinion that the project was one of great national importance, and would, when completed, furnish Ontario with a second frontier.

They likewise attach great importance to the idea of Sir William Van Horne who has remarked that it would serve as a spout to relieve the congested condition of the "Canadian Hopper," and as the Hon. A. G. Blair, the present Minister of Railways and Canals, told a Trent Valley delegation that waited upon the government over five years ago, the canal should be completed if for no other reason than to make the sections already finished of some value and usefulness; take for example, Peterborough, which would practically become a frontier town if this end of the canal was completed and an outlet thus provided for the people of that vicinity. The completion of this waterway would mean more to Trenton than can easily be described.

Trenton lies at the mouth of the River Trent at its confluence with the Bay of Quinte, and is the head of St. Lawrence River navigation; therefore, if the canal was completed this town would undoubtedly become a very important shipping point, and having another means of transport the products of the forest, such concerns as Gilmour & Co., the extensive lumber manufacturing firm of this town, would be enabled to obtain much raw material that they are unable to get under existing conditions.

However, there are many in Trenton who feel to-day that the time has arrived when the government should either proceed at once with the work, or free the lands along the route so that private enterprise would be enabled to undertake the development of the magnificent water power afforded at many points, notably between Frankford and Trenton.

Galway Nomination on the 9th.

London, March 5.—Nomination in Galway is fixed for the 9th instant, and polling, if any, for the 13th. So far there is no opposition to Mr. Devlin.

Mr. J. A. Smart, Deputy Minister of the Interior, is now in Dublin conferring with Mr. Devlin, as the result of instructions from Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior.

Mr. Davlin says that he intends to hold both positions and asserts that he can serve Canada even better than he has previously done by becoming a member of Parliament.

And He May Die.

London, March 5.—James Harris, 25 years of age, an employe at the G.T.R. car shops, met with a serious accident yesterday morning. He was boring a hole in a board with an auger operated by steam, when he fell forward against the auger, which entered the abdominal wall of his intestines, causing a most painful injury, which may result in blood poisoning. He was taken to the hospital.

Hill and Shaughnessy Sail Away.

New York, March 5.—James J. Hill, president of the Northern Securities Company, sailed yesterday for Europe for rest and recreation. President Shaughnessy of the Canadian Pacific Railway also sailed on the same steamer.

NEW CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE ALLIANCE.

The attention of Canadian banking and financial circles has recently been directed to the announcement of the amalgamation of the Halifax Banking Company with the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Notwithstanding that the latter Bank has already eighty-four branches throughout Canada and the United States, stretching from coast to coast, up till recently it had no office in the Maritime Province, although its stock has been a favourite investment with the Nova Scotians. The importance of the purchase of the Halifax Banking Company is therefore apparent, seeing that it will give fifteen new offices, situated in the most important points of the Maritime Provinces.

The Halifax Banking Company has been incorporated since 1872, and has at present a paid-up capital of $600,000. Its deposits are about $4,000,000, and its total assets about $6,000,000. The prestige which this amalgamation will give to the Canadian Bank of Commerce, with its present $8,000,000 of paid-up capital, to be further augmented at the general meeting in April to $10,000,000, must materially strengthen its already very sound position. It is only about a year ago since the Canadian Bank of Commerce absorbed the Bank of British Columbia, which coupled with its more recent acquisition, justifies the congratulations of its friends. The Peterborough branch, presided over by Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, has built up a sound and remunerative business.

AN EXCURSION.

Farmers' Institute to Run an Excursion to Ottawa.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held on Saturday last that the date for the annual meeting might be fixed and also to discuss the advisability of running an excursion to Ottawa this coming summer.

Mr. E. M. Elliot, the President, was in the Chair, and there were present Messrs. Hanbidge, Bennett, T. D. Young, Fitzgerald, Davidson, Mann, Galvin, McGregor and Wm. Collins, Secretary-Treasurer.

It was decided on motion that the annual meeting be held on Saturday, June 6th.

The benefits of a visit to the Government farm at Ottawa were discussed and on motion it was decided that the Institute run an excursion thither on a date to be fixed by the annual meeting, and that the Institutes of East Peterborough and East Durham be invited to join.

The meeting then adjourned.

Dr. Robinson, V.S., of Peterborough, passed through the village on Monday on his way to Ennismore.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heard, who drove down to Port Hope to visit the latter's parents, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kelly, who went down to Perth to attend their son's wedding, remained a few days visiting friends, and returned home on Saturday.

Mr. William O'Leary, who had the contract of building the new pier, has it about completed. He has rushed the work along at a rapid rate, and will have it finished in about half the time the contract called for.

Mr. John Pope has sold his house and lot at the school house near Peterborough to Mr. Crough, of Ennismore. Mr. Crough after making some improvements will reside there himself.

Mr. Geo. Bell and Mr. Wm. King, state positively they saw a robin two weeks ago. These are both reliable gentlemen and never make any false statements, but in this case we have our doubts. It must have been a woodpecker.

Now that Cressman's fire sale is over, would it not be wise for the old woman to remain home for a day and cook one straight meal for the old man who has to foot the bill for the pile of remnants that she has carefully gathered together during the past ten days.

Mr. G. H. Brown, of Chemong Park Hotel, has already received a number of enquiries as to accommodation for the coming summer. Mr. Brown anticipates a big season for 1903. He already has 800 blocks of ice in cold storage and no doubt will endeavour to keep his guests cool during the hot weather.

Wm. Mann, who has charge of the chopping department at W. B. Kelly & Sons' mill, has had to increase his staff of assistants, as they are running day and night to fill orders. Mr. Mann says he took in 695 bags on Wednesday last. One man came in with 50 bags from between Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon, as he stated to a business man in the village, he could get better work done here than Bobcaygeon.

Mr. Wm. King, who has been engaged with his team on the new pier, came nearly loosing a valuable horse on Monday of last week, caused by by driving too close to the pier. At this point the ice has been cut out some three or four feet from the pier. This is where the animal dropped in. Had it not been for Aaron Coones and Pete Morrison, assisted by Mr. King himself, the horse would have met a watery grave. Mr. King wishes to thank these gentlemen through the press for the assistance they rendered him in his difficulty.

The residents of the village were aroused from their peaceful slumbers last Monday night at about 7.30 by a number of sleigh loads which at the time were supposed to be the Chemong Indians returning home from Hiawatha, where they were having a pow-wow, but on making enquiry it turned out to be a number of young folks from Lakefield who were on their way to Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Telford's, across the lake, and were just taking in the sights of the village. As none of the party were sure as to where Mr. Telford lived, they were pointed out the light across the lake, and directed to go straight across. However, they got on the wrong road and after driving out of their course some three miles had to treek back, arriving at their destination at midnight but they were a jolly crowd and did not object to the extra sleigh ride through Ennismore.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

A New, Effectual and Convenient Cure for Catarrh.

Of catarrh remedies there is no end, but of catarrh cures there has always been a great scarcity. There are many remedies to relieve but very few that really cure.

The old practice of snuffing salt water through the nose would often relieve, and the washes, douches, powders and inhalers in common use are very little, if any better, than the old fashioned salt water douche.

The use of inhalers, and the application of salves, washes and powders to the nose and throat to cure catarrh is no more reasonable than to rub the back to cure kidney disease. Catarrh is just as much a blood disease as kidney trouble or rheumatism and it can not be cured by local treatment any more than they can be.

To cure catarrh, whether in the head, throat or stomach, an internal antiseptic treatment is necessary to drive the catarrhal poison out of the blood and system, and the new catarrh cure is designed on this plan, and the remarkable success of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is because being used internally, it drives out catarrhal infection through action upon stomach, liver and bowels.

Wm. Zimmerman, of St. Joseph, relates an experience with Catarrh which is of value to millions of catarrh sufferers everywhere. He says: "I neglected a slight nasal catarrh until it gradually extended to my throat and bronchial tubes, and finally even my stomach and liver became affected, but as I was able to keep up and do a day's work I let it run along until my hearing began to fail me and then I realized that I must get rid of catarrh or lose my position, as I was clerk in a store and my hearing was absolutely necessary.

"Some of my friends recommended an inhaler, another a catarrh salve, but they were no good in my case, nor was any thing else until I hear of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and bought a package at my drug-store. They benefitted me from the start and in less than three months I was completely cured of catarrh, although I had suffered nearly all my life from it."

They are pleasant to take, and so much more convenient to use than any other catarrh remedies that I feel that I cannot say enough in favour of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets."

Furniture Prices Go Up.

Toronto, March 5.—Four-fifths of the furniture manufacturers of the province have signed a circular advancing the price of furniture to retailers 10 per cent., dating from Feb. 26. The cause of the rise is stated to be the advance in price of lumber, trimmings, hardware, and mirror plates. Quarter-cut oak has risen from $60 to $80 per thousand in the last two months, and other grades of wood have gone up in proportion.

A Prominent Contractor and Builder Writes About Malt Breakfast Food

He Says:

"I Tried all Other Advertised Cereal Foods but I did not Derive a Particle of Good From Their Use."

Mr. N. L. Whitcomb, Contractor and Builder and one of the most prominent residents of Dunham, Que., writes as follows:—

"For over two years your Malt Breakfast Food has been regularly used in my home. As far as I am personally concerned, it has been a blessing to me. Before its introduction in our family I suffered very much from indigestion and stomach derangements. The torture at times was almost more than I could bear. Doctors could do nothing more than give me temporary relief. I tried all the other advertised foods, but did not derive a particle of good from their use. After the use of Malt Breakfast Food my troubles are almost banished, and digestion and health very much improved. My family would not give up the use of Malt Breakfast Food for any consideration. I gladly recommend it as a delicious and health-giving food."

SUGAR BEETS.

A Meeting That was Held on the 4th Line, Smith.

On Friday evening, Feb. 27th a meeting was held at the Temperance Hall on the 4th line of Smith in the interests of the Sugar Beet Industry and although the night was very wet yet a good number were present and showed great interest in the discussion.

The Chair was very ably filled by Mr. Thos. Young, of Smith, and Mr. Fred. G. Koenig, of Marine City, Mich., Mr. Thos. Hunter, County Councillor, for Smith, Ennismore and North Monaghan, and Dr. W. H. Jeffs were the speakers.

The subject was treated by Mr. Koenig and Dr. Jeffs on the same lines as heretofore reported. They urged the farmers to grow beets for the money that was in it and not to help the factory. They were asked to treat it as a business proposition and establish for themselves in the Town of Peterborough, a market where there would be an unlimited demand for sugar beets at a price where there would be good money for raising them.

Mr. T. M. Hunter said he was very anxious to see the factory built in Peterborough. The location was all that could be desired. He wanted all present to grow sugar beets and thus do their share towards establishing a factory. There was not a man in the country but would like to see the best sugar factory in operation but some would prefer waiting to see what their neighbour made by growing beets. The way to insure the success of the enterprise was for every one to grow from three to five acres of beets. He then explained the great feeding qualities of the pulp for feeding purposes. There was more sugar left in the pulp than there was in turnips or mangolds.

Mr. Jas. Middleton, who is looking after acreage agreements read the list of names of farmers in Smith who had already agreed to grow beets most of them he expected to double their acreage. He read out the names of between twenty and thirty men who had already agreed to grow sugar beets.

THOUSANDS LISTEN

To the Strange Tale of Mrs. James Bradley—What Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets did for Her.

"No tongue can tell what I have suffered." So writes Mrs. Jas. Bradley, of Smith's Cove, Digby Co., N.S. And when it is explained that Dyspepsia caused her suffering, thousands of Canadians will echo, "That's true, sure enough." Those thousands have Dyspepsia themselves, and they know.

But let these thousands listen to the whole of Mrs. Bradley's story, and if they profit by it as they should, they will stop moaning over Dyspeptic pains and turn instead to singing the praises of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I had Dyspepsia for over nine years," says Mrs. Bradley. "I have tried the best doctors in this place, and never got relief. I had to starve myself from eating and had given up hope of ever having any help. No tongue can tell what I suffered. I cannot describe it. I saw an advertisement of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and sent for six boxes of them. They relieved me almost at once and before I had finished the six boxes I could eat almost anything and sleep comfortably, which I never expected to do in this world.

"I advise all who suffer as I have to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and never to be without them."

VIGOUROUS AT EIGHTY-THREE.

Mr. Jas. Walker Attributes his Good Health to Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

They Cured Him of Swelling of the Limbs, Urinary Troubles and Violent Backache.

Those who desire a hale and hearty old age, full of vim and vigour and freedom from kidney ailments, should take Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. It is simply wonderful how they allay the irritation of the urinary passages, render unnecessary the frequent rising at night, and give healthful vigour to the whole system. Many old people write and tell us that they feel ten years younger since taking the Tablets.

Mr. Jas. Walker, whose address is Sheldon, Iowa, U.S.A., is one of the old folks who is enthusiastic about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. Just read what he says, and write him for further particulars if you like:

"Along last September I began to be troubled with my urine. It gave me pain at times, and I had to go quite often, sometimes having to rise out of bed four or five times during the night. I had a great thrist and a violent headache. My limbs swelled to twice their natural size, and my appetite left me.

"I happened to get an Ontario paper, the Lindsay Post, and saw there that Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets were highly spoken of. I determined to try them and after using them for one week I got great relief. The pain left my back and I did not need to get up so often during the night. I continued their use and the results have been wonderful for a man of my age, 83. I am not bothered with that terrible thirst, my appetite is good, and the swelling has left my limbs, and I can tell you that the Tablets have proved a great boon to me. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way you choose, as what I say is the truth."

(Signed) "Jas. Walker."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50 cents a bottle, or 3 for $1.25, at druggists, or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

STRIKES OF A DAY.

The Bottlers in Hiram Walker & Sons' Distillery Have Gone Out—Strike News From Other Points.

Windsor, March 5.—Hiram Walker & Sons', Limited, distillery, at Walkerville, is tied up on account of a strike in the bottling department. Sixty hands, including thirty girls, quit work yesterday afternoon, and there are no goods whatever being bottled. The men are being paid $1.25 for a ten-hour day and demand $1.50 for a day of like length.

The scale demanded was presented to the firm yesterday, but owing to the absence from town of one of the principal members, the management deferred giving a definite answer and asked the strikers to wait until the absent member returned.

The strikers refused to wait until a settlement could be arranged, demanding an immediate accession to their request, and the strike was consequently declared. The cessation of work in the bottling department effectually ties up a greater part of the big distillery.

The strike has lasted six weeks.

SEEK SEVERAL SUBSIDIES.

Several Good Things the St. John Board of Trade Is After.

St. John, March 5.—The Board of Trade yesterday, adopted a report of its council deciding to recommend to the Dominion Government the continuance of the existing subsidies to the lines of steamers running from St. John to the United Kingdom, West Indies and South Africa, and also to the steamers running to Grand Manan and the Basin of Minas. Also to recommend an additional subsidy of $750 per trip for the St. John-Glasgow service for ten extra trips for the winter season of 1903-1904, making that service weekly, instead of fortnightly, and making the total subsidy of that service $15,000, instead of $7,500, as at present. They have further decided to recommend a subsidy of $10,000 by the Dominion Government and $8,000 by the Province for the St. John, Halifax via Yarmouth and the South Shore, Nova Scotia ports service.

A LITERARY MEETING

Given by the Ladies' Reading Circle of St. Peter's T. A. S.

A Literary meeting of a very interesting nature was held last evening by the Ladies' Reading Circle of St. Peter's T.A.S. The same enthusiasm which has marked these meetings throughout the season, was again evidenced by the large audience assembled in the Lecture Hall to hear an essay on "Gray" by Miss Louise Sullivan.

Miss Sullivan presented to her audience an excellent and most interesting paper on "The Life and Works of Thomas Gray." Her introduction consisted of a clear and broad explanation of poetry in its almost every sense. She dwelt at some length on various poets until the time of Gray was reached, and showed him greatly in advance of his time, and in rank as a poet, also in advance of many who were considered poets of high standing.

Miss Sullivan took up and carefully reviewed the work of the poet, Gray, but dwelt particularly on his well known and much-admired "Elegy." On the whole, the paper was highly appreciated by all who heard it and Miss Sullivan was warmly applauded at the conclusion of her reading.

A short, but very interesting address was also made by Rev. Dr. O'Brien.

Miss Susie Kelly occupied the chair and presented the following pleasing programme:

Vocal solo ..... Miss A. Simons
Instrumental duet ... The Misses Dorris
Vocal solo ..... Mr. Frank Pope
Dialogue, "The Love of a Bonnet" ... Several young ladies

Particulars concerning the next Literary evening will appear later.

MILITARY ETIQUETTE.

A Clause of Militia Act That Sometimes Handicaps Officers.

Regarding the letters which appeared in the local press recently in which the management of the 57th Regiment was critized, it has been asked why the officers of the Regiment do not reply to the said letters. The following extract from the Rules and Regulations of the Militia Act, speaks for itself:

247:—If officers, non-commissioned officers or men, have any complaint or accusation to bring against a superior or other officer, such complaint must be forwarded through the complainant's Commanding Officer, who will transmit the same with his remarks through the District Officer Commanding, for consideration at Head Quarters if necessary. It cannot be permitted that they shall bring accusations against superior officers or comrades before the tribunal of public opinion, either by speech or letters inserted in any newspaper; such a proceeding would be in glaring violation of the rules of military discipline, and in contempt of authority.

INTERESTING LENTEN SERMON

Was Last Night Delivered by Rev. Dr. Symonds

At St. John's Church—Large Congregation Heard The Former Rector of St. Luke's, Ashburnham.

A large number of people attended Divine service at St. John's church last night, many making a special effort to attend, no doubt in anticipation of the sermon which was given by Rev. Dr. Symonds, formerly rector of St. Luke's, Ashburnham, now headmaster of Trinity College School, Port Hope.

The special Lenten service was conducted by Rev. J. C. Davidson, and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt.

Rev. Dr. Symonds preached on "The Law of Religious Development."

In the course of his remarks he said the religion of the Jews was one of sacrifice. If a man did wrong he brought God a sacrifice; if he received some blessing, he also brought God a sacrifice. The religion of the Jews is the outward observance — every detail is laid down — the animal, its age, sex, the manner and time in which it has to be offered, and many other things—these were all set down and observed. Thus it can be seen that the religion of the Jews was purely ritual. The Jews had no true belief; they did not know right from wrong, excepting the disobedience to the rules of their religion. The religion of the Israelits was an outward and visible one—was one graven on stone, but not on the heart. The commencement and growth of Christianity in England, brought different results—it brought thoughts of right and wrong. People used to gather together to praise God; they had no temples or altars, but simply assembled to worship one common God. During the "babyhood" of true Christianity, some considerable controversy as to what one should believe rose amongst men of all classes. This period of thought as to the mysteries of Christianity lasted through the Middle Ages. As this time there was a creed—a creed is more tangible than a sacrifice—so that it can readily be seen that this second state of religion was far better than the first. The third form of religion is spiritual religion, which is brought to light in the New Testament. In the teachings of our Lord, whose teaching was not primarily dogmatic, there was no doctrine set down; Christ aimed at true inward disposition and character. Religion is not simply the performance of duty, but it is the earnest love of the good, and true, and beautiful. The spiritual religion is one in which our spirit communes with the spirit of God, and it is this that marked the religion of love. Creeds are useful, but dogmatic religion is one of the past. Religion has grown from the material to the intellectual; from the intellectual to the spiritual, which latter is the religion of the day.

HOW THE BELLEVILLES FEEL

Of Course the O. H. A. is Most Unjust.

Claim That Their Team is a Credit to Their City—McGuire's Hair.

(Belleville Intelligencer)

Well, the expected happened last night, and Belleville got it where Mary wore the beads. The O.H.A. executive disqualified Marks and ordered the last game between Belleville and the Marlboros to be played over again in Peterborough. And so ends about as shabby a piece of business as any alleged amateur organization was ever mixed up with. The President of the Marlboros had two sons playing on that team. He could not stand to see his dear boys get whipped, so by the judicious use of a few dollars, it is alleged, evidence was procured — not very good evidence of course, but good enough to satisfy the O.H.A.—and the most dangerous opponents of the pretty little Marlboros, though not disqualified, are handicapped by having a game they fairly won thrown out, their forward line broken up, and the old cheery confidence which has helped them along all season completely shattered—for what if they did win the remaining games? The O.H.A. executive might meet in solemn conclave and award the championship to the Marlboros, because "Dike" McGuire had had his hair cut!

It is an unsatisfactory ending to a brilliant season, but people in this city would rather see the boys cut themselves lose from the O.H.A. than submit to injustice! Far better for a club to lose every game played than to squeal like a pig under a gate, like the Marlboros did, and do the baby act. From start to finish the Red and White Boys have given their fellow citizens reason to be proud of them; their victories have been fairly earned, and their only defeat was taken in a manly way, which might well be copied by the tin horn sports of Toronto. Well, we've had a pretty good season, and have seen hockey played as it was never played in this city before. We shall always think that had the the lads been given fair treatment they would have captured the blue ribbon. Whoever gets the championship this year won't be able to do much crowing for they will know in their hearts that down here in Belleville was a team that could trim them all if it had received fair play. The Marlboros are welcome to their record. It's a fly-blown one anyhow!

The Toronto people need not fret about the soft ice worrying their pets. They can have the championship so far as Belleville is concerned. Ninety-nine out of every hundred people in the city say "Let the babies have it," and the hockey boys have fallen in with their view. The team will not go to Peterborough, not that they are afraid of the result, but because, by playing the last game over again they would practically admit that the O.H.A. was justified in its action, whilst being nobody in this neck of the woods is prepared to do.

The fine weather calls for a new purse and a new shopping bag. You will get the best value in 25c and 50c lines at Sailsbury's. Their new lines are marvellous value.

WILL PLAY IN LINDSAY.

T. A. S. and Norwood Teams are now a Tie.

Special Train to Lindsay To-morrow Night—Norwood Defeated Fenelon Last Night.

HOCKEY.

The match between Fenelon and Norwood, which was played last night resulted in a victory for the latter team, the score being 7 to 5; this leaves the T.A.S. of Peterborough and Norwood a tie in the championship of the Trent Valley League. Although the Executive of the Trent Valley League a few weeks ago decided that the match should be played in Lindsay in order that the ice might be neutral, the Norwood team expressed a willingness to play in the Brock street rink, Peterborough. The T. A. S., however, preferred to have the match played in Lindsay according to the original agreement, and arrangements to that effect have been made, and the tie will be broken in the Sengog Town to-morrow night. There can be no doubt that the ice in Lindsay will be in poor condition, but the season is getting late and a postponement of the match, it is thought, would not result in any better arrangement.

The T.A.S. boys are quite confident of winning out and will go to Lindsay to-morrow night per special train, supported by a large following. The Norwood men arrived in Lindsay this morning from Fenelon and will remain there until after the match, to-morrow night, having a little work out on the Lindsay ice to-day.

The match will be refereed by Mr. Roy D. Schooley, of Osgood Hall, Toronto, who gave such excellent satisfaction as referee in the match between these two teams in Norwood a few nights ago. The outcome of the match is arousing much interest.

The Trent Valley Series this year has spun out to a considerable length owing to the manner in which the schedules were drawn up, namely, with a view of giving as many home matches as possible, to every club in the League.

To-morrow night's match will be the thirty-third that has been played in the Trent Valley League during the present season.

Norwood has been a runner-up in the Trent Valley League for three years, having been defeated by Campbellford one year, and by Fenelon during the past two years in their efforts to carry off the championship. This is the first year of the T.A.S. in the league.

CURLING.

MATCHES POSTPONED.

The Shepard-Neill Cup Contest, between Orillia and Peterborough, which was to have been played to-day, has been postponed. It will be remembered that four Peterborough rinks were to have to Orillia, and in turn four rinks from the latter town were to have visited Peterborough. The ice in the Orillia rink is reported to be worse than the ice in the Charlotte street rink.

CRICKET.

WIDENING THE CREASE.

To next week's "King" an interesting article is being contributed by Dr. W. G. Grace, who deals with the widening of the wicket and the alteration of rules. "There is danger," writes Dr. Grace, "in altering the rules and implements which have been in use so long, and have helped to raise the game to such a height of popularity. Certainly no change should be made unless the proposed one is first given a good trial." On the question on the width of bats, he remarks how strange it is that the authorities should have allowed bats to be wider than the rule allows. This rule, he says, will now be enforced and the players will have to use bats of proper width. Dr. Grace further believes that we have heard the end of the "lbw" question for 20 years.

Scores of Uses.

It is invaluable in every home and as a soothing and healing application knows no equal.

PETERBOROUGH ADVERTISED

By the American Cereal Company, of Town.

What a Prominent Trade Journal of the United States has to Say.

Perhaps the great majority of the people of Peterborough have little idea of the great advertising medium the American Cereal Company is to the town of Peterborough. However in trade journals throughout the American Union the Quaker Oats Firm is spreading the fame of Peterborough as a manufacturing centre. An instance of this is in a prominent journal published at Chicago in the interests of the grain trade, in which a handsome large photogravure appears of the American Cereal Company's elevator at Peterborough, Ontario, Canada. Concerning the Peterborough plant the journal says:

The familiar figure of the benevolent old Quaker gentleman with a package in his hand and an oatmeal expression in his smile has invaded Canada. This refined and sanctimonious old scion of Philadelphian gentility has dammed the Otonabee River at Peterborough, Ont., built a million dollars' worth of mills and other things, is preparing to pump ten thousand electrical horsepower from the locked up waters through the mills and into the boro and scatter his illumined packages to the furthermost confines of the earth.

The erection of a grain elevator was an important factor in this scheme. He wanted a place to store, for his own convenience, 500,000 bushels for the first installment. He got that; and now he wants a million and a half more.

The building illustrated herewith was designed and erected by the Macdonald Engineering Company, Chicago, for that purpose. It is a wooden structure, covered with galvanized corrugated iron above the first story, which is enclosed with brick walls. The cupola has the appearance of a somewhat stunted growth, as measured by the standard type of elevator cupola. This arises from the fact that the weighing is all done on the ground level by means of three 80-ton track scales, located in the receiving track, which passes through the house. There being no hoppers or garners in the cupola, the height required is only for direct spouting from the elevator heads to the bins.

There are three car receiving legs of 8,000-bushel capacity each, and three legs of 4,000-bushel capacity each for receiving from wagon dumps, located in the driveway shed on the outside of the building. The basement floor of the elevator is ten feet below the track level and affords a roomy operating space for the track scales, elevator boots and a belt conveyor, which travels in either direction the length of the building. The wagon dumps are each set in an 8-ton wagon scale, having the register beam located on the main floor inside of the building. The dumps are operated by a special controllable mechanism and discharge into large dump hoppers, from which the grain is conveyed to the legs by means of screw conveyors.

The first story is a heavy frame of long leaf pine timbers dressed and all painted white. The framework of all floors, walls and roofs is in heavy mill construction with sheathing two inches thick.

The machinery is driven by electric motors, the current being supplied from the company's hydraulic power plant on the premises.

All grain received in the elevator is passed through an elaborate system of cleaning machines located in the brick cleaning house adjacent to the elevator, and is consumed in the manufacture of the company's cereal products.

WEDDED IN PERTH.

Mr. W. S. Kelly, of Bridgenorth, Joined Benedicts.

The Perth Courier contains the following:—

"A quiet, but very pretty wedding ceremony took place last (Wednesday) evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Foster street, when Miss Harriet May, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Jaques, was united in holy wedlock to Western Smyth Kelly, of Bridgenorth, near Peterborough.

The bride entered the drawing room, which was gaily bedecked in flowers, leaning on the arm of her father, at eight o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's favourite march played by Miss Jean Scott, and in the presence of relatives and close friends, was united to the man of her choice by the Rev. W. Timberlake.

The bride was prettily sweet in a gown of white crepe de chine. The bridesmaid was her cousin, Miss May Killip, of Picton, while Mr. Noble Kelly supported his brother. Miss Killip was becomingly attired in fawn over pink.

The ceremony over, a wedding feat was served, and the couple received the sincere wishes for a happy married life.

The bride is a well known and estimable young lady of Perth, and the attractive array of useful and costly presents spoke very plainly of the esteem in which she is held.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly left on the midnight express for their new home amid the general rejoicing. The bride's going away gown being of navy blue."

Mr. Kelly is a son of Mr. W. B. Kelly, of Bridgenorth, and a member of the well known firm of Messrs. W. B. Kelly & Sons, of that place. He is well and favourably known to a large circle of friends, all of whom will join with the Examiner in extending their best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly will reside in Bridgenorth.

POLICE COURT.

At the Police Court to-day before Police Magistrate Dumble, Peter Reed was charged with vagancy. In answer to the charge, the accused said that he was not a vagrant, but was making his way to Carelton where he could find work. The Police Magistrate warned him that he would be sent to prison if he did not get out of town to-day.

THE LACROSSE OUTLOOK.

Athletics Organize To-morrow Night.

Campbellford to Have a Strong Team—Belleville Talking Lacrosse.

The lacrosse season will soon be upon us and if Peterborough intends to place a team in the C.L.A. it is time there was something doing in that direction. The probabilities are, however, that there will be at least two good teams in Peterborough, the T.A.S. and Athletics. It is semi-officially given out that the Y. M.C.A. will not have a team this season. During the past eight months there has been, it is said, a number of excellent players locate in town who may be prevailed upon to join the Peterborough teams.

The Athletics, last year's champions of the City League, have called their organization meeting for to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock, at the Y.M.C.A. The boys hope that there will be a good large attendance. The T.A.S. men have not as yet given out the date of thir annual meeting, but will no doubt be heard from as soon as they get their hockey season over. Belleville, Port Hope, Oshawa and other towns are talking the game and a strong district may be formed of clubs from these towns. Of course in Peterborough the old matter of grounds may have to be contended with, although the Turf Club have given out that they purpose fixing up suitable grounds for athletic sports.

The Port Hope Club will hold its reorganisation meeting to-night. Concerning a district of Oshawa, Port Hope and Belleville the Toronto Telegram says:—

Manager Baker, of Oshawa, is angered that anyone should think he would gather in players from Peterborough. He wants Peterborough in the district, and truly, as he suggests, a district made up of Port Hope, Oshawa, Belleville and Peterborough would furnish a lot of good lacrosse.

The Belleville Intelligencer adds:—

Belleville could enter a team which would make good in that district, and as the O.H.A. would have nothing to do with it they might be reasonably sure of an even break. No time should be lost in looking into the matter. The C.L.A. annual meeting is on Good Friday.

It is announced that Campbellford will have a strong team this season. Mr. Ed. Crowe, of Campbellford, stated to an Examiner representative a few days ago that they would make matters interesting in lacrosse circles this summer. He also expressed the opinion that Campbellford would like to see a Trent Valley Lacrosse League formed. During the past few months several good players have located in Campbellford, the new shoe factory giving employment to a number of hands. Handley, formerly of the Torontos, will play with Campbellford twelve.

The Hastings Star, speaking of the outlook in that town says:—The members of the lacrosse team met on Monday evening to talk over the prospects of having a team here during the coming season. It was decided to hold a meeting in the Oddfellows House on Friday evening at 8 o'clock, to which all are invited, especially those who so ably assisted the boys last year. The financial statement showed that the club [illegible] for the first time in several years the club has a surplus [illegible] the boys organize on Friday night for the coming season they will likely enter a league, and we believe if there is a Trent Valley League it will be their choice.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Subjects Under Discussion at the Peterborough Board of Trade.

The following is the annual report of Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine, secretary of the Peterborough Board of Trade, which was presented at Tuesday night's meeting.

Mr. President and Gentlemen, —

I have the honour to submit to you as secretary, the fourteenth annual report of this Board.

SOME HORRIBLE DISCLOSURES

Made in Rochester Papers on Small-pox Booth.

Utter Neglect of Patients on the Part of Physicians and Nurses.

A little over a year ago Peterborough was treated to a small-pox scare and the prompt measures taken by the authorities to stamp out the contagion may be worthy of attention as compared with the means employed in other places.

The Rochester Union and Advertiser relates some awful stories of alleged neglect in that city. It is the rule and not the exception for filth and vermin to exist in the booths occupied by the small-pox patients, and the carelessness of the attendants was extreme.

The following are some of the sworn statements made by patients at the Rochester hospital:

"The booth I was in," said the patient, "was cleaned by us once. There was a little girl named Edna Bond in the booth, and she got so dirty that her hair was matted, and the doctor ordered it cut off. I took care of her at times, but she got little attention from the nurses. Another girl got vermin in her hair, and she asked the nurse for five days to do something for her, and she failed to do it until the end of the fifth day. I thought Dr. Barron was foolish. He used to come in and say, 'Good morning, Carrie.' He used to say to Lizzie Doud, 'How is my fair-haired juicy Lizzie to-day?' He appeared to be foolish to me. I got so sick of eating from dirty dishes that I went out and helped wash and wipe them. The food was not cooked properly, and I lived mostly on milk."

Witness said that she was discharged with her hair wet and it froze going home; she caught a violent cold. She said the closets were filthy. After witness had washed dishes for a while she said she skipped one day, and the head nurse, Mrs. Tangney, said that she must do that to pay for the clothes she would got when released.

Further insight as to the true state of affairs may be obtained from the following:—

"I was discharged and I called up Miss Knowles, a nurse, on the 'phone," said the patient. "I asked about a man from Concord street. She said he was dead. I said: 'What from?' She said: 'You know what was the matter with your feet?' and I said I did. She said: 'He had two places in his head where the worms were working and we did not discover it till after he was dead.'"

While the extreme carelessness of physicians and nurses is shown in the following sworn statement, made at the investigation, which was set of foot:—

"I was not sick while I was there except having caught cold. My vaccination worked, and I still have a bad arm from the exposure. When it rained the water ran through the tent. Dr. Goler promised me he would give me a private tent before I went, but he did not. He put me in with the worst patients. My temperature was normal all the while and I had no sore throat or any of the symptoms. He wanted me to go into a bed a very bad patient was taken from and I refused. The bed was filthy. I was only kept there seven days and I was discharged after dark and had to walk along that river road. The exposure gave me appendicitis. I was not given any clothes, but my brother brought me a few."

It is pleasing to think of the condition of the Peterborough patients after these horrible stories.

An investigation is in progress in Rochester that has startled the entire city.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

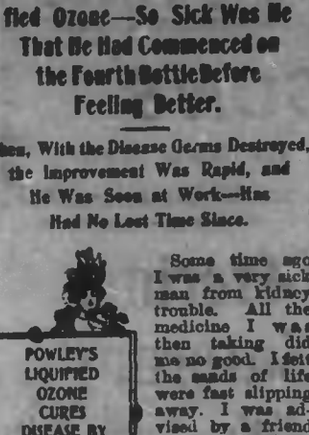
William Appleton Tried Drug Preparations That Did Him No Good and the Sands of His Life Were Fast Slipping Away.

A Friend Advised Powley's Liquified Ozone—So Sick Was He That He Had Commenced on the Fourth Bottle Before Feeling Better.

Then, With the Disease Germs Destroyed, the Improvement Was Rapid, and He Was Seen at Work—Has Had No Last Time Since.

Some time ago I was a very sick man from kidney trouble. All the medicine I was then taking did me no good. I felt the sands of life were fast slipping away. I was advised by a friend to try Powley's Liquified Ozone, as it had raised him from a very serious sickness into perfect health. My wife at once purchased a bottle, when I commenced taking your remedy. I was very much run down at this time. I had used three 50c. bottles and commenced the fourth before I began to feel the benefit. But from the fourth bottle I mended fast, my cough left me and my energy returned. I began work again and have been working ever since. I have the greatest confidence in your remedy and feel that I cannot afford to be without a bottle in our house all the time. You are at liberty to publish this for the benefit of other sufferers.

WM. APPLETON,
67 Stafford street, Toronto.



The Strongest Proof Is Home Proof.

Has it ever occurred to you in reading Ozone advertisements that the proof we furnish as to the remarkable curative qualities of Powley's Liquified Ozone is of the strongest possible kind? Never has a remedy been so enthusiastically endorsed by such a great number of people, but the best of the proof we furnish is that it is not from a man in Maine or a woman in Mexico, but from people right at home. In cases of kidney trouble our home proof is particularly strong. By destroying the disease germs that cause the trouble Ozone effects cures when drug preparations have proved entirely worthless.

The following are brief extracts from the statements of other persons who have been cured:

WM. FLETCHER,

Erindale, Ont., says: "For about two years I suffered from kidney disease and finally became so ill that my doctor advised me that if I had any business to settle that I had better have it attended to. Fully expecting to die I had him draw up my will. About this time Mr. Connover, a neighbor, recommended Powley's Liquified Ozone. I felt better after taking the second dose and after taking five bottles was entirely cured. Although 73 years of age I am so well that I can do a good amount of work and feel that I am good for at least ten years to come."

W. A. PRIMEAU,

Chatham, Ont., says: "For six months I was much troubled with my kidneys, during which time I tried a number of medicines supposed to cure kidney trouble, but derived no benefit from any of them. A friend advised me to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I soon found it to be just what I required and in a short time was in fine working condition, with every trace of the disease gone."

WALTER RAINE,

city traveller for the Hough Lithographing Co., Toronto, says: "For some time I was troubled with kidney disease, which I believe was fast developing into Bright's disease. I also had rheumatism in my shoulders and knees and my digestion was far from good. I tried Powley's Liquified Ozone. The first bottle helped me and I continued taking it until I had taken four bottles, when every symptom of my old ailments was gone. I now keep Ozone in the house and find it an excellent remedy for any sickness that we may have."

Powley's Liquified Ozone is sold only by reliable dealers—never by peddlers. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Our booklet on kidney trouble and rheumatism mailed free on receipt of name and address.

HIS BRIGHT FUTURE.

Hon. William Paterson's Admirable Eulogy of Mr. Grant.

THE REDISTRIBUTION BILL.

Government to Introduce One at the Coming Session—Minister of Customs Hopes Government Will Be Able to Do a Little Fairer Than the Iniquity of 1892 — Question of Preference.

Uxbridge, March 5.—It is generally known that the bounds of North Ontario are somewhat vague. The constituency borders on North York, East York, West Ontario, South Ontario, West Victoria, Muskoka, East Simcoe, and the Trent Valley Canal, and so confusing is its construction that an occasional meeting, in the hurly-burly of a campaign, loses its way, and turns up in another constituency altogether. Uxbridge is a mile and a half south of the Township of Scott, one of the outlying portions of North Ontario. Yet last night the second meeting during this North Ontario campaign was held in the bright little music hall here. One of Mr. Foster's meetings strayed in here a few weeks ago, and last night a Liberal meeting, possibly in search of the Foster expedition, was held, and it must be said that for a vagrant meeting it was a great success.

Hon. Wm. Paterson was the principal speaker of the evening, his supporters being Mr. R. M. Noble and Mr. Duncan Marshall.

A Bright Candidate.

Mr. Paterson was given a flattering reception. In speaking of the nominations, Mr. Paterson said that in the many years he had been in public life he had never been in a county where a candidate, running for the first time, seemed to have such a grasp of public questions, and who could discourse upon them in such a pleasant and happy manner as Mr. Grant. "He will undoubtedly be," he said, "if I am any judge, a bright member of the House of Commons if the people of North Ontario send him there."

He cleared up some points made obscure by the Conservative leader at the nominations. The Liberals had undertaken to reduce the rate of taxation, and had done so to a very material extent. With increased population and increased wealth there was increased revenue, and yet the factories were busier than ever before.

A redistribution bill was promised, and this year it would be introduced, and he hoped that the Government would be able to do something a little fairer than the iniquity of 1892.

He made eloquent reference to the effect of the preferential tariff on the feeling of the British people towards Canada, and upon Canada's exports to Britain.

Mr. Paterson sketched rapidly many other advantages conferred on the people of Canada by the Liberal Government, including the creation of the Department of Labor, the assistance to the Pacific cable, and the assistance given to Canada. He asked the electors to support Mr. Grant, who, he said, was a brilliant young man, evidently of independent views, but of views in harmony with the views of the Government, and closed with an eloquent peroration on the brilliant prospects of the Canadian nation.

Mr. Borden at Bracebridge.

Bracebridge, March 5. — The Conservative leader's first appearance in Bracebridge attracted an audience which filled the Town Hall to its utmost capacity. He appealed to the electors of North Ontario to elect Mr. Foster, if for no other reason than that, owing to illness, for the first time in his political history that gentleman was unable to be on the ground and fight for himself. Mr. Borden also dealt with the cry that Mr. Foster is a non-resident.

Banquet at Whitby.

Whitby, March 5.—R. L. Borden, leader of the opposition in the Dominion House, will be banquetted here by the Conservative Association of South Ontario on March 28.

LIBERAL ELECTED.

Mr. Mayrand Returned by Acclamation in Maskinonge, Que.

Montreal, March 5.—In the County of Maskinonge, Que., Hormisdas Mayrand, Liberal, was elected by acclamation to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the appointment of Mr. Legris to the Senate.

Five Days Overdue.

Halifax, N. S., March 5.—The Allan Line steamer Numidian, which left Liverpool on Feb. 19, with the British mails and passengers, has not yet arrived. The steamer is now five days overdue, and it is very doubtful if she will be able to make the run from this port to St. John and return in time to take the mails on Monday. There is much unfavorable comment here on the slowness of the service.

Two Fishers Drowned.

Halifax, March 5.—Two fishermen were drowned on Saturday while lobstering about five miles from their home at Terrence Bay, in this county. They were Fred Little and Albert Jollimore, 23 and 18 years of age, respectively. Their boat with reefed sail was caught in a squall and upset, and was found on the shore Tuesday.

An Equal Safety.

An Irish clergyman during his first curacy found the ladies of the parish too helpful. He soon left the place. One day thereafter he met his successor.

"How are you getting on with the ladies?" asked the escaped curate.

"Oh, very well," was the answer "There's safety in numbers."

"I found it in Exodus," was the quick reply.

GRAIN GROWERS UNITE.

Manitoba Farmers Organize to Have the Law Enforced.

Winnipeg, March 5.—Three hundred farmers from all over Manitoba met at Brandon Tuesday and formed a Provincial Grain Growers' Association, on the lines of the Territorial Association. The object is to have the transportation system improved and the Grain Act enforced and to secure changes therein, giving the farmers a fair share of cars.

President Motherwell of the Territorial Grain Growers' addressed the meeting, saying that only sixty-seven cars arrived at Sintaluta during the first two months of the grain season, of which the farmers got seven cars. Since the agent had been convicted and fined for not carrying out the Grain Act the farmers at Sintaluta had got ninety cars in three weeks.

COSTLY GAME OF WAR.

South African Contingent Cost Canada Almost $3,000,000 and 224 Men.

The sending of the Canadian division South African Constabulary, the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles to South Africa and the 3rd R. C. R. to Halifax cost Canada $2,928,954. The total of all ranks was 8,372. Of these 7,368 reached South Africa, where there were 476 casualties, 224 deaths and 252 wounded. Those actually killed numbered 63; 31 died of wounds, 127 succumbed to disease, one was accidentally drowned, and two were reported missing and believed to be dead. Ninety-three per cent. of the deaths from disease were due to fever, Privates O. J. Weaver, C.M.R., and W. Winyard, Royal Canadian Dragoons, are missing.

In the supplementary report of the Militia Department, which contains these facts, there are also some appreciative comments by the Earl of Dundonald upon the soldierly qualities and valour of the 2nd Mounted Rifles, under Col. Evans, the splendid equipment and behaviour of the 10th Field Hospital, under Lieut.-Col. Worthington, and the patriotic spirit of the officers and men of the third, fourth, fifth and sixth regiments, who had no opportunity of being under fire. Lieut. R. H. Ryan tells of the surrender of Delarey and Kemp at Dornscomb, June 15, 1902. Only 12 men, one corporal and one officer of the Staats Artillery, only 12 of the Yarks, formerly a magnificent regiment, and only one officer and six men of Delarey's signaling corps remained.

Blood was Poisoned.

A Happy Cure After Use of Three Bottles of PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND The Spring System Cleanser.

Health is that natural state of the whole body in which the entire nervous system is so perfectly regulated, that it can, without undue effort, perform its almost numberless and all-important duties. The blood as it courses through the body must bear nourishment and life or poisons and death.

In the spring season, thousands around us suffer from various forms of blood diseases, and many are unexpectedly cut down by death.

Your blood is surely filled with waste and poisonous matters when you suffer from boils, pimples, blackheads, eczema, salt rheum, erysipelas or itch. When nerve force is low, when you suffer from insomnia, lassitude or neuralgia, be assured your blood demands purifying and cleansing.

Paine's Celery Compound quickly banishes from the blood all poisons; it supplies the proper elements for enriching the vital fluid, building tissue, and for the general repair of the whole system. Mr. A. E. Hammond, Manonville, Quebec, says:

"I was afflicted with scrofula sores, of which I had five on one leg, and three on the other. These were running sores for four years. With this, I had rheumatism so badly that I could not get out of bed. The use of Paine's Celery Compound was suggested to me. With little faith I commenced its use. To my great surprise I grew better, and by the time I had used three bottles I was as well as ever before, and what I never expected to see was realized, 'the sores on my legs were entirely healed.'"

Turks and Macedonians Fight.

Sofia, March 4.—A collision has taken place between Macedonian revolutionists under the famous leader Boris Sarafoff, and a body of Turkish troops near the village of Vlandinaro. It is reported that ten of the insurgents were killed or wounded, while the loss on the Turkish side was much greater. The revolutionaries succeeded in escaping to the hills.

Irritating Form of Itching Piles

A Source of Continual Worry and Annoyance—Sleep and Rest Impossible Until Relief and Cure Came With the Use of

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

All classes of people are subject to piles, but especially those who are exposed to dampness. Teamsters, farmers, railroad men and labourers suffer greatly from this distressing ailment.

While there are plenty of remedies recommended as a treatment for piles, Dr. Chase's Ointment is the only actual and guaranteed cure. It truly wonderful how the merit of this preparation has become known throughout this continent and Europe.

But when a person has endured the torture of piles, the itching, stinging sensation, the sleepless nights of misery, the annoyance during the day, when going about the daily work, he feels grateful for the relief and cure brought by Dr. Chase's Ointment, and does not forget to recommend it to his friends.

Mr. J. F. Miller, who is employed as cooper by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., states:—"I believe that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the best thing in the world for piles. I say this because it has positively and thoroughly cured me of itching, bleeding piles, and this after all other remedies I could procure had failed. I can recommend this ointment to anyone suffering from piles, knowing that it will certainly cure."

HOW MANY WOMEN HAVE TO DO THIS FROM DAY TO DAY?

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS are a blessing to women in this condition. They cure Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Palpitation of the Heart, Faint and Dizzy Spells, Weakness, Listlessness, and all troubles peculiar to the female sex.

Mrs. James Taylor, Salisbury, N.B., in recommending them says: About eight months ago I was very badly run down, was troubled greatly with palpitation of the heart and would get so dizzy I would have to leave my work and sit down. I seemed to be getting worse all the time, until a friend advised me to try MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS. I can truthfully say that they do all you claim for them, and I can recommend them to all run-down women.

ALASKAN BOUNDARY

MAP THAT SHOWS CLEARLY THE CANADIAN-AMERICAN DISPUTE.

The Point at Issue—No Embarrassing Conditions Imposed by the Treaty Signed by Secretary Hay and Sir Michael Herbert, the British Ambassador—What Mr. Thomas Hodgins, K.C., Said on Receipt of the News.

The accompanying map shows the territory in dispute between Canada and the United States. The numerals (1), (2) and (3) above Lynn Canal indicate the provisional boundary points arranged between the United States and Great Britain in October, 1899, which is the boundary now observed. This provisional boundary is about twenty miles from tidewater, and bars Canada's territorial rights along the upper shores of Lynn Canal. The map very clearly illustrates the point at issue between the two countries, the method of measuring the ten marine leagues inland from the shore. The British contention is that, in accordance with the usage of international law, the line should cut across bays and inlets such as the Lynn Canal. The Americans, on the other hand, claim that the line should follow these indentations of the coast the full ten leagues back. The despatches first published on the news of the treaty having been signed on the 24th January, stated that Skaguay and Dyea were expressly excluded from the present reference, but later Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that the whole question, including the possession of these tidewater settlements, is included in the reference. The map is reproduced from Mr. Thomas Hodgins' pamphlet, "The Alaska-Canada Boundary Dispute."

Mr. Thomas Hodgins, K.C., the author of the brochure mentioned, says:

"The questions to be considered and adjudicated upon by this new arbitral tribunal are purely legal questions which it is contended by both nations have been well-settled by the rules of international law. These questions involve the interpretation to be given to the treaty words 'ocean,' 'coast' and 'summit of the mountains.' And it would seem to be a reasonable inference from the claim recently promulgated by Mr. Ex-Secretary Foster, one of the High Commissioners of the United States, in which he contended that 'Russia was to have a continuous strip of territory around all the inlets and arms of the sea,' that the rules of international law respecting the shore line in front of such inlets did not come up for discussion before the Joint High Commission.

"But this important question, and many others affecting the claims of Britain and Canada, as to the proper rules for running the Alaska boundary lines, were discussed in my short article on the 'Alaska-Canada Boundary Dispute,' published in The Contemporary Review last summer, in which I gave the history of the discussions, and a careful analysis of the treaty; and supported the Canadian claim of boundary by the rules and doctrines of international law enunciated by American authorities and Secretaries of State.

"Credit must also be given to Sir Michael Herbert, the present British Ambassador, for it was he who negotiated the treaty convention of 1892, which it is claimed freed the discussion of the American contention, that Canada and England had stood by while the United States were settling the territory, and had never made any serious effort towards a permanent boundary settlement."

Chilblains.

It is pointed out in T. P.'s Weekly that 99 per cent. of all chilblains are due to avoidable cold in the extremities. With a few exceptions, no man who consistently keeps his limbs warm can possibly suffer from this exasperating ailment. Some people think that chilblains are caused by violent changes from a cold atmosphere to a warm one, and they will advise the sufferer never to go near a hot fire. This is wrong. There are four principal causes of chilblains—cold bedrooms, cold beds, damp boots and thin gloves.—London Globe.

GOOD LIVING

Quite often results in bad health, because what is termed "good living" is usually the gratification of the palate without reference to the nutrition of the body. When the good liver is a business man and rises from a full meal to plunge at once into work requiring mental effort the result is almost sure to be disastrous, because digestion draws upon the same nervous forces which are employed in thought. In time the stomach becomes diseased, the processes of digestion and nutrition are imperfectly performed and there is a physical breakdown.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It eliminates the effete poisonous matter which originates in the system as a consequence of imperfect digestion. It gives sound health to the whole body.

"I wish to say to the world that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has proved a great blessing to me," writes Mrs. Ellen E. Bacon, of Shutesbury, Franklin Co., Mass. "Prior to September, 1897, I had doctored for my stomach trouble for several years, going through a course of treatment without any real benefit. In September, 1898, I had very sick spells and grew worse; could eat but little. I commenced in September, 1897, to take Dr. Pierce's medicine, and in a short time I could eat and work. I have gained twenty pounds in two months."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

TRYING EXPERIENCE.

Ruskville, Ont., March 1st, 1902.—It affords me much pleasure to testify to the excellency of DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP. About a year ago I was attacked by a hacking cough. It was so distressing that I was almost racked to pieces by its violence. I saw DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP highly recommended for coughs like mine, so I purchased a bottle, and it completely cured me. I find it equally beneficial for colds in the head, and any obstruction of the nasal passages. It is an excellent preparation, and too much cannot be said in its favor.—Sadie E. Rusk.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP contains all the essential lung healing principles of the pine tree, and is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pain or Tightness of the Chest, and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

Weight of the Brain.

M. Marchand has investigated the brains of 1,178 persons immediately after death. The weight of the brain is influenced by the disease. Diphtheria, for example, increases the weight. The brains of newborn boys weigh on an average 371 grains, of newborn girls 361. At the end of the first year the figures are: Boys, 967; girls, 893. By the end of the third year the weight of the brain has tripled, and from this epoch it increases very slowly, especially with girls. It attains its greatest weight at about nineteen and one-half years for men and at about seventeen for women.

The average weight of the brain of an adult male is 1,400 grams, of an adult female 1,275 grams. The reduction of weight due to senile atrophy commences with men about the eightieth year, with women about the seventieth year. We may recall for comparison the following facts: The heaviest brain on record is that of the novelist Turgeneff, 2,120 grains. One of the lightest is that of Gambetta, 1,160 grams

The weight of the brain is thus one factor, and only one, in the comparison of different men and of different sexes.

An Editor's Ambition.

We'd rather be a barefooted boy with a healthy appetite and a precarious way of satisfying it, and hunt squirrels and fish for chubs in the little creek, and have to chop the firewood and milk the cows and feed the stock and go to a bed of straw to sleep the sleep of security, exhaustion, and a clear conscience than be the Czar of Russia, feted and worshiped by sycophants behind massed regiments of infantry, at every moment fearful that he may become the victim of a bullet or bomb, or that his august stomach may take in a dose of poison, or that the dagger of a Nihilist may tickle his ribs. Go it, Nicholas! Enjoy, if you can, those French cheers. Few healthy minded lads in this glorious free Canada envy you your lot.—Hamilton Times.

A Sofa Pillow For a Girl's Room.

A Gibson or a Christy girl on a white linen sofa pillow is a dainty addition to a girl's room. The outlined sketch of the head is done in indelible ink, and the pillow cover is made to slip on and off easily. There is rather a full ruffle of the fine linen around the cushion. The same idea can be carried out in any of the soft white silks, but the effect is utterly ruined if any colors are employed.

WILL REMAIN BRITISH.

Why British Columbia Does Not Get Any of the American Settlers.

Some coast newspapers and politicians are talking about the chance of British Columbia getting a share of the United States immigration which is now filling up the Northwest. Under the present regulations this is impossible.

British Columbia is handicapped by the fact that there is no homestead law in this province.

Notwithstanding that seven-eighths of the country is still unceded Crown land, there is not one acre in the whole province open to location for agricultural purposes. The prospective settler must either buy land from some railway or speculative holder or purchase it under the pre-emption provisions from the Government.

As there has never been a comprehensive survey of the province the Government or its agents are totally unable to advise the settler as to where he should go or what he might expect to find.

Moreover, the country has been plastered indiscriminately by railway and other land grants and reserves to such an extent that there is not a Government agent in the province who can tell what land in his district is open to pre-emption and what is held against the settler by corporations. The system of pre-emption is slow and cumbersome, and it frequently takes six months to find out through the lands and works department whether a pre-emption will be allowed or not.

Considering these circumstances, the intending settler would be a fool to waste time searching around British Columbia for a farm when he can go over into the territories and get a Torrens title to 160 acres of the finest farm land on earth for nothing.

Until British Columbia has a comprehensive survey and a homestead law there is no inducement to settlers to come this way. After that, all that is needed is a little judicious advertising. British Columbia should have a farming population of at least a million people, but we will never get them under the present antiquated and unfair laws.—Sandon, B. C., Paystreak.

Japanese Hanging of Acorns.

From that land of artistic prettiness, Japan, comes a fanciful idea for a hanging for a doorway. All that is necessary to make this unique portiere is to procure a bushel basket of acorns and some dark brown cord that will tone well with them. This should be heavily waxed and the acorns pierced and threaded in long lines of golden yellow, rich tan, russet brown and deep green. The color scheme is effective, and the acorns gently tinkle as they swing to and fro. They are not as heavy nor as easily broken as the beaded hangings and are fully as pretty and useful.

Saved by Prayer.

Two small children of a friend of ours were chased across a field one day by a ferocious cow, and in telling about the escape the little girl said:

"We were saved, mamma, in answer to a prayer. I told Tommy to pray as we ran, and he said he didn't remember any prayer, so I told him to say what papa says at breakfast. So he shouted, 'For what we are about to receive make us truly thankful.' Then we crawled under the fence and were saved."—Little Chronicle.

Snowflakes.

One day in the winter little Alice came running into the house and said: "See, mamma, the big white snowflakes out in the yard."

"Yes, dear," answered her mamma, "and why are the flakes so white?"

"Oh," said Alice, "I think it is because they are made in heaven."

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, March 5. — The soundest reasons suggest the temporary espousal of long side. Money is reasonably active but on the other hand the general short interest is very large. Big men are taking stocks on a liberal scale. We shall be importing gold within six weeks. Business is satisfactory, collections good. Railroad stocks are 9 per share under there prices of 40 days ago. Don't sell stocks, sonny, when the sap runs up the trees. Man. officials will meet discontented employees. Strikes will be avoided. Keep long of some copper, steels and buy B.R.T. moderately. Sugar shorts should cover at the first opportunity. Mex. C., Sou. Pac. and R.I. should be bought.

JOSEPH.

New York, March 5. — A market much like the one of yesterday is likely today. The closing of Congress is generally the sign for a little bull movement and it may be carried further but we do not advise the purchase of stocks generally on this rally.

There are a few of them ready to advance independently in this connection we mention A.C.P. sugar and B.R.T., and there are bull points out on Man. but we advise conservatism.

While the market is no doubt largely oversold and the professional bears are easily run to cover, it is a time to operate for moderate profits on the long side. The continued liquidation in the high priced list, especially the railroad stocks is considered very significent in some quarters, and the bears will as we have often stated find it more profitable to go short of stocks, selling above par particularly on the railroad list. London for Amns. heavy.

TOPICS.

Liverpool cotton opened 8 to 10 points lower for futures. At 1 p.m. unchanged th 1 to 2 points up from opening.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Pousett & Co.:—

New York, March 4. — Southern railway in past 7 months shows 1-2 of 1 p.c. earned on stock about same as last year. R.I. hold half interest in Houston and Texas. Denver earnings barely 2 p.c. on common. M.O.P. Jan. earnings will show net inc over $60,000. Stocks limited in loan crowd. Commission house report number of time loans coming due this month. U. S. steel increased its pig-iron capacity 350,000 tons in six months. Banks lost to subtreasury since Friday $4,471,000. Manhattan directors meet to-day to consider dividend payable April 1st.

DOW, JONES & CO.

Cotton — Liverpool spot fair demand 534, down 10 points, sales 10,000, rects. 11,000, Amn. 10,000, futures opened easier and at 12.30 p.m. were 9 to 10 points down from yesterday's close. 2.00 p.m. futures steady but have not recovered any of their decline, while this is not a full response to our break, still it is sufficient to show how much Liverpool has been influenced. Tremendous amount of long cotton thrown over here yesterday and it was the best thing that could have happened to the market. It is impossible to forecast immediate fluctuations. There is a big fight on to test strength of bull clique in this market to maintain its position.

M & M.

Messrs. Dover & Co. have issued the following:—

New York, March 4. — There was little actual news to-day. Our opening was inclined to be steady but after first few minutes some weakness developed carrying prices to about low levels; on the decline sporting orders appeared which caused a fair rally up to noon hour when business became very dull with fairly strong undertone. London has been persistent seller of our securities past few days. Most of the orders eminating from New York. The 4 mill one by the banks to the sub-treasury since last Friday combined with the growing stringency of the time money market is causing considerable uneasiness. Predictions are freely made that surplus reserves will be practically wiped out by next Saturday. Present is one in which caution should be used in making purchases until money conditions are better. Do not look for any decided improvement. Afternoon session showed good strength in further covering of shorts with market holding firm at the rally. Manhattan was the feature in late trading.

Chicago — Wheat held moderately firm early with no new developments but eased off in latter part of session. Think conditions favour lower prices with exception of some sharp upturns due to crop scares. Market will work lower. Closing prices — Wheat, May, 77 1-8; corn, May, 47 -18; oats, May, 35 1-8; pork, May, 18.26; lard, May, 997.

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

AMALGAMATING WITH

THE HALIFAX BANKING COMPANY.

Great interest has been shown in the announcement from Halifax, that a provisional agreement has been made under which the Halifax Banking Company is to be amalgamated with The Canadian Bank of Commerce. The latter bank has at present a paid-up capital of $8,000,000 with a rest of $2,500,000, but a week or two ago a special general meeting of the shareholders was called for the 14th of April next, to pass a by-law increasing the capital stock to $10,000,000. Its head office is in Toronto, and it has now 84 branches throughout Canada and the United States, stretching from Sydney, Cape Breton, in the extreme East, to Victoria, in the West, and from Dawson in the North to San Francisco in the South. It is represented in all the principal business centres in Canada west of Montreal, and has its own offices in New York, Portland, (Oregon,) Seattle, and London, England.

Until the recent establishment of a branch at Sydney, the Canadian Bank of Commerce had no office in the Maritime Provinces. Its stock, however, has always been a favourite investment with Nova Scotians, no less than $800,000 of its capital being held in their province. The purchase of the Halifax Banking Company will give it offices at fifteen additional points in Nova Scotia, including Halifax, Truro and Windsor,—in fact all the more important places. Two branches will also be obtained in New Brunswick—at St. John and Sackville.

The present directors of the Halifax Banking Company will continue to give their services in the capacity of a local advisory board at Halifax, cashier will become local manager there, and the entire staff will be taken into the service of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. There is consequently no doubt but that the good will of the institution is being taken over, along with its tangible assets.

Originally established in 1825 as a private partnership, under the same name as at present, The Halifax Banking Company became incorporated in 1872. It has retained the friendship and support of many of the old Halifax firms whose predecessors did business with it in its earlier years, and in spite of the disadvantage under which in these days a comparatively small local bank must always labour, it has built up a sound and remunerative business. It has a paid-up capital of $600,000 with a rest of $525,000. Its deposits are about $4,000,000, its total assets about $6,000,000, and with the added strength and prestige which its incorporation into The Canadian Bank of Commerce will necessarily give, a large increase in the present business may confidently be expected.

The terms under which the amalgamation will take place are said to be as follows:—

After the necessary approval of the shareholders of the Halifax Banking Company has been obtained and all the requisite legal formalities have been completed, The Canadian Bank of Commerce will assume the liabilities of The Halifax Banking Company, and will give in exchange for the surplus of its assets over its liabilities stock of The Canadian Bank of Commerce of the par value of $700,000.

Doubtless some of the new stock which the Canadian Bank of Commerce is taking authority to issue will be used to carry out the terms of the arrangement.

Both banks are to be congratulated upon the arrangement which has been made, which must materially strengthen the position of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and add to the exceptional facilities which it already possesses for conducting a successful banking business. When the amalgamation has taken place it will have a paid-up capital and rest combined of nearly $12,000,000, and total assets of some $80,000,000, with 101 branches distributed throughout the length and breadth of Canada.

The ceremony was performed at 7.30, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few close friends of the interested parties. OBITUARY.

Late Isaac Rea. Formerly of Ops Township.

Isaac Rea, the subject of this sketch, was born in County Fermequagh, Ireland, on March 30th, 1813. In 1822 he with his father and family came to Canada and lived in Toronto for five years, and then came to Victoria, and settled in the Township of Ops, in the vicinity of Reaboro, which took its name from the family. The county was then an almost unbroken forest, with very few settlers. The family proved to be one of history making there, Mr. Rea's father having built the first mill in what is now the Town of Lindsay, and was the principal promotor of the establishment of the first school in the township, he providing a building. In his home the Pioneer ministers, Methodist and English church, preached and were entertained.

The deceased was one of the first Justices of the Peace appointed in the township. In 1837, when the McKensie Rebellion broke out, and the call came for volunteers, Mr. Rea raised a company and marched to Toronto in defence of his country. In 1840 he received from his Excellency Sir Geo. Arthur, Lieut. Governor of the Province of Upper Canada, the appointment of lieutenant of the 4th Regiment of the Durham Militia, and in the fifties he received his commission as captain, in the county of Victoria. When 27 years of age he married Eliza Buchanan Wade, who proved a true help mate for him, and who proceeded him to the better land 5 years ago. Their home was ever the centre of that which is noble and good. They had a family of two sons and three daughters. Wm. N. Rea, of Reaboro (deceased,) Dr. H. Rea, of London, Ont., Mrs. Dr. Beacock, of Brockville (deceased,) Mrs. I. Weldon, Lindsay, widow of the late Rev. Isaac Weldon, and Theresa, wife of Rev. F. Johnson, Ameliasburg, Ont.

RUSH POINT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A sleigh load drove to Mr. H. Seabrook's on Wednesday evening. They all enjoyed themselves playing games and dancing. The teamsters showed great skill in managing the horses. Smoke curled up in the bottom of the sleigh, and Pat seemed quite contented at the back.

The roads are broken up here and the wood drawers are waiting anxiously for more snow.

Mr. H. Beamish leaves here next week for Manitoba, where he intends to make his home in future.

Dancing in one's sock feet seems to be very popular now. Rather hard on the corns!

We are pleased to learn that Miss Maud Elmhirst is recovering after a long attack of scarlet fever.

ELECTRICITY FOR HAVELOCK

The Town May Have a New Lighting System.

Personal Mention in the Railway Village—An Assembly.

Havelock is soon to be lighted by electricity. The power house is to be at Crowe River, and from there electricity will be transmitted to the village. The scheme is being carried out by a joint stock company, composed of the chief business men and citizens, and promises to be a grand success. It is thought that Norwood will unite with Her sister village in carrying out the plan as there is enough power obtainable at Crowe River to light both villages with less expense than is done at the present time. After we have electric power installed in our town there is no reason why manufacturing establishments should not come in. There are excellent inducements for many lines of manufacture here, and we firmly believe that Havelock has a bright future before it.

On Sunday evening, Mrs. Platte of Picton, delivered a very interesting and instructive address in the Methodist church, on the work of the Woman's Missionary Society.

The Canadian Office and School Furniture Co., of Preston, who have had the contract of furnishing the Sovereign Bank here, has completed the work. The office now presents a handsome appearance. Business is also reported to be excellent.

Revival services will be begun here in the Methodist church on March 15th under the leadership of Mr. McHardy, Toronto.

The Misses Reagin are attending the millinery opening at Toronto.

Mr. Wallie Rose, who is attending Trinity Medical College, spent Sunday at home.

Miss Boyle of Picton, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bennett.

A very enjoyable dance under the auspices of the C.P.R. employees, was held in the hall on Monday evening last.

Misses Louise and Katie Smith, of Norwood, spent a few days in town last week, the guests of Miss Eva Lancaster.

Miss Laura Ranton left on Monday for Madoc, where she has secured a position as saleslady in Mr. McMasters drygoods store.

A parlour social under the auspices of the Presbyterian church was held at the home of Mr. D. Burgess on Friday evening.

A very successful entertainment was held at Springbrooke, on Tuesday evening last. Mr. Will J. White of Toronto was present, and his songs were very much appreciated. Mr. S. C. Cross of Havelock, was the accompanyist.

Take in the hockey match in Lindsay to-morrow night, Norwood vs. T.A.S., for championship of Trent Valley League. Special train from Peterborough to Lindsay and return.

Wash greasy dishes, pots or pans with Lever's Dry Soap a powder. It will remove the grease with the greatest ease. 36

Furs

WILL BE HIGHER NEXT YEAR

And this is the month of all the year they reach their lowest prices.

As an investment at present prices they discount all other stocks. An increase of 25 to 50 per cent. in their values by fall can be assured.

Our reasons for selling at these close prices under present conditions are:—

First—The use of the money in our business between now and next winter.

Second—An extra heavy Stock of Furs on hand for this time of year.

Third—The between season condition of this month—a little early for spring and a little late for winter selling, must therefore create demand by bargain prices.

Fourth—Must keep our workmen in manufacturing department going, consequently have to sell the Goods.

FOOD IN WAR TIME.

Premier Balfour Thinks an Inquiry is Desirable.

ANSWER TO A DEPUTATION.

Investigation Should Also Be Into Conditions of Naval Warfare and Other Problems—To Protect Great Britain's Coasts—Lt.-Col. Kitson on Canadian Strategetical Disadvantages.

London, March 6.—Replying to a large and influential deputation, which visited the Foreign Office yesterday to urge the appointment of a Royal Commission to inquire into the question of security of the food supply of Great Britain in time of war, Premier Balfour expressed the opinion that the danger he had to meet was not the exclusion of grain and the raw materials necessary for the country's national existence, but the cost of introducing them, and the question of price was ultimately a question of insurance. He admitted that an inquiry into the matter was advisable, because it would tend to allay some unfounded fears, as well as to show that some of the difficulties of the situation could not be wholly removed.

Mr. Balfour added that he thought the inquiry ought to include the question of insurance, the conditions of modern maritime warfare, the methods by which commerce could be protected and destroyed, and the amount of the actual grain supply of the country.

He hoped, however, that nothing would be done to establish a Government machinery which would injure the national commercial machinery by which Great Britain was supplied.

Protect Britain's Coast.

London, March 6.—Premier Balfour announced in the House of Commons yesterday that the Admiralty has decided to establish a new naval station at St. Margaret's Hope, on the north side of the Firth of Forth.

DEFENCES OF CANADA.

An Alarmist Speech Made by Colonel Kitson in London.

New York, March 6. — A special London despatch to The New York Evening Post says: "Colonel Kitson, former British military at Washington and now commandant of the Sandhurst Military College, in a speech in the Canada Club Wednesday night, under the chairmanship of Lord Strathcona, said: "Fortunately, at present, the possibility of trouble is farther off than ever, but I assure you that the Canadians would enter a campaign under the greatest strategical disadvantages. You will be very lucky in Upper Canada if you have any ammunition. The American regular army quartered on the frontier would be ready to raid your lines of communications, which lie along the frontier. Your only arsenal is at Quebec, at the end of the line. Without better organization and without another arsenal in the interior, you will never be safe from raids." He begged the Canadians to support Lord Dundonald, who is now commanding the Canadian militia.

Lord Strathcona said that Canadians were ready to defend their country and their homes with their lives. Another arsenal was being built at Ottawa."

HEALTH OF THE POPE.

No One But His Nephew Now Permitted to See Him.

Rome, March 6.—Dr. Lapponi visited the Pope yesterday morning and found him no worse with regard to symptoms of any special illness. The physician has forbidden anyone to see the Pontiff except the latter's nephew, Count Camillo Pecci, who entered the Pope's room as Dr. Lapponi left.

The fact is that the Pontiff's physical prostration is due to overwork and overexcitement, which, however, leaves his mental faculties perfectly clear, wonderfully so, indeed. Therefore, Dr. Lapponi thinks that a few days' rest will restore the Pope to his usual condition. The physician also hopes that the suspension of audiences will induce the numerous pilgrims and notable persons who are now in Rome to abandon the idea of seeing the Pontiff, and thus avoid causing the latter further fatigue, which might place him in serious danger.

Sultan's Troops Were Mosted by the Rebels, Not Vice-Versa.

London, March 6.—The correspondent of The Times at Tangier telegraphs that, despite the official report of a victory by the Government troops, they have undoubtedly met with a bad defeat. The division forming the vanguard of the main army, commanded by El Menebhi, the Moroccan War Minister, and consisting of 1,600 men, was surprised and rushed by the rebels on Feb. 27, who captured its camp. The Shereefian troops fled in disorder, abandoning everything. All available reinforcements have left Fez.

Rebels Won Out.

Madrid, March 6.—A despatch to The Heraldo from Fez confirms the report that the Shereefian troops have been defeated by the rebels. The Sultan's forces retreated, with a loss of 50 killed and 100 wounded.

MR. DEVLIN RESIGNS.

He Gives Up Position in Order to Contest Galway.

Ottawa, March 6. — Mr. Charles Devlin has resigned his position as Canadian Emigration Agent in Dublin, in order to become the Nationalist candidate in Galway. His place will be taken by Mr. O'Kelly, at present in Belfast. The office in Belfast will be closed.

Shawe-Taylor Will Run in Galway.

London, March 6.—Captain Shawe-Taylor, secretary of the Dublin Landlords' and Tenants' Conference, who recently returned from a visit to the United States, has announced his candidacy for the seat in the House of Commons, representing Galway, made vacant by the conviction of Col. Arthur Lynch.

Killed By a Tree.

Rossland, March 6. — Angus B. MacDonald, aged twenty-five years, was instantly killed by a falling tree yesterday morning, near Blue and Deschaump Saw Mill, seven miles north of the city. His relatives reside at Lancaster, Ont. He was a prospector, and is said to possess valuable mineral land in East Kootenay.

Millions For British Army.

London, March 6.—The British army estimates for 1903-04, issued last evening, called for a total expenditure of $171,225,000, and provides for 235,761 men, exclusive of the troops in India. The estimates include $20,000,000 for special expenditure in connection with South Africa.

THE J.P.'S DISAGREED

Their Views Diametrically Opposed on Telephone Case.

TEXT OF THEIR JUDGMENT.

Magistrate Parker Was For Committing President Sise of the Bell Telephone Company For Trial and Magistrate Davidson Opposed Him—Legal Aspect of Case—Independents Will Carry It Further.

Pickering, March 6.—One magistrate of the County of Ontario decides, upon the evidence, that President Charles F. Sise of the Bell Telephone Company, should be committed for trial for alleged criminal conspiracy, and another magistrate of the same county is of the opinion that there is not sufficient evidence to warrant a committal. This condition of affairs was announced here Wednesday afternoon in connection with the now famous telephone case.

Magistrate George Parker of Dunbarton says the evidence is sufficient. Magistrate Davidson of Cherrywood says it is not.

The hearing of the preliminary trial was delegated to Magistrate Davidson, but, as he has only been a justice of the peace for a year, he requested Magistrate Parker, who has had 20 years' experience, to sit upon the case with him.

It was previously announced that the magistrates would give their decision at the Fire Hall at noon, but, as they disagreed, they did not know what to do. They telephoned to Whitby for Crown Attorney Farewell, and had to wait until after 2 o'clock for him to arrive here. The formality of reading the finding at the Fire Hall was dispensed with, and it was announced in the hotel. It is as follows:

Pickering, March 5, 1903.

KING V. C, F. SISE.

The undersigned Justices of the Peace, have heard the examination of witnesses for the prosecution, and what was alleged on behalf of the defendant by his counsel, and they are unable to agree as to whether the defendant, Charles F. Sise, should or should not be committed for trial.

(Signed) George Davidson, J. P.
(Signed) George Parker, J. P.

Magistrate George Parker was quite willing to discuss the verdict if he thought there was anything to discuss about it. "I knew last Friday night that there was bound to be a disagreement. I was satisfied there was sufficient evidence to commit Mr. Sise for trial, but Magistrate Davidson said he could not see it in that light. I had another conference with him last Tuesday, but I could not change his opinion, although I was a bit surprised that he could not judge from the evidence that the case should go to trial. We did not meet again until to-day, and then he still held out, and that is all there is to it. I think the evidence was quite strong enough to warrant a committal, and I could not change my mind any more than he could."

Magistrate George Davidson was asked to state where he thought the evidence submitted by the prosecution was weak, but he simply replied that it was not strong enough. Asked to detail the weakest phase of the case, he said he had simply decided from the evidence that there was not sufficient of it to warrant him in committing President Sise for trial.

Toronto, March 6.

John R. Cartwright, Deputy Attorney General, said last night that as far as he could gather, the present case against the Bell Telephone Co. is done with. If the farmers wish to continue, another charge will have to be laid, and a new trial, going over all the evidence, becomes necessary. Col. Farewell had seen him in the afternoon after the decision had been rendered.

County Crown Attorney Farewell, last night expressed a hope that both sides would now get the whole matter arranged amicably and thus save a lot of costly litigation. He thought the fact that the two magistrates had disagreed might lead to this. "What further action will be taken depends upon the private prosecution," concluded Col. Farewell.

Even to the Highest Court.

Whitevale, March 6.—No formal meeting was held here last night to discuss the matter, but in an informal way the shareholders of the independent company met and talked over the situation. They were informed from Toronto that the Deputy Attorney-General had stated that the case could be reconstructed by another complaint being sworn out against the president of the company and another trial held. This information caused Alpheus Hoover to state in emphatic terms, "This fight for the people's rights is not going to go under by one delay, but will be carried on to a finish, even to the highest court in the land."

THE PORK PACKING INDUSTRY.

In this age of industrial enterprise, and keen competition, the balance between demand and supply of products is not always maintained, with the consequence that in some cases the element of profit is eliminated, and financial success is lacking. From time to time there have been published in the Examiner extracts from articles in financial journals, pointing out that the production of certain industries was being, or likely to be, overdone, in the particular line of operation in which they were engaged. It was insisted in the several articles, that the pulp industry, and the cement industry, were being developed by increase of manufacturing establishments, with the danger of profits being brought to the vanishing point, and ,possibly, disastrous financial results. Still another article from an influential financial journal took a view of the sugar beet industry, pessimistic to the extent that it was easily possible to overdo, or at least, be premature in, the erecting of additional factories. There may, or may not, be force in the contentions referred to, but it is quite evident that in certain lines of production it is possible to overdo the trade, in the way of production beyond the capacity of supply of raw material. This applies to some extent to the hog curing industry, though rather to lack of raw material than over-production. There is no limit to the expansion of the bacon trade of the country, if the farmers will supply the hog. Last year, 1901, Canada exported, chiefly to the old country, bacon and hams, to the value of $11,493,868—a mere drop in the bucket compared to what the British market is capable of absorbing. In the year 1901 Great Britain imported hog products, in the shape of bacon, hams, and fresh pork, to the value of $85,125,698, so that Canada sent only about one-eighth of the hog products that Great Britain imported. The Canadian hog trade has increased by leaps and bounds. Ten years ago, in 1891, our total exports in this line amounted to only $628,469. Five years later, in 1896, the export trade had grown to $3,862,015, and five years later, to $11,772,446. This growth led to the multiplication of factories, and among these were some the outcome of an attempt to establish the Danish Co-operative System. They were known as co-operative pork-packing companies, and were established at several points in the province. The idea is said to have been to have the farmers go into packing, by which it was hoped to realize better prices for hogs. But the experience of one or two of these co-operative companies was not encouraging. According to reports published, that located at Palmerston, was operated at a loss of $49, 383. The Farmers' Co-operative Pork Packing Company of Brantford, is said to have lost last year $28,000. Taking these two concerns as types it does not seem that investment in a packing house at present is likely to be a profitable one, unless the number of packing houses is reduced or does not increase, or until farmers raise sufficient hogs to keep existing packing houses occupied. Co-operation by farmers in the matter of butter and cheese production is a great success in Ontario, but if the results of co-operation in pork packing, mentioned above, furnish a fair standard of judging, the time is not yet ripe for making co-operative packing of pork successful. The farmer can, however, make no mistake in giving his attention more largely to the growing of hogs, and to growing the proper breeds demanded by the export trade, and by largely increasing his yield. While the enormous demand for bacon continues in Great Britain, there will be a market for the farmer's pigs; but while their is an insufficient supply of hogs, factories will have to be conducted with the greatest care and with the wisdom of long experience, to show a margin of profit. Under the conditions existing, it is a question whether it is wiser in the farmer to take stock in co-operative packing companies or to concentrate his attention in producing the right kind of hogs, and in sufficient quantity, till the time is ripe for establishing co-operation, as it is in Denmark. It might be added that the farmers of Ontario are not increasing the growth of hogs. According to the returns, published in the Ontario Bureau of Industries, the number of hogs reported as on hand in July 1901, was nearly half a million less than at the same time in 1899—479,165, though better average prices prevailed in 1901 than in any one of the seven years preceding. It seems, therefore, that farmers in Ontario are not making a proper effort to meet the demand for hogs, for since 1899 the number on hand shows a decrease every year, showing the futility of establishing more factories in the face of an inadequate supply for the factories already existing.

AN INTERNATIONAL MATCH

How the Irishmen Defeated the Englishmen.

A Continuation of the Report of a Great Game in the Old Country—Mr. Belcher Sends a Paper Home.

The Examiner has to thank Mr. S. H. Belcher for a copy of the Irish Independent, of Dublin, containing a three column write-up of the grand International Rugby Match between England and Ireland for the championship of the two countries. The game resulted in a victory for the Irishmen. The report is a most excellent one, being very descriptive. The following is a continuation of the report:

On Saturday Lansdowne Road was once again the scene of one of those friendly international contests which not only sets th efootball world into a ferment of enthusiasm and speculation, but arouse the generous sporting impulses of a not inconsiderable section of the general public who, except on special days, allow their thoughts to wander into regions very far removed, indeed, from the football field. When it becomes a question not of rival clubs but of rival countries, it is wonderful the number of people who waken up to a scene of their own national dignity in the domain of sport, and if Rugby football cannot be called an essentially Irish game it yet inspires a sufficiently big following to make the out come of a match such as that of Saturday afternoon a subject of active discussion for several days beforahand. Ireland has a lot of ground to pull up, even in respect of her record in international football matches, and Irishmen on that account were all the more anxious to see the native colours bourne to victory and a portion of old scores wiped out. It was with a lively expectation of a victory to come that prospective patrons of the match started out for Lansdowne road. The recollection of how badly Ireland fared last year, coupled with the fact that this was her first International struggle in the present season, provided the necessary fillip to general interest, and developed that class of sporting fever which is contagious and spreads itself rapidly, especially on the afternoon of the match. It is liable to be caught in the most unlooked-for places, and the gentleman who orders an early lunch, and forsakes his office-stool a considerable time before his Saturday half-holiday usually commences, may generally, on such a day, be considered as showing the preliminary symptoms. Young ladies who conceive a sudden aversion to the theatre matinee, and speak contemptuously of afternoon tea, may also be taken as having already with somebody else, and as showing that there is a "match" of some kind, at all events, in prospect. The old old merchant who sends his young men home early in benevolent tones, and makes preparations for locking up before one o'clock has yet struck, and who has been caught red-handed in the act of scanning the football column of his morning paper, instead of the stock and share list, is indubitably contemplating a surreptious visit to the field of play; and, for all his friends may know to the contrary, may already have an admission ticket to the grand stand in his inside pocket, and have entered into a conspiracy with some other "old boys" to share an outsider and go out to see the fun. People will ask you questions when they see the jarvies whirling their freights gayly along the thoroughfares to the trysting place, "What is the condition of the Irish form?" who under ordinary conditions of life devote the most of their interrogative faculty to finding out what is up "on change". The man in the street while all this is going on is not oblivious either to the spirit of the time, and although he cannot forsake the post of duty and indulge even in the luxury even of a penny trip on the tram Haddington road way can yet keep his eye on the evening placards and satisfy his yearnings with quick results. In a word one could not look round the football enclosure on Saturday without seeing that International football had an appealing force to a great many conditions of men and women. The ground rapidly filled up once two o'clock struck. The gates were open, indeed, an hour before, and the band of the Dublin Metropolitan Police had already begun to discourse a nice programme of music, which appealed to the national sympathies of the followers of both teams. The first hour, however, was intended chiefly to satisfy the particular feelings of that class of the football community which has its prototype in theatrical circles in the patrons of the early door. The first comers were peaceably disposed, men who are generally found in the best corners along with their best girls, and who are never able of their own initiative to generate any of the enthusiasm which properly belongs to a football crowd. It is only when some representatives of the real native element comes on the scene, and with his keen eye picks out an unwary individual who has the misfortune to be fat attempting to cross the field to get to his place that humour begins to bubble out. Once it is started there is no stopping it, and between cracking jokes and listening to the band everybody feels happy, and does not mind the wait. The weather, although cold, as anybody might expect—it was still only Valentine's Day—was nevertheless favourable for a large crowd coming together, with nothing particular to do, for a couple of hours. There was a grey sky overhead, which, however, did not look menacing at any time, and the wind, which in football, even as it is in sailing, is a matter for calculation, was obliging enough to blow in such gentle measure, and with such a nice impartiality, that at no time did it incline its favour much in one direction or the other. As for the attendance, when seen in bulk it was undoubtedly very large, but hardly, perhaps, of such big dimensions as last year, when the population of Wales transferred itself temporarily over to the Irish shore to see their chosen fifteen carry the day. On that occasion it was a case of most pronounced national curiosity, not content to wait for telegraphed results, but determined to come over and see for itself, and make a football ground of the entire Irish metropolis.

CIGARETTE-SMOKING YOUNG

The English people on the contrary taking their pleasure coolly, if not sadly, appeared to be content to await developments on their own ground, and Saturday could not be said to have occasioned any greater invasion of Englishmen than we are accustomed to every day in the week. The stands were, of course, packed to their utmost, and every reserved seat had its occupant. Around the general enclosure there was a solid bank of humanity. On the side opposite from the principal stand there was a special tent erected for the accommodation of a Vicesregal party from the Castle, which was occupied shortly before the proceedings began.

The question of why one man succeeds and another fails, is a problem that has puzzled philosophers for centuries. One man attains riches and position, while his neighbour who started with seemingly the same, and better opportunities, exists in poverty and obscurity. No man can win success who is suffering from an irritating and nerve-racking disease, and the man who has the qualities of success within him, would be quick to recognize this fact and seize the best remedy to eradicate the trouble. A person afflicted with a serious case of hemorrhoids or piles is handicapped in the race for power and advancement. It is impossible to concentrate the mental energies when this dreadful trouble is sapping the vital forces. To show how easily this success destroying trouble can be overcome, we publish the following letter from a prominent Indiana man:

"When I received the former letter and booklet, on 'Piles, their nature, cause and cure,' I was in a critical condition. Ulcers to the number of seven had formed on the inside of the rectum culminating in a large tumour on the outside resembling fistula. I suffered the most excruciating pain, and could get no rest day nor night. After reading the booklet I went to my druggist, but he happened to be out of Pyramid Pile Cure just then. However, I obtained a part of a box from my brother-in-law and began their use. Five Pyramids completely cured me. I procured a box later but have had no occasion to use them. I have been waiting to see that the cure was permanent before writing you of its success. I believe Pyramid Pile Cure to be the greatest and best pile cure on the market, and ask you to please accept of my grateful thanks for this invaluable remedy. I take great pleasure in recommending its use to any sufferer along this line. You may use my name if you wish for reference to any one afflicted with this disease." J. O. Littell, Arthur, Ind.

You can obtain a free sample of this wonderful remedy, also the booklet described above, by writing your name and address plainly on a postal card and mailing it to the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich.

HOW BUSINESS EXPANDS

By the Employment of Judicious Advertisement—To Attract Attention.

There seems to be an idea prevalent that advertising is for the large dealers only. This belief has kept many a small merchant from improving his opportunities in that direction.

Nearly, if not all, the large retail merchants of the present day, have become so by extensive advertising.

The advertising which they have done may not be the sole cause of their success. but it has been the greatest contributing cause. Nearly all large enterprises, which are now meeting with well-deserved success, have begun on a small scale. Their advertising was done in a small way, but it has been kept up day after day and year after year.

Good business methods, untiring industry and good advertising are the factors which bring success in business.

Do not be afraid of being overshadowed by the big advertiser. The big advertiser of the present perhaps may have been a small advertiser only a few years ago. Many times the well-worded reader of only a few lines, or the small display advertisement, will reach the eye of more readers than the pretentios display of the larger store. It tells the people you have goods to sell and what you sell them for. This is all the big store can say.

Nine times out of ten it is the price that sells the goods, so don't be afraid to tell your story to the public. If you tell it in the right way and practice no deception it will be only a question of a very little time until you will begin to receive adequate returns on your investment in advertising space. The dealer, be he the corner grocer or the largest dealer in general merchandise in the city, who will sell staple or special articles, quality considered, for the least money, and lets the people know it, will receive the patronage.

If the small dealer buys his goods right he can sell them at right prices. Subscribe for a reliable trade paper, scrutinize the market reports carefully, therein you will find all the necessary information to enable you to buy your goods right.

Every city has plenty of examples showing how small dealers in all kinds of merchandise have made their business a success by wise and judicious advertising. Take what space you can afford, contract by the year, watch it, change the matter very frequently, and you will soon need more room for your store and more space in the papers. This advice is tendered the wholesaler, manufacturer and jobber as well as the small retailer. They can attract attention by a liberal use of advertising space in an honest trade newspaper, just the same as the small retailer can by taking space in the daily or weekly newspaper.

Judicious advertising will develop any mercantile business that has a right to exist.

Scores of Uses.

While Dr. Chase's Ointment is best known on account of its wonderful control over eczema, salt rheum and piles, it is found to be in almost daily demand in many homes as a cure for chilblains, chafing, pimples, sunburn, burns, scalds, and each and every form of itching, irritated or inflamed skin. It is invaluable in every home and as a soothing and healing application knows no equal.

West Durham Conservatives Make Presentations to Their Candidates.

Bowmanville, March 6.—Owing to unpropitious weather, less than 500 electors attended the Conservative mass meeting, held in the Town Hall yesterday, at the close of the annual meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association of West Durham.

The election of officers resulted in the re-election of the former occupants.

Before the speaking began, Dr. C. Hillier, the chairman, called on Dr. Bonnycastle, who read an appreciative address to Jonah C. Thornton, Kirby, the independent Conservative candidate in the last Federal election, and President J. H. Devitt, on behalf of the Conservative electors, handed him a marked cheque for $1,000 towards his expenses in the campaign he had fought.

Evan H. Maclean, barrister, Newcastle, read a very eulogistic address to William P. Reid, ex-M.P.P., Clarke, and James K. Allen, treasurer, presented him with a very handsome and valuable cabinet of silver.

Mr. Thornton and Mr. Reid made short speeches expressing thanks for the good wishes of the electors as expressed in the addresses, and also for the very handsome presents.

THE FEAR OF HUMBUG

Prevents Many People From Trying a Good Medicine.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure, that most people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made of a preparation so reliable, and so universally used, as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines, for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine; no secret is made of their ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aseptic pepsin, the digestive acids, Golden Seal, Bismuth, Hydrastis and Nux. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles, because they act entirely on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison, as it creates gas, acidity, headaches, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh, and appetite and many other troubles, which are often called by some other name.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

MRS. SIMPSON SHOT.

Visitor to London Practises With a Revolver Carelessly.

London, March 6. — Mrs. A. R. Simpson of York street came nearly losing her life by the carelessness of a young man and a young woman who were practising with a revolver at the rear of Simpson House about noon. The young man, who gave his name as Spencer Stone of Chicago, was on a visit to London, and was unaware that it was against the city ordinances to use fire arms in the city. He had fired off one shot and the young lady fired three, the last of which is the one which struck Mrs. Simpson. Fortunately the bullet first went through a plate glass window, which, no doubt, saved Mrs. Simpson's life. It, however, went through a portion of the lady's neck, cutting the jugular vein and causing painful injury to her chin. Fears are entertained that inflammation or blood poisoning may set in.

THOUSANDS LISTEN

To the Strange Tale of Mrs. James Bradley—What Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets did for Her.

"No tongue can tell what I have suffered." So writes Mrs. Jas. Bradley, of Smith's Cove, Digby Co., N.S. And when it is explained that Dyspepsia caused her suffering, thousands of Canadians will echo, "That's true, sure enough." These thousands have Dyspepsia themselves, and they know.

But let these thousands listen to the whole of Mrs. Bradley's story, and if they profit by it as they should, they will stop moaning over Dyspeptic pains and turn instead to singing the praises of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I had Dyspepsia for over nine years," says Mrs. Bradley. "I have treid the best doctors in this place, and never got relief. I had to starve myself from eating and had given up hope of ever having any help. No tongue can tell what I suffered. I cannot describe it. I saw an advertisement of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and sent for six boxes of them. They relieved me almost at once and before I had finished the six boxes I could eat almost anything and sleep comfortably, which I never expected to do in this world.

"I advise all who suffer as I have to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and never to be without them."

POSTAGE ON PERIODICALS.

Immediate Reduction in the Rate to Great Britain.

CANADA AGAIN TO THE FORE.

Sir William Mulock, by His Pressing Importunities and the Justice of His Case, Gets Great Britain's Assent to This Important Concession—Probable Effect on Canadian Newspapers.

Ottawa, March 6. — For several years Sir William Mulock, Postmaster-General, has been endeavoring to secure the consent of the English Postoffice authorities to a reduction in the rate of postage upon newspapers and periodicals passing between the two countries. The matter was brought to the attention of the Imperial conference last summer, and a motion favoring reduction was carried, but up to the present the English postal authorities did not see their way to agreeing to such a proposition. Among other things, it was represented that loss of revenue would be occasioned, and, moreover, they did not feel at liberty to make an exception in favor of Canada alone of all the British possessions.

Upon the appointment of Rt. Hon. Austen Chamberlain as His Majesty's Postmaster-General, Sir William Mulock pressed the subject upon his attention, and also informed Mr. Chamberlain that without waiting for England to reduce her rate Canada was prepared at once to reduce the rate of postage on her outgoing mail matter. Under the terms of the universal postal convention the consent of two countries is necessary before any reduction of postage on mail matter between them can be made, and therefore so long as the Imperial Government's consent was withheld Canada could not reduce her outgoing rate. Wednesday this consent was received, and to-day the reduction will be gazetted and go into effect. Therefore on and after Saturday, the 7th inst., the rate of postage on newspapers and periodicals posted in Canada for transmission to the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland will be the same as if for delivery in Canada. Doubtless this important concession will lead to a very considerable increase in the circulation of Canadian newspapers in Great Britain.

REPLY TO LEADER BORDEN.

Hon. Wm. Paterson Shows Country Is Not Suffering While Mr. Foster Is Out —A Costly Talker.

Cannington, March 6.—A well-attended meeting in Mr. George Grant's interest in the hall here last night was addressed by Hon. Wm. Paterson, Hon. Senator McMullen, Mr. Grant and Dr. Bingham. The hall was filled, and all of the addresses were vigorous and interesting. The chair was occupied by Mr. Wm. McPherson.

Hon. Wm. Paterson, in the course of his address, said that if he was leader of the Opposition he would not like to have it known to the world that he had to come here to help to get a man to do some opposition because he was not able to do it himself. If it was suggested that members of the Government were opposing Mr. Foster because they were afraid of his criticism, Mr. Paterson asked to be permitted to smile. The main objection they had to Mr. Foster was that he lengthened the session out two or three weeks by talking to no point. Mr. Foster had been out of the House for two years, but, notwithstanding his lamentable absence, the country had to go on; it could not stop because Mr. Foster was not in the House, and the country had gone on at a faster rate in those two years than ever before, so it was evident that the country could not be suffering grievously.

Mr. Borden at Brechin.

Brechin, March 6.—The Conservative leader, Mr. R. L. Borden, M.P., addressed a meeting of the electors of Mara at the Town Hall here last evening, and Mr. James Clancy, M. P., who, it was announced on the posters calling the meeting, would be present, was unable to keep his engagement, and Mr. W. H. Hoyle spoke in his stead. The hall was well filled, and the audience, while not demonstrative, gave the speakers a good hearing.

$23,000 of $30,000.

Ottawa, March 6.—It was stated by one in authority to speak yesterday that no matter what Martineau might do to-day, that is, whether he pleaded guilty or not when his case was called, the Government would insist on the full penalty for the offences which are charged against the prisoner. As to restitution, it is said that it is impossible for him to do that in full. The Government may recover about $28,000, out of about $30,000.

Outside Civil Servants' Demands.

Ottawa, March 6.—The members of the outside Civil Service, following the example of the inside service, are arranging to present their claims to the Government for an increase in their salaries. They will take the same ground as the inside service, viz., that the advanced prices of living and the rise in the salaries of those employed at industrial, commercial and professional positions, justify an increase in the Government rates of pay.

New Archaeological Names.

Russia has decided to found an archaeological museum in Sevastopol. The building is to be erected in the style of an old Christian basilica and to be arranged for three apartments, one devoted to the Greek, one to the Roman and a third to the Byzantine period. The whole project has been entrusted to the management of Grand Duke Alexander Michailovitch.

GREAT STRIKE PROBABLE.

Three Hundred Thousand Men May Be Affected—Structural Iron Manufacturers Refuse the Workers' Demands.

New York, March 6.—Between three hundred thousand and four hundred thousand workmen in the building trades throughout the United States are expected to be thrown idle on May 1, on account of forthcoming demands of the structural iron workers, which the manufacturers have decided to refuse.

Against Sympathetic Strikes.

Chicago, March 6.—The building contractors council last night passed a resolution establishing a rule that no agreements with building trade unions shall be signed that do not contain a clause prohibiting sympathetic strikes.

May Strike at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, March 6.—As yet the U. B. R. E. Railway strike has not affected the line west of Vancouver, but it was reported last night that a strike will be ordered in Winnipeg to-day. A portion of the freight clerks and freight handlers only are affected, but it is hoped by the brotherhood leaders to secure the co-operation of the teamsters and other unions.

Action Is Deferred.

Winnipeg, March 6.—At a meeting held last night by the U.B.R.E., it was decided to defer action as regards striking here until to-night. It is understood negotiations looking towards a settlement are in progress at Vancouver, and the result will be awaited before further action.

Another Railway Strike Imminent.

New Haven, Conn., March 6.—The Grievance Committees of the trainmen and conductors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, who have been preparing a schedule for an increase of wages, and a decrease in daily hours of work, have asked national officers of their union to meet here to act in an advisory capacity, because the committees have been unable to come to an agreement with the Railroad Company officials, by which their demands could be submitted jointly

"I feel as young now, at thirty, as I did at eighteen years of age."

That is part of the statement of one woman, mother of six children, who found new life by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is not the ordinary cares of the family, nor the natural obligations of motherhood, which make women prematurely old. But it is the womanly diseases, draining away the vitality, and undermining the strength, which take the roundness and suppleness from the form, the bloom from the cheek and the brightness from the eye.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures those womanly diseases which rob women of youth and beauty. It establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. It brings back to the mother the lightheartedness of her bridal day. This is the testimony of thousands of women who have renewed their youth by the use of "Favorite Prescription."

"For four years I suffered untold agony," writes Mrs. E. A. Nations, of Witts Springs, Searcy Co., Arkansas. "Sometimes I would get some better and think I would get well, only to wake up some morning not able to rise. In my hips and around lower parts of abdomen was where I suffered the most, and when the pain would give way it scattered all over me and I would be so sore and stiff I could scarcely move. My husband got the best doctor in the country to attend me, but I did not improve any. Finally I told my husband that I was going to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. By the time I had taken one bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' I could notice a little improvement. Dr. Pierce advised me to take 'Golden Medical Discovery' in connection with the 'Favorite Prescription.' By the time I had taking five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and four of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' I was well. That was two years ago this summer. I felt well until I expected to become a mother, when a miscarriage greatly weakened me, and my old disease returned. My husband got another doctor for me, but I seemed to just drag along and get no better. At last I told the doctor that if his medicine did not help me I would try Dr. Pierce's. I wrote him and did so, and by the time I had taken them one month I could do my own housework, except washing, and tended my garden, too. I was stouter than I had ever been while waiting baby's coming since my first baby came (this one was the sixth child). She is now eleven months old, and is a healthy child. As for me, I feel as young now, at thirty, as I did at eighteen years of age."

FORESTRY IN CANADA.

Annual Convention Begun in Ottawa—Save the White Pine—Interesting Statistics of Wood Pulp Industry.

Ottawa, March 6.—The Canadian Forestry Association opened here yesterday in annual convention. Among those present were: Aubrey White, Department Commissioner of Crown Lands for Ontario; Thomas Southworth, Commissioner of Forestry and Immigration for Ontario; Sir Sandford Fleming, Hiram Robinson, E. Stewart, George Johnson, Dr. Saunders, Director of Experimental Farms; Prof. Macoun, Robert German, J. R. Reid, Ottawa; George Y. Chown, Kingston; T. S. Young, Toronto; George McCuaig, Bryson, Que.; A. Harold Unwin, London, Eng.; N. E. Cormier, Aylmer; Mayor Gendron, Hull.

President William Little of Montreal, in his annual address, said that the original forests of the North Atlantic and lake states of the American Union are not inexhaustible. He thought the Government of Canada should grant a parliamentary enquiry into the conditions of Canadian forests. If the enquiry is much longer delayed Canada will have no white pine.

The membership is now 400. A balance of $106 is in the hands of the treasurer.

Statistics prepared by Mr. George Johnson show that the wood pulp industry of Canada for the calendar year was carried on by 35 mills, which had an output of 240,989 tons of wood pulp, a decrease of 28,611 as compared with 1901. The figures for the two years are appended:

	1902.	1901.
Mechanical pulp	155,210	169,300
Sulphite	76,735	84,500
Soda	9,044	10,740
Total	240,989	264,600

The value of the output of 1902 was $4,383,182, and the quantity exported amounted to $2,501,664, which in a general way is 57 per cent. of the production. Of this amount Great Britain took $976,192, the United States $1,548,139, and other countries $17,333. The power to operate the mills was derived chiefly from water-power. Of a total power equal to 81,725 horsepower, 78,296 is water-power.

Geological Report.

Ottawa, March 5.—According to a report just compiled by the Dominion Geological staff the values of the mineral output in Canada in 1902 was as follows: Copper, $4,553,606; gold, $20,741,245; iron ore (exports), $1,095,019; pig iron from Canadian ore, $1,043,001; lead, $935,870; nickel, $5,025,983; silver, $2,290,957; zinc, $8099; total metallic, $35,653,768, total non-metallic products, $20,016,964, of which coal amounted to $15,538,611; unreported estimated, $300,000; grand total, for 1902, $64,970,732.

A Family Necessity.

Owing to artificial modern life, almost everybody suffers more or less from constipation, torpid liver and sluggish kidneys, and as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most prompt and thorough cure for this derangement, they have come to be considered a family necessity. Hosts of families would not think of being without them. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Talking About Canada.

"When I first came to the Senate," said Senator Cullom to those lunching at the same table in the Senate restaurant the other day, "I had great ideas about a greater United States. My eyes were not turned southward, where everybody seems to be looking nowadays, but northward; I was just as sure as sure that before this time we should have gobbled up Canada. I did not think that we were going up there, and make a conquest of the country, but I could not see any chance of its getting away from us. Why, when I was elected the second time, and went out to Illinois to make my bow to the Legislature, my little speech was filled with the annexation of Canada. Since that time, I have watched Canada slipping farther and farther away from us, until now it takes a brave man even to suggest that some day the Stars and Stripes may float beyond our northern boundary. I have often wondered if any of the members of that Legislature remember my speech. If they do, they must think that I am a mighty bad prophet."

"Yes," said Senator Burrows, who had listened as befitted a man so much Mr. Cullom's junior, "you could not pry Canada away from Great Britain now with a jimmy."—Chicago News.

BAD BLOOD.

Miss Mary M. Allan, Aston, Que., says:—For nearly a year I was troubled with pimples on my face. I tried several remedies but none of them seemed to help me until I got Burdock Blood Bitters. After using three bottles of them, and quite a few in bottle, I can truly say that B.B.B. is the best remedy for bad blood I have ever used, and quite honestly I believe it is better than all other remedies I tried.

B.B.B. Cures Boils, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, and all Blood Diseases.

DYSPEPSIA.

Miss Alberda Stewart, Campbellford, N.S., says:—For five years I was troubled with Dyspepsia, and, however, I was persuaded I would get cured. My parents got numerous medicines for me but they did me no good. I saw Burdock Blood Bitters advertised, and something seemed to say, "get a bottle." I did so and to my surprise before I finished the bottle I found relief. I took all told 3 bottles, and have had no return of the trouble.

HEADACHES.

Miss Peter Bondeson, Glen Lovit, N.S., says:—It is with pleasure and gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful power of Burdock Blood Bitters. My daughter was ailing for three years with headaches and run down system. I tried several kinds of medicine but to no effect. At last a friend advised me to try B.B.B. for her, and after using five bottles of it she was entirely cured. I am never positive B.B.B. is not good enough. It is to God-send to all.

CONSTIPATION.

Mr. Wharton Bentley, Markdale, Ont., says:—I was troubled with constipation for a year and tried different remedies but they did me no good. I saw Burdock Blood Bitters and it cured me in short time and has been troubled since.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

Special Services are Attended by Large Congregations.

The special services are attended ed by good congregations. Last night Rev. E. A. Langfeldt spoke from the text in St. Matthew, xviii, 7, "Woe unto the world because of offences, for it must needs be that offences come, but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh."

The subject was "The Devil's Volunteers," or a sin that is peculiarly devilish in its nature—the sin of hindering anyone who is trying to do right, of encouraging, inciting, or helping others to do wrong. Such endeavours are nothing else than moral vandalism. It is most strange that any one should be found in this work. Strange, too, when one considers the serious fellowship it involves. You will find people differing in creed, nativity, tastes, politics—socially separated by many degrees of rank—people who would not and could not in ordinary life touch each others' hands, yet engaged and joining hands in this devilish work to hinder those who are walking in the narrow path to eternal life.

Mr. Langfeldt then spoke at some length of some of the channels through which the offence comes, and which are used by the devil to help in his satanic work:

1. Corrupt literature; suggestive and impure books.
2. Corrupt conversation, foul-mouthed and suggestive jokes.
3. Laughing at religion and jeering at religious people.

Yet in spite of jeers religion will stand. It will go on flourishing in the world long after the scoffers are in their graves and repenting in another world.

4. Bad behaviour in church. Such as talking and laughing. People doing this are ill-mannered, childish, and contemptible.

The service to-night will be held at eight o'clock. The address will be "Pilate and Popularity."

AN INDIGNANT WOMAN.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

I wish you to know Sir, that my skirts are wet up to the knees and that my back is nearly broken pushing the baby carriage through the slush in front of the doors of two or three wealthy men on our street. The poor men have nearly all cleaned the pavement, and it is a few who are too lazy to do the work or too mean to pay for it, that make a poor woman suffer the way I do.

I ask all the women who read your paper to mark this letter with a pencil and send it to the worst offender on their street. I know some men who will get five or six Examiners on Monday.

Yours sincerely,
"WET FEET."

THE SPRING DRILL

Of the 57th Regiment—Active Preparations.

The City Regiments throughout the Province have already begun to make preparations for the coming spring drill and the powers of the Peterborough Rangers have not been tardy in this respect. On Wednesday night a meeting of the officers and non-commissioned officers of the 57th Regiment was held in the drill shed, the Commanding Officer, Col. Miller, and a large attendance of officers and non-coms. being present. The object of the assembly was that those present might go through what is termed "The New Infantry Drill, 1903." After a number of the new company formations had been arduously practiced, Sergeant-Major Brittain gave an interesting discourse on the new rules and regulations, of which he has a complete mastery. The spring drill generally commences during the first week in April, and the new Infantry Drill Rules are expected to come into vogue at that time.

SENILE PATIENTS' HOME.

Hon. J. R. Stratton Considering Reformatory Changes.

The Penetanguishene Building Might be put to Other Uses.

Yesterday the Provincial Secretary, Hon. J. R. Stratton, made an appointment with a number of gentlemen connected with the Mimico Industrial School, with a view to ascertaining if some arrangement could not be made by which the Industrial School could take charge of a portion of the boys now sent to the Reformatory at Penetanguishene. Among those present were Mr. Stapleton Caldecott, Chairman of the Industrial School Board; Mr. Beverley Jones, Treasurer; Mr. Chester Ferrier, Superintendent; Dr. Rosebrugh, and Mr. Hamilton Cassels, K.C.

In an interview with a Globe representative the Minister said that the Industrial School had accommodation for 280 boys. The present number of inmates was 160, thus leaving vacancies for forty. He also pointed out that by a change of the law it would be practicable for the Industrial School to take charge of a portion of the boys now at the reformatory, while some arrangement could be made to provide for the Roman Catholic boys in some similar institution.

As it is now, the Minister pointed out, Magistrates in municipalities were inclined to send to the reformatory boys better adapted for the Industrial School, owing to the charge upon municipalities for boys sent to the latter institution, whereas when lads were sent direct to the reformatory the expense fell entirely upon the Province. At present there were ninety boys in the reformatory. The Minister is of the opinion that a number of these boys could suitably be placed in foster homes, while provision could be made for the more depraved or incorrigible by the erection of a cottage at Mimico so situated and managed that they would be isolated from the other boys of the school, and not exercise a contaminating influence. Mr. Stratton said that the maintenance of a boy at the Industrial School cost $3 per week, while it cost $300 a year at the Penetanguishene Reformatory were the boys were educated and taught trades. He thought that a change in the law whereby a re-arrangement of the burden of maintainence could be made, would relieve the province of considerable expense.

The Reformatory at Penetanguishene is a large dormitory building, which can be adapted to the care of 300 or 400 of the more harmless senile patients now confined in other asylums, thus relieving the congestion which unhappily exists. Then by the erection of an institution for epileptics, instead of a new reformatory, accommodation would be provided for a considerable class of asylum patients, who are perhaps doubtfully fitted for an asylum but who are otherwise without home and uncared for.

The really, bad, vicious and incorrigible lads, instead of being a practical burden and detriment to a reformatory, could be committed to the Central Prison, or otherwise provided for.

The directors of the Industrial approved of the suggestions of the Provincial Secretary, if they can be worked out satisfactorily with regard to all the interests concerned.

SKATING PARTY

Given Last Night Under Auspices of C. D. A.

A skating party, under the auspices of the C.D.A., was held in the Brock street rink last night, and proved to be one of the most enjoyable events ever given by the members of that club. There was an attendance of ninety or more young people, and the ice was in fair condition, considering the mild weather. The band of the 57th Regiment contributed an excellent programme, and a feature of the evening was the performing of the Lancers on skates.

Mr. Harry Long catered in his usual satisfactory manner, refreshments being served in the hockey room up-stairs.

The affair concluded at about 11 o'clock. The patronesses of the party were Mrs. A. H. Stratton, Mrs. R. H. Hall, Mrs. T. A. S. Hay, Mrs. T. H. G. Deane and Mrs. W. A. Sanderson.

FAVOURS PORT HOPE ROUTE

A Lindsay Resident Expresses His Views.

Thinks Peterborough People are Selfish —The Shorter Route

Mr. P. Palmer Burrows, of Lindsay, in writing to the Port Hope Guide on the matter of the Trent Valley Canal says:—

"I see by a late issue of your paper that an Association has been formed to secure, if possible, the adoption by the Ottawa Government of the shorter route via Rice Lake for the Trent Valley Canal. I notice also that the Trent Valley Association, with headquarters and special interests in Peterborough, is also making its usual annual spasmodic effort in favour of the Trenton outlet. Now, Sir, as the strength of the argument is decidedly in favour of the shorter and cheaper of construction route, I think Port Hope's, whose sympathies are particularly enlisted, should not be content with an Association confined to their own town. I do not speak for the town of Lindsay—I have no authority so to do—but I have a right to give my personal opinion, and in doing so will say that Lindsay's interests are more in common with those of Port Hope in this route than they can possibly be with Peterborough. For Lindsay to favour the shorter route is to help build up the harbour of Port Hope and encourage shipments by the Midland Railway. Port Hope is our natural Lake outlet. Lindsay has time and again been represented on deputations with Peterborough, but in every and all cases for Peterborough's selfish interests alone. See the vast sums of money spent at Peterborough and Lakefield, Burleigh and Love Sick. In what way does this expenditure benefit Lindsay? Enlargement of the Rosedale Locks and a serviceable, commodious lock at Bobcaygeon would be to our advantage, but Peterborough people do not think of that—they are all hog, and to our shame be it said, have used us in this to our injury, and to their advantage every time. We are to blame in this, as we should have insisted upon fair consideration by them and by the Government. Port Hope has only recently pressed the advantages of the new route—(perhaps I should say, revived route.) I think she can now fairly ask all the assistance that Lindsay can give, and as far as my sympathies go, she will have them heartily, as I believe them in the true interests of this town.

Yours truly,
P. PALMER BURROWS.

Lindsay, March 4, 1903."

OUR SCRAP-HEAP GUNS.

Lord Dundonald Says That is the Sort of Canada's Artillery.

At the dinner of the Dominion Artillery Association last week, Lord Dundonald, commander-in-chief of the Canadian forces, struck right out from the shoulder, on the needs of the Canadian forces. "We have excellent material," he said, "in Canada, self-sacrificing officers and men, but they have to struggle against great discouragements." The general has been all his life interested in mechanical work, but never met a people so well adapted as the Canadians to the intelligent use of the most perfect mechanical instruments of war. Only give them weapons and they would be put to good use. Canada certainly has no equipment now. Garrison artillery were firing out of weapons that should be sent to the scrap heap, and he felt it his duty to recommend that our artillery be provided with guns that will fire as far as an enemy's guns would likely reach.

SPLENDID PAPER ON OUR BREAD.

Extracts From Geo. G. Nasmith's Essay.

READ BEFORE SCIENCE MEN.

Wheat Bread is More Nearly the Perfect Ration.

Mr. George G. Nasmith, B. A., chemist, of the Provincial Board of Health, recently read a paper before the Natural Science Association of Toronto University on "Bread," from which the following extracts are made:—

The cereals and the products derived from them form the basis of all human nutrition; in all climates and in every class of society bread of some kind is the one food in general use, and forms the nucleus around which almost every diet is constructed.

The various cereals are of much the same composition, but wheat flour makes a much better quality of bread than flour from any other cereal, because it possesses a substance, gluten, upon which its bread making qualities depend, and one obtainable from no other cereal. Oats, maize or rye, for example, do not possess gluten, and, therefore, do not make good bread.

If wheat flour is made into dough and this kneaded in a stream of water, the starch granules are gradually washed away and a grey rubbery mass is left, the gum obtained by chewing wheat. It is this elastic substance that entangles the gas bubbles, given off by the yeast organism in bread making, so that the whole mass becomes light and spongy.

Wheat flour is obtained by grinding the endosperm of the wheat grain, that is, all of the wheat grain left when the branny coats and germ are milled out, and thrown away. Whole wheat flour is white flour plus the inner branny coats, especially the aleuron layer. Graham flour consists of the entire grain ground up.

Wheat bread is more nearly a perfect ration, and will maintain life longer than any other single food; because its tissue forming constituents, the proteids (gluten), and its energy yielding portion, the carbohydrates (starch), are nearly in the proportions demanded by the system. The human body demands from the food daily about 100 grams of protein, 50 grams of fat and 450 grams carbohydrate. In 100 grams of bread there are 7.8 grams of assimilable protein, 1.3 grams fat, and 53.1 grams carbohydrate, so that to get the necessary amount of protein from bread a man would have to eat about 1,360 grams of bread—about 3 lbs.—a day. This would give 35 grams too little fat, and 240 grams too much carbohydrate, but since fat and carbohydrate are both energy formers, and to a certain extent interchangeable, the variation from a standard diet is not great. We have instinctively recognised these facts by eating our bread with butter—a fat—or taking it with milk, which contains a large amount of proteid and fat, or eating it with cheese, which is proteid and fat.

BROWN BREADS.

Brown breads are inferior to white bread, because they contain much less available nutriment, weight for weight, than it does. Text-books and medical men religiously reiterate the statement, disproved years ago, that the best part of the wheat grain is milled out and thrown away in the bran. There is absolutely no foundation for the wild claims made by the whole wheat crank; in fact, all the evidence is in favour of the white article.

It is true that whole wheat contains more protein than white flour, but then "we live not by what we eat but by what we digest." We can eat hay, but not digest it. The fact is that the protein in the bran and so-called aleurow layer is enclosed within cellulose walls; human beings cannot digest cellulose, and, therefore, the enclosed food is not available to us. I have digested thin sections of wheat grain with artificial gastric juice for two days, and invariably found the cell contents to be unaltered when examined under the microscope. Similarly investigators have allowed thin sections to pass through the alimentary tract, with precisely the same results. It has also been found from numerous experiments on human beings, that there is not as much food absorbed from whole wheat or graham flour bread as from white. For instance, a number of people were fed on bread and milk, and by accurate physiological methods, it was found that, on the average 85 per cent. of the protein, and 97 per cent of the carbohydrate of the best white flour is digestible. In whole wheat 80.5 per cent. of the protein and 94 per cent. of the carbohydrate is digested; while in graham bread only 77.6 per cent. of the protein, and 89 1-2 per cent of the carbohydrate is digested.

In one case for example, a student aged 23, was fed on bread made from patent flour and milk, for a space of two days, gaining two pounds in weight in that time. He consumed 1.9 pounds of bread and 4 34 pounds of milk per day, digesting 85.6 per cent. of the protein, and 96.7 per cent. of the carbohydrate of the bread. Numerous experiments always yield exactly the same results.

Obviously, then, anyone who says that white bread is poor food, is simply ignorant of the subject in question; experimental evidence proves that white bread yields eight per cent. more nourishment to the body than graham bread, which is made from the whole wheat; not only so, but the branny particles, by irritating the intestinal walls and thus promoting peristalsis, hastens other foods too rapidly through the intestine, so that complete absorption cannot take place, and considerable loss occurs. Of course in certain affections of the alimentary canal this increased peristalsis is of benefit, and many people take brown bread for this reason. As with every other food, eat what agrees with you. It is literally a fact that "what is one man's meat may be another man's poison."

The workingman demands, and always has demanded, white bread, not as the great physiologist Bunge, imagined, from a perverted instinct, but because he has found by experience that he can "work better on it." Public opinion has always endorsed the white loaf, evidently for good reasons; less than 15 per cent. of the bread made in Toronto to-day is brown bread. Sedentery people are often benefitted by using brown bread, but the active person will be yielded more energy from the white.

A great deal is made of the loss to the system, of the calcium, iron and phosphorus salts, which are undoubtedly present in the bran. But no one has yet proved that we require abnormal quantities of these salts, and since they are present in oatmeal, breakfast foods and, in fact almost every vegetable and animal food we eat, the so-called loss is immaterial.

The science of nutrition bids fair to become something more than a name. Within the past fifteen years a great deal of work along the line of metabolism and food investigation has been done, but we know very little about them yet. Domestic science is a direct result of laborious laboratory investigations; let us hope that it has come to stay, and that dyspepsia and such kindred ailments, directly due to lack of knowledge of the principles of cooking and nutrition, will, fifty years from thence, be things unknown.

WEDDING AT BIRDSALLS.

Miss Mabel M. Hutchinson and Mr Jas. M. Bonar, of Assiniboia, are the Contracting Parties.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place last Wednesday evening, February 25th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchinson, near Birdsall's Asphodel township, when their only daughter, Mabel Maud, was united in marriage to Mr. Jas. M. Bonar, of Ferndale, Assiniboia. Just at five o'clock, while the wedding march was being played, by Miss Nellie Hutchinson, of Trent Bridge, the bridal party took their place in the drawing room under an arch of evergreens, decked with flowers, and the Rev. H. W. Foley, B.A., of South Dummer, tied the knot in the presence of about forty witnesses.

The bride looked beautiful, attired in a dainty gown of cream cashmere, trimmed with watered silk and lace, with bridal veil, and carrying a handsome bouquet of white roses and carnations. She was attended by her two cousins, Miss Nellie Faux, of Birdsall's, and Miss Eva Wessels, of Wooler, each gowned in white organdie over pink, and carrying bouquets of pink and white carnations and

The groom looking his very best, was ably supported by Mr. W. B. Hutchinson, of Asphodel. After the ceremony the guests retired to the dining room, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was awaiting.

The presents to the bride were numerous and very costly, showing the high esteem in which she is held by a wide circle of friends.

The happy couple left on the 4.50 a.m., train at Indian River, Thursday, where a number of their friends gave them a hearty send off for their home, in the Great Northwest.

Mrs. Bonar was a member of the Methodist church at Westwood, where she will be much missed by her many friends, but all join in wishing her much joy and happiness in her new far away home.

POLICE COURT.

An Extraordinary Case of Assault and Battery.

At the Police Court this morning, Patrick Bolton was charged before Police Magistrate Dumble, with assaulting his father, Michael Bolton. The case had been enlarged for a week because the complainant appeared to have been under some delusion. In the course of his evidence Michael Bolton said that on the night of Tuesday, Feb. 24th, he was pulled from his bed and locked up in the woodshed where he remained all night, while on Wednesday night following, his son came into his room and abused and struck him down. The compainant said that he did not wish his son to be punished, but that he must be bound over to keep the peace and remain out of his house, as he was afraid of him, and had not slept in the house since the occurrence.

Patrick Bolton, the accused, in the course of his evidence, said that when he arrived home on Wednesday night he found his father in a battered condition, and the house, inside, was all upset. The accused swore that he did not hit his father, whom he thought was suffering from delusion, as he had previously been in such a condition; he furthermore swore that his father, contrary to that gentleman's evidence, had been in the house three nights since the occurrence.

The Police Magistrate thought the complainant was under some delusion and needed medical treatment, in view of which he discharged the accused.

THE WEATHER FOR MARCH.

Prof. Hicks Forecasts Some Very Stormy Periods.

Notwithstanding that Prof. Iri Hicks' forecast of a very unpleasant February, was followed by the most genial 28-day month in the memory of the "oldest inhabitant," he shall be given a chance to guess again. Of March he says:

A storm period extends from the 2nd to the 7th. Cloudy, warmer weather will follow. Thunder in the south and heavy rains northward will be followed by a cold wave that will extend far south. The timid may omit the following fearsome forecast —"Heavy earth currents of magnetism and electricity, seismic convulsions and quickened volcanic activity, are among the things reasonably to be expected during and about the 10th to the 15th."

Exceedingly unsettled weather and dangerous storms are promised between the 13th and 20th. Heavy storms are due from the 17th to the 22nd. Mingled snow, rain and raw winds are likely. Thousands of cattle and sheep will perish then. Approaching the 27th the weather will turn very mild but this will only presage dangerous storms. Snow and sleet followed by a cold wave will end the month.

HOCKEY.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP GAME.

Owing to the defeat of Fenelon Falls by Norwood on Wednesday night, the T.A.S. of Peterborough and Norwood are a tie in the championship of the Trent Valley League. This game will be played at Lindsay to-night, and the championship of the T.V.L. will be finally decided. Owing to the depression in temperature the ice will not be in very good condition, and the heavier team ought certainly to have the advantage, but the season waves and the ice may be the best that will be seen during the remaining part of this winter. The T.A.S. boys seem to be quite confident of running off with the championship, and will go to Lindsay to-night per special train at 7.15 o'clock, together with a large following of supporters. The referee at the match will be Mr. Roy D. Schooley, of Toronto, who gave such excellent satisfaction at the game between the same teams a few days back, and who has always proved himself to be a most impartial referee. Considerable excitement, as to the result of the game, prevails in town and the outcome will be awaited in Peterborough with great interest.

THE LADIES' MATCH.

The ladies are endeavouring to give the people of Peterborough an exhibition match before the season closes and with this end in view they have for some time been trying to get some team down here to oppose them, but after several failures in this line it is announced that the Markham ladies will play here on Tuesday night next. The good people of the town seem to be anxious to see the ladies play hockey, and it is likely that there will be a large attendance at the match.

HOCKEY 25 YEARS AGO.

"Shinney on your own side"—
Can you remember how
You shinneyed on your own side
In happier days than now?
The skates were dull and rusty,
The puck an old tin can,
As we shinneyed on our own side
On the millpond by the dam.

"Shinney on your own side"—
In clothes that father wore
We shinneyed on our own side
In happier days of yore;
In mitts that mother knit us,
With coats laid down for goals,
We shinneyed on our own side
And never thought of colds.

"Shinney on your own side"—
Then run and get the cow;
But shinney on your own side
The girls are looking now;
And, sitting by the big mill wheel,
Our sweethearts watched the game,
As we shinneyed on our own side
With our sweethearts all aflame.

"Shinney on your own side"—
The sun is setting soon;
Then we'll shinney on your own side
By the light of the silver moon;
And the big mill wheel will sparkle
On this glorious winter night
As we shinney on our own side
With careless hearts and light.

"Shinney on your own side"—
Sweet dreams that used to be.
We shinneyed on our own side
Yet, but in memory
We yearn for our sweetheart's face again
For the stick and the old tin can.
To shinney on our own side
On the millpond by the dam.

Belleville's exit from the O.H.A. was by the back door, says the Toronto Star. They didn't make their case any stronger by defaulting; better to have taken their medicine like men and played the game at Peterborough last night, when they might have demonstrated their superiority to the Marlboros on neutral ice, even if they did not win the round.

* * * *

The Belleville Intelligencer says: "Whatever Association Belleville joins next winter, it is to be hoped it will be one which will take steps to prevent a recurrence of the lamentable injustice which occurred in the case of Marks, who, after playing through nearly the entire season, is thrown out and his team forced to retire when they were in sight of the championship. To any reasonable man it must seem fair that the O.H.A. should, like the advisory board of all baseball leagues be furnished with a list of the men who will play on the various teams. If the executive has anything against any of those men it should say so at once, and, if not, and the executive grants permission for those men to play, they should be eligible to play during the entire season, unless, of course, they commit themselves during that period. For the executive to O.K. a man at the beginning of the season, and then to disqualify him and throw him out at the tail end is a mockery of justice and contrary to the spirit of British fair play.

LACROSSE.

The lacrosse season will soon commence and with this end in view the Athletics are going to hold a meeting in the Y.M.C.A. to-night for the purpose of organising their Club, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance. Neighbouring towns are talking lacrosse and it is expected that a strong district will be formed by them.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Omemee Football Club organized for the ensuing year season on Saturday last, and the Secretary read a letter from the Y.M.C.A. of Peterborough, suggesting the forming of a league, comprising Bethany, Havelock, Norwood, Pontypool, Peterborough, Omemee and Smith. It was favourably voted upon.

NEURALGIA

If a person has neuralgia in his system this is the season when it will be felt. It is an ailment that may spring from a variety of sources. Anæmia or any depressed state of the bodily functions are frequent causes. The exhaustion resulting from rheumatism also makes it easy for neuralgia to get a foothold.

Scott's Emulsion has for years been recognized as a powerful agent for good in giving new life to the worn-out nerve centers and building up the weakened tissues which are responsible for neuralgia.

In Scott's Emulsion the pure cod liver oil is combined with hypophosphites of lime and soda, the latter contributing strength to the blood and bones.

As the principal mission of Scott's Emulsion is to give healthy, solid flesh, active tissue, pure blood and rich bone marrow it will be readily seen why Scott's Emulsion is so effective in driving out the causes of neuralgia.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

PENSIONS IN OLD AGE.

Budget of French Minister of Finance Provides For Them.

Paris, March 5.—The Chamber of Deputies, continuing the debate on the budget for the Ministry of Finance, adopted last night an appropriation of $200,000 a year for increasing the old-age pensions paid by the mining companies to their miners and employes. It is expected that yesterday's appropriation will bring the pension to which a miner is entitled on reaching the superannuation age from $11 to $72 per annum. The measure was a part of the Socialist program and is avowedly the first step in the direction of providing old age pensions for all the working classes.

Margellous Arrested in Chicago.

Montreal, March 5.—The arrest is announced in Chicago by a Montreal detective of George Margolious, a Montreal trader, who left the city some weeks ago after, it is alleged, having defrauded a large number of houses scattered all over Canada. His modus operandi was to secure large lines of goods on credit and slaughter them at any price they would bring. The amount involved was variously estimated at between $35,000 and $50,000.

James Durham Killed.

Welland, March 5.—A sad accident occurred here last evening by which Mr. James Durham, a well-known citizen, lost his life. He was walking on the G.T.R. track, and was struck by Powell's passenger train, which went north about 6.30. His head was badly crushed, and death was instantaneous.

Minto in Grave Danger.

Halifax, N. S., March 5.—A despatch from Pictou says the Stanley and Minto rounded Cape George and are in Antigonish Bay. The only hope now is to get the Stanley free to take care of the Minto. Their next move depends upon wind and weather. A shipping man, who knows the coast well, says that the Minto would be in danger of going on the Gulf shore.

Waterworks Municipalised.

Stratford, March 5.—Stratford has declared for municipal ownership of waterworks and for good roads. By a majority of 136, the waterworks purchase bylaw was carried yesterday, and the good roads bylaw by the overwhelming majority of 311. These provide for the purchase of the Stratford Water Supply Company's plant, mains, etc., for $98,000, with a couple of thousand dollars added to meet immediate expenditure, and for the issuing of debentures for $8,000 to secure immediate improvement of outlying portions of the main roads. The total votes were: For waterworks purchase bylaw 576, against 440; for good roads bylaw 652, against 341.

5,000 WORKERS WANTED.

Government Aid Sought to Supply Demand For Skilled Labor.

Toronto, March 6.—The manufacturers of goods requiring iron as raw material are the latest to enter a plea for more help. Yesterday a deputation representing a variety of industries in different parts of the Province waited on Premier Ross to ask that something be done. Mr. J. O. Thorn and Mr. F. B. Polson of Toronto, Hon. Wm. Harty, M.P., of the Kingston Locomotive Works, and Mr. R. Moffatt of Weston were among the party. They represented that the industries of the Province had expanded so rapidly that they urgently needed 5,000 more skilled mechanics. They maintained their aim was not to depress the labor market, but only to get sufficient men for their immediate needs. They asked that the Ontario Government take some action toward the importation of men to relieve the situation. At present the Canadian Manufacturers' Association is gathering statistics of the scarcity of men, and when these are complete a further deputation will probably see the Government.

FINANCES OF NOVA SCOTIA.

The Provincial Government Has a Surplus of Over $50,000.

Halifax, N. S., March 6.—The financial returns for Nova Scotia for the last fiscal year were brought down in the House of Assembly yesterday afternoon. The development which has been maintained in every department in industry and commerce is exhibited in the buoyance of the revenue, which, last year, reached the highest mark since confederation. After providing generously for all the public services, the Government was able to close the year with a surplus of over fifty-two thousand dollars.

Tweedie's Majority in N.B.

Ottawa, March 6. — The final returns of the New Brunswick election give the Government 36 members, and the Opposition 10. Mr. Hazen, the Opposition leader, has two more supporters than he had in the last house. Five out of the eight Opposition members who went to the country were left at home.

Alaska Treaty Room.

Ottawa, March 6.—A room in the Indian Department in the eastern block has been set apart for the officials who are to prepare the Canada case for submission to the Alaska tribunal.

INDIVIDUALITY.

Making of Handmade Goods Will Cultivate It in Canadians.

In Canada, above all other countries, we have great need to encourage individuality, for our system of public education, however excellent, takes but little count of the individual, and from a certain standpoint we are educating on a system which tends to destroy anything like strong individuality. In fact, if you take the spirit which prevails in our smaller towns and villages you will find a positive resentment against the man or woman who dares to strike out in any line of his own. Go into our large stores and you will find one huge table covered with the same form of hat, reproduced a thousand times. Pass into the mantle department, and on great trees hang coats and jackets of the exact cut and make and color; and all this is influencing our people and their view of individuality and its right to assert itself in any line in life. With all our boasted freedom, as compared to the past, we fall into line like mild-eyed sheep and follow the mass. In the old days we might have been led by individuals; to-day it is the unthinking crowd that takes the lead. How many people think or care what has been the origin or inspiration of any fashion we follow so blindly? Surely there is nothing so deadening, so calculated to still the best that is in the human soul, as indifference. Can the Society for Arts and Crafts stir up the public to take an intelligent interest in the thought and virtue which are expressed in the handmade article, they will bring closer to the mass of purchasers in the Dominion the problems which face the men and women who design and execute the work they propose to encourage. Those great factories hide so much from us that is beautiful and worthy in human lives and the struggles of the workers to beautify their own lives by contact with beautiful things. Can we but encourage work which will not separate men and women from their homes and their children, can we but raise the taste of the richer classes in the Dominion so that they will take into consideration all that a good handmade article represents and be willing to pay for that ideal quality of human individuality, as well as for the time and labor expended on its construction, we shall have much to thank the Society of Arts and Crafts in Canada for. —Lally Bernard, in The Globe.

Enthroning An Archbishop.

It is expected that the new Archbishop of Canterbury will be enthroned very soon now. This ceremony, though not, of course, approaching a coronation, is attended with a good deal of pomp. In the early half of the century the ceremony was performed with comparative simplicity, and often with some difficulty. Archbishop Hawley, who was promoted to the See of Canterbury in the height of the Reform agitation, was stoned out of the city, and it is only in the latter half of the century that the Archbishops have had any popularity in their own cathedral city. With the growth of more ornate services it has become the practice to carry out the enthronization of the Archbishop with considerable splendor, and though Dr. Temple was not himself a man fond of show, his elevation to the cathedral throne was conducted in the most imposing manner. The new Archbishop will be enthroned with probably a more splendid and impressive ceremonial than his predecessors.

Never Heard of Him.

The Edinburgh Evening Dispatch tells of two Scots in London, who were passing Whitehall, when one said: "I wonder from which of these windows it was that King Charles was led out to be executed; I'll ask the "bobby." "Can you tell me," he said, addressing that dignitary, "from which window Charles was led out to his execution?" "Chawkie! Chawkies!" said the constable, reflectively, "I- never 'eard on 'im; it must 'ave been afore my toime."

Nerve Disorders of Women

Accompanied by Neuralgia, Irritability, Sleeplessness and Depressed Spirits,

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The feminine organism requires an enormous quantity of blood, not only to sustain the network of nerves which are found in the womanly system, but also to make good the periodical loss which so weakens the body.

Consequently it happens that just as soon as the blood gets weak and watery, or is deficient in quantity, the nervous system suffers, and in women the effects are most severely felt in the form of irregularities and weaknesses of the feminine system.

At the beginning of womanhood, at childbirth, during the nursing periods, and at the change of life, calls are made for an extra supply of blood and as a result nervous disorders are exceedingly common at these times, and the health and happiness of the remainder of life may depend on the care of the system.

Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food actually forms new blood and creates new nerve force, it is the most effective preparation ever used by women to build up the system, and restore vigour and strength to the body.

Mrs. R. J. Huffman, 238 Reid street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Canadian General Electric Company, states:

"For over a year I suffered from nervous headaches and feelings of weakness and dizziness would come over me. My nervous system seemed weak and exhausted, and hearing of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I began using it. I am now pleased to state that the headaches do no bother me any more and my system is entirely built up and restored."

It will whirl you to the other end of Britain—to whatever station you want to reach. If ever you are in such a hurry that money matters nothing—provided you have got it—you can count on getting an ordinary train at the price of from 20 to 40 ordinary fares to your destination.

But if you want comfort and "style," an extra half hour's notice to the railway people will procure you a dining and sleeping car, with a cook, attendants, food and wines, from $100 to $150 extra. Then you can "burn the ground" over 300 miles by rail, only stopping to water the engine and laugh at all the time tables ever compiled. A great many wealthy people in a hurry have done this.

The Biggest "Scurry."

One of the biggest "scurries" in special train records was a train scratched together for the King, when Prince of Wales, on a very important occasion. He, of course, nearly always has his own trains, but "extras" are as much a part of the railway system as the mails. There is nothing exciting about them.

But while on a visit to a country house just outside Leicester, the King received a message that had been delayed. The Crown Prince of Greece had arrived in England and his formal reception by the Queen at Buckingham Palace was put forward by a day. The news, owing to a breakdown, did not reach the Prince till 15 hours after it ought to have reached him, and he barely had two and a half hours before the ceremony began. These affairs between royalties are extremely punctilious and there are no excuses.

It would have been almost an international slight if the Prince had not appeared, but there was no train. A messenger rode posthaste to Leicester, the Prince followed in a fast carriage and when he arrived a "special" of four "odd-and-end" carriages had been slung to a fast engine—less than four are not safe—in less than 15 minutes.

He jumped in, the line was cleared and off the train went. He was without lunch and the carriage was an ordinary first-class, but the Prince's valet bustled some sandwiches in at the last moment, and the train, with a clear line, whisked its royal freight to London in an hour and 40 minutes. He was just in time for the reception.

The "Marriage Special."

Probably the most romantic, as well as one of the smartest of special train hurries was one that raced from London to Dover a few years ago, on the occasion of a runaway match, and which still lives in railway annals as the "marriage special." The engager of the train, a Mr. Vickery, had big difficulties to overcome, for his fiancee was a ward in chancery, that is, she and her estate were under the guardianship of the law, and the penalty for marrying a ward without the consent of the court is imprisonment.

As this consent was not to be obtained, the young couple disregarded it and were married at a registry office. The bride's relatives, however, had had the bridegroom watched by a private detective, and shortly after the ceremony the newly married couple found they were discovered.

The bridegroom had a small steam yacht in the Granville dock at Dover, and to this they were to have repaired by train. But as the warrant for the groom's arrest was now likely to be issued at any moment, they dared not wait for the train and a special was ordered. In 30 minutes it was ready and the couple were speeding south.

The detective, to gain time to put the machinery of the law in motion, tried to have the train stopped at Canterbury, but as he had no legal authority he failed, and the couple reached Dover. The main reason for taking the special is that a vessel in the Granville dock has to wait till two hours before high water before she can get out, and the ordinary train would have missed the tide.

They arrived twenty minutes too early, having done the journey in two hours to the minute, and waited anxiously for the dock gates to open. When they did, the yacht steamed out, and the couple left British waters just an hour ahead of the warrant. At daybreak the yacht put into Flushing and the happy pair lived abroad till the bride's majority.

Pierpont Morgan's Special "Special."

A very special "special" was the one which Mr. Pierpont Morgan ordered at Manchester the last time he was over here. In the States he is accustomed to take specials almost everywhere, and a big railway magnate can do what he likes with American railway lines.

Mr. Morgan was said to be in England for a rest. However, he suddenly ordered a "special" for London at Manchester, and required the best possible. In 40 minutes a train with dining and parlor carriage was ready, with a little bill for $825. This paid, Mr. Morgan stepped in, and was whirled off at 60 miles an hour. He thought, however, that he could pull up wherever he liked, as in the States, by a message to the driver, but found this was not possible. All the way up he made notes, comparing the British special with the Yankee, and he reached London in just under four hours, having covered nearly 200 miles. At the end of the journey he gave the engine driver $50, and admitted afterwards that the performance was ahead of the ordinary American specials. The railway record, by the way, is one of the records we hold from the States.

Bridegrooms' Specials.

Oddly enough, a very frequent reason for taking a special is that a bridegroom is in danger of being late for his wedding, and last year there were at least three specials ordered through this cause. One particularly smart performance was the getting of Mr. Murray Dixon to London in time for his wedding, after the carriage accident he had on driving to Bromwich.

On the way to catch a train at Birmingham his horses shied at a donkey that was rolling on his back in the roadway, and turned the outfit into a ditch. Both horses were injured, and a four-mile walk and the missing of the train were the results. However, a special was ordered, whipped together in less than 20 minutes and three carriages, the shortest special on record, went tearing up to London. They overtook the train that had been missed, while it was pulled up at a station and the special was shunted around her and arrived at London 20 minutes ahead. This trip cost the anxious bridegroom $300—nearly as much as Mr. Morgan's race from Manchester.—London Answers.

Ask a healthy woman what she would sell her health for and she would tell you that the choicest diamonds in the world could not buy it. What use for diamond rings to emphasize the shrunken fingers, or earrings to light up the cheeks hollowed by disease?

Health is the first requisite to womanly happiness. General ill-health in women has its origin in local womanly diseases. Cure the diseases of the delicate womanly organism and the general health is perfectly restored.

The remarkable benefits experienced from the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription are due to this medicine's perfect cures of womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"It affords me great pleasure to be able to say a few words in regard to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' writes Mrs. Flora Ara, of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo. "I was tempted to try these medicines after seeing the effect upon my mother. At an early stage of married life I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

TREES IN BRITAIN.

Much Waste Land on Which Woods Could Be Planted.

The Departmental Committee on British Forestry has issued its report. It remarks on the fact that there are some twenty-one million acres of waste land, a large proportion of which might profitably be afforested. It recommends that two areas for practical demonstration, of not under two and not over ten thousand acres, should be acquired by the State; that lecturers on forestry be appointed in connection with the universities; and that the agricultural colleges make the subject part of their course. The proposal to set apart experimental areas is interesting, and we are rather of opinion that such an experiment would not make Alice Holt—one of the areas suggested—much less profitable than it is to-day. Some, indeed we may say all, the other recommendations strike us as pious and quite proper. Unhappily we doubt gravely whether this entirely well-meaning report will result in any considerable planting and replanting operations on the part of the owner of land. The fall in the value of timber and underwood has been great during the last quarter of a century. Oak, for instance, to-day is hardly worth the stripping, though the price of the wood itself has been lower in the past. Larch is one of the few timber trees which the landowner finds he can plant on poor land with something like assured profit. The clause in the report referring to the estate duties may remind us of the undoubted fact that Sir William Harcourt's Finance Act must be held responsible for the fall of a great deal of timber in English woods which is not likely to be replaced in the near future. Too often it must be the only way to pay off the duties.—Saturday Review.

Poor Cooking.

Poor cooking was found to be the cause of no less than 400 cases of wife desertion in Chicago last year. That the same is the underlying reason of thousands of cases of drunkenness there can be no possible doubt. Women should reflect very carefully before imposing any food fad on their families. The no breakfast idea may or may not be a good one, but it is certainly bad when it is unwillingly adopted. There is no question which is individual as that which concerns diet. A child must be governed in his eating, of course, but grown men should be permitted to follow their own tastes. Even where those tastes are known to be open to criticism the wise woman will overlook the fact rather than run the risk of substituting a worse condition of affairs. She will drink substitutes for coffee herself, eat raw food or vegetables instead of meat, but she will forbear to insist upon the other members of the family following her example.

THE SICKROOM.

Never sit where your patient cannot see you.

Never require a patient to repeat a message or request. Attend at once.

Never take the temperature in the armpit until you are sure the skin is dry.

Never disregard a patient's intelligent craving for particular articles of diet.

Never administer a quantity of food to a patient until you have found out if he can swallow.

Never allow a patient to be waked out of his first sleep either intentionally or accidentally.

Never use anything but a graduated measure for measuring doses of medicine unless ordered to administer the dose in drops.

Never imagine that a patient who sleeps during the day will not sleep during the night. The more he sleeps the better will he be able to sleep.

Never pour out a dose of medicine anywhere but near the patient. A dose to the wrong patient or a double dose to the right one may not harm the patient, but it will certainly do no good.

The Care of Furniture.

The care of furniture woods is an exceedingly interesting part of the intelligent housekeeper's duties. The daily light dusting must supplement the weekly rubbing if the "bloom," in this instance not desirable, is to be kept away. As a rule the use of oily restoratives is to be deprecated. Unless applied by a tireless arm and thoroughly rubbed in and thereafter the piece of furniture kept in perfect polish by a daily rubbing, the oil is sure to form a crust sooner or later which is gummy to the touch and not pleasing to the eye. For this reason new furniture should be kept as long as possible without the application of such restoratives. Furniture which has been finished with shellac or varnish, whether in glossy or dull finish, should never be cleansed with soap or water. Soap is made to cut oily substances, and in the performance of the service for which it is made eats the oil out of the waxed, oiled or shellacked surface it touches and destroys it.—Harper's Bazar.

Fig Custard Pudding.

A fig custard pudding is made of one-half pound of good figs, a pint of milk, the yolks of two eggs and the white of one, one-half ounce of gelatin soaked in cold water, two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and a half cupful of any kind of fruit jelly. Soak the figs in warm water until quite soft, then split and dip each piece in the jelly, which has been warmed enough to allow the figs to be well coated. Line a buttered mold with the figs. Heat the milk and stir into it the well beaten yolks and the sugar. Return the saucepan to the fire until the mixture thickens. Add the soaked gelatin and set the pan aside to cool. As soon as it begins to harden add to it the white of the egg, well beaten, and beat the mixture until it is quite spongy. Fill the fig lined mold and set in a cool place for several hours. This may be made the day before using and is a good Sunday tea dessert.

The Use of Ox Gall For Carpets.

An old fashioned but capital way of cleaning carpets is to use ox gall in the proportion of about one part of gall to three parts of water, rubbing the carpet over with a cloth dipped in this, taking care not to wet the carpet more than is necessary. This will both remove the stains and revive the colors. But as the smell of the gall is atrocious and not to be got rid of for twenty-four hours at least, even with windows wide open, the process should be carried on in an attic or outside on a plot of grass, where no inconveniences need arise from the odor.

The recent acquisition by this company of leases on 320 acres additional in the Wheatley District makes its control of oil lands now cover 1200 acres in all, thus increasing its assets by nearly 25%, with a corresponding increase in the intrinsic value of its stock. The fact that this addition was also made without drawing a dollar from its rapidly accumulating treasury funds, evidences the intent of its directors to continue the success of the company's operations, and let no opportunity pass to maintain its substantial character and leading position among Canadian enterprises.

At the customary oil field reckoning of one well to an acre, the probable output from these properties is almost beyond computation. The Wheatley property adjoins the several wells drilled and operated by the Union Gas & Oil Co., and is considered a very valuable acquisition; while President Woodward of the Dominion Company advises us that by the installation of the air compressor he expects to increase the output of the famous Gurd Gusher to 400 or 500 barrels a day—and this product is now bringing a higher price than any other petroleum oil on the North American continent. Contracts are also under way for the immediate development of the Wheatley property, where a good quality of oil has been found.

In view of these facts, as well as the sound financial position now occupied by the company, the directors have decided that, in simple justice to the company itself and its shareholders, the sale of stock shall

Close at 35c Saturday March 14,

and that the price shall

Advance to 50c Monday, March 16.

The company is now paying dividends of one per cent monthly on par ($1.00 per share, fully paid and non-assessable) which at the present figure of 35c is practically 36 per cent. per annum on the investment. Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, March 6. — The market closing prices yesterday were substantially the lowest of the day and the net losses ranged very generally from ½ to 3 p.c. In the afternoon there was a slight flurry in money which for a moment rose nominally to 6 p.c. but flurry does not indicate the condition of the money market and it would not have occurred unless the stock market had been under strong pressure. There was no change whatever in the time money market.

New York, March 6. — Not a single bearish rumor that did cavalry work yesterday is confirmed. The monetary situation will clear itself presently. There is a fair short interest in Man. and MTR.. Average Atch. and B.O. on any further dips! Sugar and copper are booked for advances at the first favourable opportunity.

JOSEPH.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Pousaett & Co.:—

New York, March 6.—Continued depression in stocks due to continuation of liquidation with the early support from covering of shorts subsiding. With cessation of this demand there has been little to hold the market and many traders are putting out fresh lines again. It seems as though heaviest selling pressure came from pools lightening their loads.

2.30 p.m.—Rally caused by covering of shorts by Keene brokers.

M. & M.

New York, March 6, 9.45 a.m.—Some friction in C.P.R. labour situation but not serious. Reported U.P. pool hammering U.P. in retaliation for Harriman attitude on T.P. Rumoured financial difficulties in dry goods district proved to be unimportant. Banks lost to subtreasury since Friday $5,000,000.

DOW, JONES & CO.

Herald says investigation of report financial embarrassement in a large wholesale dry goods house was investigated but nothing definite ascertained. However, a committee of bankers stood ready to furnish needed assistance. It was said last night a concerted effort would be made to support market to-day by prominent interests on the street, and it was that after a conference of bankers after close of market that this course had been decided upon.

M. & M.

Messrs. Dever & Co. have issued the following:—

New York, March 5th — The money situation continued to be the dominating feature of the stock markets The market was persistently hammered all day by the bears who succeeded in uncovering numerous stop loss orders. There is very little encouraging news at present for holders of stock on which to base hopes of higher prices except possibly the market may be over-sold, but there is little evidence that the short interest is unwieldy. The know movements of currenty so far this week foreshadow another statement. There is apparently no support of importance from any of the pools who evidently concluded that the market is in a sick stage and needs a rest for a few days until the natural law of reaction relieves the situation. Closing was heavy at about low figures for the day.

Chicago — Wheat market acted very tired to-day. Opening slightly above 77 cents it continued to sag selling down to 75 5-8 cents; closing 75 7-8. Corn sold off a little to-day. Purchases should be made for moderate profits. Closing prices—Wheat, May, 75 3-4 a 7-8; corn, May, 46 1-3 a 1-2; oats, May, 34 1-2; pork, May, $12.30; lard, May, $10.00.

A QUESTION

Two Wives of Nelson Morton Sue the G. T. R.—Was There a Divorce?

Wilson Morton, who was killed in the Wanstead accident, had two wives, both of whom are suing the Grand Trunk for damages. The railway is naturally not anxious to pay two sets of damages and costs, and is therefore asking to have an issue directed between the two claimants to try the question of which is the true wife, and entitled to bring the action. Amy Lawrence Morton, the first wife, lives in Toronto. Maud Morton, the second, has her residence in Chicago, where she lived with the deceased until his death. A divorce was granted to Morton from his first wife in Chicago, in 1900, and on this Mrs. Maud Morton takes her claim. Mrs. Amy Morton calls the validity of the decree in question, alleging it to have been obtained by fraud. If the divorce is upheld by the courts it will, of course, put the Toronto wife out of court, and this question therefore must be decided before the action for damages can proceed.

BEAUTY IN MODERN CHORUS.

The "Show Girl" a new Feature—Selected for Beauty and Figure.

With the development and popularity of the modern chorus a new type of actress has been evolved.

She is known as the Show Girl. In almost every light musical play there are two, and sometimes more, Show Girls, selected for beauty of feature and figure, who occupy a place midway between the chorus and the principal performers. They do not stand in the chorus-line or perform exactly the same movements, and they are dressed differently and more gorgeously than the chorus girls.

Managers get great reductions in the price of the gowns for the chorus in return for the advertisement the dressmaker obtains, particularly if the play in question has the reputation of setting the fashion. The garments of the Show Girl are often obtained below cost, and the costumers give themselves full swing in designing and making a show girl's wardrobe elaborate. In the matter of dress, says a writer in the March Cosmopolitan, duchesses and chorus girls are very much alike nowadays, except that the latter are rather better dressed than the former.

The Half Has Not Been Told About Northwest.

Balance of Power to Shift Westward—Rev. W. T. Stackhouse Makes a Confident Prediction.

(Toronto News.)

A glowing description of the Northwest and a prediction as to its great future, were given this week, by Rev. W. T. Stackhouse, superintendent of Baptist missions in the Northwest. He said, "During the last eighteen months I have travelled over 35,000 miles, and most of it was in Manitoba and the Northwest. I have travelled on horse back, on foot, by stage, and by railway, and I know something about what I speak. It is a most wonderful country. The facts exceed the most frantic statements that have been made. The half has never been told.

"Since the census was taken two years ago, the immigrants arriving numbered 135,000, according to figures furnished by Government officials. In the last year alone 75,000 came in, 25,000 of whom were from the United States. From all I can gather there will be a bigger rush this year, and I would not be surprised if 150,000 people flow into the West in 1904. The best thing about it is that the class of settlers is decidedly improving.

"Some people say the balance of power will be shifted to the West within fifty years. Whether that will be so or not, it is bound to come sooner or later.

"I am told that from the time the plough is put into the ground to the time the grain is placed in the elevators, the total cost to the farmer, including his own keep, is only $7 an acre. We will have crop failures—if it is not this year it may be the next—but if we are given one good crop in three, there are boundless opportunities for the expansion and prosperity of the country."

Mr. Stackhouse has been touring the east to secure funds and men to enlarge the scope of Baptist missions in the West. The Maritime provinces have set aside $10,000 for this purpose, and he hopes to receive at least $8,000 from Ontario.

"We should put in at least twelve more men this year," he said. "I know now places where I would have work for fifty."

The great need with the Baptists, Mr. Stackhouse remarked, was more funds. The Presbyterians had plenty of money, but not enough men. The Methodists had a fair supply of both. All the denominations were putting forth great efforts and doing good work.

Miss Noble, of the Turnbull Co's Millinery Department, would be pleased to have you call and inspect her beautiful exhibit of New York Ready-to-wears on March 10th.

WANSTEAD WRECK.

Mr. John Bell, of "Cedar Park," has handed the Examiner the following poem for publication:

It was soon after Christmas, when a train running west,
From London to Chicago, its speed was not the best,
For a blizzard was blowing, and the snow was falling fast,
The night was dark and dismal, and and blast came after blast.
On, and on, and on, and on, through darkness, blizzards and snow,
The train went dashing onward, she must go on you know.
Until she came to Wanstead, all things seemingly went well,
But what befell at Wanstead, its horrid for to tell.

Train was running one hour late, excursionists homeward bound,
In richly upholstered cars, no better could be found,
All feeling well and happy, all as pleasant as could be,
With buoyant, cheerful spirits, were a merry company,
No thought there was of danger, by anyone on the train,
Or what might ever happen, to cause such grief and pain,
The coaches were all crowded, some were drowsy at the best,
The hour for sleep was coming, and some laid down to rest.

An east-bound freight was coming, the operators knew well,
But where to pass the express, none were able to tell,
The station operators, the conductors must obey,
Even if its unto death, on a horrid railway,
Past station after station all merrily going ahead,
Crash went; crash two engines met, near siding at Wanstead,
One of the worstr allway wrecks, in Canadian history
At the twinkling of an eye, into Eternity.

Twnty-eight people found dead—the injured were forty-one—
There they lay pinioned down, and groan came after groan,
A perfect bedlam of noise, and hissing, escaping steam,
All mingled so horribly with children's wailing scream,
Surgeons were soon on the scene, and a good strong wrecking crew,
All hasting to the rescue, the suffering to subdue;
The Pullman cars uninjured, all patients were carried there,
So they might go to London, and have the best of care.

Some cars were telescoped, some like egg shells crumpled in,
A baggage car ploughed its way, smashing seats, everything;
The fire from the engines, helped to lend a ghastly glow
On the dead and the injured. Oh, what a scene of woe!
A wreck like that at Wanstead, may we never see again.
Some prayed for some to kill them, to put them out of pain,
And on the ill-fated train, many souls gasping for breath,
One poor man, with his head crushed in, begged to be put to death.

JOHN BELL.

TO ERECT MEMORIALS

To Those of Our Soldiers Who Died in South Africa.

A determined effort is to be made by the members of the South African Veterans' Association to obtain funds to erect a memorial to those of our Canadian soldiers who were killed in action or died from their wounds or through disease while on service in South Africa. It is certainly time that some action in this direction should be attempted. Its neglect so long has caused many people to think of the old lines written by a satirist upon the attitude of the British public towards the returned soldiery — both officers and men—after the battle of Waterloo and the occupation of Paris. The lines ran:

When war's dangers are nigh,
God and the soldier is the cry,
Yet when the war is over
And all things are righted,
God is quite forgotten
And the soldier slighted.

ENTERPRISING DRUGGISTS.

The druggists of Peterborough are unusually enterprising and up-to-date in their line. When the representatives of the Chamberlain Medicine Company were here, every druggist contracted for a stock of the goods. The fact that these remedies have been on the market in the United States for over thirty years is evidence of their merit. The Chamberlain Company have established a factory in Toronto, and are starting an extensive advertising campaign in the Dominion. Watch their ads. in the Examiner and buy their remedies of — J. D. Furs

WILL BE HIGHER NEXT YEAR

And this is the month of all the year they reach their lowest prices.

As an investment at present prices they discount all other stocks. An increase of 25 to 50 per cent. in their values by fall can be assured.

Our reasons for selling at these close prices under present conditions are:—

First—The use of the money in our business between now and next winter.

Second—An extra heavy Stock of Furs on hand for this time of year.

Third—The between season condition of this month—a little early for spring and a little late for winter selling, must therefore create demand by bargain prices.

Fourth—Must keep our workmen in manufacturing department going, consequently have to sell the Goods.

COAL STRIKE OF '92.

Summary of the Probable Findings of the Commission.

NO COMFORT FOR MINING CO'S.

Indirect Recognition of the Union When President Roosevelt Submits Findings to John Mitchell, as President of Miners' Union — Advance of Wages—Payment by Weight Instead of by Car.

New York, March 7.—The Herald prints the following as a summary of the findings of the Coal Strike Commission appointed by President Roosevelt, which, it is expected, will be handed to the President within a week:—

There will undoubtedly be at least a 10 per cent. advance in the pay for mining, to take effect from the time the miners returned to work last October. The per diem employee will not have their wages increased, but will be recommended for the same pay for a day of nine hours.

The system of pay will be regulated. Wherever practicable, the operators will be required to pay by weight instead of by the car, and elsewhere by the lineal yard. The miners will have checkdocking representatives at their own expense. This will practically amount to a second increase in wages.

There will be indirect recognition of the union, which will come when the findings are submitted by President Roosevelt to John Mitchell, as President of the Miners' Union.

The cause of the strike, as found by the commission, will not be comforting to the coal mining companies.

The boycott will be condemned, and the principle will be laid down that a miner has a right to work without molestation, even though he does not belong to the union.

The terms of the verdict are to hold good for three years, and recommendations are to be made for settlements of wage and other questions at the end of that period.

In local disputes the operators will be advised to treat with committees of the miners, and there may be a suggestion for local boards of arbitration.

STRIKE OF IRONWORKERS.

Order of the International Union Involves Thousands of Men.

Philadelphia, March 7.—A general strike against the American Bridge Company has been called by the executive board of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. The general order includes all construction work in the hands of the company throughout the United States and Canada, and involves thousands of men.

An officer of the union said yesterday: "In New York the company locked out the Hoisting Engineers' Union. It was, therefore, thought that if the fight between us had to be forced by them, it might as well come now. The New York Union demands $4.50 per day, after May 1, and that is below the scale demanded by the Bricklayers' Union."

Other causes for the strike are said to be the efforts of the American Bridge Company to reduce the number in gangs of riveters who operate pneumatic hammers and the employment of laborers on work which the bridge men claim they could perform.

Threatened Strike on Wabash.

St. Louis, Mo., March 7.—The general officers of the Brotherhoods of Firemen and Trainmen, and committees here, in relation to the impending strike along the Wabash system, issued a statement last night, addressed to the members of the brotherhoods on the Wabash, giving a resume of the situation, and advising them to remain loyal to the railroad company and to their respective organizations until the injunction is settled.

Strike Has Not Extended East.

Montreal, March 7.—Referring to the C.P.R. strike, Vice-President McNicoll said yesterday that up to the present the trouble had not extended east of Vancouver. Should the men carry out their threat, the company anticipates no difficulty in being able to fill the places of those who give up their employment. So far as the Vancouver employes are concerned, the officials are reluctant to send new men up to take the places of the strikers, who number forty or fifty men.

No Truth in It.

Montreal, March 7.—The despatch sent out from here recently, stating that the C.P.R. audit clerks to the number of 400 were out on strike is entirely without foundation. The C. P.R. is at peace with its employes.

Lower Prices in Glass.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 7.—The National Glass budget to-day says: All agreements between manufacturers and jobbers are now off, and an open market with much lower prices will be the next thing in order in the window glass industry.

KILLED BY BURSTING WHEEL.

William Knighton's Tragic Death at Taylor's Safe Works.

Toronto, March 7.—William Knighton, an employe of Taylor's Safe Works, who lived at 256½ East King street, was instantly killed Thursday afternoon by the explosion of an emery wheel in the safe factory.

Knighton was working at the furnace, fully 40 feet from the wheel, when it burst in three pieces, one of which, weighing about 40 pounds, struck him on the back of the head, causing instant death. The other two pieces flew across the shop in different directions, but although the room was full of workmen at the time, Knighton was the only man struck. Knighton was 53 years old, and had been in the employ of the Taylor Company about 20 years.

POPE LEO BETTER.

Sensational Stories Regarding His Holiness' Health Are Untrue.

Rome, March 7.—All the sensational reports circulated regarding the health of the Pope are unfounded. Although His Holiness is not yet restored to his normal condition, he was better yesterday than he was the day before, so much so that he gave his usual audience to Cardinal Rampolla, and later had a conference with the sub-Secretary of State.

Although Pope Leo did not attend the usual Lenten sermon preached in the Vatican yesterday before the cardinals and bishops, he has been sitting up all day, and his cold has almost entirely disappeared.

Shot His Brother.

Hamilton, March 7.—A fourteen-year-old son of Edward Randall, a farmer near Stoney Creek, was shot yesterday by his brother, and seriously wounded. The boys founds the gun leaning against the house, while the father, who had been out shooting, was having his dinner. One of them picked it up, pointed it at his brother, and snapped the trigger. Forty grains of shot riddled the brother's arm and wrist. He has a good chance to get better if blood poisoning does not set in.

Fainted in Court.

St. Eustache, Que., March 7.—The preliminary investigation in the case of Theophile Belanger, charged with the murder of Antoine Seguin, was continued yesterday, but no evidence of a startling nature was adduced. During the afternoon Miss Belanger, the prisoner's young daughter, was called, but was so overcome that she fainted. The investigation was adjourned until Monday.

For Cheap Postage.

London, March 7.—The Associated Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom have unanimously resolved to favor the assimilation of newspaper and periodical post between Canada and Britain to that between the States and Canada.

FOR FAST STEAMERS

Tenders Are to Be Invited on Different Speeds.

BIDS ON 16, 18 AND 21 KNOTS.

Dominion Government Seeking Full Information as to What Each Service Would Cost, and Would Then Decide Upon the One Which Is Best Suited to Canada's Circumstances—Capital News.

Ottawa, March 7.—The Toronto Globe correspondent here was informed last night that the Government had decided to call for tenders for Atlantic steamship services of 16, 18 and 21 knots respectively. The idea, presumably, for official details as to the Government's determination are lacking, is to have full information as to what each service would cost and then decide upon the one which is best suited to Canada's circumstances, and the most efficient in its operation. It is well known the Allans are willing to tender for an 18-knot service, and other firms are said to be willing to compete.

Another Demand For Maintenance.

Ottawa, March 7.—Aboudeus Martineau appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning. He was remanded once more for a week, this time at the request of his own counsel, Mr. Carop. Mr. Ritchie, for the Crown, was quite prepared to go on with the preliminary investigation, but, as a new charge of forging and uttering a cheque for $13,500 had been introduced, Magistrate O'Keefe saw no reason why the request of the prisoner's counsel for opportunity to meet it should not be granted.

It appears that the actual amount of the cheques which Martineau is alleged to have forged and uttered is $75,705, composed as follows: Six cheques drawn upon the Quebec Bank, payable to Chas. Cote, Dec. 19th, 1901, $363.53; January 18, 1902, $2,965.92; Dec. 24, 1901, $2,851.51; February 8th, 1902, $8,819.04; April 28th, 1902, $4,855; April 30th, 1902, $5,650. Four cheques drawn upon the Sovereign Bank, payable to Chas. D. Cote, July 8th, 1902, $6,700; July 8th, 1902, $7,500; July 23, 1902, $8,300; July 23, 1902, $7,700. Two cheques drawn upon the Royal Bank and payable to A. Martineau, October 17, 1902, $12,000; October 18, 1902, $13,500.

Surprised by Strathcona.

Ottawa, March 7.—The officials of the Militia Department are unable to understand what Lord Strathcona means by his statement, as cabled from London, that an arsenal is being established at Ottawa. Military experts hold that there ought to be another arsenal in addition to the one at Quebec, and it is believed a recommendation to this effect is before the authorities, but Ottawa is not the place suggested. There is a tract of land at Nepean Point, Ottawa, which has long been reserved for military purposes, but the feeling is that this will be used as a site for a school of military instruction.

Crimean Veteran Killed by Train.

Ottawa, March 7.—John Mullin, an elderly man, employed as a night watchman at the C. P. R. freight sheds here, was killed last night. He fell beneath a moving freight train, was caught between the trucks and dragged a distance of 200 feet. Death was instantaneous. The deceased was an old Crimean veteran.

Duties on Cordage and Twine.

Ottawa, March 7.—Messrs. R. F. Sherley and W. B. Stewart, Toronto; H. E. Holmes, Stratford, and E. Perrine, Doon, had an interview with the Minister of Finance yesterday morning in regard to the duties on cordage and twine.

How Canada Grows Better.

Ottawa, March 7.—The financial statement for the eight months, ending Feb. 28, which was issued yesterday afternoon, shows that Canada's position is better by $7,000,000 than it was a year ago.

In Sir Oliver's Stead.

Ottawa, March 7.—Chief Justice Moss has been appointed Administrator of Ontario, and will open the Legislature on March 10, Sir Oliver Mowat being incapacitated by illness.

Invested in Fisheries.

Ottawa, March 7.—The annual report of the Fisheries Department says that in 1901 $11,000,000 were invested in the industry. The product was $25,000,000.

Judges Want More Money.

Ottawa, March 7.—A committee representing county judges met the Minister of Justice and asked for increased salaries.

An Industry For Waterloo.

Waterloo, March 7.—Yesterday the ratepayers voted on a bylaw for a boot and shoe factory. The new factory will cost over $6,000, and give work to over 35 hands. The bylaw carried by a large majority, 419 voting for it and only 8 against.

Canadian Mining Institute.

Montreal, Que., March 7.—Mr. Eugene Coste, engineer of the Provincial Natural Gas and Fuel Co., Toronto, was yesterday morning declared elected president of the Canadian Mining Institute at its business meeting.

Known to Melbourne.

Melbourne, March 7.—The Government of Victoria has appointed Thomas Tait, traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, chief commissioner of the Victorian Railways.

Now in Montreal.

Montreal, March 7.—Mgr. [illegible], Papal delegate, reached the city this evening, and will remain here several days.

TRIAL JUDGE [illegible]

South Oxford and [illegible] Before Court of [illegible] on a Tie.

Toronto, March [illegible] in Lennox [illegible] and in South Oxford [illegible] gate. The Court of [illegible] day dismissed [illegible] them on the technical [illegible] they had no jurisdiction [illegible] cases. The point [illegible] ther, when the trial [illegible] upon a charge, the [illegible] appeal, and the [illegible] right existed. [illegible] Mr. Justice Maclaren [illegible] the court was unable [illegible] Court of Appeal heard the Oxford case, and the [illegible] heard the Lennox appeal [illegible] posed of Chief Justice Moss, Justices Garrow, Maclaren, [illegible] and Meredith. All the members of the Court of Appeal [illegible] written judgments except Mr. Justice Maclaren.

Chief Justice Moss, upon the [illegible] ing of the court, gave a [illegible] statement upon the two [illegible] cases. In Lennox, he said, five charges were the subject of appeal, all of which were charges of corrupt practices. On the charge against the respondent himself the trial judge differed, and from the appeal objection was taken by the respondent on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction to entertain the appeal where the judges disagreed. Upon this point all the members of the court were of the opinion that in cases where there was a unanimous judgment the right of appeal did exist. But the majority of the court were of the opinion that where the judges disagreed in a case involving disability the right of appeal did not exist. Mr. Justice Maclaren differed from this. The result was that the appeal was dismissed with costs.

As to South Oxford, that was determined by the other case. The majority of the court were of the opinion that no right of appeal existed, and the petition was dismissed with costs.

Miller Committed For Trial.

Guelph, March 7. — James [illegible] was brought before Magistrate Saunders at the Police Court today morning on charges of stealing typewriters from Messrs. W. H. Jones and W. D. Buckingham of this city, and Mr. Lewis Peins of Port Hanburg. Another charge will also be laid against him of stealing [illegible] from Mr. W. H. Jones. The magistrate committed Miller for trial before Judge Chadwick on plea of guilty, and his trial was fixed for Tuesday next.

Confide in a Woman

Women may write about their ills to Mrs. Pinkham, and avoid the questioning of a male physician. They can tell their story without reservation to her; she never breaks a confidence, and her advice is the best in the world.

The questions asked of a woman by a male physician are embarrassing, and often revolting to a sensitive nature. In consequence the whole truth is not told; this makes it difficult for female troubles to be successfully treated even by the best physicians, and is the reason so many women grow worse rather than better. A woman understands a woman better than a man,—there are symptoms which sick women have that a man cannot understand, simply because he is a man, but the whole truth may be told to Mrs. Pinkham, and her vast experience enables her to give advice which leads to a cure.

All women who suffer should secure Mrs. Pinkham's advice; it costs nothing but a letter addressed to her at Lynn, Mass. Female troubles are real troubles, and must be treated understandingly. For a quarter of a century Mrs. Pinkham's advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have been helping women to get strong and well, and her great file of letters prove that more than a million women have been restored to health and strength by her advice and her medicine when all other means have failed.

When you go to a druggist for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, do not let him persuade you to try something which he says is just as good; there is nothing just as good, because Mrs. Pinkham's medicine holds the record for the largest number of cures of any female medicine in the world.

Something About the Pork Packing Industry in Canada.

(Monetary Times.)

More than two years ago (in our issue for September 14th, 1900,) we drew attention to the large number of pork-packing establishments entering the field in Canada, the promoters of many of which had evidently no very clear idea as to the requisites for success. At that time it looked to us as if there would not be anything like enough hogs offering to give the various factories profitable employment, though even then, egged on by the scarcity, the packers were paying more for their raw material than true market values warranted.

Judging from a statement which recently came to our notice respecting the position of the Palmerston Pork Packing Company, Limited, which started its factory about the time that the above article was written, the warning was not uncalled for. It seems from this statement that for the nineteen months, ending with December 31st last, the net loss incurred by this company was no less than $42,737. Among the assets are placed $24,164 for real estate and buildings, $23,407 for machinery, $6,355 for factory and store fixtures, etc. Nearly $54,000 is here expended, in three items, of a mere "getting ready" to do a business which, judging by results, was not there to be obtained. Is this not a lesson to would-be investors to keep clear of affairs they do not properly understand? Will it help to teach them that it is the tongue of the promoter alone which gives such a swelling expanse and roseate hue to the profits which oftentimes do not take substance. In many industries there is room for two or perhaps the three establishments located rightly, and rightly managed; while for half a dozen factories promiscuously situated, inexpertly managed and initiated in the trail of the enthusiasm created by the first one or two, there can only proceed disappointment and loss. The prudent founder of a business always ascertains, before he spends his tens of thousands on bricks and mortar, machinery and plant, whether there is a reasonable prospect that such machinery can be kept employed at an annual profit. And it seems now-a-days to be easier to get money to put into productive ventures than to get directors with the foresight, or managers with the skill to make that money earn dividends.

SINGS COL. SAM'S PRAISES.

Boer Commandant Once Captured by the Redoubtable Canadian.

"If Col. Sam Hughes will come to Graiqualand I'll guarantee him a reception to which his Lindsay reception on returning from the war won't be a patch," said Commandant De Jongh, one of the Boer officers of the late war, as he sat in Inspector Hughes' office, Toronto, one morning in January last, with Lindsay's redoubtable wagrior bold beside him. The two had met before in South Africa, and a sudden attachment had been formed between them. In fact, De Jongh, along with 300 men under him, had been taken into custody by Col. Hughes, who had followed them for 125 miles with only 18 men. The Commandant has a frank admiration for the clever dare-devilry of a colonel who could perform such a feat. The two of them had also been mixed up in other interesting encounters in South Africa, in which they would have taken each other's lives with the greatest zest. Now they lunch together, and on the friendliest possible terms. They fought their battles o'er again and vittor and vanquished accepted the issue with the greatest mutual good will. Commandant De Jongh says this spirit is quite typical of the present feeling among the great majority of the Boer. He came to Toronto largely because of Colonel Sam Hughes' influence, and he expects to make his home here. He says that probably many more of his compatriots, attracted by reports of Canadian prosperity and Canadian liberty, will emigrate soon to this country.

In the early part of the war De Jongh was in Kruger's secret service in Cape Colony. After that he led a commando in Graiqualand until captured by Colonel Hughes. He was one of the party of Boers who surprised the British under General Warren at Faber's Put. Col. Hughes was in charge of one of the guns which fought off the attack. The Boer warrior told of how they crept through the British ranks and opened up on the surprised British troops at dawn, and Col. Hughes gave the version of the fight from his point of view. The British lost some 25 men killed and a number wounded. The Boer loss, according to Commandant De Jongh, was not more than 20 killed and wounded. Both soldiers apparently greatly enjoyed the fight.

"The Boers of Graiqualand," said the commandant, "would be glad to follow Col. Hughes anywhere. They would have been only too glad to have taken service under him if he were not fighting for their enemies."

Col. Hughes looked happy, and changed the subject to a trial of marksmanship he once had with some of De Jongh's friends in South Africa.

The visiting Boer officer is a comparatively young man, of pleasant address, who speaks English perfectly. Apparently he was a worthy foe for Colonel Hughes, and he now accepts defeat gracefully, and has shaken hands with the victors.

No More Morning Growling.

The introduction of Malt Breakfast Food to the homes of Canada has brought joy and contentment to old and young. Wherever Malt Breakfast Food is made the first dish at breakfast, grumbling and growling about taxed digestion, irritation of the stomach, redness of the skin and skin eruptions is a thing of the past. Malt Breakfast Food is a true health friend; it suits weak and strong stomachs. It does not contain a particle of insoluble starch, furnishes a quantity of nutriment for brain and body that no other cereal food can give. Try a package and note its superiority over all forms of oatmeal. Your Grocer sells it.

Observance of Sunday in England.

There are many English laws extant in lative to the due observance of Sunday. Most of the old sumptuary acts have a clause laying down regulations about the special clothes to be worn on Sunday and holidays. By an act of the year 1603 a fine is authorized to be levied on the goods of all persons absenting themselves from church on Sunday. The last successful case under this act was heard in the year 1864. Isaac Walton, not the "compleat angler," but a less famous namesake, was fined for refusing to attend church at the request of his mistress, and there is an instance on record of a boy causing his mother to be fined for the same offence. According to law, no one is allowed to take a drive in his carriage on a Sunday without getting a certificate stating that he has urgent business to perform. Prosecutions for Sunday trading have been brought at the instance of the Sunday Closing Society; so perhaps it is worthy of note that a private gentleman may sell a horse on Sunday, but a horse dealer may not.—Chambers' Journal.

COUNTRY FOR SPORT

CANADA THE GREATEST IN WORLD FOR GAME.

The Best Hunting Ground on Earth—Lacks But Two Members of the Great Game Family, Buffalo and Wild Pigeons—How Wolves Increased—A Costly Experiment—Wolf as a Hero

At the recent convention of the North American Fish and Game Protective Association at Ottawa, Colonel Turner, the United States Consul at the capital, declared that the Dominion is the greatest country in the world for game. This is a statement which may surprise non-sporting citizens, but which, nevertheless, is quite true.

World's Best Hunting Ground.

Americans come over here by thousands at different seasons of the year for a few days' sport with gun and rod. New Brunswick boasts the most aristocratic fishing clubs in the world, the membership fee of one of which amounts to several thousand dollars. Most of the lakes in all the eastern provinces swarm with bass, said to be the gamest fish in the world, with the exception of the salmon trout. Quail is found in the Western peninsula, and partridge is common in nearly every county in the country. The range of the red deer and the black bear is equally wide, while moose, thanks to a long, close season, elk and caribou are reported plentiful at the outposts of civilization. With Manitoba and the Territories the home of the prairie chicken, geese, ducks, and sandhill crane, with grizzly and silver tip, mountain sheep, and the grey wolf in the Rockies and the foothills, with sea salmon in British Columbia, besides otter, mink, beaver, and other animals valued for their pelts alone, Canada may assuredly claim to be considered the happy hunting grounds of this world.

Buffalo and Pigeons.

The great game family lacks two members—the lordly buffalo and the wild pigeon. Forty years ago the buffalo roamed the Western prairies by the tens of thousands, while the flights of blue rocks literally darkened the sun. To-day there is not a specimen of either in the country outside of a zoo—except, as to buffalo, the herd at Banff. They have been wiped from the face of the earth. No word but "crime" can be applied to the extermination of the buffalo by white "sportsmen." At the same time, though nothing can compensate for their loss, the wholesale destruction of one great species has served as the most powerful argument for the preservation of others. This is the precedent cited when a close season is desired for any bird or beast. Some years ago it was found imperative to more rigorously protect the heer in Canada. The shooting of moose was prohibited altogether for a time, and the open season for cariboo, elk, and red deer was limited to a very few days. The desired end was achieved and the deer increased in a most gratifying manner.

How Wolves Increased.

Wolves also multiplied in the same proportion, according to the laws of nature; and now they are more numerous than for many years. Wolves in their pleasant home associations with their prey occupy very much the same position as railway rates in relation to freight. A popular working motto for both seems to be "All the Traffic Will Bear." The deer are cast for the somewhat strenuous role of traffic. It might appear at first sight that when the deer are no longer so jealously preserved and the mortality is higher among them, the wolves will decrease accordingly. This is not so, for it must be borne in mind that wolf is far more tenacious of life than a deer, and is one of the most difficult of animals to hunt. Besides, a timber wolf, when reinforced by his immediate family and a few neighbors, is something of a hunter himself. He is not only a nuisance, but a menace to all game, cattle, and even to man himself.

$10 a Head for Wolves.

Ontario realizes this fact, and there is a bounty of $10 for the head of one of these animals, six dollars of which is paid by the county where the animal is killed, and four dollars by the province. Quebec pays no bounty, though the wolves there are much more numerous. Premier Parent, it is said, wishes to place a law on the statute books offering a reward to encourage their extermination, and the Game Protective Association appointed a committee to wait on him and urge the matter. The reason why the Premier of Quebec needs his hands strengthened is a most surprising one. His colleagues are opposed to a bounty because there are so many wolves that it would amount to a large sum. That is to say, wolves are so ravenous that they are almost indispensable. This state of affairs, satisfactory as it may be to some of Mr. Parent's colleagues, cannot continue much longer, for the depredations of the dreaded grey wolf are becoming intolerable.

A Costly Experiment.

Lumbermen have been attacked, and thousands of dollars worth of live stock destroyed. A bounty will not make farmers any more anxious to save their property from the wolf, but will have the effect of encouraging hunters to address their professional attentions to him. In the meantime the farmers have been experimenting with new methods for exterminating these brutes. A settler on the Upper Mattawa, having heard that if a rat is caught, a bell tied to his neck, and he is then turned loose again, he will strike such terror to the hearts of his colleagues that they will desert the house, decided to try the plan with wolves. He secured a wolf, "belled" him, and turned him loose. Then his lambs began to disappear with alarming frequency, and investigation showed that they had fallen victims to a wolf. The owner watched and waited and finally discovered that the wolf he had given his liberty used the bell as a decoy for sheep, and that they, accustomed to the sound, and associating it with one of their kind, actually pursued the wolf into the woods, with what painful results may be readily imagined.

The Wolf as a Hero.

The boldness of the wolves in packs may be their undoing, for then they can be traced more readily, though this is rather a dangerous undertaking. They expose themselves openly, and will even stand gun fire. Cunning comes with adversity; the fewer wolves the greater intelligence. For this reason it will be almost impossible to completely exterminate them, and, indeed, we do not thirst for the last drop of blood of the last timber wolf. Alone and famishing, with the hand of every man against him, hunted by dogs and with path beset with traps, and his lair with pitfalls, the wolf will still do battle. There is a streak of the hero in the gaunt, grey robber, after all.

Rheumatism So Bad That Hip Joint Slips From Socket.

Reduced in Flesh About Fifty Pounds, One Leg Becomes Twisted and the Knee Stiff—The Pain Was Excruciating.

Mr. E. Willfong, Caretaker of the Sherbourne Street Methodist Church, Tells of His Wife's Illness and How She Was Cured.

Serious as the Case Was, Powley's Liquified Ozone Immediately Destroyed the Disease Germs and Now Every Trace of Rheumatism Is Gone.

A SIMPLE STATEMENT OF GREAT SUFFERING.

Toronto, Feb. 6, 1903.

THE OZONE CO., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Gentlemen,—It is with deep gratitude I write you of the wonderful benefit my wife derived from the use of Powley's Liquified Ozone. In May of last year she had an extremely severe attack of rheumatism. The best possible aid was at once secured, but after three months' treatment and good nursing her case was so much worse that she had become a chronic rheumatic. She was reduced in flesh about fifty pounds and had become a mere skeleton. One limb was twisted to such an extent that the knee joint became stiff and the hip joint had slipped from its socket. When moved the least bit she would suffer excruciating pain. Her temperature ran up to 104 and there was continual fever for three months. Her suffering was almost unbelievable, as she could not be moved from the position in which she lay in bed.

We had just about given up all hopes of her recovery when we read in the papers of some of the wonderful cures that Powley's Liquified Ozone was effecting. To make sure that these cases were genuine we called upon the people whose testimonials appeared. We found them genuine in every case and the people who had given them enthusiastic in praising the merits of Ozone.

A bottle was purchased and the treatment commenced. Shortly after Mrs. Willfong was able to sleep naturally and her appetite improved. She had not been able to sleep naturally and had had but little appetite for three months previous. In a week's time she was removed down stairs to another bed and gradually gained in strength all the time. In a few weeks she had gained in flesh and now her general health is as good as ever.

The hip joint, of course, is not altogether in its proper place and she is somewhat lame, but otherwise is in good physical condition. She has regained her good health and every trace of her rheumatism is gone.

Her recovery is due entirely to the use of Powley's Liquified Ozone, as it succeeded after all other remedies had failed. We have recommended Ozone to others and know of many cures that have been effected.

We will always have a feeling of gratitude to Ozone and trust that many others may be induced to try this peerless remedy, and are satisfied that the results will prove entirely satisfactory.

Yours very truly, E. WILLFONG, 165 Carlton St.

What Ozone Has Done For Other Rheumatic Sufferers.

The following are brief extracts from letters written by other persons who have been cured of rheumatism by Powley's Liquified Ozone:

WM. GOUGH,

Danforth and Pape avenue, Toronto, says: "I had a severe attack of la grippe, which developed into rheumatic fever. I was reduced in weight to 120 pounds. I employed the services of a good physician, but derived no benefit; in fact I became worse. I was advised to try several of the cures advertised, but in spite of all the many remedies I took I grew weaker and weaker. I was advised to go to Preston Mineral Springs, which I did, but I was so weak I could not stand the baths and got worse. I became discouraged and came home to die.

"After taking three bottles of Powley's Liquified Ozone the rheumatism left me. For six weeks previous to this I could take no nourishment at all, but the first bottle gave me a good appetite. I began to gain in flesh and have been steadily increasing ever since. I now weigh 170 pounds and feel as well as possible."

D. T. GREENSIDE,

99 Clarence street, London, Ont., says: "For years I had rheumatism and indigestion. I tried all kinds of remedies, but got nothing to help me out of my trouble. Mrs. Harry Mason, of Toronto, sent me several bottles of Powley's Liquified Ozone. After taking it I am happy to say I am now in splendid health. You certainly have the best remedy in the market to-day for chronic diseases, as I have proved to my entire satisfaction."

JOSEPH CORON,

45 St. Antoine street, Montreal, says: "Two years ago I was laid up with rheumatism for nearly two months, and since February last I have been very bad. I saw your Ozone advertised and I procured a bottle and began taking it. I had not completed the bottle when I began to get better; my rheumatic pains began to leave me. I have taken only three bottles and my rheumatism is completely cured. I am in better health now than I have been for the last ten years."

MRS. MATILDA DALE,

90 Edwin street, Toronto, says: "My husband contracted a very severe case of muscular rheumatism. He soon became so bad that he had to quit work. Finally he had to be lifted or turned in bed, as he could not move himself. At length we decided to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. At first it made him very sick and he wanted to give it up. But I had heard if Powley's Liquified Ozone caused any sickness at the stomach that this was a sign that the remedy was doing good work, and I prevailed on him to continue it. In one week after he was able to get out of bed. He continued to take Powley's Liquified Ozone, using seven bottles, when he was entirely relieved of the rheumatism, and is now working every day."

GEO. BRENNAN,

504 Albert street, Montreal, says: "For four years past I have been a sufferer from rheumatism. Sometimes so severe was the pain that I was forced to lay off from my work. I am a cabman and when I was forced to go to bed I suffered much pain. I tried all kinds of liniments and patent medicines, but got no relief. About July 1st I was induced to try Ozone and when I had taken about three bottles I was free from any pain and my rheumatism was entirely cured, and I felt better than I had for years."

What Proof do You Want?

I have 65,000 letters from cured ones, and will send you all you care to read.

I have a circular giving the names and addresses of one thousand people IN ONE CITY, whom my Restorative has cured in just the past six months. Do you want it?

I have actual records of over half a million chronic cases which I have cured in the past 12 years. Almost every neighbourhood in America has its living witnesses to what my Restorative will do. Just ask for evidence and I can overwhelm you with it, for the evidence is everywhere.

My Restorative has made these cures by strengthening the INSIDE nerves. It will do that with you. It will bring back the nerve power which alone operates the vital organs. It will give the weak organ power to do its duty.

It does that invariably, and the results are permanent. I speak from a lifetime's experience with diseases that no common treatment cures. It will make you well all over.

A Month on Trial.

Simply send me this coupon or write me a postal card, stating which book you need. I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. You may take it a month at my risk. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails I will pay the druggist myself. And your mere word shall decide it.

That offer itself is the best evidence of merit that a remedy ever had. Those who accept it are those who doubt that their cases are reachable. Yet you must know that I cure them, else the offer would ruin me.

Now if you are not well, you need that help. A postal will secure it. All the proofs you want are waiting. Won't you write to-day?

No Change in System.

London, March 7.—In the House of Lords yesterday, a motion presented by Earl Carrington, to reconsider the Government's plan of military organization, was defeated by 53 votes to 15. The debate brought out severe criticisms of the Government's conduct of the Boer war by Earl Carrington. Earl Hardwicke, Under Secretary for War, replied. Foreign Minister Lansdowne said that the Government did not intend to make any change in the existing system.

More Cattle Disease.

Boston, March 7.—Dr. Austin Peters, chairman of the State Board of Cattle Commissioners, found a case of foot-and-mouth disease yesterday at Watertown. This is the first case to be discovered in this state since Feb. 13. The diseased animal was in a carload from Bedford, N.H.

New Steamers on St. Lawrence.

Montreal, March 7.—It was announced yesterday that at the opening of St. Lawrence navigation three lake steamers will be added to the Merchants' Line, owned by Messrs. Jacques & Co. These vessels will ply between the St. Lawrence and Lake Superior.

Getting Ready to Settle.

Kingston, March 6.—The Kingston Locomotive Works strike is likely to be settled within a week. The knowledge that the works would certainly go to Toronto if there was not a speedy settlement, made very prominent citizens use their influence. Organizer A. Holmes of the International Machinists' Union is here, and a settlement is looked for. It now means positively either this, or removal from Kingston.

The very best medicine for the relief and cure of chronic coughs and bronchitis; dry, harsh throat coughs; irritating coughs of grippe and consumption; whooping cough; croupy coughs of children, is Angier's Petroleum Emulsion.

It soothes and heals the inflamed and irritated membranes of the throat and air passages, promptly relieves the cough, removes foul mucus, makes breathing easy, and puts the respiratory organs in a strong, healthy condition, so that they are able to resist further attacks. It is pleasant to take, agrees with weak stomachs, aids digestion, and has a healthful action upon the bowels.

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is indorsed and prescribed by physicians, used in hospitals, and sold by druggists everywhere.

ANGIER CHEMICAL COMPANY, BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, U.S.A.

ARRESTED FOR BIGAMY.

Were Wedded and Parted, and Each Married Again Recently.

Woodstock, March 7.—A queer matrimonial tangle was brought to light Thursday night in the arrest of William D. Burgess of Princeton, and Mrs. Agnes Hall Padfield, both charged with bigamy. The man and woman were married to each other several years ago, but had a quarrel and separated. Each then considered that they were free to act as though the other had never existed, so Burgess, representing himself as a widower, it is said, won the affections of the daughter of a respected farmer of Princeton, and they were married. Last December, it is alleged that the erstwhile Mrs. Burgess was married to one Padfield in Brantford, and they have since been living at Vandecar. Both Burgess and the woman appeared in the Police Court yesterday and were remanded until to-day.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

A New, Effectual and Convenient Cure for Catarrh.

Of catarrh remedies there is no end, but of catarrh cures there has always been a great scarcity. There are many remedies to relieve but very few that really cure.

The old practice of snuffing salt water through the nose would often relieve, and the washes, douches, powders and inhalers in common use are very little, if any better, than the old fashioned salt water douche.

The use of inhalers, and the application of salves, washes and powders to the nose and throat to cure catarrh is no more reasonable than to rub the back to cure kidney disease. Catarrh is just as much a blood disease as kidney trouble or rheumatism and it can not be cured by local treatment any more than they can be.

To cure catarrh, whether in the head, throat or stomach, an internal antiseptic treatment is necessary to drive the catarrhal poison out of the blood and system, and the new catarrh cure is designed on this plan, and the remarkable success of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is because being used internally, it drives out catarrhal infection through action upon stomach, liver and bowels.

Wm. Zimmerman, of St. Joseph, relates an experience with Catarrh which is of value to millions of catarrh sufferers everywhere. He says: "I neglected a slight nasal catarrh until it gradually extended to my throat and bronchial tubes, and finally even my stomach and liver became affected, but as I was able to keep up and do a day's work I let it run along until my hearing began to fail me and then I realized that I must get rid of catarrh or lose my position, as I was clerk in a store and my hearing was absolutely necessary.

"Some of my friends recommended an inhaler, another a catarrh salve, but they were no good in my case, nor was any thing else until I hear of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and bought a package at my drug-store. They benefitted me from the start and in less than three months I was completely cured of catarrh, although I had suffered nearly all my life from it."

They are pleasant to take, and so much more convenient to use than any other catarrh remedies that I feel that I cannot say enough in favour of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets."

No Smallpox at Galt.

Toronto, March 7.—Reports received from Dr. Bryce indicate that Galt has finally emerged from its baptism of smallpox. The epidemic resulted in 86 cases, with six deaths, but it is entirely cleaned up now, and the last quarantine has been removed.

Pretender Is Caught.

Paris, March 7.—A despatch from Tangier, Morocco, received here last evening says: "A courier, who has just arrived from Fez, announces the capture of the pretender."

A Family Necessity.

Owing to artificial modern life, almost everybody suffers more or less from constipation, torpid liver and sluggish kidneys, and as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most prompt and thorough cure for this derangement, they have come to be considered a family necessity. Hosts of families would not think of being without them. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

PROGRESS OF CANADA

Must Not Be Delayed by the Inertia of Conservatives.

HON. MR. PATERSON'S SPEECH

Sir William Mulock Also Delivers a Fine Speech in the Interests of Mr. Geo. D. Grant in North Ontario—Brilliant Liberal Candidate Himself Speaks at Beaverton — Applaud Liberal Policy.

Bracebridge, March 7.—The meeting in the Town Hall here last night was one of the finest ever held in Bracebridge. The hall was packed from the platform to the foot of the front stairs, and the audience were thoroughly sympathetic with the principles of Liberalism as expounded by the able speakers who addressed them. Hon. Wm. Paterson, Senator McMullen, Mr. Robert Holmes, M.P., and Mayor Shier all delivered inspiring addresses.

Hon. William Paterson.

Hon. Wm. Paterson opened his address with some remarks about the audience, which were quite as complimentary to them as their greeting was to him. He again placed on record his regret at the death of the late Mr. McLeod, who was his personal friend. His death was felt on both sides of the House. Mr. Paterson spoke of the long term of rule of the Conservative party, and among other improper means resorted to to keep themselves in, he described the iniquitous gerrymander act. It would be the duty of the present Government to redistribute the constituencies during the present Parliament, but it would also be their duty to see that this was done in a fair, honest and equitable manner. To attempt by legislation to keep one party out of power was not in accordance with the principles of British fair play. The Conservatives said we should have adequate protection, but they did not say what adequate protection would be. The tariff policy of the Liberals was written on the statute book of this country. From what the Opposition said it would appear that they desired a tariff so high that it would absolutely prohibit the importation of goods from any other country, and give the manufacturers of Canada an absolute monopoly of the custom of the Canadian people. There never was a time when the manufacturers of Canada in all lines of business were more prosperous than they were to-day.

Mr. Paterson has never been more eloquent than he became in his reference to the benefits of the preferential tariff and his description of the Premier's triumph in London, and the audience responded with a burst of enthusiasm. He discussed the national debt, the Yukon development, the South African contingents, the Labor Bureau, the improvement to national waterways.

Country Must Advance.

In conclusion, he said:—We cannot help it if in this march of development Mr. Foster and Mr. Borden, and some other leaders of the Conservative party, may have got a little tired at the rapid pace we are going. We cannot stop for that. This country must go ahead, even if they are tired, and what shall we do?

A voice—Leave them behind.

Mr. Paterson—No, no; don't do that. They are our brethren, although they may be weak brethren. What shall we do? They must share with us in the triumph. We cannot slacken our pace, the best interests of the country won't allow that. We cannot leave them behind. I will tell you what we will do: We will put them in the ambulance and pull them along with us. (Great applause and laughter.) It was after 11 o'clock when the meeting closed, but the crowded audience—so crowded that they broke through one of the windows—remained and were deeply interested until the end.

APPLAUD LIBERAL POLICY.

As Enunciated by Sir William Mulock and Mr. Grant.

Beaverton, March 7.—Mr. Geo. D. Grant, the Liberal candidate for the North Ontario bye-election for the Dominion House of Commons, appeared here last night, with the Postmaster-General, Sir William Mulock, in Alexandria Hall, and addressed a large and enthusiastic audience. There were but three speakers upon the list — the chairman, the candidate and Sir William Mulock—but they delivered addresses which received keen attention for three hours. In addition to the three speakers, there was also upon the platform Mr. D. McMillan, ex-Reeve of Beaverton. Mr. Grant, though under a severe physical strain by reason of the strenuous campaign which he has been carrying out, was in good form, and charmed his hearers by his pointed argument and well-expressed ideas. He struck a good note when he spoke of the delight taken by all those in North Ontario in the purity and the gentlemanly character of its political campaigns. Sir William Mulock spoke an hour and a half, during which time he delivered as complete and unanswerable an argument in favor of the Liberal policy as could be enunciated. The audience applauded him frequently and heartily.

MR. BORDEN'S MEETING.

No More Aid to Railways Says Mr. Thompson, M.P.

Sunderland, March 7.—The Opposition leader met with the most cordial reception that has greeted him during his tour in North Ontario last evening. He was received by the officers of the Brock Township Conservative Association, the Sunderland brass band and a large number of torch-bearers, who escorted him to the Town Hall. Mr. Borden was accompanied by Mr. Thomson, M.P., of North Grey. Mr. Borden, who was given a good reception when he rose to speak, broke no new ground, but discussing the question of assisting the Grand Trunk Pacific, Mr. Thomson spoke of the assistance given towards the construction of the C.P.R. by the Conservative Government, and said that he would oppose the granting of aid to a rival transcontinental line, for the simple reason that the people of Ontario have borne their share of the burdens assumed on account of the C.P.R. construction, and they should not be asked to put their hands in their pockets and assume another expenditure to the extent of 7,000 acres of land and $7,000 in money per mile.

THE FORESTRY CONVENTION.

Next Year It Will Meet in Toronto—Officers Elected.

Ottawa, March 6.—The Forestry convention concluded to-night after a decidedly profitable meeting. Public interest in these gatherings is growing slowly, but it can hardly be called popular as yet. The officers elected were: Patron, Earl of Minto, Governor-General; hon. president, W. Little, Montreal; president, Hiram Robinson, Mayor of Hawkesbury; vice-president, Aubrey White, Toronto; secretary, E. Stewart, Dominion Superintendent of Forestry, Ottawa; treasurer, R. H. Campbell, Ottawa; directors, William Saunders, Director of Experimental Farms; J. R. Booth, Prof. M. A. Coun, Ottawa; Wm. Southworth, Toronto; C. Jackson Booth, Ottawa; John C. Bertram, Toronto; E. G. Joly de Lotbiniere, Quebec. The vice-presidents for the provinces and districts will be named by the directors. The association will meet next year in Toronto.

Newfoundland Legislature.

St. John's, Nfld., March 7.— The Legislature opened Thursday. The Governor announced a surplus, and also that the Bond-Hay treaty negotiations were still progressing. He intimated that measures would be introduced for the enlargement of the naval reserve movement, the extension of the telegraph system to Labrador on the expiration of the Anglo-American Telegraph Company's monopoly next year, the establishment of a cold storage plant, and the encouragement of local iron smelting industry. The French shore modus vivendi bill was introduced and read for the first time.

London Shooting Case.

London, March 7.—Spencer Stone, the Chicago young man who was responsible for the shooting Thursday of Mrs. A. R. Simpson was summoned on two charges, the first was that of committing a breach of the city bylaws and the second was unlawful wounding of Mrs. Simpson. To the first he pleaded guilty, offering the excuse that he was ignorant of the bylaw. For this reason sentence was not imposed yesterday morning, but was postponed till Thursday, when the other charge will be tried. Mrs. Simpson was much better yesterday, but suffering from the shock.

To Replace Defective $4 Bills.

Montreal, March 7. — Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, has written a reply to the request of the Grocers' Association for the issue of a new $4 Dominion of Canada bank note to replace the one now used. The grocers claimed that the figure on the present bill is so indistinct that it is frequently mistaken for a one dollar bill. Mr. Fielding promised that the four dollar bill now in circulation would be withdrawn and that the new issue would bear figures that would render mistakes of this kind impossible.

FEET SWELLED. BACK ACHED.

Dr. Pitcher Completely Cured a Young Lady Subject for Years to Serious Kidney Trouble.

There are many young women at the present time earning an honorable livelihood as clerks in stores, operators in factories, dressmakers, bookkeepers, typewriters, etc., whose occupation, from its very nature, renders them more or less susceptible to pain in the back or side, frequent headaches, constipation and many other ailments resulting from disordered kidney and sluggish liver.

Any young lady suffering from the effects of kidney trouble will find no other remedy prove so effectual as Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. They are small and pleasant to take, and their action, while thoroughly curative, does not disturb the weakest system.

Miss L. Francis, whose address is 14 St. Patrick Street, Toronto, Ont., after being cured by the Tablets, gave the following statement:—"I procured Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets two weeks before Christmas, and they worked like a charm in my case. I was a victim to kidney trouble and weak, painful back for a number of years, and have taken a great many patent medicines, but while some gave temporary relief, others made me worse, and I never expected to get anything to cure me this side of the grave. Dr. Pitcher's wonderful Kidney Tablets, however, have done me a world of good. They have taken away that awful pain in the small of the back that used to bother me so, especially in damp, cold weather. The swelling of my feet which worried and inconvenienced me greatly, has left, and I am in better health now than I have been in the past two years."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50c. a bottle, at all druggists, or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

HELD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING

Peterborough County Sunday School Council.

Rev. J. G. Potter, B. A. was Elected President—Mr. W. G. Harrison M. D., Secretary.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough County Sunday School Council was held Saturday morning, Feb. 28th, in the Y.M.C.A. Owing to the wet day there was not as large an attendance of members as usual. In the absence of the President, Rev. J. G. Potter, Mr. J. Lancaster, 1st Vice-President, occupied the chair.

After devotional exercises and reading of the minutes, reports were received from the officers and Superintendents of departments.

The report of the Field Secretary gave a comprehensive review of the work, and contained many helpful suggestions that should prove invaluable to the Sunday School work of County.

The Treasurer's report showed the finances to be in a healthy condition, all indebtedness being paid and a balance on hand. Still more money is needed to push the work in the sparsely settled districts of our County. Workers have volunteered their services, if those schools or individuals who have been more highly favoured, will but contribute for the simple expenses of the workers. We also need $100.00 for Provincial work.

A folder containing information regarding our work and a statement of our finances will be prepared and published for distribution in every home in our County, if finances will warrant it.

The pastors of the various churches in the County will be asked to refer especially to Sunday School Work in their churches on the Sunday previous to our annual conventions.

One of the greatest needs in the Sunday School of to-day is better equipped teachers. In order to meet this deficiency the Council discussed the advisability of holding an institute for 10 or 14 days, somewhat after the nature of a summer school, for the study of Sunday School methods and association work under competent teachers. It was thought best to discuss it at our Conventions before taking any decided action on it.

Some member of the Council will be asked to visit each township Convention in an official capacity, bearing our greetings and presenting our work.

Conventions will be held the same as last year sometime in May or June, the exact dates to be fixed later, and the Council desires that every township officer and every earnest Sunday School worker cooperate to make them a success.

The following are the officers for the ensuing year:—

President—Rev. J. G. Potter, B.A.
1st Vice-President — Mr. J. Lancaster.
2nd Vice-President — Mr. T. W. Robinson.
3rd Vice-President — Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A.

CHAMPIONS TRENT VALLEY LEAGUE.

T. A. S. Defeated Norwood in Lindsay.

THE SCORE WAS 6 TO 5.

A Great Game in Scugog Town Last Night.

Roy Schooley, Referee—A Special Train Norwood Runners up for Four Years Notes on the Game.

Lindsay hockey rink may have been the scene of many exciting incidents in the past, but never in its history was there such a scene as that enacted last night, when the St. Peter's T.A.S. hockey team was carried off the ice as winners of the Trent Valley League championship, after one of the most exciting hockey matches ever played in the Scugog Town, or in fact in any other town in this district.

The scene at the close of the game was a wild one, as a mad rush was made for the ice and the victorious players were hoisted on the shoulders of their supporters and carried in triumph up Kent street to the Simpson House. The town rang with the slogan of the T.A.S. Club—"T. A. S., T.A.S., Rah! Rah! Rah!" and enthusiasm was worked up to an indescribable pitch. The lady friends of the boys who accompanied them to Lindsay were not lacking in their manifestations of delight over the victory, as they sported T.A.S. colours in profusion, and while at the rink urged the players to deeds of valour by their words of encouragement.

The T.A.S. boys, as might be expected, feel elated over their victory. This is their first year in the T.V.L. and they have succeeded in twice defeating every team they were pitted against. They went through the season with precisely the same seven players and won seven out of the nine games played. This is indeed a creditable record for the organization.

About 400 people accompanied the team per special train to Lindsay which arrived there about 8 o'clock. A rush was then made for the rink, and when the Peterborough crowd arrived at the entrance, it was found that an immense crowd was struggling frantically to gain admittance — in fact the jam extended out into the middle of the road. Delegations were present from the surrounding villages, and Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls were both represented by crowds sporting the colours of their respective towns, together with either the T.A.S. or Norwood colours. The Scugogites were out in full force, and they nearly all supported Norwood. Rumour has it that considerable Lindsay money came Peterborough way last night.

The Norwood team came down from Fenelon on Thursday morning to Lindsay, after defeating the Cataract boys the previous evening, and put in an excellent work out on Lindsay ice. They underwent a course of training while in that town that placed them in splendid condition for last night's struggle. The ice was not as bad as a great many expected to find it, in fact it surprised the supporters of the black and red, as it was away ahead of the sheet the boys battled on in their play off with Lakefield.

A word about the game. It was truly a remarkable exhibition of hockey, when the condition of the ice is considered. The combination work of both teams was superb, and the game at all times was intensely exciting. Both teams were in good condition, and both fought with a desperation born of despair. A great many felt dubious as to the result of the struggle. The soft condition of the ice was certainly in Norwood's favour, as they were the heavier bunch, and as the team possessed some speedy skaters it was felt by many that they would triumph. The Norwood septette certainly put up a brilliant game, Miller and Pearce, as usual, showing up in fine style. In fact every man on the line up played grand hockey, and all were in the game until everything was ended but the cheers. The T.A.S. team, it can safely be said, never played better hockey. Every man on the forward line worked like Trojans, and the combination play they dished up was the best they have exhibited this season. They passed well, and took all chances that came their way to score. Their rushes down the ice at times were splendidly manipulated, and every man has reason to feel proud of the work done last evening. The splendid work of the defence was one of the features of the game; McCoy in goal, as a Lindsay man said, "played a phenomenal game," and stopped many dangerous looking shots. Bill Crowley's two goals scored by a hot shot from centre ice, and also from a lightning dash the length of the rink, drew forth shouts of applause from the spectators. Both teams were out to win last night, and were very evenly matched, but condition told, and the cold water boys were the victors.

The game was not a rough one, although the checking was at all times full of ginger and very close. Referee Schooley had the players well in hand and sent several players to the fence during the evening for violations that only earned a rest for a minute or two. Mr. Schooley gave general satisfaction, as was expected, and both teams were delighted with his work last evening.

Both teams were loudly cheered as they came out on the ice, and the crowd became impatient to see the struggle. The T.A.S. scored the first goal after a few minutes play, and the rink rang with the shouts of their supporters. Norwood did the trick a few minutes later, and the T.A.S. followed with another goal. Then Norwood went one better, and the T. A. S. tied the score, which remained 3—3 at the end of the first half.

In the second half Norwood scored after fifteen minutes play, making it 4—3 in their favour. Then the T.A.S. woke up to the realization of the fact that they were out to win, and a general assault was made on the Norwood goal, where the greater part of the play centred for the remainder of the evening. Shot after shot was poured in on the goal keeper, and at last two goals were alleged to have been scored, but disputed by the umpire, and the game was stopped, and that official, who was a Lindsay man, was replaced by Mr. Harold Armstrong of Peterborough. Peterborough tied the score, and next led by two goals, which were reduced to one only a few minutes before time was up. Word went round that only three minutes were left to play, and with the score 6—5, the scene that followed was one long to be remembered. The crowd rose to its feet and cheered both teams to the finish, and when the fog horn announced the finish the rink rang with the shouts of the victors.

The teams lined up as follows:

T.A.S. — Goal, McCoy; point, Meagher; cover point, W. Crowley; forwards, Lynch, George, Parnell and McGrath.

Norwood.—Goal, Fife; point, Pearce; cover point, Nicholls; forwards, Miller, Kempt, Rathwell and Pearce.

NOTES.

President Junkin, of the T.V.L., was an interested spectator at the game.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey, Revs. Father Phelan, F. J. O'Sullivan, J. O'Brien and Dr. O'Brien, took in the game and hugely enjoyed it.

The Fenelon Falls team, like the good sports as they are, congratulated both teams after the game.

The T.A.S. is partial to "soft stuff." That is why they won on soft ice.

In order that the Norwood team might catch the midnight the T.A.S. had their special leave Lindsay at 11.15.

Great excitement prevailed in town last night during the time the match was in progress. The Central Telephone Office was besieged with enquiries as the time passed, and when the half-time score of 3—3 was given out, the local enthusiastics became more confident than ever. It was generally thought that if the T.A.S. boys were not behind at half-time they would win the championship. When at full-time the score of 6—5 was made known, there was great excitement on the streets. Men and boys shouted in order that they might to some extent at least give vent to their feelings. There was also great excitement at the T.A.S. rooms, where many ladies, who have so faithfully stood by the T.A.S. team throughout the season, had waited to receive the glad tidings. The Peterborough citizens made their way to the station and awaited the arrival of the train. When the train pulled in, at about 12 o'clock, the champions were given a rousing reception, and so ended the grandest season the Trent Valley League has experienced.

THE SCHEME ABANDONED.

City Dairy Co. Didn't Receive Sufficient Encouragement.

The provisional directors of the proposed City Dairy Company held a meeting last evening, when it was found that the citizens generally had not subscribed more than half the sum necessary to equip the dairy according to the best modern methods.

The directors, who have not taken up the matter from a money-making point of view, were disappointed with the result and decided that, owing to the apathy of the general public, the time had not come when Peterborough was prepared to adopt the best and most sanitary methods of procuring her milk supply.

No further action will be taken in the action at present.

Ladies' wishing exclusive styles in Ready-to-wear Hats should visit the Turnbull Co's Opening on March 10th, when they will exhibit over one hundred styles—no two alike.

NEW ADDITIONAL BUILDINGS

Of the Canadian General Electric Company.

Work Will Commence Very Soon—New Shipping Building—Great Expansion of Trade.

As announced in the Examiner some days ago, the Canadian General Electric Company is preparing to erect several additional large buildings in Peterborough, which will give the concern a greatly increased capacity and will necessitate the employment of about twice as many hands as are now on the pay roll of the company at Peterborough, viz., 800.

The new structure will be erected close to the present works. One of the buildings will be 450 x 80 feet, two stories in height, and will provide for a huge crane 25 feet in width, which will run the entire length of the structure. This building will be used for shipping purposes, all the output of the factory in fact being sent out from that centre.

By the proposed new arrangement considerable space will be saved, as at the present time each department does its own shipping. This will be all centralized in the one building, which will of course tend to facilitate matters in this line. The additional space not taken up by "the crane" on the second floor, will be used for the manufacture of certain lines of goods.

A second building, 235 x 80 feet, will be erected of a similar design to the one just referred to, and will have a 40-foot gallery and a 10-foot crane. This will be used for the manufacture of heavy machinery.

Still another new building, which will be an addition to the new building erected last fall, will be built. This structure will be 140 x 40 feet in dimensions.

The company, it is said, has under consideration the advisability of moving some of the departments, where the smaller articles are manufactured, to Montreal or Toronto, in order that more room may be available in Peterborough. Should they not do this the company will at an early date erect an extra building, 200 x 50 feet.

The plans for all of these buildings have been prepared, and the work of erecting the new structures will be commenced in a very short time. They will be of the usual substantial kind. Some idea of the amount of building material required may be gathered from the fact that were the buildings one story instead of two stories they would extend one-third of a mile in length.

Miss Florence Miller, whose work as a pupil of Mrs. Morrow, has reflected such great credit to her teacher, has been appointed soprano leader and soloist in St. Andrew's church, and will assume her duties to-morrow. The Rev. J. G. Potter will preach at both services.

THE FEDERAL LIFE.

In another column of the Examiner will be found the 21st annual report of the Federal Life Assurance Company, the head office of which is in Hamilton. A careful glance at the President's report will be of interest to not only the policyholders and shareholders of the Company, but to the general public as well, as it shows a gratifying increase in the Company's general income, whilst the assets of the Company have been increased during the year by $192,-452.31. The investment of the Company's funds is a matter that has been given careful attention with the result that better results have been obtainable in this regard than is shown by the average results of Insurance Companies doing business in Canada. The announcement that the surplus to policyholders is $187,-647.33 exclusive of uncalled guarantee capital should commend itself to the attention of those interested in Life Assurance. The Federal Life has for some years done a large business in the Peterborough District, and the policyholders here should be gratified to know of the sound condition of their Company. Mr. A. H. Denney is the District Manager for Peterborough and vicinity, and will have his headquarters here.

UNIVERSITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

An Enjoyable Dinner Last Night at Long's.

VICE-CHANCELLOR PRESENT

Chief Justice Moss Delivered an Address.

Mr. D. W. Dumble, K.C., Occupied the Chair—School of Forestry a Necessity—A Resolution.

Last night there gathered at Long's elegant parlours, a large and happy representation of the Alumni in law, medicine, arts and science of the University of Toronto. This great institution, like Oxford in its federation of colleges, has, to a certain extent, outgrown its resources and in view of the position it occupies at the head in the number of its graduates and under-graduates of the Universities of Ontario, if not of Canada, it requires more assistance in order that it may be able to send forth men more in touch with the practical life of the day than hitherto. Mr. D. W. Dumble, K.C., occupied the chair in his usual tactful manner. On his right sat Chief Justice Moss, Vice-Chancellor of the University, on his left, his Worship Mayor Roger. The Vice-chair was occupied by E. B. Edwards, K.C., on whose right was Professor McClellan, Ph. D., on his left, Dr. Moore, LL. D., of Minnesota.

The chairman proposed the health of the King, which was duly honoured.

The Vice-chairman proposed the toast of our "Alma Mater." He said that graduates of University of Toronto, when ever gathered together were inspired with the spirit of enthusiastic loyalty to that great institution.

Vice-Chancellor Moss, on rising to respond, was greeted with loud applause. He thanked the gentlemen present for the opportunity of addressing them. It was the first of what he hoped of a long list of such re-unions in Peterborough. We all have reasons, he said to feel loyal to the 'Varsity. Its achievements in history warrent the pride in it of every citizen in Ontario. In 1843, when Kings College emerged into Varsity, there were 31 graduates; three of whom are still living, and those three are all lawyers.

The chairman—"Honesty is the best policy." (Laughter.)

Now there are 500 under-graduates in arts alone—500 in medicine, 350 in applied science. In both medicine and applied science we stand at the head in Canada in numbers and in arts we are easily first. In giving statistics the Chief Justice said that he did not desire to give invidious comparisons, but he felt that the people had a right to know how a University was doing which was established by the people, and sustained by the people, without regard to creed or class. The purpose of the founders was to upbuild the people of this country in a State University. The Blakes, Chief Justice Aylmer, Sir William Meredith, Chancellor Boyd, were some of the men who had gone forth from the University's walls into the higher life of the country at large, and he did not think that the fact, that 50 graduates held leading positions in various universities in U. S. A., warranted critics in making remarks promotory to our Canadian pride. Now the difficulties that the Varsity is under, are simply those due to lack of funds—the staff is excellent but there is not enough of them; their pay is poor; they are daily expecting the Government to take some steps, worthy of this great Province, and therefore be generous to the University, which was instituted by it, for the people, which the Government represents. The expansion of the University has been exceedingly rapid, it requires new and larger clothes. A new medical building has just been erected. The medical faculty is thoroughly equipped, but we must have a new Convocation Hall, a new residence, a new School of Forestry, these are some of the most impressing, and together with an increase in endowment in Toronto University. For the first time, last year, the authorities were face to face with a deficit, of course at this critical juncture the Government had to come forward and assume the indebtedness. The inquiry into university affairs then instituted, showed to the Government how thoroughly well founded the claims of the University are. Now such demonstrations as to-night are being held all over the Province, they are for the purpose of inspiring the Government with confidence in their treatment of the University. Had the University been content to resist the desire of expansion it could have remained very comfortably where it was, but being keenly alive to the latest requirements in science and in the practical life of the people of the Province, compelled them to call for aid. The new medical building is said to be the finest in the whole continent, and when the new Science Building and the School of Forestry are put up, we may confidently expect further practical good to be derived from our work. It must be remembered always that character is one of the chief features of human life and the University authorities steadily keep this in view in their training of the men under them. The trustees look always to the friends of the University for help. (Loud and continued applause.)

Professor McClellan said that some of our M.P.P.'s were not doing their duty, it is necessary for the people to force the Government's hands. Every provision has been made for electrical, hydraulic and mining engineering, and in the practical business of the country, and to complete it we must have a Forestry School. Principal Mills, of the Guelph Agricultural College, recently sent out requests to a very large body of farmers for their opinion as to the advisability of establishing a School of Forestry. Ninety per cent. favoured its establishment and said if it were not established at the Central University at Toronto, it should undoubtedly go to the Farmers' College at Guelph. Business men heretofore have regarded the University as a home of abstract learning, but are now being brought to understand that whilst the discovery of laws is one part of the work attempted, the application of those laws in a particular way, is another. Toronto differed from McGill and Cornell in having its departments perhaps more strictly specialized than in those great universities. He sat down amidst applause.

The chairman said that the Government must stand by a university, for when Victoria and other colleges went into confederation they were promised that the great advantages held out to them should be made good in every way.

At this juncture it was moved by Mr. Burnham, seconded by Dr. Caldwell, that the Alumni and the Alumnae of Toronto University, resident in the County of Peterborough, are of the opinion that the Provincial University, should be fully prepared to do its share of the great work called for by the educational needs of this province, and should rank with the great universities of the states, and that it is necessary that in equipment and in provisions for the maintenance of chairs, there should be such generous provincial support, as will secure the services of the ablest men, and likewise be of sufficient inducement to outside universities to have them desire to federate with her. The graduates are also of the opinion that a chair of Forestry should be formed in the university to meet an imperative and absolute requirement. An Alumni here assembled to the number of 40, urge the Ontario Government that they liberally support the university which the progressive spirit of the times demands, especially in this province.—Carried.

Mr. Burnham, in urging the resolution said that he had been very gratified to see that seven members of the professional staff of McGill were graduates of Toronto University. A striking feature of the present agitation is the great enthusiasm of the ladies who were graduates and under-graduates.

Mr. Fessenden said that he was anxious for Trinity University to enter the federation as soon as possible, and he was of the opinion that the best original research could only be carried out in a central university, because the expense of such research was very great.

Dr. Harrison was of opinion that the farmers needed education in Forestry.

Dr. Moore spoke of the high positions Canadians took in the United States, and strongly favoured the resolution.

Rev. J. P. Wilson also spoke strongly for the resolution and favoured one great central university.

Mayor Roger, in support of the resolution, remarked that Applied Science had placed Germany and the United States were they were today, and was especially necessary in Canada. The idea that the university was for rich men's sons only, was a mistake; for without a great State University poor men's sons would, by reason of the fees, be almost wholly debarred from taking general advantage of a scientific course.

Mr. Garvin eloquently supported the resolution.

Perhaps one of the most notable features of the evening was the statement of Mr. Wood, County Crown Attorney, who said that on coming to the meeting he had not been in favour of a School of Forestry, but now he was in favour of such a school, and thought it should be established at Toronto. Although a Presbyterian, although he had a son at Queen's, he was in favour of having one great central university.

Vice-Chancellor Moss rose and acknowledged the convictions of Mr. Wood in grateful and suitable terms.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. Leo Primeau, Lindsay, was in town last evening.

Rev. E. S. Carey, B. D., of Lakehurst, was in town to-day.

Miss Fairbairn, of Bobcaygeon, is spending a few days in town, the guest of Miss Pratt, Simcoe street.

Mr. Garvin has invited the gentlemen members of the Peterborough Golf Club to an oyster supper at Mr. Harry Long's parlours at 7 o'clock Monday evening.

Mr. Levi Fallis, who for the past five years has been in the employ of the Kingan Hardware Company, intends leaving in the course of a week or ten days to assume a position with Messrs. Wells & Emerson, Port Arthur. Mr. Fallis during his residence in Peterborough made many friends all of whom will regret to hear of his departure from town.

TONNAGE AND INSPECTION.

Kingston Board of Trade Asks for United Action

Something Regarding Canal Tolls—Abolition is Asked for—A Meeting to Discuss Matters Called.

The President of the Kingston Board of Trade has sent out a circular letter to the Boards of Trade throughout Canada asking for united action in regard to the abolition of Canal tolls, tonnage dues and inspection fees on the steamboat service, etc. The letter in part is as follows:—

Kingston Board of Trade.
Established 1872.
Kingston, February 23, 1903.

Dear Sir, — The Council of the Kingston Board of Trade, having considered taxes, fees and tolls levied under Canadian Laws upon Canadian transportation companies and carriers, resolved at a meeting on the 20th inst, to condemn the imposition of these charges as unjust in principle, unfair in operation, to a very serious extent prejudicial to the interests of the Canadian Merchant Marine, and in the result retarding the growth and damaging the prospects of the whole trade and commerce of the country.

For the purpose of instituting a general movement to bring about the abolition of these charges, it was also resolved that the present letter should be sent to all parties interested in transportation, as well as to Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and other commercial bodies throughout the country. A summary of the facts is therefore presented for your careful consideration, and your earnest co-operation is also cordially and earnestly invited in the proposed plan of campaign, which will be found outlined in the concluding concluding paragraphs of this letter.

The charges that will be specifically referred to may be enumerated as (1) Tonnage Dues and Inspection Fees; (2) Fees payable to Custom officers for services after hours and on holidays, and (3) Canal Tolls. For the sake of clearness these various matters will be dealt with separately, as follows:

We see therefore that for the sake of a paltry one-fifth of one per cent. on the cost of our canals, we are restricting the volume of Canadian trade, and to that extent damaging the Canadian merchant marine that we are taxing the farmer to pay the revenue still derived from our canals, and that while doing both these improper things, we are also, by the same means, building up, to the detriment of our own country, the trade of that to the south of us.

To bring about the abolition of these obnoxious charges that have been referred to, it is advisable in the first place to publish the facts, and commend the proposal to the good sense of the press and the people, so as to obtain the strongest expression of public approval that may be possible. But what is absolutely necessary is to join forces in an organized effort to impress the justice and necessity of the case upon the Government itself. The unparalleled prosperity which the country has recently enjoyed will have rendered the way easy for the immediate adoption of a policy that will place the burdens complained of on the public revenue, where they rightly belong. Parliament has been called to meet in March, and as early as possible after the House meets should be the best time to approach the members of the Government. It is proposed therefore that all those interested should meet in Ottawa early in the course of the coming session and, after discussion, resolve upon the requests to be made to the Government. The entire delegation could then, in company with Parliamentary representatives, present their resolutions to the Cabinet Ministers at a meeting which would then be arranged.

A large and representative delegation to Ottawa is of prime importance. You are therefore asked in the first place to make up your mind to give your active support to the movement, and to be good enough to signify this intention as soon as possible to the undersigned, giving free expression to your views in writing, with any suggestions that may occur to you, and stating also what date you think would be most advisable and convenient for the proposed meeting.

You are also asked to endeavour to lay the matter before the public in its proper light, by communicating your views to the press in your section of the country. Judicious newspaper articles appearing throughout the Dominion, will be important factors in the result, and it is hoped that in this way you will be able to lend strength and impetus to the movement. Any such articles appearing, or any press notices of the matter, should be forwarded to the undersigned so that they may receive further publicity and be put to the best use possible. If in addition to this you are able to bring the matter directly to the notice of your local Member of Parliament you should do so. You may obtain his pledge of support and at least you cannot fail to impress him with the justice of our case and enlist his favourable attention. There can be no doubt that if all unite in the way proposed, to gain their common object, a case strong enough on its merits to challenge opposition will be presented, and the consummation desired must necessarily follow.

You are earnestly requested to give this matter attention. If at all possible decide to attend or be represented at the meeting, and write the undersigned to that effect. Further notice of the meeting will be sent to you in due course. In the meantime it is hoped that you will in every way possible endeavour to lend your active support to the attainment of the desired object. Your early reply is earnestly requested.

JOHN GASKIN,
President Kingston Board of Trade.
FRANCIS KING,
Secretary Kingston Board of Trade.

LOOKS LIKE BUSINESS.

A Big Shipment of Singer Sewing Machines That Blocked the Street.

To-day at noon there may have been seen piled up on the pavement in front of the company's local warerooms, No. 347 George street, a big consignment of the famous Singer sewing machines, that blocked the public thoroughfare. Evidently the energetic local and district manager, Mr. W. D. Little, means to see to it that the supply is equal to the demand. It was learned that since the occupation of the present up-to-date, centrally-located warerooms, the sales have increased to a gratifying extent, and business is improving all the time. With the shipment just received direct from the factory, the three distinct types of machines, for family sewing and needlework are represented. These machines are simple and strong, are finished in quartered oak in a superior style of ornamentation, both in carving and metal, and one fitted conveniently with handy drawers and contrivances. The great durability and excellence of mechanism claimed for the Singer machine was forcibly demonstrated to-day by a lady from Emily, who called upon Mr. Little to get a tencent take-up wire, which was the first repair her Singer had required since she bought it in 1881. The same lady also stated that she had'nt broke a needle in five years. Mr. Little was very proud of such voluntary testimony given in the presence of our reporter.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Mr. Fred Fallis and Miss Ethel Ball, of Cavan.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reid Ball, "Mapleburst," Cavan, on Wednesday afternoon, when their eldest daughter, Miss Ethel Edena, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred Fallis, son of John Fallis, Esq., of Cavan.

The bride looked charming in a beautiful gown of white silk organdie trimmed with white lace and satin ribbon and carried white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Jennie Walsh, cousin of the bride, was dressed in white mohair trimmed with white silk and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The groom was supported by Mr. Herbert Ball, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Mr. Wight, the guests repaired to the dining room to partake of a sumptuous repast, the tables being beautifully decorated in pink and white.

The evening was spent in music and games and the newly married couple received the hearty congratulations of their friends. The bride is a popular and accomplished young lady, whilst the groom is one of the township of Cavan's most promising young farmers.

A REMARKABLE CASE

Told by Mr. Orlin Post of Grumidge, Manitoba.

Suffered Greatly for Five Years From Rheumatism—Doctors and Many Medicines Failed to Help Him, But he got the Right Medicine at Last.

From the Echo, Dominion City, Man.

Recently while chatting with a reporter of the Echo, Mr. Orlin Post, a well known farmer of Grumidge, Man., gave the following story of five years of great suffering from that most painful of diseases—rheumatism. Mr. Post said: "There are few people, unless they have been similarly afflicted, can understand how much I suffered during those five years from the pains of rheumatism. There were times when I was wholly unable to do any work, and to merely attempt to move my limbs caused the greatest agony. I tried several doctors but they seemed quite unable to cure me. Then I tried several advertised medicines, that were highly recommended for this trouble, but they also failed to bring the longed for release from pain. As these medicines failed me one after the other, I began to look upon the troubles as incurable, and was almost in despair. At this time some friends asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to make at least one more effort to obtain a cure. I knew my case was not only a severe one, but from the failure of other medicines a stubborn one, and I determined that the pills should have a fair trial, so I bought a dozen boxes. I took them according to directions, and before they were gone there was a great improvement in my condition, but I was not fully cured. I then got another half dozen boxes, and by the time the third of them were emptied I had not an ache or a pain left, and was able to do a good hard day's work without feeling any of the torture that had for five years made my life miserable. You may say for me that I do not think there is any medicine in the world can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a cure for rheumatism. It is several years since my cure was effected, and as I have never since had the least sign of the trouble, I think I can speak with authority."

When such severe cases as this are entirely cured it is not surprising that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made such a great reputation throughout the world for the cure of other diseases due to poor or watery blood. Paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, anaemia, consumption, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, nervous headache, female ailments and neuralgia are among the other troubles they have cured in thousands of cases. Only the genuine pill will cure—substitutes never cured anything—and to avoid substitutes you must see that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is on the wrapper around every box. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or will be sent post free at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"77" FOR GRIP

Grip is epidemic—the hospitals crowded—the suffering intense—the death list appalling—yet ninety cases in every hundred could be prevented or cured, with little cost and no inconvenience, by the use of Dr. Humphrey's "SEVENTY-SEVEN." It nobly breaks up the Grip, but its tonicity sustains the system, and you can keep about your business. It can be carried in the pocket and taken from the hand without trouble.

The indications of a severe attack of Grip or Influenza are: headache, chilliness, general muscular pains, fever, sore throat, cough and systemic lassitude.

At the first chill or shiver, take "SEVENTY-SEVEN." It will restore the checked circulation, start the blood coursing through the veins, and break up the Grip or a Cold. At all Druggists, 25c., or mailed.

LADIES' WORK.

The Annual Embroidery Classes at the Beehive.

The Bee-Hive has well merited its name during the past three weeks. From February 16th to 28th free classes for instruction in silk embroidery work were held in the spacious rooms over the store, these classes being presided over by Misses Munro and Baldwin, two very clever and competent teachers, under whose careful and painstaking instructions seemingly every kind of flower that graces the wild woods and gardens grew with a rapidity unknown to nature, and many of them seemed to be a very close copy of nature's handiwork.

Over two hundred ladies availed themselves of the opportunity afforded by these classes to improve themselves in fine and artistic needlework. The teachers were delighted with the aptness and artistic ability and talent shown by the ladies of Peterborough, and prophesied many pleasant things regarding their progress in art work. The ladies expressed themselves exceedingly well pleased with the unusual progress made with their work, and the invariably kind and courteous manner in which the instructions were given.

The free lace class which is being presided over by Miss Sherin, who is a well known expert in lace work, and who, during the last year has graduated through two schools for lace work in Toronto, has been advertised just for this week, but owing to its being much more successful than was expected, it has been found necessary to continue this class all next week, during which time the classes will be held both forenoon and afternoon; thus giving sufficient time for all the pupils to be thoroughly instructed in this most interesting work.

Miss Noble, of the Turnbull Co's Millinery Department, would be pleased to have you call and inspect her beautiful exhibit of New York Ready-to-wears on March 10th.

JOHN NUGENT.

SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING AND HELPLESSNESS

THE DISTRESSING CASE OF MR. CLOUTIER, WHO WAS UNABLE TO WORK OR SLEEP, AND ENDURED TERRIBLE HEADACHES AND BACK PAINS.

Was in Four Hospitals

BUT DOCTORS COULD NOT CURE HIM. NERVOUS SYSTEM WAS ENTIRELY UNDERMINED A MARVELLOUS CURE EFFECTED BY DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

MR. CLOUTIER.

The case of Mr. Simon Cloutier, shoemaker, 110 Lagauchetiere street, Montreal, deserves more than passing notice, because his case was unusually severe.

For six long years Mr. Cloutier was an invalid, unable to attend to his work, and much of this time was spent in the hospitals of Montreal. The doctors gave him no hope of recovery, but, on the contrary, told him that he would never be well again.

A treatment that will restore to good health a person whose case was considered hopeless, must be of more than ordinary value, and this is only one of a series of remarkable cures that have been brought about by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. Simon Cloutier, shoemaker, 110 Lagauchetiere street, Montreal, Que., states:—

"For six years I was not able to work, my nerves were all unstrung, and my digestion bad. I had severe attacks of headache, could not sleep, and suffered with shooting pains in the small of my back. I was in four hospitals, but the doctors could not cure me. They said I would never be well again. In spite of their decision I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food some months ago, and I am convinced that I owe my life to this medicine. I have now been at work for over two weeks, and believe that my health has been fully restored. It is a pleasure for me to add my testimony to the hosts of others from persons who have been cured by this wonderful medicine."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Effects thorough and radical cures because it builds up blood and nerves, the very foundation of health. It tones, strengthens and revitalizes the system, reconstructs the wasted tissues, creates new nerve force and prevents and cures diseases caused by weak blood and exhausted nerves. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or EDMANSON, BATES & Co., TORONTO.

OLD NEWGATE PRISON.

Relics Sold at Auction Fetched Hardly Scrap Iron Prices.

Relics of old Newgate Prison were sold at auction on the afternoon of the 5th Feb., and hardly fetched the value of scrap iron. There was a large crowd of spectators present, including a number of Americans, but the bidding was very slack. There was some competition for the old oak, the hangman's key and the cupboard mentioned in "Barnaby Rudge," which brought $62.50.

The old death bell fetched $500. The staff on which the black flag was hoisted went for $60; copper washbowls used by the prisoners were sold for $5 each; nine plaster heads of persons executed were knocked down at $25, and the main entrance door, which was broken down by the Gordon rioters, brought $150.

Newgate Prison, with the historic sessions house, known as the Old Bailey, in the heart of the city of London, which may be compared with the Bastile of Paris, or the Tombs of New York, will have soon completely vanished, to make room for the new Central Criminal Court.

The old jail was massively built, of stone, and immensely strong, though not impregnable, as many prisoners managed to effect their escape from its gloomy interior. It dated only from 1770, and was much damaged in the London "No Popery" riots, ten years later, which make the most picturesque episode in Dickens' "Barnaby Rudge." The rioters then battered in the door and released the prisoners. Lord George Gordon, the fanatic ringleader, was himself confined in the building on its reconstruction.

Latest Assyrian Finds.

The well-known Assyriologist, Dr. Hugo Winckler, has unearthed and published an account of the legislation promulgated by King Amraphel of Babylon, which, so far as is known at present, was the first book of laws given to the world. King Amraphel lived 2,250 years B.C., and is mentioned in the Bible as a contemporary or Abraham, so that his statutes were drawn up fully five centuries before the laws of Moses. They number 282, and contain the following:—If a woman who sells beverages gives bad value for the money paid to her, she shall be thrown into water. If a wife be a spendthrift, or if she otherwise neglect her duties, her husband may put her away without compensation; but if a man put away his wife for no other reason than that she has no children, he shall return her whole dowry. If a betrothal be rescinded, the man shall pay the woman compensation. A widow with grown-up children may not marry again without permission from a judge.

The Correct Quotation.

If you must quote, do quote correctly. Is the pen mightier than the sword? Thousands may or print: "The pen is mightier than the sword." It may be true, but if it is meant for a quotation it is not fairly give. The original lines in the play are:

"Beneath the rule of men entirely great,
The pen is mightier than the sword."

This error has been corrected over and over again. But those who misquote seldom read what they are pretending to quote, but quote from a man who quoted from another man who—and so on. In many books will be found long lists of these prevalent misquotations.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER.

THE BLUE HIGHWAY.

The cold beach cries behind us in the grip
of the sea's unrest,
We've done with stags at harbors, we're decked out in our best,
With a white band on the funnel instead
of dirty grey,
We're off to meet old friends upon the blue
highway.

Wives and sweethearts call us, call to us of home,
The read gleam of a tavern creeps out across the foam,
But we head for the notched horizon where
the great white breakers be,
And all the stars are shining, a-shining on the sea.

Comrades' voices warn us of the road we take,
The lips of the drowned keep crying, crying
in our wake,
But we head for the notched horizon where
the great white breakers be,
And Mother Carey feeds her chicks, feeds her chicks at sea.

The cold beach cries behind us in the grip
of the sea's unrest,
We're done with stagnant harbors, we're
decked out in our best,
With a white band on the funnel instead
of dirty grey,
We're off to meet old friends upon the blue
highway.

An Invalid's Tray.

Ceramic artists are giving considerable attention nowadays to tableware as well as ornamental pieces, and some handsome specimens of their work are on view in studios and exchanges. A novel and serviceable piece of tableware is a dish for an invalid's tray about as large as a tea plate. It is decorated with a pretty floral design in pastel coloring and divided into three sections. This permits the placing of three kinds of food on the dish at once and saves crowding the tray with dishes. A pudding dish and tray decorated with a conventional pattern in the softest of yellow, pink and green shadings is another example of artistic work, and an oatmeal set in similar tintings belongs in the same class.

WEALTH FOR YOU BECAUSE HEALTH FOR YOU.

Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder

Only 50 cents for bottle and tube, and is worth—as much as your life is worth. Catarrh kills thousands through colds, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption, and Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder cures all of them when other prescriptions have failed. It will relieve colds and catarrh and cure headache in ten minutes.

FRED H. HELB, Jr., the well known distiller of Railroad, York Co., Pa., states:—"I have had catarrh of the head and stomach for two years in the worst form. I tried all the medicines I ever heard of, but without relief.

I used two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. It cured me entirely, I am now a well man."

In thirty minutes Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will add strength to that organ. Feeding the body by a full supply of blood it fills life with the old time vigor. 11

ENGLAND LOVES HER.

Queen Alexandra, in Turn, Loves England and Thinks of it as Home Indeed —Her Own Words.

The London Daily Express on Dec. 1, the Queen's birthday, published an interesting article regarding Her Majesty, from which the following is taken: This amazing youthfulness of the Queen enables us to realize, without a call upon the imagination, the outburst of joy with which the Princess was first welcomed to our shores. For it was the same beautiful and gracious figure that we see on State occasions still. Riding in the State coach to the coronation or the opening of Parliament Her Majesty might have been a bride rather than a grandmother. The passing years have matured her character, and made her the wise and tactful Consort of one of the greatest rulers of the world. But they have left her beauty undimmed. Too much might be made of this. Such a wealth of affection and esteem as the Queen has won is not inspired by beauty alone. Goodness, discretion, wisdom, and an incessant care for the duties of her position have gone to the building up of that valued reputation. A foreigner by birth and training, Queen Alexandra has made her adopted country her own, and it is because she is English in all her acts and sympathies that the English people love her. She has herself put this accomplishment in words so touching and sincere that it would be a crime to alter them. Mlle. Vacaresco, after the death of Queen Victoria, spoke to her about the loving affection of the people for their King and Queen. "Yes," was the reply, "the King knows how to make himself beloved. He understands and cherishes the nation. But if they love me it is only because they are so good and true. You cannot imagine how good, how true the people are in England, in all classes everywhere. There are some Princesses and reigning Queens, are there not, who ever feel themselves strangers in the lands that become theirs by marriage. I have never known this feeling, not one single moment; and now I never succeed in discerning that I am not born here; it seems to me as if even my childhood had been spent here, and even when I am away from this land I am not absent."

British Wine Drinking.

The consumption of claret in Great Britain, which grew pretty steadily after the French commercial treaty negotiated by Mr. Cobden in 1861, would seem to have received a check. The importation of still wines from France has fallen off by 307,000 gallons. The sales of Burgundy, Sauterne and Chablis have not materially varied, and the deficit is entirely attributable to the comparative neglect of claret. In spite of war in the first five months of 1902 and high taxation, there was an increase in the consumption of champagne of nearly 20,000 gallons. The decline of claret has naturally been followed by an increase in the drinking of port. The importation of this wine has increased by 33,000 gallons, and if Dr. Johnson's dictum be true that claret is the drink for boys and port wine for men, we ought, I suppose, says a London correspondent, to rejoice at the change. All good patriots will be glad to learn that the importation of German wines has fallen off, and they will be equally delighted to hear that there has been a growth in the consumption of Australian wines of over 256,000 gallons.

THE SLIM SIR JOHN.

A Clever Piece of Athletic Tactics in Which an Ulster and the Weather Played Prominent Parts.

A correspondent writes: In reviewing Mr. Collins' book on the "History of the Brocklesby Hounds," "Spedex" refers to some matches of the late Sir John Astley in the saddle and with the gun. Keen as Sir John was on those two branches of sport, he never lost his love for athletics, and he was in his day no mean performer on the cinder-path; indeed, he was a sprint runner of more than average class, for at his best he could do the 100 yards in something like 10¼ seconds.

In his prime and as a captain in the "Rifles," Sir John (then Captain Astley) was quartered with his battalion at the Curragh.

There he made a number of matches with his brother officers at distances varying from 100 yards to a quarter of a mile. Sir John won them all, and, having so firmly established his supremacy that none of those of equal rank would tackle him, he issued a challenge to run any man in the regiment a level "100" for any stake within reason, and was also prepared to back himself for as much money as the other side could find.

Now, the other officers were smarting somewhat under their several defeats and consequent heavy monetary losses—for a lot of money changed hands in those days—and they determined, if possible, to get their own back.

Accordingly, a well-known professional runner—a man who had already won a Sheffield handicap—was approached, and induced—for a consideration—to enlist in the Rifles, with, of course, a proviso that they would obtain his discharge as soon as possible after the race.

The match was made, but Sir John, keen follower of pedestrianism as he was, saw the man and quickly tumbled to his identity. Keeping his own counsel, he determined to get even with the would-be spoilers, and appeared more anxious than ever for the match to go on, and in the meantime accepted every bet offered.

The race was run on a bitterly cold day in January, and at the appointed time up came "Mr. Pro," in perfect costume and a brand new pair of running shoes on. He cantered to the mark, carefully made a hole from which to "set," and waited for Sir John.

That officer appeared in about a quarter of an hour enveloped in a thick ulster reaching to his toes, but instead of proceeding to the mark he leisurely strolled round the ropes booking all the bets he could make.

People thought him mad, that they were getting money for nothing, and greedily accepted his offers.

Having exhausted the market, a process which occupied something like half an hour, Sir John removed the ulster and toed the mark where the pro. was waiting stiff and numbed with the cold.

The pistol cracked and Sir John almost left his opponent standing still, and ultimately beat him by 15 yards, whereas he should have lost by at least five.

When it was known that Sir John's tactics instead of his speed had won him the race he was approached with a view to another match.

"No, thanks," was the "Mate's" answer. "You might buy him an ulster next time."

THOUSANDS LISTEN

To the Strange Tale of Mrs. James Bradley—What Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets did for Her.

"No tongue can tell what I have suffered." So writes Mrs. Jas. Bradley, of Smith's Cove, Digby Co., N.S. And when it is explained that Dyspepsia caused her suffering, thousands of Canadians will echo, "That's true, sure enough." Those thousands have Dyspepsia themselves, and they know.

But let these thousands listen to the whole of Mrs. Bradley's story, and if they profit by it as they should, they will stop moaning over Dyspeptic pains and turn instead to singing the praises of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I had Dyspepsia for over nine years," says Mrs. Bradley. "I have tried the best doctors in this place, and never got relief. I had to starve myself from eating and had given up hope of ever having any help. No tongue can tell what I suffered. I cannot describe it. I saw an advertisement of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and sent for six boxes of them. They relieved me almost at once and before I had finished the six boxes I could eat almost anything and sleep comfortably, which I never expected to do in this world.

"I advise all who suffer as I have to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and never to be without them."

Men in Africa.

Summing up his observations in Africa Sir H. M. Stanley says that the tallest men he found lived in high altitudes, from 5,000 feet above sea level and upward; the sturdiest from 3,000 to 5,000; the shortest, excepting the pigmies, from sea level to 3,000 feet.

SPIRITUAL REALM REVEALED.

Searchlight Across the Borders of the Universe of Sense.

Sir Oliver Lodge principal of the University of Birmingham, the man who first set Europe thinking of wireless telegraphy, said a few days ago: "This new art is destined to exercise a profound influence on the intellectual and spiritual capabilities of the masses of mankind. It tends to bridge the way for the man in the street between the visible and invisible worlds. Hitherto this useful and inoffensive citizen has regarded psychical investigation as little else than an organized search for ghosts, and has pronounced psychical enthusiasts cranks, while gravely doubting the good faith of the greater number of them.

"Wireless telegraphy deals these prejudices a shattering blow, and therefore opens up to the man in the street the wide and attractive field of mental development. In other words, it indicates to the ordinary individual, who, after all, is the backbone of progress, that the universe may obtain some very profound realities that lie beyond the reach of physical sense. This realization is bound to loosen the bonds of materialism and to give freer play to human intelligence and human faith. The time is rapidly approaching when the uncompromising materialists will receive the sneers that are now directed against the scientific enquirer who points his searchlights across the borders of the universe of sense."

When The Grand Climacteric Period of a Woman's Life Arrives

Paine's Celery Compound

Takes Her Safely Into After-Life Free From the Ailments and Dangers Common to Her Sex.

Change of life, which usually comes on between the ages of forty and fifty, is to thousands of women, a time of serious constitutional disturbances. The danger time is made known by irregularities, stomach derangements, headache, nervousness, pain in the back and hips, limbs and abdomen, frequently swell, piles do their annoying work, there is vertigo, palpitation of the heart and debility.

When any of these warning symptoms are experienced, the use of Paine's Celery Compound will do wonders for anxious suffering women. Paine's Celery Compound used regularly for a few weeks will build up nerve force and physical strength, tone digestion, keep the kidneys and liver in working condition, will banish gloomy fears and give sweet sleep. It has saved thousands of women from sufferings and death. Mrs. Beverly Vincent, St. John, N. B., writes thus:

"I am happy to let you know what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I suffered from nervousness, female troubles, and my constitution was all run down. I tried many medicines but received no benefit from anything used until I tried your Paine's Celery Compound. It is a medicine that has given me grand results."

Bed With Foot Seat.

A novel thing in the way of a boudoir convenience is a bed with an attachment in the way of a settee at the footboard. This is particularly useful in a room whose dimensions are small and where every square foot of space counts. Here one may sit to pull on one's stockings or where unruly shoe strings may be properly fastened. It has its ornamental aspect, too, for a half dozen pretty bright pillows will lend attractiveness to the entire room. A carpenter for a very small sum of money will build the settee, or one usually used as a hall bench may be found at any furniture store. An additional convenience lies in the fact that the lower part of the bench may be utilized as a shirt waist box or as a harbor for the perishable ball frocks.

Stuffed Cabbage.

For stuffed cabbage choose a fine head, from which cut the stalk and outer leaves. Put into boiling water and cook for ten minutes. Place the cabbage in cold water for half an hour, drain and wrap in a cheesecloth or thin muslin cloth. Remove the heart of the cabbage, and chop half of this fine and mix with minced ham and fresh breadcrumbs. Season and moisten with melted butter, and fill the hollow in the cabbage with the mixture. Put enough clear stock or water in a pot to half cover the cabbage and boil until tender. Remove the bandages before serving, and pour around it in the dish a little gravy made from the liquor in the pot thickened with a roux of butter and flour and seasoned with tomato catchup or mushroom sauce.

A Chamois Mop.

A good thing to polish windows with is a small hand mop made of scraps of chamois. Bits so large than a silver dollar can be used. String them all together on a piece of strong twine and tie into a bunch. When dirty wash it out, dry and before using rub it soft in your hands. The mop improves with use.

EQUALITY OF RACES

MAY BE SO THEORETICALLY, BUT NOT REALIZED PRACTICALLY.

An Article From the London Express Which Will Cause Many Unprejudiced Canadians to Open Their Eyes Wide—The Color Line Problem Under the Free Union Jack.

Throughout the whole British Empire, wherever the white man is confronted by the black man en masse, the prejudice against the latter is bitter in the extreme.

The theory of equality, the "man and brother" doctrine, however beautiful it may appear on paper is absolutely unworkable in the practice of every-day life. We rule our dependencies—India, South Africa, the West Indies, Ceylon, Australia, the Straits Settlements—by a rigid enforcement of the superiority of the white man. And this is inevitable; and it is as necessary as it is inevitable.

We should not hold India for a day did we not realise and act up to the well-proved and absolutely undeniable fact that the white man, in all essentials, is immeasurably the superior of the black.

Of course, to the ignorant, untraveled sentimentalist this is appalling; and he will indignantly deny the truth of my assertion. To many an untraveled sockney the black man is as good as, if, indeed, he is not better than, the white man.

A Stern Duty.

But to the initiate, to the minority who know, as opposed to the unthinking majority who do not know, the suppression of the black man is a stern duty. Nothing, surely, is more remarkable than the dislike and distrust of the black which is invariably felt by the white when he encounters the former mass. There must be a reason for this.

Carlyle and Froude—the latter to me personally—both pronounced the emancipation of the slaves in America a very mixed blessing indeed. And certain it is that in the old days the condition of things between white and black was infinitely happier and more desirable, safer and more natural, than it is to-day.

For one Legree there were a hundred owners who treated their slaves as friends more than servants; to-day there is nothing but hatred between the two.

In India, of course the line of demarkation is necessarily very rigid. We are in a minority, and if we are to keep the upper hand it is absolutely essential that white supremacy should be enforced, even at the sword's point.

Inevitable Distinctions.

It has to be remembered that the differences between white and black go also deep and are so intimately connected with the subtlest physiological problems that any attempt to do away with them would be fraught with danger to the whole human family. And they cannot be done away with: they lie too deep; they are a part of the race.

Some years ago there was a great public meeting held in one of the West African colonies, presided over by the Governor. At this meeting a native—a K. C. M. G.—clad in the white waistcoat and swallowtails of Western civilization, delivered a powerful and eloquent oration. After it was all over a friend of mine congratulated him on his splendid effort.

He sighed, quaffed a glass of Pommery, and then said: "Yes, and yet do you know I often feel that one day I shall throw it all off, put on the loin cloth of my fathers, and rush back into the forest?"

I can assure you that poor Grant Allen's "The Rev. John Creedy" was based on solid fact and a deep knowledge of colored human nature. However brilliant the veneer of his civilization, the black man remains forever a black man. "East is east, and west is west, and never the twain shall meet."

We are loud in our condemnation of the methods employed by the Southerners of the United States in punishment of the offending negro. I quite acknowledge that burning an erring negro alive is a horrible method of dealing with an evil-doer; but though we English do not usually resort to such extremes, yet without a doubt we treat our colored fellow-subjects in a manner which would not be tolerated in the heart of the Empire.

The Thumb-Screw in Use.

Within the last seven years I myself have seen the thumb-screw applied, with the full knowledge and consent of British authorities, to a thieving native; and in West Africa the methods adopted by the white officials are frequently cruel in the extreme. We in England say that the black man is in all respects the equal of the white.

If you go to Bombay, one of the daintiest jewels in our imperial crown, you will find that not even the greatest Indian Prince is allowed to put so much as his face within the doors of the Byculla Club or the Yacht Club.

Some time ago a distinguished colored cricketer was staying with the Governor of one of our great Indian provinces. The Governor wrote to the Secretary of a certain club and asked that this cricketer should be put up as an honorary member. The reply he received ran as follows:

"My Dear Lord ——: I have received your Excellency's letter. If your friend chooses to come in his turban, and take off his shoes and wait at table like his brethren, he can enter the club. Not unless."

When Lord Reay was Governor of Bombay he gave a large dinner party, to which he invited a certain very high-class native gentleman. This gentleman he introduced to an English lady, saying: "Will you take Mrs. So-and-so into dinner?" The lady at once left the room, accompanied by her husband; and Anglo-India has not yet forgiven Lord Reay for his innocent solecism.

Prejudice Run Mad.

Sometimes, I own, this prejudice can be carried too far. Some years ago a young subaltern in India left his first-class railway carriage for a moment, and on his return he found a colored gentleman sitting there. "D—n your cheek!" he cried, in a frenzy of rage and indignation. "Out you go, you black brute," and so saying, he flung him bag and baggage upon the platform. Unfortunately the "black brute" happened to be one of Her Majesty's Judges of the Supreme Court!

I could give many other instances of a like nature, but these will suffice to show my readers that, with certain modifications, we of the British Empire entertain precisely the same feelings toward the colored man that the Southerners do toward their own negroes.

It is a delicate question to handle; but the fascination of the black man for the untraveled and inexperienced Englishwoman is inexplicable to one who knows what the black really is.

Penalty of Intermarriage.

In the Southern States of America, I believe, and in South Africa also, I understand it is a penal offence for a white woman to be seen talking to a black man; while, personally speaking, I consider that the white woman who can degrade herself to marriage with a colored person places herself outside the pale of decent humanity.

There is one satisfaction, and that is that her punishment is swift, sure, and unerring. As a colored Bishop once said to me: "It is a violation of the laws of nature, which is bound to end in disaster."

However much the sentimentalist may deplore the statement, the fact remains that the black on close and intimate acquaintance and in the mass wins neither the liking nor the respect of the white man. That is be it understood, when he claims equality.

As a soldier, as a servant he is unapproachable; our colored soldiers are the glory of our Empire; the negro or the Hindu servant is the most charming and the most faithful being on this earth.

But the white man rules by virtue of his superiority, and the British Empire is based on the unswerving assumption of this fact. — London Express.

Sketch by J. Swift McNeill.

Events reproduces the following description of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain from a sketch by J. Swift McNeill, an Irish Nationalist M. P.: "He is of medium size, somewhat slightly built, with legs too short in proportion to his frame. It is said by physiologists that the face of every human being when closely scrutinized resembles some animal, and, applying this test to Mr. Chamberlain, I think his face bears a by no means far-fetched likeness to the face of a fox. This resemblance is very striking when one looks at his profile. He has a high forehead, a Roman nose, well-chiselled features, a mouth expressive of great determination, and large, dark blue, luminous and somewhat cruel eyes. His face, which seems pallid in its color at a distance, has, when one looks at it closely, an unhealthy yellow hue, which perhaps is made more strikingly apparent by the coal-black color of his thick and luxuriant hair. As one looks at Mr. Chamberlain casually, one would guess his age to be about five and fifty, but as a matter of fact in 1576 Mr. Chamberlain was a man of the mature age of forty years, who had already enjoyed a civic career of great distinction, and had made a large fortune in trade."

Ginger.

It is not perhaps generally known how much more aromatic and delicious ginger is when used in its root form. It should be kept tightly shut up, and when required for use should be pounded with a pestle and mortar. The flavor will quite repay any extra trouble this work entails. When apples are flavorless, they can be greatly improved by adding a little pounded ginger root to them during the cooking. A little ginger in tapioca and apple pudding will also be found delicious.

IN OLD AGE the question of health becomes mainly a question of nutrition. If the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are kept in a healthful condition there will be a well-nourished body, and little liability to disorders of the liver, bowels or such other disorders as may result from insufficient nutrition and lack of exercise.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and also diseases of other organs which are caused by the diseased condition of the stomach. By enabling the perfect nutrition of the body it increases the vital power and promotes a vigorous old age.

"I was a sufferer from chronic diarrhea for five years," writes Mrs. Mary A. Aaron, of Rolla, Phelps Co., Mo. "I tried different remedies, which would give me relief for a short time only. My trouble would return as bad as ever. I consulted you in July, 1900, and by your advice commenced using Dr Pierce's remedies. I took two bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' three vials of the 'Pellets,' and some of the 'Extract of Smart-Weed,' as you advised. I have not had any return of my trouble since using your medicines. Am now seventy-one years old and I never had anything to relieve me so quick. I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the greatest on earth. Should I ever have any return of my trouble shall use your medicine. My thanks to you for your advice and thanks to Almighty God for restoring me to health through your hands."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

SOLAR PHYSICS.

R. A. Stupart, F.R.S.C., Observatory Chief, on Matters Meteorological and Astronomical—Trolley System Troubles.

At the Canadian Institute rooms in Toronto on a recent Saturday night, an address was read by R. A. Stupart, F.R.S.C., on astronomical matters. Mr. Stupart said the world was awaking to the importance of solar physics, meteorology, seismography and terrestrial magnetism. Much good work had been done by the Toronto Observatory, and he was glad to say that Canadians generally were beginning to appreciate it.

The lecturer traced briefly the rise and growth of meteorological and magnetic science, and stated that the British Association in 1834 ordered a magnetic survey to be made of the principal lands of the two hemispheres. In 1837 a report was published, and in 1838 an expedition, partly subsidized by Queen Victoria, was organized under Sir John Ross and sailed for the Antarctic on a voyage of discovery and magnetic investigation.

Canada and Van Diemen's Land were selected as being nearest the magnetic poles, and St. Helena, because it was in the sphere of least magnetic disturbance, and in these three places observatories were ordered to be erected.

Toronto was chosen as the most suitable point in Canada, and King's College granted a site. In September, 1840, the first magnets were suspended in a wooden structure, and from then until 1892 constant and careful observations of diurnal changes in magnetic declination and dip were made, but in 1892 the magnets were ruined, as were those of other observatories in Potsdam, Greenwich, Kew and Washington by the advent of the trolley car, the electro-magnetic force utilized being so strong as to set up local attractions which destroyed the influence of earth magnetism.

Prof. Stupart then dealt with light, noting that light exerts pressure, as is proved by the radiometer. He gave a lengthy and lucid description of the Aurora Borealis, and explained it according to the theory of primordial matter, with which Dr. Osborne Reynolds of Owen's College, Manchester lately startled the scientific world.

Next Mr. Stupart touched on the superheated steam theory of seismic and volcanic disturbance, referring, of course, to Pelee.

The red spot on Jupiter, the Nova Persei and the desirability of increased membership of the society each had a place in the professor's remarks.

TAKE A MOTHER'S WORD.

Thousands of mothers in all parts of Canada have written to say that Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine they have ever used for the cure of the little ills that afflict all children. It is impossible to publish all these letters, for they would more than fill a newspaper, but the following extracts are a fair sample of what all mothers say about this medicine:

Mrs. James Hopkins, Tobermory, Ont.—"The Tablets are a blessing to both mother and child."

Mrs. John Dobbie, St. Andrew's East, Que.—"I consider it my duty to recommend Baby's Own Tablets to all my friends who have children."

Mrs. A. Burns, Minitonas, Man.—"I have found Baby's Own Tablets do all you claim for them."

Mrs. F. J. Como, New Brandon, N. B.—"The Tablets are just the thing for children; they make them well, cheerful and happy."

Mrs. H. H. Pitts, Ashnola, B. C.—"I have found the Tablets a most satisfactory medicine for children. I always keep them in the house."

Mrs. A. W. Higgins, North River, N. S.—"I cannot praise the Tablets too much. They are the best medicine for children that I have ever used."

You can take the words of these mothers with every confidence, and you have a positive guarantee that the Tablets contain no opiate, or harmful drug. No other medicine gives a similar guarantee. Sold by druggists or sent by mail at 25 cents a box, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Long Life to Him.

A would be poet recently remarked at his club, "I have written a great number of poems, but I do not propose to have them published until after my death." "Hurrah!" shouted a chorus of friends, raising their glasses, "Here's a long life to you, old man!"

THE MOTHER.

Great passions I awake that must
Bow any woman to the dust
With fear lest she should fail to rise
As high as those enamored eyes.

Now for these flying days and sweet
I sit in Beauty's Mercy Seat.
My smiles, my favors I award,
Since I am beautiful, adored.

They praise my cheeks, my lips, my eyes,
With Love's most exquisite flatteries,
Covet my hands that they may kiss
And to their ardent bosoms press.

My feet upon the nursery stair
Makes them a music rich and rare;
My skirt that rustles as I come
For every rapture strikes them dumb.

What jealousies of word and glance!
The light of my poor countenance
Lights up their world that else were dross,
"But you are lovely, mother dear!"

I go not to my grave, but I
Know Beauty's full supremacy;
Like Cleopatra's self, I prove
The very heights and depths of Love.

So to be loved, so to be wooed,
Oh! more than mortal woman should!
What if she fall or fall blind!
Lord make me worthy, keep them blind.

A Debutante's Bouquets.

A clever mother recently solved the problem of what to do with a debutante's bouquets at the reception which she gave recently to introduce her daughter. Instead of having them scattered about the drawing room, as they usually are at coming out teas, and decorating the mantelshelf she had a screen made for them, on which they were hung and placed near the door of her library, where she and the pretty girl received.

This screen was made of wire and was about six feet high and three and a half feet wide. It was entirely covered with smilax, and tips of Florida palm leaves edged it all around. Wire rings were fastened on it in rows and served as holders for the bouquets, the handles of which were placed through them. The ribbon bows which always trim the handles of the debutante's bouquets hid these rings and added to the bright mass of color. The effect was exceedingly pretty and at a distance suggested a bit of gorgeous brocade on which great bunches of flowers were wrought. The hostess and her daughter stood in front of the screen.

Trying Effect of Black.

That the wearing of black is universally becoming is a great mistake. A woman's figure may look very much better in black than in any color, but there are very few women to whom a dead black against the skin is becoming. It usually adds several years to the apparent age, and so heavy a material as black velvet or black satin cannot be worn without some softening effect round the shoulders except by a pronounced beauty. The soft folds of white lace or chiffon at the top of a black gown are, as a rule, far more becoming than the dead black. This trying effect can, of course, be modified. The gown may be made becoming by the use of passementerie or of jetted lace, for jet is so brilliant in itself that it transforms the dead black of the material.

A Delightful Spray

Next time you want a Shave, Hair Cut or Shampoo, come to LeGros' Barber Shop and enjoy the luxury of a delightful spray.

I have just installed the COMPRESSED AIR SPRAYING APPARATUS, with a distributing cock connected with each of my six chairs. It is used for spraying perfumes, bay rum, witch-hazel, etc., drying the face after shaving, drying the hair after a shampoo, and blowing away the loose hair after a cut.

Gives the most exquisite finishing touches.

The Leading Specialists of America. 25 Years in Detroit. Bank Security.

Nine out of every ten men have been guilty of transgression against nature in their youth. Nature never excuses, no matter how young, thoughtless or ignorant he may be. The punishment and suffering corresponds with the crime. The only escape from its ruinous results is proper scientific treatment to counteract its effects.

The DRAINS, either by nightly losses, or secretly through the urine, must be stopped—the NERVES must be built up and invigorated, the blood must be purified, the SEXUAL ORGANS must be vitalized and developed, the BRAIN must be nourished. Our New Method Treatment provides all these requirements. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers disappear; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and manly. We invite all the afflicted to call and consult us confidentially and free of charge. Charges Guaranteed or no Pay. We treat and cure: Varicocele, Blood Diseases, Stricture, Gleet, Spermatorrhœa, Urinary Brains, Spermatorrhœa, Unnatural Discharges, Kidney and Bladder Diseases.

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, March 7. — An irregular stock market with a strong undertone and short covering is likely in to-days short session.

Enormous loans have been transferred to Paris and the bank statement may be an agreeable surprise to the bulls, although the known movement of money seems to indicate on the surface that the surplus reserve is wiped out. Some improvement in prices is probable, especially in copper. Other attractive issues in our opinion include Atch. preferred, B.R.T., Mex. C., R.I. preferred and rubber goods. Those who bought yesterday will find it advisable not to wait long for profits investment buying continues. London Amns. heavy.

TOPICS.

Be sure your right and then go ahead. Those who are banking on commercial and industrial conditions are satisfied to take hold of the dividend paying railroad stocks which yield from 4 1-8 to 5 3-4 p.c. at their present selling basis.

Union Pacific, M.O.P., L.N., Denver preferred, Atch., Erie first preferred, and B. & O. are included in this category Man. is favourably commended. Industrial issues are well thought of. Hold copper, steels and buy some Sugar on any little dip. Holders of St. Paul talk with confidence. L. N. will do better. St. Paul is being well bought.

JOSEPH.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 7. — Norfolk for Jan. net indicates rate of 8.75 p.c. on common. Indications are that bank statement will be better than last week and especially if loans are reduced materially. Highly improbable that U.P. has acquired any more stock in S. P. since last June. Currency movement indicates banks lost $5,000,000.

DOW, JONES & CO.

Cotton — Liverpool: After irregular and exciting session with decline in cotton market closed with some steadiness but nervous and uncertain. Spots 10 lower at 4.23 for mids which declined 20 points. Sales 7,000, receipts 16,000, Amn. 13,700; futures opened weak 5 to 8 down and closed steady at decline of 6 points. What our market will do rests entirely on attitude of bull and bear cliques.

There is no confirmation of any agreement has been reached between Keene and Harriman interests. There are number of time loans due on 15th. and money expected to continue tight to end of month. In view of this we expect nothing better than a trader's market. Prospects favourable for a better statement than predicted earlier in week.

M & M.

New York, March 7. — Fourth week Feb. G.T.R. 571,008 inc. 79,000. Twin City 72,000 inc. 10,000. Market irregular and unsettled money situation so uncertain it discourages new buying and beyond occasional covering of shorts and some pool operations there is not likely to be much support for the coming. Liverpool closing — Wheat 1-8 higher corn 1-8 higher than yesterday. Wheat 31, corn 378, oats 227, contracts.

Bank statement is a surprise: It did not show a decrease in loans expected because it included losses in excess of previous two weeks which were not included in these statements. We find hard to see how we can get any kind of a rise in stocks on the poor showing. I think we will have further declines.

FEDERAL LIFE

Twenty-first Annual Statement.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

The new business of the year consisted of two thousand and twelve applications for insurance, aggregating $2,866,400, of which nineteen hundred and forty-three applications for $2,739,625 were accepted; applications for $126,975 were rejected or held for further information.

As in previous years, the income of the Company shows a gratifying increase, and the assets of the company have been increased by $192,462.31, and have now reached $1,642,387.81, exclusive of guarantee capital.

The security for policyholders, including guarantee capital, amounted at the close of the year to $2,512,387.81, and the liabilities for reserves and all outstanding claims, $1,474,740.48, showing a surplus of $1,037,647.33. Exclusive of uncalled guarantee capital, the surplus to policyholders was $167,647.33.

Policies on sixty-one lives became claims through death, to the amount of $132,328.86, of which $16,048.54 was re-insured in other companies; a rate of mortality considerably under that provided for.

Including Cash Divends and Dividends applied to the reduction of premiums, $82,214.74, with annuities, the total payments to policyholders amounted to $201,411.68.

Careful attention has been given to the investment of the Company's funds in first-class bonds, mortgage securities, and loans on the Company's policies amply secured by reserves. Our investments have yielded better than the average results of Insurance Companies doing business in Canada.

Expenses have been confined to a reasonable limit, consistent with due efforts for new business.

The results of the year indicate a most gratifying progress in every desirable direction. Compared with the preceding year, the figures submitted by the Directors for your approval show an advance of eleven per cent. in the amount of insurance written.

The assurances carried by the Company now amount to $13,981,577.56, upon which the Company holds reserves to the full amount required by law, and, in addition thereto, a considerable surplus.

The field officers and Agents of the Company are intelligent and loyal, and are entitled to much credit for their able representation of the Company's interests. The members of the office staff have also proved faithful in the Company's service.

DAVID DEXTER, President and Managing Director.

NORWOOD'S CHALLENGE.

Mr. John J. Anderson, the well known manager of the Norwood hockey team, called on the Examiner to-day on his way from Lindsay to Norwood. He informed the Sporting Editor that his team was again "runners-up," although he admitted they had no divine right to such a position. Mr. Anderson then intimated that he would like to arrange a game with the T.A.S. to be played on Peterborough ice. He hopes that a friendly match may be arranged and says that he will await the reply of the T.A.S. team to his challenge.

(Belleville Intelligencer.)

Here's a sensation, for fair! If the O.H.A. is anxious to act on "information," it might wrestle a little while with this: The management of the Belleville Hockey Club, we are informed, to-day received two letters, one from Port Perry and the other from Stouffville, both letters alleging that Gorrie, goal-keeper of the Toronto Marlboros, played with the Port Perry team, against Peterboro', at the Markham tournament on February 13th. The Port Perry letter alleges that he was paid for his services, the Stouffville letter says he did not go to Markham for his health. Be that as it may, it is against the rules for O.H.A. players to play with any club other than the one to which they belong. Will the O.H.A. executive kindly investigate the charges made against a member of the Marlboros? And if not, why not?

The following are the winners and the runners-up respectively in the Trent Valley Hockey League since its organization:—

1898-1900 — Campbellford, Norwood.

1901-2—Fenelon Falls, Norwood.
1902-3—Peterborough T.A.S., Norwood.

LACROSSE.

The proposition to form a lacrosse league constituted similarly to the Trent Valley Hockey League, is meeting with great favour throughout the district. The Hastings Lacrosse Club has forwarded the following communication:—

Mr. E. S. Clarry, Secretary-Treasurer Trent Valley Hockey League, Peterborough, Ont.:

Dear Sir,—At a meeting here to-night at which the lacrosse team was reorganized, a resolution was passed strongly urging the formation of a lacrosse league, in this district, to be similar in constitution to the Trent Valley Hockey League. It was also decided that it would be best to have the correspondence sent from Peterborough to the several clubs that are likely to constitute the league, and I was instructed to write to you, believing that you would take an interest in the matter. If you will take this matter up and communicate with the clubs and do any other business necessary we will come good for our share of the costs.

I believe the T.A.S. are willing to go into this league, and there is Millbrook, Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, Port Hope Jrs., Brighton, Trenton, Madoc, Marmora, Sterling, Campbellford, Hastings and Havelock.

Yours truly,
T. E. S. SCRIVER.

NO MEETING.

The meeting that was called for last night in the Y.M.C.A. for the purpose of re-organizing the Athletic Lacrosse Club for the coming season did not materialise, there not being a quorum present. This is to be regretted as the season is getting advanced and the boys should know by now what they intend doing. Mr. A. W. McPherson, the Secretary-Treasurer of the Club, and Mr. Ed. Dillon, a member of the Executive were conspicuous by their absence.

Dominion Oil Co., Limited

CAPITAL $850,000

Divided into 850,000 Shares, Par Value $1.00, Fully Paid and Non-Assessable

TREASURY STOCK—WORKING CAPITAL.....$400,000

No Bonds, Preferred Stock Nor Indebtedness.

The recent acquisition by this company of leases on 300 acres additional in the Wheatley District makes its control of oil lands now cover 1,000 acres in all, thus increasing its assets by nearly 50%, with a corresponding increase in the intrinsic value of its stock. The fact that this addition was also made without drawing a dollar from its rapidly accumulating treasury funds, evidences the intent of its directors to continue the success of the company's operations, and let no opportunity pass to maintain its substantial character and leading position among Canadian enterprises.

At the customary oil field reckoning of one well to an acre, the probable output from these properties is almost beyond computation. The Wheatley property adjoins the several wells drilled and operated by the Union Gas & Oil Co., and is considered a very valuable acquisition; while President Woodward of the Dominion Company advises us that by the installation of the air compressor he expects to increase the output at the famous Gurd Gusher to 600 or 800 barrels a day—and this product is now bringing a higher price than any other petroleum oil on the North American continent. Contracts are also under way for the immediate development of the Wheatley property, where a good quality of oil has been found.

In view of these facts, as well as the sound financial position now occupied by the company, the directors have decided that, in simple justice to the company itself and its shareholders, the sale of stock shall

Close at 35c Saturday March 14,

and that the price shall

Advance to 50c Monday, March 16.

The company is now paying dividends of one per cent monthly on par ($1.00 per share, fully paid and non assessable) which at the present figure of 35c is practically 34 per cent. per annum on the investment. The next dividend will be payable April 1st, to all stockholders of record of March 25th; but those who subscribe by March 14th will secure a 3% monthly investment. We earnestly advise all who desire an interest in these wonderful fields to subscribe now and thus make sure of the greater income, and the greater profit possible by the advanced market value of the stock.

MADE A FALSE MOVE

Buffalo Police Subject Canadian Girl to "Third Degree."

MISS HUTCHINSON TORTURED

Daughter of Dr. Hutchinson, of London, Ont., Arrested in Connection With Burdick Murder—District Attorney Says She Is Entirely Innocent—Grossly Outraged Lady Was Released After Four Hours.

Buffalo, March 9.—Police impotency or inability to cope with a mystery in which the participants move in social circles higher than those in which the authorities alone know how to work has brought the startling Burdick murder case to a halt. A most outrageous proceeding on the part of the authorities was the arrest and detention on Saturday of Miss Marion Hutchinson, a handsome and accomplished young Canadian girl, who had been employed in Burdick's office. The blunder has caused condemnation. The girl satisfied the officers that she was innocent after hours in the sweat box, where the "third degree" was resorted to. Her friends took summary legal proceedings to procure her release, and then the police had the nerve to assert that the girl had not been under arrest, although she had been placed in a cell with a woman detective, had been accused in a sympathetic way of murder, and had been subjected to various ruses which are part of the third degree, such as having to hear bogus telephone messages to "Hold her" and being forced to sit in a small room where a lot of officers smoked strong cigars, filling the place with smoke to cause her brain to reel, to make her dizzy and thus to help force some expression from her lips which might be construed into an admission of guilt. This cruel and heartless treatment has caused a strong feeling against the police, and most people share Miss Hutchinson's view that the whole proceeding was an outrage on decency and the rights of citizenship.

District Attorney Coatsworth said last night, to a reporter, that the girl was certainly no more implicated in the Burdick case than you are, or than I am, in a criminal way."

Charged With the Murder.

Speaking to a reporter of her experience, Miss Hutchinson characterized her treatment as a gross outrage.

"They accused me of the murder of Mr. Burdick," she said, "and a more absurd and unfounded charge was never made against any one. Why, while I was sitting in the private office of Superintendent Bull, I heard some one say over the telephone, 'Hold her, she killed him.' I heard other things, too; things intended, I suppose, to terrify me.

"Mr. Cusack openly declared that I had killed Mr. Burdick, and added, as if to encourage me and ease my mind, that I had been driven to it. Several of the eight or nine men in the room with me questioned me along many lines.

"They asked me if I had posed as a statue in a show on the Pan-American midway, referring, I have since learned, to a report contained in an anonymous letter. Of course, I never did. I never posed anywhere for anything.

"On the night Mr. Burdick was killed I was at home, I had supper there with my mother, sister and a woman who boards with us. I spent the evening in the house with the rest of the household, and some time after 11 o'clock went to bed. I was not out at all, and every one there will swear to it, as the police learned on inquiring.

Stories Had No Foundation.

"The stories told to the effect that I was very friendly with Mr. Burdick and that I went automobiling with him have no foundation in fact. I worked for him, and I knew him merely as an employe knows an employer. I regarded him as a man of the best of character, and have been greatly surprised at the allegations I have read.

"Why, they not only dragged me away like a criminal, but they put me in a cell for two hours with another woman, who no doubt was not a prisoner, but some one put there to draw something out of me. I was treated like an ordinary criminal, and yet no warrant had been served.

Must Have Redress.

"There must be redress for this, and if there is I shall have it. My turn is coming. I intend to bring suit against every one who had any part in this proceeding.

"My room was ransacked from top to bottom, clothing was thrown about, letters were opened and read, pictures taken down and some, for all I know, carried away. In part, the whole house was searched."

Miss Hutchinson and her sister Florence have been church and theatrical singers for several years and are well known here in musical circles. Miss Marion Hutchinson made quite a reputation in the summer of 1901 at the Pan-American Exposition. She sang several times in the Temple of Music, notably on Virginia Day, when she was the star soloist.

FATHER HAS NO FEAR.

Says His Daughter Marion Could Not Kill a Chicken.

London, Ont., March 9.—Miss Marion H. Hutchinson, who was held and released at Buffalo in connection with the murder of Edwin L. Burdick, is a daughter of Dr. T. V. Hutchinson, Medical Health Officer of this city.

She left London and went with her mother and two sisters to live in Buffalo about a year ago, owing to family difference, the mother and father agreeing to a separation.

She was a vocalist of marked ability and was for three years soloist in one of the leading churches in London, the First Presbyterian Church.

She is well educated with a taste for literature and painting and was decidedly clever.

She is a sister of Mrs. Dorothy Harvey, the famous soprano, who was heard here last season with Mr. Plunket Greene in the New Grand.

When the news of the young woman's arrest was broken to Dr. Hutchinson he was astounded.

"What! my girl, Marion, being implicated in that murder case?" he exclaimed. "Why, she couldn't kill a chicken. She can't even stand seeing the sight of blood oozing from a cut finger, and wouldn't step on a toad for fifty dollars, if she could help it.

"No, no," he continued, "I am not afraid of Marion being mixed up in a thing of that kind."

Dr. Hutchinson said he would either wire or telephone the chief of police at Buffalo and find out the meaning of the act there. He was very indignant that such a mistake could have occurred.

He may visit Buffalo as a result of the turn affairs have taken.

A STEAMER BURNED.

R. & O. Vessel Montreal Goes Up in Smoke at Montreal.

ONE DEAD AND MANY INJURED

Collapse of a Shed on the Wharf Under Weight of Spectators — Roof Comes Down on Crowd Underneath—Hospitals Taxed to Care For the Injured—Loss Half a Million Dollars.

Montreal, March 9.—The R. & O. Co.'s magnificent new steamer, Montreal, burned to the water's edge, at a loss of $400,000 to the Bertram Company, Toronto, with the certain loss of several lives, were the results of one of the greatest disasters by fire which has ever occurred in this city.

Between nine and ten Saturday evening flames leaping hundreds of feet from the nearly finished steamer called thousands of citizens from their homes to witness the burning ship. The new steamer Montreal was by far the largest and finest ever built in Canada, and although not quite completed, the contractors for the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co. had already expended four hundred thousand dollars on it. The upper saloon was the most magnificently decorated of any vessel ever built in Canada.

Although the fire department was early on the spot it soon became evident that the steamer was doomed. The president of the company, Hon. L. J. Forget, made a statement last night to the effect that the value of the boat was $350,000, covered by insurance, but as the boat had not been turned over to the company, the direct loss, if any, will fall upon the builders.

A later report issued shows that the Richelieu and Ontario Company had paid $325,000 to the Bertrams on account of the steamer, and had received against the insurance, policies amounting to £80,000. Mr. Bertram will be here to-day.

The Sheds Collapsed.

The loss of life, however, was in connection with a terrible fall of sheds near at hand. At the Allan wharf the shed frame remained up, but the iron sides and the roof had been removed for the winter.

People anxious for a good view of the great blazing steamer thronged the wharf, and hundreds climbed on the rafters. Suddenly there was an awful crack and the great structure collapsed. The heavy rafters crushed down upon the crowd below. Many jumped, or were forced over on the ice; others were crushed under the weight of the falling beams.

There was a momentary panic, and then the work of getting out the injured was rapidly proceeded with. Police patrol wagons, salvage wagons and cabs were hurriedly pressed into service to aid what the ambulances, and soon a hurried procession of carriages filled with wounded was wending its way to the hospitals, while people on foot aided in carrying torn and bleeding men and boys to taverns and other temporary places of refuge in the vicinity; hundreds who simply received cuts on hands and faces, but were able to get about had their injuries dressed as well as possible near the scene of the trouble, and were assisted to their homes. The hospitals all had their hands full, and several of the victims are so badly hurt that their lives are despaired of.

THE COMING SESSION.

To-morrow, March 10th, will witness the opening of the first session of the tenth Legislature of the Province of Ontario. The personnel of the new body will very largely differ from that of the preceding Legislature, the general elections having made many changes on both sides of the House. The formal opening of the Legislature, which will be performed as administrator, by Chief Justice Moss, the venerable Lieutenant Governor, Sir Oliver Mowat, being incapacitated by illness, will be preceded by the election of a Speaker, and it is understood that Mr. W. A. Charlton, M.P.P., for South Norfolk, will be honoured with that position. The present Legislature will be the largest, numerically, in the history of the province, consisting of ninety-eight members. After the election of Speaker, the Government will meet the House with a majority of seven, the same number the Liberal Government had at the opening of the ninth Parliament in 1898, but during the life of that Parliament the Government majority advanced to ten on a straight party division, though at times it advanced to eleven and on one division to thirteen.

The Speech from the Throne will probably be a deliverance of unusual interest. It is natural to expect that it will refer in a congratulatory way to several subjects — including, perhaps, the coronation of His Majesty, King Edward; to the Conference of Provincial Premiers at Ottawa; to the large increase of settlement of lands suitable for cultivation, and the considerable increase of immigrants from the Old Country; to the great progress in the mining industry and probably to the prosperity of the lumber trade. It is to be expected that reference will be made to the unusual prosperity which has attended the farming operations of the Province in all branches, and the advances that have been made in technical education and and manual training.

Among the Legislative subjects suggested will probably be found measures looking to meeting the increasing requirements of the insane, and dealing with the subject of Houses of Refuge. It will also be expected that some legislative action will be taken in the way of dealing further with the problem of the liquor traffic, which has occupied the public attention so largely during the past year, and that another subject, that of the development of electrical energy for the use of municipalities, will receive legislative attention.

There is reason to believe that the coming session will be a very important one, and that the programme which the Government will offer will embrace matters of much moment to the people of the Province, and will further contribute to the gratifying advances in all its interests that has been a feature of its recent history.

THE FAST STEAMERS

Minister States Government Requirements for Service.

NOT FEWER THAN 4 VESSELS.

An Interview With Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries—The Dominion, the Allan and the C. P. R. Lines Will Probably Tender—The Grand Trunk's Position.

Montreal, March 9. — Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, yesterday corroborated the report of Saturday that the Government was about to call for tenders for a fast Atlantic service. The chief feature of the specifications, which likely will be sent to the different steamship companies to-day, is that the tenderers are asked to state their own terms; in other words, to say what they can do and how much they would want should they get the contract. But few obligations are set down. There must be four steamers; the speed must be within 16 to 21 knots, inclusive; the steamers must call at a port in Ireland and a port in England, at Halifax and St. John in winter, and in summer at Quebec and Sydney or Rimouski. The vessels must be ready to begin by May 1, 1905, and, although the Government's first object is a fast mail service, provision must be made for passengers and freight. The Government is not bound in any way. One company may tender for two 16-knot and two 18-knot steamers, another company may tender for two 16-knot and two 21-knot steamers, while a third company may offer a 21-knot service all round. The Government will have to decide whether an 18-knot service for a stated sum is better than a 16-knot and a 21-knot service for a stated sum, or otherwise, as the case may be.

Probable Tenderers.

So far as can be learned here, the number of lines willing and capable of undertaking the service is confined to three—the Dominion, the Allan and the C. P. R.'s Elder-Dempster. The Dominion line is controlled by the Morgan combine; the other two presumably are free. The Leyland Line may possibly tender. The G. T.R. is silent. All but the C.P.R. face the question of freight supply in winter, because the C.P.R. and the Intercolonial are the only railways running into St. John. Mr. Prefontaine says that the Government should have no difficulty in making an arrangement whereby the Intercolonial could meet the requirements in this respect.

Mr. John Torrance of the Dominion and Leyland Lines says that the C. P. R., in the circumstances, is master of the situation. But should the G.T.R. get control of the Allan Line, the Dominion Line, or even one of the Redford Lines, the conditions would greatly change. As the Dominion and Leyland lines are controlled by the trust, the Allan and Redford Lines seem to be the only ones in sight just now.

Grand Trunk's Position.

All assertions to the contrary notwithstanding, there is no doubt that the G.T.R. officials are seriously considering the acquisition of a fleet of steamers, and the present move by the Government will serve as a stimulant. The tenders are called for June 1st, which allows almost three months for consideration. Two years are provided in which to build, if found necessary. With the Grand Trunk Pacific in sight, the feeling here is that the G.T.R. would gladly undertake to feed a fleet with freight over the Intercolonial in winter, over their own eastern branch to Quebec in summer, and at the same time provide a fast Atlantic service. Apart from the fast service altogether, well-posted shipping men say they will be at a distinct disadvantage lacking a steamship line. They themselves, however, say that in any event they can make satisfactory arrangements with the different shipping companies. It is said that one of the objects of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy's trip to England is to sound the British Government upon the question of a subsidy from that source for a fast service.

A Hamiltonian's Involuntary Bath.

Hamilton, March 9.—David McGrath of this city took a morning dip in the Welland Canal yesterday. He did not mean to. He was beating his way to Welland with a chum named William Monds, on a blind-baggage on the T., H. & B. train that leaves Hamilton at 10.45. As the train was slowing up to pull into Welland Station Dave got excited and jumped off before the steam was shut off the engine. He landed on the canal bridge all right, but stubbed his toe and plunged headlong into the ice-cold water. A freight train crew fished him out.

Killed at Paris.

Hamilton, March 9.—John Dore, a Grand Trunk conductor, was killed at Paris about 2 o'clock Saturday morning. He stepped off his train in front of a fast express, was hurled a great distance, and instantly killed. He lived at London since leaving here a few years ago.

Nineteen Men Drowned.

Glen's Falls, N. Y., March 9.—By the capsizing of a flatboat used as a ferry at Spier's Falls, nineteen men were drowned Saturday. According to one report, 60 men were on the boat.

British M.P. Dead.

London, March 9.—Henry Currie Leigh-Bennett, M.P., died Saturday at Windlesham, Surrey, following an operation for appendicitis. He was born in 1852.

TROUBLE IN HOLLAND.

General Strike Might Cause Interference by Kaiser.

The Hague, March 9.—The week passed without the proclamation of a general railway strike, but the danger is not yet over. There is little doubt that the strikers will be supported by the whole of the artisan class. The Government is preparing to increase the garrisons in the chief cities and has introduced a bill authorizing the employment of troops to work the railways.

A strike might, in certain contingencies, prove a high political importance, German traders cannot endure a suspension of the Dutch railways, over which much of their exports must pass, and, therefore, anything like general disorder or sporadic civil war in Holland might, it is pointed out, tempt the Kaiser to pation, which would probably set the great powers in action.

Wages of Lake Seamen Fixed.

Detroit, Mich., March 9.—The Wage Scale Committee of the Lumber Carriers' Association of the Lakes Saturday made a contract with the Lake Seamen's Union for the season of 1903. For look-outs, wheelmen and watchmen, the scale is the same as that adopted by the Lake Carriers' and Seamen, but for ordinary seamen the scale adopted is $25 per month before Oct. 1, and $35 after that date.

Want More Money.

Hamilton, March 9.—The iron moulders have decided to ask for an increase of pay on April 1, 10 per cent. on all piece work and $2.75 for day work.

Rioters Kill Policeman.

Waterbury, Conn., March 9. — Policeman Paul Mendlesohn is lying dead at police headquarters, having been shot to death while riding on a car on North Main street. The officer died while being attended by a physician in the police station. The motorman of the car was also injured by another bullet, and the conductor is missing.

THE FEAR OF HUMBUG

Prevents Many People From Trying a Good Medicine.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure, that most people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made of a preparation so reliable, and so universally used, as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines, for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine; no secret is made of their ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aseptic pepsin, the digestive acids, Golden Seal, Bismuth, Hydrastis and Nux. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles, because they act entirely on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison, as it creates gas, acidity, headaches, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh, and appetite and many other troubles, which are often called by some other name.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

Abbess Found Guilty.

Berlin, March 9.—A despatch from Munich announces that Elizabeth Von Haeusler, Lady Abbess of the Old Women's Asylum, who was on trial for attempting to poison a servant girl, has been sentenced to six years' detention in a penitentiary.

Princess to Marry Giron.

Brussels, March 9.—The friends of Andre Giron, the tutor who eloped with the Crown Princess of Saxony, deny the report that all relations between the pair have been broken off. On the contrary, it is asserted that they will be married in August.

B.C. Wants Representation.

Victoria, B. C., March 9.—At a mass meeting held here Saturday night, a resolution was passed asking the Dominion Government to give British Columbia representation on the British side of the Boundary Commission.

Scores of Uses.

While Dr. Chase's Ointment is best known on account of its wonderful control over eczema, salt rheum and piles, it is found to be in almost daily demand in many homes as a cure for chilblains, chafing, pimples, sunburn, burns, scalds, and each and every form of itching, irritated or inflamed skin. It is invaluable in every home and as a soothing and healing application knows no equal.

Mr. Herbert Cluston left last week for the United States.

We regret to state that Mr. Daniel Reid is seriously ill.

Mr. Amos Wright suffered a severe loss last week. His house and its entire contents were consumed.

We are pleased to see Mr. Maurice D. Hickey around again after his severe fall on the ice from off a load of bark.

Quite a number from here attended the basket social at Kinmount last week, and report having had a most enjoyable time. The auctioneer sold several baskets at a good figure and the purchasers claim that they got the worth of their money.

A great quantity of bark has been taken out of the wood to Kinmount, but it is feared that a great deal will have to be left in the woods owing to the sudden breaking up apparently of winter.

Miss Addie Collins left recently for Buffalo.

Mr. Patrick Sullivan had a lively time extinguishing a blaze which originated from a fire in his pipes. The damage to the house was small.

Those who attended the fish and oyster supper at Kinmount on Monday enjoyed a rare treat. The programme after the supper was a good one.

MISS JOHNSTON KILLED.

Fatal Runaway Took Place Near Belleville Saturday.

Belleville, March 9.—A runaway accident happened Saturday afternoon, close to the Village of Foxboro, which resulted in the death of one person and serious, possibly fatal, injury to another. John Lithgow of Chatterton, accompanied by his sister-in-law, Miss Johnston of this city, was driving home after a visit to Belleville. Mr. Lithgow's team was a spirited one. While trying to pass another rig on the road the two conveyances collided, frightening Lithgow's horses, which started to run away. After going a short distance, the wagon struck a bad piece of road, and both the occupants were thrown out. Miss Johnston had five ribs broken in her fall, the splintered ribs penetrating her heart. She died in twenty minutes. Mr. Lithgow was also badly hurt, and may die. Miss Johnston was a sister of School Inspector Johnston of this city. She was about fifty years of age.

CAPITAL $75,000,000.

Names of the New Grand Trunk Pacific Directorate.

Ottawa, March 9.—The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Bill for a railway across the continent has been prepared and is ready to be presented to Parliament. The capital stock of the company is placed at $75,000,000. The directors are George A. Cox, Senator, Toronto; William Gibson, Senator, Hamilton; John R. Booth, Ottawa; C. M. Hays, William Wainwright, and Frank Morse, now of the Grand Trunk, Montreal; and H. M. Pellatt and E. R. Wood, Toronto, and others. The details of the bill were pretty well set out in the notice applying to Parliament for incorporation.

HOLD-UP IN SOUTH AFRICA.

$25,000 Taken From Johannesburg Customs Officials—Manager Killed.

Johannesburg, March 9.—A desperate attempt at highway robbery in the centre of Johannesburg was made yesterday. A couple of men attacked two customs officers conveying $25,000 to the bank, and, throwing pepper in their eyes, secured the money bags, which they threw to a horseman, who galloped off. The horseman in his flight knocked down the manager of Peycke & Co., named Brandon, who was fatally injured and soon expired. Subsequently the horse bolted and unseated its rider, who was then arrested and the money recovered.

Took Rough on Rats.

St. Thomas, March 9. — Peter A. Ostrander, formerly of this city, committed suicide on Saturday at the residence of his mother-in-law, Mrs. W. Luton of Mapleton. He had been despondent, and while, it is thought, temporarily insane, took a dose of rough-on-rats about 9 a.m., and died at 7.30. No inquest will be held.

A Family Necessity.

Owing to artificial modern life, almost everybody suffers more or less from sonstipation, torpid liver and sluggish kidneys, and as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most prompt and thorough cure for this derangement, they have come to be considered a family necessity. Hosts of families would not think of being without them. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

A Wireless Company Formed.

ARREST OF A POSTMASTER.

J. A. Johnson, of Dalhousie, N.B., on Charge of Robbing Postoffice.

Ottawa, March 9.—Sensational development may spring from the poisoned chocolate case, which has of late been exciting much speculation in Rat Portage. The sweetmeats were received by George Chifferton, a miner from New Brunswick. Not caring much for candy himself, he partook very sparingly, and passed the box around among his mates. All who partook of the chocolates were taken ill, and the symptoms were those poisoning. Chifferton fell under suspicion, and search of his effects led to the discovery of letters from Dalhousie, N.B. These letters threw light on a robbery of $500 which occurred last August in the postoffice of the little New Brunswick seaside resort. On that occasion Lieut.-Col. Sherwood, Commissioner of Dominion Police, and Detective Chamberlain of the secret service, investigated the robbery, but although they were convinced that the thief must have been someone thoroughly familiar with the postoffice they were unable to bring the crime home. The correspondence found on Chifferton, however, seemed to point to the guilty party, and the arrest of J. A. Johnson, the Postmaster at Dalhousie, on suspicion of being implicated, was resolved upon. Saturday Col. Sherwood was advised that the arrest had been carried out. The letter which led to this unexpected turn of events were found by Inspector Greer, who handed them to Mr. John R. Cartwright, Deputy Attorney-General, by whom they were transferred to the Commissioner of Dominion Police.

THE POPE'S HEALTH.

But He Will Not Hold the Proposed March Consestory.

Rome, March 9.—The Pope is recovering his usual health. At dinner yesterday he appeared to have his usual appetite. He had a long conference with Cardinal Rampolla, the Papal Secretary of State, and Cardinal Respighi, Vicar General of the Pope. The Pope has decided to receive all pilgrims to-day. There have been many false alarms in regard to the Pope's health, often based on a slight cold or something similar, but now there has undoubtedly been more serious cause for alarm, though the wonderful old man seems again to be returning to his normal health, which is marvelously sound.

Rev. Robert Walker Dead.

Elora, March 9.—Rev. Robert Walker died at his residence here Saturday. He was born near Brockville, in the County of Leeds, June 10th, 1839, and entered the ministry of the Connexion Church in 1861. He was ordained in 1865, and has occupied the following charges: Durham, Melbourne, Barr, Omemee, Bethany, Tweed, Stirling, Newcastle, Clifford, Walkerton, Wiarton, Norwich and Hagersville.

All Over But the Shouting.

Beaverton, March 9.—Meetings in the extreme north and south ends of the riding to-night will bring the campaign to a close. Mr. Borden will be at Cannington and Hon. William Paterson and several other speakers at Bracebridge. Then the opposing forces will await the morrow and the judgment of the electors. The campaign has been very strenuously fought on both sides.

Body Found in Toronto Bay.

Toronto, March 9.—The badly decomposed body of a man about 35 years of age was found floating in the bay at the foot of Bathurst street about 11 o'clock Sunday morning by Harold Hamilton. From papers found in the pockets the police think it is the body of Geo. Hyland, who has been missing since the early part of November. Hyland was a painter.

An Ottawa Rumor.

Ottawa, March 9.—It is said that Hon. Clifford Sifton will be the Canadian agent on the Alaskan boundary tribunal. Hon. Edward Blake is expected here any day to assist in the preparation of the Canadian case. W. F. King, Dominion Astronomer, and Mr. Pownall of the Department of Justice are at work on the preliminaries.

May Prohibit Trout Fishing.

Toronto, March 9.—At the approaching session it is probable that the Fisheries Department will recommend legislation prohibiting for a further space of three years from July 1 the sale of maskinonge and speckled trout. The object is to permit the waters to become well stocked.

NEWSPAPERS TO BE PROTECTED.

Proposal to Change the English Law of Libel.

London, March 9.—A new libel act in connection with the press states in its preamble that the practice of instituting actions against proprietors, editors and publishers of newspapers under frivolous pretexts, with the object of levying blackmail, has become so common as to be an abuse of legal procedure and a grave injury to an honorable body of men. The operative clauses provide, first, that no action for alleged libel contained in a newspaper shall be commenced until the persons has convinced the Attorney-General or Solicitor-General that there are reasonable grounds for bringing it, and has received permission to do so; second, in the event that such application is unsuccessful, all costs and expenses incurred by the nominal defendant must be paid by the nominal plaintiff.

A Bottle Six Years on the Ocean.

Information from Port Elizabeth, South Africa, states that a bottle containing three meteorological papers has been taken from the sea at Cape Receiffe.

The bottle, it seems, was thrown from the ship Patriarch of Aberdeen on Sept. 29, 1896, in latitude 40 degrees 8 minutes south and longitude 72 degrees 48 minutes east, and the papers bear the signature of the captain (Mark Breach) of the vessel, which at the time was seventy-seven days out from Antwerp. It is conjectured from the nature of the Indian ocean currents that the bottle was carried east through Bass strait and around the Australian continent, thence by way of Torres strait into the tropics and westward across the Indian ocean until the current landed it at Cape Receiffe. Thus the distance covered was about 14,000 miles in 2,250 odd days.—Westminster Gazette.

SOMALILAND.

Some Difficulties That Beset Travelers in That Benighted Country—Queer Things by the Way.

The Somali camels contrasted with the Indian camels are very gentle. They seldom injure anyone. In moving about the camp at night one has often to pass among them as they kneel in rows, sometimes stepping over them or stooping under outstretched necks, but I have never had experience of a vicious camel in Somaliland. Even when undergoing firing operations they rarely bite, although the head is left free. This accommodating disposition is attributable greatly to the manner in which they are treated by the natives, who, though rather cruel to their ponies, never ill-use a camel. Many Somalis are utterly ignorant of loading, this work being done largely by the women, says a writer in The Brooklyn Eagle. The camel is everywhere in the land. He is the great means of transport and is given in payment for wives and in settlement of the incessant blood feuds which render peaceful village and town life almost unknown in the interior.

As the troops make their way inland curious native villages formed of little huts of bent sticks covered with camel mats, and protected all round with a fence of cut thorn trees laid side by side, will at first be common sights, and the fresh camel milk obtainable at these is very refreshing on the long marches. The men of Somaliland use a curious white clay found in various parts of the country to dab on their heads, which makes them look like black footmen with powdered wigs. The unmarried girls wear their hair fuzzy, and the married women theirs in a black net. The enormous anthills in the Haud is a notable feature on the landscapes.

The difficulties of the expedition will begin when it enters the bush country. The tall, light-skinned, handsome, lithe Somali chief with his spear and onyx-skin circular target is a curious contrast to the strong, dark Midgaan, with his bow and wooden quiver of little poisoned arrows, which are deadly enough to kill an elephant in three hours. The former is a great believer in charms and horoscopes, and generally wears an amulet in the form of a verse of the Koran strapped to his arm or neck. He loves a draught of the melted fat of a sheep's tail, and as long as he has plenty of "ghee," or clarified butter, with his rice and dates, he is happy. The latter is simply a barbarian and prefers meat more or less raw. The Somali ponies are wonderfully good and hardy little animals, but are very badly treated by their owners. They are much superior to the Arab for use in Somaliland, as they do well on the grass there and require no grain, which is unobtainable in the interior until you get very far inland.

Historic Last Words.

At my entrance, Caxton turned from a large tome which he was reading, with a slight air of interruption.

"Sorry to interrupt you," I apologized.

"Oh, I suppose that's all right," he responded with returning cordiality. "In fact, I'm rather glad you've happened in, as I want to voice a kick which has occurred to me from reading this book."

"Just what is your author?" I asked.

"Why, it's a collection of deathbed utterances made by some ingenious hack. He's patiently ferreted out all the last words of history. And I tell you the way they all affect me. All these final speeches are shot through with egotism. It is strange that when a man is about to step out into the infinite his thought should only be of himself and his own petty part in the world drama. Words from a deathbed have weight. It is a pity that all on record should be tainted with conceit. The pronoun of the first person infects all dying utterances.

"'We have this day kindled a fire,' says the dissenting martyrs. Nathan Hale irritates us with his 'I regret I have only one life.'

"'Roll up the map of Europe,' are Pitt's last, and the colossal conceit of them is not to be surpassed. It is strange that in the moment of supreme vision all sense of perspective should be lost. Why should all the swan songs of literature and history focus attention on the singer?"

Governor of Western Australia.

The London Star says that Admiral Sir Frederick Bedford, G.C.B., whom the King, in pursuance of the apparently settled policy of having military and naval Governors for the constituent colonies of the Commonwealth, has appointed to be Governor of Western Australia, entered the naval service in July, 1852, and as a youngster was present at several of the operations in the Black Sea and the Baltic during the war with Russia in 1854-5. As a commander he served in the Serapis, when it carried the King, when Prince of Wales, on his memorable visit to India. As Flag Captain on the Shah, on the Pacific station, he took that vessel into action with the Peruvian ironclad Huascar off Ylo in May, 1877. In 1884, when in command of the Monarch, he received the special thanks of the Admiralty for his efforts to organize the flotilla on the Nile for the relief of General Gordon. For the Benin expedition he received the K.C.B., and the Grand Cross of the Bath followed among the coronation honors.

The "St. Catharines Well."

In the "Garden City of Canada," eleven miles from Niagara Falls, is situated the historical "St. Catharines well." The water of this famous well is saline, and its prototype in Europe is the celebrated Kreutzmach Spring in Prussia, and are a great specific for such diseases as rheumatism, gout ,neuralgia, liver troubles, skin diseases and cases of nervous prostration, or as a tonic, pure and simple. "The Welland," re-modelled and enlarged, is the principal building in which these waters are used and most comfortable accommodation can be had there at reasonable rates. A PROTEST IS ENTERED.

Norwood Hockeyists Attempt to Disqualify Parnell.

Trent Valley Championship Still a Matter of Contention.

Quite a lot of excitement prevails in local sporting circles today over the action of the Norwood club in protesting the game played in Lindsay on Friday night, which resulted in the T.A.S. Club winning the championship of the Trent Valley League, and carrying off the Stratton Cup for the season of 1903.

The notice of the protest and the necessary deposit, were made by the Norwood club with Secretary Clarry, of the League, this morning. Copies of the affidavits are to follow this evening. It is alleged that Parnell, of the T.A.S. team, is a professional having received money for his services on the baseball diamond some years ago.

The executive will likely be called together on Wednesday evening to dispose of the matter. In the meantime the T.A.S. men are not becoming hysterical, and say they have no fear as to the outcome. Whilst the Examiner strongly condems anything in the line of professionalism creeping into the Trent Valley League, it is to be regretted that a protest should have been entered at this late date, in view of the fact that Parnell has played the entire season through without any action being taken to disqualify him. If Parnell is a professional he should not be allowed to play, but it has yet to be proven that such is the case and why Norwood should wait until the dying hours of the season to purge the league of alleged professionalism cannot be understood.

Parnell declares that he is not a professional and that he can easily prove his amateur standing.

Mr. John F. Anderson, Secretary of the Norwood Club, and Mr. Russell Pearce, captain of the Norwood team, are in town to-day in connection with the matter.

MORE ACREAGE.

Condition of the Fall Wheat in This District

The Toronto Globe to-day contains a number of despatches from various parts of the Province concerning the fall wheat. The Globe's Peterborough correspondent wires: — "Inquiry from the local grain merchants and millers regarding the condition of the fall wheat in the Peterborough district does not bear out the statements made in some quarters that it has come through the winter somewhat badly. The opinion is that the crop in this vicinity at least will come through satisfactorily. There is about ten per cent. more acreage of fall wheat in the Peterborough district than last year, and its true condition cannot be ascertained for a week or more, as there is a considerable amount of snow still on the ground. There have been no reports of injury to crop by frost up to the present time."

DID JOHN WOOD MEET FOUL PLAY?

Found Dead at Harrison's Corner This Morning.

He was in Peterborough on Saturday—County Constable Cochrane Making an Investigation.

High County Constable Cochrane, about noon to-day, started to Westwood to investigate the circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. John Wood, who was found dead at Harrison's Corners, on the boundry line between the Township of Asphodel and Otonabee, this morning.

The deceased was the son of Mr. James Wood, a prominent and highly respected farmer of Otonabee. He was 35 years of age and the last reported to have been seen of him alive was on Saturday last in Peterborough. This morning he was found dead, by some school children, on the road side at Harrison's Corners. He was lying face downward with his hat and coat off, and he had, from all appearances, been dead for some time. There were no marks of violence upon his body and the cause of his death has aroused much excitement throughout the neighbourhood. The village constable of Westwood, Mr. W. J. McClelland, was at once notified and he immediately communicated with Dr. Gray, coroner of Peterborough. Coroner Gray then despatched High County Constable Cochrane to make an investigation and an inquest will undoubtedly be held to-morrow.

The remains have been removed to the residence of the deceased's father.

The unfortunate man, as before stated, was in Peterborough on Saturday, and there was found in his pocket this morning a G.T.R. ticket to Bridsall, the nearest station to his home. However it is thought that he missed his train and proceeded to walk. He had gone out of his way to a considerable extent, but for what reason will perhaps never be known.

The late Mr. Wood was well known throughout the neighbourhood and every effort will be made by the atuborities to clear up the mystery surrounding his death.

LEAVING TOWN.

Mr. C. H. Bradburn Intends Going West To-morrow.

The many friends in Peterborough of Mr. C. H. Bradburn, son of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, and a member of the firm of Messrs. Hatton & Bradburn, will regret to hear that he is leaving Peterborough, having decided to take up the practice of his profession in the Northwest Territories. Mr. Bradburn will leave to-morrow morning. It is understood that he intends locating in the vicinity of Battleford. Mr. Bradburn was secretary of the Peterborough Golf Club, a lieutenant in the 57th Regiment, and has a host of friends, who will wish him success in the west.

THE TEMPLE BOUGHT.

Senator Cox Comes to the Rescue of Burdened St. James'.

Senator Geo. A. Cox in his personal interest on Saturday concluded arrangements for the purchase of the Temple building, situated in St. James street, next to the Canada Life building, Montreal.

The building was owned by the trustees of St. James' Methodist church and was heavily mortgaged by the Standard Assurance Co. Had it not been for the action of Senator Cox the sale of the building would have been forced by the Standard Assurance after May, or taken in by them at a very low figure. By the action of Senator Cox the trustees get a good figure for the building, and will be able to use it in relieving the debt on the new St. James' Methodist church. While the building and site is assessed at $350,000, the price paid was a little over $225,000.

ANCHOR ICE.

How the City of Ottawa is Troubled With It.

Peterborough is not the only city that is troubled with anchor ice, which last winter resulted several nights in the town being left in darkness. The Ottawa Citizen says:

"The City Council is endeavouring to have the Federal Government induce the owners of water power at the Chaudiere to get together and come to some arrangement by which the power will be conserved. Incidentally such a scheme if entered upon, as it will have to be in the near future, will provide for the doing away with the anchor ice trouble by the construction of a system of dams, to obliterate the rapids. To provide an auxiliary steam plant to protect the city against stoppage of its water power by low water or anchor ice, the city is proposing to spend some $75,000. If the water power owners get together and co-operate on a scheme to do away with the low water and anchor ice difficulty this expenditure will be rendered unnecessary. Would it not be well for the city to go slowly in the matter of contracting for a steam auxiliary plant until the outcome of the proposed conference is known, as the removal of the difficulties would render the auxiliary plant a superfluity?"

On Tuesday, March 10th, Richard Hall & Son will make a special display of new Spring Tailor-made Suits, Separate Skirts, Waterproof Coats and New Spring Jackets. You are invited to call and inspect the new spring styles, as shown by this firm. 3d

LIGHT IN THE DARKNESS.

The Electricity Failed but the Ministers Concluded the Services.

In All Saints', Charlotte street Methodist and St. Andrew's churches, there was a failure of the electric light during the latter part of the services. It was about 8.15 p.m., and the services in these churches were drawing to a close, when in a second the lights went out, and the services had to be conducted in darkness. It transpires that something went wrong with some of the wires, but that they are now once more in proper working order.

A GROCERY STORE

To be Added to Mr. Dutton's Present Establishment.

The shop on the north side has been leased, and is already being fitted up with new shelving, counters, fron and windows, for the purpose of serving as a grocery store. The addition will be connected with the present establishment [illegible] ay, and is expected to be [illegible] ready for occupation by the first of May next.

In the past Mr. Dutton has done a most satisfactory business, and the public may be assured that when his grocery establishment is added he will be none the less satisfactory and obliging.

MEETING OF CHEESEMAKERS' ASSOCIATION

Was Held in Town on Saturday Afternoon.

COOL CURING OF CHEESE.

An Interesting and Instructive Address

Given by Mr J. A. Ruddick of the Dairy School, Ottawa—The Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the Cheesemakers' Association, Peterborough District, was held on Saturday afternoon, at two o'clock, in the Town Council Chamber, a large number of the members being present. The object of the meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year, and also for the discussion of the method of cool curing of cheese.

The election of officers for the year resulted in the re-election of the old officers.

After some discussion on the ordinary methods of curing cheese, the President, Mr. J. Ryan, called upon Mr. J. A. Ruddick, Chief of the Dairy Division, Ottawa, to give an address on "The Cool Curing of Cheese." Mr. Ruddick prefaced his remarks by saying that the present association was the first body to organise, and that he personally believed that the association would continue to do the good work it had always accomplished in the past. The lecturer said he was present to expound the good qualities of the cool method of curing cheese, which in his opinion was far superior to the methods of curing cheese as practised in the factories throughout the province. In New Zealand cheese is made all the year round, and when the price is Canada is high New Zealand cheese is largely imported. Canada ought not to let her cheese market be supplied with imported cheese, and the cool curing of cheese if generally adopted would greatly remedy this. As subsequent remarks would show, experiments were set on foot in 1899, on this new method of curing cheese, but progress was anything but rapid. At last the benefits to be derived from curing cheese by the new method, are being more widely known and many factories are introducing this system in place of their previous method. In the new factories there is an ice chamber attached to the curing room, and from this room cool air is generated through the curing-room, and to make the temperature of the room more constant the floor is four or five feet below the level of the ground. One great feature of this method is that shrinkage is greatly diminished, thus adding to the value of the cheese. He gave figures showing the difference in shrinkage in cheese cured at a cool constant temperature and also the shrinkage of a cheese cured in an uncontrolled heat.

In the new method it is not only the shrinkage saved, but it is also the quality of the cheese made. The cheese cured by the cool temperature method has a better flavour than other cheese and when more widely known will be specially asked for, and will be insisted upon by customers. In a new factory, owing to the freshness of and the sap contained in the lumber, a considerable amount of mold comes upon the fresh cheese, as is only natural. A novel and satisfactory method for the prevention of the mold settling on the cheese has been put into practice. The cheese is dipped into molten parafine wax which keeps it intact from ravages of any description and also keeps it in a fresh, juicy condition, besides lessening the shrinkage which would take place through exposure. This method of curing cheese at a constant cool temperature has been severely tried and has always proved superior to the former method in every respect, and it was his (Mr. Ruddick's) sincere hope that the members of the Cheesemakers' Association would encourage the new method by its installation in local factories when ever possible.

There was moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Ruddick for his interesting and instructive address and also for his kindness in attending the meeting, after which the meeting adjourned.

TROOPER BRACE'S ADDRESS.

Local Opera House Crowded Yesterday Afternoon.

Service Conducted Under Auspices of Y. M. C. A.—Further Services to be Held.

The popularity and also the appreciation of the addresses of Trooper Brace, C.M.R., was shown by the large number of men who filled the local Opera House yesterday afternoon. This is the third time Peterborough has been honoured by this hero of Hart's River, who appeared and gave an address in this town on the occasion of the recent Y.M.C.A. Convention. Trooper Brace's addresses throughout the Province have been received with enthusiasm as they well deserved. The subject on which the gallant trooper spoke was "A Manly Man," and prefaced his remarks by saying that he hoped this would not be his last visit to Peterborough. During the course of his remarks, the soldier chaplain said that Christianity benefited a man, it made him stronger both in mind and body, and more fit to fight the battles of life. A good soldier was one who was obedient, courageous and determined, and on the veldt it was only a manly man who could get through the starvation and every day hardship. The men who took fever first, the men who suffered mostly from hardship were the men who drank; it was the whisky and not the bullet in that parching climate that filled many a grave with still another trooper. Every day there are battles to be fought and all must be prepared to fight them, and with this end in view, it behooves everyone to trust in the strength of God which never faileth. There is no model on earth that may be imitated, but the model to be imitated is a Heavenly one. He is the Christ who died that we might be saved. To succeed in earthly and finally, spiritual things, we must be manly, and in being manly we must be genuine and earnest, and we must trust in a strength stronger than our own, the strength of Christ. In the same way as we can enlist for a soldier of the King we can also enlist as a soldier of the King of Kings, but for the services of one or both we must be manly men.

After some devotional singing the meeting broke up.

The Y.M.C.A. will conduct a series of these services for men every Sunday afternoon during March, in Bradburn's Opera House.

CHURCH SERVICES YESTERDAY

Lenten Services in All Saints' Well Attended.

The Music at George Street—Rev. J. Bastow to Speak at St. Luke's.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

At St. Andrew's church yesterday the Rev. J. G. Potter officiated at both services, and was assisted in the evening service by Mr. S. S. Bain, an Elder of Crescent street Church, Montreal. Mr. Bain gave a very practical and pointed evangelistic address, which was much appreciated. In the morning the choir sang "I Will Extol Thee," and in the evening a quartette composed of Messrs. Edwards, Sollitt, Gillespie and Jackson, sang "Abide With Me," with excellent effect. After the sermon Miss Florence Miller sang, very distinctly and earnestly, "Almost Persuaded."

ALL SAINT'S CHURCH.

The Lenten services in All Saint's are being well attended. Yesterday there were two large congregations. In the morning Rev. W. L. Armitage spoke on the second temptation of our Lord, "The Pinnacle of the Temple," and in the evening gave the first of a serier of sermons on "The Prodigal"—"Leaving Home." This series will evidently prove interesting from the splendid and helpful effort of last night. The Lenten services this week will be on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday at 4.15 p.m. and on Thursday at eight o'clock, when the Rev. A. J. Reid, of Campbellford will preach.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

The special services will be continued this week. To-morrow evening Rev. J. Bastow will give an address. On Wednesday evening Rev. G. Warren, of Lakefield will give the address. Last night Rev. E. A. Langfeldt continued his series of sermons to young people. The subject was "Habit;" a large congregation being present. The choir sang an anthem, "Now the Day is Over," Miss Edith Burnham taking the solo.

MURRAY STREET BAPTIST.

Rev. J. Bastow occupied the pulpit at both services yesterday. In the morning he took for his text "Assurances," and in the evening he spoke on "Confessing Christ and its Reward." The ordinance of baptism was administered to five candidates at the evening service.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST.

The music at George street church yesterday at both services was of a very pleasing character. The morning anthem was "Conquering Kings Their Titles Take," and during collection the choir sang the selection "Prayer is the Soul's Sincere Desire." In the evening the anthems "While The Days are Going By," with soprano solo by Miss Bertha Parnell, "Abide With Me," with solo passages by Miss Mabel Metheral and Miss Irene Gray, were pleasingly given. During the offertory the solo and chorus "No Not One," was sung in good voice by Mr. Doidge and the choir.

LATEST IN SPORTING CIRCLES

The Athletics to Organize This Evening.

Effort to Organize a Baseball League—Markham Ladies Play To-morrow Night.

HOCKEY.

THE LADIES' MATCH.

The long promised match between the Peterborough ladies and any opponents who would visit this town, has been arranged and the ladies of Markham are coming to play the local feminine hockeyists to-morrow night. The game will take place in the Brock street rink at 8.15 o'clock. A large number of people is expected to turn out to see the game. The names of the Peterborough ladies who will play have not as yet been given out.

AN EXCITING MATCH.

A very evenly, well contested and exciting match was played on Saturday night in the Brock street rink, before a large and enthusiastic audience. The match was between teams from the Auburn Mills and the the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co., ended in a tie, the score being nil, in spite of 25 minutes extra time being allowed. The match was to have been played for one hour, but as has already been explained, another 25 minutes was added, to no avail. The teams were constituted as follows: W. Hamilton Co. — VanEvery, goal; Ed. Graham, point; H. Dunsford, cover point; T. McGrath, rover; "Snapper" Kennedy, W. Coll, Charlie Pennick, forwards.

Auburn Mills — Dinette, goal; E. Belleghem, point; B. Brumble, cover point; Joe Dingle, rover; H. Long, M. Shaw and Tougas, forwards.

It might be mentioned that the goal-keepers on both sides were kept on the alert and did some excellent work. Three men were sent to the boards for three and two minutes—Bert Brumble being sent twice and Kennedy once.

The timekeepers were Messrs. S. F. Browne and A. Bogue, while Ed. Dillon officiated as referee..

LINDSAY'S VIEW.

The Lindsay Post has the following to say concerning Friday night's game in that town:

It was anybody's game all through, and all we can say is that T.A.S. won on their merits. They appeared to be in a little better shape for the battle than their opponents. It was a hard fought game and one of the best that has been played on Lindsay ice for a long time. Both sides were given square treatment at the hands of Referee Schooley. Although the eastern septette went down to defeat they fully demonstrated that they are a clever lot of hockeyists. They have a well-balanced team, and play a pretty game.

This is the first season for T.A.S. in the Trent Valley League, and they are to be congratulated on landing the championship. They have put good hockey all winter, and have only been defeated twice, which is a splendid record for a new team. The Peterborough seven are great stick-handlers and hard checkers. They have a grand defence in Crowley, McCoy and Meagher, and it was with the greatest difficulty the Norwood men were able to get the puck past them; when they did the rubber frequently went wide of the mark. The T.A.S. forwards showed up to great advantage and displayed some very pretty combination.

JIM McCABE, REFEREE.

Mr. James T. McCabe refereed the game in Port Hope on Friday night between the Maple Leafs and Frontenacs - Beechgroves. The Toronto Star has the following to say concerning Mr. McCabe:

Referee McCabe gave the following interview to the Star after the game: "It was one of the best struggles I have seen this season. It was also one of the gamiest and cleanest struggles I ever witnessed. The Kingston team lost through the physical collapse of their forwards in the the last five minutes of the extra time. The Toronto team had the greater endurance. This is the fourth match in which I have officiated with the Kingston team as contestants, and I never saw them play such fine hockey before. I don't think there were ever two junior goal keepers the equal of Macdonnell and Geroux. Their work was simply marvellous."

* * * *

The Peterborough Hockey team will not play their return game in Port Hope to-night on account of there being no ice.

* * * *

The "Punchers" of the C.G.E. Co., wish to meet the Quakers in a friendly game of hockey at any convenient time.

* * * *

In the Saturday Globe is an excellent photogravure of the officers of the Ontario Hockey Association for the season 1902-3. Among the officers may be seen a life-like picture of Mr. W. A. Buchanan, the Secretary, who is an old Peterborough boy, and was formerly on the reportorial staff of the Review.

CRICKET.

The winter is rapidly turning to spring, and it is time that a meeting should be held for the purpose of organizing a cricket club in this town. When Peterborough was only a village the only game played was cricket—lacrosse and baseball were games seldom heard of here and never seen. Later on the cricket team was of a very fine class, matches being played with prominent clubs from Montreal, Toronto and other cities of like size and importance, but since someone started the craze of running for bases, or a ball or two on the local golf links, the ancient game of this town has been allowed to die an unnatural death.

It is a known fact that many of Peterborough's leading men, especially in the medical profession, are enthusiastic cricketers, and an exceedingly good team ought to be raised. It is to be hoped that the matter will be given some thought, and that there will soon be a meeting held for the purpose of organising a club which will be a credit to the town.

LACROSSE.

The postponed meeting of the Athletic Lacrosse Club, will take place this evening at the Y.M.C.A. at 8.30 o'clock. All members and those interested in the game are urgently requested to be present, as matters of importance will be discussed among which will come up the question as to whether the Club ter C.L.A. or the new Trent Valley League.

* * * *

A meeting of all those interested in lacrosse in connection with St. Peter's T.A.S. are asked to attend a meeting in the T.A.S. rooms this evening, when the prospects for the coming season will be discussed, and officers elected.

PLAYERS LEAVING.

Port Hope is to lose two of her lacrosse and hockey stars. Masterson is going back to Montreal to work, although he has a splendid situation here, says a Port Hope despatch, and Bob Brown is going to St. Paul, Minn., the reported destination of "Bonos" Allen of Cornwall, Rossh may also move out of town before the lacrosse season is here.

* * * *

(Port Hope Guide)

There was a large crowd present at the lacrosse organization meeting in the Town Hall, Thursday evening, showing that the enthusiasm in Port Hope for Canada's national game is still alive.

Mr. F. L. Curtis occupied the chair and gave a brief review of last year's work, showing the club to be in a good state financially and otherwise.

The following officers were elected:

Patrons—Messrs. J. H. Helm, R. J. Hemmick, C. Stewart, H. T. Rush, E. M. Thurbor and J. E. Nicholson.
Hon. President—Dr. L. B. Powers.
Hon. Vice-President—H. A. Ward.
President—G. H. Ralston.
Vice-President—H. C. Robinson.
Secretary—Geo. N. Giddy.
Treasurer—Thos. Tuer.
Manager—F. L. Curtis.

If the "Ontario Lacrosse Club" does not prosper this year it will not be the fault of the officers elected. There is splendid selection of Honourary members and Mr. Ralson, who has always given the team his earnest support, will certainly do justice to the office of President.

Mr. Hilliard C. Robinson is a new man in the field, but no doubt will make an able officer. Mr. G. N. Giddy was given the very important office of Secretary, but in hockey George proved to be quite capable of the position. Mr. Thos. Tuer will look after the "long greens" and it will not be his fault if there is not a good balance on hand at the end of the season.

The lacrosse team has in years past been without the services of a Manager, but it was thought advisable to have one for this season. Mr. D. N. Hoey, Mr. J. H. Rossvear and Mr. F. L. Curtis, were chosen but the first two withdrew in favour of Mr. Curtis. Mr. Curtis has been one of the best supporters of sport in this town and all we can say is that the right man is in the right place.

BASEBALL.

A movement is on foot for the formation of an excellent amateur baseball league, composed of local clubs, for the ensuing year. It is understood that the superintendent of the Cereal Works sounded the keynote by offering his employees a set of uniforms for the season. It is altogether likely that the superintendent of the Canadian Cordage Co. will do likewise. The Wm. Hamilton Co. have already ordered their uniforms and will be in line. The Canadian General Electric Co. is always in line and will be well to the front this season. The Auburn team and the Excelsiors will also be to the fore. The first team players will be well divided. Grady, Derocher, Whitcroft, will be with the Canadian General; Connors, Sheridan and Houlihan will be with the Wm. Hamilton's; Parnell, McCorry and Renton will be with the Auburns; and in that way will even up matters. A meeting will be held in the near future to complete arrangements for the formation of the League. It is understood that the Turf Club intend putting the Driving Park in first class condition for baseball. All interested in the formation of a baseball league should call upon, or write to, the sporting editor of the Examiner.

FOOTBALL.

The Y.M.C.A. members are asked to meet next Friday night at 8 o'clock at the building to organize a strong football club in view of the proposed league to be known as the Eastern Football Association. There will be no gymnasium class on this date as the Y.W.C.A. will be conducting their closing exercises in the gymnasium. The football meeting should be well attended as a strong team must necessarily be put in the field.

THE EVENING OF LIFE

Declining years—the time when one is on the other side of the hill, call for constant care in the matter of nutrition. Life then depends so much on the body's power to repair loss and waste. This power grows less and less. The ability to shake off local disorders and to draw heavily on the body's reserve force are privileges that youth alone can claim.

With age comes slow movement, slower operation of the whole body's forces. Trifles become burdens and we live in the past. Ordinary food no longer nourishes. Poor teeth, perhaps, and improper mastication give the stomach work that it is not supposed to do—the digestion is taxed and even injured when it should be troubled least.

Many elderly persons get strength and nourishment from Scott's Emulsion It slips into the blood so quickly that the stomach is not aware of its presence. Not only does Scott's Emulsion furnish nourishment itself, but it helps to digest other food. It aids in the proper distribution of food benefits—simplifies the stomach's work.

Moreover, the lime and soda contained in Scott's Emulsion in the form of hypophosphites nourish the bones and reduce the acid in the blood which feeds rheumatism.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto * * The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

DIZZY'S FASCINATION

Had a Weird Appearance and Much Charm of Manner.

In some graphic reminiscences in the Magazine of Art, of Lord Beaconsfield. Lord Ranald Sutherland Gower says that his parents regarded Dizzy as little better, if better, than an adventurer. "It was only after I had become a member of Parliament," he continues, "that I had opportunities of meeting that extraordinary being

"I was fascinated by his weird appearance and still more by the charm of his address, and not a little by the dramatic element hovering over that inscrutable pale face, with its frame of ebony curls."

"One was never tired of watching him as, half-seated, half-reclining on the Treasury Bench, with head thrown back and legs crossed, he would suddenly lean forward, as if propelled by a hidden spring, when a member brushed past, and with a rapid movement rearranged the curls at the back of his head; or when he rose to leave the House straighten himself, and seem literally to pull himself together, with head and shoulders thrown back; or when apparently bored to death during some tedious debate, and interminable speech, he eyed the clock over the gallery through his eyeglass; and would throw himself back with a groan and close his eyes and feign sleep."

HOUSEY'S RAPIDS IS IN LINE.

George C. Charles Tells What Dodd's Kidney Pills did for Him.

Took Him From his Bed, Made Him a Well Man Able and Willing to do a Fair Day's Work.

Housey's Rapids, Ont., Mar. 8. — Special.—As every city, town and village in Canada seems to be giving its evidence as to the wonderful cures resulting from Dodd's Kidney Pills, there is no reason Housey's Rapids should not be in line. People here have Kidney troubles just the same as elsewhere, and like other they have used Dodd's Kidney Pills and been cured.

One of the most remarkable cures was that of Geo. C. Chalker. He says: "I am cured of my Kidney Complaint. I have no doubt about it in the least. I weigh ten pounds more than I did fourteen months ago, can do a fair day's work every day and I am clear of my old enemy, lame back, heavy aching arms, dull bloated eyes,—yes, it is all gone, purged out by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"No one can realize the relief except those who have been through it all. I was so bad I could not work hard, but was compelled to make a living. My head felt so bad that my eyes would seem to float. I felt tired all the time, my arms felt useless at times and so very heavy. At last I was laid up and could do no work.

"Then I was induced to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and you see the result. It only took six boxes to cure me completely."

And Mr. Chalker is only one of many in this neighbourhood who charge their good health up to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Bells Rung by Women.

St. Andrew's Church, at Bradfield, Berkshire, is the only church in England where the bells are rung by women instead of men. The reason why women have been engaged for this task is very simple. About eighteen months ago there was a great dearth of men and boys in the district owing to the scarcity of labor, and the vicar, being unable to obtain the requisite number of men to ring the bells, asked the ladies of the congregation to undertake the duty. The appeal was instantly and heartly responded to, and six young women have rung the bells of this pretty little church regularly and punctually for nearly eighteen months It is certainly heavy and trying but the fair bell-ringers have become quite enthusiastic in the work and do it excellently.

BY SIMPLY KNOWING

LIFE MAY BE SAVED IN MANY CASES OF ACCIDENT.

First Aid in Such Events—Just What to Do While Awaiting the Doctor's Coming—To Check a Flow of Blood—Handaging of Limbs—The Sufferer From a Fit—Treatment of Dog Bite.

In the case of an ordinary accident what is the most effective aid which can be rendered by an ordinary person with ordinary appliances?

The question cannot be too often repeated. The judgment of non professional persons in such matters is likely to be unscientific, and popular advice is more or less misleading. In the army and navy and on our railroads men are regularly educated to make the best in emergencies of the appliances at hand.

With our railroads and car lines and the machinery so plentiful everywhere, accidents of one sort and another are common. The most alarming cases to the layman in such matters—certainly those which arouse most concern—are those causing a flow of blood. The sight of blood is of itself ghastly, and the flow, if profuse, is likely to cause death in a few minutes. Mishaps which cause loss of blood are more likely to occur than any other class of accident.

The general advice for such emergencies to stop the bleeding is familiar. There are two ways of checking the flow of blood—by direct pressure of finger or thumb on the open vein or artery or by means of a pad and a firm bandage over the entire wound.

The treatment depends upon the location of the injury and its seriousness. In bandaging a limb the pressure should, of course, be applied at a point between the heart and the wound. The simplest plan is usually to place a snugly applied bandage between the points.

If the wound, for example, be in the hand the constriction should be applied at the wrist or somewhere around the arm above the elbow. The philosophy of such treatment is very simple. The heart pumps the blood, and the pressure merely shuts off the current.

To restore a fainting person first lay the body in an easy position on the back and loosen all the clothing about the neck, chest and waist. Give him plenty of air and keep him as quiet as possible. The practice of dashing cold water in the face is an excellent one, as it tends to excite respiration. The same effect is sometimes produced by gently slapping the front of the chest, or by applying smelling salts to the nose. If more treatment is required the physician is the only one who can safely apply it.

A similar treatment should be followed in the case of one suffering from a fit. It is a mistake to chafe the hands of the unconscious victim. The custom of forcing salt down an epileptic's throat is a mistaken kindness.

The best thing to do is to make him as easy and comfortable as possible and leave him to work out his fit alone. An epileptic, notwithstanding his apparent suffering, is always unconscious during the attack. The natural sleep which follows is the best possible restorative.

The best treatment for a dog bite is to control the circulation in the affected part. It is quite safe, for example, to suck the wound if it be done immediately. The more freely the wound bleeds, if there be any poison in it, the better. The Indians, when bitten by snakes, it will be remembered, plunge the affected part in running water to make it bleed as freely as possible.

The wound should be cauterized, but until this can be done by an expert hand it is well to make every effort to cleanse it.

The bite of a rattlesnake, which is the most venomous we are likely to receive in this latitude, should be treated in a similar way. First get rid of the poison if possible. It is well to place a ligature about the arm or leg, above the bite, until the latter can be cauterized.

The stings of bees, hornets and similar insects are scarcely serious enough to call for more than passing attention. At worst the pain is likely to pass off in a few minutes The old fashioned plan of applying a poultice of mud to the wound is evidently based on the indications to exclude air and cool the part.

A light wash of ammonia or soda will give almost immediate relief.

To the Fallen Brave.

The monument in the form of a Celtic cross erected on the hill at Magersfontein overlooking the spot where the Highland Brigade, under

HIGHLAND BRIGADE MONUMENT.

General Wauchope, was decimated by the Boer riflemen, who, concealed in shelter pits and behind rocks, shot down the Highlanders entangled among barbed wire and unable to force their way through it.

The Friend Could Wait.

A certain Scotch laird recently invited an English friend to stay with him for some fishing. One day the Englishman, who was a novice at the sport, hooked a fine salmon, and in his excitement slipped and fell into the river. The keeper seeing that he was no swimmer, hooked on to him with the gaff, and was about to drag him ashore, when the laird called out: "What are ye aboot, Donal. Get haud o' the rod and look after the fush. Ma friend can bide a wee, but the fush winna."

INVASION OF CANADA.

An Interesting Paper Read Before the Colonial Institute.

In his paper, "The Canadian West and Northwest," which was read recently at the meeting of the Royal Colonial Institute, London, Mr. W. Albert Hickman said he did not believe that the American invasion involved the slightest danger to British interests. He had the pleasure of going north in the Saskatchewan country with a special train containing 166 American capitalists to buy Canadian land The train was placarded "Special Train of the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company," which company bought no less than one million acres of land. He had studied the invading army carefully and it impressed him that the majority of them appreciated British institutions, and became good Canadian citizens with great rapidity. He looked upon this investment of many millions of American money in Canadian lands as but the forging of one more chain in the already existing informal alliance—the Anglo-American confederation. Figures led him to the inference that in 15 years the United States would not be exporting one bushel of wheat. All would be required for home consumption, and her wheat lands would all be under cultivation. The United Kingdom might then look to getting her wheat supply from the Canadian plains—and much of her supply of meat and dairy produce also. Some of them who were in that room would eat bread made from flour of wheat grown in the valley of the Peace River as sure as day was day. Last year the Hudson Bay Company sent a $10,000 roller flour mill into Fort Vermillion on the Peace River, and for all he knew some of them might have eaten bread from there already Problem of Immunity.

Prof. J. J. McKenzie of the University of Toronto lectured at the Canadian Institute on Saturday night on "Recent theories in regard to the causes of immunity to infectious disease." He sketched the history of our knowledge of immunity and said Ehrlich's observations have shown that the conditions which determine the death of a microbe introduced into the blood depend upon the presence of two substances, the first of which is specific and acts only upon the specific microbe, the other of which is common to the blood of most animals. The practical endeavor of bacteriologists has been not only to increase the amount of specific substances which has proved fairly easy but also to increase the amount of the non-specific substance which so far has proved difficult. These observations have shown also that the question of immunity is of much broader bearing than the mere question of prevention or cure of infectious disease, because it is evident from the results so far obtained that it has a bearing upon the whole question of the nutrition of the animal body.

Handy Clothespin Bag.

A clothespin bag made this way becomes a primal necessity after using one a few times. A good material is the common blue and white ticking. Make it of quite good size, plenty large enough to get the hand full of pins out without crowding, and run a piece of galvanized wire through the hem at the top, twisting the ends together. Have another piece of wire about a foot long bent like a potbook at either end (S). Hook the upper curve over the line ready to take the pins out or drop them in as fast as needed.

YOU CAN TEST THE KIDNEYS

And Find out for Yourself Whether or not you are Becoming a Victim of Painful, Fatal Kidney Disease.

It is not necessary for you to consult a specialist on kidney disease to find out if you are a victim of this dreadful derangement. You can test your kidneys at home, and satisfy yourself on this point.

Allow some urine to stand in a glass for twenty-four hours, and if at the end of that time you find sediment in the bottom of the vessel you can be sure that your kidneys are diseased.

Pains in the small of the back, and smarting when urinating, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, loss of flesh and strength, are other marked symptoms which indicate kidney disorders. Make this test for yourself. Consider whether you have any of these symptoms, and if you conclude that your kidneys are out of order begin at once to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They will bring prompt relief and will thoroughly cure you.

On account of their direct action on the kidneys Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure ailments of the kidneys when ordinary kidney medicines fail. They have proven their efficacy in many thousands of cases, and are endorsed by more people than any other kidney medicine extant.

Mr. C. Noyes, for many years section foreman and now flagman for the G.T.R. at Peterborough, Ont., states:—"For twenty-one years I was section foreman on the G.T.R. and was exposed to all sorts of weather. As a result my kidneys became affected and there was scarcely a day that I was not troubled more or less. At times I would have sharp shooting pains through my back and would get so used up that I felt like giving up work.

"During this time I was also a great sufferer from constipation. As I heard so much about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for kidney disease and constipation I began using them and can say that I was entirely cured of my old troubles in a short time. I cannot say anything too good about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and never lose an opportunity of recommending them."

ESPERANTO'S LONDON BOOM.

How the Confusion of Tongues Is Being Dispelled.

When Dr. Zamenhof, a Polish M. D., was eight years old his mind began to be troubled at the confusion of tongues in an around his native village, which is near Warsaw.

Later on, to enable the people of four or five different nationalities, who were his neighbors, to indulge in mutual intercourse, he set himself to the construction of another language, which he hoped might one day become cosmopolitan.

He called the new tongue "Esperanto," which, to the 80,000 "Esperantists" now scattered over the world, means hope. The language has many little strongholds on the Continent, at least one in England—at Keighley, Yorkshire—and a society for its study has just been formed in London.

Mr. Felix Moscheles has been elected President, Mr. J. O'Connor Vice-President, and Mr. W. T. Stead Treasurer, and a room in Mowbray House has been placed at their disposal, where gratuitous lessons will be given every Monday evening from 5.30 to 6.30.

"Esperanto" is said by its adherents to be so simple that eight hours' study will enable a man to read any "Esperanto" book with a dictionary of 800 words.

The two great peculiarities of the language are its invariable terminations in "o" for nouns, "a" for adjectives, and "e" for adverbs and its system of word-building, by means of which from one root word—such as "sano," meaning health—fifty other words can be constructed.

An Esperantist, who was interviewed yesterday, said, "Esperanto esperanto sukcesos," which means, "Let us hope it will succeed."—London Mail.

MRS. C. P. GILMAN

She Has Decided Views on Child Culture and Housekeeping.

Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman of New York, widely known as a poet, sociologist, philosopher and clubwoman, is also an enthusiast on the subject of child culture. In a recent talk before a woman's club Mrs. Gilman said that not one mother in twenty is capable of training her child, and there ought to be "baby gardens" with trained teachers, just as there are kindergartens.

"The ordinary nurse is wholly unfitted for her duty," said Mrs. Gilman. "Would you select a janitor to prepare your boy for college? Yet the teacher you provide for your baby in the most impressionable years of its life is of the mental and intellectual caliber of your janitor. It is no wonder that people have to spend most of their mature years in unlearning what they acquired in the first five years.

"Mothers are rarely fitted to be teachers, and specialists should be engaged to train the infant from its first year to its fifth, as they are later. Nothing should and nothing can separate the child from its mother, but it is not regarded as a separation when the child goes to the kindergarten, to the preparatory school and the college.

"Children are at the mercy of amateur mothers, and we are only beginning to realize that motherhood is a serious profession that requires deep and careful study. Nine-tenths of society even now laugh at the one-tenth that is making a study of it."

Speaking on some of the woes of housekeeping, Mrs. Gilman had this to say:

"Housekeeping would be less troublesome if people did not undertake to keep private museums. Much of the extravagant and needless ornamentation of homes will disappear as women get into a larger life.

"There must be a change in the method of living. Eating is made too much of. The family cook stove is regarded as the family altar, and women waste time, money and health in a vulgar display of unnecessary food. We cater to the stomach without even keeping it healthy. Cooking should be specialized into a business, and taken out of our houses as laundry work and the making of clothing are, to a great extent."

Courtesy of Dress.

Courtesy of dress is not confined to courts. Every girl has many opportunities to show, in this way as in others, courage and tact and unselfishness. Two incidents, sharply contrasted, reveal the manner in which two such opportunities were met.

A girl detained by business for a day or two in a small town happened to meet an old schoolmate, who invited her to spend the evening with her. There were to be just a few friends informally, she said, in answer to the other girl's reply that she had no evening dress with her, and nobody was going to "dress up." So, happy at the thought of a pleasant evening where she had expected a lonely one, the girl went. What was her dismay upon reaching the house to find every one in evening dress, including her hostess, who merely laughed at her guest's glance of surprise.

"I know I said I wouldn't," she apologized, "but I didn't think you would care if I changed my mind."

The other incident is pleasanter. A wealthy young girl visiting a friend who had no money for luxuries surprised her hostess by the simple way in which she dressed. The last night, when the two were together while the guest packed her trunk, the other girl understood it. The beautiful dresses that she had expected and secretly dreaded to see were there, but her friend had not even taken them from their wrappings. She had quietly worn during her whole visit the three or four gowns that offered the least contrast to her hostess' plain wardrobe.—Youth's Companion.

IN OLD AGE the question of health becomes mainly a question of nutrition. If the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are kept in a healthful condition there will be a well-nourished body, and little liability to disorders of the liver, bowels or such other disorders as may result from innutrition and lack of exercise.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and also diseases of other organs which are caused by the diseased condition of the stomach. By enabling the perfect nutrition of the body it increases the vital power and promotes a vigorous old age.

"I was a sufferer from chronic diarrhea for five years," writes Mrs. Mary A. Aaron, of Rolla, Phelps Co., Mo. "I tried different remedies, which would give me relief for a short time only. My trouble would return as bad as ever. I consulted you in July, 1900, and by your advice commenced using Dr. Pierce's remedies. I took two bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' three vials of the 'Pellets,' and some of the 'Extract of Smart-Weed,' as you advised. I have not had any return of my trouble since using your medicines. Am now seventy-one years old and I never had anything to relieve me so quick. I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the greatest on earth. Should I ever have any return of my trouble shall use your medicine. My thanks to you for your advice and thanks to Almighty God for restoring me to health through your hands."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

CURED BY

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Kidney Troubles, no matter of what kind or what stage of the disease, can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of these wonderful pills. Mr. Joseph Leland, Alma, N.W.T., recommends them to all kidney trouble sufferers, when he says:—I was troubled with dull headaches, had frightful dreams, terrible pains in my legs and a frequent desire to urinate. Noticing DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS recommended for just such annoyances as mine, it occurred to me to give them a trial, so I procured a box of them, and was very much surprised at the effectual cure they made. I take a great deal of pleasure in recommending them to all kidney trouble sufferers.

Women on French Railways.

In France there are 15,819 women employed as gatekeepers at the railroad crossings. They get very small pay, but the railroads provide each one with a house and a small garden patch rent free. These women work every day in the year. They may not leave their posts for a day off, even on Sundays and holidays, and their working days are from fifteen to eighteen hours long. Five thousand two hundred and seventy-five of these women earn not more than $2.90 a month; 7,000 receive from that sum up to $4.80; 1,680 get from $4.82 to $7.72, and 601 from $7.91 to $10.61. Only sixty women get higher wages than this, and none gets more than $31.84 a month.

A Cheap Bookcase.

I have seen a cheap bookcase made of three shoe boxes, each one being a third shorter than the other. These graduated boxes were set one upon the other so that the three ends came together, making a straight side on one side and three steps on the other. All the shelves were edged with strips of split bamboo, pieces of the same covering any rough edges that came in sight. The steps held large vases, pots of palms and flowering plants, which made the bookcase a thing of beauty as well as utility and brightened wonderfully an otherwise dark corner.

Most Versatile Author.

Who is the most prolific and versatile of contemporary authors? asks The London Chronicle, and then proceeds: The Rev. Sabine Baring-Gould, who recently celebrated his sixty-ninth birthday, probably answers that description best. The multiplicity of his books and the wide range of life, study and experience that they embrace must seek far for a parallel. A long succession of novels, lives of the saints, studies in out-of-the-way mediaeval lore, fairy tales, strange survivals, oddities of all ages and places, religious controversies, biographies of military heroes, essays, sermons, lectures, poems—all these are associated with his name through several pages of the catalogue of our national library. Many who have not had time to read his books are familiar with his name as a hymn-writer. To him churchgoers are indebted for that most popular of processional hymns—"Onward, Christian Soldiers," and also that favorite Easter hymn, "On the Resurrection Morning."

Bachelors' Acre.

Windsor (England) Town Council resolved at a recent meeting to convert Bachelors' Acre, a famous piece of land in the centre of the town, into a flower garden, and to include in the scheme an old burial ground adjoining. In former days revels and cock fighting took place in the Acre, which belonged to the bachelors of the town.

A Socialist Duchess.

It is seldom one discovers a Socialist Duchess, but the Duchess of Sutherland professes decidedly Socialistic views. She once attended a Socialist meeting under the assumed name of Mrs. Sutherland, and was so much impressed by the arguments of the Socialist lady orator that she sought an introduction and eventually revealed her identity, and expressed a desire for a continuance of the acquaintance, which ripened into friendship and resulted in the Duchess declaring herself converted.

Some persons might imagine that this was a mere pose on the part of the beautiful and extremely wealthy woman, but it is not so. Few women, surrounded by all the pleasures which rank and money can command, lead more unselfish lives. The Duchess does not consider Socialism to be incompatible with beauty and personal charm. No woman dresses better and none could seem more perfectly designed to occupy the exalted position which she so greatly adorns.

An Adv. Answered.

A Bristol paper tells this story, which has reached it from Canada. It hangs on an advertisement which appeared in an English paper. "A lady in delicate health wishes to meet a useful companion. She must be domesticated, musical, an early riser, amiable, of good appearance, and have experience in nursing. A total abstainer preferred. Comfortable home. No salary." A few days afterwards the advertisement received by express a basket labeled, "This side up—with care—perishable." On opening it she found a tabby cat.

Wash greasy dishes, pots or pans with Lever's Dry Soap a powder. It will remove the grease with the greatest ease. 36

Her Only Fault.

While in England Marshall P Wilder came upon a curious case of conjugal devotion. He had heard that the wife of a certain laborer was not all she should be, and the daily wages her husband earned by the sweat of his brow were spent by her for liquor rather than for the household necessaries. Moved with pity for the poor fellow, who never complained of his wrongs, Wilder put a few odd jobs in his way which paid the man well and also livened up his dull hours with many a funny yarn. One day they happened to talk of domestic quarrels, and then the poor fellow spoke of his own troubles for the first time. "Mr. Wilder," he said, "some say as how my wife doesn't do exactly right, but I knows of only one fault that she has. She swears when she's drunk."

Fine Cambric in the Wash.

To wash a fine cambric handkerchief, embroidered in colored silks, so that the colors do not run, the secret is to wash in a soap lather very quickly, wring thoroughly and then iron, so that it dries at once. There should be no soaking, and the embroidered corner should be kept out of the water as much as possible. A little alum in the water will make the process more sure.

Waitresses For Luncheon.

Nowadays it is much more fashionable to have waitresses than to have waiters for the luncheons given by women to women. These maids look so dainty in their caps, aprons, collars and cuffs that they have made a distinct place of their own in serving at these functions, and we shall not willingly change even for formal affairs.

OUR BRANDS:

THE O'KEEFE BREWERY CO., TORONTO, Limited

Dominion Oil Co., Limited

Chartered Under the Laws of Ontario and Operating Raleigh Oil Fields, Chatham Ont.

CAPITAL $850,000

Divided into 850,000 Shares. Par Value $1.00, Fully Paid and Non-Assessable

TREASURY STOCK—WORKING CAPITAL.....$400,000

No Bonds, Preferred Stock Nor Indebtedness.

The recent acquisition by this company of leases on 200 acres in the Wheatley District, and 160 acres additional in the Raleigh Field, makes its control of oil lands now over 2,000 acres in all, thus increasing its assets by 33%, with a corresponding increase to the intrinsic value of its stock. The fact that these additions were also made without drawing a dollar from its rapidly accumulating treasury funds, evidences the intent of its directors to continue the success of the company's operations, and let no opportunity pass to maintain its substantial character and leading position among Canadian enterprises.

At the customary oil field reckoning of one well to an acre, the probable output from these properties is almost beyond computation. The Wheatley property adjoins the several wells drilled and operated by the Union Gas & Oil Co., and is considered a very valuable acquisition; while President Woodward of the Dominion Company advises us that by the installation of the air compressor he expects to increase the output at the famous Gurd Gusher to 400 or 500 barrels a day—and this product is now bringing a higher price than any other petroleum oil on the North American continent. Contracts are also under way for the immediate development of both the new properties, where a very high grade quality of oil has been found.

In view of these facts, as well as the sound financial position now occupied by the company, the directors have decided that the sale of stock shall

Close at 35c Saturday March 14,

and that the price shall

Advance to 50c Monday, March 16.

The company is now paying dividends of one per cent monthly on par ($1.00 per share, fully paid and non-assessable) which at the present figure of 35c is practically 36 per cent. per annum on the investment. The next dividend will be payable April 1st, to all stockholders of record of March 26th; but those who subscribe by March 14th will secure a 3% monthly investment. We earnestly advise all who desire an interest in these wonderful fields to subscribe now and thus make sure of the greater income, and the greater profit possible by the advanced market value of the stock.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Pousssett & Co.:—

New York, March 9. — Liverpool opens wheat 1-2 lower; corn 3-8 lower. At 1.30 p.m. wheat 1-2 lower; corn 3-8 to 1-2 lower.

M. & M.

Westinghouse people large sellers this morning, particularly St. Paul. Banks gained $1,502000 from sub-treasury since Saturday. This first gain in a fortnight. Been considerable calling of loans by banks today and rate generally marked up to 6 p.c.

Cables reflect our weak market of Saturday. Weather conditions very favourable, liquidation has been free last few days and rather think it has about run.

M. & M.

Report that banks gained from subtreasury $1,502,000 is error.

J. G. MARSHALL.

Keene brokers bid up S.P.; looks like a Keene move against shorts.

M. & M.

Feeling around street distinctly uneasy. Don's believe short interest at all large and don't believe we will get even much of a rally and expect to see general market go still lower.

J. G. MARSHALL.

New York, March 9. — Earning Colo. Southern for past seven months equal to 3 1-2 per cent on 2nd preferred. Prospects for peace in copper trade better. Waldorf-Astoria crowd active on bear side. No signs of settlement in Keene Harriman situation. Heavy short interest in U.P. Saturday bank statement unfavourable. Influences comment in Sunday papers. No early div. on Alo. common.

DOW, JONES & CO.

Messrs. Dever & Co. have issued the following:—

New York, March 7.—To-day's market opened lower, with inclination to weakness during first half hour, after which became quite dull. Traders apparently awaited bank statement. Market weakened slightly just as soon as statement published, which showed a decrease in reserves of over five millions and of loans of over ten millions, while deposits decreased 19 1-2 millions. Loaning rates for money are getting stronger and there seems to be a disposition upon the part of banking interests to improve their position. To chart traders the market presents some interesting facts, inasmuch as prices, in a number of stocks, has touched double bottom. There is no question but that a large short interest has accumulated. Would advise caution and ample protection for the holdings. Mich. Central is one of the strongest on the list, holding up well. This stock has held its own beautifully. In case you feel bullishly inclined would favour this stock in purchasing. After bank statement prices declined rapidly large blocks on stocks being thrown on the market, uncovering number of stop loss orders. St. Paul and U.P. showed especially. Present is time for conservatism.

Chicago — Wheat was heavy again to-day in anticipation of bearish government report. Advices were given in former letters to sell out long ago. Market may work somewhat lower but sharp dip under 75 would furnish an opportunity to make purchases for a fair rise.

A BUSY VET.

How the Independent Advertises a Professional Man.

Mr. Vrooman has been very busy lately administering to the cattle and horses, says the Bobcaygeon Independent. The increased value of the stock, renders it more necessary to give them professional care in their illness. Mr. Vrooman has under contemplation the building of a large and commodious stable, where he will be able to take animals, and give them the constant attention that they sometimes require. Among his clientele recently are the following: — Alex. Thompson's horse of South Harvey, took ill, and could not be taken home till the following day; Jas. Simpson's horse; Andrew Kelso seriously caulked his black mare; Wm. Brown's brown horse suffered six days with indigestion; John Anderson's fancy cow's temperture went up to 107 from pleuracy; Jos. Anderson's cow could not breath through parts of her lungs for several days, through congestion; Robt. Robertson's cow had her horns sawed off and is only improving with good nourishing. Jas. Martin's cow had to be in the fashion and see the Vet too.; Teddy Earl's cow went down with parturient apoplexy, but is recovering; Mr. Tedford of Harvey has had two horses attended; Thomas Robertson's colt received a slap from an overfed horse; Jas. Long's mare got an overfeed that put her out of business for a few days. Wm. Freeman had an operation dissecting a fibrous tumor on his cow; before leaving camp one of the Rathbun horses took acute nephritis so severe that he went stone blind for several hours on Saturday night, and was not fit to move till Tuesday.

STOVE PIPES.

What the Journal of Commerce Says as to the Risk.

A writer in the Boston Journal of Commerce says he can confidently assert from a fairly extended observation that there is no safe way of passing a metal boiler stack through a wooden roof. Large thimbles, asbestos backing, good ventilation, etc., are usually deemed sufficient, usually approved by insurance men, and are sometimes, but by no means always, permanently successful. The tricky nature of baked wood exposed to intermittent radiant heat is such that no man can tell whether it will ignite at all or ignite in six months or ten years. The only sure method of fire protection where a metal boiler stack passes through a roof is to make the roof all metal, or tile, or equivalent for a large section, say, about eight feet square, with the stack passing through the centre of the special section of roof. The marvel is that pipes passed through wooden roofs, partitions and walls, cause so few fires. In this, as in other cities, hundreds of pipes may be seen, apparently in the most dangerous positions, in cottages and sheds, but it seems to take a first-class building, a stone warehouse, with heating arrangements in charge of a man, to raise a fire.

MILLINERY OPENINGS.

An Elegant Display in Toronto and Montreal.

The Insurance and Finance Journal, of March 6th, says:

On Monday last, when the spring millinery openings began, there were the usual crowds of dainty buyers in both the Montreal and Toronto warehouses. As usual, too, they came from far and near, from near-by towns as well as from distant Halifax and Vancouver, though in the latter cases most of the buyers arrived a few days in advance so as to give their selections a chance to reach their destination in good time.

A hasty glance around well-filled ware rooms discloses the fact that while there is no violent change in the fashion of this year's millinery compared with last season's, yet there are so many minor alterations that its character in the aggregate is vastly different. It is distinctly a milliner's year, not only because of the above, but owing to the fact that all manner of single and combined rosettes, ribbons tied in quaint knots, and other effectual odd devices, are used to such an extent that her skill is given full scope and has an extra wide field. Taking a philosophic view of millinery, we believe it may be noted that the changes of fashion run in cycles. It takes three or four years for a new set of fashions to evolve itself completely; each season serves to bring out hitherto unsuspected beauties, until finally there comes the climax. We think that the ideal of the present cycle has been reached this year. Certainly, for beauty of outline, exquisite delicacy and harmony of shading, hats superior to those we have seen this week would be very difficult to imagine. A feature which strikes one in looking at this spring's hats is their large size. Those of flat shapes continue to be most in favour, though a number show a tendency to crown. It may almost be described as a straw season, this material being the one most largely in evidence. A great many hats will be manufactured right from the foundation, as is shown by the large quantity of different kinds of braids which are shown.

In respect to trimmings, while there is nothing strikingly new in them, they are in such bewildering variety as to make adequate description a difficult task. One very prominent material will be lace. In this the leading line is perhaps black Chantilly, which is being exhibited at the present time in much better qualities than ever before. Grape sets are a striking innovation, while other fruit patterns may also be seen. Streamers and scarves run as a rule wider than was the case last year. Appliques and paraguays are about as numerous as usual, the most striking example noticed being in black and white and two tones. Artifical flowers are in infinite variety, but roses have lost none of their popularity. Foliage too may be seen in beautiful designs and colourings. Ribbons are just as plentiful as ever, both plain and fancy, and principally of the soft kinds, running from number 22 to 100. Sequin effects stand out prominently in crowns, bands and trimmings of various kinds. There is a great variety of French novelties. Mechlins, chiffons and light gauzy effects of the mousseline character, will all be in high favour during the coming season. In garniture, besides flowers and foliage, osprey and ostrich feathers will be much worn, and a great variety of other ornaments. As to colours, violet hats will be in considerable evidence, as is usually the pretty custom at Easter. One of the prettiest hats that we noticed, however, was of champagne colour merging into brown, and trimmed with russet-tinted leaves.

TOO MUCH HOCKEY.

What a Prominent Financial Journal Says on the Matter.

The president of the Montreal Hockey Club said a few days ago:

"We have had too much hockey. Although men may be called of iron, they are not made of iron and tired nature will give way. When it is remembered that the Montreal team has played thirteen hard games since the third of January, and that nearly every man has been ill at some time or another during the season, I think they died game last night."

The "last night" referred to was the time when the club team was defeated. Some youths and young men have serious cause for agreeing with the president about "too much hockey," though we should prefer the phrase being "too much violence, too much mere brute force, too much effort to injure opponents." In the present season several serious casualties are known to have occurred, such as a blow on the head, which result in the victim becoming insane; a blow on the leg by which it was broken; a blow on the mouth by which teeth were knocked out; a blow on the eyes by which blindness is likely to be caused, because numerous contusions, dislocations and wounds, which have needed hospital treatment, some of which will entail life-long trouble to the sufferers. Besides injuries, cases are reported of serious disturbance of the health from over-excitement and the dosing with very dangerous drugs which is practised to give temporary relief when there are signs of a collapse. Nearly every player in these violent contests has been ill during the season, says the Hockey Club President, made ill by a game that is claimed to develop physical health and strength! There is no excuse for the smashing blows frequently delivered by players on their opponents; the game does not call for them; such blows are proofs of clumsiness or of malice. Of hockey of that class "we have had too much" this season. Unless some check is put on violence, this game will become the monopoly of rowdies, who regard laming an opponent as the joy of the game.

KEYBOARD.

Five and thirty black slaves,
Half a hundred white,
All their duty but to sing
For their queen's delight.
Now with throats of thunder,
Now with dulcet lips,
While she rules them royally
With her finger-tips!

When she quits her palace,
All the slaves are dumb—
Dumb with dolor till the queen
Back to the court is come;
Dumb the throats of thunder,
Dumb the dulcet lips,
Lacking all the sovereignty
Of her finger-tips.

Dusky slaves and pallid,
Ebon slaves and white,
When the queen was on her throne
How you sang to-night!
Ah, the throats of thunder!
Ah, the dulcet lips!
Ah, the gracious tyrannies
Of her finger-tips!

Silent, silent, silent,
All your voices now;
Was it, then, her life alone
Did your life endow?
Waken, throats of thunder!
Waken, dulcet lips!
Touched to immortality
By her finger-tips.

SIR GAVAN DUFFY.

The Very Remarkable Career of a Very Remarkable Man.

Sir Charles Gavan Duffy, whose death was recorded the other day, was born in Monaghan, Ireland, April 12, 1816, and at the age of 26 founded The Nation newspaper, published at Dublin. A year later he was tried for seditious conspiracy with O'Connell and others in 1843, and twelve months afterwards was liberated by the House of Lords on a writ of error. In 1846 he founded the Irish Confederation, and in 1848 he was again arrested for treason felony, but his conviction was quashed. Four years afterward he was elected to Parliament for New Ross, his opponent being the Chief Secretary for Ireland. He founded the Irish Tenant League, which returned more than fifty members at the general election in 1852. Sir Charles introduced into the House of Commons the principle of independent opposition, the members holding aloof from both parties and voting only for measures according to their intrinsic value to Ireland. He resigned in 1856, a majority of the party having proved unfaithful, and went to Australia, where he became Minister of Public Works in Victoria in 1857, Prime Minister in 1871 and Speaker in 1877. For the past 23 years Sir Charles had lived in Nice. He was the author of a number of books of poetry, "A Fragment of Irish History," and other works.

Paris is a long way from London, and that seven hours and three-quarters which lies between is deceptive. It differs not only in its atmosphere, but in its airs. In one respect Paris is ahead of London, for London has not yet caught the tune which Paris rings. Every "Revue" centres upon the air which is sung to the words "Viens, Viens, Poulo!" In every cafe which supports an orchestra, from Montmatre to the Latin quarter, the tune is played to the accompaniment of shouts and stampings of delight. And when you walk the streets the tune whispers in your ear under the clang of the tram-car bell and the shout of the newsboy. It is a silly tune, and London is just as well without it.

But if Paris is in front in this, it is behind in that; and the Londoner who spends an evening in following the music of Paris finds himself carried back to the days of his youth and infancy. The ghost of a certain flagrant march, long buried in London, still stalks in Paris. There is a popular waltz tune in Paris which some twenty years ago was sung in London to the words "I must inform your father! Won't he be angry! Rather!" And on a recent evening the present writer was whisked over a quarter of a century at the sound of a melody which seemed to strike with freshness and welcome upon the ears of a cafe audience. It was "Tommy, Make Room for Your Uncle."—London Chronicle.

Furs

WILL BE HIGHER NEXT YEAR

And this is the month of all the year they reach their lowest prices.

As an investment at present prices they discount all other stocks. An increase of 25 to 50 per cent. in their values by fall can be assured.

Our reasons for selling at these close prices under present conditions are :—

First—The use of the money in our business between now and next winter.

Second—An extra heavy Stock of Furs on hand for this time of year.

Third—The between season condition of this month—a little early for spring and a little late for winter selling, must therefore create demand by bargain prices.

Fourth—Must keep our workmen in manufacturing department going, consequently have to sell the Goods.

JACK M'LEOD, HERO

Daring Miner in Ferguson, B. C., Who Plucked Death's Beard.

FOUR MINERS WERE KILLED.

Cool Daring of a Man Ready to Give His Life For His Comrades—How a Quiet, Unpretentious Cape Breton Miner Saved the Night Shift of the Nettie L. Mine — Other Heroes.

Revelstoke, B.C., March 10.— A serious accident, resulting in the death of four miners, at the Nettie L. Mine, Ferguson, B.C., occurred on Saturday evening when the night shift were going on duty at 7 p.m. The day shift had quit work at 4 p.m., and fired their shots, and it is supposed that some of the lower workings became filled with powder gas and smoke.

Robert Savage was the first man to descend to his work, and when at the bottom was heard to call for help, that he was suffocating. George Crosbey descended to his rescue and succeeded in bringing him up to the floor level, when Crosbey became insensible and Savage's body dropped back down, a distance of about 40 feet. Allan Caulder then rushed down the ladder, and on reaching the bottom called out for help, and Pat Crilley, shift boss, and brother of the superintendent, went down to share Caulder's fate. Barclay Crilley went down and actually reached his brother, but the gas drove him up to the level more dead than alive.

Jack McLeod, a Cape Breton miner of great experience, made an attempt with a rope. He secured a body with the line and bore it to the ladder foot. The men above raised Paddy Crilley to the level, McLeod partly sustaining him from the ladder. Six times McLeod came up with the body of a rescued comrade, and six times went down, perhaps to meet his own more than probable death. The sixth and last man having been carried up, McLeod collapsed, and Jack Sweeny descended to see if any more remained in the mine, and McLeod had to go down again and bring out Sweeny. McLeod came out of his experience uninjured.

The names of the dead are: Pat Crilley, shift boss; Allan Caulder, Edward Cognan and Robert Savage. Two men, Nelson Johnson and Otto Bloom, are now under the doctor's care and are expected to recover. An inquest will be held.

A BURNING OIL ZONE.

Scores of Persons Caught and Enveloped in the Flames.

AWFUL SCENES ON A RAILWAY

Terrific Explosions of Oil on the Erie—Two Sections of an Oil Train Crash Together—Many Killed by Burning Oil — Bodies Burned to Ashes — Flesh Hung in Shreds.

Olean, N. Y., March 10.—A score or more people were killed and a large number were injured by an explosion of oil near here last night. A freight train on the Erie, made up principally of tank cars filled with oil, broke in two north of the city at about 9 o'clock. The two sections of the train came together with a crash, and one of the oil tanks was demolished. Fire broke out almost instantly, and the sky was lighted up for miles.

A large crowd of people left the city for the scene of the fire. While they were lined up along the track a terrible explosion occurred. The flames spread to the other tank cars, and a second and third explosion followed each other in rapid succession. Sheets of flame shot out in all directions. Scores of persons were caught within the zone of the fire and enveloped in flames. Men and boys ran screaming down the tracks with their clothing burning. Others fell where they stood, overcome by the awful heat. Just how many were killed cannot be definitely known as many of the bodies were incinerated.

Counted Twenty Bodies.

Sydney Fish, a prominent business man, returned from the scene of the fire at midnight. He said: "I was attracted to the scene of the fire at 1 o'clock. When I was within a quarter of a mile of the scene of the accident there was a terrific explosion. Flames shot outwards and upwards for a great distance. I saw several persons who started to run away drop on the railway tracks and they never moved again. Others who stood close to the tank cars were hurled through the air for hundreds of feet. The scene was awful.

"Half a dozen young boys ran down the tracks with their clothing a mass of flames. They resembled human torches. I could hear their agonized screams distinctly from where I stood. They ran some distance down the track and then threw themselves to the ground, grovelling in the ditches in their efforts to extinguish the flames. Then they laid still, some of them unconscious, others dead. I son't know how many were killed, but I counted twenty bodies when I came away."

Bodies Burned to Ashes.

Word was also sent to Olean police headquarters by telephone. Every doctor and ambulance in the city was summoned. Grocery wagons and carriages of all kinds were pressed into service, and everything possible was done to bring the wounded without delay to the city hospitals for treatment. At midnight the first of the wounded arrived at the hospital, they were four young boys. Their injuries were frightful. Great patches of their flesh was burned off and hung in shreds from their bodies.

It will be difficult to ascertain the names of a great many of the dead to-night, as their bodies were burned to ashes in the intense heat. A canvass is being made of the city as rapidly as possible, to find out the names of persons who are missing.

Ontario Man Burned.

Dawson, Y. T., March 10.—Five persons were burned to death in the Aurora Roadhouse on Hunker Creek, at 2 o'clock on Thursday morning. Charles Bernsie, who owned the house, his wife and two children, and Thomas Baird, who was in charge of one of the Government roadhouses, were the victims. The Bernsie family came from Portland, Ore. Mr. Baird came from Ontario.

Only Enemies Killed.

Aden, Arabia, March 10.—A heliograph message received at Obbia, Somaliland, East Africa, announces that General Manning occupied Galkayu Wells March 8 with his mounted troops, and that the remainder of his column reached there March 5. The casualties were confined to the enemy.

C. R. Devlin, M.P., by Acclamation.

Dublin, March 10.—C. R. Devlin, Irish Nationalist, formerly Canadian Commissioner in Ireland, has been elected without opposition to represent Galway in the House of Commons in place of Col. Lynch.

LT. C. H. BRADBURN LEAVING

Hearty Send off by His Fellow Officers.

A Handsome Presentation Made—Mr. Bradburn Spoken of in High Terms.

Last night the officers of the 57th Regiment met to say good-bye to Lt. C. H. Bradburn, who is leaving for the west. The esteem in which the departing lieutenant is held was shown by the number of officers and ex-officers who turned out to bid their brother officer adieu.

Surgeon-Major Halliday, president of the officers' mess, presided over an informal meeting.

Captain Hayes proposed the toast of Lieutenant Bradburn, and expressed the high esteem which Mr. Bradburn had won, both amongst the officers of the regiment, and also amongst the legal men of the town. The health of the departing lieutenant was enthusiastically drunk with musical honours. The commanding officer, Lieut.-Col. Miller spoke in high terms of Lt. Bradburn's services to the regiment, and on behalf of the officers presented him with a handsome set of pipes.

Lt.-Col. E. B. Edwards, late commanding officer of the regiment, joined in expressing his own high appreciation of Mr. Bradburn's services, when under his command.

On rising to respond, Lieut. Bradburn expressed his appreciation of the hearty manner in which his fellow officers had wished him success, and added that it would be a pleasure to him in the future to smoke the pipes in pleasant thoughts of the many happy hours he had spent in the mess room. It was a great source of regret to him that he had at last to sever his connection with the regiment, which he enjoyed so long, and which had been of so much benefit to him.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, father of the departing officer, expressed his sorrow at having to lose his son, but was pleased to note the cordiality with which he had been held.

During the evening there were genexpressions of goodwill on the part of the officers to Mr. Bradburn, on his severing his connection with the regiment, as he was an extremely popular officer.

ARE LEAVING TOWN.

Messrs. C. H. Davies and W. Wesley are Going Away.

It will be a matter of regret to many to hear of the departure of Messrs. C. H. Davies and Walter Wesley. Mr. Davies has gone to Brantford, and Mr. Wesley, who is going to Orillia, were at the close of Sunday evening's service at St. John's church, presented by the church wardens each with a handsome photograph of the church. The two gentlemen have taken an active part in the work of the church, Mr. Davies as superintendent of the Sunday School, and Mr. Wesley, as a member of the choir. Needless to say, the loss of two such energetic churchmen will be felt very much indeed, but they will depart, it is assured, with the best wishes of their friends for success in their respective new places of residence.

EXECUTIVE MEETING

Of the Peterborough District of the Epworth League.

The Executive Committee of the Peterborough District Epworth League met in the George street church this morning. The chief item of business was a proposed reception to be tendered to Rev. Mr. Smith, the missionary in China, who is supported by the Leagues of the Cobourg and Peterborough Districts. It was decided to join with the Cobourg District in a reception to Dr. Smith on his arrival from China, and a committee was appointed to arrange details. A committee was also appointed to make arrangements for the District Convention to be held in Millbrook next October.

AN ADVANCE IN PRICE

Of Cutting Hair Made by the Local Barbers.

A meeting of the proprietors of the barbershops was held last night in Messrs. McGregor & Rundle's barber shop, and it was resolved to advance the price of hair cutting to 20 cents, this to take effect on the 1st of of April next. It was also unanimously agreed to abolish the monthly ticket system on that date. These are two important points and will come as a surprise to economists.

Fibroid Tumors Cured.

A distressing case of Fibroid Tumor, which baffled the skill of Boston doctors. Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, Mass., in the following letter tells how she was cured, after everything else failed, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Hayes' First Letter Appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for Help:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under Boston doctors' treatment for a long time without any relief. They tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing-down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk or be on my feet for any length of time.

"The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor given in your little book accurately describe my case, so I write to you for advice."—(Signed) MRS. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice—although she advised Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, to take her medicine—which she knew would help her—her letter contained a mass of additional instructions as to treatment, all of which helped to bring about the happy result.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and to-day I am a well woman.

"The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) MRS. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt.

Mrs. Hayes at her above address will gladly answer any letters which sick women may write for fuller information about her illness. Her gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so genuine and heartfelt that she thinks no trouble is too great for her to take in return for her health and happiness.

Truly is it said that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women, and no other medicine; don't forget this when some druggist wants to sell you something else.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

SKILLED ARTILLERY WANTED

What Lord Dundonald Thinks About the Matter.

Artillery Men at Present Underpaid—Good Gunners are Necessary.

Canada is supposed to be able to raise an army of one hundred thousand men, (says the Ottawa Journal. At least this is what the Minister of Militia estimated in his address last session. For this hundred thousand men the country has at present seventeen batteries of field artillery, which means one hundred and two guns. There is really only 16 batteries at present, for the last has not yet been fitted up. Out of the sixteen there are only a comparative few armed with modern field guns, and many of them are still stubbing away with nine-pounders. If Canada was going to war to-morrow, kindly excuse your humble servant as a rifleman from serving with only that equipment of artillery to stand behind him. The whole Canadian outfit, unless their superior staying qualities saved them, would be skinned to death in the first engagement. The field artillery was the theme of a few very pointed remarks in Lord Dundonald's address to the Dominion Artillery Association. Then he pointed out the necessity for trained men to handle the guns, and also the fact that unless these men were better paid they could not be had. In artillery it is entirely different from anything else. A man has a great deal to learn before he is a good artilleryman, while for mounted infantry or infantry any man who knowns anything about a gun and how to shoot can easily be taught to march to his front or to get behind a stump or some other old cover when he comes against the bullets. The country is full of the makings of infantry men. They can be found at any time, but not so with artillery. In the first place unless a regiment of infatury has skilled artillery to cover their advance on an enemy's position, they might just as well stay away back. The artillery is absolutely necessary on all occasions as a support, and it may be here said that there is no time that a foot soldier will face the music like when he knows there are good guns and good gunners behind him.

To get these gunners it is necessary that they should be well paid. Sufficiently well to draw them into the service. At the present time the Canadian artillery is under-officered, under-gunned, and undermanned—in fact, very much underdone in every respect. The only solution to the difficulty seems to be to raise the pay and buy more guns. Generally speaking, spend a little money.

AS TO INVESTMENTS.

Will Mining Stocks and Oil Well Securities be the Next to go?

The Banking World.

The recent upheaval in turf investment circles has been a good thing, in at least showing up the worthless character of these concerns and in being a lesson to that class of investors, who have, through the misfortune of ignorance, or through sheer stubbornness, persisted in attempting to make money out of this form of speculation. It is bad enough that the poor deluded individuals who imagine they can make money "playing the ponies," or of mistaking a gamble for an investment, should lose their money, when their money is actually bet on the horses with one chance out of a dozen of their winning by chance or luck, instead of that money being lost to them without their having any show at all by falling into the hands of dishonest, unscrupulous people, as in the case of the recent notorious turf concerns. Even when racing is legitimately conducted a clear distinction should be drawn between a gamble and an investment. Playing the horses, or a turf venture of any kind, is gambling, pure and simple, as much so as faro, roulette, or any card game. On the other hand, the term investment can be applied correctly to stock market operations, or trading in listed securities, where the value of securities, and the trend of the market, can be intelligently studied, besides knowing that the money invested, if with an exchange broker, is safe and secure.

Forms of so-called investments that we wish to warn the public against are mining stock and oil well securities, regarding which we are yet to know of any one ever making any money, or getting back a dollar of their original investment. We have here forms of speculation that are neither gambles nor investments, as they neither possess the one chance out of a dozen that horse-racing does, nor do they give the returns and opportunities that a real investment does.

Experience has shown to the many former believers of this visionary wealth that few gold mines possess any gold, and that with the few which can claim a smattering of the precious metal, the gold is not picked up for the stooping for it, as is lucidly set forth in glowing prospectuses. Likewise, with the oil wells, few of them possess that much desired lubricating fluid, and of a few that do, the fact of their running dry is not an unknown experience. Such concerns are formed to sell the stock to a credulous public, and when the stock is disposed of, the investors having the stock and the promoters the money, there is a sudden end to everything.

Now that turf investments are a thing of the past, it is to be hoped that mining stocks and oil wells will be the next to go, and the public will wake up to the worthless character of these ventures as they have to turf investments.

SUCCESS IN WALL STREET

Gained by Two Clergymen—One Makes $25,000 and the Other $200,000.

(The Banking World.)

Good clergymen do not always confine themselves to benefiting their pastorates, but occasionally exercise their [illegible] wishes on their own behalf.

We have lately heard a story to the effect that the Rev. A. B. Temple, of Seneca, a small town up in Ontario County, has made quite a handsome little fortune in the Stock Market. Mr. Temple, looking around for a good investment for his money, became interested in the possibilities of stocks, and he forthwith purchased fifty shares, putting up a five point margin.

Soon after stocks commenced to soar, and the preacher kept on adding to his account until he had actually accumulated 1,000 shares.

With that modesty so becoming to a clergyman, Mr. Temple kept his stock trading a profound secret and it was not until recently that his flock became aware of his good fortune. Mr. Temple did not evince any great hurry in his operations, but calmly, like an old seasoned trader, waited until his holdings reached a price that netted him the handsome fortune of $25,000. This story is vouched for by the leading newspapers of New York and goes to show how fine judgment in stocks may be combined with the most benevolent aspirations in life. We congratulate Mr. Temple on his good fortune and hope that he may add to it by the same methods.

But Mr. Temple is only one of many good clergymen who give some attention to the business of Wall Street. The Rev. Dr. Warren S. Perkins of Meriden, Conn., has really built the church in which he officiates at a cost of $200,000, and most of this money he has made by investments under expert guidance, and he states that he knows of many ministers and college professors who are in the same fortunate position as himself. Indeed, the whole world is attracted to the security market, because the way to success is tolerably easy with a qualified operator to guide the investor.

OTTAWA'S TWO SEASONS.

The Most Profitable—The Session—About to Begin.

There is joy in Ottawa. The date of the reassembling of Parliament has been announced, and the Capital is beginning to wake up. There are four seasons in other places in this great country, but there are only two in Ottawa. They are the session and the recess, says The Toronto News. One day the guns boom forth on Nepean Point and the Governor-General, firstly in nice English, and, secondly, in French of sorts, sends the legislators home to consider their conduct during the session. Then Ottawa—or a large part of it—shuts up shop. The town becomes quiet almost to dullness, and the shopkeepers count up their profits, undisturbed by any clamorous rush of customers. Not that the city is not alive, but the sessional business and commercial business are two different propositions, as our Dawson friends would say. The sessional crowd is a community by itself. It is known only slightly by the Ottawa man; it hangs together, lives together, talks together, and sometimes drinks together. It is a small organization numerically, but it is the lot that Ottawa tradesmen wait for. And they make good money when the sessional crowd arrives.

Some Sessional Contrasts.

The importance of the sessional crowd is great. Its members are honored by being compelled to pay perhaps fifty per cent. more than Ottawa folk do for anything which they require. It is the firm conviction of the average Ottawa resident that pretty nearly everybody who visits the city in the days when Parliament is working has money to burn. It is a fact also that most people whom you shall find in the Capital during the session have enough of the necessary collateral to make a very fair front. But there are exceptions. Every year, when Parliament assembles, you shall find some scores of men, hungry-eyed, expectant, buttonholing members and making life a constant worry to them. These are the candidates for sessional jobs. They have come to Ottawa on a search for posts as messengers and sessional writers, and they know just what they could do with the three dollars a day that such officials receive. Most of them, it is said to say, never get farther than the candidate stage. They wait and wait until they are weary, and then hie themselves homeward.

TOILET TIPS.

Lemon juice is a very effective application for removing a tartar deposit from the teeth.

Camphorated cold cream is useful for lips that chap easily and can be advantageously used every night during the cold weather.

A good hair tonic is made of cologne, four ounces; tincture of cantharides, half an ounce; oil of lavender, about a quarter of a dram.

A teaspoonful of lemon juice to a cup of warm water will remove all stains from the hands and will make the nails soft and pliable, rendering them easy to polish.

A very good and simple face tonic is ten drops of benzoin to one of rose-water. Put a few drops into the wash-bowl when bathing the face. Both will soften and whiten.

For red hands use a little chloride of lime, dropping a few grains into the water used for washing the hands. Be careful to remove all rings and bracelets first, for chloride of lime will tarnish them.

Two drops of camphor on your toothbrush will give your mouth the freshest, cleanest feeling imaginable, will make your gums rosy and absolutely prevent anything like cold sores or affections of your tongue.

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure

Costs Nothing If It Fails.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer.

I am a specialist in Rheumatism and have treated more cases than any other physician, I think. For sixteen years I made 2,000 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gives me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again; but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever. I have done it fully 100,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost is only $6.50. If it fails I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism, must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met And in all my experience —in all my 2,000 tests— I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me, and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you anyway. If it fails, it is free.

Address, Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

MISTRESS OF THE SEAS.

An Expenditure of $179,184,205 Provided For—Increase of 16 Millions.

London, March 10.—The British naval estimates for 1903-4, issued last evening, provide for an expenditure of $179,184,205, an increase of $16,010,000, of which amount $11,180,000 will be devoted to shipbuilding and repairs. The maintenance estimates provides for 127,100 officers and men, an increase of 4,600 officers and men.

The total expenditure for shipbuilding, repairs and maineneance is $89,108,600. The new construction includes three battleships, four armored cruisers, three protected cruisers, to be used as scouts; fifteen torpedo boat destroyers, ten submarine torpedo boats, two coast guard cruisers, a river gunboat and an admiralty yacht.

In an explanatory statement, which accompanied the estimates, Lord Selborne, First Lord of the Admiralty, announces the formation of a new squadron to be known as the South Atlantic Squadron. It will serve on the west coast of Africa, and along the southeast coast of America, with basis at Gibraltar and Sierra Leone.

FREE TO EVERYONE.

Read and Learn How You May Procure It.

The question of why one man succeeds and another fails, is a problem that has puzzled philosophers for centuries. One man attains riches and position, while his neighbour who started with seemingly the same, and better opportunities, exists in poverty and obscurity. No man can win success who is suffering from an irritating and nerve-racking disease, and the man who has the qualities of success within him, would be quick to recognise this fact and seize the best remedy to eradicate the trouble.

A person afflicted with a serious case of hemorrhoids or piles is handicapped in the race for power and advancement. It is impossible to concentrate the mental energies when this dreadful trouble is sapping the vital forces. To show how easily this success destroying trouble can be overcome, we publish the following letter from a prominent Indiana man:

"When I received the former letter and booklet, on 'Piles, their nature, cause and cure,' I was in a critical condition. Ulcers to the number of seven had formed on the inside of the rectum culminating in a large tumour on the outside resembling fistula. I suffered the most excruciating pain, and could get no rest day nor night. After reading the booklet I sent to my druggist, but he happened to be out of Pyramid Pile Cure just then. However, I obtained a part of a box from my brother-in-law and began their use. Five Pyramids completely cured me. I procured a box later but have had no occasion to use them. I have been waiting to see that the cure was permanent before writing you of its success. I believe Pyramid Pile Cure to be the greatest and best pile cure on the market, and ask you to please accept of my grateful thanks for this invaluable remedy. I take great pleasure in recommending its use to any sufferer along this line. You may use my name if you wish wish for reference to any one afflicted with this disease." J. O. Littell, Arthur, Ind.

You can obtain a free sample of this wonderful remedy, also the booklet described above, by writing your name and address plainly on a postal card and mailing it to the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich.

UNDER CLAUSE 213.

Father Responsible For Not Taking Precautions to Prevent Child's Death.

Toronto, March 10.—The Attorney-General's Department has secured the first conviction recorded in this Province under clause 213 of the Criminal Code, which deals with the causing of death by special negligence as distinguished from manslaughter. On Thursday Alexander H. Clarke, who was a few weeks ago discharged on an indictment for the alleged murder of his two-year-old child, was arrested. Clarke swore that, in a pantry of his house were set some pieces of cheese, sprinkled with strychnine, for the purpose of killing rats; that the child had access to the pantry, and, in fact, entered it on the night of its death. On the assumption that death was caused by the poisoned cheese, Clarke was discharged.

Clause 213 says in effect that everyone who has under his charge or control anything, animate or inanimate, which may endanger human life, is under a legal duty to take reasonable precautions, and is criminally responsible for the consequences which may ensue from neglect to do so. Under its provisions Clarke was arraigned, and pleaded guilty to the information.

On account of its being the first conviction under this clause, sentence was suspended in the case of Clarke.

CATTLE DISEASE SPREADING.

State of New Hampshire Is Placed Under Quarantine.

Washington, March 10.—Secretary Wilson yesterday promulgated an order putting a quarantine on the State of New Hampshire on account of foot and mouth disease. This order prohibits the shipment of cattle, sheep and other ruminants or swine from or across New Hampshire into other states or foreign countries. It also prohibits the shipment from the state of hides, skins, hair, wool, horns or hoofs of ruminants or swine.

Animals for immediate slaughter may be shipped across New Hampshire in cars which have been sealed by inspectors of the Department of Agriculture, providing these seals are not broken until the animals reach their destination.

This order is issued because of a report received from the Chief Inspector of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Boston, stating that a number of animals had been shipped from New Hampshire to Massachusetts, which were found affected with foot and mouth disease.

High Society Favors Duelling.

Berlin, March 10.—Herr Bebel, the Socialist Leader, during the debate on the military budget in the Reichstag yesterday said the higher classes of society were in a state of permanent conspiracy against the law and religion so far as duelling was concerned. All the military courts and the fixed opinion of the military class, including His Majesty, regarded duelling as necessary in the army, notwithstanding the Reichstag's resolution on the subject.

War Minister Von Gessler, replying to Herr Bebel, said that, throughout the year 1902, no duel had occurred between officers on the active list. Duellists, he continued, were pardoned only on the recommendation of the highest court.

An Italian Shot in Ottawa.

Ottawa, March 10.—Sylvester Salvator, an Italian shoemaker, was shot at by an unknown woman on Wellington street last night. She is supposed to be a woman of the street, who resented the reception her greetings received. She fired three shots, the third inflicting a slight flesh wound on the right leg below the knee. Dr. Foxton dressed the wound, which will cause no trouble, unless blood poisoning sets in.

Five Years For Duggan.

Hamilton, March 10.—Mat. Duggan, one of the "gay cats" of Toronto, was sentenced to Kingston for five years yesterday morning on a charge of shooting with intent to kill. Duggan and three other men attempted a Western "hold-up" at the Red Light Hotel last week. The bartender, Fred Littlewood, resisted and struck Duggan with a beer-glass. Duggan shot at Littlewood twice.

ARMED STOWAWAYS.

Attack Sailors on the Austrian Steamer Margherita.

New York, March 10. — Fierce struggles with stowaways armed with knives were reported by the captain of the Austrian steamer, Margherita, which arrived yesterday from Mediterranean ports. "Three days out from Messina," said the captain, "four fellows came crawling out of the fore hatch with knives. They threatened the sailors but were quickly knocked down and disarmed. I locked them up in the hospital and gave them bread and water In the afternoon of the same day 13 men covered with coal dust, came up out of the bunkers. They had knives, too, but my crew was ready to fight and we took the knives away from them. That night we got to Algiers, and policemen took off the stowaways."

HOUSEY'S RAPIDS IS IN LINE.

George C. Charles Tells What Dodd's Kidney Pills did for Him.

Took Him From his Bed, Made Him a Well Man Able and Willing to do a Fair Day's Work.

Housey's Rapids, Ont., Mar. 8. — Special.—As every city, town and village in Canada seems to be giving its evidence as to the wonderful cures resulting from Dodd's Kidney Pills, there is no reason Housey's Rapids should not be in line. People here have Kidney troubles just the same as elsewhere, and like other they have used Dodd's Kidney Pills and been cured.

One of the most remarkable cures was that of Geo. C. Chalker. He says: "I am cured of my Kidney Complaint. I have no doubt about it in the least. I weigh ten pounds more than I did fourteen months ago, can do a fair day's work every day and I am clear of my old enemy, lame back, heavy aching arms, dull bloated eyes,—yes, I tis all gone, purged out by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"No one can realise the relief except those who have been through it all. I was so bad I could not work hard, but was compelled to make a living. My head felt so bad that my eyes would seem to float. I felt tired all the time, my arms felt useless at times and so very heavy. At last I was laid up and could do no work.

"Then I was induced to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and you see the result. It only took six boxes to cure me completely."

And Mr. Chalker is only one of many in this neighbourhood who charge their good health up to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Why a Woman Nags.

A doctor expresses the opinion that nine times out of ten the woman who nags is tired. One time out of ten she is hateful. Times out of mind her husband is to blame. The cases that come under the physician's eye are those of the women who are tired and who have been tired so long that they are suffering from some form of nervous disease.

They may think they are only tired, but in fact they are ill. In such cases the woman often suffers more from her nagging than her husband or the children with whom she finds fault. She knows she does it. She does not intend to do it. She suffers in her own self respect when she does it and in the depth of her soul longs for something to stop it.

The condition is usually brought on by broken sleep, improper food, want of some other exercise than housekeeping and enough of out of door air and practical, objective thinking. It is often the most unselfish and most affectionate of women who fall into this state.

They are too much devoted to their families to give themselves enough of any healthy exercise and diversion, enough of naps, perhaps, or theaters or concerts.

White Hands.

Cleanliness is the first essential for white hands, and therefore when rough work has to be done it is well, if possible, to put on gloves. Prevention is better than cure, and as nothing spoils the hands like getting them grimed this should be avoided as far as possible. It is, however, not always possible to wear gloves for dirty work, so one must be prepared for one's hands being sometimes very much soiled. When this is the case, don't go to work upon them with soda, soap and a brush, for that would roughen them dreadfully. Instead take some vaseline, lard or oil and rub it into the hands, and then wash them thoroughly with a good toilet soap and a piece of flannel in warm water. The flannel will soon clean them and without injuring the skin in any way. It is far better than a nail brush for ordinary use and if used regularly a nail brush will be found almost if not entirely superfluous. That is a thing to be remembered, for the use of a brush roughens the finger tips and nails and makes them more liable to become soiled than they need be.

For Pressing Sleeves.

In pressing sleeves, which are the bane of the amateur's life, keep a wooden rolling pin for that purpose alone. Insert in the sleeve, and the pressing of seams and wrists also is as easily done as though it were a flat surface. Cover pin with flannel. Keep a heavy piece of flannel to lay over the ironing board when pressing wool goods. This prevents the shiny spots so objectionable in a finished garment.

More Men Than Women.

What about the women of Canada? It would be interesting to know what the proportion of female depositors is in the large banks and the Postoffice Savings Bank. In looking up the proportion of sexes per 1,000 of the population we find that in 1901 the males were 512, as compared to 488 females. A note at the bottom of the page tells us that during the last twenty years there has been a constantly decreasing proportion of the female, or, as the statistician gallantly put it, "fair sex."

SPECIAL SERVICES

In the Park Street Baptist Church This Week.

In the Park street Baptist church this week, Rev. A. E. de St. Dalmas, of St. Catharines, will preach each evening and assist Pastor Hannah. Last evening there was a good attendance. The subject was "The Wonderful Results of even Imperfect Knowledge," founded upon Matt. 14, 35. Mr. St. Dalmas asked and tersely answered three questions:

1. What kind of a knowledge had these people of Jesus? An extremely limited knowledge, but a very desirable and practical knowledge. They did not allow their limited knowledge of the Man of Nazareth prevent them using the little they did know.

2. What effect had this limited knowledge they possessed of Jesus, upon them? It gave them faith in Him, it led them to think of others so that they even "ran" through that whole region and published the glad tidings of the presence of the Great Physician; and more they literally carried their sick on their backs to Jesus. Mark 6, 25. The preacher applied these thoughts to our own town, and said that there were those in Peterborough who were so far away from Christ, and so low down in sin, that unless God's people went to them with hearts filled with the love of God, they would never be reached. Oh, how true it is!

"Down in the human heart, crushed by the tempter,
Feelings lie buried that grace can restore.
Touched by a loving hand, wakened by kindness,
Chords that were broken will vibrate once more."

3. What results followed the practical use of their very limited knowledge? Jesus was not only willing to receive the most hopeless and loathsome cases, but he graciously treated them all. The application was made that there were just two things needful to know to be saved by Jesus: namely, first that we are sinners, and, second, that Jesus is the Saviour of sinners. These two coming together by simple faith united, are like two links melted together. The sermon was well illustrated.

The following are the subjects for the rest of the week:

Tuesday—"The King's Business."
Wednesday—"Gold, Gold, Gold."
Thursday—"A Reasonable Case."
Friday—"Ambassadors."

Good singing and a hearty invitation is extended to all to be present.

CARPENTERS' UNION

Met in Discussion Last Night at the Orange Hall, Simcoe Street.

The regular fortnightly meeting of the local union No. 673, Carpenters and Joiners, was held last night in the Orange Hall, 139 Simcoe street. The President, Mr. J. Jones, was in the chair, and about 90 members of the union were present.

On motion it was unanimously decided to raise the scale of wages from 20c. to 22 1-2 cents per hour, this alteration to come into effect on the 1st of May, next.

After some further discussion upon this and other matters the meeting adjourned.

HELD A ROUSING MEETING.

The T. A. S. Lacrosse Club Organized.

Mr. Joe Begley was Elected President—Strong List of Officers.

The largest meeting in the history of athletics in connection with St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society was held in the rooms of that Society last evening, when the re-organization of the lacrosse club was effected, and the officers elected for the coming season. The enthusiasm manifested by the large number present was of the red-hot variety, and the speeches made during the evening went to prove that the prospects for a successful lacrosse season are very bright.

All of last year's players, both senior and junior were present at the meeting, and they all seemed anxious to get into the game as soon as possible. Considerable new blood will likely appear on the green this season, which together with the excellent material which constituted the teams of last year, ought to make things boom in T.A.S. lacrosse circles the coming summer.

Mr. John O'Brien, President of the Athletic Section, occupied the chair, and Mr. J. A. Sharpe acted as secretary pro tem.

The treasurer, Mr. Jas. O'Brien, made a statement regarding the receipts and expenditures of the club for last season, which was highly satisfactory to the meeting.

THE OFFICERS.

The next order of business was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:—

Patrons and Patronesses—Mr. and Mrs. John O'Toole, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Devine, Rev. Father Phelan, Rev. Father McColl, Dr. and Mrs. Coughlin, Dr. McGrath, Dr. McNulty, Alderman and Mrs. O'Connell, Mr. and Mrs. H. LeBrun, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Alf. McDonald, Alderman and Mrs. Corkery, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Houden, David Conroy, Jr.

Hon. President—Rev. Dr. O'Brien.

Hon. Vice-Presidents—Messrs. John O'Brien and T. Kelly.

President—Mr. Joseph Begley.

1st Vice-President — Mr. J. A. Sharpe.

2nd Vice-President—Mr. Fred McFadden.

Secretary-Treasurer — Mr. T. J. Begley.

Manager—Mr. Wm. Grady.

Executive Committee—Messrs. Albert Doris, Fred Cook, R. J. Begley, Manager Grady, and Captain, (when elected.)

A communication was read from Mr. E. S. Clarry, acting secretary of the proposed Trent Valley Lacrosse League, inviting the club to send two delegates to a meeting to be held on March 28th for the purpose of discussing the formation of the proposed league.

Messrs. Geo. Lynch and W. Meagher were appointed delegates to the meeting.

Rev. Father Phelan, next addressed the meeting at some length, and imparted some good sound advice and offered some very valuable suggestions for the team to consider. In order to encourage the game he announced that he would give the club a gold medal to be awarded at the end of the season to the player who proved himself to be the most enthusiastic member of the team, punctual at practice, a hard worker on the field, and all the other qualifications which a true athlete should possess. Rev. Father Phelan's kindness was suitably recognized by the boys.

Father Phelan further showed his interest in the game by offering to donate a silver cup for competition at his picnic on May 24th between T. A.S. team and an outside club.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien, also addressed the meeting, and spoke words of encouragement to all present to enter into the game with the greatest enthusiasm the coming season.

The Executive Committee was instructed to see after the fixing up of the Murray street school grounds. The grounds will be levelled and rolled and a grand stand for the convenience of those attending the attractions during the season, will be erected as soon as possible. It is expected that when the contemplated improvements are made that the grounds will be in first-class condition.

During the evening the club was presented with a beautifully framed picture of last year's team with the club trophies from Mr. R. M. Roy, and a vote of thanks was tendered that gentleman for his kindness.

The T.A.S. II Lacrosse Club will meet for organization on Thursday, March 19th.

STOCK YARDS.

Will the Town Control Them?—Mr. Kennedy's Suggestion.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy's lease of the stock market site in the south end of the town expires on May 1st, and Mr. Kennedy has expressed a desire that the council should take over the yards and operate them in a similar manner as the local up town produce market is controlled, at the same time, however, paying him a reasonable figure for the improvements he has made to the property.

The Market Committee met this morning and Mr. Kennedy was heard in regard to the matter. It is thought that the stock yards and the local market might be operated by the market clerk quite successfully, thereby affording equal privileges to all the cattle merchants of the town.

The Market Committee adjourned to view the yards and obtain the opinions of the other cattle merchants regarding the matter. The committee will meet again this evening.

THE WESTWOOD MYSTERY.

The Inquest Opened at 10 o'clock This Morning.

The inquest to inquire into the cause of death of John Wood, who so mysteriously met his death at Harrison's Corners, on the boundary line between Asphodel and Otonabee, opened at ten o'clock this morning before Coroner Grey. It was decided to hold a post mortem examination of the remains. The post mortem will be conducted this evening by Dr. Shaw, of Keene, and Dr. Redmond, of Westwood. The only evidence taken to-day was that of Constable McClelland, of Westwood, who told of the finding of the body. The deceased's coat and hat were found on the 6th concession line of Otonabee, about six miles from where the body was found on Monday morning. There was about $3 in deceased's pocket. The inquest will likely be resumed to-morrow.

ICE JAMMED

In the Creek This Morning and Caused Trouble.

Peterborough was this morning threatened with the usual spring flood, and the bridge at Brock street over the town creek, which is at any time in a frail condition, was in great danger of being swept away. An ice jam at that point was the cause of the trouble, and a force of men under Town Engineer Hay prevented a state of ruin to the bridge. The ice was finally worked away, but a similar congestion occurred at the Lock Works. For a while it looked as though the premises at this point were going to be flooded, but such a state of affairs was fortunately prevented.

The following communication from Mr. E. S. Clarry, was read:

To the Secretary of the Athletic Lacrosse Club,—

Dear Sir, — The success of the Trent Valley Hockey League in promoting friendly rivalry among the clubs of the Trent Valley District, has proved so successful, and has been of such benefit to hockey in general throughout the province that it has been thought advisable to organize a Lacrosse League on much the same basis.

There is a number of Lacrosse Clubs throughout the Trent Valley District which, if banded together, would form a strong league, and would promote the best interests of lacrosse in their respective towns. In view of this fact your club is asked to send two delegates to a meeting to be held in the Oriental hotel, Peterborough, at 9 a.m., on Saturday, March 28, when it is to be hoped, organization will be effected.

I have been asked by several clubs, favourable to the proposition, to act as secretary until the organization meeting, and would be glad if your club would communicate with me, letting me know as to what they think in regard to the matter.

Yours truly,
E. S. CLARRY.

Mr. Glover remarked that rivalry between neighbouring towns would be greater than rivalry between towns of some distance apart. In the new T.V.L.L., the towns would be close together, and more interest would be taken in the matches, while in the C.L.A., sometimes, the town was a long way off. In view of this he suggested that the Athletics join the proposed Trent Valley League in preference to the C.L.A..

On motion of Mr. H. Morgan, seconded by Mr. R. M. Glover, it was decided that the club send two delegates to the organization meeting to be held in the Oriental Hotel on Saturday, March 28th.

On motion it was resolved that Messrs. H. R. H. Kenner and A. W. McPherson, go as delegates to the meeting of the new Trent Valley Lacrosse League.

THE OFFICERS.

The election of officers, which was then proceeded with, resulted as follows:

Patrons — Mr. C. F. McGill and Mr. W. A. Sanderson.

Patronesses—Mrs. McGill and Mrs. Sanderson.

President—H. R. H. Kenner.

1st Vice-President—Mr. R. M. Glover.

2nd Vice-President—Mr. Fred Clarke.

Secretary and Manager — Mr. A. W. McPherson.

Treasurer and Assistant Secretary —Mr. H. Rush, jr.

Executive Committee — Messrs. E. Dillon, W. H. Patterson, and H. Morgan.

On motion of Mr. Glover it was decided that the captain be elected two weeks after the beginning of practise.

The meeting then adjourned until further notice.

A MEETING

Of the Central Fair Directors, Held on Saturday.

On Saturday evening last a meeting of the Central Fair Directors was held, in order that some matters of importance might come under discussion. Some time back, committees were appointed to endeavour to obtain subscriptions for the purpose of setting the Fair on a substantial financial basis.

It was reported that some $700 had already been guaranteed and that some of the best territory in town had yet to be gone over. Hon. J. R. Stratton was present and the matter of Government grant was discussed. It was finally proposed that the president, Mr. Hughes-Charles, accompany Mr. Stratton to Toronto on Monday for the purpose of interviewing the department on the matter. Committees were appointed to wait upon the town and county councils with reference to grants.

It is proposed to make horses and livestock an important feature of the fair and exceptionally fine prizes will be offered.

GOLF MEN ASSEMBLED AT LONG'S.

Mr. J. W. Garvin as Host at an Enjoyable Dinner.

INTERESTING SPEECHES MADE

Mr. C. H. Bradburn Also Said Good-bye.

The Opinion Expressed That the Golfers Should Hold More Social Functions of the Kind.

Long's Palm Parlours have been the scene of many enjoyable little social functions, but perhaps none more enjoyable than the banquet which Mr. J. W. Garvin last night tendered the members of the Peterborough Golf Club, prior to his departure from Peterborough to make his home in Detroit, where he will have his headquarters as manager for the State of Michigan of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Company. The banquet, in fact, was the outcome of a wager which was made by Mr. Garvin some time ago with another member of the Club, and which resulted in his owing that gentleman and a few friends a supper. However, he made the affair larger than originally intended, and included as guests all the members of the Golf Club who found it convenient to attend. The occasion, too, was looked upon as an opportune time for saying good-bye to Mr. C. H. Bradburn, the secretary-treasurer of the club, who to-day left to reside in Western Canada, and seek his fortune in the growing district around Battleford.

The tables in Long's Palm Parlours were very handsomely decorated with flowers, and the colours of the Peterborough Golf Club, green and red, were much in evidence. Songs, speeches and instrumental music contributed to a most delightful evening, and Mr. Garvin and Mr. Bradburn were extended the heartiest good wishes of their friends for success in their respective new homes.

THOSE PRESENT.

Mr. J. W. Garvin, the host of the evening, occupied the chair, and the vice-chair was occupied by Mr. J. H. Burnham. Seated around the tables were Messrs. John Crane, H. D. Burnett, R. Fair, E. G. Patterson, F. McGill, R. J. Frost, Dr. Charles Neill, J. Granger, —. Garvin, Dr. Greer, Dr. Eastwood, S. Ray, W. Stocker, D. Hall, A. H. Stratton, Dr. McFall, C. H. Bradburn, D. Hughes-Charles, Peter Campbell, V. McGill, S. S. Moore and E. S. Clarry.

After ample justice had been done to the good things provided, Mr. Garvin explained the circumstances which lead up to the giving of the banquet, which he hoped would be an annual affair. He went on to say that golf was a great game which aroused no undue excitement, while it did at the same time afford much pleasure. He thought that Peterborough should have a good club and the indications were that they would have a strong one this season. He expressed deep regret in severing his connection with the golf club of Peterborough. Speaking of matters generally, Mr. Garvin thought that it would be the last occasion he would have in Peterborough in placing upon record his views regarding the future of the town and he wished to say that he hoped that it would not be many months before the union of Mr. Peterborough and Miss Ashburnham would be solemnized. He would like to see it proclaimed on the 24th of May which could thereafter be annually celebrated as a civic event of importance in the history of the new city.

The toast of the King was duly honoured.

The toast of the Peterborough Golf Club was heartily drunk by all the members, after which Mr. Walter Stocker sang "The Boys of the Old Brigade," in most excellent style.

Mr. Peter Campbell, the Hon. President of the Club, in replying to the toast, claimed to be the remaining member of the original Golf Club in Peterborough, and he gave some amusing reminiscences of the early stages of golf in the town. Mr. Bartley who was then a student in the Canadian General Electric Company, and who came from Montreal where he had learned the game, taught the local men to play and it had flourished in Peterborough ever since. Mr. Campbell in his concluding remarks referred to the loss the club and the town would sustain through the removal of Mr. Garvin and Mr. Bradburn from Peterborough.

Mr. John Crane, the president of the club, also replied, expressing regret at seeing Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Garvin take their departure from town.

Mr. Burnett, the captain of the team, next spoke, and in the course of a humorous little speech, he explained the details of the manner in which the wager arose which resulted in the banquet that they were then enjoying.

MR. GARVIN'S HEALTH.

Mr. Burnham, the vice-chairman, then arose to propose the toast of the chairman. He did so in a most appropriate speech in which he eulogized Mr. Garvin and Mr. Bradburn for their past services in behalf of the club, and the loss the town would sustain in their leaving town. He would like to see the banquet, such as they were having this evening, an annual affair. He thought that there was need of more social gatherings of the kind, in order that the members of the club might meet each other more often. Continuing, Mr. Burnham spoke of Mr. Garvin's ability generally. He referred to his able services to the Conservative party of West Peterborough, and his weight as a platform speaker. He was a man of forcible character and an estimable citizen. More than that he was exceedingly popular, and particularly in connection with the Golf Club his genial manner would be greatly missed. It would in fact be many a day before the gap caused by his absence would be filled.

Mr. Garvin's reply was short, but undoubtedly sincerely expressed. He thanked Mr. Burnham from the bottom of his heart for the kind words he had used in proposing his toast, and the hearty manner in which they had honoured his health. Hastily reviewing his ten years residence in Peterborough Mr. Garvin stated that they were ten of the happiest years of his life. Peterborough had done much for him, and in return he had tried to do something for Peterborough. He had endeavoured to do what he could for his party, for education, and for literature. He would always look upon Peterborough as his home, and possibly sometime in the future he might return here to live, and if such should be the case, he would return rejoicing. Referring to the future of the Golf Club Mr. Garvin said he hoped to see a friendly feeling of rivalry created amongst the clubs of this district, viz., Orillia, Port Hope, Cobourg and Peterborough, as it was in such a manner that the interest was maintained.

Mr. Gilbert Markle, a nephew of Mr. Garvin's, and a rising young violinist, then rendered an instrumental selection that was highly appreciated.

MR. BRADBURN'S HEALTH.

Dr. Greer proposed the health of Mr. Bradburn. In doing so he very heartily endorsed all that Mr. Burnham had said concerning Mr. Garvin. He made an eulogistic reference to Mr. Bradburn's services to the club, and expressed the hope that he would prosper in the west.

Mr. Bradburn was greeted with the strains "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." He regretted leaving Peterborough for many reasons. It was a delightful place to live in, no doubt, but there were undoubtedly great opportunities in the west for young men. He hoped to grow up with the country, but while far away he would not forget the kind associations he had left behind in Peterborough. Speaking of his connection with the Golf Club Mr. Bradburn humorously remarked that as treasurer of the organization he had seen the members at their very worst. They were a fine lot of associates however, and he hoped the club would continue to prosper.

After a song from Mr. Stocker, Mr. Granger responded to the toast of "Scotland," proposed by Mr. J. H. Burnham.

Mr. Campbell proposed the toast of "The Colts," to which Mr. A. H. Stratton and Mr. E. G. Patterson replied.

Mr. Markle favoured the gathering with another violin selection, after which Mr. Hughes-Charles proposed the toast of the ladies, which was responded to by Dr. Neill and Dr. McFall.

"The Veterans," proposed by Mr. Mr. Stocker, was responded to by Mr. Sam Ray.

The health of the absent members, Messrs. C. F. McGill, R. Neill, R. M. Dennistoun and R. M. Hamilton, was duly honoured.

The health of the press was proposed and responded to by representatives present, after which the affair concluded by the singing of the National Anthem.

During the evening Mr. J. Crane presided at the piano.

Asthma and Kidney Trouble Both Cured.

Mrs. Jos. Wright, of Logdon, Was So Ill That Her Husband Gave Up in Despair and Neighbors Came In to See Her Die.

Her Druggist, Knowing How Greatly Others Had Been Benefitted, Strongly Advised the Peerless Remedy, Powley's Liquified Ozone.

Almost Immediately She Began to Get Better and After Having Taken Four Bottles Was Entirely Cured--Is Now a Different Woman.

London, Jan. 28, 1903.

The Ozone Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Gentlemen,—For over nine years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney trouble. I have spent a great deal of money in doctoring, but got no relief. My suffering at times would prostrate me and I was unable to do my little housework. I tried all kinds of medicine, but to no purpose.

I have been a dreadful sufferer from asthma also. Many times I have been so bad my neighbors thought I would die. I was run down and was a physical wreck. My husband had given up in despair and both he and myself thought I would never get better. Some of the attacks were so bad that my neighbors would come in to see me die and my husband would open the window to let in the air and watch me, thinking I was dying.

Mr. E. W. Boyle, druggist, advised me to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I bought a bottle and began taking it according to directions. I had not taken it long before I began to get better. I have now taken four bottles and I am completely relieved of the asthma and have not had an attack of my old troubles for over two months and am in perfect health. My neighbors all tell me I am a different woman, and I feel that I am, as I have not had such good health for nine years. I think there is no other such medicine on earth

I know I should have been in my grave but for Ozone. I recommend it to everyone I meet and for all ills, as I know it is a great medicine. I can't find words to praise it enough and my husband says it is the cheapest doctor he can have and does not begrudge the money he pays for Ozone, as he gets full value in using it. We would not be without it in our house if it cost $5 a bottle, for it is worth $5 a bottle.

I gave a neighbor part of a bottle to try it and told him it was the only medicine that did me any good.

MRS. JOSEPH WRIGHT,
763 York St., East London, Ont.

What Mrs. Wright's Case Proves.

Asthma and kidney trouble are two widely different diseases, and as a rule a remedy that would cure one would be entirely worthless in the treatment of the other. The fact that Mrs. Wright was cured of both proves that each of these diseases is caused by disease germs and that Powley's Liquified Ozone destroys disease germs wherever located.

A BITTER PROSPECT.

C. P. R. Men at Winnipeg and Calgary Are Ordered Out.

COMPANY REJECTED TERMS.

The Proposed Vancouver Agreement, Endorsed by the Board of Trade, Unacceptable to the Railway—Fight For the Formal Recognition of the Union — 150 Men Out at Winnipeg.

Vancouver, B.C., March 10.— The strikers' memorandum, as endorsed by the Board of Trade, has been refused by the C.P.R. The strike will be continued, therefore, on a much larger scale. Winnipeg and Calgary men were ordered out yesterday morning. The fight will now be for nothing short of formal recognition of the union.

150 Out at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., March 10.—At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon 150 men, comprising the entire freight handling staff and a majority of the clerks employed in the general freight offices of the C.P.R. here went out on strike. The receipt of a wire from George Estes, president of U. B. of R. E., now at Vancouver was the direct cause of the movement, which has been expected for the past three days.

Vice-President William Gault, who received the message at 3 p.m., presented it at the general superintendent's office at 3.30. Mr. Leonard was ill in bed, and the notice was served on J. J. Scully, chief clerk, that the men would quit work at 4 o'clock and stay out until the agreement presented in Vancouver was ratified in Montreal. No response was given, and the men are now on strike.

A large meeting of the strikers was held last evening, but beyond reiterating their determination to stay out and attending to detail business nothing was announced for publication.

The strikers claim that they have the company completely tied up, as only a few clerks, including the son of the general superintendent, are now at their desks. The officials are reticent, and claim that they will have no difficulty in filling the positions of the strikers. It is rumored that the company will bring in men from Montreal to handle the business.

All Charges Denied.

St. Louis, March 10.—A sweeping denial of all the charges made by the Wabash Railway Company in its bill of complaint upon which was issued the injunction to prevent a strike among its employes, was contained in the answer to the injunction suit filed yesterday in the United States District Court by council for the Wabash firemen and trainmen. At 10 o'clock this morning Federal Judge Adams will set a date for hearing arguments.

Brickmakers Strike.

St. Louis, March 10.—Between three and four thousand union men of the Allied Brickmaking Trades struck yesterday to enforce demands for a recognition of their union, for an eight-hour day and a 5 per cent. increase.

Boilermakers' Demands.

New York, March 10.—Demands were made yesterday on all the shipyards in the vicinity of New York by the Boilermakers' Union for a general increase in wages and shorter hours of work. The labor men say if the demands are not granted there will be a strike of all the trades connected with shipbuilding.

Police Protection Asked.

Windsor, March 10.—Manager McGregor of the Walkerville Wagon Works complained to Magistrate Bartlet of Windsor that the six striking painters from the works are raising disturbances about the plant. Police protection was asked.

HIS NECK BROKEN.

George Cooper, the Wrestler, Killed While in the Ring.

New York, March 10.—After completing the autopsy on the body of George Cooper, whose neck was broken while wrestling with Frank Wagner at the Turnverein at Green Point Friday night, Coroner's Physician Wuest said yesterday that the accident was most unusual. Wagner had partially thrown Cooper, who suddenly lost his balance, and fell off the mat, striking the floor on the back of his neck. His long-shanked collar button struck the side of the spinal column at its weakest place, causing the fracture.

G.T.P. Directors at Ottawa.

Ottawa, March 10.—C. M. Hays, W. Wainwright of the G.T.R., and Senator Cox, who are all directors of the Grand Trunk Pacific, arrived in the city yesterday from Montreal, and had an interview with the Premier and several of the Ministers of the Crown.

Another New Judge.

Ottawa, March 9.—Napoleon Charbonneau is to be appointed judge for the Sorel district in succession to the late Justice Fontaine. Mr. Charbonneau is a lawyer representing Montreal and formerly represented Jacques Cartier in the Commons.

North Ontario Campaign.

Zephyr, March 10.—Sir William Mulock closed the campaign in this riding by speaking here last night in Mr. Grant's interest.

With the flesh gradually failing, the back aching, and the despair which often comes to victims of this ailment, only the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will restore hope, confidence and health. An Ancient Bill of Fare.

Dinner was a substantial affair in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, who was by no means indifferent to the pleasures of the table. The first course on great occasions would probably be wheaten flummery, stewed broth, spinach broth, gruel or hotch-potch. The second consisted of fish, among which we may note lamphreys, stockfish and sturgeon, with side dishes of porpoise. The third course comprised quaking pudding, bag pudding, black puddings, white puddings and marrow puddings. Then came veal, beef, capons, humble pie, mutton, marrow pastries, Scotch collops, wild fowl and game. In the fifth course all kinds of sweets, creams in all their varieties, custards, cheese cakes, jellies, warden pies, junkets, syllabubs, and so on, to be followed perhaps by white cheese and tansy cake. For the drinks—ale and beer, wine, sack and numerous varieties of mead or metheglin, some of which were concocted out of as many as five-and-twenty herbs, and were redolent of sweet country perfume.—St. James Gazette.

The Dread of an Operation

Stares Many Pile Sufferers in the Face—The Safest and Surest Cure is

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Possibly you are a sufferer from piles and have been disheartened and discouraged because your physician has told you that nothing short of an operation will cure you.

You dread the thought of a surgical operation, for, besides the expense and strain on the nervous system, there is the risk of life itself. It is only a few months since a member of the Ontario Legislature lost his life as the result of an operation for piles. The risk of an operation is too great, and, besides, it is unnecessary.

Dr. Chase's Ointment has frequently cured piles after surgical operations have failed. It is every day curing cases which physicians have stated to be incurable by any treatment short of an operation.

If you could read a few of the letters we receive from persons who have been cured of piles by using Dr. Chase's Ointment you would soon be convinced of its wonderful control over this frightfully common disease.

Rev. S. A. Dupray, Methodist minister, Comseeon, Prince Edward County, Ont., states:—"I was troubled with itching and bleeding piles for years, and they ultimately attained to a very violent form. Large lumps or abscesses formed so that it was with great difficulty and considerable pain that I was able to stoop. At this severe crisis I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, but I had little or no faith in it, as I had tried various remedies before and to no purpose.

"Now, imagine how great and joyous was my surprise to find that just the one box cured me, so that the lumps disappeared and also the external swelling. I feel like a different man to-day, and have not the least doubt that Dr. Chase's Ointment saved me from a very dangerous and painful operation, and many years of suffering. It is with the greatest pleasure and with a thankful heart that I give this testimonial, knowing that Dr. Chase's Ointment has done so much for me. You are at perfect liberty to use this testimonial as you see fit for the benefit of others similarly afflicted."

Dr. Chase's Ointment 60 cents a box. At all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

I was afraid I was going into consumption. I was advised to try DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP. I had little faith in it, but before I had taken one bottle I began to feel better, and after the second I felt as well as ever. My cough has completely disappeared.

A BIG SAVINGS BANK

BUILDING AND STAFF THE LARGEST IN THE ENTIRE WORLD.

The Workings of the British Postoffice Savings Bank—An Army of 2,000 Clerks in One Central Office—13,000 Postoffices Take Deposits From a Shilling, May a Penny, Throughout the Kingdom—Has $6,500,000 Profit Since Starting.

The British Postoffice Savings Bank is the biggest savings bank in the entire world, in which the depositors daily number 40,000 persons. It is the model for similar Government savings banks in every country in Europe. Yet it took more than half a century of bills and arguments and debates to persuade Parliament to make so radical an experiment. At first the plan was regarded as rank socialism, and caused far more discussion than the plan Parliament is now considering to establish a public telephone service under the control of the postoffice department. A year after operations began, 180,000 accounts had been opened. Between 1875 and 1880 the average number of accounts was nearly 2,000,000. To-day the total number of open accounts is over 8,000,000, with an average of $80 standing to the credit of each, and the total amount on deposit being about $700,000,000 for which every depositor has direct Government security.

It is this astonishing growth that a year or two ago compelled the postal department to move its bank out of the grim building it occupied in Queen Victoria street, to a five-acre home out at West Kensington.

Entrepot of 13,500 Postoffices.

Although the new building is the largest bank building in the world, money is neither deposited nor withdrawn there, and probably a large proportion of the depositors never so much as see the place. The actual money changing is done over the counters of 13,500 little postoffices all over the United Kingdom, and the big new building is devoted to the army of clerks and bookkeepers required to keep the accounts and attend to the tens of thousands of letters that pour in each day.

Not one of these letters bears a stamp, for the Government makes no charge for carrying letters connected with its banking department, and will take infinite pains to correspond with a boy in the northernmost town in the kingdom who wants to place as small a sum as one shilling in the hands of the Postmaster-General, even if, as frequently happens, he wants to draw it out again a few days later. And when that boy has saved as much as a pound he gets interest on it at the rate of 2½ per cent.

This Bank Can't Break.

Aside from the comfortable knowledge that the bank can't break unless the Government goes to smash, the chief beauty of the postal savings bank is its simplicity. You can open an account with a shilling at almost any postoffice in the land—and in London, for instance, there is a dingy little postoffice with two or three girl clerks every few blocks. Except in the busiest streets, these postoffices consist of one little bare room, or even one corner of a shop, yet in almost all of these unimposing pens you can do an astonishing amount of business; for each is not only a postoffice, but a public telegraph station, from which you can send a message to Victoria or to St. Petersburg, if you want to; a message station where you can get a blue-coated boy to do an errand for you at sixpence that would cost half a dollar in any Canadian city, and a banking house where you can deposit or withdraw money or buy Government stocks without a letter of introduction, and without being known to a soul in the place providing you have followed a few simple rules. Not only this, but you can get your life insured there, or buy an annuity, for these are recent additions to the Government banking department.

A Multifarious Business.

There are five young women in the postoffice around the corner from my house, writes a London correspondent, and without aid from a man they transact all of this seemingly intricate business from 8 in the morning till at 8 at night in a room so narrow that the counter running down the centre of it gives the girls scarcely room to pass each other behind it, and the customers scarcely room to pass each other in front of it.

It is a dull hour indeed when the public part of the room is not so crowded that the three or four messenger boys who are in attendance do not have to dive and squirm when they want to reach the door. Yet the women never seem flustered, and I have not heard one of them making a mistake; a marvel that is explained only by their long experience, the care with which they are marked for promotion and the simplicity of the rules under which they transact so multifarious a business.

Simple Business Methods.

A stranger coming into this little postoffice and expressing a desire to open an account is asked to fill out a blank, giving his name, address and occupation, gets a depositor's book, in which he writes his name, pays in his money, and has the sum recorded in his book. That is all there is to it, except that in the course of three or four days he gets by mail a further receipt from the head office. He may make his next deposit in an office at the other end of the kingdom, if he wishes to do so. It doesn't matter where the money is paid in.

When he wants to withdraw the money he has to send to the central department, in a free envelope, a notice of withdrawal, which he can get without charge at any postoffice. The central office sends back a warrant, which he presents with his deposit book at any postoffice. He signs the warrant in the presence of one of the clerks, and the handwriting is compared with his own signature in his deposit book, and the money is paid. If he is in a hurry for his money he can get it in two or three hours from the time he asks for it by means of the telegraph.

No one is permitted to deposit more than $250 in one year, and interest is not paid on a larger total of deposits than $1,000. A deposit book may not be used as a security for a loan, and a deposit in the postal bank may not be attached.

The Infant Department.

The paternal care with which the big John Bull looks after the infant department of his savings bank is almost funny. Two means are provided for the saving of children's pennies. One is the penny bank and the other is the stamp card. The latter is most in use, because it's so simple. The infant economist buys a stamp with each penny saved and pastes it in place on one of the forms supplied. When he has saved 12 pennies he sends it in and the Government looks after the shilling as gravely as if it were a million sterling. Schoolmasters whose pupils want to patronize this plan are provided with stamps on credit for the purpose, regardless of the appalling amount of bookkeeping required to record the fact that His Majesty's Government has lent to John Smith three shillings' worth of stamps, that he has paid nine-pence on them, that one shilling threepence is now overdue, and that the remaining shilling will be due one month hence. When the school is big enough the Postmaster-General even takes the trouble to send around a clerk to make the collections.

The Penny Banks.

Equal pains are taken with the penny banks, for which a trustee, usually the school teacher, makes the combined deposits. The Government supplies rules for the management of such banks, by which the children go through about the same form for banking their pennies with the teacher that the elders do for banking their shillings with the postoffice. The Government even supplies at cost such cash books and ledgers for the use of these penny banks and carries deposit books, cards, cash books and ledgers back and forth from the central office free of charge. If the penny bank is patronized sufficiently well the Government even goes so far as to print the name of the little institution on its books and cards without charge.

In addition to all this banking business one can invest in Government stock through the postoffice to a total of $2,500. The stock can also be sold through the postoffice. The same department also provides life insurance and annuities up to $500 at the lowest rates.

Killed Out Private Banks.

The prodigious success of the postal savings bank played havoc for a while with the other savings banks. Since the postal bank was established in 1861, 421 of the private savings banks have been closed, and there are only 239 left in the United Kingdom, but most of these are said to be in a prosperous condition, and the decrease is thought to have stopped altogether. In most cases the accounts of the depositors in the banks that went out of business were transferred by agreement to the postal bank without loss of interest.

A Profitable Institution.

The prodigious increase in the business of the postal bank and the pains taken with small depositors require 3,000 clerks at the central office, and in the old comparatively small building in Queen Victoria street they were packed like sardines. A glimpse down the great rooms where the warrants are written and examined, each room, with its countless desks, would indicate that more bookkeeping is done in these two rooms than perhaps in any others in the world.

Yet, in spite of the great expense the postal savings bank has turned over to the Government $8,500,000 in profits since it was started.

Faith and Works.

A Presbyterian minister in Scotland once got into a debate with a boatman while crossing a river about faith and works, his position being that faith without works was enough. "Na, na," retorted the boatman with much seriousness; "faith without works 'll no' do. I'll gie you an instance. We'll ca' this this oar 'faith' and this ither oar 'works.' Very well, tak' 'faith' first." And while rowing with it alone the boat went round and round. "Now," said the boatman, "let's tak' 'works' next." And, rowing with it alone, the boat went round the other way.

"We will noo," continued the boatman, "tak' 'faith' and 'works' thegither. Noo," exclaimed he triumphantly as he rowed with both oars at the same time, "we can get ower the water, and this is the only way that we can get ower the troubled ocean o' the warl' tae the peaceful shores o' immortality."

"IMPOSSIBLE, for you to enjoy the happiness of motherhood," says the doctor. Sometimes he qualifies the statement, and says: "Impossible without an operation." Yet both these "impossibles" have been made possibles by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Many times the hindrances to motherhood are to be found in womanly diseases or weaknesses, which are perfectly and permanently cured by "Favorite Prescription." This great medicine for women cures irregularity and dries debilitating drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I wish to add my testimony to hundreds of others as to the value of Dr. Pierce's medicines," writes Mrs. Ida M. De Ford, of Latona, Hubbard Co., Minn. "Have doctored with a great many physicians—some specialists; have twice been in a hospital for treatment. My case has been regarded as a hopeless one, and they knew not what the trouble was. Heart was bad; stomach all out of order; tired out; severe pains in all parts of the body; sinking spells, and nearly every ailment a woman could have. I took many a bottle of 'patent medicines' without effect. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and ten months afterward I gave birth to a ten-pound boy. All physicians had stated as a fact that I never could bear a child. Both the baby and myself were strong, and I got along splendidly—thanks to your medicine."

If you have transgressed against the laws of nature, you must suffer. Self abuse, later excesses and private diseases have wrecked thousands of promising lives. Treat with scientific physicians and be cured. Avoid quacks. E. A. Sidney, of Toledo, says: "At the age of 14, I learned a bad habit and at 19 contracted a serious disease. I treated with a dozen doctors, who all promised to cure me. They got my money and I still had the disease. I had given up hope when a friend advised me to consult Drs. K. & K., who had cured him. Without any confidence I called on them, and Dr. Kennedy agreed to cure me or no pay. After taking the New Method Treatment for six weeks I felt like a new man. The drains ceased, worry veins disappeared, nerves grew stronger, hair stopped falling out, urine became clear and my sexual organs vitalized. I was entirely cured by Dr. Kennedy and recommend him from the bottom of my heart."

CAPITAL $850,000

Divided into 850,000 Shares, Par Value $1.00, Fully Paid and Non-Assessable

TREASURY STOCK—WORKING CAPITAL.....$400,000

No Bonds, Preferred Stock Nor Indebtedness.

The recent acquisition by this company of leases on 260 acres in the Wheatley District, and 150 acres additional in the Raleigh Field, makes its control of oil lands now over 2,000 acres in all, thus increasing its assets by 33⅓, with a corresponding increase in the intrinsic value of its stock. The fact that these additions were also made without drawing a dollar from its rapidly accumulating treasury funds, evidences the intent of its directors to continue the success of the company's operations, and let no opportunity pass to maintain its substantial character and leading position among Canadian enterprises.

At the customary oil field reckoning of one well to an acre, the probable output from these properties is almost beyond computation. The Wheatley property adjoins the several wells drilled and operated by the Union Gas & Oil Co., and is considered a very valuable acquisition; while President Woodward of the Dominion Company advises us that by the installation of the air compressor he expects to increase the output of the famous Gurd Gusher to 400 or 500 barrels a day—and this product is now bringing a higher price than any other petroleum oil on the North American continent. Contracts are also under way for the immediate development of both the new properties, where a very high grade quality of oil has been found.

In view of these facts, as well as the sound financial position now occupied by the company, the directors have decided that the sale of stock shall

Close at 35c Saturday March 14,

and that the price shall

Advance to 50c Monday, March 16.

The company is now paying dividends of one per cent monthly on par ($1.00 per share, fully paid and non-assessable) which at the present figure of 35c is practically 28 per cent. per annum on the investment. The next dividend will be payable April 1st, to all stockholders of record of March 25th; but those who subscribe by March 14th will secure a 3% monthly investment. We earnestly advise all who desire an interest in these wonderful fields to subscribe now and thus make sure of the greater income, and the greater profit possible by the advanced market value of the stock.

Prospectus, maps, etc., mailed free on request. Address all enquiries, and make all checks, drafts and orders payable to the Fiscal Agents.

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, March 10. — To go short of active stocks at this juncture is to gamble on the viable for the uncertain. Values are at present to a greater degree lower than in many a long month since prices ruled from five to thirty points below the record level of September last and general business is better; traders, scalpers and professionals generally, are still inclined to contest advances. The fact that there was no over night settlement of the S. Pac. minority shareholders fight does not mean that the railroad is going out of business or that the road will make a single dollar less earnings. All of the Pacifics are a buy on every little drive. S.P. will look mighty cheap ex. dividend the 3 1-2 p.c. to be declared Thursday. Copper B &O and Mex. are good to hold.

JOSEPH.

Liverpool — Cotton futures opened 5 to 6 points higher.

Liverpool wheat and corn quiet and unchanged.

New York, March 10. — We believe profits should not be ignored on this rally. It was largely brought about by short covering, and it seems likely that another opportunity will be afforded to buy at lower figures. We believe, however, that the bear campaign is not far from an end and advise the purchase after reactions on a scale down of copper, Atchs., Mex. Cent., M.OP., People's Gas, Pressed Steels. There is a deal pending in Ill. Cent. which will make it advisable to cover shorts and go long on any slump.

Stocks have had a substantial decline, in many cases falling below low levels of last fall.

TOPICS.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 10. — We look for renewed irregularity in market to-day and expect to see a lower range of values for the general list. Principal cause of rally yesterday p.m. covering of shorts and manipulation in South Pac. and U. Pac. Reports of conferences between Mr. Keene and Mr. Harriman, leading to a satisfactory adjustment of differences proved groundless. A large short interest was driven in yesterday and the market is in a weaker position as a consequence. Money situation unfavourable and we see nothing to encourage turning to the bull side.

Illinois for month of Jan. gross increase $250,000 and from July increase $1,650,000. 9.45 a.m.

M. & M.

New York, March 9. — After an early weakness to-day's market developed considerable strength and showed evidence of good support as well as investment buying. There is no doubt but what the recent break has brought the usual number of bargain-hunters into the market. This class of business has been plainly in evidence since last Friday. Atch., S.P. and Mex. as well as U.P. are being steadily picked up by this so-called investment public. There were a great many people in the street to-day who believed the market to be in an over-sold condition and ready for a natural rally. Many stocks were below there intrinsic value and the bargain-hunters took advantage of the fact and made purchases at prevailing prices. Rather look for a choppy, irregular market for some time until the situation becomes a little clearer. Under these conditions can hardly advise our clients to make new committments on the long side after this bulge except on sharp dips reselling on the rallies. The report that Kuhn, Loeb and Co. had taken over the holdings of the S.P. caused a further rally in all parts of th elist. S.P. scoring in advance of 4 points over this morning's prices. Considerable of the short interest has been eliminated, although a better feeling prevails in general.

Chicago — Wheat acts anything but encouraging to the bulls although there is a disposition to keep away from the short side. Unless exporters take hold more freely or there is some weather scare to help the bulls, think market will work slightly lower. Corn opened strong with cables higher, barring a further break in wheat; think corn should be bought as market will likely sell considerable higher for all options. Closing prices — Wheat, May, 74 1-2 a 5-8; corn, May, 47 1-2 a 5-8; oats, May, 34 7-8 a 35; pork, May, 18.32 1-2; Lard, May, 10.10 a 12 -12.

W. F. DEVER & CO.
Toronto.

Messrs. Thompson & Heron, Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

The security markets have suffered somewhat of a shake-out during the past week, for very obvious reasons, but we do not think there is any cause for genuine alarm at the present time. In the best informed circles the prevailing feeling is one of conservatism, with, however, any fear of critical conditions reserved for the future, rather than entertained for the present.

Considerable courage may be required to buy stocks when prices are down and gossip mongers busy concocting pessimistic yarns, but it cannot be gainsaid that such occasions are the opportunities availed of by the most successful operators to acquire what, when the air clears later, are realized as genuine bargains. If the average speculator in stocks would not hesitate so long in making up his mind as to the purchase he eventually makes, he would make much more money.

Prices of the standard issues based on earning capacity, present and prospective, seem to us very low to-day, and apart from th efact that a huge short interest in the market exists, should show very substantial appreciation within the next few weeks.

"Buy on breaks and sell on rallies" is a tried and reliable maxiom. One surely cannot make much mistake in buying on such a break as the present.

Nothing New in Norwood-T.A.S. Protest.

The Ladies' Match Postponed—Juveniles Played Hockey in the Slush.

THE NORWOOD PROTEST.

There is nothing new to relate in regard to the Norwood-T.A.S. protest. A meeting of the executive has not yet been called as the matter is is being considered by the President and Secretary of the League previous to allowing the matter to go before the entire executive.

THE LADIES' MATCH.

Owing to the very soft condition of the ice, the match between the Markham and the Peterborough Ladies' Hockey Teams, which was to have been played to-night, has been postponed until further notice. It looks as if the postponement will continue until next winter.

CITIZEN WRITES.

Dear Sir, — From the face of the grounds presented in Norwood's protests it seems as though a number of Peterborough citizens had moved to Norwood, as it was Peterborough people who attempted to mar the amateur standing of a boy who has played more games, of all kinds, than any other one in Peterborough, and who holds a position in our town as fire team driver.

It seems to be as though the would-be sports who lost their good coin on their bad judgment are trying now to secure their coin again, by fair or foul means, and to go after a boy, so clean and free from dirty work, as Walter Parnell, seems to be quite unfair.

Mr. Editor, within two weeks back, Parnell has been tried twice as to his cleanliness. On no less than two occasions has he been offered money (and in no small amounts either) to play off and let the opposing team win, so that would-be sports could clean up some coin.

Now, trusting that you may be able to make some remarks re this matter, I am, yours truly.

CITIZEN.

YESTERDAY'S EXCITING MATCH.

A most exciting hockey match was played in the slush behind the Drill Shed yesterday between two teams of boys, named respectively, the Red Roses and the West Enders, the game ending 3—2 in favour of the latter team. An army of about 250 kids marched into the Examiner office equipped in full hockey paraphrenalia and asked that the result of the game might be published. The teams were composed as follows:—

Red Roses — Goal, Clayton Cobb; point, Willie English; cover point, Kerbie Taylor; forwards, Arthur Overend, Frank Dunn, James English, Howard Heap.

West Enders, — Goal, J. O'Brien; point, J. Morrow; cover point, W. Morrow; forwards, H. Callaghan, J. Earo, F. Collins.

"Dr." McFadden officieted as referee, but timekeepers were not considered necessary as the players could not be easily sent to the boards.

OBITUARY.

Funeral of the Late Mrs. Milburn Took Place To-day.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas Milburn, who died on Sunday last at the residence of her son, Mr. Joseph Milburn, lot 6, Communication Road, Smith, took place from her son's residence, this after at one o'clock, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

The deceased's maiden name was Eunice Huthinson. She died at the mature age of 86 years. The deceased lady was of English parentage and came to Canada with her parents in 1823 from Cumberland, England. The Hutchinsons settled near Millbrook and were some of the first settlers in that district. Upon her marriage to the late Thomas Milburn she removed to the Township of Smith. The surviving members of the family are two sons and two daughters, Mrs. Mitchell, of Emily; Mrs. Thomas R. Mann; Mr. Joseph Milburn and Mr. Thomas T. Milburn was held in very high regard by all who knew her. Her death is more directly the result of old age than of any pronounced form of illness.

That Horrid Eczema and Other Blood Diseases.

Paine's Celery Compound

Does a Blessed Work for a Peterborough, Ont., Gentleman.

The blood plays a most important part in our physical economy, and in a liquid state constitutes a large part of the entire body. Unhealthy conditions of the life stream affect seriously all parts of the human system. It seems unnecessary to remind intelligent people that when vitality is low, when the appetite fails, when oppressed by tired feelings and heaviness, when headaches and insomnia make our days miserable, when itchings, skin troubles and eruptions cause alarm, that the condition of the blood calls for prompt attention.

If you have delayed the work of purifying the blood in the past months, you cannot with safety allow the springtime to pass without some effort on your part to rid yourself of perils and dangers. In the spring-time Paine's Celery Compound effectively removes all impurities of the blood, so that the vital fluid goes on its health restoring mission to heart, lungs, brain and all other parts, making you vigorous, healthy and stronger, than ever before. Mr. D. McMahon, Peterborough, Ont., says:

"I was troubled with a very bad type of eczema on my face and in patches over my body for four years. I was under treatment of three doctors at different times; have also tired many remedies, but all proved useless. At last I bought a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and put in iodide of Potassium as recommended on the label of the bottle. The one bottle did me so much good that I bought five bottles more and now am happy to say that I am perfectly cured and completely free from the troublesome disease."

WEDDED IN CAVAN.

Mr. J. E. Steer, of Manvers, and Miss Ada M. Burns.

The nuptials of Mr. J. Esra Steer, of Manvers township, and Miss Ada M. Burns, was celebrated at the home of Mr. Jos. Burns, father of the bride, Cavan township, on Wednesday, March 4th, at 7 o'clock.

At the time appointed the bridegroom and his attendant, standing beneath an ambrosial bower, awaited the coming of the bride, who was heralded by the strains of the wedding march called forth by Miss Rose Westlick, of Bethany. The young couple were accompanied by Stanley Fallis and Miss Jennie Wragg. The marriage, solemnized by Rev. N. D. Dey, was witnessed by a large company. The happy couple were felicitated heartily at once by all present and "after supper" by addresses. Showered with good wishes they left in the wee sma' hours for their new home in Manvers. The bride, admired of all, was dressed in silk organdie, trimmed with lace and set with roses. The bridesmaid was similarly attired. The tokens of esteem were many, rich and appropriate.—Com.

SHE MADE A CHANGE.

A Charleston Mother Did so With Advantage to Herself and Children.

A mother living in Charleston, Mass., the happy possessor of four children, writes: "Every fall and winter I have laid in a stock of cough remedies, croup mixtures and throat medicines for my children, for somehow or other they never seem to be free from coughs, colds or sore throat.

"This fall I made a change in the usual programme. I had myself been cured of an obstinate catarrh from which I had suffered for years, by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and as they were pleasant to take I determined to try them with my children. Our family physician told me he knew them to be perfectly safe, and nothing better could be used for catarrh, coughs and colds.

"So I gave them to the children, and have continued to do so ever since, whenever there is the least sign of croup or sore throat, and I no longer dread the approach of cold weather as I once did.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets not only cured me of chronic nasal and throat catarrh, but they have saved me many an anxious night with my little ones. The children like the taste of them, and it is really wonderful how quickly they will break up a croupy cold or an obstinate, and deep-seated cough."

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes for catarrh and have found how useless they are, be agreeably surprised at the results following the use of a pleasant, convenient, internal remedy in tablet form. Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which sell for 50 cents full sized package, is the safest, most effective and popular of catarrh medicines.

THE ONTARIO HOUSE

The Speech From the Throne Read by Chief Justice Moss.

MR. CHARLTON IS SPEAKER.

Many Important Matters Referred to in the Address—Conference of Provincial Premiers—Agricultural Prosperity Legislation For Further Restriction of Liquor Traffic and Municipal Control of Waters.

Toronto, March 11.—Society and the public generally united to make yesterday's opening of the Legislature a truly picturesque and popular function. There was no public mourning, to restrain the profusion of color, as during the two preceding years following Victoria's death, while the excitement of meeting a new House brought the leaders of fashion to honor the event. It was voted by the experienced to have been the most brilliant opening on record in Ontario. The members, as usual, were driven from their territory by their wives and daughters. The central space on the floor was crowded with invited guests of honor, while the galleries were filled an hour before the time for opening. The blinds were drawn, and the lights blazed forth upon delicate evening toilettes and beautiful faces. The ceremony was longer than the ordinary opening, owing to the necessary election of a Speaker. Mr. Charlton was the unanimous choice. In making the nomination Premier Ross delivered a brief laudatory address, while Mr. Charlton's acknowledgment was most graceful and tactful.

When the Administrator had taken his seat on the throne he was informed by the Provincial Secretary, Hon. Mr. Stratton, that it was not the intention of the Government to make known the purpose for which the House had been called until they had elected a Speaker.

The Administrator then departed for a short time, during which Hon. Premier Ross moved the appointment of W. A. Charlton to the position of Speaker. This announcement was met with applause, and the motion was seconded by Hon. J. M. Gibson, Attorney-General. There were no dissentients, and the election by acclamation was received with cheers. The new incumbent of the office made a neat, short, little speech, in which he expressed the hope that any error into which he might innocently fall would be overlooked by the assemblage, and of this fact he was assured by the Hon. Mr. Stratton.

SPEAKER CHARLTON.

THE KING'S SPEECH.

Mr. Justice Moss then delivered the following address from the throne, after which the House adjourned until 3 o'clock to-day.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

I have much pleasure in welcoming you to your duties as representatives of the people at this the first session of a new Parliament.

In common with all His Majesty's subjects throughout the British Empire we rejoice at the coronation of Edward VII. as "King of Great Britain and Ireland and His Majesty's Dominions beyond the seas," and as loving subjects we sincerely pray that he may long be spared to occupy the throne of his ancestors as the sovereign of a loyal, contented and prosperous people.

On the 18th of December last a conference of Provincial Premiers and Ministers was held in the city of Quebec for the purpose of considering the financial relations of the provinces to the Dominion. The conference, after coming to certain conclusions, subsequently met at Ottawa and submitted their conclusions to the Dominion Government. A full report of the proceedings will be laid before you.

During the past year a greater area of the arable lands of the Crown were located by settlers than in any recent year in the history of the Crown Lands Department. The immigration from the United Kingdom was exceptionally large; the arrivals reported to the Department in Toronto being nearly double those of any previous year.

Under the legislation providing land grants for military service, about six thousand certificates have already been issued. A large number of claims awaiting settlement will be disposed of as soon as their validity is established. An amendment to the act enabling the more recent contingents to South Africa to share in these grants will be submitted.

The progress which is being made in the leading branches of mining is matter for congratulation. The output last year was the largest in the history of the industry. Special attention is being given to the depositors of nickel-copper and iron ore, which constitute so important a part of the mineral wealth—yet largely undeveloped—of northern Ontario.

The lumber trade continues active, the revenue for Crown dues for the past year being the largest in the history of the province.

I am pleased to notice that the past year has been one of exceptional prosperity in every department of agriculture, not the least significant evidence being the improved quality of our dairy produce, bacon, beef and poultry.

The thanks of the country are due to the estate of the late Mr. Hart A. Massey for the timely gift of a new library building, and also to Sir William Macdonald for his generosity in providing for a building on the campus of the Agricultural College devoted to domestic science. These munificent gifts show the growing interest of influential citizens in agricultural education, and will greatly assist in the work of the college.

The work of the Farmers' Institutes has grown steadily; special fruit institutes, held in the orchard, have been very helpful; the Women's Institutes have increased in number, and are so promising that you will be asked for special assistance to carry on this work.

The vote polled on the 4th of December last in favor of the Liquor Act of 1902, though not large enough to bring the act into force, may, nevertheless, be taken as an expression of the electors favoring further legislation with respect to the liquor traffic. A measure with this object in view will be submitted for your consideration.

It is greatly to be regretted that, notwithstanding the liberal provision heretofore made for the insane, the accommodation is still inadequate, and I trust you will find it possible to meet fully the necessities of this unfortunate class of the people.

It is gratifying to notice that many County Councils have provided for the indigent of their own counties by the establishment of Houses of Refuge. Some counties, however, have no other refuge for destitute persons than the county jail, and it is the intention of the Government to submit legislation for the further extension of this system of public charity.

In order to the better suppression of contagious diseases in many parts of the province, it appears to be necessary to secure more effective co-operation of the municipalities with the measures adopted by the Legislature. Your attention will be called to a bill for this purpose.

I have been pleased to notice the highly beneficial results that have attended the creation in 1893 of the branch of the public service charged with the care of neglected and dependent children. Under its operation foster homes have been provided for over two thousand destitute children, assuring their growth in all that makes for good citizenship.

The legislation of 1897 providing for supervising and regulating the importation of children from the British Isles, has, I am pleased to say, resulted in a more careful selection of children intended for settlement in this province, and in the greater comfort and security from injustice of all children for whom homes may be found under the act.

You will be pleased to know that great progress has been made during the year in the development of technical education and manual training in the Public and Normal schools of the province. The growth of the Provincial University shows the increased interest taken in higher education, while the demand for the better training of teachers in Public and Separate schools, calls for the extension of the Normal school term. You will be asked to consider legislation with regard to these matters.

In view of the great demand for electrical energy for industrial and other uses, it is desirable that the utmost facility should be afforded, through municipal control or otherwise, for the utilization to these ends of the water powers of the province. A bill to provide for this object will be laid before you.

Bills will be submitted for the consolidation of the Municipal Act and for the revision of the Assessment Act.

The reports of the various departments of the public service will be laid before you, including the first report of the commission for the construction of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway.

The estimates for the current year will, at an early date, be submitted for your approval. They will be found to have been prepared with all the economy consistent with the efficiency of the public service.

I feel assured that your legislative labors during the present session will be characterized by the same earnest care and thoughtful attention as have heretofore marked the work of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario.

Address in Reply.

The Administrator then retired, and as he left the building the band struck up the National Anthem.

The first bill of the session was introduced by the Premier. It relates to the administration of oaths of office and the appointment of justices of the peace. It was read a first time.

The Premier moved that the Speech from the Throne be taken into consideration on Wednesday, and then moved the usual resolution for the appointment of standing committees.

The House then adjourned.

BRITAIN'S 235,761 MEN.

Brodrick Intends to Fight Army Estimates Out on This Basis.

London, March 11.—The House of Commons yesterday, in committee of the whole, commenced the debate on the army estimates. War Secretary Brodrick began by flatly announcing that the Government intended to fight it out on the proposition to make the establishment 235,761 men, of all ranks, as being a question of an efficient force, notwithstanding the attack hitherto made on it from both sides of both Houses of Parliament.

After a short debate on the amendment to reduce the establishment by 27,000 men, the discussion was adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11, 1903.

HON. W. A. CHARLTON, SPEAKER

Yesterday the first session of the tenth Legislature was duly opened. The Speaker elected, is Hon. William Andrew Charlton, M.P.P., South Norfolk. Mr. Charlton has been the representative of this constituency since 1890, and is well qualified by Parliamentary experience for the delicate and responsible duties of the position. For six sessions he has been chairman of the Public Accounts Committee, one of the most important committees of the House, and in that capacity he has earned the approval of both political parties. He has also discharged to the satisfaction of both sides of the House, the duties of chairman of Committee of the Whole House, of which he has been chairman for three or four sessions. Mr. Charlton is personally popular with the members on both sides of the House, and in all respects he is abundantly well qualified to give satisfactory service to all the interests concerned. Mr. Charlton is a gentleman of quiet and somewhat reserved demeanour, and will support with dignity as well as ability the position he has the honour of filling.

AN M. P. AGAIN.

Chas. R. Devlin Elected for Galway—He was not Opposed.

Mr. Charles R. Devlin, Canadian immigration agent at Dublin, was on Monday elected to succeed Col. Lynch as member of the British House of Commons for Galway. The predicted opposition did not materialize.

There are now in the British Parliament these Canadians,—Hon. Edward Blake, Lieut.-Col. Laurie, George M. Brown (son of the late Hon. George Brown,) Charles D. Rose, Sir Gilbert Parker and Charles R. Devlin. Messrs. Devlin, Blake and Laurie have sat in the Canadian House of Commons.

WEAK LUNGS

Made Sound and Strong by the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Weak lungs mean weak health, continual coughs and colds—touches of grip and bronchitis, then deadly pneumonia or lingering, hopeless consumption. Weak lungs are due to weak blood. The one sure way to strengthen weak lungs is to build up your blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose makes rich, red blood, and every drop of rich, red blood adds strength, vigour and disease-resisting power to weak lungs. Thousands of weak-lunged, narrow-chested men and women have been made sound, healthy and happy by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—and they will do the same for you. Mrs. J. D. Naismith, Winnipeg, Man., says: "I contracted a severe cold, which developed into bronchitis and lung trouble. The best of doctors and many different kinds of medicine failed to help me, and my friends all thought I was going into rapid consumption. I had no appetite, was forced to take to bed, and felt that only death would release me. My brother urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and to please him I began them. A few boxes proved they were helping me, and I began to get real strength. I continued the use of the pills and was soon able to leave my bed and sit up. I grew stronger day by day. The cough that had racked me almost beyond endurance disappeared, my appetite returned, and I am again strong and healthy, much to the surprise of all who saw me while I was ill. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me after other medicines failed and I shall always praise them."

Bear in mind that substitutes and ordinary medicines will not cure. See that the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent post paid at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FROM MT. PLEASANT.

Want a Telephone Service—A Play in the Village Hall.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The town had a visit last week from Walter Saddler, of the City of Toronto.

A tramp passed through here on the 8th, inst., Mrs. Hunter gave him his supper and he slept that night in Cavanville School House, which was left unlocked.

There was a large gathering at the Temperance Hall on Tuesday night the 3rd inst., to hear and see the story of the "Prodigal", acted by a number of the Salvation Army from Omemee.

We are glad to hear that peat will be manufactured at "Winchester" the coming summer and sold at a reasonable price. No doubt there will be many companies who will engage in this business as we have plenty of bog land in the Dominion. Another industry which is now favourably spoken of is the changing of crude oil into a hard substance suitable for fuel. These two inventions, if perfected, and the immense stock of wood that has been taken out this winter, will surely prevent a famine of fuel, and secure Canada from any foreign nation as to the fuel question.

The business done in "Mount Pleasant" is on a sound basis, and good reports are heard of the increase in the population.

Our business men lack accommodation from the Bell Telephone Company, although their main line with four wires on the poles pass through the centre of our town. They have not placed a 'phone in it yet. This will lead to the formation of private companies who will build lines for their own use. About 50 feet of wire and a 'phone is all we need to give us the privilege of speaking to other towns and cities. Why not put a 'phone in here?

Something should be done by owners of roads in the Township of Cavan to make one leading main road in the north part of the township so that foot passengers could travel on it without wading through a sea of water in the spring and endangering horses passing through it when the water is frozen. As we have a new Reeve in, our township this year and new blood infused in our council, we naturally look for a growing time in the making of roads which is a necessity.

On Sabbath last the pastors of both churches delivered specially instructive sermons. Mr. Mounteer's text was "We walk by Faith and not by Sight." The text chosen by Mr. Kannawin was "This is the Victory that Overcometh the world, even our faith."

OMEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The farmers have well completed their winter's work and now are ready for spring operations.

Large amounts of stock has been shipped lately by Mr. Richardson and some by Mr. Moore. Good prices paid.

It is rumoured that Jas. Graham has sold out the Commercial House to Mr. Beatty, of Yerker. We are sorry to lose such an enterprising up-to-date citizen as Mr. Graham, who intends going to the West.

The sugar beet acreage is very well patronized by farmers in Emily, but more particularly in Reaboro and Ops where they are better acquainted and educated up to this grand industry for our country.

Many of our young men are seeking employment at Peterborough industries, leaving farm help very scarce. Mr. J. D. Thornton reports placing quite a number, especially to those taking sugar beet acreage.

Rev. Wm. Kannawin has received a call to Woodville, Ont., and may probably accept. He has refused four calls since taking this charge, now about four years.

Mr. Kincaid spent one day here last week, after an absence of nearly one year, and considers his native village one of the most prosperous and handsome on the continent.

LOCAL LEGAL.

(Before Meredith, C.J., Maclaren, J. A.)

O'Shea vs. O'Shea.—E. H. D. Hall, Peterborough, for defendant, Susannah O'Shea, appealed from the order of Street, J., in Chambers, declaring the construction of the will of the late Thos. O'Shea. The testator devised a farm of 200 acres, with implements and stock, to his son, but subject to certain conditions therein as to the maintenance of two daughters. The particular clause in question was worded as follows:—"Until marriage my two sons are bound to keep them in a suitable manner free from expense." The question to be determined is whether the maintenance of the two sisters constitutes a charge on the land. Street, J., held that the son sufficiently complied with the will by offering to maintain the sisters on the farm or any place where they chose to reside. G. Edmison, K. C., for plaintiffs and defendant Bridget O'Shea. Judgment reserved.

LINDSAY BUTCHERS

Will not Sell Canned Goods—Grocers Will not Sell Sausage.

An adjourned meeting of the Lindsay Council was held Saturday evening. The meeting was called for the purpose of coming to some kind of a settlement relative to the passing of a bylaw to regulate the sale of fresh meats. As this bylaw affected the grocerymen to some extent, there were about half a dozen of them present, with Mr. Thos. Stewart as their chief spokesman. The butchers were well represented.

Mayor Southeran said the butchers were not satisfied with the old by-law, as it did not prevent outsiders from coming into town and selling meats in competition with those who had to maintain shops the year round.

It was finally agreed that the butchers shall refrain from selling canned goods, pickles, teas or any groceries, and the grocers cease selling fresh meats and sausage. Butter and eggs and vegetables will be sold by both parties. The license will remain the same as mentioned in the bylaw—$5.00.

Mr. Bradburn also stated that arrangements were about completed as to the purchase of a site for a sugar factory in North Monaghan and asked the council as to what encouragement they would give in the way of a fixed assessment on the proposed site.

Mr. Robinson, representing The Sawyer Massey Co., of Hamilton, appeared before the council and suggested to them the advisability of purchasing a rock crusher and other improved road machinery.

COMMITTEES' REPORT.

The Committee on the rebuilding of piers and bridge over Lockie's Creek, on the 7th and 8th Con., reported as follows:—

To the Reeve and Council of North Monaghan:—

Gentlemen,—Your Committee appointed to re-construct the piers and bridge over what is known as Lockies Creek, at the juncture with the highway between the 7th and 8th Con. of North Monaghan, beg to report as follows:—

The said job was advertised and according to advertisement your Committee attended at the place named and let the work by public tender to the lowest tender. There were several tenders put in. The lowest was put in by Mr. J. Huston, at the sum of $135. The contract called for 2 new piers 8 x 16 feet, and built from a sufficient foundation, said to be approved by this Committee, and to a height of a level with the centre of the present roadway on the East side of the creek. These piers to be built of cedar as supplied by the Committee and cross-tied. Two ties on the long way and one on the short way on each round of logs, each round of logs and cross ties to be pinned at their intersections. The both piers to be filled with fine stone, no bottom to be in the pier. The stone to be supplied by the contractor. The piers to be 36 feet apart. The superstructure or bridge work to be built of cedar as supplied by the Committee and to consist of 6 stringers 44 feet long at least, and 10 inches in diameter at small end, also two girders of the same dimensions. These to be placed upon the piers and to support the flooring and trestles. The trestles to be of at least a hight of 12 feet and to be supported from the two girders by two rods passing through to a cross-sill underneath the centre of the stringers. This work has been done to our satisfaction, the total cost of the same as shown by the accounts filed is as follows:—

Contract for work, Huston, ...	$125 00
Material for bridge, Nealour,.... ...	127 33
Material, bolts,, et,c., Holpin, ...	9 95
Material, cedar for pier, Raper,	19 50
Total,...	281 78

Taking from this amount the $95 grant from the County of Peterborough leaves a total cost to the Township of $187.03.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOS. MADILL,
Chairman.

Moved by Messrs. Morrow and Smith that the report of the Committee on rebuilding of pier and bridge at Lockie's Creek be received and adopted and that the payment as therein specified is hereby authorized. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Smith and Fowler that a Committee consisting of Messrs. Morrow, Brown and Fowler an hereby authorized to have the necessary repairs made to the bridge on the road between the 12th and 13th Con. at Lot 1. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Brown and Fowler that the Clerk is hereby directed to have certain Township by-laws registered. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Brown and Smith that a Committee consisting of the Reeve, Messrs Brown and Smith await upon the Chairman of Board of Works Committee of the Peterborough Council with regard to having the South end of Park street in the Town of Peterborough put in a passable condition. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Smith and Brown that an order be given to the Sawyer Massey Co., of Hamilton,, for two sets of steel moulds for making concrete pipes for culverts, of dimensions 18 and 24 inches respectively and an extra bottom for each, the whole to cost $42.25, delivered at Peterborough. This was carried.

The Age of Brain Work.

In these days, half our diseases come from the neglect of the body in the overwork of the brain. In this railway age the wear and tear of labour and intellect go on without pause or self pity. We live longer than our forefathers but we suffer more. They fatigued only the muscles, we exhaust the finer strength of the nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest medicine of this age because it is best suited to the needs of the present day. It restores and revitalizes wasted nerve cells and makes the pale, weak and exhausted strong and healthy and vigourous.

The New Baby

From the moment a child is born the question of nourishment becomes of great importance. A right start avoids a lot of trouble later on; it's so easy to begin right, too.

Many women cannot or will not—chiefly will not—nurse their children. The best thing to do under the circumstances is to help the bottle babies all we can—they're at a big disadvantage at best. We know positively that nothing will do them more good than Scott's Emulsion—a few drops in the bottle. It seems to furnish just the right quantity and the right kind of nourishment needed for babies and growing children.

The women who are willing but unable to properly nurse their children will find Scott's Emulsion a great help—a two-fold help in fact. It has a direct and immediate effect, not only feeding and sustaining the mother, but insuring also a flow of rich, nourishing milk for the baby.

Thus Scott's Emulsion strengthens the mother and goes naturally through the milk and strengthens the child.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

TEN MEN SUMMONED.

William Munns Lays Information Against Ten Respectable Aurora Citizens.

Toronto, March 111. — William Munns has not forgotten his experiences at his Aurora meeting. On Monday, acting on the advice of his solicitor, Mr. Grant, of Grant and Dodds, information was sworn out against ten well-known and respectable citizens of Aurora, charging them with "unlawful assembly." Every member of an unlawful assembly is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to one year's imprisonment.

Those who were served with summonses by County Constable Burns yesterday are: Milton Fleury, William Flicker, Rock Linton, William Nelson, Thomas Turan, Tinker Norton, Victor Bond, James Horsley, Henry Alder and John Ough.

They are asked to appear before Peter Ellis, J.P., in the Town Hall, Aurora, on Friday morning, at 11 o'clock, for a hearing. H. H. Dewart, K.C., will appear for the Crown.

The serving of the summonses created a great stir in Aurora.

THE FEAR OF HUMBUG

Prevents Many People From Trying a Good Medicine.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure, that most people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made of a preparation so reliable, and so universally used, as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines, for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine; no secret is made of their ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aseptic pepsin, the digestive kolds, Golden Seal, Bismuth, Hydrastis and Nux. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles, because they act entirely on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison, as it creates gas, acidity, headaches, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh, and appetite and many other troubles, which are often called by some other name.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

Renewed Modus Vivendi.

St. John's, Nfld., March 11.— The Legislative Assembly last evening unanimously renewed the French shore modus vivendi for the current year, after a powerful speech from Premier Bond, who declared his conviction that the Imperial Government intended to redress the colony's grievances at the earliest possible moment.

Syrian Goes to Jail.

Montreal, March 11. — Hassan Schman, a Syrian of Toronto, brought here a week ago on a charge of defrauding his creditors, was yesterday sentenced to a year's imprisonment.

Health and Hope.

"He who has health has hope; and he who has hope has everything." But hope flees at the approach of kidney disease with the dreadful pains which accompany it. With the flesh gradually failing, the back aching, and the despair which often comes to victims of this ailment, only the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will restore hope, confidence and health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

One of Chief Figures in Burdick Murder Case Hurled Headlong Into Eternity—His Wife Also.

Buffalo, March 11.—Ghastly as was the death of E. L. Burdick, a doubly gruesome tragedy occurred at about 5.45 o'clock last evening, when Arthur R. Pennell, one of the chief figures in the investigation of the Burdick murder, was hurled headlong into eternity. Mr. Pennell was out riding in his electric automobile with Mrs. Pennell. They were on Kensington avenue, near Fillmore avenue, skimming along the edge of the Gobres stone quarry, which is a huge rock-ribbed hole in the ground on the right side of the avenue, going out.

Mr. Pennell's hat blew off. The automobile swerved, and, in some inexplicable manner, it leaped over the curb into the abyss below. Pennell was killed instantly, his head being crushed to an unrecognizable mass. Mrs. Pennell was injured so severely that the surgeons at the Sisters' Hospital, to which she was taken, said her chances of recovery were very slight. Two boys saw the tragedy. They were too far away to know positively just how it happened. Mrs. Pennell, when found, was unable to speak. She was only semi-conscious when taken to the hospital, and could speak no coherent words. After the operations, performed immediately by Dr. Eugene Smith, in the hope of saving her life, she lapsed into unconsciousness, and hence there can be no true version of precisely how the accident occurred.

To a reporter some days ago he said: About this case of Burdick, I have told the authorities I went away to New York before the murder, and that I met Mrs. Burdick while I was away. In fact I saw Mrs. Burdick near New York two or three days before the murder of Mr. Burdick. I came home again Wednesday, the day before the murder. I have told it frankly, and the meeting was a proper one. But they seem determined to drag all this business out in the papers. I would do anything to stop it.

Pennell, while not a veteran at automobiling, was quite an expert at handling the machine, and was experienced as to its management.

TRADE RETURNS.

Enormous Increase in Canadian Exports and Imports For the Past Eight Months—Returns For February.

Ottawa, March 11.—The tide of Canada's trade is still running high. It has not yet reached the flood, and there is as yet no indication when the "crest of the wave" will be reached. It is estimated that at the close of the present fiscal year the aggregate trade of the Dominion will approach the enormous total of $460,000,000, or $35,000,000 more than in the year previous, and $213,000,000 more than in 1893 the best year of the Conservative regime.

The trade returns for the eight months ending February 28th, which were issued yesterday, make pleasant reading. Our aggregate trade, on the basis of imports for consumption and domestic exports, amounted to $291,284,240, or a gain of $27,808,956 compared with the same period of the preceding fiscal year. The domestic exports exceeded the imports for consumption by $12,885,000. The aggregate trade for the eight months only is nearly $45,000,000 greater than in the banner year of the Conservatives, when the year's trade amounted to but $247,000,000. Taking the exports for the past eight months, there was an increase, in round numbers, of $1,750,000 in the exports of manufactures, of $7,000,000 in farm products, of $9,000,000 in animals and their products, and of $3,000,000 in products of the forest. There was a decrease of $2,000,000, in exports of fisheries, mainly due to the falling off in British Columbia salmon canneries, and of $2,000,000 in products of the mine.

THE C. P. R. STRIKERS

Begins to Look Like a Long and Bitter Struggle.

STATEMENTS BY BOTH SIDES.

Western Deputation at Montreal—Manager McNicoll Refuses to Receive Them—What the Strikers Proposed Was Rejected by the Company—C.P.R. Is Filling the Places of the 500 Strikers.

Montreal, March 11.—"We did not ask for an increase of salary, but simply to be allowed to live as an order." The above statement was made yesterday by Frederick J. Halton, agent of the Vancouver division of the United Brotherhood of Railway Employes, who, with three other gentlemen, have been in Montreal for the last few days on business connected with the company, and who also availed themselves of the opportunity by attempting to secure recognition for their order by the Canadian Pacific officials at headquarters.

The Men's Statement.

The following is a copy of a letter sent to the second vice-president during the afternoon:

"Montreal, March 10.—D. McNicoll, Esq., second vice-president and general manager C.P.R., Montreal: Dear Sir,—We, a committee of the United Brotherhood of Railway Employes, are requested by Mr. George Estes, president, to wait on you requesting recognition of the United Brotherhood of Railway Employes, whose members are now on strike at Vancouver, Revelstoke, Calgary and Winnipeg. On your advising us in writing that this will be done, our members will return to work immediately, and endeavor to serve the company's interests as faithfully in the future as they have done in the past.

"Yours truly, Frederick J. Halton, W. R. Foulds, James Dick, H. Wilson."

Mr. Halton said they had approached Mr. McNicoll because they had been unable to secure recognition in Vancouver. He explained, furthermore, that the second vice-president had declined to see them until they should come to him armed with the credentials of the head of their departments. Mr. McNicoll's chief clerk had told them, Mr. Halton added, that the second vice-president's refusal to see them did not imply that the company refused to recognize the order. He claims that there are 250 clerks out in Vancouver, 200 at Winnipeg, and a good number at Calgary. He also adds that the president of the Brotherhood will come east in June for organization purposes.

Statement of the Company.

The following statement was signed yesterday afternoon by the general manager:

"This organization — the United Brotherhood of Railway Employes—is the one which caused the Canadian Northern trouble in Winnipeg last season, and their leader, Mr. Estes of San Francisco, failing there, is making another trial in British Columbia under the pretext that the C.P.R. is endeavoring to down unionism. Our position towards our employes is too well-known for this cry to have any effect. Promises of promotion and salary increases have been made by the strikers to clerks to divulge confidential information regarding the company's affairs. As this order accepts employes in any branch of the service, including members of other orders, they have induced a few having contracts with the company to break them, and are unsuccessfully trying to get more. All told, there are from 200 to 300 employes on strike, and we are rapidly filling their places. The position of the Canadian Pacific towards its employes is to-day what it has always been. Every employe knows that any grievance he may have will be carefully considered by the management."

BLAZE AT FORT WILLIAM.

Northern Town's Municipal Buildings Destroyed by Fire.

Fort William, March 11.—At 3.40 yesterday morning it was discovered that the Town Hall was on fire. The brigade saved the hose wagon and sleigh. Within an hour the whole building was in ruins. It included the Opera House, Council Chamber, city clerk's and the treasurer's office, fire hall and central office of municipal telephone system, out of which nothing was saved.

The municipal building was valued at $18,000, and insured for $13,000; telephone exchange, valued at about $6,000, fully insured. All town records, books, documents, etc., destroyed. The cause of the fire came from a switchboard in the telephone office. The Presbyterian Church was scorched.

After Forty Years.

London, March 11.—The 40th anniversary of the marriage of King Edward and Queen Alexandria was celebrated yesterday with the customary firing of salutes and ringing of bells. Their Majesties received many telegrams of congratulation from public bodies. There was a ball last night at Buckingham Palace in honor of the occasion.

The Olean Disaster.

Olean, N. Y., March 11.—A revised list of the dead resulting from Monday night's oil fire and explosion shows the number to be fourteen, and two persons are missing. Forty were injured.

Established at Paris.

London, March 11. — A Canadian Chamber of Commerce was established yesterday at Paris.

Belanger Goes on Trial.

St. Eustache, Que., March 11.—As the result of the preliminary investigation into the charge of murder against Theophile Belanger, who killed his brother-in-law, Antoine Seguin, Judge Carriere yesterday afternoon committed Belanger to stand his trial for murder before the Court of King's Bench.

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto • • The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

VISITED MARITIME PROVINCES

Mr. F. R. J. MacPherson Combines Business and Pleasure.

Touched Many Places of Interest—The Largest Colliery in the World at Sydney.

Mr. F. R. J. McPherson, the well-known electrician of George street, has just returned home after a long, interesting and pleasant business trip through the Maritime Provinces. He has had a most successful business trip representing Messrs. J. Miller & Sons of Montreal, dealers in bicycles, their accessories, and hardware generally.

It was on the 19th of January last that Mr. McPherson started on his travels, and it was only early this morning that he returned home, looking the picture of health. During that space of nearly three months Mr. McPherson visited Fredericton, N.B., St. John, N.B., Halifax, N. S., Sydney, Cape Breton, Spring Hill Mines, N.S., and many other places of interest.

At Glace Bay Mr. McPherson saw the world-famed Marconi wireless telegraph station, which outwardly looks like a simple immense steel tower, but which inwardly is an accumulation of mysterious and marvellous inventions, but which no outsider is allowed to visit or see. As much care is taken to prevent outsiders from intruding on the premises as the military authorities take to prevent the intrusion of foreigners inside the fortifications of Gibraltar, or any other British fortress.

Another sight of interest seen by Mr. McPherson was the mines owned by the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, leases of the Dominion Coal Company at Sydney, Nova Scotia.

These mines show an increase of 68,845 tons over February 1902, when the output was 197,948 tons. It is expected that by the end of the year No. 2 colliery will have a daily output of 4,000 tons, which will make it the largest producing colliery in the world. At present the output of the colliery is 2,300 tons per diem, but with the installation of the new plant the estimated result is expected to follow.

It is stated that the Company will erect at Sydney the most modern and largest coal pier in the world. It will be built of steel and have a storage capacity of six thousand tons, and is moreover expected to be ready for use in 1904. The Company has just concluded negotiations for the purchase of a marble property at Marble Mountain, which property adjoins the Steel Company's other property there.

During his stay in Halifax, Mr. MacPherson was present at the opening of Parliament at that city, which took place last month. Mr. MacPherson speaks in most enthusiastic and laudable terms of the Provinces and towns which he had occasion to visit. Mr. MacPherson gained many pointers in the electrical lighting line and will be more than ever ready to oblige his customers. In answer to a question as to the weather in the Eastern Provinces, Mr. MacPherson said, that contrary to the general belief, it was colder here in Peterborough than it was in Halifax, although that city this year experienced the heaviest fall of snow which has occurred for 20 years.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

Successful Service was Held Last Night.

A large congregation was present last night, although the weather was not at all favourable. The Rector said the office of Evening Prayer, after which he welcomed Rev. J. Bastow and called upon him to give an address on "The Impregnable Rock of Holy Scripture." The address was very instructive, and a masterpiece of earnestness and plain facts. He dwelt upon the fact that it was God's Book, Holy, inspired from beginning to end, and warned the congregation not to heed the higher critics. Mr. Bastow pointed out why it bore all the firey ordeals of these many centuries without being lost, and why it was such a comfort to all who read it. Nothing but a Divine book could do it.

To-night the Rev. G. Warren, of Lakefield, will give the address.

On Thursday evening Dr. Torrance will be the speaker.

LACROSSE.

BRANTFORD'S TEAM.

A Brantford despatch says:—It is interesting to note what has become of the members of the team with which Brantford began her lacrosse career anew three years ago. Hughie Allan, Bill Brierly, McBride and Danny McLean are still in town. "Mac" Cameron, Purbiow and Johnnie and Frank Wilson were last heard of in Perth, their native town; George Wilson, the hard-checking centre man, figured on the Stratford twelve last year, but is at present back in town again. Jack Williams has quit the game; Miles McDonough is in Port Hope, and "Mickey" Stone was last heard of in Copper Cliff. As for the erstwhile phenomenon, Frank McLaren, he was the shining star of the Toronto home at the beginning of last year, but when John White, Roddy Finlayson and others of the big Eastern defence men were set to watch him he sank into the position of a lesser star. And last, but not least, reports that say a certain outside home man named "Shandy" McMillan has popped up in some new place, are expected at any minute.

THEY WANT A NEW BRIDGE.

Peterborough County Council in Ottawa.

To Replace the Ferry at Gannon's Narrows—a Floating Structure.

The County Council of the County of Peterborough left this morning for Ottawa, for the purpose of interviewing the Minister of Public Works, with a view of securing a grant towards the proposed bridge at Gannon's Narrows. The deputation will be introduced to the Minister by Mr. John Lang, M.P., for East Peterborough.

For some years the people in the vicinity of Gannon's Narrows have been endeavouring to have a bridge erected at that point to replace the present ferry service, which was inaugurated many years ago.

It is estimated that the cost of the bridge would be $4000, and it is thought that with a grant of $1,200 from the Dominion Government, and a grant from the Ontario Government, the County will be able to assume the balance of the expenditure incurred.

The bridge proposed to be erected would be a floating structure, with perhaps a steel swing on the Ennismore side of the channel. The width at this point is 1275 feet, and the depth is from 16 to 20 feet.

Councillor Shaw has been most energetic in his efforts to have a new bridge erected at the Narrows.

HAS THERE BEEN FOUL PLAY?

Inquest on Body of the Late John Wood.

Coroner Gray at Westwood—Evidence of County Constable Wm. J. McMillan Taken.

On account of the somewhat mysterious death of John Wood, whose body was discovered on the side of the Norwood road, two miles from Westwood, on Monday morning last, an inquest was held at lot 15, in the first concession of Otonabee yesterday by Coroner Gray, but as yet no satisfactory explanation as to his death has resulted.

After the jury had taken the oath the only evidence, that of County Constable William John McMillan, was taken, after which the inquest was adjourned until Monday, March 16th next, at 3 o'clock.

The jury was composed of the following gentlemen:— Andrew Robertson, Geo. Renwick, Thos. Fox, Jeremiah Hefferman, Jas. Robertson, William John McMillan, John Bathgate, John W. Walker, William Weir, Jas. Bathgate and Geo. Robertson.

MR. McMILLAN'S EVIDENCE.

County Constable William John McMillan, in giving his evidence said: —I am a county constable. On Monday, March 9th, about 11 o'clock, David Cameron notified me that there was a dead man at Harrison's Corners, on the side line where the Norwood road crosses the boundary between Asphodel and Otonabee. I went and found the body of deceased John Wood, whom I personally knew. The body was lying about 15 feet from the centre of the boundary line, and about 35 feet from the centre of side line, his head towards the north. He was lying on his left side with face turned down; no cap nor coat, but had a vest on. He had nothing in his pockets but $2 in paper money and 90 cents in silver in one pocket, and 10 cents in hip pocket. He had a return railway ticket for Peterborough. I had gone up with him by train to Peterborough Saturday morning. It had rained on Saturday night and his clothing was wet. I last saw him alive at White's hotel on Saturday about 12.30. He was then pretty sober; he had been drinking a "horn" or two, but wasn't intoxicated. I brought the body to the home of his father, James Wood, where he lived, and have seen it today. The deceased told me he would return by the afternoon train, but did not. I saw no sign of injury, but did not examine body carefully.

The remains of the late Mr. Wood will be interred this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

HIGHLY RESPECTED

Was the Late Martin Leonard, of Ennismore.

Concerning the late Martin Leonard, of Ennismore, who died last month, a correspondent writes. "He was a most honoured and beloved gentlemen — one whose admirable and noble quantities — not only as a most successful and model farmer, but also as a kind and sincere friend to many, has placed him high in the esteem of all who knew him. The deceased gentleman was one of a family of 13, of whom five sisters and two brothers survive him—Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Roche, Mrs. Knittel, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Anderson, all of whom reside in San Francisco; and David, of Tacoma, Wash., and Peter, of Glidden, Wis. Mr. Leonard was united in marriage to Miss Mary Sullivan, some thirty years ago, who with her two daughters, Mrs. B. Flood, and Miss Mary, and one son, John, are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving protector. They have the most sincere sympathy, not only of friends in their native township, but of many others, whom Mr. Leonard won through his popularity. Truly he was a man—

"Who died in honour, died in fame,
And left on memory's page, a stainless name."

HAPPENINGS AT KEENE.

Village Well Represented at Harwood Races.

Driving on the Lake About at an End—The Sale of a Corner Lot.

Mr. Thomas Laing is in Toronto this week.

Mr. Jack Clark, the migrating mechanic and enthusiastic fisherman, is here. The fishing season must be near.

Mr. George Dinsdale is home, after spending the winter in Toronto.

Miss Maggie Dustin of Bowmanville, is here visiting friends.

Mr. Robert Campbell was renewing old acquaintances last week. He stayed with his nephew, Mr. William Campbell.

March is to have its share of weddings. Two sisters, very estimable young ladies, are to be married on the 18th to "guid men," and there is to be a "lucky Joe" even sooner.

Miss Helen Laing spent Saturday and Sunday in Peterborough.

Mrs. Sam Mather gave a very entertaining card party on Thursday evening to her friend, Miss Dustin.

The village was well represented at the Harwood ice races on Thursday and carried off an extra share of the honours. Mr. Jas. Elmhirst's fast pacing stallion, Prince Hal, jr., swept the field in the free-for-all event, and Little Diamond, belonging to "Arth" Elmhirst, took second money in the same event.

Driving over the lake is about at an end. The ice at the wharf landing is badly broken up by the spring freshet.

Miss Nellie Reid, who has been suffering from pneumonia, is convalescent.

The hockey season has come and gone and Keene Club has a record not to be ashamed of. Norwood claims to be the "runners up," although Keene beat them home and home games and could just as easily have beaten the T.A.S. or any other team in the league. We are all home men, born and brought up in our village as is Miller the best man of the Norwood team. No foreigners need apply. We asked no odds off any team and certainly gave odds to Norwood by consenting to play them a sudden death game in Peterborough rather than default unsportsmanlike. We pay no player to the value of a farthing, and will be open to all engagements next season. More glory to our many boys, and may the spirit of sport so long cherished by them, continue to grow as in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Adamson have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement by the death of their little son, Robert, aged ten months, who after a brief illness succumbed to pneumonia on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McFarlane entertained a number of young friends on Tuesday evening by an enjoyable party.

Miss Lillian Hall, who has for some time been visiting in Peterborough, is home.

Mr. Fred Copperwaite, the genial captain of the Rainbow, was in the village on Monday.

Mr. Sam English has purchased the corner lot occupied by Tully's blacksmith shop.

SUCCESS CLUB.

Mr. Gray has Resigned the Office of President.

A meeting of the Success Club was held last night in St. John's School house. The attendance was small but several important matters were arranged. Mr. Gray, the president, handed in his resignation, owing to the fact that he will shortly leave for the Northwest. Mr. Gray has been a faithful officer and the club wishes him every success in his new home.

Mr. Jas. R. Bell was unanimously elected to the office vacated by the retirement of Mr. Gray.

A HEARTY CALL.

What a Quebec Paper Says Concerning Rev. W. W. McCuaig.

The Quebec Chronicle contains the following concerning Rev. W. W. MacCuaig, well known in Peterborough:—

"Rev. W. W. MacCuaig, who for several years was associated with Montreal church work, has received a most hearty and unanimous invitation to become the pastor of St. Andrew's congregation at Levis. Mr. MacCuaig has been favourably known in this city as a preacher of force and conviction, being assistant to Dr. Barclay, of St. Paul's for a couple of years in Montreal and last summer filled the pulpit of Dr. Armstrong Black in Toronto very acceptably. Mr. MacCuaig's talents are not narrowed to eloquence as a preacher alone, but he has been for some time recognized as a poet of no mean order, having written several excellent poems of "Habitant Dialect" and also an able defence of "Tommy Atkins," a la Kipling mode, "Glengarry Forever," etc. Just a short time ago Mr. MacCuaig received Royal recognition from His Majesty the King, by letter, for a new National Anthem, composed and forwarded by him at the time of the coronation. It is a creditable work and deserving of universal adoption and recognition by the Canadian people. Levis, it is hoped, will secure the services of Mr. MacCuaig, and Quebec will be largely favoured to have within her bounds one who will add to her social and religious circles such a host of qualifications and attainments as he possesses."

ADDITIONAL ENCOURAGEMENT

Towards the Beet Sugar Industry has Been Asked.

Additional encouragement to the beet sugar industry of this country was recommended by the Council of the Board of Trade of Toronto, at its meeting held yesterday afternoon. A resolution was passed, stating that the present annual sugar consumption is over 370,000,000 pounds, for which foreign countries were now being paid nearly $8,000,000 a year; that these supplies came chiefly from Germany, and other countries, and that this material could be as well produced by Canadian farmers; and that the Government should extend assistance to an industry of such importance to the agricultural and industrial progress of the country, to overcome the disadvantages incident to the establishment of a new and large industry, as has been done in the United States and in many countries in Europe, with marked success. It was resolved, therefore, that the Board of Trade recommend that a further and reasonable measure of encouragement should be extended to the beet sugar industry by the Dominion Government for the purpose of promoting its successful development in Canada.

This resolution will be forwarded to the Government, and will be followed up later by a deputation of the Board which will visit Ottawa.

THE TRENT CANAL.

Port Hope People Asking Cobourg's Assistance.

The Port Hope Guide says: — A deputation from the Port Hope Canal Association, consisting of Messrs. Clark, Barrett, Helm and Mulholland waited on the Cobourg Town Council last evening and were handsomely received by that body. A large number of the citizens were also present. The members of the deputation explained the object of their visit and requested Cobourg to send a memorial to the Dominion Government, asking that an independent unprejudiced surveyor be sent to thoroughly examine and report upon the best possible outlet from Rice Lake to Lake Ontario for the canal. This they at once agreed to do, and expressed themselves as decidedly in favour of this route in preference to the circuitous and expensive route by Trenton.

To Live Without Sleep Is Worse Than Death.

Sleeplessness is an unmistakable symptom of weak, exhausted nerves, and a warning of approaching PROSTRATION or PARALYSIS.

To pass a single night in the vain attempt to sleep is among the miseries which one can never forget.

During such nights nerve force is consumed at a tremendous rate.

Instead of being restored and reinvigorated for another day's work the body is further weakened and exhausted and the mind is unbalanced by this terrible waste of energy with which the lamp of life is rapidly burning out.

It is in this despairing condition that many men and women attempt to drug and deaden the nerves by the use of opiates.

There is a reaction to all such treatment that is doubly injurious to the nervous system—it hastens the decay of nerve cells.

Surely it is wiser to build up and completely restore the nerves by using

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

A treatment which gets right down to the foundation of the difficulty and effects permanent results by revitalising the wasted nerve cells.

Sleeplessness is only one of the many distressing symptoms which will disappear with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It is a positive cure for nervous prostration and exhaustion, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, epilepsy and all the most serious forms of nervous disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the world's greatest restorative for pale, weak, nervous men, women and children. It is specific for women's ills because they almost invariably arise from exhausted nerves. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

To Be Opened by Chief Justice Moss as Administrator of Ontario.

Toronto, March 10.—The first session of the tenth Legislature of the Province of Ontario will be opened with due ceremonial and pomp at 3 o'clock this afternoon by Chief Justice Moss, who will be sworn in at 11 o'clock as Administrator of Ontario, owing to the feeble state of health of the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Oliver Mowat.

The ceremony of opeing will not be be elaborate, but will be more spectacular than the usual opening, inasmuch as the Premier will speak briefly in nominating a new Speaker, the motion to be seconded by another Minister, or perhaps Mr. Whitney.

After the Speaker has been selected the administrator will feel himself able to address some responsible person, and he will then be pleased to enter and read the speech from the throne. There will likely be no further business to-day beyond perhaps a verbal arrangement for the debate on the address, which will begin to-morrow.

All day yesterday the members poured into the city to prepare for their duties as legislators.

It seems to be settled that the Speakership will go to W. A. Charlton of South Norfolk.

The next in line for the duties of whip on the Government side is C. M. Bowman.

Dr. Willoughby will be chosen by the Conservatives as whip.

Premier Ross greeted many of his friends in his office yesterday, and appeared to be in excellent form for the arduous work ahead. To-day he will entertain the Liberal members at luncheon at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Whitney established himself once more in the office at the end of the Opposition lobby, where he conferred with several of his supporters. He declared himself to be in the best of health. To the suggestion that he had decided to refuse pairs he said, "Certainly no one was ever authorized to say that." He did not care to further discuss the matter, but it was learned that the view is that such a decision could only be arrived at in caucus.

Death From Blows.

Wingham, March 10.—The inquiry into the death of Selwyn Jesse Smith, found insensible on the sidewalk on Feb. 3, and who died on the 15th, resulted in the jury returning a verdict that deceased died from the result of blows, but whether the blows were delivered by intent or not they could not say.

10,000 Socialists Riot.

Buda Pesth, March 10.—Street demonstrations by 10,000 Socialists to protest against the Government's military bills took place here yesterday and led to collisions with the police and breaking of windows. Many arrests were made, and the police had finally to charge the rioters.

DISCHARGE OF SHAMBLEAU.

Settlement of Kent's Defaulting Ex-County Treasurer's Dedication.

Chatham, March 10.—At 4.30 p. m. Saturday A. L. Shambleau, the defaulting ex-Treasurer of Kent County, was arraigned at the request of Crown Attorney H. D. Smith. When Shambleau was placed in the dock Mr. Smith intimated that he had no evidence to offer, and the prisoner was discharged.

It is said that Shambleau's friends paid the costs in the case.

Shambleau's defalcations, as will be remembered, amounted to over $16,000. He absconded, but about a month ago was arrested in a Detroit hospital, to which he had been taken suffering from serious injuries received in a saloon row. He was placed in the General Hospital here, and has almost recovered from his injuries.

Shambleau's personal sureties were good for $10,000, and he had given also a guarantee bond for $18,000. The guarantee company were not responsible for embezzlements a year prior to discovery, and the County Council accepted $8,000 as a settlement in full from the personal sureties.

John Woods Found Dead.

Peterboro', March 10.—High County Constable Cochrane has gone to Westwood to investigate the circumstances surrounding the death of John Wood. The deceased was the son of James Wood, a farmer, of Otonabee. He was 35 years of age. Yesterday morning he was found dead by some schoool children on the road at Harrison's Corners. There were no marks of violence upon his body. An inquest has been ordered.

LABORS OF ROYALTY

KING EDWARD AT HIS DESK BEFORE MAYFAIR IS ASTIR.

Exacting Duties of England's Monarch—Queen Alexandra Also a Busy Woman—Never Except From Real Indisposition Does She Excuse Herself From Performance of Duty—Still They Manage to Dovetail a Little Purely Family Life in Between.

Before Mayfair is astir the King is at his desk, dictating through a telephone messages to his secretaries at work in another room, writing such letters as demand an autograph reply, and attaching his signature to those documents which are ever present with the monarch. It used to be the boast of William IV. that he never retired for the night until he had signed everything which awaited his signature each day, and he would persevere in his task even when forced to allay the cramp in his fingers by bathing them in hot water.

King Edward is not less conscientious than King William, and signs documents with extraordinary dispatch. Indeed, His Majesty does everything quickly and promptly, and will see through a thing before other people have begun to discuss it. After State documents and correspondence have been dealt with, the King receives Ministers, Ambassadors, and official personages in audience, or there may be a levee to hold or a function to attend, or, in these days, some coronation matter to consider.

A Little Family Life.

The afternoon and evening frequently bring public duties, and always social ones, while in between while the King manages to dovetail a little purely family life. Too much emphasis cannot be placed on the fact that the royal family preserve a real home life amid all the calls of State and public duties.

It is less easy to tabulate the various demands on the Queen's time and thought than to describe the details of the King's working days. In palace, as in valla, it is the many littles which occupy a woman's time and make her day arduous.

Apart from those hours which the Queen must give to matters of dress, she undoubtedly may claim to be a hard-working woman in virtue of the unfailing graciousness with which she accompanies the King to all public ceremonials, the ready ear which she has for the demands of philanthropy, and the kindly patronage she extends to art, music, and the drama.

Queen Puts Duty First.

The Queen must often perform her social duties in London when a rest at Sandringham amid the simple country life which she loves so well would be more agreeable. But duty first must ever be the Royal watchword. It is not easy to be always bowing and smiling and saying the gracious thing, even though the body may feel weary and the head ache, and I think it must be in justice admitted that the Queen and all the Princesses show a fortitude in this matter which few women would care to emulate.

Never, except in the case of real indisposition, do the Royal ladies excuse themselves from the performance of a public or social duty. The tension of being the observed of all observers; the consciousness that every detail of dress is under inspection, and each word and look commented on, must make a severe demand on feminine nerves and sensibilities even though they may be Royal.

The demands of the Empire, like those of the see of London, have so enormously increased during recent years that it seems almost an insuperable task for one man to fulfil all the monarchial duties. The King is in a more trying position than the bishop, because he cannot have a suffragan. Still, while His Majesty must perform the chief duties of the kingly office himself, and the Queen those of her position, they are admirably supported by the Prince and Princess of Wales, and, indeed, each member of the Royal family.

Monumental Piece of Work.

The Prince and Princess of Wales performed a monumental piece of hard work in their colonial tour, and since their return have constantly labored at public functions. It is only when one comes to tabulate a few days of Royal engagements that one realizes how constant is the work performed by the various members of our reigning house. Some few weeks back Princess Henry of Battenberg attended no less than three public functions in one day, and the Duke of Cambridge, in spite of his eighty-three years, continues to keep up a wonderful public activity.

Princess Christian, apart from the functions which she publicly attends, is a hard-working committee woman in connection with the various associations over which she presides. Few realize how completely this philanthropic Princess gives up her time and renounces many of her pleasures of family and social life to attending meetings and committees. She did it when it involved leaving Windsor by an early morning train, and now that Her Royal Highness is established in her new house in Pall Mall her energies will probably be more severely taxed. The School of Art Needlework owes everything to Princess Christian, and she was the originator of the Woman's School of Design, and one of the most indefatigable helpers of the nursing movement.

The Princess Louise.

Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll is also a very practical philanthropist, and her skill as an artist and sculptor enables her to give real help to associations for the development of art, while her knowledge of cookery makes her equally helpful at a cookery competition. Still more useful is the force of personal example, and the girl who knows that the Princess can make an omelette to a nicety no longer despises the homely acquirement.

In Princess Henry of Battenberg the nation has had an eminent example of filial devotion. How greatly her thoughtful work within the Royal palaces tended to prolong the life of the lamented Queen Victoria can scarcely be realized. All her powers were devoted to the one great end of preserving the health and tranquility of mind of the venerable monarch, and the task was one demanding incessant care. Now that her solicitude in that direction is no more required the Princess will probably enlarge her area of work in public directions.—London Daily Mail.

HOUSEY'S RAPIDS IS IN LINE.

George C. Charles Tells What Dodd's Kidney Pills did for Him.

Took Him From his Bed, Made Him a Well Man Able and Willing to do a Fair Day's Work.

Housey's Rapids, Ont., Mar. 8.—Special.—As every city, town and village in Canada seems to be giving its evidence as to the wonderful cures resulting from Dodd's Kidney Pills, there is no reason Housey's Rapids should not be in line. People here have Kidney troubles just the same as elsewhere, and like other they have used Dodd's Kidney Pills and been cured.

One of the most remarkable cures was that of Geo. C. Chalker. He says: "I am cured of my Kidney Complaint. I have no doubt about it in the least. I weigh ten pounds more than I did fourteen months ago, can do a fair day's work every day and I am clear of my old enemy, lame back, heavy aching arms, dull bloated eyes,—yes, it is all gone, purged out by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"No one can realize the relief except those who have been through it all. I was so bad I could not work hard, but was compelled to make a living. My head felt so bad that my eyes would seem to float. I felt tired all the time, my arms felt useless at times and so very heavy. At last I was laid up and could do no work.

"Then I was induced to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and you see the result. It only took six boxes to cure me completely."

And Mr. Chalker is only one of many in this neighbourhood who charge their good health up to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

RECORDS SINCE 1830.

Prof. R. F. Stupart, Director of the Provincial Meteorological Observatory, Compares Our Winters.

As there seems to be a fairly prevalent idea among the old residents of Canada that our winters are milder now than in the early days of settlement. Mr. R. F. Stupart, Director of the Observatory, has recently given a few notes regarding records of temperature since 1830, which will be interesting and instructive.

The coldest winter, December-March, on record at the Observatory was that of 1884-5, when the mean temperature was 13.3, 6.8 below the average of the whole term of years. The second coldest was in 1872-5, when the temperature was 19.0, 6.1 below average, and the third coldest 1855-6, with a mean temperatire of 20.4 4.7 lower than the average. In two of these winters all four months were below average. In only six winters has the average of every winter month been below average, and all of these have occurred since and including 1872.

Extremes of Temperature.

Again, extremes of temperatures are certainly as large now as they used to be. The lowest temperatures of which we have record at Toronto was 25.6 below zero on the 10th of January, 1859, and 25.4 below on the 5th of February, 1885; 22.8 below was recorded on the 5th of February, 1866 and 21.2 below on the 6th of February, 1895. The lowest reading registered prior to 1855 was 18.6 below on the 17th of January, 1840.

The mildest winter on record was that of 1881-2, when the mean temperature was 31.0, 5.9 higher than the average. The second warmest was 1877-8 with a mean temperature of 30.6, 5.5 above average, and the third warmest was 1841-2, with a mean of 30.5, 5.4 higher than average. In nine winters each month has been higher than average and six of these occurred prior to 1865. Dividing the whole term of years into five-year periods, Mr. Stupart stated that the coldest five-year periods were 1885-9 and 1870-4, and the warmest were 1884-8 and 1840-4.

Reasons for General Impression.

These being facts, it remains to be considered why there is such a very general impression among old inhabitants of this Province that the winters are not as cold nowadays as they used to be. Mr. Stupart suggested that the solution lies in the fact that the houses we live in today are better heated than when wood was the fuel used. In the city the better class of house is almost invariably warmed by means of a furnace which, remaining alight at night, keeps the house warm, and people wash and dress in the morning in a comfortable temperature. Even in the country house hard coal is now largely used for heating purposes and a self-feeder in the hallway prevents houses from cooling off towards morning, as they most certainly did in the days of wood fires, when it was not an uncommon thing on rising in the morning to find water frozen in the pitchers, and dressing was then a very cold, shivery business. It seems not improbable that the warmer dressing-rooms may wholly account for the fallacious idea of a changing climate, but some weight should perhaps be given to the fact that in early days before the country was as thoroughly cleared as it is to-day, and roads were shaded by trees on either side, the snow lay on the ground longer and more deeply, and sleighing was better and more lasting, and this would also have been the case in the city before the traffic was so large and the snow did not become covered with dirt so quickly.

Accurate Instruments.

There is no doubt Mr. Stupart said that the thermometers used in the early days of the Toronto Observatory were accurate and entirely comparable with those used now, and the observers were equally reliable. The observations have been taken on the same plot of ground since 1840, and while environment has certainly changed somewhat the change inthis respect has been such that we might almost expect to find a tendency for higher rather than for lower thermometer readings near the city. From a close study of climate Mr. Stupart said he could not for a moment suppose that the climate of any locality changes appreciably in the lifetime of a man. Change does certainly occur, but probably at a rate comparable with geological changes.

JUST A COLD SETTLED IN THE KIDNEYS, BUT IT TURNED TO DROPSY.

IT WAS CURED BY

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Read of This Wonderful Cure. It May Do You or Your Friends Some Good to Know About It.

Miss Agnes Creelman, Upper Smithfield, N.S., writes:—About 18 months ago I caught cold. It settled in my kidneys, and finally turned into Dropsy. My face, limbs, and feet were very much bloated, and if I pressed my finger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color. I was advised to try DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, and before I had used half a box I could notice an improvement, and the one box completely cured me. I have never been troubled with it since, thanks to DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Price 50c. per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25; all dealers, or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

A LIVE DANCING JACK.

Here Is an Easy Way to Make a Whole Lot of Fun.

Have you a wardrobe in your house in the door of which there is a long mirror? Or if not that have you a long mirror swung in a frame, the kind that our mothers and sisters stand before to see that their gowns "hang right?" If you have either, you may make lots of fun for the family or your friends by turning yourself into a "dancing jack."

The person who does the dancing must wear trousers; therefore it must be a boy. Stand at one side of the glass so that only one half of your body may be seen, the other half being hidden by the glass or by the wardrobe, if you make use of that. Those who witness the performance must stand at the other side of the glass at such an angle that they may see in it the reflection of the half of your body that is in view. Now, as they see one-half of your body out of the glass and its reflection in the glass it will appear to them that they see it all.

Begin your little performance by raising the arm that is in sight, when the reflection in the glass will make it appear that you are raising both arms. There is nothing unusual about that, but raise the leg that is in sight, and the reflection will make it appear that you are raising both legs at the same time and dancing in the air.

Now that you see the idea, invent all sorts of queer and grotesque motions for your leg, modeling them after the antics that are made by the dancing jacks sold at the toyshops. And all the time it will appear to the spectators that you are going through the performance without once touching either foot to the floor. A more amusing "show" could not well be given.—Exchange.

Changes the Subject.

Anna and Hilda were two dear little girls who were neighbors. They were never known to quarrel. One day Hilda's mamma, seeing them playing together so beautifully, asked how it happened that they never had dissensions. "Oh," replied Anna, "whenever we begin to dispute about anything Hilda changes the subject, and then it is all right again."

Dear boys and girls, won't you please remember this? Whenever you begin to disagree, just change the subject, and see how it works.

The man on the stage who does the trick of escaping from firmly tied ropes, submits to the bonds with a smile. He knows he can get out of the ropes that are being knotted. Put the same man in the woods and let Indian captors bind him to a tree for torture and he would struggle to the last against the bonds.

When the stomach is diseased there are bonds being woven every hour about the organs dependent on the stomach—heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc. The folly of mankind is to passively submit to the fastening of these bonds with no effort to escape until the pain they cause arouses fear.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and other organs, when these diseases, as is often the case, have their origin in the diseased stomach.

"For a long time I was suffering and was hardly able to get about," writes Mr. Andrew J. Jennings, of Thomas, Tucker Co., W. Va., Box 304. "Was bothered with kidney trouble and my whole system was out of order; had no appetite. A friend of mine told me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I did so and the first bottle restored my appetite. I took six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and some of the 'Pleasant Pellets' and feel like a new person."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged system from impurities.

Mr. Ross Robertson on Skates.

The first appearance of Mr. John Ross Robertson, ex-M. P., Toronto, in 40 years on skates at the O. H. A. match on a recent Saturday night brings back recollections of his early career in athletics. He was a good swimmer, and on one occasion, in 1857, he swam across Toronto Bay, with three other U. C. College boys.

In 1859 he was stroke of a six-oared boat, that was manned by college and Model School boys. A good photograph of the crew, by Carson, an old picture taker, hangs in a room at U. C. College. Max Strange, an uncle of Strange of the Argonauts, and nephew of Judge McLennan; the late Dr. Tom White of Hamilton, and Dr. Alec McDonald, chief surgeon of Ward's Island, N. Y., were in the crew.

Mr. Robertson managed and played in the hockey, or rather, shinney, games in 1856-1857, when U. C. College played Knox Academy, and the old King street Model School. These were played on the Bay, between York and Simcoe streets.

He started the first game of football at U. C. College, and through his efforts the gymnasium at the U. C. College, on King street, was started and built.

He played cricket on the old Wellington Club, that had its grounds on the corner of Front and Brock streets, when the Brunel family lived there.

MR. WM. J. GERALD.

Sketch of Canada's Deputy Minister of Inland Revenue.

Mr. William John Gerald, Deputy Minister of Inland Revenue, was born at Prescott on July 27, 1850. He was educated at St. Joseph's College, St. Laurent, Montreal, and entered the civil service on April 4, 1867. On January 1, 1880, he was appointed collector of the Brantford division, Inland Revenue Department, and the following year became collector of the London division. On Dominion Day, 1883, Mr. Gerald was appointed Inspector of Tobacco Factories. On February 7 he was transferred to Ottawa, as assistant to Mr. Miall, the then Commissioner of Inland Revenue. In 1901, upon Mr. Miall's retirement, the office of commissioner was abolished, and Mr. Gerald succeeded to the position of Deputy Minister. His promotion to this position marked a deviation from a well-understood practice. Heretofore the procedure had been, when a vacancy occurred in the office of deputy head, to appoint a supporter of the Government, seeing that the duties involve more or less confidential relations with the Minister to whom the department is entrusted. This was not done in the case of the Inland Revenue Department, and Mr. Gerald accordingly got the benefit of promotion. The fact formed the subject of much discussion at a caucus of Parliamentary followers of the Government.

MR. WM. J. GERALD.

Overdressing Babies.

It is said that more babies die from being overclothed than from any other cause save overfeeding and lack of fresh air. Mothers often injure themselves before the birth of their babies sitting half doubled up sewing on an oversupply of clothes with which to swelter and confine the child. Flannel bands, flannel long skirts and flannels over flannels stifle the baby's skin, that necessary breathing organ which should always be in contact with air. The baby is often so swathed and wrapped in clothes as to prevent the normal exercise of its body and limbs, particularly its legs, which it should be enabled to use as freely as does a puppy or other young animal. A child is normally a contented, happy little creature. It is overfeeding, overdressing and too much handling and attention that make him fretful, nervous and puny.

Folding a Tablecloth.

When not in use, a tablecloth should be kept in folded creases, and when brought out to be spread should be laid on the table and unfolded its entire length, the width being doubled, with the center crease along the center of the table. Then the half breadth that is folded should be turned back, and the cloth will hang evenly. Careless servants often gather up a cloth "anyhow" without taking the trouble to fold it up again in its own creases, and thus fresh ones are made. A tablecloth will last fresh looking as long again if it is always folded up after its own folds and put away until the next meal.

Dominion Oil Co., Limited

Chartered Under the Laws of Ontario and Operating Raleigh Oil Fields, Chatham Ont.

CAPITAL $850,000

Divided into 850,000 Shares. Par Value $1.00, Fully Paid and Non-Assessable

TREASURY STOCK—WORKING CAPITAL.....$400,000

No Bonds, Preferred Stock Nor Indebtedness.

The recent acquisition by this company of leases on 200 acres in the Wheatley District, and 150 acres additional in the Raleigh Field, makes its control of oil lands now over 2,000 acres in all, thus increasing its assets by 33⅓, with a corresponding increase in the intrinsic value of its stock. The fact that these additions were also made without drawing a dollar from its rapidly accumulating treasury funds, evidences the intent of its directors to continue the success of the company's operations, and let no opportunity pass to maintain its substantial character and leading position among Canadian enterprises.

At the customary oil field reckoning of one well to an acre, the probable output from these properties is almost beyond computation. The Wheatley property adjoins the several wells drilled and operated by the Union Gas & Oil Co., and is considered a very valuable acquisition; while President Woodward of the Dominion Company advises us that by the installation of the air compressor he expects to increase the output at the famous Gurd Gusher to 400 or 500 barrels a day—and this product is now bringing a higher price than any other petroleum oil on the North American continent. Contracts are also under way for the immediate development of both the new properties, where a very high grade quality of oil has been found.

In view of these facts, as well as the sound financial position now occupied by the company, the directors have decided that the sale of stock shall

Close at 35c Saturday March 14,

and that the price shall

Advance to 50c Monday, March 16.

The company is now paying dividends of one per cent monthly on par ($1.00 per share, fully paid and non-assessable) which at the present figure of 35c is practically 34 per cent. per annum on the investment. The next dividend will be payable April 1st, to all stockholders of record of March 26th; but those who subscribe by March 14th will secure a 3% monthly investment. We earnestly advise all who desire an interest in these wonderful fields to subscribe now and thus make sure of the greater income, and the greater profit possible by the advanced market value of the stock.

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, March 11. — Pres. Vreeland made this morning the following statement. The Directors of Metropolitan have known all about so called charges which were published in the world to-day and the efforts made to secure their publication. The charges originated with one Wm. N. Amory, a notorious character, who was secretary of Third Ave. railroad when it went into the hands of the receiver. Amory who was discharged by the receiver was refused employment by Met. Ever since Amory has devoted himself to malicious attacks upon the Co. Recently he has been the willing instrument of certain speculators in Wall street in their efforts to bear M.R. and to extort large sums of money, as a condition to withdrawing their attacks. With aid of Stephen Little who was retained by the company we furnished a statement to District Attorney which shows charges at issue are false. Met. stock holders need have no anxiety regarding these charges and they may be sure hat no effort will be spared to bring to justice the authors of the malicious and criminal attacks which have recently been made upon the Met. Co. and its officers and directors.

NEWS.

New York, March 11. — The world predicts an interesting story to-day to the effect that the Met. Street Ry. companies books are being overhauled by the District Attorney and that there was a deficit of $18,974,.338 on June 30, 1901, instead of a surplus of $5,403,465.

Big short interest in the general list. The efforts to cover stock in London this morning, caused a boom in Sou. Pac. pool interest.

Not likely to disband even on April 10 unless favourable arrangements are made with Harriman interests.

Standard Oil Gould factions say M. O.P. will enjoy substantial rally. St. Paul meeting to-morrow. Hold Mex. C., copper, buy Atch., moderately.

JOSEPH.

Liverpool wheat 1-8 lower; corn 1-8 lower.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 11. — Harris-Gates bought St. Paul, scattered selling. Housemand selling St. Paul Sub-treasury statement shows banks lost $673,000 additional yesterday, making total since Friday of $3,147,000. General stock market steady since opening mostly on covering of shorts in anticipation of some news from Washington to-day of treasury relief to money market. General sentiment is that market should have some rally but no extensive improvement is looed for and general opinion on board is stocks will prove a sale again on any advance.

M. & M.

This market is balancing on a wire, if no relief comes it has got to godown, If relief comes, even if only sentimental, it will go up in a hurry, then be a good sale.

E. PERKINS.

Secretary Shaw has arrived in New York and is reported in conference with some of leading bankers on money situation. It is expected some announcement will be made during day as to what action he will take. It is generally believed the only thing is to anticipate April 1st Gov. interest and make proposition to retire some Gov. bonds.

M. & M.

New York, March 11. — District Attorney Jerome commenced investigation of charges against Metropolitan. Delaware and Hudson in 1903 will earn 75 p.c. on its capital stock. Wabash Labour situation still serious. 49 roads fourth week Feb. gross increase 13.52 p.c. Expected A.C.P. will resume 4 p.c. dividend rate. Banks lost to sub-treasury since Friday $3,474,000 Can. Pac. first week March, inc. 116,000.

DOW, JONES & CO.

London at 12.30 p.m. is up from 1-8 to 1 1-32. C.P.R. is up 1 3-8.

There ought to be some rally in market this morning because selling was so generally yesterday and has been so heavy that the speculative accounts have been generally relieved and fresh line of shorts put out. Then again the money situation is so acute any change now is likely to be for the better but we do not believe a rally will hold until money stringency is very materially relieved and we do not see any reason to turn to the bull side.

M. & M.

New York, March 11. — A reputable figure interested in Schloss states that he does not think company will declare dividend at present owing to condition of stock money market. But he further states that a dividend on common is a certainty and when it comes it will date from 1st of Dec. last.

M & M.

Messrs. Thompson & Heron, Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 10. — The reaction of to-day was what might be expected when consideration is taken of the sharp advance the market yesterday and is only perfectly natural. Early afternoon prices held steady without particular feature with exception of N. Y. C. which was exceptionally weak. During last hour market had a sharp rally recovering all the declines. Present situation is one in which advantage should be taken of sharp declines to purchase, reselling on bulges and vice versa.

Of course, slumps like the present one offer opportunities of good purchases for the long pull similar to the break in December, when all repaid those who had courage to buy stocks when everything looked darkest. During noon hour market was inclined to dullness which gives indication that considerable pressure on the market has been removed. Temporary recessions occur; but the market is getting for an advance. The present campaign of the insiders could not be carried out better, a great many weak-kneed holders have been shaken out and the leaders have secured some bargains for the spring bull campaign which will be inaugurated shortly. Amal. copper should be picked up on every slight recession as understood it is booked for 99.

Chicago — Wheat held steady early but eased off little over 1-2c later in the session. Good weather reports all over the west. Market acts as if would sag lower. Corn, no news of importance but the market should go higher. Shorts are very timid. May option controlled by strong people who will probably make the shorts hustle to cover when they get ready. Closing prices —Wheat May, 74 1-4 a 3-8; corn, May, 37 3-8 a 1-2; oats, May, 34 3-8 a 1-2; pork, May, 18.42; lard, May,, 10.22 1-2.

GEO. GRANT ELECTED

North Ontario Rejects the High Protection Candidate.

MR. FOSTER FALLS BEHIND.

Change of Six Hundred in the Riding—All Sections Contribute to Swell the Liberal Vote—Enthusiastic and Loyal Support of Liberals Carried the Liberal Cause to Victory.

Beaverton, March 11.—Mr. George D. Grant, the Liberal candidate in North Ontario, was yesterday elected a member of the Dominion Parliament by a majority of nearly 200 over Hon. Geo. E. Foster. The result was not unexpected by those who were in close touch with the canvass on either side. Mr. Grant's personality has been a very important factor in the campaign. He has been indefatigable in the arduous task of canvassing the worst-featured riding in the Province, and his frank, earnest and convincing manner has influenced many an indifferent elector. On the platform, too, his influence has been great. At most of his meetings he spoke with great force, and even in Cannington, where he almost fainted on the platform from exhaustion and spoke with little vigor, he has converted a hostile majority into a modest but gratifying little Liberal majority. Mr. Grant has been supported in the riding by Sir Wm. Mulock and Hon. Wm. Paterson with unselfish energy. The Ministers, like Mr. Grant, opposed vigorously the high protection propaganda of Mr. Foster and an unusually strong contingent of Conservative members, including the Opposition leader, who threw their weight into the contest.

MR. MISCAMPBELL'S APPEAL.

Has Made Deposit and Hopes to Benefit by "Saving" Clause.

Toronto, March 11.—Mr. Andrew Miscampbell is not yet convinced that his case is hopeless, and he has therefore, given notice of appeal, and has deposited the necessary $100 as security for costs. The ground on which Mr. Miscampbell bases his appeal is what is called the "saving clause" in the Election Act. This section permits the judges on sufficient grounds to use their discretion as to unseating a member. On this point, Mr. Justice Osler remarked: "The corruption was such as should override any majority." The Court of Appeal does not sit again until April 14, but a special sittings may be granted to hear the appeal.

Morphine Poisoning Caused Death.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., March 10.—Coroner McClurg's jury, empanelled on the case of P. Alexander, D. L. S., who died on Saturday afternoon, resumed their sitting at 3 o'clock yesterday to hear the result of post-mortem examination performed by A. S. McCay, M. D. The evidence pointed to morphine poisoning, and the jury returned a verdict as follows: "That the deceased, P. Alexander, came to his death through an overdose of morphine, taken by mistake."

Remarkable Fatal Accident.

Montreal, March 10. — Louis Deloche, working in the Dominion Wire Works at Lachine, was killed in a peculiar manner yesterday. He was feeding wire into a machine, when in some way it got around his neck unknown to him. As it tightened the wire cut his head off, falling on the table, while his body sank to the floor. He leaves a family.

As an investment at present prices they discount all other stocks. An increase of 25 to 50 per cent. in their values by fall can be assured.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

A Revival of Interest is at Hand—The Fall Show.

The Horticultural Society has revised the prize list and has made it such as to invite growers to compete. A comparison of the Peterborough prize list with that of any other town in Canada will show that it is much more comprehensive and more liberal.

It has been decided to give the school children seeds and plants that they may compete for the children's prizes. Any child wanting seeds apply to Mr. Beal, the secretary, at the Light and Power office.

It is arranged that a visiting committee will during the summer make several visits to the children's garden plots.

It has also been arranged to give handsome prizes to cottagers for the most tasteful and best kept yards or grounds.

This is to encourage people who have small places to make the most of them. It is hoped that there will be an honest rivalry for these prizes. The prize lits may be had on application to Mr. Beal.

The society is determined that the Fall Show shall surpass all other former shows in attractions, and they ask the support of every one. The market gardeners are going in for a big contest.

It is hoped the public will assist the society in its efforts.

Anniversary Services in Cordova Presbyterian Church.

Dr. H. S. Hutchinson Leaving the Village—Mr. H. H. Smith Left for England.

Sunday, March 8th, was the first anniversary of the Cordova Presbyterian church, and the special services incident to the occasion were conducted by Rev. Thos. W. Goodwill, who has just been called to the pastorate of the church.

Despite unfavourable weather, the congregations were large at both services and listened with rapt attention to the eloquent and forcible sermon of Rev. Mr. Goodwill. The musical portions of the services were excellently rendered by the choir under the leadership of Mr. George D. Hardy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Aunger, have much to the regret of a large circle of friends, removed to Blairton.

Mr. H. Sills, of Belleville, has come to reside in Cordova.

Mr. H. H. Smith, assistant manager Belmont Gold mines, left last week en route to England on private business.

Mrs. George D. Hardy has returned from a visit to her parental home in Toronto.

Mrs. George Dennis, and her sister, Miss M. Jackson, who were visiting in Kingston, have returned to Cordova.

At the regular meeting of Court Cordova, No. 3827, I.O.F., held on Tuesday, March 10th, it was decided to hold a Foresters' at home in Cordova Hall, on the evening of March 24th. It is expected that this will be the social event of the season here.

Miss A. Young, teacher of the junior form in the Cordova public school, had to relinquish her duties last week, being called to her home in Toronto. Mr. Thos. McLaughlin is in charge of her classes temporarily, pending the appointment of a new teacher.

Mr. Jas. A. Lambe, accountant, of the Belmont Gold Mines, has returned to duty after a pleasant visit to relatives in Kingston.

Dr. H. S. Hutchinson is leaving here for Old Point Comfort, Va., and will be succeeded by Dr. Henderson, formerly of Toronto.

REVIVAL SERVICES

Being Conducted in Park Street Baptist Church.

There was a fair attendance last evening at the service in the Park street Baptist church. As announced, the theme was "Gold, Gold, Gold." Rev. Mr. St. Dalmas presented many practical thoughts. He stated that gold was mentioned over 400 times in the Bible—that the first book opened with a description of the Garden of Eden, and mentioned the land of Havilah, where there is gold. Gen. ii, 11. Then the last book of the same volume closed with a description of a land where there were vials of gold, censers of gold, cups of gold, crowns of gold, and even "the streets of the city were of pure gold." Rev. xxi, 21.

The text was Lam. iv. 2. "Precious sons of Zion, comparable unto fine gold." Many of the contents and comparisons made in the Bible with gold were pointed out, such as "we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold or silver, or stone graven by art and man's devices." Then, showing the great value of God's word, "The law of Thy mouth is better unto me than thousands of gold and silver." The worth of a good name or true character—"A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." Andrew Miller was quoted as saying, "How much better to have the gold in the hand than in the heart." Gold is a good servant but the hardest of all masters. The power of gold for evil was also illustrated, as well as for good, but powerful as it was there was much it could not do. It could not purchase for us either health, happiness or heaven. The perishableness of gold was the last point illustrated—we "were not redeemed with corruptible things, such as silver and gold." I Peter 1, 7, 18.

Let others boast their heaps of gold,
Christ for me,
His riches never can be told;
Christ for me,
Your gold will waste and wear away,
Your honours perish in a day,
My portion never can decay,
Christ for me.

The subject announced for to-night is "A Reasonable Call."

READ IT THROUGH.

'Twould Spoil This Story to Tell it in the Headlines.

To use an eighteenth century phrase this is an "o'er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginian town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Melfa Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last June," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold, and at one time I feared that she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbours told me how this remedy had cured her little boy, and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favour. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced, as I was." For sale by all druggists.

THE PINKHAM CURE

ATTRACTING GREAT ATTENTION AND THINKING WOMEN.

Mrs. Frances Stafford, of 243 E. 114th St., N.Y. City, adds her testimony to the hundreds of thousands on Mrs. Pinkham's files.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies were first introduced skeptics all over the country frowned upon their curative claims, but as year after year has rolled by and the little group of women who had been cured by the new discovery has since grown into a vast army of hundreds of thousands, doubts and skepticisms have been swept away as by a mighty flood, until to-day the great good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her other medicines are doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, physicians and thinking people.

Merit alone could win such fame; wise, therefore, is the woman who for a cure relies upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

PORT HOPE HEARD AGAIN.

Trenton's Argument Re Trent Canal Scheme Dealt With.

Trenton Harbor is Shallow—Engineer Maingy as far Back at 1833 Reported in Favour of Port Hope Route.

The following letter in support of the Port Hope route for the Trent Valley Canal outlet appeared in a recent issue of the Toronto World.

Your Trenton despatch of yesterday says the Government engineers have all condemned the Port Hope route of the Trent Valley Canal. In 1833, when the canal was first talked of, the Government appointed a Mr. Maingy to survey the proposed routes and report. His report was sent in, and one item in it is: "The Port Hope route possesses superior advantages over any other line for the outlet of the canal," and it also says, "The cost of building a canal from the mouth of the Trent to Rice Lake would build the canal from Port Hope to Lake Simcoe," and winds up by saying that these are facts that cannot be denied.

The height of land, which is given in your Trenton despatch as being upwards of 200 feet, is given in Mr. Maingy's report as being only 63 15-100 feet, and as it is only 10 1-4 miles from Rice Lake the water, which springs up on the south side of it, runs through a natural valley into Lake Ontario at Port Hope. Mr. Rogers' report of Sept. 22nd, 1900, gives the height of it be 68 feet, which makes Trenton's argument look as though it was somewhat exaggerated.

Another fault Trenton finds with this route is that barges would not be capable of sailing on the open lake. How is it, then, that the barges coming down the Rideau canal from Ottawa sail to any of the American cities on the south shore of the lake, which is also the case at Sault Ste. Marie? Between here and Presquile Bay they would have the protection of a number of good harbours, which would make open lake sailing safe under any circumstances. If navigation from Port Hope to Presquile is such a serious matter how are these boats going to run across Lake Simcoe, where navigation is far more dangerous than on Lake Ontario?

As for harbours, an officer of the R. & O. Line told your correspondent that if his boat was heavily loaded it could not enter Trento harbour at all, and that he did not think of calling at night, as it was too dangerous. By actual measurement it is only 7 feet deep at the dock. Port Hope's harbour has been entered by some of the largest vessels on the lake without any trouble.

Further, R. B. Rogers, the government engineer, in his report says that the route to Port Hope would cost only half what the route to Trenton would cost.

Trenton claims the Government would have 100,000 horse power if the canal went through Trenton, but as a matter of fact the horse power would be only 33,000. Then four-fifths of this power is owned by private parties, and there is still doubt as to the ownership of the other fifth.

As to the withdrawal of water from the Trent River, by the Port Hope route it was a fact that only one-fortieth of the total flow would be diverted, and this is so imperceptible that it does not bring up the question of compensation.

SHE MADE A CHANGE.

A Charleston Mother Did so With Advantage to Herself and Children.

A mother living in Charleston, Mass., the happy possessor of four children, writes: "Every fall and winter I have laid in a stock of cough remedies, croup mixtures and throat medicines for my children, for somehow or other they never seem to be free from coughs, colds or sore throat.

"This fall I made a change in the usual programme. I had myself been cured of an obstinate catarrh from which I had suffered for years, by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and as they were pleasant to take I determined to try them with my children. Our family physician told me he knew them to be perfectly safe, and nothing better could be used for catarrh, coughs and colds.

"So I gave them to the children, and have continued to do so ever since, whenever there is the least sign of croup or sore throat, and I no longer dread the approach of cold weather as I once did.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets not only cured me of chronic nasal and throat catarrh, but they have saved me many an anxious night with my little ones. The children like the taste of them, and it is really wonderful how quickly they will break up a croupy cold or an obstinate, and deep-seated cough."

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes for catarrh and have found how useless they are, be agreeably surprised at the results following the use of a pleasant, convenient, internal remedy in tablet form. Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which sell for 50 cents full sized package, is the safest, most effective and popular of catarrh medicines.

On motion of Mr. Scott, seconded by Mr. Fowler, the council went into Committee of the Whole on the second reading of the bylaw, Mr. Scott in the chair.

Council resumed, chairman reported, bylaw read without amendment, and on motion of Mr. Fowler, seconded by Mr. Bell, the bylaw was read a third time and passed.

On motion of Mr. Bell, seconded by Mr. Scott, a memorial to the Minister of Railways and Canals was passed, praying for the speedy completion of the Trent Valley Canal.

The Age of Brain Work.

In these days, half our diseases come from the neglect of the body in the overwork of the brain. In this railway age the wear and tear of labour and intellect go on without pause or self pity. We live longer than our forefathers but we suffer more. They fatigued only the muscles, we exhaust the finer strength of the nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest medicine of this age because it is best suited to the needs of the present day. It restores and revitalizes wasted nerve cells and makes the pale, weak and exhausted strong and healthy and vigourous.

Baker's Backache.

Working long hours in overheated and poorly ventilated rooms, exposure to extremes of heat and cold, these and many other things incident to a baker's occupation, bring on backache and kidney disorders. In fact there seems to be no class of men more prone to kidney trouble. When you find your back beginning to bother you, the urine to scald or leave a sediment, if you are running down in health and scarce know why, it is time to start taking Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. Kidney troubles are too serious to neglect and too dangerous to experiment with. When you take Dr. Pitcher's Tablets you know you are having the best kidney treatment a skilled specialist can give you, and can feel assured of a certain and speedy cure.

BAD BACK FOR 3 YEARS.

Mr. Geo. Bell, baker and confectioner, River Street, Paris, Ont., made this positive statement: "My back has been in bad shape for three years, and as 64 years of age we do not expect too much. I lay the trouble to an attack of inflammation of the back which left the back painful and the kidneys weak. I have tried all sorts of medicine with no relief until I got a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets at Paul L. Scott's drug store, and so rapid and great was the relief that I quit on one-half bottle, and have no symptoms of any trouble at all since. I am, so far as I can see, completely cured. This is wonderful to me."

HUNTING FOR THE ARK.

Excavations Are Now Being Made at Tara in Ireland.

A diligent search is being prosecuted on the historic hill of Tara, in the County of Meath, the resting place of Ireland's ancient Kings, for the long-lost Ark of the Covenant. The supposition is that St. Patrick brought the ark with him to Ireland.

Excavations have been carried on with the consent of the owner of the land, but nothing has resulted further than the disfigurement of the historic spot.

The Ark of the Covenant was a rectangular box, overlaid with gold. It was constructed by Moses and the children of Israel to hold the Ten Commandments.

None of the theologians have thought of Ireland as a possible resting place of the ark. Their theories are as follows:

1. Carried into Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar.
2. Hidden in Jerusalem by King Josiah to prevent its being carried into Babylon.
3. Buried in a cave on Mount Sinai.
4. Lying at the bottom of the Lake of Tiberias, together with the rod of Moses.
5. In the ruins of Emperor Heraclius' palace at Constantinople.

The Lost Lamp.

The famous lamp of Towneley Chapel, at Towneley Hall, in England, has recently been extinguished. This was probably the last of the so-called "ever-burning" lamps of England. It is claimed that the Towneley lamp had been burning constantly since the days of King Alfred—for more than one thousand years. At the beginning of the last century half a dozen were still alight, while at the dissolution by Henry VIII. many hundreds alight in the monasteries had been burning ever since the Norman Conquest. Doubtless these perpetual lamps were a remnant of that form of pagan worship known as everlasting fire, which was kept alight by guardians, who were punishable with death if they allowed the fire to go out.

WINTER IN CANADA

ALTOGETHER ENJOYABLE SEASON TO THE PROPERLY CLOTHED.

How Strangers From the South Were Agreeably Surprised During a Recent Visit to Toronto—Our Weather Conditions, Winter and Summer, More Enjoyable Than That of Anywhere Else on the Continent.

Not too long, and not too cold, the Canadian winter is, to everyone who can afford an overcoat, an altogether enjoyable season. The idea has somehow been spread abroad that Canada is a land of perennial cold, and Kipling's unfortunate phrase, "Our Lady of the Snows," has done considerable to foster this mistaken notion. Until recently the people of England have looked upon Canada as the northern Siberia of the British Empire, and, in no way has Britain's best colony been more misrepresented than in regard to her climate, says The Toronto Globe. Even in the United States there is a remarkable ignorance concerning the conditions of weather this side of the line. In the late winter of last year a large convention was held in Toronto, attended by delegates from all over America, scores of whom came loaded down with extra clothing and bundles of heavy wraps. When they reached Toronto they were surprised to find that even a light overcoat was hardly necessary.

All these misconceptions are the more surprising, because a glance at the map will at once show the facts concerning Canada's geographical situation. Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec, St. John and Halifax lie in a belt corresponding exactly to France, Italy and Turkey. London and Liverpool are in the same latitude as Labrador, some seven or eight degrees farther north than the Canadian centres. And yet the idea seems to have obtained that Canada is altogether "northland."

In comparison with our American neighbors, we have a double advantage. Parts of Canada are in the same latitude as the New England States, but even those parts which are farther north are less liable to climatic extremes. Central Ontario seldom has as severe winters as New York, and, on the other hand, our summers are much better tempered. Toronto and Montreal are never held in the grasp of winter fury as the American metropolis frequently is, nor in any Canadian city have we the other extreme of paralyzing heat so intense as in Boston or Philadelphia. In the west, Manitoba and the adjacent territories, though farther north than Minnesota and Dakota, have milder winters, fewer blizzards, and a more even temperature, with freedom in summer from devastating cyclones. A northerly situation does not necessarily mean severe weather; in Ontario, for instance, the cold is less intense in the Hudson Bay country than on the north shore of Lake Superior.

Canada's climate my be summed up very generally as a temperate climate. Neither so cold as to make spontaneous enterprise impossible, nor so warm as to have an enervating influence, it is just such a climate as encourages a vigorous type of manhood and makes the work both of brain and hand a force that tells.

It is a glorious season, the Canadian winter. We deny and resent the imputation that we have winter all or most of the time, but we are proud of it when we do have it. It gives us the sharp, keen delight of out-door life that no southern clime can rival: it gives us the best of sports; and it gives us scenery of striking beauty, fantastic form and delicious purity. Our winter sports are national. A snowshoe jaunt, for example—with the air as still as death, and acres of white behind and before. A tramp on snowshoes under such conditions, to the merry tune of laugh and song, is something worth the while. Rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes, and tingling blood are the physical results—splendidly inflated lungs, and sweeping circulation, and glorious sleep afterwards. Of skating and tobogganing, and even of sleigh-driving, quite as much may be said. We get some fun out of the winter in Canada.

For natural beauty there are few things to compare with such a sight as that on a recent January morning, only a few weeks ago, when fields and bushes and trees were weighted down with newly-fallen "beautiful." Fairyland pictures, such as frosty winter mornings sometimes bring us, last but an hour or so, but every Canadian has seen them, and knows that they rival, in dead white, the richest colors of autumn. An excellent description of one of these rare sights is given in The Comber Herald:

"The snow gently sifted down one night last week, and covered each limb and twig of every tree, producing for the next morning such an effect as a person may see but once or twice in a lifetime. It was impossible for anyone to refrain from speaking of the beautiful snow that morning. The early riser came forth from his home into a world that seemed like a fairyland. Not a breath of air stirred during the night to disturb the inch of snow that lay on every branch and twig. The thin wire across the street bore its weight of snow and looked like a great cable. The sparrow flew from tree to tree, and the tiny bird seemed to have a strength out of all proportion to its size, as it stirred a branch in a tree-top and sent snow down, which, disturbing more as it fell, multiplied as it descended, causing something like an avalanche at the bottom. To look up a tree-lined street that morning gave a view that was magnificent and stirred sentiment in the dullest. The red brick stores glowed through the white [illegible]. Then the wind stirred itself, and threw off the snow, a vandal current of air touched it off the [illegible]. There was a picture that [illegible]ning."

A WISE LEADER.

Verigin Talks Sense to Pilgrims—Ingenious Ways—Reasons With Doukhobors.

Peter Verigin, one of the leaders of the Doukhobors, who has been in Russia, and of whom great things are expected in the way of inducing the people to settle down and give up their foolish idea of another pilgrimage in the spring to convert the world, is now in the Doukhobor villages north of Yorkton, and, according to reports from there, is meeting with considerable success in his effort. He started at the village of Proterpersky, where his home was before leaving for Russia, and where his mother still lives. His first meeting was held in his own house, and in the course of his address he discussed the whole situation. He began by taking up the question of the suitability of Canada as a place for the Doukhobors. He declared that the Doukhobors were here by God's will, and that there was no need to look anywhere else. While the climate was cold it was healthy, and the soil produced all manner of grains and vegetables, so that there was no reason why they should not be happy and prosperous. Having a good soil and climate, the other essential to success was the possession of animals. Every family should have a team of horses and two or three cows.

Animals Co-Workers With Men.

One of those who had been on the pilgrimage here broke in with the remark that in Canada all the work was done by horses, and man got the benefit of enslaving them. Verigin's reply was that the relation was not that of master and slave but of fellow-workers; that while the horse worked for the man, both labored to produce oats for the horse as well as wheat for the man. Hay was cut and stacked and stables built for the horse's benefit, so that the benefits were mutual. Animals were in this sense to be considered members of the community. But the leader was not yet "out of the woods," for the same pilgrim raised the point that if they kept cows for the milk and butter there would be the annual excess of males, and it would not be right to sell these to the butcher. Verigin had evidently thought this matter out further than the pilgrim, and he was ready. He said that on the ship he came across in from England there were 700 immigrants, poor people, who expected to settle on land. If the Doukhobors found they had too many bullocks they could give the surplus to these poor immigrants to plow with.

Urged Adaptation.

Then he went on to counsel them to adapt themselves to their surroundings, and settle down. He urged them to take up land without delay. They had been in Canada four years, and had been acting as if they were not going to stay. The Government might have given away the lands to others, but it had been patient. It was not right for them to be looking for trouble, and expecting evil. They were no longer in poor Russia, ground into the dust of bad government. Canada was a free country, and he saw no dangers ahead, but even if evils did come they could meet them like men as they had before. They should also comply with the law in regard to the registration of vital statistics, which law was meant for their good.

Turns Tables on Them.

Verigin dealt with the late pilgrimage. Some felt called to do no work, but to go out and preach the conversion of the world. Of course if they saw that as their duty they must go, but they should consider it well. Were they so perfect that there was no reforming to be done in their own lives before they were quite ready to preach perfection? If such was the case, why, of course, they should start again in the spring. But they must remember this, that while they were free to adopt such a mode of life and to subject themselves to any privations they might see fit, they had no right to involve their relatives, and especially their wives and children. If any of them should again go out they should leave behind their wives and children, with their relatives, who would, no doubt, be glad to take care of them.

Things Look Hopeful.

Verigin is now traveling from village to village with a party of selected followers, and talking to all in the same strain. The party travel in sleighs drawn by horses, and have met with a very good reception wherever they have appeared. The appearance of milk and butter on the tables indicates that part at least of the Doukhobors have given up the worst features of the craze. It cannot be told until spring how successful Verigin has been, but everything now looks very hopeful for another pilgrimage being prevented.

The Same Old Cry.

Scarcity of Canadian Timber. We have heard it stated by several who are interested in the trade, that the scarcity of Canadian timber, especially for building purposes, is already beginning to be felt by a considerable increase in price. This is ascribed to the circumstance of so many vessels being devoted from the staple traffic of the Saint Lawrence in order to convey emigrants to Australia and the States, and as the weather may shut up the chance of further supplies, for some time, it is feared that those who have entered into large building contracts when timber was at a low price, will now suffer loss and embarrassment by its increased value in the market.—Liverpool Albion.—From The Globe of Jan. 8, 1853.

Miller's Worm Powders correct all such troubles as lack of appetite, biliousness, drowsiness, sallow complexion, etc., nice to take. Sold by all druggists.

His Spine Was Jarred.

London, March 11.—Defective mechanism on an elevator at Wright & Co.'s wholesale hardware was the cause of serious injury to William Lillie yesterday morning. By the slipping of some parts of the machinery of cables he was dropped the distance of two stories to the basement. His spine was badly jarred and he sustained bruises and minor injuries which will lay him up for some weeks.

Colds are Dangerous.

How often you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence, that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency towards pneumonia. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists.

A Shakespeare Cupboard.

"1585, June. I bought. I sawed it. May, 1586. I nailed it. I carved it. William Shakespeare," is the inscription on a small oak cupboard about to be sold by auction at Snitterfield, near Stratford-on-Avon.

Killed by a Train.

Ottawa, March 10.—A man supposed to be Samuel Dale of Arnprior was killed by the eastbound transcontinental C. P. R. train yesterday, near Sand Point station.

Health and Hope.

"He who has health has hope; and he who has hope has everything." But hope flees at the approach of kidney disease with the dreadful pains which accompany it. With the flesh gradually failing, the back aching, and the despair which often comes to victims of this ailment, only the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will restore hope, confidence and health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

SERVICE IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Third of a Series of Special Services

Held During Lent—Powerful and Eloquent Address by Rev. R. Seaborne, of Bowmanville.

The third of a series of special Lenten addresses was held last night in St. John's church, at 8 o'clock. Rev. R. Seaborne, of Bowmanville, gave the address, his subject being "Helps to a Devotional Life," to a large congregation.

The preacher took his text from the third verse of the fourth chapter of Thessalonians, "This is the will of God, even your sanctification."

In the course of his powerful and earnest address, the preacher said that these were the most inspiring words anyone could think of who was really in earnest. This verse proves that we have the supreme power of the Almighty God on our side, and no earnest person should despair. What does this word sanctification mean? This words runs throughout the Bible and applies to both persons and things. God said that the seventh day should be sanctified, which means set aside or apart for special purpose. God also said "Sanctify me Aaron and his priests," so that it can be clearly seen that the word sanctification means sets apart or consecrating to Almighty God. We are all consecrated to God. In our baptism we are all set apart — all consecrated to God, and it rests with each of us to carry out, or not to carry out, this nativinal consecration to God. There are three main things that could be suggested as the three primary suggestions for this development of our spiritual life—firstly, the systematic reading of the Bible; secondly, prayer; and, thirdly, the continuance of the Holy Communion.

The speaker took each of these primary points in order. Some people did not read the Bible because it was so criticized nowadays, but any amount of criticism could not possibly diminish the good lessons to be obtained from the Bible. Another excuse for not reading the Bible is that in some places the Bible is so hard to understand, but after all there are more simple passages in the Bible than there are hard ones, and for the nourishment of our spiritual life we should read the Bible systematically.

Then, secondly, there is prayer. The great object of prayer is that our spiritual notions may keep in harmony with our Heavenly Father and not to obtain everything we ask for. The greatest necessity for the maintenance of spiritual life is prayer.

Thirdly, the point of the continuance of the Holy Communion. "Do this in remembrance of me." was our Lord's dying command, and this last is one of the most important primary points to be observed for the welfare of our spiritual life.

These are the three great helps to people in working out of their spiritual life, and if these three points are allowed to go by, with them will go the whole of our spiritual needs; to neglect these things means that our spiritual lives will be allowed to deliberately rot. We are set apart to God, and on our side we ought to see that we are worthy of being such. In our struggles to be better —to improve our spiritual life—we must remember that we have on our side the greatest power possible, that is the power of the Almighty God. "The Lord is your strength; of whom are ye afraid; the Lord is your salvation of whom need ye fear?"

The service ended in the usual manner by the singing of songs of praise.

AN AUTOMOBILE SERVICE

Between Peterborough and Chemong Park.

Local Syndicate now Being Formed—A Representative in Town Yesterday.

Some time ago the Examiner intimated that there would very likely be an automobile service between Peterborough and Chemong Park during the coming season. The promoters of the scheme are all local gentlemen who realize the fact that a much larger summer traffic might be built up between these two points. It looks now as if the project would be carried into effect and that by the middle of June Peterborough people will be able to run out and back to this popular summer resort, two or three times a day if necessary.

Yesterday Mr. Phillips, the president of the Canada Motor and Cycle Co., of Toronto, was in town in the interests of his firm. He was driven out to Chemong by Mr. R. H. Leary and expressed himself as satisfied that an automobile service over the route would be an easy matter to accomplish. The hills he counted as nothing, but the narrow road might in some places cause a little trouble.

Last evening at a meeting of those interested in the scheme Mr. Phillips was in attendance. The local gentlemen present were Messrs. A. Elliott, J. M. Brooks, Dickson Best, Ed. Brown, Geo. Brown, R. M. Roy, and John Crane.

Mr. Phillips, it is understood, offered to place at their disposal an automobile, especially built for the Chemong route, to carry twenty passengers, for the sum of $4,000, and have the vehicle on the road by the middle of June. The automobile would be up-to-date in every respect.

It is understood that the local syndicate is considering the offer, which will very likely be accepted. They are to reach a decision in the matter by Friday night.

The single fare to Chemong would be 25 cents, or five for $1. Twenty fares would be granted for $5, it is said.

CHANGES IN THE 57TH.

Two New Companies to be Oganized.

Several Vacancies in Staff of Officers —The New Drill Regulations.

The spring drill of the 57th Regiment will commence on the 1st of April, and considerable preparations are being made by the officers, non-coms. and men.

Numerous changes, especially among the officers are being made, and with the additional strength of two new companies which are to be organized, the Regiment is expected to take a stronger position than ever in the Volunteer Militia Force of Canada. The public has been previously informed thatt he strength of the company will be increased from 6 to 8 Companies, the two new companies to be commanded by Lieutenants A. W. McPherson and R. F. McWilliams, who will, as a matter of course, be promoted to the ranks of Captain.

At Military Headquarters orders have been issued for the purpose of equalizing the strength of all regiments in Canada; that is to say all regiments having 8 Companies will have two new ones added and those regiments having 10 companies will have their strength reduced to 8 companies. Arrangements are being made for the the equipment of two new company armouries with present drill shed. The armouries will be fully equipped with new clothing and rifles.

Last year there were in the 57th Regiment twenty-three officers out of a possible twenty-five, which was most creditable, but owing to the retirement of Lt.-Col. E. B. Edwards, and the removal from town of Lieutenants Cameron and Bradburn, and also the resignation of Lieutenant Layfield, and further, owing to the two additional companies there will be a number of vacancies on the staff of officers. It is understood that a number of promising men have been selected by the new Colonel, Lt.-Col. Miller and thereby all the new vacancies are expected to be filled for the season.

Major Stevenson is to become Senior Major to the new Commanding Officer, and his vacancy will be filled by the promotion of Captain Hayes of No. 6 Company. The vacancy made by the promotion of Captain Hayes will be filled by the promotion of Lieut. G. Matthews. The new officers will be allotted to different companies, but as yet nothing official has been announced.

A class of instruction has been carried on by Lt.-Major Brittain, for those wishing to qualify for non-coms., and since the 1st March, these classes have been attended by most of the officers and non-coms.

The new drill introduced by Lord Roberts has made a number of radical changes in the direction of simplifying field movements and also in making the individual men rely more on themselves than previously. The new regulations do away with to a certain extent the previous form of drill, in close formation, and the work formerly done by sections in extended order has been applied to nearly all company movements. A number of simplifications in rifle exercises have also been made. Arrangements are under way for an annual trip to take place on July 1, and it is the intention of the officers to make this a particular good outing as the one which was to have taken place last year fell through. There is some talk in military circles of bringing a crack Regiment down to Peterborough on May 24th, but as yet nothing certain has been made known.

You cannot beat our 3c, 5c, 7c, and 10c Wall Papers—the patterns are new, this year's—not old remnants of last year. Sailsbury & Co.

MR. GAMEY'S MAIDEN SPEECH.

Alleges that He was Paid Money

TO SUPPORT GOVERNMENT.

Hon. J. R. Stratton's Most Emphatic Denial.

An Exciting Time in the Ontario Legislature—An Investigation to be Commenced.

Toronto, March 12th.—Robert R. Gamey, M.P.P., who gave an interview to The Globe on January 29th, announcing that, although elected as a Conservative, he would afford the Liberal Government an independent support because of their new Ontario policy and because his own politics were "Manitoulin," created one of the greatest sensations in the political history of the Province at the first business session of the Legislature yesterday by stating that he had been bribed with the sum of $2,000 to support the Government, and had taken the money with the intention of securing proof of the corrupt transaction to lay before the House.

Mr. Gamey, in his statement, charged that payments of $4,000 had been made by Hon. James R. Stratton, the Provincial Secretary, to insure his support, and that Frank Sullivan, an officer of the Public Works Department, had been the go-between.

The charges were made with great detail, and were listened to with breathless excitement by the members of the House and hundreds of people in the galleries. The speech was not without dramatic incidents. Mr. Gamey produced a roll of bills, that he declared to be the $500 received from Sullivan in January. Later, he told amid absorbed interest how he had on the previous evening enticed Sullivan to a down-town piano factory, where three shorthand writers had been concealed behind piano cases that they might listen to and record the conversation between Gamey and Sullivan in reference to the transactions spoken of.

While the Conservatives, apparently not realising that applause was scarcely in place in the presence of such grave charges, delightedly pounded their desks, the Premier rose. He said:—

"I am assured by my colleague that the charges affecting his honour are untrue. So much, however, has been said by the honourable member for Manitoulin that it becomes us to take steps to make an early and a thorough investigation. (Loud Ministerial applause.)

"That investigation shall be made at once, under the rules of the House, either by a special committee to be appointed by the House for that purpose, or the Committee of Privileges and Elections in the usual way. But the investigation shall be made, and with as little delay as practicable. (Ministerial applause.) That is all I have to say about it."

Mr. Whitney, following, in a few words expressed his belief that the charges were too serious to be lightly thought or spoken of, and that justice must be done in the matter, in which two members were involved.

The procedure to be followed in the investigation promised by the Premier is a matter of uncertainty. In the case of the Pacific scandal a commission of Judges heard the charges and gave a decision. In the investigation into the McGreevy-Langevin scandal, which resulted in the withdrawal of Sir Hector from public life, Mr. Tarte made his statements good before the House of Commons Committee of Privileges and Elections.

The only matter of the same nature that has come before the Legislature of Ontario, was the bribery plot of 1884, when, it will be remembered, a conspiracy was entered into by a number of leading Conservatives to secure by bribery the support of several of the followers of Mr. Oliver Mowat, whose majority at that time was very small. On March 17 Mr. Mowat asked the Speaker to open certain letters placed in his hands. These disclosed charges by Robert McKim, and Wm. D. Balfour, members of the House, against John A. Wilkinson, Christopher Bunting, Edward Meek, and others, of attempting to purchase the support of members. In the case of Mr. McKim one thousand dollars in bills was placed in the Speaker's hands, and in the case of Mr. Balfour $800 was handed over, as having been received from the would-be bribers. Various promises of office had been made with the expectation of securing the votes of Mr. Balfour and Mr. McKim. Mr. Mowat, as Attorney-General, at once moved a reference to the Standing Committee on Privileges and Elections. The committee began an investigation, which was transferred after a few days to a Commission of Judges, consisting of the late Mr. Justice Proudfoot and Judges Sinclair and Scott, who continued and completed it.

It does not seem improbable that even if the present matter goes in the first instance to the Privileges and Elections Committee the inquiry will develop into one in which a Commission of Judges will be a more satisfactory tribunal to determine the issues raised by Mr. Gamey.

MR. STRATTON'S DENIAL.

Declares That He was not a Party to the Alleged Transaction.

At the conclusion of the sitting of the House a representative of the Globe asked Mr. Stratton if he had anything to say in reference to the allegations made by Mr. Gamey. Mr. Stratton said that Mr. Gamey had come to his office in the Parliament buildings on three or four occasions. On one occasion Mr. Gamey had spoken to him in reference to the appointment of a Justice of the Peace in Manitoulin, and Mr. Stratton had suggested that if he (Mr. Gamey) had any recommendation to make, he should forward it in writing to the Attorney-General, who had charge of such appointments, but who was at that time out of the city.

On the occasion of another of Mr. Gamey's visits, he said he came to see about some road grants which he desired for certain roads in Manitoulin. Mr. Stratton told him he had better send his application in writing in the usual way to the Department of Public Works, which has charge of colonization road matters.

On another occasion Mr. Stratton said, Mr. Gamey had come to him complaining of the bad enforcement of the license law in Manitoulin. He asserted that hotelkeepers were not observing the law, and that the inspector was absent from his official duty a great deal, attending to his private affairs. Mr. Gamey asked for the appointment of an inspector, but his request was not acted upon, and he also asked to be allowed to name one of the license Commissioners who were to be appointed for the new license district resulting from the subdivision of the district into constituencies. Mr. Gamey also spoke of his intention of supporting the Government—that he had no use for Mr. Whitney, his mining policy was bad, and he was not in favour of giving any encouragement to the development of new Ontario. He believed the Liberal policy would be best for the improvement of the northern country, and he felt that the interests of his constituents would be best served by his supporting the Government. Mr. Stratton told him that if that was the case he had better declare his intention. The Government would in that event consider his recommendations, as they would do in the case of their other supporters. Mr. Stratton said he had never seen Mr. Gamey in any capacity outside of his office in the Parliament buildings, and only when he came in to see him on the business mentioned.

Mr. Stratton said that no consideration for support, or money, was ever mentioned, directly or indirectly, between them, in any shape or form. During his visits Mr. Gamey was very energetic and severe in denouncing Mr. Whitney. He said he was an impossibility as a leader on account of his undecided policy, his domineering disposition and his temper. Mr. Gamey's expressed dissatisfaction with Mr. Whitney as a leader and of his policy was exceedingly pronounced, and might have been considered extravagant if coming from the most bitter opponent.

THE LANCET AND TOBACCO.

Extract From "Liqueurs et Tabacs," July, 1902.

A recent number of the English medical journal, the Lancet, contains a long article on the cigarette. After stating that of all the methods of smoking the cigarette owed its great spread to its convenience, our confrere thus concluded:—

This being recognised (the growing general use of the cigarette) it is important to ascertain if its use is more dangerous than that of the cigar or the pipe. One fact which militates in favour of the cigarette, is that it gives a much lighter smoke than a pipe. Moreover, the cigarette, from one end to the other, is in direct contact with the air and the combustion is absolutely complete. It is also objected against the cigarette that the combustion takes place near the nose, and the smoke from the end is constantly inhaled, and that through the lips objectionable matter may penetrate, a reproach attaching, but in a less degree, to the cigar. The employment of a cigarette holder obviates these two inconveniences, the inhalation of the smoke and the flow of tobacco juice into the mouth. A long pipe kept constantly clean effectively protects the smoker against these two dangers. Nevertheless, smoked rationally it is certain that the cigarette is the most inoffensive way of using tobacco. Thanks to its convenience and its cheapness it is easy to understand the immense favour it enjoys throughout the world.

THE GAMEY CHARGES.

Yesterday in the Ontario Legislature Mr. R. R. Gamey the member for Manitoulin, made a statement or rather, a series of statements, which were of most extraordinary character, and showed the length to which Conservatives will go in order to injure political opponents. Hon. Mr. Gibson and Hon. Mr. Stratton, whose names are used by Mr. Gamey in connection with his charges, both absolutely and positively deny the truthfulness of his assertions so far as connecting these gentlemen with the former's allegations of improper and corrupt actions. In view of the serious character of the charges made and in compliance with the wishes, or rather, the demand of both Hon. Messrs. Gibson and Stratton, the Government will direct that the most searching investigation possible will be made as to the truthfulness of Mr. Gamey's statement. It is highly probable that the inquiry will take the form of a Royal Commission of Superior Court Judges. No doubt the Opposition politicans and Opposition journals will make much of the Gamey incident, but the public, with a desire to be fair will do well to suspend judgment pending the investigation into the charges and allegations of Mr. Gamey, which seem to be highly coloured and to bear evidence of being the result of a carefully concerted plan by those interested, for party purposes in discrediting the Government.

"DEMAND THE UNION LABEL"

That's the War Cry of Trades and Labour Council.

Rousing Meeting of Union Delegates Last Night—Voice of Organised Labour Against Importation of Men.

The regular meeting of the Peterborough Trades and Labour Council was held last night at which there was a large attendance of delegates from the different unions. The President opened the meeting, and called the members to assist in getting through the practical business of the evening, which was of more than usual importance.

After the minutes had been read and confirmed, the secretary read the reports from several committees.

The report of the committee appointed to procure a new place of meeting, recommended the offer of the Hall Trustees of Court Langton, C.O.F. They were instructed to have an agreement drawn up for a year's lease of the same.

The accounts of the Lecture Committee were passed and ordered to be paid.

The Committee appointed to wait on the Board of Health for the purpose of urging upon that body the necessity of recommending the appointment of a skilled sanitary plumbing inspector, reported that the Board was in sympathy with the Trades and Labour Council's request, and would recommend the Town Council to appoint a suitable man for the position.

Delegates from different unions then addressed the Council on the urgent necessity for demanding the union label on every occasion. It was urged that the merchants were not alive to the importance of having the label on their goods. Cases were cited to prove that union men were also indifferent in demanding the label when buying their clothing, shoes, groceries, tobaccoes, etc. Wage-earners and the members of their families were doing themselves an injustice in buying goods without the union label. The delegates more special reference to certain firms in town who claimed they employed union men and kept union made merchandise in stock, but "couldn't produce the goods" with the label on, when demanded. The discussion resulted in the representatives being instructed to bring the matter before the attention of their different unions, and calling upon the members to patronize only such business firms as were in sympathy with the union label.

A delegate from the Carpenters' Union drew attention to the recent meeting of the manufacturers of the province at which it was represented that 5,000 more skilled mechanics were urgently needed in the province and they had asked the Ontario Government to take some action towards the importation of men to relieve the situation. The delegate claimed that the scarcity of labour cry, was an exaggeration of the most mischievous character, and that no such scarcity of labour existed in the province. It was stated that the manufacturers of Canada were in a large measure to blame for permitting so many of our best men to go to the United States. The reason for this was that they got better wages and steadier employment in the States. Canadian employers would not pay as good wages. In Ontario manufacturers employed a great many men during busy times, and let them go as soon as they could do without them. As a result there were now about 25,000 Canadian skilled mechanics working in the States. That was the direct cause of the trouble, and we should re-import some of our good Canadian mechanics rather than bring in Europeans. It was claimed that many of these Canadians would be glad to return if they could depend upon a fair living wage for themselves and their families.

On motion a committee was appointed to draft a strong resolution to the Ontario Government protesting against the importation of more labour.

The meeting then adjourned.

Well Again.

The many friends of John Blount will be pleased to learn that he has entirely recovered from his attack of rheumatism. Chamberlain's Pain Balm cured him after the best doctors in the town, (Monon, Ind.) had failed to give relief. The prompt relief from pain which this liniment affords, is alone worth many times its cost. Sold by all druggists.

ARE FACING DEATH.

70,000 PEOPLE IN NORTHERN SWEDEN STRICKEN OF STARVATION.

People in the Stricken District of King Oscar's Realm Are Even Now Subsisting on Less Than Half the Rations of Famine Times—Relief Funds From Other Countries Will Be Required for Six Months.

A feeling of deep sympathy not unmingled with horror was experienced by news readers the other day at the intelligence conveyed by cable from Sweden that in the northern districts of King Oscar's realm 70,000 people were reduced to the direst straits by famine. The latest reliable information was received on the 24th January from The London Daily News correspondent at Gellivare, North Sweden.

"The most pitiful conditions were found at every point visited," said the correspondent. "Only the most meager relief supplies which have temporarily ceased in certain districts, stand between the peasants and starvation. Were the relief resources to slacken for any considerable number of days during the next six months it is hard to conceive how thousands of human beings and cattle should escape death from hunger. Even now they are subsisting on less than half the regulation rations of famine times.

"This description of the situation is based on personal inspection of typical districts, and is indorsed by Government officials, pastors, school teachers, innkeepers and others in hourly contract with the widespread misery. At present the problem that is given the relief authorities most concern is the need for securing sufficient seed grain—principally barley—in order to enable the ruined farmers to sow new crops. Only a small percentage is required. Six hundred thousand bushels are in sight. If there is any Canadian grain grown far enough north to ripen in the Swedish altitudes the Government will import it."

The condition of the people in northern Sweden is beyond description. The heavy frost and snowstorm which came in August destroyed their crops. Then pestilence swept over the land. All the game left it, the fish being driven out of the rivers. The snow is deep, and it is difficult to carry food to the destitute. There is talk of the Swedish Government making a bond issue by which the farms may be restocked and seed be purchased for the next crop.

F. A. Lindstrand, publisher of The Swedish-American, gives some additional information. He says the people of the stricken area number more than 70,000. Their small farms have been stripped of stock. The section in which they live has been robbed of every article that could be converted into food. The suffering is intense and widespread. Then the work of the relief committee is made more difficult because of the large area through which the farmers are scattered. Relief must be carried to them on sledges. Meantime they are starving. They are an honest, hard-working, deserving class of people. No appeal ever was made for suffering thousands more in need of assistance or more worthy of it.

A general appeal for relief has been sent out by the Swedish National Committee from Stockholm. This committee was appointed by King Oscar to take charge of funds and superintend their distribution. Already $60,000 has been sent to this committee by the Swedes in the cities of the United States, and the genuineness of the need is seen in these subscriptions by people comparatively poor themselves.

Governor Karl J. Bergstrom of the province of Norrbotten, North Sweden, in which the majority of the famine sufferers reside, reported to the king that 4,000,000 kromer would be required to feed the destitute until they receive some support from their own crops. This sum, about $1,080,000 in Canadian money, must all be received quickly to provide them with food, and then it will require them to collect the necessary stock and seed with which to supply their farms for the approaching season.

One Chicago committee of the poorer class of Swedes have forwarded a trainload of provisions already.

AN OLD MAN OF THE SEA.

A Gentleman Who Wanted and Got a Sessional Position at Ottawa.

When Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, was member for Centre Toronto, he was a regular Old Man of the Sea in the shape of one of the gentlemen, who annually seeks for a sessional position at the Ottawa House, says The News. For two years this man pursued the representative from Toronto, but Mr. Cockburn's list was full, and the insistent gentleman was sent empty away. Finally, in the session of '95 or thereabout, the candidate scored. On the first day of the session, after the ceremonies attending the opening of Parliament, Mr. Cockburn met Speaker White in the corridor of the House of Commons.

"By the way, Cockburn," remarked the Speaker. "I have given that chap of yours a job as messenger."

"Why!" said Mr. Cockburn in surprise, "I didn't nominate anybody for a messengership. I had a couple of chaps who wanted clerkships, but I had no messenger."

"Well," returned Mr. White, "he came down to see me yesterday; told me that you had endorsed his application, and as you are a friend of mine, I put him on. He's on the list now."

Mr. Cockburn did some swift thinking. "Oh, yes," he said. "Of course; of course. He's a good man, too."

The fact was that the Torontonian had worked a cold-blooded bluff on both Mr. Speaker and Mr. Cockburn. But the latter is a good sportsman. As he said afterwards to a friend: "Confound the chap. He never spoke to me about it at all. But I admired his nerve, and didn't say a word to Mr. White about the way he had hoodwinked us." And the rest of the story is that at the beginning of the next session Mr. Cockburn used his influence to get the man a better post.

HIS CONFESSION.

Maurice Best Admits that He Owes His Life to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"A man's health depends upon his stomach." Like many another ancient adage this one has more than a grain of truth in it. The stomach feeds the blood and the blood carries the food to all parts of the body. Therefore if the stomach is in good shape the body will be thoroughly fed.

But another important matter must be attended to. The blood, as well as carrying the food to the muscles, carries off the waste material, and the kidneys remove that waste material from the blood. Therefore to ensure the perfect working of the system the two most important organs to keep in order are the stomach and the kidneys.

And to do this is easy with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Dodd's Kidney Pills on sale at every dealer's. They work on the parts affected separately and together and the results obtained are almost miraculous. Listen to what they did for Maurice Best, of Southern Harbour, Newfoundland.

"I suffered for eight years from Dyspepsia," writes Mr. Best. "I was in continual misery. I would go off in a faint and for ten or fifteen minutes I would be more dead than alive. Doctors tried and could not cure me. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets made me feel like a new man. I confess I owe my life to Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

Counting the Eskimos.

Ottawa, March 10.—Census Commissioner Blue has received a report of the Eskimo population of Ungava. Rev. W. G. Walton went to Fort George, at the Big Whale River, where the Eskimo population generally gather. Only about one-third of the Eskimo came to the fort, on account of bad ice. Mr. Walton took the names of 42 families. Nearly all of them can read an write. Most of them belong to the Church of England.

Bad Canadian Quarters.

Toronto, March 11.—Be on the look-out for bad Canadian quarters—new 1902 issue. The bogus coin is well made and easily passes muster. The King's head is well done, as is also the wreath of maple leaves. Quite a number have turned up here.

Judge Creasor Dead.

Owen Sound, March 11.—Judge John Creasor died here yesterday morning, aged 70. He was called to the bar in 1854, and was made a Q.C. in 1881. He was appointed county judge of Grey in 1891.

Reserves From Constantinople.

Constantinople, March 11.—Two thousand Redifs (Turkish reserves) from Asia Minor, and large supplies of ammunition, have been despatched from here to Monastir, Macedonia.

BRITAIN THE CREDITOR.

All Governments Have to Fall Back on John Bull for Money.

There is not a country in the world which has not had to borrow money from these isles, says Pearson's Weekly, and there are few governments which have not had to fall back upon John Bull when they've been in Queer street. Guatemala has borrowed a large amount of British capital. How do matters stand today? The bonds for £100 are worth somewhere about £23 only, and there has been no payment of interest since June, 1899. Even then, only a paltry 2 per cent. was paid, and half of that was not in cash. Honduras is a far worse debtor. The bonds which have a face value of £100 are dear at £5. All this is owing to the fact that Honduras spends far more than it earns.

Colombia's Debts.

Colombia, strictly speaking, owes British investors £3,500,000. Nearly the whole of these debts are due to British creditors. This particular republic, in 1897, called its creditors together, and made them an offer of a composition of so much in the pound. It wiped out its old debt by giving new bonds for £2,700,000, on which it paid 1½ per cent. interest. Even other countries, about which we know far more, such as Greece and Turkey, are almost as bad. A Greek bond is worth £31 to £44, according to its class. A Turkish bond, "series D," is worth but £26. That is why British creditors sigh. Greece owes her very existence to John Bull. Then the money she owes him! This must amount to somewhere about two and a half millions, excluding the loan of 1898, all of which is gone hopelessly. The latter loan was one of £6,800,000, and was guaranteed by Britain.

Even France and Russia.

If France and Russia decide to renounce their liability, poor old John will have to go bail for the full amount. Very likely this loan will never be repaid. Greece's old taskmaster is another unfortunate debtor. In 1881 the Ottoman Government, being unable to meet its liabilities, was obliged to call together its creditors in order to enter into an arrangement with them. John Bull must have a sum of about £4,000,000 owing to him by Turkey. This sum is the balance still owing of a loan of £5,000,000 made to fight Russia. Egypt owes a loan obtained so recently as 1897. In John Bull's account of his expenditure there is a heading "Special Services: Egyptian Government grant in aid." Under this is an amount of £798,802. This is because John lent Egypt something better than mere money. He lent her men with brains, who have made her into a healthy, prosperous country of the sort that pay off their debts in full. Egypt has other debts than monetary debts to pay off.

A Pertinent Question.

Speaking late one night, Hon. Mr. Paterson of Brant attracted the notice of a gentleman, who had been dining, and who kept interrupting him with cries of "Rot." After enduring this for several minutes the speaker paused and said, "If it's rot, why does the honorable gentleman drink so much of it?"

For Colds and Worry Over Little Things.

Feelings of Languor and Despondency the First Symptoms of Nervous Exhaustion—Reconstruct the Wasted Nerve Tissues by Using

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

When you become restless and peevish, worry over little things, and are afflicted with dyspepsia, which cannot be attributed to error in diet, you may be sure that the trouble arises from nervous disorders.

Other symptoms are sleeplessness, headache, low spirits, and a tendency to put off the duties of the day. Life seems to lose its brightness, and things go wrong. When in such a condition you will find yourself very susceptible to change of air. When the atmosphere is fresh and clear you have plenty of vitality, but with heavy weather you drag yourself about feeling more dead than alive.

The first necessity is rest from work and worry, and as much fresh air as possible. Then the system must be built up and the wasted nerve force restored by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

So much mystery and uncertainty has formerly surrounded diseases of the nerves that people often make the dreadful mistake of neglecting them. They feel weak, miserable, and nervous, but try to console themselves that it will wear away. Not so. Nervous diseases do not get well of themselves, but gradually weaken the system until there is nothing left to build on.

Mrs. S. Derocher, 495 Bethune street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"I was troubled a great deal with nervousness and sleeplessness and began a treatment with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I can say for a certainty that it is a splendid medicine for besides steadying my nerves it built up my system wonderfully and enabled me to rest and sleep well. We have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Ointment in our family for years and consider them excellent. For skin diseases I think the Ointment cannot be equalled and the pills are a most satisfactory laxative."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food may not cure you in a week or even a month, but it is bound to benefit you, and will naturally and certainly restore vigour to body and nerves. There is no treatment so thourough and effective in curing nervous disorders and none which has been so generously endorsed by physicians and laymen alike. The secret of its remarkable power lies in the fact that it is a food for the nerves, and acts in accordance with nature's laws. 50 cts. a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 10

PASSING OF PIONEERS

VENERABLE CANADIANS WHO DID GOOD WORK IN THEIR TIME.

Younger Generation Can Hardly Appreciate at Its Full Value the Services of Passing Provincials of the Early Days—Pride in the Past Comes From a Long Distance View.

Of the men and women who began life in this province in the early part of last century few are left among us. Within the last month several who had reached the extreme span of the bridge of broken arches have dropped off. We note the death at Mapleton the other day of William Charlton, in his 96th year; of Rev. Joseph Hilts, of Dundas, in his 84th year; of Thomas White, of Kleinburg, in his 109th year; of Mrs. Loudon, of Toronto, in her 99th year. Mr. Charlton and Mr. Hilts were born in Canada; Mr. White spent nearly eighty years here, and Mrs. Loudon 70 years. To such venerable Canadians the least we can do is to render honor for the work they did in their time.

Their Children's Children.

Canadians whose life does not cover more than a quarter of a century, and whose lot has hence been cast in relatively pleasant places, cannot be so impressed by the worth of the colonizers as can their fellow-countrymen of maturer years, who have lived through the period of transition from backwoods days to the machinery age. Canadians somewhat past middle life know more or less about the sacrifices, difficulties, and triumphs of their fathers and mothers in this country, says The Toronto Mail and Empire. They have recollections of the wilderness in which the struggle for existence had to be carried on, of the privations that had to be endured, of the lack of nearly everything that now ameliorates toil, cheers domestic life, and promotes social happiness. The young people of to-day can but faintly imagine the hardships of the early settlers. It may be, indeed, that these juniors esteem themselves superior to the grand men and women who hewed down the forest and reclaimed from it the fruitful farms that are the basis of our prosperity. We trust, however, that every Canadian whose privilege it is to belong to a pioneer family is proud of his people, gives due reverence to the aged among them, and tries to be worthy of the stock he springs from.

Human Documents.

Our neighbors in New York and other States of the East have become far enough removed in time and condition from the immigrants who cleared the soil to take pride in their colonial past and treasure up every relic of that past. Before we have completely parted from the generation belonging to our pioneer era we should get from it all it can tell us. Every person, Canadian born or immigrant, whose recollections of this country go back about three-quarters of a century is a human document steeped in the history of Canada. The record of each long life spent here should be taken down and preserved. Young men and women who have aged relatives that were brought up here should not neglect to record such sayings and descriptive accounts of these old folks as may illustrate the period of early settlement. If every township had biographies of two or three of its early and long-lived settlers, the history of frontier days could be written now or a hundred years hence. Besides collecting and recording all they can from the memories of living pioneers, and taking care of the utensils and ornaments of colonial times, the present generation should feel itself bound as a filial and pious duty to keep the old burial-places from desecration. Some of these plots, where the forefathers of the townships sleep, are in a sad state of neglect.

The Log House.

The old log house, the rough and simple habitation of the first settlers, has not quite vanished. Here and there, like some of its builders, it survives. More of these old structures would have remained to-day but for the demolishing taste of the first dwellers in Canadian houses of sawn lumber or solid stone. That outpost of civilization, the homely log house, was as quickly as possible exchanged for a more comfortable and ornate domicile, and some progressive people hastily destroyed the first home of their people. The few log houses that are still left are either altogether in disuse or are turned to account as sheep pens or tool-houses and shops. But what a story the every-day life of the people living in these homes would make! What sorrows and joys centered about the rude old hearth!

Where Brave Hearts Lived.

In the old hut what brave hearts lived and died! In sickness the housewife was the healer, nurse, and religious comforter, for doctors, hospitals, and ministers were often as good as non-existent for the settler. Neighbors were miles apart, and the rough paths through the wilderness could only by courtesy be called roads. Over these roads, often rendered impassable by snow or flood, often blockaded by fallen trees, the settler had to go sometimes forty or fifty miles for his flour. His slow-going oxen were better than the fleeter horses, for the latter could scarcely have traveled the highways in any but dry or very frosty weather. And if the thinness of the settlement, the badness of the roads, and the presence of wolves made intercourse with one's neighbors difficult, the lack of postal facilities made it practically impossible between the colonists and their people overseas. Hard and lonely was the life of the settler, as well as full of toil and danger. How often has the candle, burning low, seen through the snow or trees in the window of the log house, gladdened the eyes of the belated, storm-bound master! How often have the watchers in that home looked in vain for the return of the husbandman, overtaken by wolves, or overcome by cold and hunger!

Grandeur of Character.

To the bowed old makers of Ontario whose days are not yet spent we cannot render too much respect. They acquired virtues which the discipline of life at present does not call out. They had need for more courage, more patience, more resourcefulness, more strength of body and of will than their descendants. But if the children of these rugged men and women are not so actively exercising the same qualities in the work of maintaining life, they have a reserve power which can be called upon. Those Ontario people who trace their origin back to the soldier-settlers who took up land after the conquest of the United Empire Loyalists, to the first Dutch settlers, and to the early immigrants from the United Kingdom have the right stuff in them, and are capable of more than they are doing. Ontario has given thousands of its men and women to lay the foundations of the Northwest. Indeed, some of the people who were pioneers in Manitoba, came also pioneers in Manitoba. About ten days ago there died at Bird's Hill, Manitoba, Mrs. Robert Garven, in her 95th year. From 1832 to 1872 she lived in Ontario, and spent the remainder of her days in Manitoba.

CROWN PRINCE OF SWEDEN.

Who Has Just Been Made Regent During the King's Illness.

Prince Gustaf of Sweden, who has been made regent of Sweden during the illness of King Oscar, which, instead of yielding to treatment, seems to dispose the King to continued inaction, is the eldest son of Oscar and the heir apparent to the throne. Prince Gustaf was born in 1858 and in 1881 married Princess Victoria, daughter of the Grand Duke of Baden. He is said to possess a rather stern personality. His son, Prince Gustaf, heir presumptive, will be 21 in June.

GUSTAF, CROWN PRINCE OF SWEDEN.

The Painter Prince Ill.

Prince Eugen of Sweden, who is reported as being seriously ill in Stockholm, is the youngest son of King Oscar, and one of the most talented of the talented royal family of Sweden. His work as a painter is said to have elicited high praise from some of the best and at all events unprejudiced critics of Europe. Prince Eugen was born in 1861 and is unmarried. Like his father, he is an easy-going democrat, who thinks more highly of talent or genius than he does of rank.

London's Oldest Art Club.

"The Langham" is the colloquial abbreviation of the Artists' Society and Langham Sketching club. It is the oldest working art society in London and as a club is unique. Apart from its history, dating back to the early part of the last century, and the influence exercised by its members in the art world of yesterday and to-day, it is the one institution in the metropolis which affords the best glimpse of all that is fittest to survive of our old time artistic Bohemia.

The Artists' society was founded toward the end of 1830, although the earliest list of signatures to the rules of the society is dated 1831. Its meetings were held at that time with J. Prescott Knight, R. A., as the ruling spirit, in Gray's Inn Mews, but in June, 1835, the society moved to 29 Clipstone street, Portland place, and at this habitat in 1838 was inaugurated the Langham Sketching Club.

Health is a magnet which irresistibly draws the man to the woman in life's mating time. Health does more than tint the skin with beauty; it puts music into the voice and buoyancy into the step, as well as happiness into the heart. A great many women covet beauty and are constantly seeking aids to beautify them. Let a woman first seek perfect health and all other charms shall be added to her.

There can be no general health for women while there is disease of the delicate womanly organism. The first step to perfect health is to cure womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I used four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. Elmer D. Shearer, of Mountjope, Lancaster Co., Pa., "and can say that I am cured of that dreaded disease, uterine trouble. Am in better health than ever before. Everyone who knows me is surprised to see me look so well. In June I was so poor in health that at times I could not walk. To-day I am cured. I tell everybody that Dr. Pierce's medicines cured me."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

JUMPING.

One of the Toronto Globe's Best Sporting Articles.

This form of sport, while not so attractive to the spectator as running, is nevertheless a very important event on every athletic program, whether at the big national championships or the small country fairs.

There is no doubt that jumping would be more popular than it is if provision were made so that every spectator could get a good view of the contestants, but, as a rule, there is always a great number of officials and hangers-on standing around, thus spoiling any chance of seeing the sport. Until this is remedied I don't think it will ever amount to much as a drawing card at any meet.

To be a good jumper requires a lot of hard work and a certain amount of cat-like spring. Not one out of ten who go in for jumping make anything like a success out of it for the reason that it is so hard and violent an exercise. Let any person go out some evening and try the running broad jump several times. They will find next day they are sore in every joint and no doubt would not try it again for any amount. An athlete who follows jumping must keep continually in training, for if he does not he will find he cannot do as good work when it comes to a contest.

The events generally on a program are the running broad jump, standing jump, running high, standing high and hop, step and jump, the last one, I think, being the hardest to get proficient at.

Of course it is necessary to have a good pair of jumping shoes, with oak tan soles fitted with steel spikes, six in front and two behind. They should be made of calfskin and lace to the toes.

In practising for the standing jump it is a good idea to use weights at first, say, about five pounds each, toe the mark and swing the arms several times, throwing the weights behind you as you leave the mark. You can gradually decrease the weights till you can jump without them altogether. In making the jump bring the knees well up toward the chin and do not drop them till you have to. In this manner you cover more ground. Ten feet is a good jump. Also try and bring both heels together. If one is six inches ahead the judge is sure to mark the back one.

The running broad and hop-step require that the athlete possess some sprinting ability, as it is necessary to run a short way to get a good send-off. There is no regular mark for this event, the judge merely marking from where you step off.

The standing high and running high have no regular method to go by, as any way to get over the bar without knocking it off counts, and I have seen jumpers light on their hands and sides. On the whole, jumping is a hard game and requires a lot of pluck and endurance.—Wm. Devine, St. Thomas, in The Globe.

Where Rosewood Gets Its Name.

Many people suppose that rosewood takes its name from its color, but this is a mistake, Rosewood is not red nor yellow, but almost black. Its name comes from the fact that when first cut it exhales a perfume similar to that of the rose, and although the dried rosewood of commerce retains no trace of this early perfume the name lingers as a relic of the early history of the wood.

How to Play "Trades."

Each one of the company chooses a trade, which he or she exercises in the following manner:

The shoemaker mends shoes.
The washerwoman washes clothes.
The spinner turns her wheel, etc.

One of the players acts as a king or a queen and commences the game by working at his or her own trade. In the meantime all the others must make the movements appropriate to theirs. If the king suddenly changes his trade and takes up that of one of the company, all the rest must remain inactive except the player whom the king is imitating, and he must at once take up the king's trade until the latter is pleased to adopt another; then that player in his turn takes the king's trade and all the rest remain idle until the king returns to his original trade, which is the signal for all present to recommence their own.

CAPITAL $850,000

Divided into 850,000 Shares, Par Value $1.00, Fully Paid and Non-Assessable

TREASURY STOCK—WORKING CAPITAL.....$400,000

No Bonds, Preferred Stock Nor Indebtedness.

The recent acquisition by this company of leases on 30 acres in the Wheatley District, and 150 acres additional in the Raleigh Field, makes its control of oil lands now over 2,000 acres in all, thus increasing its assets by 33⅓, with a corresponding increase in the intrinsic value of its stock. The fact that these additions were also made without drawing a dollar from its rapidly accumulating treasury funds, evidences the intent of its directors to continue the success of the company's operations, and let no opportunity pass to maintain its substantial character and leading position among Canadian enterprises.

At the customary oil field reckoning of one well to an acre, the probable output from these properties is almost beyond computation. The Wheatley property adjoins the several wells drilled and operated by the Union Gas & Oil Co., and is considered a very valuable acquisition; while President Woodward of the Dominion Company advises us that by the installation of the air compressor he expects to increase the output at the famous Gurd Gusher to 400 or 500 barrels a day—and this product is now bringing a higher price than any other petroleum oil on the North American continent. Contracts are also under way for the immediate development of both the new properties, where a very high grade quality of oil has been found.

In view of these facts, as well as the sound financial position now occupied by the company, the directors have decided that the sale of stock shall

Close at 35c Saturday March 14,

and that the price shall

Advance to 50c Monday, March 16.

The company is now paying dividends of one per cent monthly on par ($1.00 per share, fully paid and non-assessable) which at the present figure of 35c is practically 36 per cent. per annum on the investment. The next dividend will be payable April 1st, to all stockholders of record of March 20th; but those who subscribe by March 14th will secure a 2½ monthly investment. We earnestly advise all who desire an interest in these wonderful fields to subscribe now and thus make sure of the greater income, and the greater profit possible by the advanced market value of the stock.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 12. — Sub-treas. statement shows banks lost yesterday $20,000, making total 3,838 since Friday. General market dull and draggy, holding its own. There is some scattered liquidation but sufficient buying to prevent any material weakness. Shorts nearly all covered.

M & M.

New York, March 12. — General sentiment this morning somewhat mixed. There are a great many who believe about the worst of liquidation and that money conditions are over and they have been taking shorts and buying for a turn on long side. Many of these, however, confidently expected adoption of some measure by treasury department for money market and they have been very keenly disappointed at failure to appear this morning. There is no doubt, however, that in event of further stringency developing situation will become acute and require treasury relief that will be a very substantial way with a large bond purchase. On other hand there are many who look for a continued tight money market all spring and summer and regard congestion in bond market and the practical embarrassment of many syndicates through their inability to market their new securities.

Messrs. Thompson & Heron, Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 11. — To-day's price movements were of a rather mixed character. Market opened firm and after some hesitation became decidedly strong up to noon hour when prices were inclined to sag a little. Afternoon session was marked some pronounced strength on large transactions, values advancing steadily without reactions. Business was of an improved character and the market was broader than for some time. The recent covering of a large amount of outstanding short contracts deprives the market of considerable of its sustaining influence. Market seems somewhat feverish. Copper held firm, being the strongest stock on the list. There was no particular news developments and little if anything to encourage speculation. It is very likely that the Washington authorities will soon take measures relative to the relief of the market and will be of great benefit to the market. Commission house business very light although a modeate investment demand was noticed. Met. Ry. made a substantial advance of about 8 p.c.

Chicago — Wheat fairly steady; would take profits on any bulge. Corn, held steady without feature. Closing prices, wheat, May, 75 5-8; corn, May, 47 5-8; oats, May, 34 1-2 a 5-8; pork, May, 18.32 -12; lard, May, 10.22 1-2.

Do Your Kidneys Perform Their Functions?

Paine's Celery Compound

Is the World's Spring Remedy for all Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

Unless your kidneys properly and regularly perform their functions, the accumulations of morbid materials in your blood will act like a poison upon the nervous system. Have you headache, vertigo, puffiness under the eyes or dropsical tendencies? Have you fever sometimes with chills, and a dry skin? Is the urine high coloured, sometimes scanty in quantity, sometimes bloody and foul? Any of these symptoms are true warnings of kidney disease.

To-day a multitude of men and women suffering from various forms of kidney affections, enduring pains and mind agony, are, through the use of Paine's Celery Compound eliminating morbid and poisonous materials from the blood. Wise and able physicians are prescribing Paine's Celery Compound for their patients. No other medicine in the world is so strongly indorsed by the best people of the land. Mrs. E. O. Clairmont, Vancouver, B.C., writes about her blessed experience with Paine's Celery Compound, she says:—

"For five years kidney and urinary troubles made life a misery for me. Before coming here I was treated by two doctors; both failed to cure me, and my sufferings increased. I was advised by a friend to try Paine's Celery Compound. After use of the second bottle I experienced a happy change. I could see and feel that your wonderful medicine was doing its work well. After using eight bottles I am free from all symptoms of the old troubles, and feel that I am a new person. Paine's Celery Compound is truly a blessing to those afflicted with kidney complaints."

LINDSAY'S PROSPECTS.

Hockey has been somewhat slow in Lindsay this winter on account of not having a senior team, says the Post. It is to be hoped that the club will re-organize early next fall and make arrangements to place a strong septette in the intermediate series of the O.H.A. We understand that the speedy Collegiate seven, who have given a good account of themselves this winter, will enter the junior O.H.A., and that another fast bunch will be placed in the Trent Valley League. Lindsay should go in to land a hockey championship next year.

It will be a matter of general satisfaction to know that the Norwood hockey club has withdrawn its protest against the T.A.S. of Peterborough, who are now the undisputed champions of the Trent Valley League.

There will be a meeting of the employees of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company in the Y.M.C.A. Building to-night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of endeavouring to organize an athletic association. HINTS TO PAINTERS.

How to Mix and Harmonize Colours

Everyone must have observed that some colours, when brought together, mutually set each other off to advantage, while others have altogether a different effect. This must be carefully attended to by every painter who would study beauty or elegance in the appearance of his work.

Whites set off with any colour whatever.

Reds set off best with whites, blacks or yellows.

Blues set off best with whites, or yellows.

Greens set off best with blacks and whites.

Gold sets off best with blacks or browns.

In lettering or edging with gold a white ground has a delicate appearance at first but soon becomes dingy. The best grounds for gold are Saxon blue, vermillion and lake.

How to mix paints for tints.

For brown, mix red and black.
For rose, mix lake and white.
For chestnut, mix white and brown.
For purple, mix white, blue and lake.
For pearl, mix blue and lead colour.
For pink, mix white and carmine.
For silver gray, mix indigo and lampblack.
For lead colour, mix white and lampblack.
For chocolate, mix black and venetian. red.
For bright green, mix white and green.
For French white, mix purple and white.
For dark green, mix light green and black.
For pea green, mix white and green.
For brilliant green, mix white and emerald green.
For orange, mix red and yellow.
For pearl grey, mix white, blue and black.
For flesh colour, mix white, lake and vermillion.
For drab, mix umber, white and venetian.
For cream, mix white, yellow and venetian.
For olive, mix red, blue and black.
For buff, mix yellow, white and a little venetian.

A PRAYER.

Lord, when the sun shines fair on her life's way,
Then dreams of happiness the bright days fill,
Send unto dear Octavia's pure heart, I pray,
Sweet thoughts of Thee, and if it be Thy will,
One kindly thought of me.

Lord, when the world seems dark, and cold, and lone,
And in her heart there rests a weight of woe,
Send her I pray Thee, from Thy heavenly throne
Strong faith in Thee, and if it may be so,
A little faith in me.

Oh, in both light and darkness, calm and strife,
When all seems dreary, and when all is bright,
Grant her, in mercy, through her earthly life,
Deep love for Thee, and if good in Thy sight,
A little love for me.

OBITUARY.

Two Deaths in a Month in one Home

The sad death of little Robert Gordon Emerson, son of William Emerson, of Otonabee, occurred on Feb. 3rd, from scarlet fever. The young child was only 3 years and 9 months old and died three days after the symptoms of the disease appeared. The bereaved parents have only one other young child—that a girl of only 9 months. Mother and child contracted scarlet fever and Miss Lucy Emerson, sister of William Emerson, looked after these two during their illness. What makes the case more sad, is that the sister also contracted the disease, but after a recovery, died on Feb. 28th, from the effects of an old complaint. The deceased was 35 years of age, and an energetic and enthusiastic worker in the Methodist church. Her death comes as a blow to all who knew her, as she was greatly beloved by those with whom she came into contact.

AN INVESTIGATION BY ROYAL COMMISSION.

Premier Ross Proposes How the Gamey Charges Should be Tried.

MR. WHITNEY PREFERS HOUSE COMMITTEE.

Declares in His Speech That in Choosing Chief Justices of the High Court the Government is Loading the Dice—Attorney-General Gibson Calls Him to Task for the Unfortunate Expression—The Debate Continued.

Premier Ross:—I want to say to the country that unless our character will stand clear of reproach, above suspicion, vindicated of all such insinuations and charges as have been brought against us by the hon. member for Manitoulin, then we do not want any longer to govern this country. We will govern this country as honourable men, with characters unimpeached, or we shall not govern it at all. We ask this House to give us every facility, and I ask my hon. friend opposite to give us every facility for the vindication of our character and reputation as members of the Government.

Toronto, March 13. — The charge made by R. R. Gamey, M.P.P., of Manitoulin, that he had been bribed with the sum of $2,000 to support the Government, and that this money had been conveyed to him by Frank Sullivan, a clerk in the Public Works Department, at the instance of Hon. J. R. Stratton, the Provincial Secretary, formed practically the sole topic of conversation in Toronto yesterday, as well as the subject of debate in the Legislative Chamber, the galleries, floor and corridors of which were crowed as they rarely have been before.

The matter of debate was the procedure to be followed in making the investigation that everyone recognized as inevitable and necessary. The Premier proposed that the whole question should be removed from the political arena and referred to a commission consisting of "two of the Chief Justices of the Supreme Court of Judicature." This term includes the Chief Justice of Ontario, the heads of the three divisions of the High Court of Justice, that is, Chief Justice Moss, the Chancellor Sir John Boyd, Chief Justice Sir William Meredith and Chief Justice Falconbridge. The Commission might therefore be made up of any two of these Judges.

In the course of his speech, which was quite evidently that of a man fully seized of the responsibility attaching to his words, and of the grave nature of the subject before the House, the Premier declared that the Government proposed to govern the country as honourable men, with characters unimpeached, or not at all. As his speech will show, he made it thoroughly understood that if the Government were proven guilty of the charges made by Mr. Gamey, they did not wish any longer to remain in office. He asked that the House adjourn for three weeks to enable the Commission to do its duties.

Mr. Whitney Wants a Committee.

Mr. Whitney, in his reply, took immediate issue with the Premier as to the method of investigation. He declared that a reference to a commission of Judges, rather than to a committee of the House, was "loading the dice," and announced his intention of forcing a division along that line. Continuing his speech, he expressed his belief that not Mr. Stratton alone, but the Premier, the Attorney-General and the Commissioner of Public Works must make answer to the allegations contained in Mr. Gamey's charges.

Mr. Latchford, in a few spirited words, repudiated Mr. Whitney's further statement that he, Mr. Latchford, knew Mr. Gamey was being "influenced" to support the Government.

At very great length Mr. Whitney argued in favour of a reference to the House Committee of Privileges and Elections.

No Slang-whanging Investigation.

Attorney-General Gibson, who followed for the Government, at once took Mr. Whitney to task for his assertion that the appointment of two of the Chief Justices of Ontario to try the issues raised in Mr. Gamey's statement would constitute a loading of the dice. He defended the judiciary warmly, and referred derisively to Mr. Whitney's own speech as evidence that if the inquiry were conducted by a House committee, while the Legislature remained in session from day to day, the proceedings would consist of the taking of evidence by the committee in the morning, and slang-whanging in the House itself during the afternoon.

Mr. Sutherland's Indefinite Charge.

The speaker, when 6 o'clock, the hour of adjournment, was reached, was Mr. Donald Sutherland, Conservative member for South Oxford, who in the course of his remarks declared that he, too, had been approached with the object of securing his support for the Government. He did not go into details, however, as to the transaction, and made no specific statements.

The debate will be continued at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The programme of the Opposition is not definitely known, but it is understood the debate will be a prolonged one.

The Premier's Proposal.

Premier Ross, immediately after the orders of the day had been reached, rose and made his statement as follows: Mr. Speaker, before proceeding with the orders of the day, I desire to address the House briefly for a few moments with regard to the matter brought before us yesterday afternoon by the hon. member for Manitoulin. The charges made by the hon. member were of a very serious character. Quite unexpected, as you can well understand; charges that impressed both sides of the House somewhat seriously, and charges which have given us, very naturally, as members of the Government, some concern.

I stated to the House yesterday afternoon that my esteemed colleague, the Provincial Secretary, denied these charges in toto, particularly with reference to that portion of them which was of a serious and corrupt character. I have reason to believe that the statement of my colleague is true. I have unbounded confidence in his honour, in his integrity and in his fidelity—to his oath of office, to the serious responsibilities which he has assumed as a member of the Government and as an adviser of the Crown. In the long time in which he has been known to myself and my colleagues, we have found him trustworthy; we do not believe he is capable of betraying that trust; we do not believe he is betraying that trust, notwithstanding the grave and serious charges made against him by the member for Manitoulin.

Must Have Investigation.

This faith, however, is not a sufficient answer to these charges. Nor do I think in the interests of the Government, his own interests, or as responsible to a large extent for the honour and dignity of this house, could we for one moment permit that charge to stand without investigation. We propose to have it investigated. I advised His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, last evening officially that such a charge was made, that it was denied, and that it would be investigated. I desired that the representative of the Crown should know exactly where we stood in regard to this matter. The Government propose to proceed immediately with the investigation—that is, as fast as is consistent with the interests of justice, and with such facilities for examination as circumstances will warrant.

A Royal Commission.

We are proceeding by a royal commission. I mentioned yesterday that it was a matter which might very well be referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, or a special committee. Either of these two methods would involve considerable delay, we fear. The year is advancing. It is important that public business should be disposed of for the convenience of members and the convenience of the country. We do not want to delay. Moreover, we think that the examination by a commission of Judges of the High Court will be more satisfactory to the parties concerned. The Committee of Privileges and Elections is necessarily a committee composed of a majority of supporters of the Government, and any special committee that would be given would be similarly composed. The investigation, of course, would be open. The committee have the power to swear witnesses, send for persons, papers, and so forth. They have large powers, but not larger powers than the statute enables us to give a commission. No matter what their finding might be, if they exculpated the Provincial Secretary it would be said to be a partisan finding. Those who are prone to believe any charge against the Government would disbelieve the finding of the commission, and instead of us settling what is at best a disagreeable matter, the evidence taken before the committee and the report of the committee would be still under that newspaper criticism and that partisan criticism which, in my humble opinion, does not make for the public interest.

Judges Above Suspicion.

Happily for us in this country, judicial decisions are received with a great deal of confidence, whether those decisions affect civil or criminal matters. Even where political interests are involved, seldom is it said that an election court displays a partisan character in this Province. I have confidence in asking this House to approve of the appointment, first, because of the high character of our High Court Judges, in fact of all our Judges; secondly, because of the confidence which the people have in any conclusion they may come to; thirdly, because I believe it is the most expeditious way of getting at the questions involved; and, fourthly, because I believe that their conclusion will command the confidence of the country, no matter what their decision may be.

Some Instances Cited.

I think that position is conclusive, I think it is unanswerable. It has prevailed in other places. Commissions have been appointed elsewhere, and their findings have been regarded with great satisfaction. For instance, when grave charges were made in 1873 against the Government then in power at Ottawa in regard to alleged trafficing in the Pacific Railway charter, the reference was to a commission. When charges were made in this House—in the old buildings—in 1884, which involved the honour of several members of this House, the first reference was to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and it was transferred almost immediately to a commission. Later on, when charges were made against Sir Adolphe Caron, a member of the Dominion Government, the Dominion recommended the appointment of a commission. It is not an unusual thing, therefore, Mr. Speaker, to have commissions for this purpose. I am following the precedent in this House, and I am following the precedent in the House of Commons at Ottawa, and although I had not time to look the matter up fully, I think from references I saw to some speeches on the question, I could even find precedent in the House of Commons in England. I think the Parnell case was referred to a commission, and that involved the honour of a member of the House. That clears the ground, so far as the commission is concerned. I am assuming that the hon. member for Manitoulin has made these charges upon his responsibility as a member of the House, and that the papers left in the hands of his leader, or alleged leader, are available.

Mr. Ross here paused for a moment but Mr. Gamey made no sign.

"I suppose," continued the Premier, "I am right, Mr. Speaker, in assuming—I hope that the statement made by the member for Manitoulin was made on his responsibility as a member of the House, not merely hearsay. Am I right in assuming that?"

Nothing to Say.

Mr. Gamey—I have nothing to say.

Mr. Ross—Will the hon. gentleman say if I am right in assuming that?

Mr. Gamey—Let me tell my hon. friend I made my statement yesterday, and when I have anything further to say I will say it. (Some jeers.)

Mr. Ross—The hon. gentleman cannot escape in that way. If he made a statement and does not accept the responsibility for that, we say that in some other way he is obliged to accept the responsibility for that. (Ministerial applause.)

We shall not allow any member of this House to make charges against even a private member or against the honour of a member of the Government — and I think the honour of a private member is just as dear to him as the honour of a member of the Government—without putting the person making these charges in a position to prove them, and that is the position we will put him in as speedily as circumstances will allow.

A Three Weeks' Adjournment.

I am going to move then presently for the appointment of a commission, and if the House should agree to that view I am going to propose that the house should adjourn for three weeks, pending the investigation, and to allow the report to be received, and for various reasons.

In the first place, I do not think either side of the House can comfortably go on with business while an investigation of this kind is being held either in this House or in Osgoode Hall, or wherever it may be held.

Secondly, I do not think that the members of the Government can give their attention to the public business as they might like while such an investigation was pending, involving the honour of one of their colleagues.

These are two very good reasons but perhaps most important of all—I, as leader of the Government, and my colleagues all share this view—do not feel that we could go on with public business while such a cloud, if I may use an easy expression like that, rests over the reputation and standing of the Government. I want to say to the country that unless our character will stand clear of reproach, above suspicion, vindicated of all such insinuates and charges as have been brought against us by the hon. member for Manitoulin, then we do not want any longer to govern this country. (Loud Ministerial applause.)

As Honourable Men Only.

We will govern this country as honourable men, with characters unimpeached, or we shall not govern it at all. (Renewed applause.) We ask this House to give us every facility, and I ask my hon. friend opposite to give us every facility for the vindication of our character and reputation as members of the Government. I think every member of this House, irrespective of party, is bound to see that the matter in dispute is so settled. Every member has a stake in the honour of the House, no matter what political party he belongs to, and until this is so disposed of or settled by investigation, by the examination of the proper witnesses and by counsel,

A VERY FINE COUNTRY

Through Which Runs the New Railroad.

Graphic Description of the Route—Fine Farming Land Opening for Settlement.

At the present time there is considerable activity around North Bay, one of the promising towns of New Ontario, owing chiefly to the construction of the first sixty miles of the Temiskamingue and Northern Ontario railway. Real estate there has received what the citizens believe is a permanent boom. Hotels and boarding houses are crowded to their fullest capacity, and the bustling air of activity around the warehouses of A. R. MacDonald & Co., the head contractors of the railway, has affected the town people in general.

It is absolutely necessary that the contractors along the lines of the road be supplied this winter, for it is impossible to move freight through this country in the summer time. Hundreds of teams are daily rushing supplies along the finest winter road in Canada, fifty miles long, and not a single hill on it of any account, to headquarters at Moose Lake, twenty-five miles from North Bay, and also to Boise Lake, fifty miles from the Bay.

The railroad, after leaving North Bay, winds out along Trout lake in order to get over the height of land north of North Bay. Trout lake is a very pretty lake, ten miles long and from a quarter of a mile to three miles wide. It is dotted with many islands and has a very wide popularity on account of the fine maskinonge and trout fishing found there.

The double township of Widdifield, twelve miles square, in which Trout lake lies, is the only land north of North Bay along the line of this railway as yet open to settlement. The land is good farm land, though a trifle rough and hilly.. In the wooded hills moose, deer and beaver are plentiful, and even bears are sometimes killed there.

Leaving Widdifield the line runs in a northerly direction, through rougher country, and for the next twenty-five miles the land is of no account, except in a few valleys around Moose lake. Along the Jocko lake, ten miles above Moose lake, the road goes through long stretches of muskeg, covered with small pulpwood. This muskeg is very similar to peat, and if well drained would make fine farming land. Between Moose lake and Jocko lake there are immense tracts of pulpwood and a great deal of good pine. The cedar, however, is valueless, as it is nearly all "punky." Deposits of mica are frequent in this part of the country, and a little iron has also been discovered.

As you go further north from Jocko lake, you find the land cut up by innumerable small rivers and lakes. The pine and hardwood is more abundant and the ground considerably flatter till Boise lake, headquarters for the first fifty miles, is reached, where there is a small log cabin town.

Work on the grade of fifty miles is in full swing. The first ten miles is all gravel, with the exception of a piece near North Bay, and a few bridges. Over two thousand men of all nations, principally Swedes and Italians, are employed. A very good line has been secured through this rough country; no long bridges nor heavy grades, and great credit is due W. B. Rushel, the chief engineer.

Another case of small pox was discovered at Toronto Junction on Wednesday, the case being a young boy.

COMING MUSICAL FESTIVALS.

Hon. President, His Excellency the Earl of Minto.

Sir Alex. Campbell Mackenzie, of London, England, is Musical Director.

The Examiner is in receipt of the programme of the First Cycle of Musical Festivals of the Dominion of Canada to be given between March 31st and May 9th, and of which His Excellency the Earl of Minto, Governor General of Canada, is Honourary President. The Director of the Festivals is Mr. A. E. Harris and the Conductor is Sir Alexander Campbell McKenzie, Principal of the Royal Academy of Music, London.

"The organization of Choral bodies of voices in the cities of Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, British Columbia; Brandon and Winnipeg, Manitoba; Montreal, Quebec; St. John and Moncton, New Brunswick; Halifax, Nova Scotia; is the realization of a work commenced at Victoria during April, 1901, and completed at Halifax, December, 1902,, for "Greater Music" throughout the Dominion. With the exception of the Toronto Festival Chorus, the Ottawa Choral Society,, the Montreal Oratorio Society, and the Orpheus Society of Halifax—factors in the scheme—the Festival Choruses now engaged in preparing the works for the spring "Cycle of Musical Festivals of the Dominion of Canada" in each of the several cities mentioned, represent newly-formed Choruses; the Toronto Festival Chorus is augmented by a second Festival Chorus; the Festival Chorus in Montreal is augmented by the Ontario Society. The entire forces aggregate between three and four thousand Canadian vocalists, each Chorus rehearsed by an appointed local associate-conductor and each supported by an organized committee aided by an Honourary Secretary. The whole of the musical profession throughout the Dominion are engaged in this, the first general combined effort for "musical advancement" from ocean to ocean, which is considered a work worthy of the hearty support of His Excellency the Governor-General, President of the Festivals, and Sir Alexander Campbell Mackenzie, the distinguished British composer and Principal of the London Royal Academy of Music, who has consented to personally conduct these choral forces throughout our land.

The works to be given, both choral and orchestral, this year, are British compositions, most of which have been composed for and all of which have been performed at, the British Musical Festivals. The Montreal Symphony Orchestra will assist at the Festivals in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick; the Chicago Symphony Orchestra of fifty musicians will fulfill a like duty at the Festivals throughout Ontario and Quebec: an Orchestra from Minneapolis will perform at the Festivals in Manitoba; an orchestra from Seattle, and Portland, Oregon, will perform at the Festivals in British Columbia.

The organizing of this cycle has taken two years in accomplishment; where an isolated Festival has failed to clear itself, it is thought a series of them will pay for themselves. This Cycle of Festivals must prove self-supporting to become permanent. If they are successful, then each succeeding year will bring a great conductor and composer amongst us to stimulate and educate the musical amateurs to "greater music," and afford the musical profession the needed opportunity of exchanging musical thought with the foremost musicians of the times, all of which will conduce musically to our country's well-being and fit us as a nation capable of holding place second to none as a musical community.

The cost of choral music for the Montreal and Toronto Festivals, lasting three days each, alone represents a sum of fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500). This sum does not include either the cost of orchestral parts to these works, nor the cost of orchestral parts and full scores of symphonies, rhapsodies and list of instrumental selections but it may not be out of place to mention the item of music, which throughout the continent will amount to something approximating between four and five thousand dollars ($4,000 and $5,000).

Special artistes will come direct from England to take part in the Festivals. The Chicago Symphony Orchestra is an organization of eminent reputation, capable of performing the greater works such as Stanford's Irish Symphony, Mackenzie's Rhapsodies and the like, with a perfection of finesse befitting such colossal compositions, while everything has been done to create for this chain of Festivals component parts of all-round excellence.

NEW DAIRY COMPANY.

Being Formed to Erect Another Cheese Factory, North of the Village.

(Norwood Register.)

The organization of a new dairy company in the vicinity of Norwood is about completed.

Preliminary steps have been taken by a number of farmers of the Township of Dummer, and some in Asphodel near the boundary, to form a joint stock company for the purpose of erecting a new cheese factory to be located on Mr. Wm. Andrews' farm, comprising a portion of lot 1 in the 9th concession of the Township of Dummer. The new concern will be known as Killarney Cheese Factory.

We understand that about half a hundred agriculturists north and west of the village are interested in the project, including Mr. Jas. Andrews, ex-Reeve of Asphodel, Messrs. Allan Elmhirst, Wm. Andrews, and W. D. Robson, of Dummer, and John MacNaughton and Hugh Drain, of Asphodel.

Several organization meetings have been held and, judging from the earnestness and enthusiasm which prevailed, this factory when established will be one of the most successful and popular going concerns in the county.

A RECOGNITION.

Tribute by Bethel Circuit to Services of Mr. W. C. Switzer.

The following resolution was passed at a recent meeting of the Official Board of Bethel Circuit of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Switzer has since left his former home in Emily and has taken up his residence in the Town of Peterborough. What has been Bethel's loss will be Peterborough's gain.

Moved by Bro. S. W. Mitchell and seconded by Bro. T. M. Caldwell and resolved, and we, the members of the Quarterly Official Board of Bethel Circuit, now assembled, do place on record our sense of the exceeding loss we have sustained throught the recent removal from our midst of Bro. W.C. Switzer, a loss we cannot very well repair. Regularity of attendance at the meetings of the Board, punctuality, business ability, deep interest in the work of the church and loyalty to all just and righteous demands, faithful service as recording steward for a long term of years, the genial smile and invariable happy ways—all these features and more have combined to make him an invaluable member to us, and his departure a matter of sincere regret. Our best wishes, however, whither he has gone, and we declare it to be the earnest desire of our hearts that wherever his lot may be cast the hand of our Master may be upon him for good, and when the day of life and labour is done may he, with his estimable companion enjoy a full entrance in at our Father's right hand and receive an abundant reward for loving and painstaking toil during life here upon earth.

Signed on behalf of the Board.

MOSES RUTH,
Rec. Secretary.

The question of why one man succeeds and another fails, is a problem that has puzzled philosophers for centuries. One man attains riches and position, while his neighbour who started with seemingly the same, and better opportunities, exists in poverty and obscurity. No man can win success who is suffering from an irritating and nerve-racking disease, and the man who has the qualities of success within him, would be quick to recognize this fact and seize the best remedy to eradicate the trouble. A person afflicted with a serious case of hemorrhoids or piles is handicapped in the race for power and advancement. It is impossible to concentrate the mental energies when this dreadful trouble is sapping the vital forces. To show how easily this success destroying trouble can be overcome, we publish the following letter from a prominent Indiana man:

"When I received the former letter and booklet, on 'Piles, their nature, cause and cure,' I was in a critical condition. Ulcers to the number of seven had formed on the inside of the rectum culminating in a large tumour on the outside resembling fistula. I suffered the most excruciating pain, and could get no rest day nor night. After reading the booklet I sent to my druggist, but he happened to be out of Pyramid Pile Cure just them. However, I obtained a part of a box from my brother-in-law and began their use. Five Pyramids completely cured me. I procured a box later but have had no occasion to use them. I have been waiting to see that the cure was permanent before writing you of its success. I believe Pyramid Pile Cure to be the greatest and best pile cure on the market, and ask you to please accept of my grateful thanks for this invaluable remedy. I take great pleasure in recommending its use to any sufferer along this line. You may use my name if you wish for reference to any one afflicted with this disease." J. O. Littell, Arthur, Ind.

You can obtain a free sample of this wonderful remedy, also the booklet described above, by writing your name and address plainly on a postal card and mailing it to the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich.

The Age of Brain Work.

In these days, half our diseases come from the neglect of the body in the overwork of the brain. In this railway age the wear and tear of labour and intellect go on without pause or self pity. We live longer than our forefathers but we suffer more. They fatigued only the muscles, we exhaust the finer strength of the nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest medicine of this age because it is best suited to the needs of the present day. It restores and revitalizes wasted nerve cells and makes the pale, weak and exhausted strong and healthy and vigourous.

IN MEMORIAM.

Of Margaret Theresa Leahy, who died Jan. 9th, 1903, aged 13 years.

A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A dear one has left our number,
Who no more our songs will sing.

Darling Theresa you have left us,
Broken-hearted here alone,
Yet we know your watching o'er us,
Safe in your celestial home.

A school-mate dear from us is gone,
Dear Theresa's voice is still,
A place is vacant in our school,
Which never can be filled.

You have gone to meet your brother,
On the bright eternal shore,
Oh, may we who now are mourning,
Meet you there to part no more.

A bud the gardener gave us,
A pure and lovely friend,
He gave it to our keeping,
To cherish undefiled.

But just as it was opening,
To the glory of the day,
Down came the Heavenly Gardener,
And took our bud away.

Yes, dear Theresa, thou hast left us,
All thy toils and cares are o'er,
In Heaven we hope to meet thee,
But alas! on earth no more.

We miss thee from our school, dear,
We miss thee from thy place,
A shadow o'er our life is cast,
And we miss the sunshine of thy face.

We lay thee in they tomb, dear,
Sweet blossom of a day,
We just began to view thy bloom,
When thou wert called away.

At length relieved from all thy pain,
Our Theresa sweetly sleeps,
How calm and peaceful the repose,
While Christ thy soul doth keep.

A DAY'S FATALITIES

Tragic Death of Prominent Man in North York Politics.

WINNIPEG MAN SHOT DEAD.

Dr. Frank Turnbull of Auburn, Ont., Meets Death in a Daring Canoe Trip on the River Maitland to Goderich —Contractor Charles Cole Committed Suicide by Hanging Himself at Windsor.

Toronto, March 13.—W. W. Pegg, ex-Mayor of Newmarket, was found dead in his room in the Albion Hotel yesterday morning about 7.30 o'clock. The gas was turned on full and had either not been lighted at all or had been turned on again after the light was extinguished.

Mr. Pegg came to the city last Tuesday and registered at the Albion. Wednesday night he had been out with a party of friends and when he came in about 12.30 he was in a condition of intoxication. Passing his room yesterday morning, Will Holderness, son of the hotel proprietor, noticed the smell of escaping gas and, opening the door he found the body of Pegg lying on the bed fully dressed. Dr. Wallace was called and notified Coroner Greig, who considered an inquest unnecessary.

W. W. Pegg was about 62 years of age and lived about seven miles from Newmarket. He was formerly a wealthy man, but lost most of his property through litigation. In 1892 he opposed Sir William Mulock as Conservative candidate in North York. He had been Reeve of Gwillimbury and was a candidate for the York County Council at the last elections. He leaves a wife and five children.

Killed While Cleaning Revolver.

Winnipeg, March 13.—A few minutes after noon yesterday, D. D. McArthur, brother of J. D. McArthur, the well-known lumber dealer, was instantly killed in his house by a bullet from a seven-shooter Colt's revolver which exploded while the unfortunate man was cleaning it. The bullet entered his skull near the eye. He was perfectly conscious when he fell, and when the doctors arrived he was quite dead. He was aged 47.

FATAL FOOLHARDINESS.

In Running River Maitland in a Canoe From Auburn to Goderich Dr. Turnbull Lost His Life.

Goderich, Ont., March 13.—An attempt to run the River Maitland from Auburn to Goderich in a canoe resulted yesterday in the death of Frank Turnbull, M. D., a clever young physician, who has been practicing at Auburn, and a brother of Dr. J. L. Turnbull of this town. He had sold his practice and was about to go abroad to prosecute further studies in his profession, and before leaving was anxious to perform a feat which has frequently been undertaken by some of the young men of this tower, the navigation of the Maitland during the spring floods. The river broke up only a few days ago, and the icy current was flowing with great rapidity. Yesterday morning at 10.30 he started from Auburn to make the hazardous trip of forty miles down the winding river to Goderich.

How or when the accident occurred is not known, but an upturned canoe with a man clinging to it was seen from the G.T.R. station at 2.30 in the afternoon. They were intercepted and the unfortunate man was taken to an office near by, where all the doctors of the town, including his brother, failed to restore life to the chilled body.

Cole Hanged Himself.

Walkerville, March 13.—Charles Cole, a contractor, residing at 17 Catarqui street, Windsor, suicided here yesterday evening by hanging himself. He was found dead in a house in course of erection, of which he had the contract of building.

One Day's Fatalities at Shamokin.

Shamokin, Pa., March 13.—While tapping water from a breast at Sterling Colliery yesterday, Alfred Daniels, former Chief of the Fire Department, and William Krickbaum were drowned. Benjamin Bower was killed, and three men injured by a rush of coal into a bin, while John Hulik met death by falling coal at Hickory Ridge.

He Was Weary of Life.

Kingston, March 13.—During a fit of temporary insanity, Robert Sears, a wealthy and retired citizen, who lives on the outskirts of the city, committed suicide by shooting himself through the abdomen. His death was instantaneous.

HIS CONFESSION.

Maurice Best Admits that He Owes His Life to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"A man's health depends upon his stomach." Like many another ancient adage this one has more than a grain of truth in it. The stomach feeds the blood and the blood carries the food to all parts of the body. Therefore if the stomach is in good shape the body will be thoroughly fed.

But another important matter must be attended to. The blood, as well as carrying the food to the muscles, carries off the waste material, and the kidneys remove that waste material from the blood. Therefore to ensure the perfect working of the system the two most important organs to keep in order are the stomach and the kidneys.

And to do this is easy with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Dodd's Kidney Pills on sale at every dealer's. They work on the parts affected separately and together and the results obtained are almost miraculous. Listen to what they did for Maurice Best, of Southern Harbour, Newfoundland.

"I suffered for eight years from Dyspepsia," writes Mr. Best. "I was in continual misery. I would go off in a faint and for ten or fifteen minutes I would be more dead than alive. Doctors tried and could not cure me. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets made me feel like a new man. I confess I owe my life to Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

The Foot and Mouth Disease.

Washington, March 12.—Chief Inspector Bennett of the Bureau of Animal Industry of Boston, to-day telegraphed an official report that four herds of cattle, aggregating 68 animals, located in the vicinity of Bedford, N.H., have been found infected with foot and mouth disease, and have been slaughtered.

Vancouver Strike Grows.

Vancouver, B.C., March 13.—The Teamsters' Union, 200 in number, went out yesterday as a result of the employers' insisting they should haul freight to and from C. P. R sheds and wharves, where non-union hands are handling a limited quantity of freight.

Health and Hope.

"He who has health has hope; and he who has hope has everything." But hope flees at the approach of kidney disease with the dreadful pains which accompany it. With the flesh gradually failing, the back aching, and the despair which often comes to victims of this ailment, only the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will restore hope, confidence and health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

THE OTTAWA HOUSE

Opening of the Dominion Parliament at Ottawa.

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

Mention of Some Very Important Matters —Various Subjects Upon Which Legislation Is Promised — The Colonial Conference—Redistribution— Sir Wilfrid's Reply Respecting the Cabinet Changes.

Ottawa, March 13. — Parliament was opened at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Lord Minto. There was a large attendance at the opening ceremonies, and the interest manifested in the event was as great as in past years.

His Excellency the Governor-General was accompanied from the Government House by an escort of the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards, and was received on his arrival at the Parliament Buildings by a guard of honor from the Governor-General's Foot Guards. The band of this regiment was present and supplied the music.

Speech From the Throne.

Lord Minto proceeded to the Senate Chamber and delivered the following speech from the throne:—

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate, Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I am glad to be able to congratulate you on the continued prosperity that prevails throughout the Dominion. Canada has received many blessings during the past year which call for the expression of our heartfelt gratitude to a kind Providence. I had the pleasure of visiting London last summer in anticipation of the coronation of His Majesty, and to meet on that occassion representatives from all parts of the Empire, bringing with them assurances of the loyalty and contentment that prevails throughout His Majesty's widely-extended possessions, and though at one time fears were entertained that the King's illness would have involved a further postponement of the ceremonies, it was a source of much joy and happiness to His Majesty's subjects that his health was so speedily and perfectly restored.

Representatives of this Government participated in the important Colonial Conference, which was called by His Majesty's Government in connection with the coronation. The report of the proceedings of the conference including the documents submitted by the Canadian representatives, has already been given to the public by His Majesty's Government in London. I feel assured that much good will result from bringing the leading public men of the great self-governing colonies into direct contact with each other and with the statesmen from other lands.

The great influx of population into our Northwestern Territories and the very large additional areas of fertile land which are being brought under cultivation combine to further press upon us the need for increased transportation facilities for the forwarding of our grain and other products to the markets of the world through Canadian channels. The whole question of transportation and terminal facilities continues to occupy much attention, and my Government will immediately appoint a commission of experienced men to report on the subject.

A treaty has been entered into between His Majesty and the Government of the United States, under which the proper delimitation of the boundaries between Canada and Alaska is to be judicially determined by a tribunal of six impartial jurists of repute.

As a result of the recent decennial census the representation of the different provinces must be re-adjusted, as required by the British North America Act, and a bill will be introduced for that purpose. Bills with respect to the creation of a Railway Commission, the amendment of the patent laws, the Militia Act, Chinese immigration, the re-organization of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, the settlement of railway labor disputes, and various other subjects will be submitted to you.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons: The public accounts will be laid before you, and also the estimates for the coming year, which have been prepared with due regard to economy and the rapid growth of the Dominion.

Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate; Gentlemen of the House of Commons: I pray that in the consideration of these matters and in the performance of all the labors which will devolve on you, your deliberations, under Divine guidance, will tend still to increase the prosperity and happiness of our people.

The Cabinet Changes.

Just before the House adjourned R. L. Borden asked for an explanation of the changes in the Cabinet.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that the first duty of the House, according to constitutional usage, was to pass an address in reply to the speech of His Excellency. As soon as that duty had been accomplished he would be prepared to name a day and give the desired explanation.

Sir Wilfrid held an informal levee after the adjournment.

Senator Frost will move, and Senator Legris will second, the address in the Senate.

Telegraphic Briefs.

Windsor—Adam Boyd, a L. E. and D.R.R. employe, was run down by an engine and lost his right arm.

London—Robert Lawrence, a young Englishman, was killed by a falling tree at Kerwood.

Brockville—Dr. Giles, born here in 1834, and a life-long resident, died to-day. In 1876 he was elected as a Conservative M.P.P.

LIQUOR ACT WAS VALID

And Voting Upon It Was Legal—St. Thomas Appeal Dismissed.

The motion to set aside the convictions against William Walsh, Henry Branton and Robert Foster, all of St. Thomas, for ballot-stuffing, in connection with the referendum vote, was yesterday dismissed at Osgoode Hall by Chief Justice Falconbridge, Mr. Justice Street and Mr. Justice Britton. Each had been sentenced to one year's imprisonment, while Walsh was fined $400 additional. The principal objection taken to the conviction was on the ground "that there was no legal voting under the Liquor Act of 1902, the statute providing for it being unconstitutional and void, and that the defendant, therefore, was not guilty of any offence, either in law or on the finding of the court."

On this point, the judgment said: "While the delegation of the powers of the Crown and legislature may be a startling proposition to the student of constitutional history, yet they seem to be within the authority of the Provincial parliament. The serious point of the case is the words 'conduct the trial.' Does this plea convey the power to try summarily and to convict and to award punishment? In the words of Othello, 'I do perceive I have a divided duty,' viz., to give a construction in favor of life and liberty, and also, if possible, carry out the manifest will of the legislature. Not without much doubt and hesitation, I arrive at the conclusion that the act gives the power contended by the Crown. There is nothing in the other objections taken. The motion to quash the conviction is dismissed."

The decision confirms the validity of the Liquor Act, and the legality of the voting on the referendum, and will, of course, apply in all other appeals on the same subject.

THE FEAR OF HUMBUG

Prevents Many People From Trying a Good Medicine.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure, that most people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made of a preparation so reliable, and so universally used, as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines, for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine; no secret is made of their ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aseptic pepsin, the digestive acids, Golden Seal, Bismuth, Hydrastis and Nux. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles, because they act entirely on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison, as it creates gas, acidity, headaches, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh, and appetite and many other troubles, which are often called by some other name.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

CZAR'S IMPORTANT DECREE.

Gives Religious Freedom and Is Called as Beginning of New Era.

St. Petersburg, March 13. — The Czar has issued a decree providing for freedom of religion throughout his dominions, establishing to some degree local self-government and making other concessions to the Village Committees.

The decree, which was issued in commemoration of the anniversary of the birthday of Alexander III., is considered to be the most significant act of state since the emancipation of the serfs. The public hails it as the proclamation of a new era, opening up bright prospects of the early improvement of Russian internal administration.

BAD BLOOD.

Miss Mary M. Allan, Aston, Ont., says:—For nearly a year I was troubled with pimples on my face. I tried several remedies but none of them seemed to help me until I got Burdock Blood Bitters. I think it is a great remedy for bad blood, and take pleasure in letting you know that it did me more good than all the other remedies I tried.

Miss Alberta Murray, Campbellton, N.B., says:—For five years I was troubled with Dyspepsia, and whenever I ate anything I suffered untold agony. My parents got numerous medicines for me but they did me no good. I saw Burdock Blood Bitters advertised and something seemed to say, "get a bottle." I did so, and to my surprise before I finished the bottle I felt relieved. I took all told 3 bottles, and have had no return of the trouble.

HEADACHES.

Mrs. Peter Sanderson, Glen Lovit, N.B., says:—It is with pleasure and gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful power of Burdock Blood Bitters. My daughter was ailing for three years with headache and run down system. I tried several kinds of medicine but to no effect. At last a friend urged me to try B.B.B. for her, and after using two bottles she was like another being. I can never praise it enough. It is a God-send to all.

Annual Report.

The annual report of the Centreville Presbyterian church, which has recently been printed, shews a continued prosperity of that congregation under the energetic pastorate of Rev. J. W. McIntosh, B. A. One praiseworthy feature of the report is the liberal contributions to missions—$236. They raised for all purposes during the year over two thousand dollars, which is very good for a membership roll of two hundred. Twelve were removed by death, fifteen baptised, and fourteen added to the church during the year.

Induction at Cordova.

The induction of Rev. Mr. Goodwill into his new charge took place on Thursday evening, March 12th. Rev. J. G. Potter, of Peterborough, presided at the service and addressed the large congregation present, as also Rev. D. A. Thomson, Hastings; Rev. A. E. Camp, Havelock, and Rev. D. Atkinson, Warsaw. After the induction services, refreshments were served by the ladies of the church, and a social welcome was extended to Rev. Mr. Goodwill, who has already made a most favourable impression upon the people of Cordova.

The fine new bell, presented to the Cordova church, by D. G. Kerr, Esq., Manager Belmont Gold Mine, was placed in position last week and used for the first time on the anniversary.

REV. MR. HANNAH.

He Was Remembered by the People of his Church.

A very pleasant event took place yesterday afternoon when a number of the church members and friends of Rev. J. H. Hannah met together at the residence of Mr. R. B. Martin, Stewart street, to express their sorrow at his departure from their midst, and to present to him a visible token of their good will.

Rev. Jonathan Bastow, who was present, read the address, and Mr. T. Jewitt presented Mr. Hannah with a handsome set of Wm. Shakespeare's works, complete.

Rev. Mr. Hannah, who was completely taken by surprise, responded in a few well chosen words. Refreshments were served, and everyone left feeling that a very enjoyable time had been spent.

Rev. Mr. Hannah has been a resident of Peterborough for two years. He leaves for Michigan in a day or two.

Fined $10.

The case against George Parcels of Belmont, for violation of the game laws, was concluded of Thursday of last week, at Havelock, when Magistrate Mathison announced the decision of the County Police Magistrate to whom the case was referred. The decision of the Police Magistrate imposed a fine of $10 and costs on Parcels, amounting in all to $45, or 60 days in gaol. We understand that Mr. Parcels has appealed against the judgment through his solicitor, Mr. George J. Sherry of this place. — Norwood Register.

Their New Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shaw and family left Cavan this week for their new home in Otonabee, three miles north-east of Peterborough, says the Millbrook Reporter. For over half a century Mr. Shaw has been a resident of the township, where he was born fifty-nine years ago Monday, and we are sure there is general regret amongst their neighbours, as there is also in the village that they have moved to other parts where they shall seldom be seen by their many old friends and neighbours. Miss Shaw and Lieut. A. E. Shaw and the younger brothers, all noted for their amiable dispositions, will also be much missed. We wish them every success in their new home.

Where Does the Money Go?

The question has been asked of able financiers "What becomes of all the money that disappears from circulation?" It is a well known fact that many pass out of sight and have to be replaced from time to time by new coinage. This is also the case with bank notes. It has been stated that bills issued by the Old Gore Bank, out of existence for over thirty years, are still being presented for redemption to the Canadian Bank of Commerce, into which the Gore Bank was merged. The Dunlop Tire Co., of Toronto, believing that there is more rapidity of circulation and less loss in these strenuous commercial days, have decided to make an interesting test of the "quick returning power" of a number of Canadian coins. They will make an announcement within a few days, which will be worth the attention of everybody.

LIGHT FOR HAVELOCK.

A Joint Stock Company Apply for a Charter.

Havelock Standard.

During the past month a number of our enterprising citizens have been bestirring themselves in trying to obtain electric light for our lively little town. Mr. William Mathison is the leading advocate of the scheme and he has obtained an option on the Burnt Dam water power, and on 200 acres of the surrounding land. The Burnt Dam is situated about six miles north east of the village. Figures and other information have been obtained from the leading electric light companies, and as a result it is thought that there is plenty of power available at the dam to furnish power for an indefinite period. It is estimated that the outlay necessary to install a proper and up-to-date plant, will be at least $8,000, and steps have been taken to form a joint stock company to be known as the Havelock Electric Light and Power Company, Limited. A petition for a charter has been sent to the proper authorities, and nearly all the necessary amount of stock has already been subscribed. The village council will likely decide to take a sufficient number of lamps for street lighting purposes, and the C. P. R. will also require five arc and a large number of incandescent lamps.

A delegate was appointed to arrange for the meeting and to agitate the cause for the farmers.—Hastings Star.

THE GAMEY MATTER TO GO TO A ROYAL COMMISSION.

Yesterday in the Ontario Legislature, though less sensational than the previous day, which was marked by the extraordinary features of the Gamey incident, was of equal, if not greater, interest, showing, as it did, the determination of the Government to bring about as speedily as possible, a stringent and thorough inquiry into the truth of the alleged charges of Mr. Gamey, which purported to implicate Hon. J. R. Stratton. The truthfulness of Mr. Gamey's statement, so far as any material act of wrong-doing was concerned, was explicitly denied by Mr. Stratton. On the opening of the House, before the "orders of the day," Hon. Mr. Ross, Premier, moved a resolution calling upon the Lieutenant-Governor to issue a Royal Commission, to consist of two Superior Court Judges, to conduct a thorough investigation, the House in the meantime, to adjourn for three weeks. In his remarks, Mr. Ross pointed out that Mr. Gamey's statements concerned the Government, in that one of the members of the Government had been ostensibly implicated. His colleague, Mr. Ross said, had denied the implied charges in toto, and he, and his colleagues, believed him. They had confidence in him, and had found him worthy of trust. In the interests of the country, it would not do to avoid investigation, and, he added, amidst ministerial applause, that unless the honour of the Government was vindicated, the Government did not wish to govern the country. He asked the Opposition to join in this endeavour. Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Opposition, did not concur in the idea of a Royal Commission. He held that the House was abdicating its functions and efficacy itself, in consenting to a Royal Commission. He preferred to have the matter of the investigation submitted to the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the House, which, as a matter of fact, had not yet been appointed. He hinted, as is his wont, that some of the Judges were likely to be biassed in favour of the Government, through the alleged fact that some of their relatives being friendly to the Government, and held that the Committee was the proper thing, as likely to secure a fairer and more unprejudiced result. The Hon. Mr. Gibson, Attorney-General, who followed Mr. Whitney, pointed out that that gentleman destroyed his own argument as to a committee, the House being the proper tribunal for the investigation. Mr. Whitney, who would be a member of the committee had shown by his prejudging the case as he had done in his remarks, and pronouncing judgment for matters of fact in advance, that the partizan composition of the committee would not eleminate the partizan element which would prevent a fair and impartial judgment being arrived at. Besides the Opposition would not accept as satisfactory the finding of the committee unless that finding was in accordance with the prejudgment which they had passed upon the case; and moreover the majority of the committee would be Liberals and the plea might be fairly urged that they would take the most favourable view of the evidence, and the conclusion of the committee would not be as satisfactory to the House and the country as the finding of a commission of Superior Court Judges, who were free from any partizan feeling or interest. With a commission, Mr. Whitney knew, Mr. Gibson said, that he and his supporters would be allowed to be represented by counsel and junior counsel, and that every facility would be provided for eliciting the whole facts and bringing to a decision the truthfulness or untruthfulness of Mr. Gamey's charges. It was also pointed out that an adjournment was necessary for, until the matter in hand was disposed of, the House would not be in a position to give their attention to the business before it, which its importance deserved.

At the hour of adjournment at 6 o'clock, the debate, on the Premier's motion, providing for the appointment of a Royal Commission of Superor Court Judges was not concluded. It will be resumed this afternoon, when, no doubt the motion will be adopted, and a commission will be authorized that will thoroughly investigate all the circumstances and definitely and impartially determine what truth or falsehood lies in the serious charge made against a member of the Government, which is taking the best course possible to secure a conclusion and satisfactory result.

AN INTERESTING DEBATE

Was Held in St. Paul's Church Last Night.

Representatives of Young Men's Guilds in Heated Discussion—Mr. F. D. Kerr one of the Speakers.

A large number of young men gathered together in St. Paul's church, last night, it being the occasion of the debate of the representatives of the different Young Men's Guilds of St. Andrew's, George street, Charlotte street and St. John's churches.

The subject of the debate was:

"Resolved, that Municipal Ownership of public utilities is better for the country than Private Ownership."

The following were the names of the speakers: Messrs. Peter Kerr, St. Andrew's; and R. F. McWilliams, St. Paul's, for the affirmative; and Messrs. W. Galbraith, Charlotte street, and F. D. Kerr, St. John's, for the negative.

It had been announced that Mr. J. S. Knapman was to speak for the affirmative, but owing to his inability to attend his place was taken by Mr. R. F. McWilliams.

Mr. Peter Kerr, for the affirmative, was first called upon to speak. In the course of his able and well prepared remarks, Mr. Kerr gave several instances of cities in the States in which the municipal works were operated by individuals, and which invariably were of untold expense to the citizens. In England, to a great degree, the towns had municipal ownership, and in many of these towns the profits of the municipal works went towards lessening the taxes of each individual citizen, while when the municipal works were owned by private persons, these latter only think of making money, despite the consequences.

The chairman, Mr. J. Connal, after the expiration of the first speaker's fifteen minutes, called upon Mr. W. Galbraith to speak on the negative side.

Mr. Galbraith in introducing his subject, said that if the municipality owned everything, individual competition would be done away with. In our own town of Peterborough there are people who pay for municipal water tax, who do not use city water. Here was a very near instance in which the municipality was gaining—the citizens were cutting their own throats.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams was the second speaker for the affirmative and in a powerful unprepared speech pointed out the advantages of municipal ownership. Mr. McWilliams generalized at some length on municipal ownership, and at the conclusion of his 15 minutes, sat down amidst great applause.

The chairman then called upon Mr. F. D. Kerr to speak for the negative.

Mr. Kerr remarked that he was not accustomed to talk from behind the pulpit; he was more accustomed to the Bar. (Laughter.) Mr. Kerr said that during the recent Street Railway strike in Toronto, 1,000 soldiers had been called out to keep order. This turned many people against the Government, showing that municipal ownership sometimes does a great deal of harm, while the Montreal Street Railway strike was quelled without the aid of soldiers, in one day, because the Montreal street railway is not a municipal possession. In a few brief words Mr. F. D. Kerr showed that municipal ownership was not desirable.

Messrs. W. Madill, Fisk, and Rev. J. A. Wilson were elected judges and decided in favour of the negative.

After the concusion of the debate, Mr. C. N. Brown gave an amusing reading, while Mr. Jos. Dawson sang a song and Mr. John Robinson gave some excellent recitations. A most pleasant, interesting and profitable evening was spent by all present.

POLICE COURT.

The Obstruction of Streets by Boys too Frequent.

Some boys were brought before the Police Magistrate this morning on a charge of loitering on the street corner of Albert and Park streets, on Monday evening last, and thereby hindering the pedestrians on the sidewalk. One boy was further charged with kicking the dinner pail of a passer-by. The Police Magistrate said that these disturbances were too frequent, and in view of the many complaints that had come to his ears he fined the lad who insulted the pedestrian by kicking his dinner pail, the sum of $2, payable in five days, and in default imprisonment for ten days.

BANKS MUST MAKE GOOD.

Public Not to Suffer From the Martineau Forgeries.

Ottawa, March 12.—(Special.)—The Free Press, in an inspired article, says the government is determined that the $80,000 lost by Martineau's forgeries shall not come from the public purse. The Bank of Montreal will be called upon to make good the shortage, and if it resists, there will be legal proceedings to collect the amount. If it comes to a process of law the Bank of Montreal may in turn call on the Sovereign Bank, Royal and Quebec banks to make good the forged cheques honored by these respective banks.

GAVAN DUFFY'S LIFE

HISTORY OF MAN WHO WAS DOYEN OF IRISH AGITATORS.

Friend and Foe of O'Connell and Prime Minister of Victoria—Worked With D'Arcy McGee—End of the Young Irelanders—Goethe Was Duffy's Model—Glimpses of Great Men.

Death has removed the doyen of Irish agitators in the person of Sir Charles Gavan Duffy, at the age of eighty-seven years. The friend and foe of O'Connell, the intimate of Carlyle, the colleague of D'Arcy McGee, the young Irelander of Ulster, the Prime Minister of Victoria, this is the career brought to mind by the mention of Duffy's name. Though it cannot be said of him that he was as great as O'Connell, O'Leary, or Davis, he made up for the lack of pure genius by a streak of common sense which won for him fame and riches in a new country, while many of his friends, worn out in early middle age by their heroic struggles for the land of their birth, died in hopeless exile. Three young men working side by side in the dingy little office of The Dublin Nation, three strong-hearted Irishmen, a Canadian Minister of Agriculture, an American general, a Victorian Premier—here are McGee, Meagher, and Duffy, "the stones rejected by the builders." One of them died at the assassin's hand on the streets of Ottawa, cut off suddenly at the height of his career, the other, the inferior intellect of the three lives to receive a knighthood from his Sovereign, as a recognition of his service to the Empire.

Worked With McGee.

Charles Gavan Duffy was born of well-to-do Roman Catholic parents, in Monaghan, in the year 1816. The grim tragedy of '98 was fresh in the minds of Irishmen in those days, and as the boy grew, he drank in hatred of English rule with every breath. An early inclination to literature pointed out his path for him. While a mere stripling he took an active part in an election against a landlord, and as a result some of his father's property was confiscated. Gavan went to Dublin, and became sub-editor of a paper when 20 years old. Five years later he was in full charge, and his name was already prominent in the seething discontent of the time. Young Duffy was a worker, and though his newspaper duties might well have kept him busy, he read for the bar during his spare hours. In 1842 he took the step upon which depended the whole of his future career. With Davis, one of the brightest names in the history of Ireland, and Dillon, the father of the present Nationalist, Meagher, D'Arcy McGee, and Smith O'Brien, Duffy founded The Nation, a journal devoted heart and soul to the cause of Ireland. With O'Connell their leader and idol, they toiled at the time-honored Celtic profession of agitating. Surely the atmosphere of the little newspaper office must have been fairly electrical with genius. Then came the dark days, when O'Connell, suspected of timidity by his friends, and accused of treachery by his foes, stood undecided and dumb while all Ireland waited for his call to arms. But the far-famed meeting at Clontarf was never held, and the great Liberator's sun was set. The Nation turned on him, and so did the Young Irelanders, who cried, "We'll die for Ireland!" And the "mighty, magnificent, mean old man" answered with a jest: "You and I, boys, will live for Ireland."

End of Young Irelanders.

When the courts pursued the gallant young Irishmen, and McGee and Meagher fled the country, the former to glorify Canadian politics, the latter to lead a brigade of Confederate troops in the Civil War, Duffy alone escaped exile. He languished in jail for nine months, and on his release carried on the old campaign for six years, in Parliament and out of it. But failure, famine, and depopulation had taken the heart out of those who dully listened to him, and then Duffy decided to shake the dust of the Emerald Isle from his shoes forever. In "My Life in Two Hemispheres" he says of his leaving: "I determined to quit Ireland. . . . I could no longer promise the suffering people relief; and to witness injustice without curb and wrong without remedy would render life too painful. An Ireland where Mr. Keogh typified patriotism and Dr. Cullen the Church was an Ireland in which I could not live." So he went to Australia, and rose in Victoria as McGee rose in Canada. After having been Prime Minister, he accepted the position of Speaker in the Legislature, which office he held for some years, finally retiring to Nice, as Sir Charles Gavan Duffy, K.C.M.G.

Goethe Was Duffy's Model.

Goethe became his idol. He concluded that true philosophy was best displayed by the great German novelist when he shut his ears to the world-clamor of the French Revolution, locked himself in his study, and wrote books. So Sir Charles for the last twenty years of his life devoted himself to literature. Chief among his publications are "Young Ireland," "Four Years of Irish History," "League of the North and South," "My Life in Two Hemispheres." The best society in Europe was open to him; success in the new country had healed the wound of failure in the old. His declining years must have been the happiest in his life. Once he wrote to a friend that he was weary of new countries, and "longed for the green pastures where we wandered of old."

Glimpses of Great Men.

"It has been said of him that he was utterly incapable of appreciating O'Connell's denunciation of slavery in the United States, that he was a niggard in his praise of the devoted men who took up his task when he laid it down, that he was, to paraphrase Orsini, "a prince in words, a beggar in action." But when Duffy found the Irish Tenant League, when he defeated the Chief Secretary for Ireland, when he initiated the present system of independent Opposition in the House of Commons, surely he was the man of action. His writings show him at his best. He has the polish of the literary man, the easy charm of the cosmopolitan. His pages abound in charming biographical tit-bits of the great men of the century. We are introduced to Bright, Browning, Carlyle, Disraeli, Gladstone, Mill, Macaulay, Forster, Newman, Manning, and Thackeray. Tom Moore went to see him one day, and is described as "A little middle-aged man, with pleasant smile and lively eyes, but of a countenance far from comely, and so elaborately dressed that the primrose gloves which he wore did not seem out of harmony with the splendor of his attire." The last of the Young Irelanders has passed away, a grey-haired old man, but his memory will long be kept green on two continents.

Birthplace of Trusts.

Vienna is called the birthplace of the trusts. They first saw the light there in 1878, and cartels regulating production, restricting competition and governing prices now exist in steel rails, iron, petroleum, sugar, alcohol, plate glass, glassware, paper, boots and shoes and textile fabrics. A comprehensive iron and steel trust covering the entire Empie has lately been formed. Even in the production of honey a cartel obtains, and on occasion the busy mountain bee is practically put upon short hours.

An Admiral's Wit.

When Lord High Admiral the Duke of Clarence, afterward William IV. of England, went down to Portsmouth to inspect the naval establishment, the first person he met was his jolly old messmate and friend, Captain Jack Towers. The prince took him by the hand and laughingly said, "Why, Jack, my boy, they tell me you are the greatest blackguard in all Portsmouth!" "Oh," quoth Towers, "I hope your royal highness has not come down here to deprive me of my character."

The Food System the Source of Life

Any Derangements of Liver or Kidneys That Interfere With Digestion and Assimilation of Food Reb and Depiete the Body.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It matters not how good your appetite, how you relish your food or how much you eat, so long as there is anything to interfere with proper digestion and assimilation of the food by the body, strength and vigour will gradually decline and weakness and debility take their place.

The most frequent cause of disordered digestion is sluggish action of the liver, kidneys and bowels. The whole alimentary canal, through which the food passes on its way through the body, becomes choked and clogged, and the system is poisoned and diseased.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have been marvellously successful in exactly this class of disease, principally because they act directly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, regulating and invigourating their action, and restoring them to health.

Mr. R. Beach, 225 Sherbrooke street Peterborough, Ont., states: "About two years ago I became subject to cramps, which were caused, I was told, from acute indigestion. I was so bad that I would be laid up for weeks at a time. These attacks came on periodically, and distressed me greatly.

"I then began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and have found them a wonderful medicine. They have entirely prevented a recurrence of my trouble, corrected the derangement of my digestive organs, and made me feel like a different person."

HUNTER STREET WEST

A CANADA WOLF STORY.

"Donnor," in The Globe, Tells of "How I am Grey So Young"—Two Nights and a Day's Harrowing Experiences.

Three of us, civil engineers, and some French-Canadian assistants were running a line in the Township of —— a very rough and wild place, and had our camp in a grove of cedars, which sheltered the only good spring water we had come across. It was summer time—dog days, in fact—and as conventionalities are not observed by bushwhackers we were going about most of the time without coat or vest, and some, imprudently, like myself, without as much as even a pocket-knife for protection.

Costly Absentmindedness.

Togged out in this manner, and with only a measure-chain over my shoulder, I had worked with some of the men most of the morning not more than a quarter of a mile from camp, but had wandered away from them by degrees and unconsciously, my mind being occupied with a bit of prospecting I was doing on my own account. Suddenly realizing that we were separated, I started for camp, or thought I was doing so, for it was nearing sundown, the usual limit of our day's work. "Why don't I see something of that blamed camp fire, or hear somebody?" I said to myself several times. "I must have footed more than the distance to it." But on I kept in one direction till there ahead, instead of cedars, was a strange hill I had never seen before. Up to this time it hadn't even occurred to me that I might be going the wrong way, but now I feel for my compass. It's in camp, of course. "There's where Old Sol went down in the west, and see the moss on the north side of those trees; my course is all right!" on I tramp again, occasionally stopping to listen; but darkness is spreading its mantle over everything.

"By Jove! this is a nice how d'ye do if I have to stay out all night." Darker and darker it grows.

"What makes that twig-cracking noise?" I am beginning to feel decidedly nervous, and "hungry" is no name for it, for I haven't had a bite since daylight. "Surely that can't have been a dog I just saw steal across there! What am I to do?"

Treed by a Wolf.

But the wolf's reappearance soon settled it, and I was up a tree instanter. Then I yelled and whistled and raised Cain generally, but no reply came. I'd like to tell you how long that night was and what I went through mentally and physically, but it can't be done. You'd have to be there, perched on that limb, trembling with fear and unable to close an eye during all that long night—hungry as the wolf that I knew was waiting his chance to eat me, sore as a boil all over, and stiff from being unable to move. But I hung on till daylight reappeared, and, seeing no wolf, I scrambled down and hunted all over for berries or anything to give me a little vim; but they were not of an edible kind, and made me feel worse. But a drink helped me a bit.

I plodded on, here and there stopping to dig up roots, but they didn't satisfy hunger in the least. Glancing back as I turned the corner of a hillock, there was the wolf, a big grey one, on my track, but keeping a respectable distance. On my shaking the chain at him he trotted back, but only to take up my trail shortly after. All day long as I roamed about he appeared and disappeared at intervals, each time being kept off by the shaking of the chain. Ascending a hill, I climbed its highest tree to see if I could get any bearings to go by, but the whole district as far as I could see was new to me.

Second Night in a Tree.

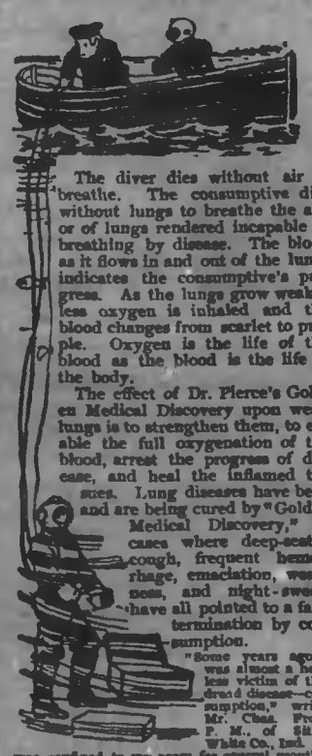
The second night found me footweary, famished and altogether used up. I am not a robust man, never was, and when I had to take to a tree this second night I was in a state bordering on absolute collapse, but I managed to find an exceptionally suitable one and wedged myself in between its numerous branches, so I couldn't drop if I happened to doze from sheer exhaustion. This I did about daylight next morning, but only for what seemed to me a few moments, when I awakened from a horrible dream that I was being attacked by the wolf. My arms reached out involuntarily, and had it not been for my precaution in squeezing myself in amongst the limbs I should have dropped to the ground.

Wolf a Patient Waiter.

And there was the wolf patiently waiting for his intended victim. But down I must, though the effort, on account of my cramped limbs, nearly resulted in a broken leg. Again I started, but before I had proceeded more than a hundred yards my strength gave out and I fell to the earth utterly helpless, and expecting every moment to feel the teeth of the wolf in my flesh. I must have become unconscious soon after. Now here is what my companions say:—On missing me the first day my assistants had scoured the place in every direction for me, calling and starting fires that I might be guided by the smoke, but had to return to camp about the middle of the night. Next day and day after the entire party was out firing guns and searching, and finally one of them getting sight of what he thought must be a bear was about to fire, when a companion held his arm in caution, and they approached stealthily, to find me lying insensible and my hair turned white. Their firing had doubtless driven off the wolf in the nick of time. These signalled to the rest by a preconcerted volley, and I was carried to camp, recovering consciousness only the following day.—Demar.

Hay From Abroad.

Canadian farmers will be surprised to learn that 8,397 tons of hay, valued at $121,628, were imported from the United States during the fiscal year ending June, 1902.



The diver dies without air to breathe. The consumptive dies without lungs to breathe the air, or of lungs rendered incapable of breathing by disease. The blood as it flows in and out of the lungs indicates the consumptive's progress. As the lungs grow weaker less oxygen is inhaled and the blood changes from scarlet to purple. Oxygen is the life of the blood as the blood is the life of the body.

The effect of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery upon weak lungs is to strengthen them, to enable the full oxygenation of the blood, arrest the progress of disease, and heal the inflamed tissues. Lung diseases have been and are being cured by "Golden Medical Discovery," in cases where deep-seated cough, frequent hemorrhage, emaciation, weakness, and night-sweats have all pointed to a fatal termination by consumption.

"Some years ago I was almost a helpless victim of that dread disease—consumption," writes Mr. Chas. Pross, P. M., of Sitka, White Co., Ind. "I was confined to my room for several months; my friends and neighbors had given up all hope of my recovery, until one day a friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and after I had taken the contents of the second bottle I began to improve. After taking six bottles I was, I honestly believe, delivered from the grave and entirely cured. I am now a strong and hearty man."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.

POE AND CHIVERS.

Specimen of the Argument Between Them on the Poets.

"A pure poem proper is one that is wholly destitute of a particule of passion."

"Then you admire Tennyson?" asked I.

"Yes, I consider him one of the greatest poets that ever lived," answered he.

"My God, Poe! how can you say that?" asked I, in surprise. "Why, his poems are as effeminate as a phlegmatic fat baby. He is the most perfectly Greek-statuesque, if you please, in his conceptions, of any man that has ever lived since the days of Pericles."

"This is just what constitutes him one of the greatest geniuses that ever lived," answered he. "Passion has nothing to do with pure poetry; for every drop of passion that you infuse into any poem just so far do you materialize, deteriorate and render it no poem. A pure poem is a rythmical creation of beauty, wholly destitute of everything but that which constitutes purity, namely, etheristity."

"Well, but this would not only bring you into conflict with the time-honored opinions of the world, but be the establishment of a new mode of criticism among the nations," said I.

"True; but that does not give me a moment's concern," answered he, with an imperial self-consciousness of his own importance, as well as the perfect knowledge of the purity of the truth that he had just spoken.

"If what you say be true then two-thirds of everything that Shakespeare ever wrote is absolutely good for nothing," said I.

"Certainly it is good for nothing. Nothing is good for anything except that which contains within itself the essence of its own vitality," answered he. "Otherwise it is mortal and ought to die."

"Then if this be the case—if all the poetical works in the world were pruned of their excrescences — there would be very little poetry left," answered I.

"Very little, indeed; but just enough to show that what I say of poetry is true."

"Then Byron, Wordsworth, Coleridge, Montgomery, Southey and many other world-renowned sons of song would fare badly,"

"But no worse than they deserve," answered he, very peremptorily.

"What do you think of Keats?" asked I.

"He was the greatest of any of the English poets of the same age, if not of any age," answered he, with the air of a man who was not only conscious of his own consummate ability, but who had, long before, deliberately formed his opinions. "He was far in advance of the best of them, with the exception of Shelley, in the study of his themes. His principal fault is the grotesqueness of his abandon."

Disturbing Elliot's Graves.

Probably during the present week the almoners of Christ's Hospital will carry into effect their intention to remove the human remains that are interred within the precincts of that ancient institution.

A strange crowd—four Queens, lords and ladies, knights and monks, and many persons of high and low degree—rest here, where once the Grey Friars placed their dead and many old Blues sleep beneath the cloisters, having been buried there, so was the custom, by torchlight.

Also here lies the body of Isabella of France, the wife of Edward II., with her murdered husband's heart upon her breast. Her ghost was always said to haunt the cloisters. Her paramour Mortimer, rests there too.

So also do two rapacious favorites of Richard II. and Dame Alice Hungerford, who brutally murdered her spouse in the year 1523.—London Express.

SOLAR PHYSICS.

R. A. Stupart, F.R.S.C., Observatory Chief, on Matters Meteorological and Astronomical—Trolley System Troubles.

At the Canadian Institute rooms in Toronto on a recent Saturday night, an address was read by R. A. Stupart, F.R.S.C., on astronomical matters. Mr. Stupart said the world was awaking to the importance of solar physics, meteorology, seismography and terrestrial magnetism. Much good work had been done by the Toronto Observatory, and he was glad to say that Canadians generally were beginning to appreciate it.

The lecturer traced briefly the rise and growth of meteorological and magnetic science, and stated that the British Association in 1834 ordered a magnetic survey to be made of the principal lands of the two hemispheres. In 1837 a report was published, and in 1838 an expedition, partly subsidized by Queen Victoria, was organized under Sir John Ross and sailed for the Antarctic on a voyage of discovery and magnetic investigation.

Canada and Van Diemen's Land were selected as being nearest the magnetic poles, and St. Helena, because it was in the sphere of least magnetic disturbance, and in these three places observatories were ordered to be erected.

Toronto was chosen as the most suitable point in Canada, and King's College granted a site. In September, 1840, the first magnets were suspended in a wooden structure, and from then until 1892 constant and careful observations of diurnal changes in magnetic declination and dip were made, but in 1892 the magnets were ruined, as were those of other observatories in Potsdam, Greenwich, Kew and Washington by the advent of the trolley car, the electro-magnetic force utilized being so strong as to set up local attractions which destroyed the influence of earth magnetism.

Prof. Stupart then dealt with light, noting that light exerts pressure, as is proved by the radiometer. He gave a lengthy and lucid description of the Aurora Borealis, and explained it according to the theory of primordial matter, with which Dr. Osborne Reynolds of Owen's College, Manchester lately startled the scientific world.

Next Mr. Stupart touched on the superheated steam theory of seismic and volcanic disturbance, referring, of course, to Pelee.

The red spot on Jupiter, the Nova Persei and the desirability of increased membership of the society each had a place in the professor's remarks.

A Dodge With a Dime.

Undertake to make a coin fly out of a wineglass without touching either. Place a dime at the bottom of a wineglass and fit a larger coin, such as a half dollar, about a quarter of an inch from the top, making a lid. Now blow sharply on one side of the lid. This will turn to a vertical position, and the force of the air passing underneath the larger coin will drive the dime out at the other side.

A Rude Lake.

A little Chicago girl while walking on the shore with her father felt her foot wet and looking down saw that a little ripple had crept up near where they were walking. "Oh, papa," she cried, "the lake stepped on my toe!"

When I'm a Man.

When I grow into a great big man
And buy what I want to wear,
I'm going to have trousers a mile or two long
And never will brush my hair.

I'll buy a silk hat, with a very tall crown,
And carry a gold headed cane.
I'll not wear a necktie; it takes so much time
To untie it and tie it again.

I'm going to eat candy whenever I please
And play on the street till it's dark.
With peanuts my pockets will always be stuffed.
Oh, say, won't I just have a lark!

I'll hitch on the ice wagons all that I please,
With no one to make me get off.
I won't be polite to a nurse or a girl,
And my hat I never will doff.

And never, oh, never, will I go to bed
Before it's at least half past eight!
Ah, a jolly good time I'll have when a man.
You'll see if you only just wait.

CAPITAL $850,000

Divided into 850,000 Shares. Par Value $1.00, Fully Paid and Non-Assessable

TREASURY STOCK—WORKING CAPITAL.....$400,000

No Bonds, Preferred Stock Nor Indebtedness.

The recent acquisition by this company of leases on 250 acres in the Wheatley District, and 150 acres additional in the Raleigh Field, makes its control of oil lands now over 2,000 acres in all, thus increasing its assets by 33⅓, with a corresponding increase in the intrinsic value of its stock. The fact that these additions were also made without drawing a dollar from its rapidly accumulating treasury funds, evidences the intent of its directors to continue the success of the company's operations, and let no opportunity pass to maintain its substantial character and leading position among Canadian enterprises.

At the customary oil field reckoning of one well to an acre, the probable output from these properties is almost beyond computation. The Wheatley property adjoins the several wells drilled and operated by the Union Gas & Oil Co., and is considered a very valuable acquisition; while President Woodward of the Dominion Company advises us that by the installation of the air compressor he expects to increase the output at the famous Gurd Gusher to 400 or 500 barrels a day—and this product is now bringing a higher price than any other petroleum oil on the North American continent. Contracts are also under way for the immediate development of both the new properties, where a very high grade quality of oil has been found.

In view of these facts, as well as the sound financial position now occupied by the company, the directors have decided that the sale of stock shall

Close at 35c Saturday March 14,

and that the price shall

Advance to 50c Monday, March 16.

The company is now paying dividends of one per cent monthly on par ($1.00 per share, fully paid and non-assessable) which at the present figure of 35c is practically 36 per cent. per annum on the investment. The next dividend will be payable April 1st, to all stockholders of record of March 28th; but those who subscribe by March 14th will secure a 2% monthly investment. We earnestly advise all who desire an interest in these wonderful fields to subscribe now and thus make sure of the greater income, and the greater profit possible by the advanced market value of the stock.

New York, March 13. — We would not be surprised to see the bear party attack prices to-day. There seems to be but few issues that are at present supported against drives.

Copper has steadily accumulated. There are a number of other issues that are going higher later on but they will sympathize with the general market.

Buy on reactions smelters, Erie seconds, Wis. C., Atch., Rock Island preferred and copper. It is not expected that to-morrow's bank statement will be as unfavourable as the known movement of money indicates.

TOPICS.

Liverpool wheat opened quiet; May and July 1-4 lower. Corn 1-8 lower.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 13, 9.45 a. m. — Look for a continued irregular market to-day with some further declining tendency to prices. Money situation shows little, if any, improvement, and this, with labour trouble, the congested condition of bond market and general belief that fight between St. Paul pool and Harriman in this will develop aggressiveness and perhaps be extended in market are all calculated to hold investment and speculative buying in check and place market more in hands of professionals most of whom continue bearish and we can see nothing better than an irregular and a rather narrow traders market for some time to come.

Banks so far lost to treasury $3,838,000. Talbot Taylor of N. Y. brought suit in U. S. Circuit Court of Kentucky to enjoin holders of St. Paul from allowing U.P. to vote its holdings of S. P. stock at annual meeting April 8th and also to enjoin S.P. from selling or otherwise disposing of its lease to Continental Pacific.

Liverpool, 1.30, wheat 1-8 lower; corn 3-8 lower than yesterday.

M. & M.

New York, March 13, 12.45 p. m. — Impression on floor and on street is rather general that bank statement will make a decidedly better showing than last week but this is mostly conjecture in absence of any definite information the week's movement in cash or what loan account will show. Covering of shorts and some pool buying been principal cause of rally.

New York, March 13, 1.56 p. m. — Total loss in banks this week according to preliminary estimates ranges from $3,250,000 to 4,000,000. They lost $4,496,080 in sub-treasury operations and gained about 500,000 on net interior movement. This is much smaller than expected early in the week and should there be any material decrease in loan account it would give us a statement that would be generally regarded as much more favourable than last week. It is hard to give an opinion as to what statement will show.

M. & M.

Messrs. W. F. Dever & Co., Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 13. — The market after a rather feeble opening became decidedly strong. Amal. copper was conspicuous in the early dealings scoring advance to a new record price. Noonday session was marked by extreme dullness with prices holding steady. Buying to-day was of an excellent character, and leads to the conclusion that further improvement may be looked for. The general disposition leans to the long side and while the market to-day was higher trading was not quite so active as the past few days but it was noticed that the market refused to decline when it became dull showing there was little disposition to take profits. While we do not hesitate to sell on sharp rallies, think it advisable to take profits on any sharp break and go long of the market for a turn. Amal. copper will work considerable higher as will the balance of the list. The money situation is still unsatisfactoy and should be watched carefully.

Conservatism should be the rule as a bull market may not be expected immediately although purchases made now should show handsome profits inside of thirty days.

Chicago — All grains were dull early but weakened in latter part of session. Wheat may have another rally as we are in a period of drop scares should it do so the market should be sold. Corn holds firm with liberal trade. Little tendency to sell short. Closing prices — Wheat, May, 74 7-8 a 75; corn, May, 47 1-2 a 5-8; oats, May, 34 3-4; pork, May, 13.17 1-2; lard, May, 10.15.

it will be in that unsettled condition in which I for one do not want to bring down any proposal to this House of any kind whatsoever.

A Clear Statement.

If we have been guilty of these charges we are unworthy to sit here. We are certainly unworthy to ask hon. gentlemen in this House or the country to give us their confidence, and unworthy to bring down any measures to this House, no matter how simple. In order to facilitate this investigation we propose that the parties in this matter on both sides shall have a junior and senior counsel if they desire, and I think the House when the time comes will vote the necessary expenditures for that purpose. Whoever conducts the prosecution can elect his own junior and senior counsel. Means will be found to pay expenses of witnesses. It is a State prosecution practically. The State is bound to provide means to have that prosecution complete in all its details. We think that within three weeks the examination can be concluded and a report returned to his Honour, and under these circumstances, therefore, Mr. Speaker, I propose moving the following resolution:—

Moved by Mr. Ross, seconded by Mr. Gibson: That an humble address be presented to his Honour the Lieut.-Governor, praying that he will be graciously pleased to issue a commission to inquire into and investigate the charges of bribery set forth in the statement made to this honourable House by Mr. Robert R. Gamey, member for the electoral district of Manitoulin, on Wednesday, the 11th day of March, inst., and all matters and things which, in the judgment of the commissioners, relate thereto or affect the same; such commission to be directed to two commissioners, who shall be two of the Chief Justices of the Supreme Court of Judicature, or the President of the High Court of Justice and one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of Judicature, and the said commission shall confer upon the said commissioners all the powers contained or given in or by chapter 19 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, being an act intituled "An Act respecting inquiries concerning public matters," or in or by any act amending the same.

The Powers Conferred.

The resolution sets forth the standing of the commissioners, two Chief Justices of the Supreme Court of Judicature, or the Chancellor and one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the Province; also the statutes showing the limitations of their powers. I may say that this commission is under almost the very terms as the resolution moved by Hon. Oliver Mowat in 1884, when the Government from its side proposed to investigate the charges made to corrupt members of the House, and the terms of the commission, which are already being considered and practically drafted, will be similar to the terms in that order. I hope the House will approve of this resolution, so that we can proceed with this investigation without delay. (Loud Ministerial applause.)

Mr. Whitney's Reply.

Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Opposition arose amid the applause of his followers. He said the resolution was to the effect that the accused parties were to choose the tribunal which was to try them. It was an astounding thing that the parties whose actions were of such a serious nature were to come to the House and say they were not willing to be tried, except by a tribunal chosen by themselves. It was to be a State prosecution, and the prosecutors are to prosecute themselves, and those who made the charges are to be permitted to be represented by counsel. Search the history of all civilized nations, said Mr. Whitney, and he would defy anyone to produce authority for such outrageous procedure.

Mr. Whitney then spoke of the conduct of the Attorney-General's office. It was a matter of common knowledge, he said, that persons accused of offences had escaped prosecution and punishment.

It was not fair to the Provincial Secretary, continued Mr. Whitney, for the leader of the Government to say that he (Stratton) had been accused by Gamey. He was only one of those accused—(great applause)—and although the statement given in halting tones by the Premier Wednesday night as being a denial of the Provincial Secretary, it only covers a small portion of the ground. Small as it is, that statement in denial is the only one the House has heard. The Attorney-General, the Minister of Public Works and the Premier were all included in the charges, and the Provincial Secretary was the only one who had attempted to stand up and say one word in denial.

"Loading the Dice."

Mr. Whitney declared that a reference to a commission of Judges, rather than to a committe of the House, was "loading the dice," and announced his intention of forcing a division along that line. Continuing his speech, he expressed his belief that not Mr. Stratton alone, but the Premier, Attorney-General and the Commissioner of Public Works must make answer to the allegations contained in Mr. Gamey's charges.

Mr. Latchford in a few spirited words, repudiated Mr. Whitney's further statement that he, Mr. Latchford, knew Mr Gamey was being "influenced" to support the Government.

At very great length Mr. Whitney argued in favor of a reference to the House Committee of Privileges and Elections.

No Slang-Whanging Investigation.

Attorney-General Gibson, who followed for the Government, at once took Mr. Whitney to task for his assertion that the appointment of two of the Chief Justices of Ontario to try the issue raised in Mr. Gamey's statement would constitute a loading of the dice. He defended the judiciary warmly, and referred derisively to Mr. Whitney's own speech as evidence that if the enquiry were conducted by a House committee, while the Legislature remained in session from day to day, the proceedings would consist of the taking of evidence by the committee in the morning, and slang-whanging in the House itself during the afternoon. Mr. Gibson emphatically said:

"What we want is that we shall be whitewashed by no partisan majority. We don't ask to be whitewashed, under any circumstances, but we do ask that these charges will be investigated by an impartial judiciary."

If the matter were referred to a judicial committee, the House would not abnegate its functions, as the report of such a commission would be presented to the House in due course, and the House would not be bound to accept it.

In conclusion Mr. Gibson said he would be prepared to bow to the decision of the commission whatever that decision might be.

Mr. Sutherland's Indefinite Charge.

The speaker, when 6 o'clock, the hour of adjournment, was reached; was Mr. Donald Sutherland, Conservative member for South Oxford, who in the course of his remarks declared that he, too, had been approached with the object of securing his support for the Government. He did not go into details, however, as to the transaction, and made no specific statements.

The debate will be continued at 8 o'clock this afternoon. The program of the Opposition is not definitely known, but it is understood the debate will be a prolonged one.

PRAIRIE CITY CROWDED.

1,500 Immigrants Arrive in Winnipeg in One Day.

Winnipeg, March 13.—The hotels of Winnipeg are full, and accommodation is at a premium. Few rooms can be obtained by transients. For the past month, this state of affairs has existed, and the visitors to the city have made a record in point of numbers. This is principally owing to the large numbers of settlers and landseekers who are flocking to the West from all points.

Yesterday's arrivals of immigrants will total up to 1,500, which is the biggest party to land here on one day so far this year.

POPE LEO'S PRESENTS

With Queen Victoria's May Be Exhibited at St. Louis Exposition.

Rome, March 12.—Negotiations have been begun with the Vatican with a view to securing the Exhibition at the St. Louis Exposition of Pope Leo's jubilee presents. The American vessel, which will transport the jubilee presents of Queen Victoria, which King Edward has promised to exhibit at the Exposition, would call at Civita Vechia, the port of Rome, to embark the Pope's jubilee presents if the negotiations are brought to a successful termination.

History Elucidated.

"What did the Puritans come to this country for?" asked a Massachusetts teacher of a class in American history.

"To worship in their own way and make other people do the same," was the reply.

As an investment at present prices they discount all other stocks. An increase of 25 to 50 per cent. in their values by half can be assured.

Our reasons for selling at these close prices under present conditions are :—

First—The use of the money in our business between now and next winter.

Second—An extra heavy Stock of Furs on hand for this time of year.

Third—The between season condition of this month—a little early for spring and a little late for winter selling, must therefore create demand by bargain prices.

Fourth—Must keep our workmen in manufacturing department going, consequently have to sell the Goods.

THROUGH THE ICE.

How a Team of Horses Struggled for Life in the Water.

This is the time of year when accidents caused by crossing lakes and streams on the ice are from day to day recorded. The Bobcaygeon Independant tells of the following thrilling experience:—

"Mr. Barclay Parker had an unpleasant experience on Saturday afternoon. He came up from Harvey to Hetherington and Sutton's and got fifty bushels of seed oats. As the road was bad, and he was told that the ice on the lake was still safe, he concluded to try that way home. He went on the ice at Green Bay and not liking the appearance trotted. Seeing a hole ahead, he swung in towards shore, and in doing so the team came to a walk. Soon as the horses walked the ice gave way, and team and sleigh sank into the water. Barclay got the horses loose from the sleigh, but finding he could not get them out alone ran back to the village for help. It must have taken fully half an hour before help reached the place, and the horses were still alive. A young horse was quickly got out but the mate, a valuable mare was much more difficult as it was numbed and helpless. Finally it was got out, and after a good rubbing, and warming was able to go home, while the younger horse and the mare active in the water, was brought into the village, and was under the Vet's care until Monday. There was eight feet of water, and it was not more than thirty feet from shore. The hole that Barclay was avoiding was a place that another team had been in on Wednesday. The sleigh and load of oats were got out next day, and there was no slackness about the bags. Only one had burst, and it took two bags to hold the oats that had been in it. The grain will be all right for feed but not for seed. Shortly after the accident three heavy loads of camp outfit and men from Carew's camp came along, and seeing the sleigh in the water they quickly made for shore, and luckily escaped disaster.

—Mr. W. J. Morgan, the well-known barber of George street, has erected a new sign post outside his shop, opposite the Examiner office.

DIVISION EXPECTED ON TUESDAY

Another Day Spent Debating Gamey Charges.

MR. STRATTON WILL WIN.

Whitney Plays Role of Prize Fighter.

Mr. Sutherland's Vague Charges — The Royal Commission to Investigate —Many Speeches.

Toronto, March 14.—Hon. J. R. Stratton, when asked yesterday if he was going to win out, replied: "There is nothing surer than that." He is in the best of spirits, and says he will speak when the proper time comes. "I am going to do this my way," he said, "not the way some people would do it."

DEBATE IN THE HOUSE.

Belligerent Attitude of the Leader of the Opposition Exposed.

The debate on Premier Ross' motion to appoint a commission to investigate Mr. Gamey's charges was continued in the Legislature yesterday by Mr. Donald Sutherland, Dr. Reaume and Mr. H. J. Pettypiece. The member for South Oxford dealt with the methods employed to unseat him. Dr. Reaume stated that "an honorable member" had proposed "to me that he (Dr. Reaume) got the Speakership" if he would give his support to the Government. Mr. Pettypiece defended the proposal to refer the investigation to a commission of Supreme Court Judges.

Mr. Whitney's Protest.

The proceedings began with a protest by the leader of the Opposition against the headlines over the report of the proceedings of the House published in yesterday's Globe. He characterized as false the statement that he had "declared that in choosing Chief Justices of the High Court the Government is loading the dice." Mr. Pettypiece on this point read Mr. Whitney's speech as published by The Mail and Empire. The leader of the Opposition objected, and during a discussion in which the Premier, the Attorney-General and Mr. Whitney took part, the latter extended his clenched fist towards the Premier, saying "That is my attitude."

It was announced that the debate would be continued on Monday, but that a division would not be taken before Tuesday.

Fair Refused to Sick Member.

The belligerent attitude of the Opposition has been revealed by their refusal to grant a "pair" to Mr. John Richardson, who came to the House on Thursday after a serious illness, and after taking the oath left, on his physician's advice, for the General Hospital. The Liberal Whip, Mr. Bowman, sought a pair for him, as had been done for members on both sides in previous years, but Dr. Willoughby refused to accede. As a consequence, a vote being expected, Mr. Richardson was summoned from the hospital, and must postpone special treatment until the present debate is concluded, at least.

No Vote Monday.

Mr. Whitney asked the Premier if he intended to lay on the table the instructions as to the jurisdiction of the commission, and the Premier replied that he did.

The Premier inquired if the leader of the Opposition had been understood to say that the division on motion would not be taken till Tuesday.

Mr. Whitney replied that the division would not be reached before Tuesday; certainly it would not be taken on Monday.

Mr. Ross asked if the leader of the Opposition would produce the papers relating to the Gamey charges.

Mr. Whitney: I am not prepared to accede to the request of my honorable friend.

Mr. Sutherland Resumes.

Mr. Sutherland resumed the floor, taking up the discussion of the South Oxford protest. He referred to the statement of the Premier that the Liberal Government did not want to hold power unless they could do so with their characters unimpeached. Mr. Sutherland said he wished he could think that the Premier was sincere when he made that statement. Mr. Ross had also been reported on his return from the Old Country, when asked what course he would pursue in regard to the by-elections, as having replied that he would f-i-g-h-t. The member for South Oxford then spoke of the character of the fight, and the weapons used against him. There never had been such weapons used in the history of this country as were used in the riding of South Oxford. From his youth up he had entertained a high regard for the men holding responsible positions in this country, and it was with much regret that he was compelled to refer to these things. The weapons used against him were bribery, intimidation, subornation to perjury and other things too low to speak of.

The Speakership.

Dr. Reaume, North Essex, after arguing in favor of a committee instead of a reference to the judges, said:

"Listening intently to the remarks of the hon. gentleman from South Oxford, Dr. Reaume continued, and learning the extent to which he was approached, I feel somewhat jealous. (Opposition laughter.) I want to say that he was not the only Opposition member who was considered acceptable enough to be admitted into the other ranks. He was not the only hon. member to whom was extended the hand of welcome, and who was asked to enroll himself under that banner of purity." (Opposition laughter and applause.) I am free to declare, notwithstanding the declarations of the hon. the Premier, that I myself was in a position to refuse overtures, I do not say money. I was told that I was a pretty good fellow, a man that might be desirable, and to 'come on J. O. and I will see that you get the Speakership. (Opposition applause.) You may talk of your considerations, but I consider, Mr. Speaker, that there was the plum of all. (Laughter.) I let it be understood, Mr. Speaker, that I was not a rival for the honorable position of First Commoner, which you have the honor to occupy, upon which I sincerely congratulate you, and I may add I am highly pleased with the selection."

What Did Mr. Whitney Say?

Mr. Pettypiece (East Lambton) said he would, as far as possible, refrain from bringing into the debate any irrelevant matter. Others had said that it was a question which, as far as possible, should be free from party bias and prejudice, and he was sorry they had not adhered to their expressed opinions. One of those hon. gentlemen (Mr. Whitney) had referred to the report which had appeared in The Globe in regard to his unfortunate remarks of yesterday in connection with the "loading of dice," and had found fault with that paper for putting, in its own way, the manner in which those words were used. I find, Mr. Pettypiece continued, that The Toronto Mail and Empire in two different places makes reference to the same matter.

Mr. Whitney—I am not in the habit of making criticisms, but I do not propose that the hon. gentleman shall be allowed, after my distinct and positive denial of the statement attributed to me by The Globe, to get up and attempt to force upon me the acknowledgment that I did make the statement which I have already refuted. I wish him to understand that I will not submit to it unless the rules compel me to do so.

Mr. Pettypiece—The matter is in your hands, sir, as the presiding officers.

Mr. Ross—The hon. gentleman is at liberty to say what The Mail has reported in that particular case.

Mr. Pettypiece — The statement made by The Mail and Empire——

Mr. Whitney—I repeat that he proposes to read The Mail and Empire to convict me of making a misstatement on the floor of the House. I tell him it was a falsehood.

Mr. Ross—The one question in dispute is the heading.

Mr. Pettypiece—The words in The Mail report are these: "The hon. gentlemen opposite know they have no safety except the dice be loaded—except they name their own tribunal."

Mr. Whitney—Through the leniency of yourself, Mr. Speaker, the hon. gentleman has been allowed to go on and do that which, I am bound to say, there are few other members of the House would do. He has endeavored to do what he dare not do elsewhere. He has made a statement that my statement here is not correct; he attempts to prove that what I said is not true by reading something from another newspaper, which, he says, makes that to be a fact. The hon. gentleman had no right to do it, and the hon. gentlemen have not loaded themselves with glory. (Opposition applause.)

Mr. Ross—Is that the statement of my hon. friend? The hon. member for Lambton has not made any statement——

Mr. Whitney—You dare not——

Mr. Ross—My hon. friend is very bold to-day. What does he mean? Is he going to play the role of a prize-fighter in this House? (Laughter.)

Mr. Whitney—That is my attitude. The Opposition leader here shook his clenched fist in the direction of the Premier.

Mr. Ross—The clenched fist is his attitude. I thank him for his recognition of decent Parliamentary rules. The member for Lambton has expressed no opinion as to the statement of the hon. gentleman. The question in dispute was the heading. It was the privilege of my hon. friend to read its words, but not to say that he endorsed them.

Mr. Pettypiece said he did not think the leader of the Opposition could frown him down when he wished to refer to him and his actions.

The Speaker—The debate has already taken a very wide range. There are many new members in the House, and I thought these charges had better take the widest range, and let every member say what he pleased to say, unless my attention was called. Now, the member for Dundas, as I understand him, says that he did not use that expression, and the members of the House are obliged to receive his statement. I think, however, that any member of the House can read what he has to read, but he is not permitted to express an opinion which would contradict the statement by the hon. member for Dundas.

THE IDEAL SANATORIUM.

An Interesting Essay That is now in Book Form.

How Tuberculosis may be Treated—Won the King's Prize.

"Give him air; he'll straight be well," is the simple motto chosen by Dr. Latham from Shakespeare's "King Henry IV," for his essay on Tuberculosis, which won the King's prize of $2,500. This essay and plans for the construction of an ideal sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis in England has just been issued in book form and cannot fail to be widely read and studied.

Dr. Latham is assistant physician to St. Georges Hospital, and associated with him in the production of the essay was Mr. William West, architect, also of St. Georges.

The competition was thrown open to the medical world, and the advertisement appeared in twenty-two medical papers in the capitals of Europe and America. The competing essays, with motto signatures, were placed before an advisory committee, including among others Sir Sir William Broadbent, Sir Douglas Powell and Sir Felix Simon, and the value of the joint work of Dr. Latham and Mr. West cannot fail to be very great. It will be remembered that Sir Ernest Cassel generously provided a million dollars for the erection of a sanatorium and when it is built it will probably follow the proposals in the main of Dr. Latham. The buildings are to be arranged in the form of a crescent, divided into various blocks, a covered way running between the various buildings. Dr. Latham's scheme provides elaborate precautions against the danger of spreading the disease by means of the sputum. Then every room can be easily flushed with a continuous supply of fresh air. The rooms are set in a single row, a corridor, which looks on to the open, running behind. The walls are lined, partly or altogether, with glazed tile work, and when there are any right angled junctions, as between floor and wall the angles are rounded. This is one of the many precautions taken to avoid the collection of dust, for it is in dust that the germs of disease are borne. Cheerfulness and comfort are studied everywhere, but the patient will have to live with clock-like regularity.

At 7 o'clock he is called, and the windows of his room are closed lest he get chilled in dressing. At 7.30 he rises, and has a shower bath at a temperature agreeable to himself. Dressing completed he opens his windows. Breakfast at eight. Directly after he starts on a walk, graduated according to his condition. He walks deliberately until reaching his destination, where he rests in the fresh air, protected from wind, until it is time to start for home. At 11.45 he is in his room where the windows have been shut, and he takes his temperature. In ten minutes he opens his windows. From twelve to one he rests at full length on a sofa. At one he has the principal meal of the day with his fellow patients. At 2.45 he walks, a slower and shorter performance than in the morning. At 5.30 he is home again, takes his temperature and rests until dinner. After dinner, and half an hour in a recreation room he retires to bed at nine. Each patient is visited three times daily by the physician, is weighed once a week, while his chest is examined thoroughly once a fortnight, and his sputum tested once a month.

The original copy of the essay was persued by both the King and the Queen, and the book is now published by Messrs. Bailliere, Tindal & Cox, at the price of five shillings. It teaches that promiscuous expectoration is a sin against mankind; that dust is the great transmitting which of the tuberculosis, bacillus and that expectoration is the commonest origin of the deadly impregnation of the dust. The main principles to be followed in the ideal sanatorium should indeed, also be followed in every day life, care taken to breath plenty of fresh air, to obtain necessary exercise, to be of cleanly habits, to choose a wholesome and regular diet, to be temperate indeed, and hygenic in all things. If this were practiced generally, consumption with all its horrors would soon be a nightmare of the past.—Montreal Witness.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Edith Deyell and Mr. W. H. Trotter

A very pretty wedding was celebrated on Thursday evening at "Fairview," the residence of Mr. John Deyell, reeve of Otonabee.

The groom was Mr. W. H. Trotter of Lander, Manitoba, and the bride, Miss Edith M. Deyell, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Deyell. The groomsman was Mr. Harry Deyell, of Alberta, Assiniboia, and the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Jennie Deyell.

The bride was dressed in white organdie, trimmed with chiffon and satin ribbon. The groom's present to the bride was a very rich fur-lined coat, and to the bridesmaid a chaste and beautiful ring, set with pearls and emeralds.

About forty guests were present. The gifts were many, unique and costly. Rev. C. L. Thompson, of the Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, celebrated the marriage.

TO RECOVER CHILDREN.

Mrs. A. S. Dickson, of Harwood, Left Home With Daughter and Son.

Mr. C. S. Dickson, of Harwood, Ont., is applying at Osgoode Hall, before Mr. Justice Ferguson for an order for a writ of habeas corpus, calling on his wife, Isabella Dickson, lately of Harwood, and his son-in-law, Robert Shard, of 232 Robert street, Toronto, to produce his two children, Gertrude, aged 16 years, and Isabella, aged 13, who are now living with their mother at Robert Shaw's house on Robert street.

Dickson was away from his home in Harwood last Saturday, and upon his return found that his wife and children had departed for Toronto. He alleges that perfect harmony existed in his family relations, and that he is a man of comparative means, and able and willing to provide them with a comfortable home. He came to Toronto, and employed Mr. Edward Meek, barrister, to write a letter asking for their return, and no reply was vouchsafed. The writ of habeas corpus was made returnable next Friday at Osgoode Hall.

GRAND TRUNK AND C. P. R.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy has expressed himself as strongly opposed to the Government granting assistance to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in any "shape, manner or form." The announcement is not altogether unexpected. The Canadian Pacific Railway has received from the Dominion of Canada at various times twenty-five million acres of land, part of which it is now selling, we believe, at from five to six dollars an acre. This land has from the time it was granted, is now, and promises to remain for a considerable time, free from taxation of all kinds. There is a dispute as to the interpretation of the Act of Parliament under which the grant was made. The company's view practically is that its land should be free from taxation until it passes into the hands of people who would bring it under cultivation. That is really what its contention amounts to. Some of the more radical of the members of the party which insisted upon the bill of endowment going through Parliament in the indefinite form in which it was introduced in face of the protest of the Liberals that there would be a dispute over its interpretation, at the last session of the House were disposed to insist that the company should be compelled to accept the popular reading of the act. That is, that Parliament should interpret its own act. However, it was successfully urged that such a matter is usually left to the courts. And so the courts, after their own deliberate fashion, will settle the dispute between the people and C.P.R. Whatever the decision may be, it is apparent that the railway company for which Mr. Shaughnessy speaks has not been dealt with in a niggardly manner by the country.

But in addition to the land grant, which has proved quite a valuable estate, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company received nearly sixty-three million dollars in cash from the Canadian Government. We do not cite the bestowal of this extraordinarily generous gift as an excuse for assistance of any kind being extended by the government to the Grand Trunk Pacific, but rather as a reason why Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and all his organs should hold their peace while the subject is under discussion. It is but just to admit, however, that Sir Thomas contends that the great rival of the Canadian Pacific should not be enabled by public aid to penetrate a region which has been opened up and proved by his company, that if the Grand Trunk desires to profit by conditions not of its own creation it has no right to put its hand in the public treasury to enable it to do so. The weakness of Sir Thomas' argument lies in the fact that it fails to take into account the case of the public which would be served by the new system. The people of the Northwest maintain that the existing transportation facilities are altogether inadequate for the transportation to market of the products of the settlers at present established. And they have the facts at hand to prove their case. Settlement is proceeding so rapidly that it is out of the question for the companies at present in the field to overtake the demands of the incomers for the conveniences without which they can do little, and the absence of which may not only cause much distress, but give the most promising portion of the Dominion a setback from which it would not recover for years.

If a large portion of the Grand Trunk Pacific is to be built through just such a virgin territory as the C.P.R. was, can any just reason be given for granting public aid in the one case and withholding it in the other? The new line will pass through much of such territory in Ontario, the Territories, and in British Columbia. The road will precede population. It will not be a result of the demands of settlers, but a pioneer line, an artery, letting in and spreading forth the tributary streams of life necessary to raise Canada to her true place in the great national sisterhood. Really the only substantial reason that can be given against granting to the Grand Trunk Pacific just such an unreasonable, extravagant and wholly unnecessary subsidy as was voted by a reckless party to the Canadian Pacific, is that the first transcontinental road seemed somewhat of an experiment to the unpractical men who thus sacrificed the money and the estate of the people.

The application of the new line for assistance will be one of the most interesting subjects Parliament will deal with at the coming session. The probable effect of the construction of such a road upon the fortunes of the people of the West and upon the future of that great storehouse of Canada will receive just as intelligent consideration as its speculative effect upon the stock of the C.P.R. A great ery has gone up for better transportation facilities. The Government is morally bound to do all in its power, within reason, to open up the country as speedily as possible to the land-hungry multitudes who are in search of homes for themselves and permanent establishment for their children. — Victoria, B. C., Times, February 3, 1903.

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto • • The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

A Half Million People

Wrote Me and Got Well.

And I took the entire risk.

They simply gave me their addresses and stated which book they needed.

That is all I ask of you.

I will then mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Sheop's Restorative. You may take it a month on trial. If it succeeds, the cost is $9.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself. And your mere word shall decide it.

I have the records of nearly 550,000 sick ones who have accepted that offer. They were all difficult cases—some of them desperate. People don't write me about mild attacks They buy one or two bottles, get well, and I never hear from them. Yet 39 out of each 40 who secured those six bottles paid for them gladly, because they were cured.

On Jan. 11, 1903, I published in the Chicago papers the names and addresses of one thousand people in that city alone whom I had cured of chronic diseases in just the past six months.

I need not tell you that no other remedy ever made a record like that. And no other remedy for chronic diseases could be supplied on an offer like mine, without ruining the man who made it.

The reason for it all is that my Restorative strengthens the inside nerves. It brings back the power that operates the vital organs. It is the result of my lifetime's work.

Common treatments fail because they aim to doctor the organ that is weak, and such results at best are but temporary. A weak organ must have more nerve power, just as a weak engine must have more steam. And that is all that is needed—all that medicine can do.

THE SEVEN DISMISSED.

Mr. Munns' Charges of Unlawful Assembly Against Aurora Citizens Failed.

Aurora, March 14.—The preliminary investigation into the charge of "being members of an unlawful assembly," which was the outcome of a disturbance at a pre-election meeting held by William Munns in the Mechanics' Institute Hall on Feb. 18, took place yesterday before Police Magistrate Ellis in the Town Hall, which was crowded to the doors, even the aisles being full. Many ladies were present.

The accused were: M. Fleury, W. Flicker, R. Linton, T. Norton, Henry Alder, and John Dug, who were represented by T. C. Robinette, T. H. Lloyd and A. E. Taylor, and Thomas Turan, Thomas Horsley and Victor Bond, who were represented by T. H. Lennox. Gideon Grant appeared for William Munns and County Crown Attorney Dewart was there in the interests of the Crown.

The magistrate reviewed the evidence given, and dismissed all seven.

The Age of Brain Work.

In these days, half our diseases come from the neglect of the body in the overwork of the brain. In this railway age the wear and tear of labour and intellect go on without pause or self pity. We live longer than our forefathers but we suffer more. They fatigued only the muscles, we exhaust the finer strength of the nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest medicine of this age because it is best suited to the needs of the present day. It restores and revitalizes wasted nerve cells and makes the pale, weak and exhausted strong and healthy and vigourous.

THE ADDRESS VOTED

Alaska Boundary Treaty the Main Topic Discussed.

PREMIER'S GOOD HEALTH.

Sir Wilfrid's Speech in Reply to Mr. Borden Ranked With His Best Deliverances on the Floor of Parliament—The Conservative Leader's Speech—Redistribution Bill and Other Measures.

Ottawa, March 14.—The feature of the day's proceedings in the House was the brilliant speech of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in which he ably disposed of the questions and arguments of the Opposition leader. The Premier was in excellent health, and never spoke better, playing with words as a master musician plays with his bow. His thought was clearly expressed and consequently everybody easily understood the Government's impregnable position on the issues raised.

Moving Address in Reply.

Mr. Thompson, Haldimand and Monck, moved the address in reply in a well-delivered speech, traversing the various points of the speech from the throne. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech later on covered all the ground. His best point was that Canada could not recruit 1,000 men for three months' special training, let alone 10,000 men, as proposed by Mr. John Brodrick at the colonial conference as a contribution from the colonies for the support of the Empire.

Louis Philippe Demers, M. P. for St. John and Iberville, seconded the address in French.

Mr. Borden.

Mr. R. L. Borden referred in feeling words to the deaths of Angus McLeod, Dr. Horsey, Dr. Christie and Rev. Mr. Maxwell since the last session. He criticized the absence in the speech from the throne of any reference to a promised conference among the Premiers of the self-governing colonies.

Regarding the recent colonial conference in London, he censured the Government for not initiating discussion; and said that of twenty-three resolutions presented the only one from Canada was one of thanks to the Colonial Secretary. He accused the Government of asking the Imperial Government at that conference for a preference to colonial products within the Empire. This, he said, showed a change of front; for in times past in Parliament the Government had voted down such a proposal, and Mr. Fielding had called it "arrant humbug."

In the report of the colonial conference it was stated that if such a preference was not given, "Canada shall be free to take such action as might be deemed necessary in the presence of such conditions." What was the meaning of this threat? Its only meaning was that the Government wanted a preference within the Empire, and in default of getting it intended to repeal the preference given to Britain.

The German discrimination against the products of Canada was due to the preference given to Britain, but German goods got the preference by sneaking into Canada under changed labels. Canada could apply the remedy to settle this discrimination. Why did the Government hesitate?

Mr. Borden affirmed that the Government should have protested against the making of the Bond-Hay treaty and that the initiative should be taken to get Newfoundland into the Confederation. As a preliminary to the rounding-off of Confederation, Canada should negotiate with Britain to have the French Shore question removed.

He said the attitude of the Government in the Alaska boundary treaty was remarkable. The Clayton-Bulwer treaty should not have been allowed to have been abrogated without Canada first having claimed in return some consideration of the Alaskan situation as an offset, for Canada was as much interested in the Nicaragua Canal as was the United States. Then as to the "impartial jurists," Mr. Borden quoted from United States papers showing that they are not impartial, but are committed by their own words to squelch Canadian claims. Should Canada concur in the appointment of such arbitrators, because if they were appointed the result was evident. If appointments were made, the example of the United States should be shunned. Mr. Borden declared that there was still a division in the Cabinet on the tariff question, for Hon. Mr. Prefontaine had announced himself as an advocate of legitimate protection. He wanted information on this point.

The Premier's Reply.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier arose to reply at 5.15, and at once replied to Mr. Borden's strictures on the Alaska boundary treaty. With one exception he believed the treaty was eminently fair. The treaty aimed not at arbitration but only at judicial interpretation of the boundary line. Each side was to take the consequences. It was a matter of serious consideration that possible territory claimed by one really belonged to another country, as the tribunal might show. The great victory he claimed for Canada in the matter was the fact that the United States had receded from their position of "Nothing to arbitrate," and "what we have we'll hold," and had recognized that the line was not absolutely settled. Canada had yielded nothing.

The members of the tribunal would have to take an oath of impartiality; hence, if the treaty was carried out there would be a tribunal as fair as it would be possible to obtain. But there was one blemish, namely, that it could not show finality. If there were five or seven jurists on the tribunal a final result would be sure. Yet, even if there was no decision, still there would be given the best possible education to the people as to the merits of the case. If Canada appointed arbitrators they would be the best men of the highest character the Empire could supply.

Personally, he would have been glad to have had members of the United States Supreme Court appointed. This brought him to a matter he referred to with diffidence. It was the crucial point of the treaty. President Roosevelt had selected men, not judges, who could not be called impartial jurists. The objection, if objection there was, to Secretary Root, was that he was a member of the President's Cabinet. As to Mr. Turner, he had not spoken voluminously. But Senator Lodge was on record as opposed to Canada's contention re. the Alaska boundary, and had expressed himself in words of such a character as to make some reflection as to the arbitrators a matter of necessity.

The Government of Canada had made representations along this line to the British Government, and a reply had been received on this point. He promised to bring down all correspondence on this matter within a few days. Sir Wilfrid said he would bring down all correspondence had with Britain anent German discrimination, which would be discussed when the budget came up. The Bond-Hay treaty did not preclude Canada from negotiating similar privileges with Newfoundland. He blamed Sir Mackenzie Bowell for not getting this colony into the Confederacy, and declared that so long as the French shore question remains on settled there is a serious bar to confederation. He believed Newfoundland should be brought in.

Sir Wilfrid announced that the transportation commission would be named Monday. The paragraph in the Speech from the Throne relating to this involved two ideas. The filling up of the Northwest Territories rendered it absolutely imperative to open new ways of communication and their extension to the sea border. Numerous projects in this direction had come before the Government, but no decision had been reached. The project was too great and involveqc too much risk. This it was that the advice of the House was being sought, but he said that new efforts had to be made to meet the new demand. The question as to whether the Government should participate in the matter was still an open one. A transportation commission of experienced men would be appointed to ascertain how best to spend money to relieve the annual congestion of traffic at the head of Lake Superior, Port Dover, Montreal, Quebec and St. John. The present facilities were inadequate, and Parliament would shortly be called on to spend money to benefit them.

"But before we spend any money on terminal facilities, we think it of the highest possible moment to have the most experienced men we have to ascertain what is required so that Parliament may know how to act."

Sir Wilfrid repudiated the lack of energy shown by the Canadian representatives at the colonial conference. That conference settled the principle that the British Empire was composed of a galaxy of three nations all owing allegiance to the same sovereign and to their respective peoples. The trade resolutions and that referring to metric system were presented by Mr. Fielding, while Sir William Mulock advocated the reduction of postal rates, an advocacy that has been successful already.

Referring to the preferential tariff he declared that the conditions of the past had changed. Britain now had placed a duty on cereals, and Canada may have to do something that was not thought of by the Government in 1902 and 1897. That is why Canadian representatives at the colonial conference spoke differently than the Government in 1897. "We are flies on the wheel, we must move with the times."

Canada would wait for the British budget before tinkering with the present preferential tariff.

Referring to the defence features of the colonial conference, Sir Wilfrid declared that Canada would have to spend more money on military and naval projects, but the Canadian people were not prepared to spend the money outside of Canada.

Reverting to the tariff, Sir Wilfrid declared it was not advisable to institute an absolute system of protection, for in Canada there were free traders and protectionists. The Government was well satisfied with its present tariff, which would "go down to history as the Fielding tariff."

Sir Wilfrid concluded with a reference to the proposed redistribution bill. The census had forced the Government to introduce such a bill, and it would be done, not by choice, but by necessity. There was only one honest and fair way. The majority of voters should always rule. He declared that forty-two counties in Ontario with a popular majority Liberal returned to Parliament 25 Conservatives and 17 Liberals. This anomaly would be put right by the redistribution bill. The first object of the bill would be to wipe out the abuse Liberals have had to suffer for the past 21 years. The voice of the people would prevail, and the majority would rule. Prolonged Liberal applause greeted the conclusion of Sir Wilfrid's speech.

Mr. Monk followed up the attack of Mr. Borden on the Government and spoke vigorously for half an hour.

Mr. John Charlton spoke firmly in favor of the Alaska boundary treaty.

Henri Bourassa declared that all fear of Canada's joining hands with Britain in Imperial defence was removed by the action of the colonial conference.

The address was adopted at 10.45, and the House adjourned till Monday, after Mr. Fielding had intimated that the estimates would be brought down on Tuesday next.

SHE MADE A CHANGE.

A Charleston Mother Did so With Advantage to Herself and Children.

A mother living in Charleston, Mass., the happy possessor of four children, writes: "Every fall and winter I have laid in a stock of cough remedies, croup mixtures and throat medicines for my children, for somehow or other they never seem to be free from coughs, colds or sore throat.

"This fall I made a change in the usual programme. I had myself been cured of an obstinate catarrh from which I had suffered for years, by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and as they were pleasant to take I determined to try them with my children. Our family physician told me he knew them to be perfectly safe, and nothing better could be used for catarrh, coughs and colds.

"So I gave them to the children, and have continued to do so ever since, whenever there is the least sign of croup or sore throat, and I no longer dread the approach of cold weather as I once did.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets not only cured me of chronic nasal and throat catarrh, but they have saved me many an anxious night with my little ones. The children like the taste of them, and it is really wonderful how quickly they will break up a croupy cold or an obstinate, and deep-seated cough."

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes for catarrh and have found how useless they are, be agreeably surprised at the results following the use of a pleasant, convenient, internal remedy in tablet form. Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which sell for 50 cents full sized package, is the safest, most effective and popular of catarrh medicines.

Love Plants.

Plants used in love divinations are common. In many parts of England and Scotland the familiar southern wood is known as "lad's love," "lad lovelass" or "lads' love and lasses' delight." Another British name for the plant is "old man's love" or simply "old man," from its use recommended by Pliny. In Woburn, Mass., this herb is called "boys' love," and it is said that if a girl tucks a bit in her shoe she will marry the first boy she meets.

IS A SURE THING.

The Automobile Service Between Peterborough and Chemong.

Some few days ago the Examiner intimated that there was some talk of an automobile system to run between Peterborough and Chemong Park. This statement can now be positively verified, as the necessary stock is reported to have been subscribed. Orders for cars have already been issued and the first vehicle which will carry 20 persons will be delivered during the first week in June. It is expected that two additional cars will be put on the route next year. This will mean that several runs will each day take place between the two termini.

The cars are expected to attain a speed from 8 to 14 miles per hour.

The inauguration of the automobile service is a venture that gives promise to develop into something more than one might at first imagine. The system may later on be extended to Lakefield and other near by villages which would prove to be a decided benefit in many ways to the town of Peterborough.

MR. DAWSON WELL PLEASED

With the Prospects of New Ontario.

Port Arthur is a Flourishing Town - The Telephone System.

Mr. H. B. Dawson, of Port Arthur, was in town yesterday renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Dawson is an old Peterborough boy and is a brother of Mr. Ed. Dawson, of the Canadian Express Company. He has been a resident of Port Arthur for the past 15 years, and has been very successful in business in the new Ontario town. He has two brothers living in Fort William, the sister town of Port Arthur, and they too, have no regrets to express since going to that section of the province.

The Examiner had an interesting conversation with Mr. Dawson. "Are the newspaper accounts of the prosperity of your town exaggerated?" asked the reporter. "Not in the slightest," said Mr. Dawson. "They have not yet told one half of the great country we have up there, and the amount of business that is being done."

"Port Arthur," continued Mr. Dawson, "has a population of about 4,500 people, and with the town of Fort William, which is just across the river, we have a combined population of 10,000. But the great draw back is the want of houses. People are actually afraid to come in owing to the insufficient house accommodation. Port Arthur is one of the greatest industrial centres we have in Canada to-day, considering its population. Almost every factory is doubling its capacity. Amongst these are.—the Copper Foundry, the Ogilvie Milling Company and the Pigeon River Lumber Company, which is adding a box factory to its establishment. Then the C. P. R. and the C. N. R. are both erecting new station houses, which will be a credit to the town. The Canadian Northern Railway is doubling its storage capacity and large docks are being built to cope with the enormous lake traffic. This summer a daily passenger steamboat service is being established between New Ontario and Port Arthur."

Mr. Dawson then grew enthusiastic as he spoke of the success of their new municipal telephone system, with its 500 subscribers. The system is one of the most up-to-date in the world, and the prices are most reasonable, being only $12 for residence telephone and $24 for business places.

Mr. Dawson thinks that Port Arthur is perfectly situated for becoming one of the greatest wholesale centres between Montreal and Victoria, because freight can be landed by water at as cheap rates as it can be laid dwon in Toronto, and then can be shipped more expeditiously to the west. The town has now some wholesale houses that cannot be excelled in Canada.

Port Arthur is a great believer in the municipal ownership of the public utilities, and the town controls its electric lighting and its own street railway, which are both paying good dividends.

Mr. Dawson is well satisfied with life in Port Arthur, and says that he would not care to reside in the east again.

DIED IN THE SOUTH.

Mr. B. A. Ostrom Formerly of Peterborough, and Well Known Here.

The many friends in Peterborough of Mr. B. A. Ostrom, of Louisville, Ky., will regret exceedingly to learn of his demise, which occurred in his Southern home on Thursday night. Death was due to paralysis.

The late Mr. Ostrom was well known in Peterborough, having been in business here some twenty years ago, and coming over to Chemeng every summer recently, where he spent five or six weeks with his wife and family.

His remains will be interred in the family plot in the Little Lake Cemetery on Monday, upon the arrival of the C. P. R. noon train. The funeral will be private, and a service will be conducted at the chapel in the cemetery. A service was held at the deceased's home in Louisville previous to the remains being taken to Canada.

The deceased leaves a wife and one daughter to mourn his demise. He was popular, both in Louisville and Peterborough, and at the time of his demise he was president of the Belle of Bourton Company, of Louisville.

OPERA HOUSE MEETING.

The Opera House should be crowded with men on Sunday to hear Mr. T. F. Best, Sec. of the Y.M.C.A., Hamilton, who will preach on "Heroes of the Veldt." Mr. Best accompanied the 2nd Mounted Rifles to South Africa and went all through the many thrilling engagements of that contingent. He was closely associated with Dan Spence and on Sunday he will have something to say of his life and tragic death. Mr. Best has spent considerable time since his return lecturing on the war and everywhere has been well received.

Rev. Mr. Hannah's Departure.

Rev. J. H. Hannah leaves Peterborough on Monday morning to reside in the west. A member of the Park street Baptist church called at the Examiner office this morning to express the deep regret the congregation felt in losing their pastor, who had laboured so earnestly among them during the past year and nine months. He had been most energetic in his work, and was held in high esteem by the members of the Park street church, all of whom would join in wishing him success in his new home.

AN INTERESTING EXHIBITION

Given by the Gymnasium Class of the Y. W. C. A.

Some Very Pretty Exercises Displayed —Miss Moodie Physical Directress to Local Association.

The closing exhibition of the Young Women's Christian Association's Gymnasium Class was held last night in the gymnasium of the Young Men's Christian Association building, before a large and appreciative audience, who nobly responded to the continued success of the young ladies. The class, which at present consists of 12 members of the Young Women's Christian Association has been trained by Miss Moodie, a granddaughter of Mrs. Moodie, the well known author of "Roughing it in the Bush," who has been a student at the Harvard Summer School of Physical Education, and is the first Physical Directress of the local Association. The programme was opened with calisthentics, which were well performed and which had a very pretty effect. This was followed by games fect. This was followed by games consisting of (a) Indian Club race, (b) Indian Club Circle Pull. (c) Bombardment.

These games were enjoyed both by performers and spectators.

The next turn on the programme was several Indian Club exercises which were very evenly performed and which reflected great credit on the method of physical education as employed by Miss Moodie.

These exercises were followed by more games consisting of, (a) Corner ball, (b) Circle ball.

A very pretty item of the programme was the Wand Drill, which next followed. This consisted of exercises much after the style of Regimental Rife Drill, but with "wands," instead of rifles. This item which was heartily applauded, was followed by more games, consisting of

(a) Hopping race.
(b) Advance object.
(c) Line football.

These games caused great amusement on the part of the spectators. Some Swedish educational gymnastics were followed by a most amusing tug of war.

The next two items on the programme were Fancy Steps and Ling Ball. The former was a most pretty affair and well worthy of special mention.

The programme wound up by a really most excellent exhibition by Miss Moodie, the physical directress of Emerson's system of Physical Culture, which were only mastered to perfection after four years of continual practice and patience. This last exhibition in itself showed up the Physical Directress' capability of fulfilling her present office, and the manner in which her class performed their exercises reflected great credit on the method employed.

The evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner, and all were sorry when the exhibition of skill concluded.

Refreshments were next served, after which a social hop was very much enjoyed by the young people. The music was furnished by Messrs. Cawthorne and Metheral. Archie Moore officiated in his able and jovial manner.

A very pleasant evening was spent by all present, and the able manner in which the evening was conducted was fully appreciated by the members of Court Queen.

THE LABOUR UNION

Met in the S. O. E. Hall, Last Night— A Deputation.

The regular meeting of Labour Union, No. 9240, was held last night in the Sons of England Hall. In the absence of the president, Mr. John McCann. Vice-President Golding, occupied the chair. About 60 members of the local union were present.

The auditors presented a very satisfactory report, which was read and adopted.

On motion it was resolved to send a deputation to the Town Council in regard to an increase of wages for the corporation labourers, and Mr. John McCann was elected spokesman.

The Financial Secretary, Mr. W. Henry, reported that the total receipts of the evening amounted to $10.

POLICE COURT.

John Wilson Goes to Toronto—Had a Ticket.

At the Police Court this morning before Police Magistrate Dumble, John Wilson, a vagrant, was charged with being found drunk and disorderly last night. In answer to the charge, the accused pleaded not guilty. Chief Rossel said that a ticket from Millbrook to Toronto had been found on the person of the accused.

The Police Magistrate ordered the tramp to be confined to the cells until the time of the arrival of the train for Toronto in Peterborough, when he would be given a good opportunity to make use of his railway ticket.

Well Again.

The many friends of John Blount will be pleased to learn that he has entirely recovered from his attack of rheumatism. Chamberlain's Pain Balm cured him after the best doctors in the town, (Monon, Ind.) had failed to give relief. The prompt relief from pain which this liniment affords, is alone worth many times its cost. Sold by all druggists.

"HEROES OF THE VELDT."

Title of Address to be Given in Opera House To-morrow.

In reference to an address given in Hamilton by Mr. T. F. Best, C. M. B., who will speak in the opera house to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Spectator says: "Mr. Best spoke in an easy conversational style for about forty minutes and was listened to with close attention, making a favourable impression. He then at some length dealt with the recent work which it was his privilege to engage in in the Transvaal among the soldier boys while in camp, and on the battle fields of South Africa. He spoke of the difficulties encountered at first, and said that they were overcome as the work progressed. He referred to the interest and encouragement given them by Lord Roberts and others during their stay among the soldier boys. Many a soldier boy's heart was cheered and consolation given, as life was fast ebbing away. Mr. Best is a pleasing, earnest and impressive speaker."

THE REAL INTENTION OF THE GAMEY SCHEME.

Hon. Mr. Stratton the Special Object of Attack.

UNWORTHY TACTICS OF THE OPPOSITION.

Mr. Whitney's Studied Stage Effects—A Deliberately Concerted Plan—The Opposition Policy of Prejudicing the Case—Sensational Attempts to Discredit Government.

The statements made by Mr. Gamey of Manitoulin, in the House on Wednesday, in which he sought to implicate Hon. Mr. Stratton, are to be referred for the most thorough inquiry to a Royal Commission of two Superior Court Judges, whose high character, warrants the assertion that the inquiry will be conducted in the interests of fairness and in a perfectly impartial manner.

What is Wrong in This?

Pending this investigation the Examiner does not desire to influence public opinion unduly, yet it is fair to state that Mr. Stratton absolutely and positively denies Mr. Gamey's statement, to the effect that any corrupt consideration or money was given or promised. Which statements it may be pointed out, do not bear close scrutiny. Investigation will show that Mr. Gamey approaches the Government and offers his support; that he goes to the Government as a friend, and is courteously received; that his correspondence, under these conditions, is promptly replied to with the courtesy that should regulate the amenities of intercourse between departments of the Government and representatives of the people who profess to be friendly to their administration, or indeed any representative, no matter what his relations to the Government. Surely these circumstances do not constitute a crime or a corrupt act. One of the good qualities of the Provincial Secretary is the promptitude with which he replies to correspondence, and this particular feature of the business aptitude and business qualities with which Mr. Stratton is by common consent exceptionally endowed, resulted in Mr. Gamey's correspondence receiving prompt reply. It may well be asked what is there that is wrong in the correspondence which was submitted to the House by the member from Manitoulin? Were letters addressed to a Government department by a member of the Legislature to be ignored?

As to the statement that Mr. Stratton gave or promised Mr. Gamey any consideration or money as a condition of the latter's support, Mr. Stratton declares is as false a statement as can possibly be made. The very evidence which Mr. Gamey advances will be the very evidence that will have the greatest weight in condemning his action.

Attacks on Mr. Stratton.

Mr. Stratton has for long been the object of frequent and bitter attacks by the Conservative press. No more vicious and malignant attack could possibly be made upon any man, public or private, than that made upon him in connection with No. 5 dam on the Otonabee River. No more bitter attempt to discredit Mr. Stratton could have been made, if he had been charged with appropriating the whole Trent Waterway System. These attacks were without any justification whatever. Facts have since shown that Mr. Stratton had no interest in the work in question, except the public interest, which has been served to the extent that the power at this dam has been developed, and the public are getting the benefit of its use, and several industries are being supplied with power. Mr. Gamey's story in reference to Mr. Stratton will be found equally futile and foundationless as the No. 5 dam slander.

The Reason for Attack.

Some of the Conservative press, and some of the Conservative leaders, would like to crush Mr. Stratton. They wish to have him out of the way, because they regard him as a strong man in his own constituency, and a strong man in the province. His organization of the province at the last general elections is credited with having saved the Government from defeat. The Opposition know this, and hence their bitterness, and the persistence of their attacks, from time to time.

Demands Thorough Investigation.

As to the latest form of attack, represented, in part, by the Gamey charges, Mr. Stratton is not afraid of the most searching investigation; and both personally, and as a member of the Government, wants an investigating tribunal that will deal fairly with the case, and in a spirit free from partisan bias or party rancour. Mr. Stratton does not want the investigation to be conducted by a committee of the House, which would, of necessity, be of party composition. He might as well refer the matter to a committee of Peterborough Liberals. The finding of such a committee, though it might justifiably exculpate any person charged, would not be received as satisfactory, especially by the Conservative element of the province. Mr. Stratton and the Government desire the submission of the matter to a commission of Judges whose finding, no matter what its nature, would command the respect, and compel the acquiescence of both shades of political opinion — whose decision would not be influenced by any partizan bias.

A Concerted Plan.

Though Mr. Whitney and the Opposition profess to have received Mr. Gamey's "revelations" in the Legislature on Wednesday, as a surprise, there is evidence especially to those more or less familiar with the circumstances, that the leader of the Opposition, and at least his chief supporters were fully cognizant of the arrangement and development of the scheme of which Mr. Gamey was the apparent manipulator, and that material assistance was given him. When Mr. Gamey first publicly announced his decision to support the Government he was pounced upon by the Conservative press. But before long certain prominent Conservative journals were taken into the secret, and mild references were made to the probability of Mr. Gamey still being among the faithful.

Mr. Whitney's Dramatics.

No doubt the scene in the House was carefully prearranged and rehearsed in the Opposition lobby. Mr. Whitney had left his seat and taken a vacant seat nearer Mr. Gamey. At the conclusion of the latter's remarks when he said that he would place the documents he had used in the care of his leader, Mr. J. P. Whitney, he took these documents and walked down the gangway opposite Mr. Whitney, and the latter rising, struck a pose and accepted the proffered documents, "speaking his lines" at the same time—"What do you want me to do with these papers"—"Whatever you see fit." Mr. Whitney then with a flourish bore the papers aloft to his desk and lifting the lid ostentatiously locked the desk. This arrangement for dramatic effect was quite apparent, and argued a previous knowledge.

"Loading the Dice."

Notwithstanding the Opposition's professed confidence in Mr. Gamey's ability to prove his charges, there seems to be a deliberate effort to prejudice the public mind and impose upon them an overdose of ex parte statements, which it is hoped will have their influence in the country through the press, and tend to prejudice the public judgment. Mr. Whitney deliberately sought to do this, when, in his address on Thursday afternoon, he is reported by the Globe and Mail as having charged the Government with "loading the dice," by the reference of the investigation to two Supreme Court Judges, and pronounced the statements of Mr. Gamey as proven facts, anticipating and probably antagonizing the decision of the Supreme Court Judges—the "loaded dice"—who would according to Mr. Whitney's implied charge, prostitute their high office, and soil the judicial ermine with a perjured finding—out of keeping with the evidence to be presented.

The Policy of Innuendo.

This policy of Mr. Whitney to seek to injure his political opponents, aside from all considerations of fair play or of the relevance of the maxim of British law—that the vilest criminal is to be considered innocent till his guilt is proven, is systematically carried out. By the trend of the debate in the House on the part of the Opposition, the settled programme is, it is quite evident, to put up Opposition members, like Mr. D. Sutherland, of North Oxford, to submit to the House vague and unsupported charges that he had been "approached" with corrupt offers to secure his support for the Government, and Dr. Reaume, of North Essex, who claims that he was offered the Speakership, and possibly others on the Opposition side may also make charges that implicate nobody, assert nothing positive, but contain innuendoes assuming to connect the Government with such offers. Mr. Whitney knows that such statements will be reported in the newspapers and spread broadcast throughout the land, and tend to have their effect in prejudicing the public mind and, he hopes, in injuring the Government.

The Government's Impartial Tribunal.

If Mr. Whitney were half as anxious to arrive at the truth in reference to the Gamey matter as to make political capital, he would have joined with Premier Rose who, the moment Mr. Gamey had completed his statement, rose and asserted that the Government would bring about an immediate and thorough investigation. While the matter is practically before the commission, Mr. Whitney, if he had any sense of propriety or fairness, would suspend judgment, and not seek by indirect means to influence the ultimate jury, the public. This sense he should have as a lawyer, even of wide Division Court experience. But the public will be fairer than Mr. Whitney, and in a fair-minded spirit, wait, with respectful patience, the decision of the highest tribunal in the province the Government is able to provide.

Inflammatory Appeals.

Another phase of the Opposition policy is shown by the willingness of the Conservative organs to try to prejudice the case under consideration by inflammatory appeals and the most puerile attempts. The Mail and Empire, in its evening edition yesterday, with startling headlines, asserts that attempts are being made to kill Mr. Gamey, and the impression is given that the Government is behind the attempts. In confirmation of this twaddle, all the evidence it gives is, that, while Mr. Gamey and Mr. Smyth, of Algoma, were sitting in Mr. Gamey's room, in the Walker House, a drunken man reeled into the room, and reeled out again—doubtless when he discovered his mistake—without the slightest attempt to slaughter Mr. Gamey, and the yarn concludes with the buncombe statement that Mr. Smyth would "bring up the matter in the House." This matter is too childish to refer to, except as a part of the Whitney-Gamey game to discredit the Government by "hook or by crook," and to prejudice public opinion. By "bringing it before the House" it would secure publication in the press, and so have its hoped for effect.

All goes to show the desperate lengths the Opposition will go to cast discredit upon the Government.

BURNING FIERY FURNACE

Of St. Paul's Mission Church Quenched by Water.

A sad state of affairs has occurred at St. Paul's Mission church. Preaching services, Sunday School and prayer meetings are all withdrawn.

HELP AT LAST.

Farmers can be Satisfied by Applying to Immigration Office.

When a deputation from the Peterborough County Council was down at Ottawa, they visited Mr. W. D. Scott, superintendent of Immigration, in order that some attempt to get immigrants into this part of the country might be made.

During the past season the farmers have been literally crying out for farm hands, and in view of the new sugar factory which is about to about to be erected more men will be wanted. Negotiations have been in progress with the view of obtaining men from the Imperial Army Service. It is announced that should any farmer wanting hired help communicate with Mr. Scott at Ottawa, he will do all in his power to satisfy the demands.

FOUND MONKEY'S SKELETON.

Discovery by Laborers at the Old Parliament House.

The laborers engaged in demolishing the old Provincial Parliament buildings in Toronto have found in an out-of-the-way corner in an attic the skeleton of a large South African monkey. How it came there and how it could have been overlooked so many years is a mystery. Mr. Chase lived in the buildings for many years, and thought he had explored every nook and corner before he left. Mr. John Notman, a former caretaker, kept a small museum, but he was not known to possess such an animal.

The Ideas and Suggestions of the Great Scientists Secured in Malt Breakfast Food

The results which the great scientists so long desired have been secured in a practical form, and for the first time, by the production of Malt Breakfast Food. The virtues of this great health food are now universally recognised by physicians everywhere, who depend upon its building-up powers when other forms of nourishment fail. Malt Breakfast Food is now generally prescribed by physicians for those whose digestion is weak and uncertain; it is the one form of cereal food recommended for invalids and convalescents because of its easy digestion. Ask your Grocer for Malt Breakfast Food; one trial will make it your favourite dish.

WORSHIP IN THE DARK.

Limelight and Lantern Attractions for London Churchgoers—The Innovation Fully Described.

It is not altogether a novelty to introduce the magic lantern into church, but it can be said that it has never filled a more useful, or, indeed, dignified part in Divine worship than it did last night at the parish church, Clerkenwell. At the outset it may be mentioned that the church is unique in the metropolis, from the fact that years ago the parishioners bought its patronage, and have the right therefore of electing their own rector, which, should difference of opinion arise, is settled by the vote of the majority. In this manner the Rev. C. J. Parker was appointed some four and a half years ago, and during that time it has been his constant endeavor to bring his parishioners into their church. Two things, as he has found, have hindered their response to his call. One has been the fear of not looking tidy and respectable in comparison with neighbors, and the other has been the difficulty that inexperienced churchgoers find in following the prayer-book service. To meet both these problems he has hit upon the expedient of displaying the entire office from beginning to end by limelight on a screen. Thus the body of the sacred building must be in gloom, while every one is equally well able to see the hymns and canticles. In the scheme he has the heartiest support of both the churchwardens, who themselves presented as lantern slide transparencies copies of an opening voluntary and concluding march he had composed himself.

Non-Churchgoers Present.

The church doors were opened soon after 8 and it quickly became evident that the congregation would be a large one. Many had come who seldom entered a place of worship, and, while women prevailed numerically, there was a satisfactory proportion of men, of whom several were in their working attire. Just sufficient light was provided to allow the congregation to reach their seats, and this was turned out entirely as the stringed orchestra took their places. The opening hymn was "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," the slide being an enlargement of the page, with the time, as printed in "Hymns Ancient and Modern," and it was thrown upon a sheet above the chancel screen. The prayers in due sequence were similarly shown, with the reciting note, and looked like colossal pages from a book set in exceptionally clear type. The Psalms were omitted, and there was only one lesson, this being the parable of the Prodigal Son, which was illustrated by six or eight colored slides. These were exhibited a second time, when the rector gave a simple address on this ever enthralling story.

This service was reverently and attentively followed, and the confession and creed were recited with unwonted fulness of sound, while the hymns were heartily sung. The services will be repeated every Thursday at 8.30, and no collection is made, the only request that was made during the evening being that the congregation should make them known as widely as possible.—London Telegraph.

HIS CONFESSION.

Maurice Best Admits that He Owes His Life to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"A man's health depends upon his stomach." Like many another ancient adage this one has more than a grain of truth in it. The stomach feeds the blood and the blood carries the food to all parts of the body. Therefore if the stomach is in good shape the body will be thoroughly fed.

But another important matter must be attended to. The blood, as well as carrying the food to the muscles, carries off the waste material, and the kidneys remove that waste material from the blood. Therefore to ensure the perfect working of the system the two most important organs to keep in order are the stomach and the kidneys.

And to do this is easy with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Dodd's Kidney Pills on sale at every dealer's. They work on the parts affected separately and together and the results obtained are almost miraculous. Listen to what they did for Maurice Best, of Southern Harbour, Newfoundland.

"I suffered for eight years from Dyspepsia," writes Mr. Best. "I was in continual misery. I would go off in a faint and for ten or fifteen minutes I would be more dead than alive. Doctors tried and could not cure me. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets made me feel like a new man. I confess I owe my life to Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

WOMAN'S AILMENTS.

Suffering Which Doctors Fail to Cure.

Thousands of Women Throughout Canada in a Similar Condition—Words of Hope to Sufferers.

In countless homes throughout Canada, where health and happiness should reign supreme, the peculiar weakness and diseases of women are responsible for an atmosphere of hopelessness and despair. This awful condition is largely due to a misunderstanding of the proper manner in which to effect a cure for female troubles of all kinds. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been more successful in cases of this kind than any other medicine, and they should be in every home, and should be used by every woman who is not perfectly hearty and strong. Mrs. Fred Murphy, a well known resident of Pubnico Head, N. S., cheerfully bears testimony to the great value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in woman's ailments. Mrs. Murphy says: "A few years ago my health was completely broken down, my troubles beginning in one of the ailments which so frequently afflict my sex. I was a great sufferer from violent attacks of pain which would seize me in the stomach and around the heart. It is impossible for me to describe the agony of the spasms. Several times the doctor was hastily summoned, my friends thinking me dying. I was wholly unable to perform my household work, and was under medical treatment all through the summer, but without benefit. My appetite left me; my heart would palpitate violently after the least exertion, and I was pale and emaciated. My husband urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and procured me a supply. After using the pills a couple of weeks, I could feel that they were helping me, and after using seven bottles, I was fully restored to health. From that time until the spring of 1901 I enjoyed the best of health, but at that time I felt run down, and suffered from pains in the back. I at once got some more of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they soon put me alright, and I am now feeling better than I have done for years. I cannot praise these pills too much, nor can I too strongly urge those who are ailing to test their wonderful health restoring virtues."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills go right to the root of disease by making new, rich blood, and restoring shattered nerves. In this way they cure such troubles as the functional ailments of women, restore the glow of health to sallow cheeks, cure palpitation of the heart, anaemia, headache, indigestion, kidney and liver troubles, rheumatism, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, etc. Be sure you get the genuine with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on every box. If you do not find them at your dealers, they will be mailed postpaid at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MATTHEW ARNOLD.

A Page From Lawyer Herman Charles Merivale's Recent Book.

Matthew Arnold's was, says Herman Charles Merivale in his recent book, the most evenly cheerful disposition I have ever known, never in high spirits, as I remember him, and never in low. Arnold was an amusing talker on the subject of the drama, caring admittedly only for the classic. He looked upon the cothurnus as the truest analyst of the perplexities and destinies of life, and had small sympathy with the laughing portraits of the Muse of Comedy, which had in them to him something of the nature of mere caricature, at best. The plays of Aristophanes were in reality but satire in burlesque, and even the comedies of Moliere were to him but as weaker imitations.

I saw him one day on the opposite side of the street, pacing along and smiling to himself in the way I knew so well. Amused, I went across to him and asked him what had happened.

"What is the fun?" I asked. "Have they been attacking you again in The Saturday?" For to break lances with that periodical was an amusement to both, Freeman, the historian, being reputed to be his adversary.

"Oh, no, my dear boy, no! I went to Drury Lane last night."

"Oh! to see Helen Faucit in 'Cymbeline?' Didn't you admire her?"

"Oh, not that—poor dear lady"—his inimitable longueurs, which could not be described as a drawl—"she was charming, of course. But it's the play, you know. 'Cymbeline!' such an odd, broken-backed sort of a thing! It couldn't have happened anywhere, you know."

A Curious Plaint.

One chapter, "Hanoviana and Digressions, will come home to hundreds of men who also have suffered. The following extracts will suffice to give an idea of its tenor: I never shall, and never could understand, says he, the principles on which I was educated. Why was I pitchforked into a bad private school at eight? Why was I made a fifth-form Harrow boy when I was only a nervous child of twelve? Why was I withdrawn therefrom just when I was ripening under Vaughan, to matriculate at Balliol when I was not quite eighteen? Why was I not discouraged more consistently—as I was not to be encouraged—in all sorts of literary and theatrical bargains, when at 25 I was to be, by an expensive modernism, dunned down at a bar which from my heart and soul I loathed? Why was I permitted—nay, obliged—to live the extravagant life of an Oxford undergraduate of the day, with wines, and rides, and tennis courts, and all the rest of it, and then hauled severely over the parental coals because I left college with a few—a very few—small debts behind me? He complains that "money was spent on him like water," but, in spite o: "years of costly training in nothing," he remained at the end a "man self-educated," having taught himself, as best he could, what others' teaching left him time to learn.

Some Canadian Imports.

Furniture valued at $443,306 was brought into Canada during last year from the United States, all other countries making up a total of $490,306. Canada imported over $2,000,000 worth of hats and caps, made of beaver, silk, straw and felt, during 1902.

JUMPING.

One of the Toronto Globe's Best Sporting Articles.

This form of sport, while not so attractive to the spectator as running, is nevertheless a very important event on every athletic program, whether at the big national championships or the small country fairs.

There is no doubt that jumping would be more popular than it is if provision were made so that every spectator could get a good view of the contestants, but, as a rule, there is always a great number of officials and hangers-on standing around, thus spoiling any chance of seeing the sport. Until this is remedied I don't think it will ever amount to much as a drawing card at any meet.

To be a good jumper requires a lot of hard work and a certain amount of cat-like spring. Not one out of ten who go in for jumping make anything like a success out of it for the reason that it is so hard and violent an exercise. Let any person go out some evening and try the running broad jump several times. They will find next day they are sore in every joint and no doubt would not try it again for any amount. An athlete who follows jumping must keep continually in training, for if he does not he will find he cannot do as good work when it comes to a contest.

The events generally on a program are the running broad jump, standing jump, running high, standing high and hop, step and jump, the last one, I think, being the hardest to get proficient at.

Of course it is necessary to have a good pair of jumping shoes, with oak tan soles fitted with steel spikes, six in front and two behind. They should be made of calfskin and lace to the toes.

In practising for the standing jump it is a good idea to use weights at first, say, about five pounds each, toe the mark and swing the arms several times, throwing the weights behind you as you leave the mark. You can gradually decrease the weights till you can jump without them altogether. In making the jump bring the knees well up toward the chin and do not drop them till you have to. In this manner you cover more ground. Ten feet is a good jump. Also try and bring both heels together. If one is six inches ahead the judge is sure to mark the back one.

The running broad and hop-step require that the athlete possess some sprinting ability, as it is necessary to run a short way to get a good send-off. There is no regular mark for this event, the judge merely marking from where you step off.

The standing high and running high have no regular method to go by, as any way to get over the bar without knocking it off counts, and I have seen jumpers light on their hands and sides. On the whole, jumping is a hard game and requires a lot of pluck and endurance.—Wm. Devine, St. Thomas, in The Globe.

New Archaeological Names.

Russia has decided to found an archaeological museum in Sevastopol. The building is to be erected in the style of an old Christian basilica and to be arranged for three apartments, one devoted to the Greek, one to the Roman and a third to the Byzantine period. The whole project has been entrusted to the management of Grand Duke Alexander Michailovitch.

The Toilet of Little Ants.

A naturalist has been making observations on the toilet of certain ants and has discovered that each insect goes through most elaborate ablutions. They are not only performed by herself, but by another, who acts for the time as lady's maid. The assistant starts by washing the face of her companion and then goes over the whole body. The attitude of the ant that is being washed is one of intense satisfaction. She lies down, with all her limbs stretched loosely out; she rolls over on her side, even her back, a perfect picture of ease. The pleasure the little insect shows in thus being combed and sponged is really enjoyable to the observer.

Itching Piles Most Annoying.

Cause Uneasiness and Often Keen Suffering—There is one Positive Cure—

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It is a question whether there is another preparation for sale in this country that is so heartily endorsed by persons who have used it as Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Professional and business men and women, farmers, mechanics, railroad men, miners, labourers, all classes of men and women, use and endorse Dr. Chase's Ointment as the only actual cure for piles.

W. E. Talbot, of Talbot Bros., tobacco merchants, 382 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"It is from a desire to help other sufferers that I offer a statement of my experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for itching piles. I was for a long time troubled with this unpleasant and torturing disease, and though I tried very many treatments, remained uncured until I came across Dr. Chase's Ointment. It was highly recommended to me, and I find that every word of praise that is given to it is true. I can truthfully say that I am completely cured, and knowing the misery that this ailment produces, I am anxious for others to know of the surprising virtues of Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Mr. John Harvey, Mayor of Arnprior, Ont., states:—"Only persons who have experienced the torture of itching piles can form any idea of what I suffered from this horrible disease. I was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and can positively say that it has completely cured me. I had tried very many so-called cures for piles, and can truthfully say that there is no remedy on the face of the earth like Dr. Chase's Ointment for this purpose. I would not be without it for any amount of money, and can heartily recommend it to all sufferers, as it is the best thing I ever used."

THE SKATERS.

Parlor Point of View and Likewise the More Strenuous Art as Seen at Rideau Hall Matches.

We skated where lights glimmered round us,
She leaned, sweetly trusting, on me;
Her cheeks were as pink as pink roses;
No girl e'er was fairer than she!
We heard the gay laughter of others,
We met them and passed them, to glide
As arrows, now swooping, now turning
And always within me the yearning,
To hold her for aye at my side.

We heard the gay laughter of others.
She looked up at me as we sped;
The stars were blue dots far above us,
And my soul rushed to hers as she said,
With a sad little bit of a shiver:
"Let's quit; let's go home; I don't care
To freeze to death here; it is quiet
And warm in the parlor; let's try it.
You can hold my hand just as well there."

RIDEAU HALL MATCHES.

Did Their Excellencies' Competition Set a Canadian Standard.

Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Minto deserves the heart congratulations and thanks of many Canadians interested in the elevation and improvement of our national pastimes for organizing and carrying out a skating competition for amateur skaters at the Rideau Rink on Monday, 9th Feb.

A Canadian Standard.

The Countess of Minto's Prize, given for the best possible average of nine different figures, and open to lady competitors only, was, while not the most captivating and delightful feature of the performance from the point of view of the audience, the most interesting and important to those who are keenly concerned as to the establishment of a clearly defined standard for amateur figure skating, writes Lally Bernard in The Globe. The object set forth in the printed form was to encourage skating, especially as regards an exact execution of the edges, control of those edges, and the necessary position of the body to render them possible in connection with the large curves, which add so much to the beauty and grace of skating. Fourteen ladies competed for the prize, and, taking into consideration the fact that none of them had ever attempted to appear alone on a large rink before judges and spectators, and that all apparently suffered from "stage fright," which invariably manifested itself in loss of control over the muscles of the limbs, they did excellently well.

Variety of Methods.

It is safe to say that the majority of those who witnessed the competition, which occupied about three hours, learned more about skating, its difficulties and its possibilities, than they had ever learned in the whole course of their previous experience in Canada. Comparisons are always odious, although inevitable, but the true sporting spirit was in evidence, and applause which meant "well tried" would greet a performance which resulted in evident failure to reach the standard exacted. Possibly one of the most interesting facts in connection with the performance was that, although in one instance three of the competitors were sisters, and all had gained their experience on the ice under the same conditions, no two individuals resembled each other in their methods. Each of the fourteen competitors skated differently, and the lack of one clearly defined standard was instantly made apparent. The only lady skater who did not belong to Ottawa showed a slight variation in her method and measurement of figures. The school of figure skating advocated by Her Excellency is one which depends as much on precision of movement as sweep and accuracy of curves.

A New Era Begun.

Curiously enough, the idea of proportion and exactitude was most clearly demonstrated by a lady of French extraction, showing that the inherent gifts of her race manifested themselves in this particular art—her forward eight being almost perfect; but the excellence of either one or two of the figures could not mean victory; it was the average, that magnificent average which precludes the possibility of narrowness and the bane of the age—specialty—being triumphant. The intense and sustained interest of the spectators was not the least interesting feature of the afternoon's performance. There was no music to draw away their attention or cover the strain of entry or retreat from what was a veritable arena; but there was a genuine recognition on the part of both competitors and audience that a new era had begun in the life of one of our truly national sports, and the possibilities indicated and results obtained augur well for the hopes of Their Excellencies, who recognize the importance of just such factors in the development of Canad's future.

Really Beautiful Exhibition.

From an artistic or purely spectacular point of view the evening entertainment for His Excellency's Prize was the most attractive. Six lady competitors skated with six gentleman partners, and one of the judges of the afternoon skated with Lady Eileen Elliot, while Lady Ruby, Their Excellencies' second daughter, not yet out of the school room, took part with a gentleman whose skating was delightful to witness. The "rockers" and swinging turns were really beautiful exhibitions of skill, grace and strength.

Meagher's Wonderful Feats.

The wonderful feats on skates of the well-known professional, Mr. Meagher, after the prizes had been awarded, only served to illustrate the fact that amateur and professional works have both their artistic value and should never be confounded. Her Excellency the Countess of Minto, who first learned to delight in the art of skating when she came to Canada as the bride of the then Lord Melgund, has studied the art, as an art, from every possible standpoint. Her enthusiasm is the enthusiasm of a profound student, and the genuine desire to the profound student of this beautiful and graceful accomplishment to raise it to the level of a national art has already shown its laudable results.

A DOLL'S BOOKCASE.

You Can Make It Strong Enough to Hold Your Own Books.

Either a boy or a girl can make a cunning little bookcase like the one shown in the accompanying illustration, and the best of it is that you may, if you want to take the trouble, make it strong enough to hold your own little books.

Save your spools and get all you can from obliging neighbors and aunts who would be glad to have their empty spools taken out of their way. Select spools all of one size and with good glue or cement fasten the spools one on top of the other to form the uprights of the bookcase, gluing the shelves in between the spools at the proper intervals. The shelves for this small bookcase are cigar box covers, and the spools are a dark wood nearly the shade of the shelves, and the whole case is varnished over.

The bookcase may be made large enough to hold your sister's little library, and the shelves may be made of any pretty wood, such as is especially used in fret saw work. The bookshelves will not be strong enough to hang from the picture molding with books in, but should be placed upon a shelf low enough for the little girl to reach her favorite story books.—New York Tribune.

A GRINDING KIDNEY PAIN

Prostrated Mrs. Readon, Simcoe, Ont., so That she was Unable to Attend Her Work.

A Bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets Completely Cured Her.

In the town of Simcoe, Ont., there are many people who have a good word to say on behalf of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets—a remedy which has done wonders curing backache and serious kidney, bladder and urinary troubles.

Mrs. Jennie Readon, who lives on Agricultural street of that town, writes as follows:

"For more than six months my back has bothered me a great deal. I have had to get some one to do my work at times (ironing and washing.) The pain was of the grinding variety. I laid it to overstrain and the kidneys. Pain in the side was also very bad. I got a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets from J. Austin & Co's drug store, and I am very much pleased with them. I do my own work now, and can scrub if necessary without trouble. The pain is a thing of the past. I found the Tablets gentle in action and am pleased to recommend them."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are chocolate coated and easy to take. Price 50c. a bottle, or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists, or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont. 6

Languages in Johannesburg.

Johannesburg is a town of many tongues. You might walk from one end of Commissioner street to the other and at each of its very numerous crossings hear a different lingo spoken. The court of justice is a veritable tower of Babel. Within its walls all sorts of languages are spoken.

One moment the witness box will be occupied by a sturdy black "clicking" like a couple of bones in the hands of a clever manipulator, the next you may hear the elegant French language being unmercifully murdered. Provision is made for interpreting some twenty tongues.

Besides the many native lingos—Amaxosa, Basuto, Zulu, Fingo, etc.—you may from time to time hear such languages as Livonian, Greek, Yiddish, German, Assyrian, Turkish, Spanish, French, Chinese, Hindoostanee, Arabic, Dutch, Russian, Japanese, Portuguese—and, as the song says, "many more besides."

Fantastic stories have been written of magic mirrors in which the future was revealed. If such a thing were possible many a bright-faced bride would shrink from the revelation of herself, stripped of all her loveliness. If there is one thing which would make a woman shrink from marriage it is to see the rapid physical deterioration which comes to so many wives. The cause is generally due to womanly diseases.

Lost health and lost comeliness are restored by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures irregularity and dries weakening drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I tell you what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' have done for me," writes Mrs. Emma L. Rankus, of 1923 North 7th Street, Harrisburg, Pa. "They have done me a world of good. I had female weakness for six years; sometimes would feel so badly I did not know what to do, but I found relief at last, thanks to Dr. Pierce for his kind advice. I have the medicine still in my house and will always keep it."

If you are led to the purchase of "Favorite Prescription" because of its remarkable cures of other women, do not accept a substitute which has none of these cures to its credit.

Free. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Or for cloth-bound volume send 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

White River.

White River, Arkansas, is said to be the crookedest stream in the United States, if not in the world. It travels 1,000 miles in traversing a distance of 300, zigzagging, winding, twisting, curving, bending its mazy, tortuous, tortive way through the beautiful Ozark mountains, the Alps of America.

City of Three Kings.

Do you know what city has been given the name of the City of Three Kings? It is Cologne, in Germany, and the reason is that it is in Cologne that the three "kings," or "magi," or "wise men" who came to Bethlehem to offer gifts to the infant Jesus are supposed to be buried.

According to an ancient legend, their bones were brought from Milan to Cologne by the Emperor Frederick Barbarossa in 1162 and presented to the archbishop of Cologne.

Visitors to the cathedral are shown the supposed souls of the magi, studded with diamonds and inscribed with the wise men's names in rubies.

Do You Wake up in the Morning Feeling Tired and Miserable?

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Will Restore Lost Energy and Give You That Vim, Snap and Strength that You Should Possess in Springtime.

If you wake up in the morning feeling tired and miserable, let us assure you that nature is warning you of danger; you have commenced to drift on the rocks and shoals of disease. Overwork, worry, harassing cares, or it may be excesses, are producing their dire effects. Your nerves feel the shock and strain first. You should thank Heaven that you have nerves to warn you of approaching dangers.

Thousands in the glorious springtime rise up each morning tired, wearied and miserable, stand in need of Paine's Celery Compound, the marvellous medicine that frees the body from acid blood and morbid waste material. Paine's Celery Compound at the same time strengthens the three great organs, the stomach, the liver and the kidneys. When this good work is accomplished, the nerve fibres are made strong and vigorous, and the whole system reinforced.

A few bottles of Paine's Celery Compound used this month will save you much suffering and anxiety later on. The results given by Paine's Celery Compound are assuring and happy. Your reward will be a perfect and unhampered action of a clear and healthful brain and nervous system, pure blood will course through the body; you will have sweet and refreshing sleep and permanent good health.

Survivals of Useless Fashions.

Man is unquestionably a highly rational being. Still, if you travel and observe, from the mouth of the Danube to the Golden Gate, you will find most men wearing a coat with a useless collar, marked with a useless V-shaped slash and decorated with two useless buttons at the small of the back and one more useless button at the cuffs. The collar, the slash, and the buttons are there in answer to no rational need; it is not a common climate or a common racial need of protection against climate that they represent, but a common civilization whose form and ritual they mutely confess. Over this entire area those who aspire to be of the Brahmin caste deck their heads for wedding, funeral and feast with a black cylindrical covering suited, so far as we can discern, neither to avert the weapon of the adversary nor the dart of the rain, nor to provide a seat whereon man may sit and rest himself. And as for the women contained within the same area, we behold that the amplitude of the sleeve, the disposition of the best, and the outline of the skirt all obey the rise and fall of one resistless tide which neither moon nor seasons control.—The Atlantic Magazine.

Putting In His Coal.

"Put in any coal yet?

"Yes. I just deposited fifteen scuttles in the safe deposit vaults."—New York Evening Journal.

The Gravedigger.

A gravedigger, walking in the streets the other day, chanced to turn and noticed two doctors walking behind him. He stopped till they passed and then followed on behind them. "And why this?" said they. "I know my place in the procession," returned he.

EDGAR ALLAN POE.

His Dainty Hands, Tropical Countenance and Good Digestion.

Poe's arms and hands were slender and tapered very gracefully and gently down to the ends of his fingers, which were very tender, gentlemanly and ladylike. In fact, his hands were truly remarkable for their roseate softness and lily white, feminine delicacy. You could have judged of his nobility by his hands.

His face was rather oval, tapering in its contour rather suddenly to the chin, which was very classical, and, especially when he smiled, really handsome. His countenance was tropical in its aspect, precisely the reverse of his heart, which, like the fountains of Solomon, had long been kept sealed up as something sacred from the vulgar gaze of the world, his face whenever he wrote long at any one time putting on a sickly, sallow and rather pallid hue, but never to such an extent as to indicate indisposition. His digestion was always good, which is prima facie evidence that he was never a student.

His dress was always remarkably neat for one in his circumstances. But I do not believe that it would have done for him to have had money. He was ruined in his youth. His college life in Virginia was the cause of all his after inebriation. That was the infernal whirlpool into which was driven the beautiful milk white ship of his soul, never to be reclaimed. Is it not one of the most remarkable things in the world that any man of his abilities should have been so amenable to the dictations of others?—Poe-Chivers Papers in Century.

Speaking From Experience.

"Blanche, dear," said the watchful aunt to her niece, "don't you think that Fred spends too much money upon you?"

"Do you think so, aunty?"

"Indeed I do, Blanche. I've been noticing, and I think he's really extravagant. You ought to check him and tell him to save his money. You will need a good deal when you begin housekeeping, and it is far better for him to put in the bank the money he is now spending on carriage rides and luncheons and tickets to this thing and that than to be squandering it. Think over the matter a minute or two, dear, and you will see it as I do."

"Oh, I've thought about it already, aunty. I'd take your advice if I were absolutely certain that we shall be married, but I've been engaged before, aunty, and I don't intend to advise a young man again to economise for some other girl's benefit."

Reading and Talking.

Reading will be of little use without conversation and conversation will be apt to run low without reading. Reading fills the lamp and conversation lights it. Reading is the food of the mind and conversation the exercise, and as all things are strengthened by exercise so is the mind by conversation. Then we shake off the dust and stiffness of a retired scholastic life. Our opinions are confirmed or corrected by the good opinions of others, points are argued, doubts are resolved, difficulties cleared, directions given and frequently hints started which, if pursued, would lead to the most useful truths, like a vein of silver or gold which directs to a mine.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, March 14, 9.45 a. m. — Senator Clarke says 18 cent copper is justified but that price is high enough. Estimated T.C.I. adding to cash surplus at rate of $300,000 a month. No truth in rumor of R.I. floating indebtedness. Old story of extra dividend on Ill. Cen. revived. Expected Reading Feb. statement will be best on record. Nothing in charges against M.R. to affect its present earning capacity. B. & O. Feb. gross 4,470,000 increase 353,000 net inc. 134,000 for 8 months, gross inc. 2,563,000 net inc. 993,000. Lehigh Valley conductors, trainmen, switchmen, and engineers got 20 p.c. raise in wages

DOW JONES & CO.

The course of stock market to-day will depend to great extent on character of bank statement and we do not look for much trading until it appears. General impression has been that statement will make a far better showing than last week, largely as a consequence of big decrease in loans and smaller loss banks have sustained in cash this week. There are some in fact who predict an increase in surplus, but this is optimistic in view of the juggling which the averaging system last week and there are few experts who care to make a definite forecast. We do not look for anything better than a traders market until the money market improves.

Duluth 47,000 inc. 20,000; Southern Ry. inc. 2,000; Twin City declared regular 1 3-4 on preferred, payable April 1st. These are for 2nd week March Railway earnings.

New York, Mar. 14, 11.15 a.m.—According to financial chronical returns of week's movement of cash banks gained $1,581,020 on net interior movement but lost $6,000,000 to sub-treasury thus showing net loss $4,419,000.

Small local shorts covering wheat in fear of a free-zee up over winter Wheat belt gave us a strong tone around opening. John Barrell bought, Bartlett-Frazier sold, good deal liquidation at advance causing present weakness, trade small.

DENISON.

Messrs. W. F. Dever & Co., Stock Brokers, Toronto, write as follows:—

New York, March 14.— There was very little strength exhibited by the initial quotations at the opening but later the market developed considerable strength and good advances was scored. Wabash issues were taken in hand as also Reading and under leadership of these issues the market became quite bouyant. Some dullness around the noon session but prices sustained the good advances recoded. While the banks continue to lose to the sub-treasury and a poor bank statement is looked for; think the speculative situation has been cleared up considerably by the recent liquidation.

The Southern Pacific squeeble still occupies a prominent place and causes some uneasiness and as long as this cloud hangs over the market, would advise caution in trading. Should you feel bullishly inclined would buy on the sharp breaks only and not make the mistake of buying on the bulges.

Amal. copper shares have been occupying considerable attention of late and we consider it a good speculative investment.

Purchases made on moderate reactions should soon show a good profit after a little patience.

Afternoon session was market by extreme dullness, in fact the dullest in many days and is considered by many as a good omen regarding the future outlook for the prices. In days past when market became dull prices generally fell off on realizing sales but this feature was conspicuous by its absence in to-day's dealings.

Chicago — Wheat very quiet, trade somewhat limited. Local sentiment is a trifle bearish and traders easily oversell themselves. It is quite likely that the bulls will be favoured by crop reports before the end of the month. Corn, May option at present price is too high. The market is purely a manipulative one. We do not favour advising purchases at present. Closing prices — Wheat, May, 74 5-8; corn, May, 47 1-2; oats, May, 35 1-8; pork, May, 31.15; lard, May, 10.02 1-2.

SAYS IT IS A SECOND-RATER

The Present O. H. A. Senior Hockey Series.

An Enthusiast's Opinion of the Once Famous O.H.A.—Reasons why There Should be an Eastern Hockey League

(Kingston Whig.)

"There is no doubt whatever in my mind that the once great Ontario Hockey Association has lost its grip as a senior organization," said an old hockey enthusiast to-day. "Just look at the senior line-up during this season, and what do you find — two Toronto organizations, Smith's Falls, Cornwall and an intermediate organization from the Soo. Was there ever such a senior series heard of before? Look at the railroad jumps that the clubs had to undertake. From Toronto to the Soo is just 490 miles. What do you think of that for home and home games? Wouldn't you like to finance a team in that group? Then, when Wellingtons and Cornwall had to settle their dispute it was only necessary for each team to make a little jaunt of 276 miles. Is it any wonder that Cornwall is anxious to get into the C.A.H.L., where, outside of Quebec, the distance to be travelled would be only ninety miles. No, as a senior hockey organization the O.H.A. will not fill the bill. But, as a strong intermediate hockey association it is a dandy. Why Wednesday's Globe hailed with delight the fact that Brighton intended putting in an O.H.A. team next season. Think of that; Brighton where it was necessary, on a recent visit of the Picton hockey club, to light a huge bon-fire to give the players a chance to see the puck. Talk about a fence-corner league! When the O.H.A. gets Brighton lined up with Port Perry, where the rink is thirty feet wide and lighted with kerosene lamps, and Niagara Falls, where the goal nets are built into the ends of the rink to give the players a chance to turn round without doing the Alphonse and Gaston Act, they will have a bunch that will require all the ingenuity of the Toronto Press Agents' Association to make the public believe that the great O.H.A. is something to be admired and spoken of with reverence.
